Top Researchers Give Zoology Front-Rank Place In Midwest

The addition of two noted researchers to its faculty has given SIU's zoology department front-rank position in major midwestern universities, according to chairman Harvey Fisher.

Dr. Richard Kudo, internationally prominent protozoologist and Dr. Richard Blackwelder, a specialist in the classification of insects, will continue to pursue studies that have resulted so far in over 200 research papers and books. Kudo is working on studies of the giant amoeba while Blackwelder is compiling a definitive classification of the entire animal kingdom.

Kudo, who left his native Japan in 1915 to teach at Columbia University, retired in 1954 after serving on the University of Illinois faculty for 35 years. Before coming to SIU as visiting professor this fall, he taught four years at Rutgers University and the Institute of Microbiology. He is the author of "Protozoology," the major reference work in the field, as well as score of publications on parasitic protozoology.

Blackwelder, for 20 years curator of insects at the U. S. National Museum, taught two years at St. John's Fisher College before coming to Southern. A three-degree graduate of Stanford University, he is considered a leading authority on certain insect families. While serving the National Museum he spent two years in the West Indies and Central America collecting insect species.

Southern's zoology department, one of seven at SIU authorized to accept doctoral degree candidates, beginning next year, now numbers 14 full-time faculty members whose research specialties range from vertebrate paleontology to fish and game management.

Don't make the mistake of misjudging what the monstrous piece of machinery is the Photographic Service. It is not a high powered telescope for viewing the planet.

Supervisor and Director C. William Horrell of the Photographic Service revealed to the Egyptian that SIU had purchased for use in laboratory a $4,000 enlarger for use in surplus work.

When commenting on the purchase, Director Horrell said, "The enlarger that we have purchased is a precision instrument formerly used by the army for air photography. The enlarger stands 11 feet high from the base to the top. It had to be cut a hole in the ceiling in order to mount the enlarger which stands one foot higher than the ceiling."

"Here at Southern we plan to use the enlarger for work in contour and mural printing processes."

"The Photographic Service Department at Southern Illinois has been crowded together into small areas, and the taking of group pictures has been handicapped, therefore, the acquiring of space in the Agriculture Building for the taking of group pictures is considered highly important," Horrell said.

HAS HIGH LIGHTING

"We have a high lighting system which will help add quality to the picture. Previously pictures had to be taken where ever we could find light. Now we have a system of poor lighting and with the use of wide angle lens. Often times we had to separate groups in various lighting situations that were not adapted to a large group portrait."

"Until further notice, all pictures of student body publications will be taken where ever we could find light. This is a small improvement within the next two months."

FINES 2 MORE FOR ILLEGAL USE OF CARS

Two more students have been fined $50 for illegal possession of an automobile, Assistant Dean Elwyn E. Zimmerman said today.

Three students have now received the $50 fine. The first student to receive the $50 fine was also placed on social probation. The last two only received the fine.

Second offense for illegal possession or use of a motor vehicle is suspension from the University. In action other than the maximum penalty is determined by the nature of the case, according to Zimmerman.

Trailer Court Near Finish

A trailer court for university personnel will be completed in about two weeks, according to William A. Howe, director of the physical plant.

The court will have approximately 50 trailer spaces, and will be available to SIU students and staff.

The trailer court is located south of the water plant on Wall street. The physical plant staff has been working on the site since August.

Howe also announced that the boat dock and beach at the Thompson Hall site is now completed within the next two months.

Makes Thousands Of Impressions (None Friendly)

"We make 170,000 impressions per week," said Jim Robertson, acting assistant supervisor of the printing plant.

Robertson was speaking of printing impressions, not the number of people he smiled and said that the plant usually completed 40,000 impressions per week.

Robertson, speaking in the absence of Acting Supervisor Howard Popple, stated that normally there were 10 "jobs" in operation at one time.

The printing plant, which is housed in the Board of Trustees' employ, 20 full-time workers and 20 students, who work part time. It has been in operation since the present system for three years and prior to that time was known as the duplicating service.

The service employs the majority of the printing on campus, with the exception of the Obelisk and the Egyptian.

STUCK WILL SPEAK AT YOUTH FESTIVAL

Dr. R. C. Steck, administrator of Anna State Hospital, will speak at a second annual Youth Festival Nov. 9, at SIU.

Sponsored by the Southern Illinois Youth Men's Christian Association, the meeting is open to all area high school students, according to Chairman Richard Franklin, assistant director of SIU's Community Development Institute.

The festival will begin at 1:30 p. m. in Muckelroy Auditorium at the SIU Agriculture Building. Floyd Dr. Kille, SIU school principal, will be master of ceremonies.

NOTICE

The Egyptian will not publish on Tuesday, Nov. 11. It is not a holiday, and it is not a special day. This date is Veterans Day and the printers for the Egyptian have a day off.

But All Can't Be As SIU Wants No-Line Policy Of Sectioning Center Pleases Students

Since waiting-lines have been eliminated by the Sectioning Center, very few students complain about the scheduling process, Marion Treese, supervisor of the center, said today.

"The students seem to realize that everything can't be as they want it, and we have to make a distinction in sectioning classes."

Treese, who has been supervisor for 22 months, said new headquarter has been instrumental in making work more efficient.

"Now the students come directly into the building with their department center. Under the current policy, the students go directly to the sectioning center after being advised."

With the new policies, students may either be sectioned immediately after their class, or they may be sectioned after a future appointment, or leave their cards to be filled in by a sectioner.

ple per day. In Parkinson, under the old system, we averaged about 65 per day.

"About 20 percent of the students have adopted the policy of leaving their cards to be filled in by sectioners."

The amiable Treese said that he has 23 full time students working in the building with their own cards and not, Treese sat back and grinned.

"Yes, they make out their own cards and submit them," he said. "However, they have to be approved by me before they go through."

To prove his point, Treese showed the student workers for the winter quarter. With the exception of one, all had either one both night and Saturday classes.

"The students we have working are very efficient and they take a large part of the responsibility of the center," he said. "They are expected to learn all the jobs in the office and I brag when I say they do an excellent job."

"Besides that, we can compare any office on campus on scholarship averages."

Presented By Southern Players

Comedy 'Major Barbara' Ends Saturday

Two more nights remain for "Major Barbara" to be given for SIU students. The witty George Bernard Shaw comedy will be shown by the Southern Players at 8 p. m. in the Playhouse tonight and tomorrow night.

Individual tickets cost $1 each and are available at the Playhouse box office weekdays from 10 to 11 a. m. and 3 to 4 p. m. Tickets also are available at the door each night.

Playing the title role in the satire is Betty Burroughs, a theatre major who was last seen as Millie Owen in "Picnic." She plays Major Barbara Underhart, of the Salvation Army.

One of the conflict in the play results when Major Barbara meets her father for the first time in years. A rich munitions king, Andrew Underhart's philosophy is completely different than his daughter's.

Underhart is portrayed by Bill Perry, a freshman making his debut with the Southern Players. He appeared in the other workshop last summer.

Adolphus Cusins, engaged to Barbara, also provides conflict in the comedy. Cusins is portrayed by Lou Caron, a graduate assistant majoring in theatre and a recent graduate of Millikin University. He has twice performed the title role in "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Music-Maker John Wilkinson, who portrays Charles Lomax, provides comic interest in "Major Barbara." Wilkinson has been in "La Boheme" and "Lull in the Dark." Charles Lomax is engaged to Sarah Underhart, played by freshman Janet Schurr.

Administration, Students Hunt SIU Prankster

Dean I. Clark Davis told the Egyptian today he predicts the "Bomb Caller" of the Homecoming dance will be caught within a week and a half.

Suspects are being narrowed down "little by little," Davis said. He hinted more is known about the incident than is being made public.

The "Bomb Caller," believed to be a SIU student, brought both fear and laughter to 16,000 students at the dance at the Carbondale Armory Saturday night when he telephoned at 10:32 a bomb had been planted and scheduled to go off in the building at 11 p. m. No bomb was found.

Several students have volunteered to help by giving the name of the "Bomb Caller" if they hear it, according to Davis.

Davis declined to say what punishment the prankster would receive. He added, however, that the University would take a very serious view of the situation because it affected such a large number of students.

HURTS PERFECT HOMECOMING

It was made to Night Police Chief Jack Haseel, Carbondale, instead of the campus police office.

No investigation is being made by Campus Police because "we weren't asked," officers said. The Office of Student Affairs is handling the case.

Carbondale police and St. Louis Sheriff Howard Chatham searched the "Bomb Caller" for the bomb, but to his credit of the army into the chilly air.

The call was traced to the SIU switchboard.

6 Lecturers Join Faculty

Six lecturers have been added to the faculty of Southern Illinois University by the board of trustees.

Amos, instructor of biology. H. W. Wilkison, physical education instructor, and Eugene S. Wood, instructor in the University School, are the new lecturers.

New lecturers were appointed in the department of English, psychology, and art, and to the Vocational Technical Institute. Assigned to the VTI was Mrs. Winifred Mitchell, a nurse who has served at both Holden Hospital and Doctors Hospital in Carbondale.

The psychologists are Spaulding Rogers, formerly visiting professor at the University of Oklahoma, Turkey, and the University of Vermont, and Arnold E. Kaufman, until recently with the Phenacio State College.

English department additions are Gregory P. Ziegelmeyer, former feature editor for the LaCrosse, Wis. Register, and Thomas E. Cassidy, who has taught at St. John's University and Notre Dame.

Mrs. Marion Beveridge, wife of SIU geography lecturer Ronald Beveridge, was named lecturer in art for the current school year. She has taught at Michigan State and Oklahoma State.

PUBLISHES POETRY ON ALL HUMOR

Do you write humorous poetry? If so, you should contact the English Department for information concerning publication of your work.

Great Writers Publishers of Hollywood, Calif. are soliciting manuscripts for a book of humorous poetry which they are compiling, and which will have an approximate publication date of May, 1959.

Any poetic form (even the lowly Limerick), of any length, on any subject matter, is acceptable provided it is submitted by a member of the English Department who has the approval of their editorial staff.

If your work is accepted, you will be charged a nominal fee per line for publication. This assures you of the literary recognition that is difficult to achieve by freeloancing.

Manuscripts are accepted for publication will be entitled to secure a copy, or copies, of the book at a special self-addressed price that will be about half the regular price.

Manuscripts must be original and must be typewritten. If a manuscript is submitted, be certain to enclose a signed statement attesting to its originality along with a self-addressed envelope.

For the best humorous title for the book, which is, as yet, untitled, the winner will receive $50 and also a credit line.

The winner for the best humorous design (hand-drawn, photo, or any other graphic medium) suitable for use as a book cover will receive a credit line along with $50.

And finally, another $50 will be awarded for the "poem" which is judged "Best in the Book." This poem will be accorded featured prominence, including a literary and biographical sketch about the contributor.

GOES FISHING

Dr. William M. Lewis, head of Fisheries Management Research at SIU, attended a two-day meeting of the American Fishers Society in Louisville, Ky. last week.

The meeting was for members of the southwestern section of the Society. This society is concerned with the commercial production of fish in the United States.

Mullins Attends Directors Meeting

Elizabeth B. Mullins, co-ordinator of the Orientation Center, will attend the National Orientation Directors' Conference at the University of North Dakota Saturday through Tuesday. The conference will deal with discussions on new students. Topics will include "Orientation Before College," "Orientation as a Continuing Process," "The Old Dog's Orientation," and "What do we really know about our New Students?"

The conference will also be attended by Dean E. E. Stafford, University of Illinois; William Guthrie, executive dean of Ohio State University; Donald R. Zander, director of orientation at University of Minnesota; and D. J. Robertson, dean of University College, University of North Dakota.

The Editors' Opinions

The Big Move

The "big move" is on! A gaping hole appears here and a new building appears there. The shifting of buildings is going on at an amazing rate. When one considers the speed with which the shift is being made the cartoon at the right doesn't seem too far-fetched.

It isn't an uncommon sight for a motorist driving around campus to meet a building coming down the street. But you can be sure the motorist will never quite get used to it.

With all the moving going on it is hard to tell just what will be here tomorrow and what won't be.

At present the bond issue is still undecided. However, Southern will have a beautiful college with or without the bond issue. These are the words of President Delyte W. Morris.

For those of us privileged to sit in on the "ground floor" as buildings appear to spring overnight the truth of this statement is apparent. The vision and planning which has brought Southern Illinois University this far will find some means for the necessary funds.

Right now in Madison and St. Clair counties people are giving from their pockets to provide enough funds to purchase land for a new branch of SIU. This clearly demonstrated that where people realize the need for education the way will be found.

Autumn Leaves

Golden leaves drifting slowly toward a parched brown earth. Red leaves turning fiery in the giddy glow of an ever Northward sun. Mild days and crisp nights. This is the brief moment we call Autumn.

It is a melancholy time of year. Autumn is the last breath of summer and the grim shadow of winter. But it is a happy sadness, tinged with memories of Autumns gone by.

Autumn is a blend of many moods. It is a mixture of the other seasons. Yet Autumn has her own distinctive air.

Of Nature's four seasons we'll vote for Autumn as the most beautiful.

GUS BODE SAYS

Gus says the mid-term period is not a troublesome one. After devoting three weeks to writing the entire Civil War on his watch days and crap nights. This is the brief moment we call Autumn.

Gus heard that the Old Maid Cannon went off the other day. Gus says he has reason not to believe the report, without checking.

Gus heard that several e-peas discovered that AWS does not mean "Always Wear Shirts."

Gus believes the "Mad Bomber" and the "Bomb Caller" are the same.

Gus noticed that in Ivory Towers they say "Distorted Bomber" instead of "Mad Bomber."

Gus says in Southern student government he is not interested about court reform. He's waiting for formation.

Gus would like to become an alum but he says it doesn't look like the Egyptian will ever let him.

Those who advocate separation of the gifted child should overlook one aspect—the interests of the particular child. Views such as that held by Rick-

A burning issue which faces the American people today is the highly buried, our educational system by Russia's Sputnik. It is adequate to keep us up with Russia in the armament race? Are we developing the scientists we should with our present educational methods? These and many other questions have been raised in the last few months. The furor rages with intelligent and educated persons on both sides.

These questions bring up an age old matter—what shall we do with the gifted child? Should we give him additional opportunities, or shall he stay as one of the group?

With the present scare many are advocating we should separate the gifted from the rest in our educational methods. Rear Admiral Rickover, of Nautilus fame, recently stated he is in favor of separating the gifted child from the others as early as the second grade. He believes the future of the country depends on it.

Those who oppose this view quickly ask, "But how can you be sure who is gifted at this early age?" Another question they ask is what will this do to the children separated into special groups? Will they become normal human beings?

I don't believe we should separate the gifted child at the second grade level. I don't believe it should. I can't believe it should be sacrificed at the altar of desire to produce scientists in mass order production.

At the second grade level or any of the lower grades, children have one vital need—to feel they are one of the group; that they belong and are liked by the others. Separation would deprive them of this feeling.

However, this thought does not rule out encouragement of the child showing special talents. This child should be encouraged to develop as rapidly as possible—but in the same class.

Those who advocate separation of the gifted child should overlook one aspect—the interests of the particular child. Views such as that held by Rick-over put the child in the same class as a machine, not a human being.

Our college curriculum cannot be faulted on the question of whether it offers sufficient opportunity and challenge for the exceptional student. The majority of courses stimulate the student to additional investigation of the subject if he has any interest at all.

Perhaps in time we will be forced to make changes in our educational system to meet present day challenges. Maybe present methods are inadequate.

But we should never forget that one of our most important assets is our belief in the worth of the individual. If it were necessary to develop a nation of scientific robots in order to survive then one could seriously question the value of such a life.

But many who fear destruction will about that we haven't got time to make these changes. We must have a complete overhaul immediately.

Perhaps this group is right. We may be riding on complacent waves of self-contentment which could drift us far behind.

But for the majority of Americans there seems to exist a firm, unshaken confidence in our present educational methods.

Know Your College Careers From AF ROTC

All male students entering Southern Illinois University are required to enroll in the basic Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps. In general, students will be exempt from this requirement if they are veterans, physically handicapped, or conscientious objectors, subject to the approval of the Military Police Committee appointed by the University President.

The program consists of two years of required basic AFROTC and two years of voluntary advanced training. Students may be assigned to a deferment quota after the second term of work and may be deferred from service upon the request of the Professor of Air Science.

When a student finishes his first two years of required AFROTC training, he may apply for admission to the advanced course. The advanced course consists of training in problems peculiar to the Air Force and is designed to equip the student to make a responsible assignment of an Air Force Officer. Applicants for the advanced course are recommended by an AFROTC Selection Board, tested, screened, and selected by the Professor of Air Science for final approval and enrollment.

A student selected for the advanced course signs an agreement to continue in the AFROTC during the remainder of his undergraduate course public information division when ordered to do so. Furthermore, he agrees to accept an Air Force Reserve commission if temporarily reclassified as a member of a regular or reserve component of the Air Force until the eighth anniversary of the receipt of his commission.

While a student is completing his junior and senior years in the AFROTC program he is entitled to a monetary allowance of 50 cents per day; when he attends summer camp for four weeks he is paid $75 per month.

During the senior year, students who have volunteered and are qualified for pilot training receive 25 hours of flight instruction which qualifies them for a private pilot's license.

Upon graduation, SIU students who have successfully completed four years in the AFROTC will be commissioned second lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve. Those men who finish in the upper one-third of their class, upon selection by the President of Southern Illinois and the Professor of Air Science, may be designated Distinguished Aviators and will receive special consideration for regular Air Force Commission at a later date.

Women students at SIU who volunteer and can meet the high physical, mental and moral standards established can participate in the AFROTC program, outlining advanced training is occupational, and women completing the advanced AFROTC course and receiving a degree will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve.

The entire program is voluntary, and women participating may drop out at any time before receiving their commission. If the commission is accepted, the women will serve a three-year tour of active duty.

Outside AFROTC activities include an Honor Guard, a drill team—a championship rifle team, and two honorary societies—Spartan Fight for freshmen and sophomores, and Arnold Air Society for advanced students. A woman's auxiliary Angel Flight, takes part in school activities.

Baird Speaks At Little UN

Thomas Baird, of the United Nations public information division, will speak at the miniature United Nations General Assembly here Nov. 14.

Delegates from 81 countries are scheduled to attend the session which ends Nov. 15; the meeting is sponsored by the International Relations Club and the student government.

Each organized SIU group will represent one country at the meeting. Three to five delegates will be present from each organization.

The country to be represented by each club will be assigned on the basis of choices indicated. A foreign student from the country represented by each organization will serve as an adviser in studying the policy of the nation on the subjects discussed.

Inkling And Thrill

Friday night, Oct. 31, the spotlight was on two freshmen at the pep rally in the University School Auditorium.

They were Mark Walker and Sue Easterday, this year's "Mr. and Miss Freshman."

"This is certainly one of the biggest thrills of my life," smiled Sue. Miss Easterday, who lives in Metropolis, is a majorette and performs with the SUD marching band. She also is a member of the Wesley Foundation. While attending Me-thropolis Community High School, she was a majorette, governor of Illinois Girl's State and president of the State Hi-Tri.

Walker stated that he had an "inkling" of being elected "Mr. Freshman" a couple of days before it was announced. He lives at Fossil, a small town in upper Champaign County and attended Gibson High School. He played basketball and was a member of the school newspaper and yearbook staff.

Sadie Hawkins Dance Starts Tonight In Union

A Sadie Hawkins dance is planned by the Student Union for tonight. The dance is free and will last from 8:30 to 12, according to John Crowell, Friday night activities chairman of the Union.

"Girls should ask fellows for dates for this dance," said Crowell, "but students not dating that night are also welcome."

"Overalls and flannel shirts are the proper dress for the party," he continued. "The agenda for the evening calls for dancing, games, and refreshments."

Girls at Thompson Point are challenging Woody Hall residents for attendance at the dance, according to Crowell.

'Miller Story' -- Best Of Cycle

By Doris Greenlee

A few years ago Hollywood began a cycle of pictures patterned on the lives of great musicians. This trend provided such fine movies as "The Benny Goodman Story," "The Eddy Duchin Story," and "St. Louis Blues," to name a few. But one of the best of the group is one of the raffiest — "The Glenn Miller Story," which was shown Friday night in Shryock Auditorium.

The movie followed Miller's life from his early days in small bands and pawnshops to his final performances with the Army Air Force Band in World War II, interspersing humor with tenderness, and always coming back to the great Miller music.

James Stewart, in the title role, was a charming, unpredictable man who did such things as propose by long-distance telephone to a girl he hadn't seen in two years, call for a date at three a.m., or spend the greater part of the wedding night playing jazz with Louis Armstrong's June Allyson, as the girl in the cast provided just the right spark of offset Stewart's drawing style, and showed remarkable ability in a few scenes of her own, such as the final one of the picture.

The great attraction of the movie was, of course, its music, and this was present in abundance, aside from the story and the acting. The large audience which attended the movie listened eagerly to such well-known pieces as "In the Mood," "Strip a Peep," and "The Tonight Scream," and more than once the auditorium was alive with hummed accompaniment.

For those in the audience who were familiar with Glenn Miller's music, the film was a fascinating glimpse of the man and the forces behind the music. For those who were just getting acquainted with the "glenn sound" it was a perfect introduction.

The second feature, "Line of the Wilderness," was rated 10 and not too alluring. Jeffrey Hunter waded in and out of Geoffrey Okforokere swamps, looking for a boy to aid a fugitive he had found there, and trying to decide if he should fall in love with the fugitive's daughter, Walter Brennan, as the fugitive, was fairly good, and Jean Peters, as the daughter, was properly unimpaired. The questions that bother this reviewer is why, in all those trips back and forth, Hunter never thought to take her a new shirt.

MOVIE FANS SEE THREE ON WEEKEND

"The Girl He Left Behind" is a tale of the peacetime army, told by Marion Hargrove, who wrote "See Her, Private Hargrove," about his experiences in World War II. Hunter plays a college boy drafted into the service, and Miss Wood is the girl he leaves on the campus. Since Hunter is somewhat of a playboy and his girl is ambitious for him, this leads to complications. This film will be shown at 8:30 and 8:30 in the University School Auditorium, at a price of 25 cents for students and 40 cents for adults.

"Tammy and the Bachelor," in color, is last year's best-loved story of a girl from a Mississippi riverboat (Debbie Reynolds), her moon-shining grandfather (Walter Brennan), and what they teach a sophisticated Southern family about life, love, and the pursuit of happiness (Chief pupil is Leslie Nielsen, the other half of the title).

The second feature, "Magnificent Obsession," is also in color. The film stars Rock Hudson as a reckless playboy who learns the meaning of sacrifice through the suffering of the woman he loves. Jane Wyman plays the love interest in a touching film, this leads to complications. This film will be shown at 8:30 and 8:30 in the University School Auditorium, at a price of 25 cents for

SALUKIS INVADE MICHIGAN FOR HAG TITLE SHOWDOWN

By Ron Jacober
Sports Editor

Tomorrow afternoon Southern's veteran Salukis will clash head-on with the "Comeback Kids" of Central Michigan College in the game that most fans have been looking forward to all season — the IAC showdown.

A lot is at stake at the game that next Central has not lost a home IAC football game since 1951 in a string which extends through 20 straight games. The Chippewas are hoping this loss strikes again in their final home game Saturday.

Southern, (6-1), has not won an IAC title since 1947 and this is the first year in quite a few that they have even had a chance.

Central, (7-1), is looking for its sixth crown in the past seven campaigns, and with a victory tomorrow the Chippewas would be assured of at least a tie for the title.

The game will be carried over the following radio stations with the pre-game activities scheduled to start at 12:30 noon. WJFF, Herrin, WFLX, West Frankfort, WHCO-Spyke; WCFL - Carbondale, and WSRV-FM, The SIU station.

The Chippewas go into the crucial game undefeated in the IAC. It is terback the Chipes' offense lacked the parts that make it one of the most feared in the IAC.

The squad's fine field general is still a doubtful starter for this weekend's tussle although Coach Kelly is hopeful that the No. 2 quarterback, Mike Sweeney, will be available. Both Sweeney and Lemanski were sidelined with leg injuries.

NOT BRIGHT

As for the Salukis picture things still are not bright. Star halfback Carver Shannon has been a part-time performer because of an ankle injury and is also a doubtful starter although he looked like he was coming around last weekend against the Generals of Washington and Lee. Shannon definitely holds the key to the Salukis success tomorrow. He holds virtually every SIU rushing and scoring record. In 1956, he scored 90 points and last season racked up 723 yards rushing although he missed several games because of injuries. Last season Carver shocked CMC by picking up 156 yards in 16 carries against the Chipes — only four yards short of their IAC record.

Quarterback Bill Norwood is also in doubtful status. Norwood, a senior from Centralia, has been a big gun to date in the Salukis powerful offense. He is the leading scorer as well as the top ground gainer.

BEACH IS GREAT

Centrally answer to Shannon is Walter Beach, one of the fastest men in College football.

Beach, the nation's 14 best small college back is rushing going into last Saturday's Eastern Illinois contest, picked up a net 174 yards rushing in 18 carries against the Panthers and now has 424 yards for the season.

Southern's line has been about the most outstanding thing about the Saluki squad this season. In only one game the Saluki line was outplayed and that was against Illinois Nor-

Cagers Getting Shape

Speed, Stamina -- And More Speed

The emphasis is on speed, stamina and more speed as Southern Illinois University's basketball team moves into its fourth week of practice.

Coach Harry Gallatin earned the nickname "Iron Horse" during 10 years of pro basketball. Now in his first collegiate coaching season he is attempting to mold the Salukis into hard-running, iron men for the coming season.

"Running, passing, rebounding and more running—that's the only way to get a team into shape," Gallatin claims. "My formula for a winning club is speed and plenty of it."

The Salukis will continue the roadwork and fundamental drills until the last of this week when first full-court scrimmages are slated. Southern's initial turnout of 45 candidates has been trimmed by the stiff workouts, and the first official cut Saturday dropped the number to 25.

Gallatin hopes to field a varsity touring squad of 12 players and a junior varsity team of 12 by the opening game Dec. 12 at Austin Peay.

A standout in early drills is freshman Charlie Vaughn of Tamm. "The boy is fabulous," Gallatin exclaims. "He has perfect body action and a feather touch on the ball. I've guarded him, and he can sink shots over me from anywhere."

Gallatin hopes to play against the top teams in the conference. The only disadvantage is that it takes place 600 miles away from Carbondale.

Vaughn, along with Gene Velloff, Alton, and Jim Guadoni, Herrin, are leading a talented crop of rookies. Velloff, a transfer from St. Louis University, may develop into the Salukis' best ball handler.

Guadoni, a member of Herrin's 1956-57 state high school championship team, has shown well out front and may be in line for a starting guard spot.

Among the 10 lettermen back Captain Seymour Bryson has looked exceptionally good. The 6-4 senior center from Quincy led Southern to a 12-11 record and a tie for second place in the Interstate Conference last year. He led the team in scoring with 384 points.

Also drawing praise from Gallatin were Dick Ruggies, junior guard from Quincy, Mass., and Harold Barbo, sophomore forward from Sparta.

"All my veterans are showing me good basketball," Gallatin explains. "But these boys I've mentioned are a cut above the rest of the crew."

Gallatin plans play combination drill, scrimmages and more running until the season opened.

The Salukis' 10-game home schedule opens Dec. 6 against Drury College.

WAA HOCKEY

The W. A. A. varsity hockey team will leave Friday, Nov. 7, for the annual Sectional Sports Day to be held at the University of Illinois on November 8.

Thirty-five varsity squad members will make the trip. They will be accompanied by Coach Stear, faculty sponsor.

Representatives from colleges and universities throughout Illinois will attend the sporting event. Hockey games are played in both the morning and afternoon. Following hockey competition, the University of Illinois W. A. A. will hold a social gathering.

"This sports day gives our student an opportunity to play against the best in the state," says Ed Evans, W. A. A. adviser. "By competing with players from other schools on the hockey field and meeting them in the social gathering afterward, our girls pick up many new hockey techniques."

Gymnasts Face Toughest Slate In History

Some 20 gymnasts are beginning workouts for the toughest schedule in SIU history, including meets with five Big 10 schools and five touring.

Included on the squad are 10 returning lettermen. They are Captain Bob Sawyer, Cottage Hill; Jerry Buckenback, Westchester; Ed Hulford, Elmhurst; Ed Feister, Interstate Conference flying rings champion from Winnetka; Ed Foster, Elmhurst; Charles Hilliard, Melrose Park; Bob Kies, IAC side horse champ from St. Louis; John Ostarevic, Chicago; Gene Salomon, Grayville, and John Taylor, West Palm Beach, Fla.

Top-rated freshmen are Leonard Kasanik, outstanding tumbler from Fresno, Cal., who was seventh in the National AAU meet last year as a high school senior; Fernando Terjeme, Elmhurst, who was fourth in all-around competition in the state last year; John Shidler, Elmhurst, who finished second in the state on the trampoline last spring; and Gary Williams, Carmel, a fourth place finisher in tumbling at the state meet.

Also highly regarded by Coach Bill Meade are Bob Miller and Hugh Blaney, both of Winnetka. Miller is a high bar specialist and Blaney, eighth in tumbling and trampoline at the 1956 National AAU meet. Blaney will report for duty in January after he finishes a tour in the all-around, tumbling and trampoline classes.

With the large number of returnees and talented freshmen candidates on hand, Meade has high hopes of bettering last season's 6-3 mark. But the Salukis' tough 18-meet schedule includes matches with Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Michigan State and Minnesota of the Big 10.

Southern also will compete for the first time in the National Gymnastics Clinic in Sarasota, Fla., Dec. 26-30. After launching the season Dec. 30 at the Midwest Open in Chicago, Wisc., junior from Fresno, Cal. 6, SIU's first home meet will be Jan. 9 against Indiana.

GREATEST OF EASE

Beginning his fourth season on SIU's gymnastic team is Gene Salomon, all-around performer from Grayville. Salomon was co-captain of the 1957-58 squad which compiled a 4-3 mark. This year's squad is expected to be the best in the history of Southern.

SALUKIS STILL HAVE GOOD SHOT

Coming into tomorrow's contest with Central Michigan, Southern has a very good shot at their first IAC crown since 1947.

There is one necessary element in this championship drive — a victory in tomorrow's game.

Coach Kawala's speedy and veteran squad along with the capable staff of coaches will leave this morning by plane — that is unless the airlines decide they still want more money and stay on strike — with the hopes that they can fly right back again with at least a share of the IAC crown.

If the Salukis spring the upset—and it would be an upset regardless of how optimistic you are — any one of four teams can figure in the championship picture during the final weekend of loop action on Nov. 15.

Central Michigan, SIU, Western Illinois and Eastern Michigan all could finish out the season with one foot in the title room.

Newman's Roll To Big Lead

By Bill Christine

The Newman Club's No. 2 steamroller—with reliable Jim Cronin still at the throttle—continued to make easy work of any opposition in eight in the SIU Independent Students Bowling League this week. Paced with their regular last Monday night at the Congress Lanes, the defending-champion Newman rollers swept all four points of their match with the Bird Dogs and thus increased their first-place stranglehold to five tallies as the circuit heads into the fifth week of activity.

SCORES FOUR
Newman No. 2 was one of three teams to score four-point slams Monday. Doyle Dorn No. 1 blanked Newman Club No. 1 by the same margin and the Atombs surprised Doyle Dorn No. 2 by taking a 4-0 verdict. The Tons' shutouts were ruined when they lost the last game to the Gers, but the former still chalked up a 3-1 victory.

The Gers, resting in a tie for fourth place with the Atombs, are the next team which will try to get up a roadblock for the Newman No. 2 express. The teams met this Monday night (9:15 o'clock) on the 10th and 4th at Congress. The Ions challenge Newman No. 1 on alleys 1 and 2, the Bird Dogs face the Atombs and the Gers on alleys 3 and 4, and Doyle Dorn No. 1 hook up on 7 and 8 in other matches. Doyle Dorn No. 2 has a bye and is idle.

Four of the five Newman No. 2 bowlers hit 500 series as the loop pace-setters set their sights on the 10th consecutive league title. Cronin, the Carrollton anchorman, put games of 201, 172 and 189 together to lead the pack with only two to go for a conversion of the 4-1-10 split for the second straight week. Bill Christine had 629, Ben Cyst 516 and Jim Oettle 511 to round out the attack. The Newman's total pinfall margin was an imposing 2603-10.

UD's Still Unbeaten

ED. NOTE

UD's taste defied for the first time since the first game of the 1958 season Tuesday when the Brandon Bombers clipped the Plaza boys 20-13 in a hot-tempered contest. UD's intent to protest the contest.

By John Fests
U. D. Plaza remains undefeated for the season, despite a 60-yard kickoff return and a touchdown on the final play of the game by Doyle Dorn.

Both teams entered the game with three wins and no losses and shared first place in their league. In losing 19 to 18 Doyle Dorn dropped to second with a three and one record. U. D. Plaza, after scoring their first touchdown, kicked to Green on his own twenty-yard line. Green, combining speed with quickness against the loose defense of U. D. Plaza, ran the complete distance to score Doyle Dorn's second touchdown. U. D. recovered quickly and threw a 20-yard pass on the attempted extra point.

Entering the final minute of the game, Doyle Dorn made their final drive. Beginning on their own 30-yard line, they passed and ran to their opponents 30-yard line. A perimeter for roughing the passer put the ball on the twenty-yard line. On the next play Griffin was run out of bounds with only three to go for the score. On the next Griffin scored. This completed the regular playing time. Doyle Dorn could tie the score if they could score the extra point.

The try for point was an incomplete pass. A penalty for roughing the passer gave them another try.

By Goose, Beware!

Goose, beware! Southern Illinois University has a freshman who is looking his way through college. He is 19-year-old Robert Lentz, who earns college expense money as a professional goose caller for hunters. This fall, Robert is busy making like a goose near his home town of Cairo, one of the best goose hunting areas in the nation. His work is sandwiched between classes at SIU, where he is working toward a degree in applied science.

Lentz, who has been luring geese within shouting range since he was 12, is paid both by gun clubs and hunters. On a good day — when the ducks come flocking in — he earns as much as $20.

A day of goose calling is hard on Lentz's throat because his voice must "break" with each call. He is in his best form when it is raining; the dampness keeps his throat moist. On dry days, Lentz must drink lots of liquids to keep his voice box lubricated.

Although Lentz's rare talent requires constant practice, he rehearses only in private. "I used to practice around people, but I got tired of those strange looks and a lot of questions," he explains.

Lentz's unusual method of working his way through college has attracted widespread attention. Last Sunday night (Nov. 2) he topped the experts on the network television show, "What's My Line?" It is the number of hunters they are nearly as plentiful as the geese. It's the possibility of laryngitis.

SALUKI HARRIERS IN IAC MEET

Northern Illinois University will go in defense of their one year old IAC cross country crown this weekend when the hill and daler squads from seven conference schools meet at Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

"Expected to provide strong opposition for the Northern Illinois University Huskies this year will be Western Illinois University, a team that at last count had won seven straight dual meets this season, and Eastern Michigan College, a team that has enjoyed wins over Central Michigan, and Chicago University while placing a strong third in the Michigan AAU. The squads only loss came at the hands of Miami of Ohio.

In 1957 Northern emerged the winner for the first time in the history of the IAC. The Huskies broke a seven year Eastern Michigan conference domination which began in 1951. The Huskies again are considered of top strength but it is believed that several other squads in the conference, including Central Michigan, Southern and Eastern Michigan, have improved so much if not more than the Northern Illinois team. If this is true then it may be one of the best conference cross country meets seen in the history of the league.

Considered as possibilities for the individual league crown are Ed Vander Heuvel of Central Michigan who placed second last season, Dan Ryan of Western Illinois who has placed first in each of Western's seven wins, and Mauri Jorankka of Eastern Michigan who has run in only four races yet has set career records at Mt. Pleasant and at Washtenaw Country club in Ypsilanti. John Palmer, freshman from Yonkers, New York is also rated as a possible "dark horse" for Southern.

The meet is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., Saturday.

Three Backs

Five Saluki veterans have been nominated for the all-Illinois football team.

Saluki Coach Al Kaval has announced that the names of the following players were presented to the selection board: Captain Cecil Hart, senior; fullback from Hillsboro; Quarterback Bill Norwood, Centralia; senior; fullback Carver Shannon, Corning, Missa, senior; Guard Willie Brown, Memphis, Tenn.; Junior and tackle Houston Antwine, Memphis, Tenn., sophomore.

"We could have chosen any of our other players by injuring this," Kaval commented. "But these five stand out above the others, and I think they should receive the recognition."

Shannon and Brown are the only ones who could repeat this year. Shannon, a slashing halfback who has been hampered by injuries this fall, was named to the first team in 1957, and Brown, a bashing guard of the old line, made the second squad.

Hart is leading the one-acted Salukis in rushing with 460 yards on 115 trips for a 4.0 average. He also is second in scoring with 30 points in seven games.

Shannon is number two rushing, gaining 245 yards on 39 trips to compile a 6.5 yard average per try. He is fourth in scoring with 20 points. He recently made the Football Writers All-American nominee list.

Norwood, in his fourth year at SIU signal falter, leads in passing, total offense and scoring. He has gained 453 yards on 29 completions in 74 tries. His combined total yardage is 510, and he has tallied seven touchdowns and four conversions for 47 points.

Brown has been named outstanding lineman of the week four times this season, the last three weeks in a row. He and the ponderous 250-

Carver Shannon Nominated For All-American Award

Halfback Carver Shannon has been nominated for the 1958 All-American team.

The speedy senior from Corning, Missa, made the select list sent out by the Football Writers Association of America. An all-star team selected by the writers will be announced sometime after Nov. 11.

Shannon returned to the SIU lineup last weekend (Nov. 1) and promptly shattered Washington and Central Lee defenses as he set up two touchdowns with long, spinning runs. The fleet halfback has been out of action since the third game of the season with a badly swollen ankle. Shannon's performance against the Generals, 96 yards on 10 carries, boosted him to the second spot on the Saluki rushing standings. He now has a 6.5 yard average per carry for 38 trips and is fourth among SIU scorers with 20 points.

Coach Al Kaval is counting on his speedster to be ready for Southern's return in Interstate Conference action Saturday (Nov. 8) at Central Lee. Shannon and the Salukis will be looking for their first win against the league-leading Chipewagon at Mt. Pleasant.

Hart Leads Saluki Backs

SIU statistical leaders fattened their averages in last weekend's 36-7 win over Washington and Lee.

Captain Cecil Hart, Hillsboro fullback, rambled for 99 yards on 20 carries against the Generals to bring his rushing total to 460 yards on 115 trips for a 4.0 average. Hart also added a touchdown to tighten his grip on second place in the scoring race with 34 points. Halfback Carver Shannon, Corning, Missa, out of action since the third game, took over second in rushing, gaining 96 yards.

Quarterback Bill Norwood, Centralia, went over for a two-point conversion to boost his scoring lead to 47 points. The senior passer had an off day in the air, completing only one of nine tosses for eight yards, but the pass scored the Salukis' first touchdown of the game.

Norwood had completed 29 of 74 passes for 433 yards and three scores, and there have been five interceptions. He leads in total offense with 510 yards.

Halfback Lane Jenkins is the top pass receiver with nine catches for 176 yards and two scores. Richard Nelson, Wheatland, is second with nine catches for 81 yards and one TD. Dave Wheeler, Chicago, quarterback, has averaged 36.2 yards on 23 carries to lead SIU punters.

The Salukis return to Interstate Conference play Saturday (Nov. 8), looking for their first win at Western Michigan. Southern is tied for second in the league with Central Illinois at 1-1. Central leads the loop with a 4-0 mark. Coach Al Kaval's Salukis have compiled a 6-1 record for the season.

DELTA ZETAS SPEND BUSY WEEKEND

Homecoming presented a busy week for Delta Zeta sorority. During the preceding week, the girls worked on house decorations and final, and Friday night found both activities and pledges busy on last minute final work. Help in heavy building came from Ted Moske, Bill Davis, and Dick Ballintheim. The float won honorable mention.

A coffee and doughnut hour was held immediately following the parade Saturday, and another was held following the game. Alumni, active, pledges, and dates made up a large crowd. Marilyn Perkin and Doris Steinmarch were in charge of the coffee hours.

Phyllis McGill, a recent pledge, performed as a majorette in Saturday's game. Other participants in Homecoming activities were Cay McGowan and pledge Pris Eaterly, who performed in the Homecoming play for Barbara.

The Delta Zetas are scouring the countryside this week looking for a large amount of Saluki and a small motor which disappeared from the house decorations some time Saturday. If anyone knows the location of the car, call 199.

"YES I FIND IT EASIER TO GET DATES NOW THAT I HAVE A CAR."

Major Barbara Play A Mixed Pleasure

By Barbara Downen
"Major Barbara" was at first entertaining and delightful, but after an hour, Shaw became a little boring and hard to digest.

The student actors and actresses in George B. Shaw's unconvincing approach to morality production made the play easier to accept.

Becky Burroughs, veteran of "Lady in the Dark," performed traditionally... expressive and energetic in her role of Major Barbara.

Barrett's Dorm this year recently elected officers. Marilyn Krescigh will be elected as president of the group, with Marge Offmings as vice-president.

Other officers are Marilyn Greenwood, secretary; Joyce Davis, treasurer; Kay Kias, social chairman; Sue Quick and Linda Hartley, public relations; and Connie Tampa, W.A. representative.

Plans Invasion For Michigan Game Saturday

Buses of SIU students will leave between 8-10 p.m. Friday, arriving at Mt. Pleasant, Mich., one hour before game time Saturday for an "invasion" on Central Michigan.

Students should sign up for the "surprise invasion" of Central Michigan in the lobby of Wheeler Hall.

The invasion is being largely spearheaded by Col. MacMillan, an avid supporter of the team. The buses have been made available to students at the reduced price through the Office of Student Affairs and the Spirit Council.

MacMillan, who canceled an engagement at Scott Air Force Base in order to make the trip, feels that team backing may be the difference in the game.

"This trip is for the students and the supporters of SIU, so let's go and show them what kind of a school we represent," MacMillan said.

"It's high time to prove our belief in Southern - yes, even in the sports side of our great and growing university!"

MacMillan assured that the buses will have reclining seats and that adequate rest-stops have been scheduled.

When signing up for the trip in Wheeler Hall, students will be given the exact time and place of departure. In addition, the time will be posted at the Student Union and on campus bulletin boards.

The buses are scheduled to arrive back in Carbondale Sunday morning. Students should plan to bring $60 to obtain a special rate ticket for the game. AFROTC cadets should bring $75.

Several Meetings Planned Club Notes
