Voting was heavy during the all-school election and resulted in a complete split between the Greek and Independent candidates. Voting booths tall, many students marked their ballots in the open.

Work Resumes At Thompson Lake Project

Construction workers were back on the job Wednesday at the SIU Thompson Lake project after an eight day walkout due to a jurisdictional dispute.

Work on the dormitories and dining hall being built by the L and R Construction Co. was resumed.

International representatives of the disputing unions met and effected a compromise Tuesday. The unions involved were the AFL Hod Carriers and Common Laborers Local 227, Carbondale, and the AFL Iron Workers Union Local 758, Cairo.

The dispute involved the carrying of reinforcing bars to concrete forms. There was a disagreement over which union could claim the right to carry the bars.

James Gould, L and R Project manager, said he foresees no future labor troubles in connection with the contracts on the Thompson Lake project.

Winter Term Program Change To Cost $2.

"A $2 fee for program change is under effect with the registration for winter term," Dr. Robert A. McGrath, Registrar reported.

The fee will be charged for all changes except: cancelled classes, dividing of classes or sections, when adviser recommends class change because of academic difficulties, health reasons, conflict with officially sponsored activities, failure of a sequence course that has to be repeated and changes made on the basis of testing programs whereby the student is advised to change courses.

"Whether a student's reason for a program change falls within any of these categories will be determined by the adviser," McGrath said.

Changes ordered by the Veterans Administration or Vocational Rehabilitation for students taking work under their sponsorship, will not be charged this fee.

This ruling came about after meetings with the academic deans and chief academic advisers, they decided this policy should go into effect winter term.

"However since program change can be made as soon as winter term fees are paid, the ruling goes into effect with any changes made for winter term whether or not they are made now or at the beginning of the term," McGrath said.

"If the student has reason to believe that he should not have pay a fee for schedule change, he should take this problem up with his adviser or go to his dean, McGrath said.

Sabre Flight Forms For ROTC Underclassmen

The opportunity to join the Sabre Flight has been offered to freshmen and sophomore ROTC cadets.

"The function and purpose of the newly formed SIU Sabre Flight will be much the same as that of the Arnold Air Society. However, the new organization will be independent of the Arnold Air Society."

"All sophomores in the military program are urged to sign up for the Sabre Flight," Lt. Lt. R. H. Phillips said.

SIU FM Radio Station Topic Of Trustees Meet

A proposal for a frequency modulated radio station was discussed at a meeting of the SIU Board of Trustees yesterday.

Application for the station would have to be made to the Federal Communications Commission.

The proposed station would be used in training radio and television students and would transmit educational programs.

Marilyn Liebig Queen Of 1955 Homecoming

Marilyn Liebig, 1955 SIU Homecoming Queen

by Jack Thatcher Egyptian Staff Writer

Blonde Marilyn Liebig was crowned 1955 SIU Homecoming Queen last night by Wayne Williams, Saluki football captain, in the annual Homecoming coronation at Shrock Auditorium.

The Queen reigned over a panorama following the "Sands of Time" theme.

Her Majesty's court consisted of Jo Ann McIntire, Jane Curry, Evelyn Martin and Barbara Gibbs and attendants Marilyn Eckert and Joyce Hastings.

Tom Sill, emcee, opened the program by presenting King Menes, SIU traditional figure who reigned over his second coronation.

The King presided over the ceremony with his alter being portrayed by Richard Rieke and his slayer by Mary Ann Hamm.

His first wish was to be presented his retiring queen, Ann Travelstead. Upon her ascension to the throne, the Southern All-Stars provided several minutes of music.

Then the King's dancer, Sandra Stein, presented a ritual dance and Bob Walker sang "If I Loved You."

The King's next wish was to be presented this year's queen and the secret was divulged.

She ascended the throne in place of Miss Travelstead and was crowned, draped in a red velvet robe and presented a dozen red roses and her scepter.

The stage was set in an Egyptian sphinx six feet wide and three feet high, with fifteen feet high columns behind each one. The columns were white with Egyptian scenes portrayed on them in black.

King Mene's history is tracked back to about 3,000 B. C. when he founded the First Dynasty.

He is portrayed each year by an SIU faculty member whose identity is kept secret. The coronation is his only appearance of the year.

Marilyn joined the long line of SIU Homecoming Queens and will preside over all activities during the weekend.

Homecoming Breakfast To Begin At Midnight

The Clockwatcher's Homecoming Breakfast will be served from 12 midnight to 2 p. m. in the cafeteria. The price will be 75 cents. Meals will be served restaurant style.

Ralph Flanagan and his band have been invited. The queen and her court will also be present. Keith Pierce will provide organ music.

Transportation will be provided from the dance to the cafeteria. Advance tickets and tickets for reserved tables are on sale in the Student Union.

Don Reed and Kay Sue Eldridge are co-chairmen of the Clockwatcher's Breakfast committee, and Terry Cubison is the secretary. Other committee members are:

Norman McPeak, Lenore Merrett, Sandra Hayes, Joan Bramblett, Virginia Brascoe, Carole Bell and Nancy Norling.

Tickets For Weekend Events Move Slow

Tickets for all homecoming events were moving slowly until Tuesday. The tickets committee anticipated a last-minute rush for dances Thursday.

This would be in keeping with the late purchase of tickets in previous years. They are sold in that no "Man Power" is used.

"Each winning group should Dress, front of Old Main, Men's Residence Halls, and at Southern Acres."

The dance is 53 per couple in advance, $3.50 at the door. Ralph Flanagan concert 51 each in advance, $1.25 at the door. The breakfast following the dance 75 cents per person.

All-School Election Results In Greek, Independent Split

By Jim Kilpatrick

Greek and Independent-backed candidates scored an almost complete split in the all-school elections Tuesday.

The Greek-supported group won nine of the 17 posts, but Bob Dunkel, who received ISA backing, beat out Wynn Church for Spring Festival chairman, making the election a virtual stalemate.

The Greeks scored triumphs in both of the upper classes as Bob Edgell won over Hershel Manhart 162-64 in the senior class president race, while Julius Johnson swamped Gene Frow 304-117 in the contest for junior class president.

ISA candidates came through with victories in the freshman and sophomore contests, however, as Marvin Barker edged Herb Bautenberg 228-225 and Gaylord Hayden won the freshman post over Dime Newland 344-195.

The vice-president races were solidly Greek. Totals in these races were: senior, Harry Boyd over Rudy Stahlheber, 164-62; junior, Doris Dunkirk over Ron Danko, 149-100; sophomore, Richard Cole over Roger Bush, 272-181; and freshman, Mary Richards over Jan Fezley, 188-165.

Other vice-president candidates and the votes they received were: Al Gosman, junior, 52; and Paul Jones, freshman, 153.

Class secretary-treasurers were completely split. ISA-backed Shirley Winstead won out in the senior race, besting Christine Minkler 125-99. In the junior race, Pat Cook, who had Greek backing, topped Marilyn Whitmore 221-83. ISA candidate Millie Leonhart was unopposed in the sophomore race, and Harold Clark, a Greek candidate won the freshman post with 207 votes. Others in the freshman contest and their totals were:

Micky Masley, 172, and Angie Ramirez, 105.

Only one Greek-supported candidate, Garrison Newsome, was elected in the race for freshman members of the Student Council.

Vote totals in this race (the top four were elected) were: Dan Bode, 344; Newsome, 292; Judy Sanders 199; Joyce Douglas, 189; Jeanne Loux, 143; Betty Whittenberg, 127; Lois Welch, 118; Donald Snyder, 87; Ann Marie Kuhn, 85; Jerry Vandover, 76; Rita Stafford, 61.

Despite scattered showers, Sandra Unger, chairman of the election committee, characterized the voting as "heavy."

Although actual party names on the ballot were dispensed with last spring, both Greek and Independent groups had openly backed picked slugs of candidates.

King Menes Comes By Air To Homecoming

An ancient Egyptian, who calls himself King Menes, came to Southern Illinois yesterday in a modern airplane to appear in Southern's homecoming queen coronation ceremonies.

Dressed in a costume reminiscent of the motion picture, "The Egyptian," the king was greeted at 2:13 p. m. at the Williamson County Airport near Havana by Homecoming committee members and an AFROTC honor guard.

He boarded the Ozark Airlines' plane at St. Louis' Lambert Field at 1:30 p. m.

A Cadillac drove him to Carbondale where he disappeared until 7:30 p. m. when he appeared at the coronation pageant in Shrock Auditorium.

King Menes is an unidentified faculty member, who is chosen by the homecoming chairman, Carl Anderson, and the homecoming adviser, Elizabeth Greenleaf. Last year was the King's first appearance at Southern, but he will reappear every year at homecoming to add tradition to the activities.

Sabre Flight Forms For ROTC Underclassmen

The opportunity to join the Sabre Flight has been offered to freshmen and sophomore ROTC cadets.

"The function and purpose of the newly formed SIU Sabre Flight will be much the same as that of the Arnold Air Society. However, the new organization will be independent of the Arnold Air Society."

"All sophomores in the military program are urged to sign up for the Sabre Flight," Lt. Lt. R. H. Phillips said.

Ralph Flanagan, 1955 SIU Homecoming band, will present a concert at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow night in Shrock Auditorium. Immediately following, at 9:30 p. m., they will play for the 1955 Homecoming formal dance at the Armory. Flanagan and his band, alumni and students have been invited to attend the clockwatcher's breakfast, new addition to the Homecoming schedule, from 12 to 2 a. m. in the university cafeteria.

Southern's Golden Rule

- We wonder if any of the alums back on campus this weekend can remember abiding by the strict rules of conduct that were enforced at Southern many years ago.
- The following is from one of our school's earlier catalogues.
- "Our rules of government are only few in number and very general in their application. They are embodied in the Golden Rule: 'Do to others as you would they should do to you.' It is expected, of course, that they include:
1. Nearness of person and dress.
 2. Purity of words and behavior.
 3. Cleanliness of desks, books and rooms.
 4. Gentle bearing to teachers and fellow students.
 5. Punctuality every day and promptness in every duty, not to the minute only, but to the second.
 6. Respect for all the rights of others in all things.
 7. Earnest devotion to work.
 8. Quiescence in all movements.
 9. By all means be in school on the first day and remain till the last day of the term.
 10. Obedience to the laws of love and duty.
- "If the spirit of these things can be infused into the soul and wrought into the habits, each student will for himself give of goodness and truth, and for the state will be a power and a blessing."
- So it was . . . in 1890.

New Parking Plan For Football Games

A new football parking plan whereby 800 cars can park within two blocks of the SIU football stadium went into effect this season.

The parking is on all-weather parking lots, university officials said.

Under the new plan, the first persons to arrive at the game will park their cars in the parking lots at the northeast gate and near Anthony Hall.

When these lots are filled, Harvard street will be closed, and traffic will be routed to the power plant, with cars filling areas west and south of the stadium.

Also available will be areas near Grand Avenue, in university parking lots between the Illinois Central Railroad and Illinois Ave., and at the corner of Grand and Illinois.

Additional parking facilities will be available on lot south and west of the SIU president's office.

Students will help guide motorists to parking areas.

Education Majors At Normal Conference

These SIU seniors majoring in education attended a state conference of the Association for Childhood Education Oct. 14, 15 at Illinois State Normal University, Bloomington.

The students were Carol Anderson, Maurice Harris and Nan Stephenson.

Also attending were Edra Beckner, second grade supervisor at University School and Mrs. Sina Mott, sponsor of the SIU student branch of the Association for Childhood Education.

Bands Fixture At SIU Homecoming Dances

By Don Hecke

Various deletions and additions to Homecoming is a yearly occurrence—except for the bands.

The bands keep coming back, taken for granted by everyone but the procuring committee.

Bands, bands, bands, Ragtime, jazz, dixieland, be-bop and swing, we've had them all.

We've had some of the top band leaders of today, like Freddy Martin, Ralph Marterie and Tex Beneke. We've had some of the best of yesteryear, such as Al Donahue, Charlie Agnew and Herbie Kay.

No band, or dance, was listed for the first Homecoming, a one-day affair, on Armistice Day in 1921.

Peg Meyer's orchestra, of Cape Girardeau, played the first Homecoming dance, in 1922. It was, as today, the final event of the festivities.

Other bands played at the various functions of what was later called the first real Homecoming.

"Cobbs band, an attraction that never gets old, will be on hand to furnish the jazz and spice of life," read a poster advertising a pep meeting. At the vaudeville show it was announced "Pritchard's orchestra will furnish music between acts. Don't attend this unless you can laugh."

Local and regional bands played at Homecomings during those early years of the event.

"The Depression of 1931," title for the Homecoming show that year, had a special orchestra composed of students and others well known to SIU. Terms like "strangers that are household words" and "his sax will mean to your satisfaction" were used to bill the program.

That year Dick Cline and his "Illini Band" played at the Home-

Sphinx Coffee Hour For Alumni, Faculty

All alumni and faculty members are invited to the Sphinx Club coffee hour in the Student Union right after the game tomorrow, according to Bob Edgill, Sphinx Club president.

Homcoming Dance is the coronation ceremony of the new queen. This usually takes place at the half-time intermission.

Whether the bands are great, mediocre or otherwise, they are great at Homecoming, no matter the band, Homecoming dance is a must.

GED Tests To Be Given Eere Today

Tests of General Educational Development will be administered Friday and Saturday, at SIU, Dr. Jack Graham, testing service director, announced.

Testing will begin at 8 a. m. Friday, continuing through Saturday morning.

Administered as a service function of the university, the tests are given without charge. Testing is done at the Office of Student Affairs.

Examinees must be at least 21 and Illinois residents.

Color Slides On Sweden Shown At Frosh Assembly

Hjordis Parker, a native of Norway but not a naturalized citizen of the United States, showed her color film, "Sweden in Close-up" to the freshman convocation October 27.

Mrs. Parker, who last year presented a color film of Norway to one of the freshman assemblies, was dressed in a typical Norwegian dress.

The film depicted both rural and urban life in Sweden.

Following the assembly, the freshmen voted for "Mr. and Miss Freshman", whose identities will be disclosed at the Homecoming Assembly Thursday.

Jack Barnett, part-time student employee of the SIU Art Service, checks the job request in Allen Hall and the process of making a Homecoming television slide begins. He first made a rough sketch from information supplied by the Homecoming committee.

Mrs. Van Dam, Barnett, Dove Stubblerg and Rachel Barbour comprise the seven member Art Service staff.

Barnett (foreground) and Carol Van Dam, a full-time Art Service employee, look over the next step, a "comprehensive" sketch the size of the finished product. This sketch was returned to the Homecoming committee for acceptance or rejection. Accepted, it was sent on to be reproduced. The slide was used over WSIL-TV, channel 22.

Great Lakes Trip, 5 Hours Credit Combine For Enjoyable Vacation

"Take a three-week summer trip to the Great Lakes region, add five hours of credit in geography, and you have a profitable and enjoyable vacation," Dallas Price, associate professor of geography said. Seven students and Price traveled 4,500 miles last summer. All the Great Lakes, except Huron, were visited. The group traveled along the St. Lawrence Seaway where they saw the complete process of refining iron ore. "We made observations, took notes and studied as we traveled," Price said. This included a careful analysis of the parts of the Great Lakes, and their effective use. The impact which the new St. Lawrence Seaway will have on such cities as Buffalo and Duluth was studied. "The class saw iron ore mined in Minnesota and watched it loaded into boats on the Great Lakes. Proceeding to Buffalo they saw the ore unloaded. In the mills they witnessed the transformation of raw ore into steel. Along the St. Lawrence River, the group analyzed industry, land, and man. They studied their uses, purposes and results. Two University cars transported the class to the northern forest of Ontario. Here they viewed extensive gold, silver and uranium mining. Agriculture was seriously handicapped by long and severe winters. "We had expert geographers from various regions we visited show us around," Price said. "We were able to take advantage of their life studies of the area. "In this way we gained far more knowledge of areas around Erie, Pa., Winnipeg, Man., and Minneapolis, St. Paul and Virginia, Minn., than would have been otherwise possible," Price continued. The group came home loaded with photographs, maps and all sorts of souvenirs.

Southern Revamps Undergraduate Health Service Curriculum

Responding to the nation-wide growth of public health administration, SIU has announced a revamped Health Science curriculum for undergraduates, one of the few programs of its kind in the country. In a move to promote and extend the curriculum, SIU has established a three-man advisory board and assigned a part time coordinator to run the operation. Charles Richardson, lecturer in the Health Education department, has been named to coordinate the program on a part-time basis. On the advisory board are Nathan Nagle, director of the regional state public health laboratory, Ronald E. Foreau, acting director of the regional public health office, and Dr. Sam Andelman, regional director. Richardson said the four year program, although officially a "child" of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, will cut across departmental and college lines. Students will be required to take courses in everything from State Government and administration to organic chemistry, and at the end of four years will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree. Graduates will be equipped to specialize in sanitation of laboratory techniques or to continue.

Mr. Deeds Goes To Town' Next Movie In Monday Night Series

"Mr. Deeds Goes To Town" will be shown at the movie hour next Monday in the University School Auditorium. The movie will run at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. ADMISSION WILL BE CHARGED. "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town" stars Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur. It is about a poet who inherits a fortune, goes to New York, and outwits a host of fortune hunters only to be taken in by a slick newspaper woman.

Sociology Club To Meet Friday

The Willard Waller Sociology Club will meet at 10 a. m. Friday at Dowdell House, adjacent to the men's residence halls. Officers for the coming year will be elected and Obelisk pictures will be taken. The meeting is open to everyone. Coffee and cookies will be served.

Alpha Phi Omega SIU Consultant To Assist In Eldorado 'Bootstrap' Program

Eugene F. Bunker, consultant of the department of community development will lend technical assistance to a new Community Art Center at Eldorado, it was announced at a meeting of the town's "Operation Bootstrap" program. Bunker, prize-winning ceramics artist, will conduct free classes in pottery, which will be made from Southern Illinois clay. Bunker told a town meeting of Eldorado's Community Development Association that three of five samples of clay taken from sites in the Eldorado area were found to be good quality for ceramics production. All of the good samples were found on cool mine property. A 1500-foot square building has been given to the recreation committee of "Operation Bootstrap," free for one year. Bunker, winner of the first prize for the best group of pottery at the California State Fair this year, will design the kiln and the pottery wheel which will be used for instructional purposes. Later, he hopes to offer classes in other forms of art. At the outset, Bunker, said two sections of pottery classes would be organized, meeting three times weekly. "The objective is to put into operation an art center, focusing at first on techniques and development of interest in artistic creation," Bunker explained. "We hope to produce marketable wares and at the same time to further the sensitivity of people toward art as an enriching influence on the community." Bunker, 27, was hired only a few weeks ago as a consultant to SIU's community development program, headed by Richard W. Poston. He holds a master's degree from Mills College, California and has won numerous prizes, including the purchase prize at the San Francisco Art Festival this year. A jar he made was chosen by the museum of Modern Art for an international traveling exhibition. Bunker told the town meeting.

Today Last Time To Buy Southern Players Season Tickets

"Today is the last day of season ticket sales for the Southern Players," announced Dr. Archibald McLeod, professor of speech. McLeod stressed that season tickets allow admittance to the four major productions of the "Southern Players," "My Three Angels," "Cry, the Beloved Country," "Twelfth Night," and "Papa is All," and also to the children's plays. "Season tickets cost $1.50, and individual seats cost 75 cents," stated Dr. McLeod. "Therefore, a season ticket represents a saving of $1.50." Tickets are on sale in the Southern Playhouse and in the lobby of Shryock Auditorium.

Commerce Club To Hold Monday Evening Meeting

The Commerce Club will meet at 7:30 p. m., Monday in the University School Studio Theater. At the meeting Obelisk pictures will be identified. Three religious foundations are located in Carbondale: the Baptist Foundation, the Student Christian Foundation and the Wesley Foundation.

Fine Arts Department Schedules 2 Week Festival Here In Winter

A two-week long Fine Arts Festival, keyed by the theme "Form in Creative Expression" has been scheduled at Southern for this winter. To be from Feb. 26 through March 11, the Festival will bring to the SIU campus, artists at their works from all over the country. Special lecture, performances and exhibitions, open to everyone, will be featured throughout the two week period. Dr. Burnett Shryock, dean of the School of Fine Arts, has invited all residents of Southern Illinois to "attend as many Festival highlights as possible, in order to understand the kinship of all the arts." Some of the artists already booked, according to Miss Lula Roach,

We're bettin' on the SALUKIS to kill'em a B'ar Saturday!

Everyone was in a happy mood, but the sun was hot, and the children, being children, wouldn't sit still for the photographer. The George Van Epps family is typical of many young families at Southern.

Jimmy has a place of his own at mealtime. He can't get out of his unique little table, but he sure has plenty of elbowroom. The baby is still in the bottle stage, and so is put to bed during meals.

George made his own desk and drawing board. Here he puts them to good use by drawing plans for a class project.

Jimmy, 15 months old, has already found his yard too small and sometimes, like all children, will wander off. Here he takes time out for a busy day of play to stand by his baby brother, John.

A growing boy and a baby boy demand lots of attention. Here Jan feeds John while George shows Jimmy a color book.

Two People In Love Conquer All Obstacles To College Course

By Dan Hecke
Egyptian Staff Writer

"We're in love, we'll have the GI bill, and I think we can make it," George Van Epps told Jan Evans soon after they met in the winter of 1952.

"They're still in love, their GI Bill has expired, but they have made it."

"George and I were both freshmen here at SIU that year," relates Jan with a sparkle in her eyes. We met on a blind date. We were married in August, 1953.

The newlyweds, both beginning their sophomore year, settled down in the Chautauqua Housing Project. That was two years ago.

"The 'We can go to school and be married too' concept was fairly new, at least at Southern, when they tried it."

The old story that college students don't have responsibility certainly doesn't apply to the majority of married students at Southern. And there are lots of them, percentage-wise.

It definitely doesn't apply to George and Jan, and their two little boys, James, 15 months, and John D., six weeks.

Love, understanding, cooperation and devotion was very evident in the Van Epps household. George, with slightly thinning hair, is 26 years old, a native of Palau Park. He served almost four years in the Army, spent nearly a year in Korea. He is president of the Industrial Education Club and vice president of the Chautauqua Housing Council. George's majoring in Industrial Arts. He is a senior now.

The Van Epps apartment in the CHIP is the center section of a three apartment building. From the outside it looks almost like all the rest of the apartments—more or less like painted or wallpapered Army barracks.

Flowers and a little vine fence set the Van Epps apartment off from the others in their court. (Except for a similar vine fence surrounding the yard facing theirs.)

In construction, the inside is exactly like the other hundred, odd apartments in the project. It has four rooms and a bath, along with several large closets.

George and Jan created a home from the four bare rooms. The apartment, like all the others, is furnished with a gas cooking stove, large kitchen sink, hot water heater and gas heater. The bath room is equipped with a shower and a large medicine cabinet.

"We moved in with a card table, four folding chairs, a bed and one chest of drawers," Jan related. It seems like months before I put up curtains.

Jan is 21 and comes from Collinsville. She completed two years of college here in Primary Education. She has worked for the Industrial Education Service and is a past society editor of the Egyptian Nov., aside from raising her two little children, she is editor of Chautauqua Chatter, news sheet for the CHIP.

"Our furniture gradually increased," George said in a crisp voice. "I made many things, such as a desk, bookcase, dresser and lately, children's chairs. I do a lot of the work in Industrial Ed classes. We got some furniture from our parents."

"As of us don't have anything fancy. We just make the best of what we have. It isn't hard to make an apartment cozy—and it doesn't take much money either," he said.

Their apartment certainly is cozy and set, with plenty of leg room. Living room and kitchen seem to blend into each other. A soft ditan smothered with colorful pillows lies flush with one wall. A deep chair sits between the ditan and George's desk. A large overflowing bookcase covers one side of the room.

There are two bedrooms. The children's room is a sort of combination bedroom and playroom. Toys lie scattered about the room claimed by Little Jimmy and his new two-year-old baby brother. Everything was clean, and there was the pleasant smell of freshly washed sheets.

How does a couple with children manage financially?

"Up until this year," said George, "I received the GI Bill. With that, Jan and I finished our sophomore year. When Jimmy was born Jan had to quit school to make a home for us. Then, of course, the untimely happened, and Johnny came along."

"I have worked at various jobs since I was a freshman. That always helped. Now, with no GI checks coming in, I just have to work harder," he said.

George works from 12 to 15 hours each week on shop maintenance for the Industrial Education department. On Saturdays and Sundays he works at the Little Grass Lake Camps.

"I make 60 cent per cent of what we live on," George said. Jan adds to our income as editor of the project news-sheet, which is published every three weeks. The rest of our living expenses comes from a loan.

"My family," he explained, "has been gracious enough to make a loan to help through my first year. Our combined salaries, plus the loan, forms our income."

"This year, with the new addition, we get by on $35 a week. That includes everything," he said.

"Three dollars a week supports two adults and two children. 'And we get along nicely,' the county chimeled, 'three good meals a day—and a few snacks. Last year, with only Jimmy, we got by on $29 a week!'"

"We allow a strict written budget," George said. "It's the only way we can live with what we make. Our total budget is $140 a month. It was raised to $140 a month. (It was raised this month from $36.) This includes all utilities and maintenance work. Such things as interior paint are furnished free."

"Food costs $15 a week. We trade at one store, a super-market. This food cost includes food for the baby. Jimmy eats at the table. It also includes cigarettes," he said.

"We allow ourselves five dollars a week for entertainment. From this comes gas and service for the car. (They have a 1952 Ford, paid for) Right now we are saving for allowance for Homecoming," he said.

"An automatic washer costs us $12 a month. It is the only thing we are having on time," George said. "We had to have something to wash diapers. The machine pays for itself. Actually, we save money by having it."

"There are no extras included in our budget," she said. "We don't have anything left over for clothes, or an extra kitchen aid set. The few remaining dollars are spent on dry-cleaning and the telephone bill."

"We're not really worried about getting by," George said. "We're at all right. We're no better, no worse off than the other married students here in the project."

The majority of the 101 apartments in the project are occupied by married students. A few are faculty members or graduate students. About 80 per cent of the families have children. There are 115 children distributed among them.

Even with George's classes (14 hours this quarter) and his work, he manages to spend five evenings a week at home.

"The children are put to bed about once a month," George gives Jimmy his bath and dresses him for bed," Jan said laughingly. After that the house is quiet, and he can do his studying."

"They take in a drive-in movie about once a month. The baby is old enough to go alone now. Occasionally they take a drive to various parts of Southern Illinois Hunting dritwood along the Mississippi is a favorite pastime. George likes to hunt and fish, ride horses and refinish furniture.

"Saturday night in the project is our favorite," he said with enthusiasm. "Ten or 12 of us get together and play bridge or pin oche. Whoever drops in just stays for the evening. Really, it's our only chance each week to go together with other families."

"When we do go out without the children we don't hire a babysitter," she said. "We have a Baby Exchange." If our neighbors want to go out, we take care of their children, or vice-versa. It's a fine system. We're always confident the children are in good care. It saves money too."

"Both are very active in the project. Jan's writing job puts her in contact with most of the happenings of CHIP. George, as Vice-Mayor of the Council is likewise subject to the happenings of the project."

"The major job of our 18-member council is to act as a governing body for the project," he said. "Most of the social events of the project center around the children, and are handled by the Council. We hear complaints and petition for needed improvements in the project."

"We have the only organized married group that we know of at SIU. Our council represents a voice for all married students of SIU," he said.

"Married students are here to stay," George and Jan concluded. "We've tried and proven that it's possible for a couple to get through school—and raise a family at the same time—all on a small amount of money."

The Van Epps have done well by their willingness to temporarily

Jan happily takes Brandee and agrees to keep her as part of the "baby exchange." Brandee's parents, Dr. and Shirley Barnes, want to go shopping.

The only one seemingly not interested in the proceedings is Jimmy. He can't seem to take his eyes off the photographer.

Credit Union Director Speaks To Local Group

Marian F. Gregory, director of public relations of the Credit Union National Association of Madison, Wis., talked to members of the Egyptian chapter of the Illinois Credit Union League Thursday night in the University cafeteria.

The banquet celebrated the Egyptian chapter's own first anniversary and also the 10th anniversary of the founding of the International Credit Union Day originated in Germany. About 35 persons were present at the meeting.

H. E. Schweizer of East St. Louis, representing the Illinois Credit Union League, also spoke to the gathering.

"Altogether, there are about 225 members in the Jackson County Teachers Credit Union made up of employees of schools within the county, now primarily employees of SIU," according to Dr. Edith S. Krappe, associate professor of English. Dr. Krappe is also president of the Jackson County Union.

Herbert Settle of the Southern Illinois Highway Office is president of the Egyptian chapter, which is made up of 126 credit unions enclosing the Carbondale Harrisburg area.

Fire Chief Lists Rules For Students

Carbondale's fire chief, Ulmont Graushaw, in keeping with the fire prevention drive in the off-campus organized houses, has come up with some simple rules for students in case of fire.

Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, supervisor of off-campus housing, put these rules in her monthly householders newsletter.

The person discovering the fire should:

1. Immediately call the Carbondale Fire Department—Phone 100.

2. Notify the householder and other students that there is a fire.

3. Begin orderly evacuation of the premises.

4. Take whatever measures are deemed advisable to extinguish the fire.

5. Close all open windows if time permits (no soot vent drafts).

All students should know:

1. What exits to use in case of fire.

2. What to do if no fire escape is available and the ordinary exits are blocked.

3. That mattresses thrown on the ground provide good landing mats.

4. That improvised ropes can be made by knotting sheets together.

Mrs. Plochmann Wins Art Festival Award

A painting by Carolyn Gassan Plochmann, wife of third place winner in the 1955 "Magnificent Mile" Arts Festival in Chicago.

"Cast of Thought," an oil composition, was painted a $50 award in the field of 132 paintings submitted by the midwest's top art artists.

Awards were presented at a banquet in the Gold Room of the Drake Hotel last week.

Mrs. Plochmann's painting along with other award winners will be on exhibition at the Chicago Water Tower from Nov. 28

It's Homecoming Time Again At SIU!

And We're Backing The Salukis!

We, the business and professional people and firms listed on this page, always get excited about SIU Homecomings. After all, everything about SIU is also about our home town. Of course we're pleased have old grads and other friends of SIU return to Carbondale and the campus for Homecoming festivities.

Naturally we'd be pleased too if you have a chance to stop in and say hello again. Here's wishing every student, prof, alumnus, and fan of Southern a fine Homecoming . . . and here's our biggest WELCOME!

Incidentally, let's win a hall game Saturday!

You Just Can't Beat 'Em So Says Cafeteria Director About SIU Eggs

By John Crim
The egg need at the cafeteria where some 4,000 eggs are used each week.

The Poultry Station, located west of the Thompson Lake on the Experimental Farms, consists of two large houses, one broiler house, one small turkey house, a storage and processing building, residence for a caretaker, and several portable rain shelters used for roosting.

Laying houses at the station are restocked each fall with White Leghorn pullets and the hens are sold. This is done for three reasons, Crink said.

1. Danger of disease spread by mixing two different groups of chickens.
2. After one year a chicken goes into a rest period and egg production drops off.
3. Poultry Station hasn't the room to house more than 1,000 chickens at one time.

Another reason for the high quality of the station's eggs is immediate refrigeration in the storage house where the eggs are kept until delivered to the cafeteria. There is also an egg-grading machine and chicken-picking machine in the storage house.

The broiler house handles experiments in feeding and growth, and checking strains of broilers to find the most economical way to produce more meat per dollar.

Tri Sigis maneuver a ladder into place as they put some of the finishing touches on their house decorations for Homecoming. A giant clock will be the center of their display.

Phi Tau To Initiate Chi Delta Chi Alums
Chi Delta Chi Alums will be initiated into Phi Kappa Tau after the football game tomorrow. A luncheon for all alums and guests will be after the initiation.

Don Deubner is chairman of the alumni breakfast tomorrow. Co-chairmen for house decorations are Don Boehme and Rich Keating. The Phi Tau pledge class, headed by Jerry Cryner, is building the float.

New dining room tables and chairs have been bought for the Phi Tau house. They will be used for the first time tomorrow at the alumni breakfast.

Don Boehme is chairman of the Bill School Parents Day on Nov. 19. Bob Hilgendorf is the Interfraternity Council. Jerry Lucas is chairman of the Phi Tau's act for the Theta Xi variety show.

Sigma Pi Plans Smoker, Breakfast
Sigma Pi has planned both a smoker and a breakfast for its alums on Homecoming. Charles Case and Kent Clanford are in charge of the smoker at 6 p. m. tomorrow at the Roberts Hotel.

The breakfast is sponsored by the Sigma Pi float committee. Co-chairmen of house decorations are Ben Barchelder and Bill Mayr.

The float is expected to be ready today for Homecoming. Noon today is final deadline for ordering them. Orders may be taken at the stands in front of Old Main and the Student Union. Prices are: flowers, $2.75; white, $3; black, $4. The orchids, either delivered, waist, or wrist style, will be shipped after the game tomorrow.

The Sigma Pi open house, "Jazz at the Sig Pi House," will be Sunday, Nov. 20. Larry Fernstrom and Dave Stahlberg are chairman at the open house.

Delta Chi Remodels Garage Into Dorm
Delta Chi is completely remodeling a double garage to house eight pledges. Expected to be completed in two weeks, the dorm will be occupied by the new pledges, which are being housed in the main house, even having its own heating system.

Jerry Noles and Chuck Walter are chairman of the Delta Chi Homecoming house decorations. The pledge class is preparing a float and building the fraternity's float for the parade.

The alumni open house will be at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

Independent House Begins Organizations Plans
A new independent men's house was organized Thursday, Oct. 20. Temporarily independent of the University housing program and the organized house group, the house is at 117 E. Park. A name has not been chosen.

Officers of the new group are: president, James Hillis; vice president, Dean Carr; secretary, Donald Baue; treasurer, Ron Cramer; master-at-arms, Ed Ulrich; social chairman, Pete Joiner and George W. athletics chairman, Donald Baker and George Wang.

The constitution committee chairman is Dwayne Coffee. Donald Baue is chairman of the by-laws committee.

Mezo Chapter of Coffee Hour
Pat Mezo was elected chairman of the Delta Zeta coffee hour for head section on secondary physical education for girls.

Dr. Lum Evans, Women's P. E. instructor, who will be on the audio-visual aids panel, will speak on the subject, "Teaching Badminton with Loop Film."

Another member of the foreign language department, will make a talk in German during the luncheon program.

5 Departments Begin Coaching Sessions

Five departments of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences have arranged special coaching sessions for students having difficulty with freshman courses.

Without increasing the credit hours for the courses, the chemistry department is giving three hours of lecture, four hours of laboratory and one hour of extra credit in small units of 25 to 30 students.

The extra sessions are required of all students and give them an opportunity to ask questions and clear up any difficulty which has arisen in lecture or laboratory work.

Students having trouble with their work in the freshman courses in English may take advantage of the special sessions on Monday and Friday at 10 a. m. in Main 103 or on Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p. m. in Main 301.

Leszer D. Plotner, associate professor, is scheduled to handle the coaching sessions for the freshman course in geology.

The scheduled sessions are: Monday, 10 a. m. Wednesday, M 210; 4 p. m. Monday, M 214; 5 p. m. Tuesday, M 210; 8 p. m. Thursday, M 210.

Genald Taylor, graduate assistant, has been assigned to the coaching sessions for the mathematics department. The sessions are: Monday, 10 a. m. Tuesday and Thursday; 10 a. m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday; 8 p. m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

Students are free to schedule afternoon hours by appointment.

The Sociology Department is offering help to its students each Tuesday at 7 p. m. in Main 102a.

Metropolis Newspaper Publisher Named SIU Field Representative

Charles C. Feitch, Metropolis newspaper publisher, took over his new duties last week as a field representative for the SIU President's Office.

He will serve for nine months on a half-time basis, during which period his office and residence will be at 405 W. Mill St.

Feitch, who was a part-time field representative for the University in 1952-54, has been engaged in newspaper publishing and public relations for the past 25 years. He is owner and publisher of two weekly newspapers, the Metropolis News and the Brookport Independent.

The SIU Foundation is a non-profit corporation chartered by the state and authorized by the Board of Trustees to receive gifts for the benefit of the University, to buy sell property and otherwise to serve the University.

42 SIU Juniors Enter Advanced AFROTC

Forty-two SIU juniors have been accepted into the advanced AFROTC program, according to Col. Alexander R. MacMillan, detachment commander.

After completion of two years of in-school training and a six-weeks summer session at an Air Force base, they will be eligible for commission as second lieutenants upon graduation.

Most of the cadets have passed physical examinations for flight training and will be enrolled in a living class following graduation.

22 SIU Juniors Enter Advanced AFROTC

Forty-two SIU juniors have been accepted into the advanced AFROTC program, according to Col. Alexander R. MacMillan, detachment commander.

After completion of two years of in-school training and a six-weeks summer session at an Air Force base, they will be eligible for commission as second lieutenants upon graduation.

Most of the cadets have passed physical examinations for flight training and will be enrolled in a living class following graduation.

Extension Division Lists 1,121

The course offered by the Extension Division have an enrollment of 1,121 including the Belleville Residence Center in both graduate and undergraduate work, according to Dean Raymond Drey.

Undergraduate extension credits may be applied to meet graduation requirements, but only half of the total credits required for a degree may be earned in off-campus courses, according to university regulations.

To assist teachers and administrators of the area to obtain their masters' degree most conveniently, a number of extension graduate centers have been established.

The courses at the Belleville Residence Center provide residence credit, not extension credit. Half the work for a degree may be taken at Belleville.

The enrollment in the extension courses, including Belleville, is 155 graduates students and 966 undergraduate students. At Belleville, there are 36 graduates and 92 undergraduates.

Extension courses are being given in: Alton, Belleville, Benton, Cairo, Carmi, Greenville, Olney, Waterloo, West Frankfort, Anna, Edwardsville, Eldorado, Elmhurst, Fairfield, Florin, Harrisburg, Herron, Marion, McLeansboro, Metropolis, Mounds, Mt. Vernon, Murphysboro, Nashville, Pinckneyville, Salem, Sesser, Sparta, Tammis, and Vienna.

11 Area High Schools To Attend FTA Meet

Future Business Leaders of America club members from 11 Southern high schools will gather on the SIU campus Nov. 19 for the annual Southern Area conference.

Mrs. Barbara Beatt of Benton High School, vice-president of the Illinois Future Business Leaders, said over 100 delegates are expected, in addition to teachers of commercial courses in high schools where there are no FBLA chapters.

Harves Bille of the SIU Department of Business Administration will address the group at 9:30 a. m. in the University School Auditorium. Discussion sessions will be held in classrooms. The FBLA delegates will be guests of the University at a football game that afternoon between SIU and Northern Illinois.

3 SIU Faculty Members At Peoria Nov. 17-19

Three SIU faculty members will appear on the program of the State of Illinois Association of Health and Physical Education meeting at Peoria Nov. 17-19.

Dr. Helen Zimmerman, associate professor in the Women's Physical Education Department, will be on the research section while Dr. Dorothy Davies, chairman of the Women's Physical Education Department, will head a section on secondary physical education for girls.

Dr. Lum Evans, Women's P. E. instructor, who will be on the audio-visual aids panel, will speak on the subject, "Teaching Badminton with Loop Film."

Dr. Peacock To Preside At Language Teachers' Meet

Dr. Vera Peacock, chairman of the Southern's Foreign Languages Department, will preside at an annual meeting of the Illinois Modern Language Teachers Association Saturday at Navy Pier, Chicago. She is president of the organization.

Harm SIU Consultant For Flora Community Program

Carl S. Harm, a professional social worker for the past 12 years, is the SIU consultant to a community development program which is being inaugurated at Flora, Mo.

Harm's assignment as the University representative in the citizen study and action plan was announced by Richard W. Poston, director of SIU's community development department.

The community program at Flora was similar to civic undertakings at Mounds, Eldorado, Pinckneyville, Coloma and other Southern Illinois towns which are seeking, with the help of the University, to solve economic and social problems that may be impeding community progress.

Salukis, Bears Meet In Homecoming Tilt Tomorrow

SIU will be out to accomplish three things tomorrow when they meet Washington University in the Homecoming game, their third such game in three weeks.

First, they'll be trying to continue their dominance at home. They haven't lost a game here this year.

Second, they'll be trying to win their first game from the Bears. The Salukis have lost all five of the past encounters to the Bears.

Third, they'll be trying for their best season since 1950, when they won three, lost 5 and tied one.

The game could turn into a punting duel between SIU's Wayne Williams and Washington's Don Sauer. Williams is averaging 39.7 in 24 punts, while Sauer is averaging 39.5 in 19 boots. Both are among the top 10 small college punters in the nation.

The Salukis will be minus the services of guard Jim McCann who fractured a bone in his arm in a Western encounter last Saturday.

The Bears have an explosive attack from their single-wing. Mel Siegel handles the passing duties from the tail-back slot, while full-back Don Polkinghorne is the leading ballcarrier.

If SIU's past six games are any criteria, Washington will score a touchdown in the first quarter, and the game will be decided by one touchdown or less. That's the way it's been so far this season. Opponents have scored in the first quarter, but no touchdowns have occurred more than two touchdowns in a game.

Don Sauer, Washington University end, ranks behind SIU's Wayne Williams in the top ten small college punters according to the NAMA ratings.

Sigma Pi Takes Lead In Greek Bowling League

Sigma Pi moved into a commanding lead in the SIU Hellfire bowling league Wednesday night as they downed Delta Epsilon Chi 4-0.

Bill Hunt's 540 led the winners, while Jim McKinstry's 482 was high for the losers. Sigma Sigma broke into the win column for the first time by taking the measure of Tau Kappa Epsilon 3-1. Connie Conatser led the girls with a 459, while Don Cross fired a 30-4 for the losers.

Sigma Tau Gamma led by Jack Davis' 480 pushed the Phi Kappa Tau five deeper into the cellar by defeating them 4-0. Gene Tabacchi was high for the losers with 477.

In a very close match, Delta Zeta took 234 points from Pi Kappa Sigma. The Delta Zetas were led by Diane Boyd's 434, while Helen Ogonski was the leader for the Pi Kappas with 394.

Chips, Hurons Meet For Title Tomorrow

A battle for the IAC leadership and a fight to get out of the league cellar are on tap this coming Saturday.

Central Michigan will travel to Michigan Normal for a showdown battle for league leadership. Eastern Illinois hosts Northern Illinois in a battle to see who gets out of the cellar. Illinois Normal and Western Illinois will be out to break a tie for fourth place at 13-13.

Illinois Normal and Western Illinois, pre-season darkhorses, will have an opportunity to cast some light upon each other when they meet at Macomb. Currently, they are locked in a tie for fourth place. Both played tie ball games last week. Western and Southern tied 13-13, while Illinois Normal and Lewis tied 20-20 in a none league game. Last fall the two played to a 13-13 tie.

Coach Al Kaval's surprising Southern Illinois eleven finally has the pressure off of them, as far as league play is concerned, when they take up a strong Washington U. team. Southern was faced with playing the visiting homecoming role against league opponents Michigan Normal and Western Illinois on successive Saturdays. Last year Washington defeated Southern 25-14. This will be Southern's homecoming game and they haven't lost at home this fall.

Colleges From 4 States To Build Rec Program

SIU has invited 47 colleges and universities in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky to share in development of an overall outdoor education program on federal lands near here.

SIU President D. W. Morris pointed out that SIU is located three miles from a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service refuge on which the university owns or leases 7000 acres of land. The SIU campus also adjoins the Shawnee National Forest, a 3,000-acre tract supervised by the U.S. Forest Service.

"We're in the process of developing a program in outdoor education with emphasis on teacher training in conservation education, research projects in biological and physical science fields, and programs in recreational and camping skills," Morris stated in a letter to the presidents of the colleges in the four-state area.

He said that Southern would be pleased to work cooperatively with state, parochial or private universities or colleges in the outdoor education project.

The area around Southern, containing lakes, forests, land with wild life habitats, natural areas and offers exceptional opportunities in outdoor education and training.

Southern now has summer camps for area grade and high school children at Little Geasay Lake on the federal wildlife refuge and direct camps for crippled children, the mentally retarded and others at Grant City State Park.

Schneider, Hart, Williams Lead Salukis

The SIU gridder held a statistical edge over all opponents so far this year.

In total yardage, the Salukis have rolled up 1352 yards to 1131 for the opposition.

The difference is not so marked in the scoring column. SIU has amassed 68 points to 67.

Jack Schneider is leading in rushing and scoring in the individual statistics. He has carried the ball 53 times for 287 yards and five touchdowns.

Hank Warfield is next with 263 yards and three touchdowns in 60 carries.

Jerry Hart is the total offense leader with 460 yards, 74 yards rushing and 386 passing.

Wayne Williams is currently ranked eighth in the nation among small college punters with a 39.7 average, according to the NAMA ratings. He is also the team's leading pass receiver.

Students will ride the eight horses available on a first-come, first-serve basis. Martin will give lessons to all beginners with the help from the more experienced riders. Each student will ride only 15 minutes at a time to allow all to ride.

To sum up last Saturday's session, Martin said, "I think everyone had a wonderful time, every one that is except the horses."

SIU students enjoy an early morning ride. Horseback riding has been added to the SIU recreation program. Riding is done at the Hillcrest Stables on Saturday mornings.

Campus Crier

By Gene Coyer

Tomorrow's game between SIU and Washington University should be a close, interesting battle.

Both teams have good offenses. SIU has, I think, the better of the defenses. The Bears have Mel Siegel, and Don Polkinghorne spearheading the attack, while the Salukis counter with Jerry Hart, Jack Schneider and Hank Warfield.

The Salukis also sport one of the best lines around this year, though they'll be without the services of Jim McCann, Jim Lynch, his replacement, turned in a fine performance Saturday against Western.

It should be a close one. But I see the Salukis on top.

By the way, this is the third homecoming game in three weeks for the Salukis. They lost one, to Michigan Normal, and tied Western. The third time should be the charm, as the saying goes.

Another interesting aspect of tomorrow's tilt will be the punting duel. I hope we'll don't have to punt very often, but SIU's Wayne Williams and the Bears' Don Sauer.
