ELABORATE PLANS FOR HOMECOMING NEAR COMPLETION

SCHEDULE FOR NOVEMBER 19 SHOWS ENLARGEMENT OF ACTIVITIES

From reports made by the Homecoming committee, arrangements for the activities for November 18 and 19 are well under way. The schedule as it has been drawn up shows an extensive elaboration of all previous Homecoming programs and gives every indication of producing the finest Homecoming season S. I. T. C. has had.

The plan for Saturday, November 19, will be: 9:30, Class reunions; 10:30, Anthony Hall and Literary societies; 11:00, Reception at Anthony Hall; 12:00, Band contest; 2:00, parade; 2:30, game.

The committee has made a special effort to conduct reunions of every class that has been graduated from S. I. T. C. since it has been permitted to give the degree. Specific meeting places will be designated later.

At 10:30, the Literary societies and Anthony Hall will hold their reunions. The societies, of course, have followed this custom for years, but the idea is a new one with the dormitory. It will be part of Anthony Hall's celebration of its twentieth anniversary. From 11:00 to 12:00 o'clock, there will be a reception at the hall, open to every one in honor of President Shryock, who has completed 20 years as president of this college.

At noon, the bands of high schools in southern Illinois will compete in (Continued on Page Six)

Carbondale Chamber of Commerce To Aid With Homecoming

The Carbondale Junior Chamber of Commerce, which includes the leading young business and professional men of the city, has appointed a committee to work with the College Homecoming committee in completing arrangements for the annual Homecoming, November 18 and 19. This year, the business men are not staging their annual Hallowe'en celebration, but are concentrating their efforts and finances on the college Homecoming.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce committee is made up of Mr. Vernon Patterson, chairman; Dr. C. M. Brooks, Mr. Carl Sorgen, Mr. Louis Furst, and Mr. Leo Houglane. Of these five, Mr. Patterson, Dr. Brooks and Mr. Sorgen graduated from Southern. During the past week, these men have been attempting to raise donations among the business houses down town to pay for the town decorating, the advertising and the prizes to be awarded the winners of the High school band contest.

Journalists Plan First School Prom Of Autumn Season

A dance to be held at the Elks' Home Friday night after the McKendree game will be the initial contribution of the Egyptian staff to the social activities of S. I. T. C. The event is a part of the editor's program to develop friendly relations among staff members and to erase the deficit facing the business staff.

In appointment, the dance promises to be one of the most attractive affairs of the season. The programs will be unique in form, indicating appropriately the primary interests of the sponsors: An orchestra, Elery Elmore's, from Murphysboro has been engaged to play for the evening. In short, Elma Trieb (4) and Ray Heitman (4), executives of the Egyptian, have concluded all arrangements that insure a successful prom.

According to the rules governing social activities, only students enrolled in the college, alumni, and faculty members will be allowed to attend. In this case, however, an invitation is extended to the students of McKendree who will be visiting here. Chaperons will be Dean and Mrs. G. D. Wham, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Abbott, Miss Esther Power, and Dr. R. L. Beyer.

Esther M. Power Receives M. A. From Oxford University

On October 13, Oxford university conferred upon Miss Esther M. Power, the English department, the M.-A. degree in absentia. This degree is awarded to graduates of Oxford university after a period of 21 terms from the date of matriculation, and then only to those who have "kept their names on the books" by paying annual university and college dues.

Miss Power matriculated at Oxford in October of 1925. She finished in 1927 and received her B. A. shortly thereafter. Prior to receiving this first degree, Miss Power completed written and oral examinations covering nine different periods in phases of English literature and the history of the language.

In addition to being the only instructor in Southern Illinois Teachers' college to hold degrees from a foreign university, Miss Power is probably one of the eight or ten women in the entire United States to hold the M. A. degree from Oxford university.

Miss Power also holds a B. A. from Colby college, Maine, and an M. A. from Columbia university, New York.

BEYER ALSO ON COUNCIL

Last week, the name of Dr. Richard L. Beyer, head of the History department, was unintentionally omitted from the list of faculty members who are serving on the school council this year. Dr. Beyer was also a member of the council last year.

PRACTICE WORK TO BE CARRIED ON IN CARTERVILLE H. S.

PLAN WILL GO INTO EFFECT WITH THE WINTER TERM

At the Normal Board meetings held on this campus on October 10, the members of the Board unanimously gave President Shryock authority to make arrangements for carrying on practice teaching in the high school at Carterville, Illinois. This addition to the high school practice has been made necessary by the rapid and steady development of the senior college enrollment—an increase which has demanded additional opportunities for high school practice. It is interesting to notice that up to two years ago, the Southern Illinois Teachers' college had never conferred more than 94 degrees in any one year. In June, 1932, however, 152 students received their B. Ed. degrees.

Every member of the Carterville High school faculty is a teacher training graduate. In a report made by Dr. Bruce W. Merwin, supervisor of student teaching, to President Shryock, the following paragraph is quoted:

"All of the Carterville High school teachers are prepared to carry on the work of supervising student-teachers. None has less than three years of high school teaching experience. All have taken their undergraduate work in this institution one holds an A. M. degree, two have completed two-thirds of the work required for that degree, and three others have taken from six to 18 weeks of college work since graduating here."

This addition in the practice teaching at Carterville will be effective with the winter term. Dr. Merwin has been arranging a plan whereby transportation for the practice teachers will be taken care of by Carterville cabs. Details of the plan will be published by the Egyptian as they are completed.

Miss Lulu Roach To Supervise Art Work For Homecoming

Miss Lulu D. Roach of the Art department, is supervising the art work which will be used in the hangings of the Homecoming play, November 18. Since there is no class in stagecraft this term, Miss Roach has arranged for her classes in commercial art to take over the work of designing and executing the art work for the stage.

Miss Julia Jonah, dramatic coach, who is directing the skits to be presented in the Homecoming entertainment, has stated that there will be two acts with four stunts in each act. It is thought that there will be, accordingly, eight changes in the stage hangings—all of which will necessitate a great deal of work.

Twenty Juniors, Seniors Eligible For Unlimited Cuts

Twenty students, eight juniors and 12 seniors have been reported as having had an average of 4.0 or better during the last term they were enrolled, either the spring term or one of the summer sessions, and therefore, these students are allowed unlimited cuts from their classes during the fall term. This privilege is allowed by the cut system formulated by the School Council last year, and which has proved to be workable and satisfactory.

The list is comparatively short, inasmuch as the students themselves reported their grades, which were checked by the registrar before the name was added to the list. Because of an unusually heavy load of work, the employees in the business office have found it impossible to check over all the seniors and juniors in order to compile the list of those eligible for unlimited cuts, but it is a matter of a few minutes to verify the grades when reported by the students themselves.

The list, up to date, follows:

Edward Curtis, Carbondale.

Forum Includes Parliamentary Drill With Each Meeting

Extemporaneous speaking will be the feature of the evening at the next meeting of the Forum Debating club. The subject for a talk will be handed to each speaker just as he walks on the stage. Last year the extemporaneous speaking contest was won by Guy Williams, a veteran in the club, but this year there are a number of freshmen who, it is expected, will give the old members some keen competition. Every member will have a chance to display his talents in the contest.

At the last meeting, a debate was presented on the subject, "Resolved: That Compulsory Chapel Should Be Abolished." Two freshmen, Marvin Ballance and Donald Brummet, argued the question. Mr. Ballance, for the affirmative side, pointed out that the cost of chapel exercises during the last 20 years had been nearly one million dollars. Mr. Brummet described the aesthetic values of chapel to the students. When the votes were counted, the judges declared that the affirmative had won by a slight majority.

Parliamentary drill is now a regular part of each meeting of the Forum. The club is increasing rapidly in membership and it expects to reach the quota of 25 members within the next few meetings.

CONTRACT FOR ENGRAVING IS LET BY OBELISK

MARGARET HILL, EDITOR, SAYS THAT DUMMY IS NOW COMPLETE

According to Margaret Hill (3), and Edward Curtis (3), editor and business manager of the Obelisk, the engraving contract with the Indianapolis Engraving company was let during the past week. Mr. Joseph Todd, the representative who acted for the Indianapolis Engraving company, has been according the two Obelisk executives exceptionally good service. He stayed on the campus for a short time following the completion of final arrangements in order to give advice and be generally helpful.

Miss Hill has stated that the dummy has been completed down to the most remote detail. She declined to say anything further concerning the arrangement.

"The book this year will be smaller than the one of last year, but it will be more compact," remarked Miss Hill. "It is patterned after the annuals of big universities and colleges and the outstanding feature of the 1932 Obelisk will be novelty."

Up to the present time, the campus organizations have shown a great deal of cooperation with the Obelisk staff in being prompt in having their group pictures made. Elsie Strothman (3), organization editor, has announced several revisions and additions to the picture schedule that was published a few weeks ago. Miss Strothman has requested that individual pictures be made before December. (Continued on page 6)

Mu Tau Pi Pledges Four Journalists At Regular Meet

Ed Curtis (3), Guy Lambert (4), Frances Matthews (4), and Mary Ellen Woods (1) were formally pledged to Mu Tau Pi at a meeting held last Wednesday. Each of these students is prominent in the journalistic groups of the college—Mr. Curtis, business manager of the Obelisk; Mr. Lambert, sports editor of the Egyptian; Miss Matthews, a veteran reporter for the paper, and Miss Woods, society editor of the Egyptian—and each has merited election to the honorary fraternity. Formal induction will not take place for three weeks.

A business meeting followed the pledging ceremony, at which the group discussed plans for its alumni breakfast which will be given during the Homecoming season. The availability of certain lecturers was brought up, and arrangements for sponsoring a public address in mid-winter were tentatively made.

Miss Esther Power will entertain Mu Tau Pi at tea at her apartment this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Members of French Club Elect Jane Warren President

The election of officers was the principal feature of the French Club meeting last Monday, and the following members were chosen to fill the executive positions:

Jane Warren (4), president; Maurie Taylor (2), vice-president; Edith Hails (4), secretary-treasurer. Miss Warren, the new president, is a senior and has been well known throughout her college career as a brilliant student. She has the honor of being the first woman student to be elected head of the French Club.

After the election, Mr. J. Carey Davis gave an interesting talk on his trip to Europe last summer. In an informal, conversational style, he described his impressions of Paris, Switzerland and Rome. The talk was given mostly in English for the benefit of the beginning students. A large number attended the first meeting and were invited to become permanent members of the club. The meetings will be held once each month throughout the school year.

Delta Sigma Epsilon

A comparatively large number of Delta Sigs, both pledges and actives, attended the annual Homecoming at the University of Illinois last weekend. Among those who were in Champaign were: Gertrude Clark (3), Evelyn Hodge (4), May Eleanor Helm (4), Virginia Chapman (3), Mildred Dudley (2), Helen Thompson (1), and Margaret Reynolds, alumnae.

Arrangements for the annual fall dance, to be held October 22 at the Chapter house, have been practically completed, according to Helen Dollins (3), chairman of the dance committee. The dance will be semi-formal, and Paul McRoy's orchestra will furnish the music. Frances Phillips (3), chairman of decoration, has not as yet announced any definite scheme to be carried out.

Rita Braun (2), and Margaret Hueckel (1), spent the week-end at their homes in Belleville.

Margaret Reynolds of Vienna, former student of S. I. T. C., and a member of Delta Sigma Epsilon, visited the Chapter house last week. Miss Reynolds, who was formerly employed at C. I. P. S. in Vienna, will enroll at Southern in the winter.

Alpha Delta observed the Founders' day of Delta Sigma Epsilon last Wednesday night with a formal dinner at the Chapter house. Betty Dill (2), was chairman of the committee that arranged the dinner.

Decorations were carried out in the colors of the sorority, green and cream, and bowls of cream tea roses, the sorority flower, were placed on each table.

Evelyn Hodge (4), served as toast-mistress, while Rhoda Mae Baker (3)

KAY FOX

Miss Kay Fox entertained the following guests at dinner Sunday, October 16, 1932 at the Halliday House in Cairo, Illinois: Miss Power, Miss Krause, Miss Jonah, Miss Barbour, Dr. Peacock, Miss Carpenter, Miss Shank, Dr. and Mrs. Cramer, Dr. and Mrs. Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Fox, Mr. Faner, Dr. Purdy, Dr. Beyer, Mr. DiGiovanna, Mr. Neely, Mr. Nolen and Mr. Callaway Allen.

Dr. Kellogg and Miss Van Trump spent Saturday shopping in St. Louis, Missouri.

Miss Williams will talk to the Science Club today on "The Essence of the Machine Age," as shown in the World's Fair Buildings in Chicago.

Mr. Nolen lectured at the Gallatin County Teachers' Institute held at Shawneetown last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 12, 13 and 14.

Miss Stein and Miss Jonah spent last week-end in St. Louis, Missouri.

Miss Scott visited her mother in Chicago, Illinois, Saturday and Sunday.

Among those enjoying the functions of the University of Illinois Homecoming were Mr. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Boomer and family.

A. O. REED VISITS CISNE
Mr. A. O. Reed, '22, a teacher of mathematics in the Oblong High school, was the guest of Mr. W. G. Cisne, principal of Brush school, last week-end.

and Betty McClhatan (1) gave short responses.

Florence Young, who teaches in the public schools of Dupo, visited at the Chapter house last week-end. Miss Young was enrolled at S. I. T. C. two years ago.

Helen Dollins (3) spent the week-end at her home in Benton.

Lena von Hoorebeck (2), of Sesser, spent the week-end at her home.

Betty McClhatan (1), spent the week-end at her home in DuQuoin.

Ardell Smallenberg (1), of Dupo, spent the week-end at her home.

Maureen Webb (4), spent the week-end at her home in West Frankfort.

Chamber of Commerce Features Movie Reels at Thursday Meeting

Motion picture reels of both entertaining and educational subjects were shown at the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Thursday night in the Socratic Hall. The pictures, which were shown through the courtesy of Mr. Ralph Hamilton, included views of the 1931 Homecoming and also of the New York Stock Exchange. The rest of the program included group singing, a talk by Francis Blankenship (3) on "Overhead or 'Burden,'" a piano solo by Gene Whitney, a marionette exhibition by Marian Allen (3), and a violin solo by Wendell Odey (1). Kathryn Cavelia, secretary to President Shryock, gave a demonstration of stenographic speed and accuracy by taking dictation from Mr. Bryant.

More students are urged to attend the Chamber of Commerce. The meetings are held every other Thursday evening at 7:30, in the Socratic Hall.

Fierke Receives Appointment
Word has been received of the appointment of Schwering Fierke, '32, to a graduate assistantship in the Chemistry department at the University of Illinois. Mr. Fierke has been accorded a distinct honor in that he was the only graduate student aside from the graduates of the University of Illinois to receive such an appointment.

Graduates Open Barber Shop
Francis Loudon and Harry Canada, who received their degrees in Hume, have opened a barber shop next to the University cafe.

Beginning December 1, 1932, no applicant will be appointed to a teaching position in the public schools of Denver, Colorado, who does not hold the bachelor of arts degree or its equivalent. The only exception will be teachers of trades.

GOOD NIGHT, NURSE

Supper came, looking like a deformed and Hippituanized descendant of dinner. This meal bore the silent message that the authorities were so afraid the patients couldn't sleep well on a full stomach; those of us who were forced to sleep on our backs were duly resentful.

The white-haired room-mate was really a character. He had a trapeze adjusted overhead so that he could help move himself; when visitors came he would do tricks on it, such as raising himself up with one hand. During the progress of his palsied acrobatics he would keep a weather eye out for any expression of admiration. Invariably the visitor complimented him on his agility, whereupon he would launch himself upon a long complaint, enumerating his ills, had kidneys, weak heart, terrible liver, unvented spleen (his daily organ recital). He could never remember the names of the nurses; upon being asked what some nurse's name was, I was obliged to shout the answer into his deaf ears so loudly that the nurse would come scurrying from the far end of the corridor to see if I'd rolled out of bed or fallen victim to an acute attack of ants.

One day while the old gentleman was asleep his daughter came to see him. He pulled himself upon the trapeze, peered at her with his sleep-dimmed eyes and queried "Is it the nurse."

His bedside was the brightest spot in my hospital stay. There was a little auburn-haired nurse, who, in order to calm his incessant nagging would always break right down and treat it. Hers was an artistic touch. Having duly dabbled the sore, she would give way to her artistic temperament and do a sunset over the left kidney, then a bit of ocean and the sail of a ship riding safely at anchor over the left kidney, which, fortunately, was a floater. At last, with a few final, mad dashes of the applicator she would depart, leaving a flock of mercurochrome sea gulls having a big time in the small of his back.

Sigma Sigma Sigma
National Officer Visits Chapter

Mrs. Mabel Leonard, national organizer of Sigma Sigma Sigma, was the guest of Alpha Nu chapter last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. During her visit she inspected the work and progress of the chapter since its installation September 3, 1931 and criticized each phase of the sorority work.

On Friday, Mrs. Leonard visited the college and on Friday afternoon, according to the standards of Association of Educational Sororities, she conducted a Panhellenic meeting which is composed of representatives from both Delta Sigma Epsilon and Sigma Sigma Sigma, the sororities on this campus that are members of the A. E. S. group.

Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock, the Tri Sig girls were hostesses at an informal tea in honor of their guest, Mrs. Mabel Leonard of Columbus, Ohio.

Maudlin Melody

My picture having been printed under a former title of a former column, and it being such an exact likeness as to spoil everything, it is deemed wise to start anew in a new guise and avoid such rays of the spotlight as have heretofore fallen in my direction.

Your loving ex-columnist,
IVAN.

There will be a short pause for station announcements.

Our next speaker will be Georges Leblanc, which may be illiterally translated to the English as George, the Blank. He will speak to you on subjects which concern nobody and which may therefore interest you very much. . . . Mr. Leblanc.

It is with great hesitation that I begin, ladies and gentlemen. Why not? What would you do?

It has been called to our attention in the late days that some of the athletes from High school are still wearing their High school letters on their High school sweaters. We don't mind the sweaters, but we do mind the letters. Take them off.

There used to be a rule against it, and since no laws are ever taken away, but ever are new ones added, this rule must still be in effect. Now mind, we didn't go around looking for these letters either, we just saw 'em.

We often wonder about the girls. We wonder about the lives of these foolish virgins who, it is said, are temporarily suspended from their classes until investigations can be made. If some of our college publications could carry the inside story we might have a well-read issue for once. Even a feature writer doesn't dare to say much about it.

Which is all in line with keeping up the good name of the school, and must be endured.

More dances, more dances, and more dances.

Since it is among the few rulings of the school that events such as dances cannot be given very often during the year by the same sorority society, class, phylum, sub-phylum, or what have you, it is a windfall for the private enterprisers of the community, who, it is said, are cashing in.

If the aforesaid ruling should be removed, the different groups of the school might make the coin instead of someone else. Which might be an advantage, or might not. Why not let the new student council try its hand on that riddle?

Chapel Notes

Mr. W. T. Felts, head of the mathematics department, asked that all those who have copies of the Method Arithmetic text to sell, should bring these books to the Book Exchange in Dean Woody's office. The classes in arithmetic can conveniently use additional books.

In the absence of Mr. David McIntosh last Thursday, Miss Julia Chastaine led the orchestra. Mr. McIntosh was in Murphysboro assisting at a teachers' institute.

A program of music that surpassed any previously presented this term was played last week when the orchestra performed in the Andante Cantabile from Tchaikowsky's String Quartette, Opus II and Saint-Saens' Marche Militaire Francaise from the Suite Algerienne. The first number, played of course, by the string section, was interpreted with the brooding pathos that is near the monotonous and yet successfully avoids it in all of Tchaikowsky. The French march, so opposite in its nature, was given an equally splendid rendition. Saint-Saens made the selection colorful, above all, and he has given it a remarkable strength.

Nolen Addresses
Members of Y.M.C.A.

Mr. R. M. Nolen of the Economics department addressed the members of the Y. M. C. A. at their last meeting on the subject of "Socialism." Mr. Nolen traced very efficiently and interestingly the origin and growth of Socialism through the three phases of the world's history (ancient, medieval and modern), and in a non-partisan manner, discussed the knowledge that an open minded college student might obtain from a careful study of the aims and standards of the different political parties.

Membership in the Y. M. C. A. seems to be increasing with each successive meeting. The program committee has arranged for many good lectures and assorted programs for the college year, and at present is contemplating on meeting all the former Y. M. members at Homecoming this fall.

Before the football games are over we suggest that our drum major learn how to whirl his baton, throw it over the goal posts, catch it again on the other side, then lead on with a flourish or two to show he hasn't dropped it. That would be magnificent. We never thought of it, of course, until the drum major of a rival school came over and showed how it was done.

But now that we've seen it, we want it. Bad.

The above is little or nothing of course, but as Betty the Bridesmaid says, "It takes a lot of trouble to change a name."

AN OPINION ON AN

In this letter we have an opinion on opinion. The writer is, of course, referring to the column that dealt with the question: Shall the football admission charge be lowered?

"Perhaps the individual who gathered the campus opinion on the subject of reducing football admissions thought the comments were as vigorous in opposition to the scheme as those in favor of it, but the evidence produced to show the fact was far from convincing. The two persons interviewed opposing the scheme were the two persons one would expect to be in opposition. With due respect to them both, one could no more expect the coach to desire to decrease the income of his department any more than one would expect a wife to ask her husband for a decrease in her household budget.

Neither of the two things is done. Again the business manager of the fund would not be expected to favor a decrease in funds. His salary is paid out of the income of the fund. When opinion is to be convincing it must come from those who oppose for reasons other than those. Perhaps the protests were as vigorous on one side as on the other, but we demand more representative protestors.

Sincerely,
DICK COOPER (4).

The Coe College Military band of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will be one of the three or four colleges and university bands to play at the World's Fair in Chicago next summer.

Exchange

Plans for a division of the Nineteen Conference have been announced by Fred S. Young, Big Ten football official, and Fred Muhl, faculty representative of Illinois Wesleyan university. These plans will be presented at the Little Nineteen meeting in December. The suggested division follows: Northern-Wheaton, DeKalb; North Central, St. Viator, Lake Forest, Elmhurst; Central-Illinois Wesleyan, State Normal, Bradley, Milikin, Eureka; Western-Knox, Macomb, Augustana, Carthage, Monmouth; Southern-Carbondale Normal, Illinois College, Shurtleff, McKendree, Charleston Normal.

All publications, the theatre and sports are included in a revised schedule of activity fees at Knox college.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT, PLEASE

The traffic congestion on Times Square in New York is mild compared with the daily between-class rush on the stairs at the northern end of the second floor, Main building. Students file slowly down the stairs, two and three abreast from the third floor, while impatient people stand below stamping, swearing and fuming because the line moves so slowly and the width of the staircase permits only a single file to mount to the third floor.

Perhaps this impatience is justified, but when one considers the fact that there is a staircase at the southern extremity leading to the third floor, and that these stairs are used but little—is there really any cause for complaint about the confusion in the northern part of the building?

SIT DOWN!

A football game on the local gridiron wouldn't be a football game without the accompanying cries of "Down in front," "Down in front," "Hey sit down!" We have come to the point where we may need to use some drastic measure to emphasize our pleas. Seriously, this standing directly in front of the spectators who are seated in the bleachers is becoming a most annoying feature of watching the game. Since our field and bleachers are arranged as they are, it is a neck-breaking feat to see all the details of the game comfortably. Strangely enough, bulky forms popping up in odd moments do not add to the happiness of the spectators.

Don't misunderstand! Of course, there are times when undue excitement cannot be controlled, and the enthusiasm is manifested by shouting, hopping, back-slapping, squeals and all manner of primitive sounds.

Should you feel, however, that you couldn't possibly remain seated throughout the entire game, do the obvious thing—stand near the railing where you may hop about without making any enemies.

LET'S GO TO THE "EGYPTIAN" DANCE

After the football game with McKendree on the evening of October 21, the Egyptian will sponsor its first dance. The event comes as the first college prom of the year and gives every indication of being thoroughly enjoyable. All students enrolled in the college and all alumni are eligible for admittance, and the Egyptian staff especially wishes to invite those students from Cape Girardeau who are visiting in Carbondale.

An insight into the financial status of the Egyptian should satisfy anyone that the dance will be worthy. Prior to the subsidization of the paper, the management found it necessary to charge fifty cents a term to a student. However, when the School Council decided to include a fee for subscription in the general assessment, the price was cut fifty per cent. In 1931 the deficit was only $33, an amount easily made up by contribution from the athletic fund. But in 1932, because of the utter dearth of advertising, the debt amounted to $242. Since the athletic department also suffered unusual expenses, some scheme other than contribution from the athletic fund must be employed. In order to diminish this deficit the Egyptian will give the dance.

Students hardly need to be reminded of the part the paper plays in our school life. Upperclassmen recognize it as a valuable source of training for those who publish it, and even freshmen realize that it is a vital organ for the announcement and review of college activities. May we invite you to the Egyptian dance?

SAPIENT ADVICE TO

SILENT SUFFERERS

Dear Sphinx:
Maybe you can do something about it. I mean about this having to write a theme every week. Now I think I have reasonable intelligence and a reasonable willingness to work, but I object very heartily to a theme's continually hanging over my head. If it isn't to write, it's to be corrected. Always something. One week it's Registration Day, next it's Your New Home, next it's Something You Don't Like To Do, and next it's Describe a Beautiful Place, and so on. And if you have a comma fault, you get an E. I'm tired of it. So if you rate—as you claim you do—please get this weekly theme habit out of the teach-

What Do You Think?

The innovation of numbers to indicate students' classification was given the reception that all novelties are subject to. Before the readers went to the fourth page (on which there was an editorial of explanation), their curiosity had become annoyance. The objections heard everywhere bear repetition, for they reflect the cause of the student's disapproval, whether it be mental laziness in getting used to the system or reluctance at having his meager achievements thus broadcast.

Seniors Are Confused

Mary Hood (4) and Zella Crowder (4) collaborated in their statement and submitted this as their joint effort: "What are all these numbers? In the Girls' Glee Club article they might designate soprano, alto, tenor and bass parts but that is a physiological impossibility. Could news articles have footnotes? Can't find any. Maybe they mean Anthony Hall or sorority table numbers. No, here is an editorial that explains all. They say they are classification numbers to go into, effect next week! And they are to 'avoid confusion'! Well, I don't like 'em! Why don't they put the student's home town instead so I can ask him if he knows somebody who knows somebody I know? Or if they must number students why not number faculty members? I'd like to see how long some of them have been here."

Some Favor System

Evelyn Hodge (4) has given the plan her support, because she believes it will assist the reader. "It is rather confusing when you don't know about it, but when you become accustomed to it I'm sure it will be helpful. It's all right."

Ella Mae Hallagan (4) remarked that the plan was a good one, and then explained it carefully to her escort, who had said, "Well, I'd like to know what the numbers mean."

Floyd Smith (2) tinged his approval with a little cynicism. "It's a good idea, if I ever get beyond the (1)."

Hill Rejects Plan

"The numbers clutter up the page for me," said Curtis Hill (4), "and make the reading confusing. The whole page seems like a mess of names and numbers."

Virginia Sutton (3) presented a distinctly unique view in her comment. "It embarrasses some people, but I like it. It gives the upperclassmen a distinction, and lets the ers' heads.

Sincerely,
Allene McCue.

Dear Allene:
As I mentioned above, I've been on this S. I. N. U. campus some forty years, and this weekly theme habit has been an affliction all that time. Therefore and as which, I hardly see how we are going to be able to "change horses in the middle of the stream". Meaning by that, I don't believe, powerful as I am, that I can do anything about it. Besides, Allene, you'll learn as you grow older,—oh yes, you'll learn,— that there are very many things which are very much worse than,— I. e. Chemistry, Health Education, Geography, Practice; also seventh hour classes and dates you can't break.

So just you take a sage bit of advice and knuckle down to those themes. The patience they'll teach you through suffering will stand you in good stead and make you an older and a wiser woman.

The Southern Teachers were held to a 0-0 tie last Saturday by the powerful De Kalb eleven at the latter's annual Homecoming game held on Glidden Field at De Kalb.

Acting Captain Wimberly won the toss and elected to defend the south goal with a strong wind to his back. De Kalb kicked off. Carbondale made five yards through the line in two tries and was forced to punt. The Maroons charged through the line and brought the ball carrier down for a five-yard loss. The initial first down came as Wimberly, Smith and Bertoni pounded the line for successive gains. On the next play a pass—Holder to Bertoni, netted the Maroons 22 yards. Wimberly fumbled and a Northerner fell on the ball. After an even exchange of punts Nori ripped through the line for 18 yards and the Upstaters' initial first and ten. After failing at the line, De Kalb punted to the Ma-

The Elk's Home will be the scene of the first school dance of the year—THE "EGYPTIAN" DANCE—after the McKendree game.

Nosey Notes

Just Another Deadlock!
The DeKalb teachers kept their promise of last year not to be outdone by Southern and furnished dates for the Maroons from Williston Hall and otherwise—mostly otherwise if possible.

"Little Hippie" took to the sidelines.

The Southerners were admitted free to the Homecoming dance which was held on the campus in the men's gym.

"Little Boy" Gray got the lucky break at the hall, but others got their dates down town.

We wonder if Lila Saari would like to come to our college?

The "Great" Red Face lost almost as much yardage as he gained.

"Gene" Bricker, former track and football star here, is playing tackle with Washington university of St. Louis.

"Abe" Martin says that the Chicago Cardinals have been cut to the limit and that he is still with them. We're rooting for you, Abe.

We wonder, or do we, why Jimmie Feirich monopolized the back seat.

Tripp was slightly injured at the DeKalb's Homecoming—he fell over a wire fence trying to beat the other boys to the girls' dorm.

Excellent Brand of Tennis Exhibited In Matches Last Week

Of the 45 girls to enter the fall tennis tournament being sponsored by the Women's Athletic association, six doubles teams and 11 singles players were left in competition early this week. The tournament will reach the semi-finals by the end of this week and the finals will be played early next week.

The tournament is being held for the purpose of stimulating interest in tennis and in the girls' tennis team which will be selected in the spring. Many of the matches—even in the first and second rounds of the tournament—have been hard-fought and interesting. The W. A. A. is greatly pleased with the brand of tennis being exhibited by the girls, as it shows promise of excellent material from which to pick the tennis teams in the spring. It is hoped that several inter-collegiate matches can be arranged for these teams, and they will probably attend the Womens' tournament at Millikin to defend the doubles championship won there last year.

Singles Matches

In the matches which have been played so far in singles:
M. Werkmeister defeated L. Wilson, 6-0, 6-1; Ohm defeated Phillips, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3; Hauss beat Miller, 6-1, 6-1; Jones defeated Pullen, 6-2, 3-6, 8-6; Bowie defeated N. Wilson, 6-1, 6-0; Taylor defeated Hagler, 6-0, 6-1; Keller defeated Wiswell, 8-6, 7-5; and Conte defeated Jones, 6-1, 6-0.

Doubles Matches

Bricker-Phillips were defeated by Loudon-Pullen, 6-0, 6-3; Schroeder-Klausen defeated Hagler-Richards, 6-3, 6-3; Haun-Kugler defeated Zerwick-MacMackin, 6-2, 6-3; Loudon-Pullen took out Oehm-Brown 6-4, 6-1; and Taylor-Wiswell defeated Haun-Kugler, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

MAROONS GET IN TRIM FOR BATTLE WITH MCKENDREE

GAME FRIDAY PROMISES TO BE ONE OF THE YEAR'S BEST BATTLE

The McKendree Bearcats will invade the local gridiron Friday night for the express purpose of clawing the Maroons up if possible. McKendree has not won over a Maroon squad for the last few seasons, but it has an imposing record thus far this year, having won over Cape Girardeau and Washington university. Todd got away for an 89-yard run and a touchdown in the Washington game, while Bradham ran back a kickoff for a touchdown against Cape Girardeau. Bradham is a former student of S. I. T. C., and played halfback for the Maroons his freshman year. "Brad" runs and blocking ability distinguished him as an exceptional football player. McKendree, center, is over six feet tall and rated as one of the best pivot men in the conference.

Maroons Defeat McKendree, 1931

The Maroons barely eked out a 7-0 decision over the Bearcats last season and are hoping for a victory this year. The Maroons were blocking better and tackling lower in the game Saturday than formerly. They are going through strenuous workouts, running new plays, and shifting men this week, hoping to hit upon the right plays and combinations for a victory over the Lebanon eleven.

Thurman received an injured knee in the De Kalb game that probably will keep him out of the game Friday. If it is such that Thurman is benched, Tripp of West Frankfort will fill his position.

Probable lineup for Carbondale:

Moorman and Wilson, ends; Brown and Morawski, tackles; Tripp and Wiggins or Reeves, guards; O'Malley, center; Holder, Bertoni, Smith and Wimberly, backfield.

rooms' 40-yard line. The Southern Teachers started a march up the field by a succession of passes—Holder to Smith, Bertoni to Wilson and Wimberly to Holder, along with line thrusts, took the ball 40 yards to De Kalb's 20-yard marker. The Black and Gold held and the Maroons lost the ball on downs. De Kalb failed to gain and punted. Carbondale's plays were working nearly every time. After Holder gathered up 18 yards through right tackle, Wimberly hit right guard for nine yards.

"Red" Pace couldn't get started and was replaced by Brown.

The half ended as the Maroons were trying to score via the aerial route.

Thurman Injured

De Kalb again kicked off and Devor, twisting and turning, returned the ball 35 yards. A pass, Lenich to Smith, and a line plunge netted 16 yards, but Reeve's pass was intercepted. After failure at line, Lenich got off the prettiest punt of the day, the ball took a long hop and rolled 65 yards. Hunter was sent in for Thurman, who received a knee injury.

Minnegan, a Northern sub, began to rip through Carbondale's line at will. Twice in the last quarter De Kalb was within the Maroons' 15-yard stripe, but couldn't push the Maroons aside for the counter.

A lucky kick by the Northern Teachers put Southern in the hole, on the six-inch line, but Brown kicked out. Just before the close of the melee the Maroons started a mad rush down the field. A series of completed passes, an 18-yard run by Wimberly, and a 25-yard gain by Holder placed the ball on the De Kalb 30-yard line as the game closed.

Maroons Lose Eight Yards

The aerial attack used by Southern in the first half was successful in carrying the ball to within scoring position, but the Maroons failed to muster enough punch to put the ball over. De Kalb gained 23 yards the first half and lost 25. Carbondale gained 140 yards the first half and lost but eight in the entire game. De Kalb was successful in stopping the Southern Teachers in the last half and out-gained them in scrimmage.

Wimberly's line thrusts and Holder's end runs gained ground for the Maroons throughout the game. The Teachers seem to have improved in their blocking and tackling ability.

The Maroons had the decided advantage over the Northerners the first half, but let up in the second half to let the Upstaters out-gain them from scrimmage.

EXCELLENT BRAND OF TENNIS SHOWN IN RECENT MATCHES

The traditional parade, in which any individuals or group may participate, will leave down town at 2:00 o'clock for the campus. There will be six prizes for these stunts, to be awarded by the college. All high school bands entered in the competition will march in the parade.

At 2:30 o'clock, the Maroons will play their only afternoon game of the season, having as their opponents the team from Eastern Illinois State Teachers' college at Charleston.

Cramer's Cats Going Into Training For Initial Match Game

The well-known bowling team, Cramer's Cats, including some faculty members of S. I. T. C., is out to maintain the high standards of the previous year. The fighting, spitting and hard-rolling members of Dr. C. H. Cramer's team are all in good shape for the strenuous season ahead of them.

Dr. Charles Tenny, Mr. Wendell Margrave, Dr. Richard L. Beyer, Dr. Willis Schwarz, Dr. J. R. Purdy and Dr. C. H. Cramer are the scrapping members of the "Cats." If these well-known faculty members are a little grouchy these days, don't take it to heart for they are going through daily workouts in the gym.

They are living up to the following training rules: no pie or cake, no soda water, no tobacco, and believe it or not, be in bed at 9:30 p. m. They are eagerly pawing the ground waiting for the opening contest, and they state that they have never felt better in their lives.
