YOUR CHOICE --- FOR THE BALLOT

Moreland 'Bends down, Looks Up' To Spot Tickets

Forrest Moreland, "Bent down and looked up" last Thursday to discover the two free concert tickets fastened with scotch tape to the bottom of the Egyptian boxes in the cross halls of Old Main.

Moreland, junior from Grand Chain, said the three clues, "I'm looking for the person who doesn't read the Egyptian," "bend down and look up," and "My homecoming formal is patched with scotch tape" led him directly to the tickets shortly after the Egyptian appeared in the crosshalls.

Others, however, didn't fare quite as well as they searched everywhere from the cannon to a formally dressed dummy in the university museum. The Egyptian office and the formal of Mary Alice Newsum, Egyptian editor, were two popular guesses as both the Egyptian office phone and her home phone rang constantly Thursday afternoon and night.

Dress Shop Dummy

Yet other students pictured the tickets as being under the formal of the dummy displayed in Kay's window in downtown Carbondale. What convinced these students even more was the presence of some scotch tape on the hand of one of the models.

Two wild guesses were the telescope which the university set up for moon gazing Thursday night, and the 75th Anniversary arch over the entrance to the University.

This was the second concert of free tickets to the Freddy Martin concert Saturday night, Oct. 22. Again this week three more clues will lead students to the hidden concert tickets.

Finder of the tickets this week is asked to notify Betty McKewen, telephone 494, as soon as they discover the slip of paper entitling them to the tickets. Students are asked to remember that the tickets are hidden on campus.

Next week's clues will offer as prize a free ticket to the Homecoming dance to be held Saturday night following the concert. This ticket will allow two people to be admitted to the dance free.

Finest 'Messiah' Choir Yet, Said Kesnar, Monday

"I can honestly say that this is the best choir I've ever had with which to start," Dr. Mauric Kesnar, chairman of the Southern music department, said Monday following the first choral rehearsal for the annual presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" Dec. 11.

"Naturally, I can't say yet how it will sound when the performance is given, but the choir tonight sounded glorious," Dr. Kesnar added.

There were approximately 150 singers attending the rehearsal Monday coming from practically every town in Southern Illinois. However, there is still room for other singers who would like to participate in the chorus, Dr. Kesnar said. There are no try-outs given for this choir, all that is necessary is to come to rehearsal every Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Little Theatre.

Student Assembly Turns Into Colorful Political Rally

A special student assembly held last Friday morning in the Greek auditorium turned into a full-fledged political rally as Independent and Greek factions cheered their candidates for the class officer and Homecoming queen elections.

Greek candidate supporters dominated the downstairs section of the auditorium while the ISA supporters took over the balcony. Amidst thundering cheers and waving political banners, the queen, attendant, and class officer candidates were introduced to the student body.

Highlight of the political rally was when ISA President Bill Wares rushed onstage with the long petition that Catherine Venegoni is placed on the ballot as a queen candidate. Then while the balcony supporters held their breath, Wares rushed onstage with the long petition that Catherine Venegoni is placed on the ballot as a queen candidate. Then while the balcony supporters held their breath, Wares rushed onstage with the long petition that Catherine Venegoni is placed on the ballot as a queen candidate.

Announce Rules Governing House Decorations

Rules concerning house decorations for Homecoming were announced this week by the Diamond Jubilee Homecoming committee.

Any student house may enter into competition for either Class A or Class B awards.

To be eligible for judging, each house must present a list indicating the exact cost of the decorations. This list must be submitted to Martha Spear, 510 S. University, before Wednesday noon of Homecoming.

Class A

a. Any student house making an expenditure not exceeding $25 shall be eligible for Class A awards.

b. First and second place silver cups and honorable mention shall be made upon the decisions of the judges.

Class B

a. Any student house making an expenditure not exceeding $20 shall be eligible for Class B awards.

b. First and second place gold cups and honorable mention shall be made upon the decisions of the judges.

Judging

All houses are to be observed by the judges on Thursday night of Homecoming (from 6 p.m. on).

d. Silver cups (Class A) and Gold Cups (Class B) will be awarded to first and second place winners in each class and may be retained permanently by the winning houses.

7. Awards will be presented to representatives of the houses during the half of the Homecoming football game.

Obelisk Receives High National Award This Week

Southern's yearbook—the Obelisk—received first place rating in competition with obelisk yearbooks in 41 states, the Columbia Scholastic Press association in New York announced this week.

Last year's book, edited by Bob East of Carbondale, had the most pages and the most pictures of any yearbook ever put out by Southern students.

One of the outstanding features of the book were the Cameo relief photographs used for the sub-division pages. They, as well as the division still life photographs and individual class and faculty photographs, were taken by the Nauman Studio of Carbondale.

The book—the 39th edition of the Obelisk—was dedicated to Dr. Willis G. Schwartz of Southern's government department.

It contained 244 pages.

Dave Bendleman and Mary Alice Newsum were associate editors of the book while Robert A. Steffer, acting head of the Journalism department, was faculty adviser.

Marching Choir Tryouts Will Begin Thursday

Tryouts for a Male Marching Choir will begin Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. in the Little Theatre.

The choir to be under the direction of Floyd V. Wakeland will perform at halftimes of games, give concerts, and probably make tours. Any boy who can sing is eligible to tryout.

Students Choose Queen From Field of Six Today

Who will be queen? This is the main issue on campus with the deciding votes being cast today. Polls opened at eight this morning and will close at four this afternoon.

Whoever the queen may be, she will be one of the main highlights of the Homecoming affairs and will reign over most of the activities.

The climax of her career as queen will come when she presides over the Homecoming dance Saturday night.

Jim Levin, football captain, will crown the queen next Thursday at 9 p. m. in Shroyck auditorium. Although the votes will be counted today, the identity of the queen will be kept a secret until the time of the coronation ceremonies.

Catherine Venegoni won the right Tuesday, by an overwhelming majority of votes to be placed on the official ballot as a queen candidate. A petition had been sent to the Student Council last week asking that she be placed on ballot. Since there is nothing in the Student Council constitution which allows for placing petitioned candidates on official ballots, the Council ruled that a referendum vote be taken by the general Student Body.

Politically, the nominees are now split evenly into three Greek and three independent candidates. The nominees are Maxine Bumpus, Pi Kappa Sigma; Dolores Sharp, ISA; Mary Ellen Donahue, Delta Sigma Epsilon; Bernice Cochran, ISA; Glenna Fritts, Sigma Sigma Sigma; and Catherine Venegoni, ISA. Betty Wilson, ISA, formerly nominated for queen, declined the nomination.

Candidates for Homecoming attendant are Dolores Hamp, Pat Marlow, Rosalie Skipper, Carmela Nichols, and Mrs. Joe Rosch.

In the election, votes will be cast by preference. When the votes are evaluated, three points will be given to a girl each time her name is written first on a ballot, two points if her name is second and one point if her name is third. The girl receiving the most votes will be queen, while the two who get the next highest number of points will be in the queen's court.

Of the candidates for attendant, the two who receive the most votes will be certified as the queen's attendants.

W.S.C. Presents Second Annual Sock Hop Friday

A prize will be awarded to both the girl and boy who wears the loudest pair of socks at the Weekend Social committee's Sock Hop on Friday night.

The dance will start at 8 p.m. with music on records. The only admission charge will be a pair of loud—very loud, if possible—socks.

This makes the fourth event of the season sponsored by the W.S.C. After its opening '49er dance, the committee sponsored the Cape Caravan, which consisted of four bus-loads of students who went to Cape Girardeau two weeks ago to see the Southern Maroons in action. Last week, a bus took several of the outdoor type students to Giant City park for a winner rock.

Expense accounts for the house decorations must be submitted before Wednesday noon of Homecoming week to Martha Spear, 510 S. University.

Houses are to be judged on Thursday night of Homecoming beginning at 8 p. m. and again on Friday morning.

Independents Sweep Class Elections 11-1

The election of class officers held on the Southern campus Tuesday featured an Independent Students association landslide, a tie for senior class vice-president, and two "write-in" winners.

ISA candidates completely reversed the results of last year's Student Council election as they won eleven of the positions and tied for the 12th. The Greeks won last year's Student Council positions, 11-1.

Ten High School Bands Will March At Homecoming

A baker's dozen bands to date have signed up to appear in the Diamond Jubilee Homecoming parade Oct. 22, Jim Cannon of Marion, parade chairman, has announced.

Southern's Maroon Band, directed by Phillip H. Olson of the music department, will head the list, and will also perform at the half at the Southern-Eastern football game, timed for 2 p.m. Saturday.

Word has also been received that the 100-piece Eastern band, under the direction of George S. Winstcott, will also be on hand, will march in the parade and perform at the football game.

In addition, ten Southern Illinois high school bands have accepted the invitation of Cannon's committee to march in the parade. Plans are now being worked out he said, for these high school bands to play in turn before the football game, starting at 1 o'clock.

The following high school bands are expected, Cannon said: Marion, Herrin, Cairo, Pinckneyville, Murphysboro, Carbondale Community, Du Quoin, Anna-Jonesboro, Benton, and West Frankfort.

The Carbondale 70-piece grade school band will also participate. All campus organizations planning to enter floats or stunts in the parade should turn in the card sent out by the parade committee if they have not already done so. Anyone who wishes to enter a float or stunt and doesn't have a card should contact Jim Cannon, 608 S. University, phone 861, as soon as possible. All entries must be in by Thursday, Oct. 20 at noon, Cannon said today.

Classes will be dismissed at 10 o'clock Friday, Oct. 21.

Between 800 and 900 students turned out to vote, Loftus said. He stated that it was a record vote.

HISKEY, PHELPS TO SPEAK AT GUIDANCE MEETING

Two Southern Illinois university professors, Dr. Marshall S. Hiskey and Dr. William Neal Phelps, will speak at the Illinois Guidance association meeting at Deatur Saturday, Oct. 22.

They will discuss problems and practices in high schools and colleges. Mrs. Alice Rector will represent the personnel deans at the meeting.

DO YOU HAVE A HOMECOMING DATE? Bob Mosher, freshman from Marion, asked Esther Williams this week as he sat beside her on campus. But boys, don't worry if you're not lucky enough to get Esther Williams for your date, Southern still has plenty of attractive coeds on the loose.

Southern Exposure

By Harry Reinert

Elections are in the spotlight again this week, with what call officers being elected on Tuesday, and the Homecoming queen today. Last week, we mentioned in passing that it looked like someone had fouled up in the queen nominations concerning the qualifications. Several things have happened since then that seem to call for comment.

"I'm just looking for the person who isn't going to Homecoming."

So Your Vote Doesn't Count!

"Gosh, I don't see how she got to be queen!" is a remark that never fails to be uttered at the coronation ceremonies each Homecoming. But the amazing thing is that the person who makes that remark is nearly always the student who DIDN'T BOTHER TO VOTE! A student who doesn't cast his vote in the elections when given the privilege to vote should also lose the privilege of criticizing the choice made by the students who did go to the polls.

Many students who don't vote in campus elections fall back on the old excuse that "My vote wouldn't make any difference anyway." A good example of how untrue this is was shown in the class officer elections held Tuesday.

Senior class candidates for vice-president came to a 84-84, "because some student thought that his vote "wouldn't make any difference!" That missing vote which have caused a complete independent landslide or assured the Greeks of one victory in class elections.

Many students were discouraged at voting Tuesday when they repeatedly stopped to vote only to find the poll had no more official ballots. Some came back later to vote while many others could not find the time.

Today, another even more vital election is taking place on campus—that for Homecoming queen. So if you are tempted not to vote, remember YOUR vote might be the deciding factor in electing the most beautiful girl for the Diamond Jubilee queen.

In the first place, concerning the letter in last week's paper from Bill Waters, ISA president, we are not clear about the many incidents of ISA benevolence which he referred to, but that is beside the point. The real crux of the matter is that he accuses the present Student Council of passing an ex-post-facto law in reference to queen candidate qualifications. Actually, it appears from here that the Student Council for three years, which than clearing up a foggy point. We should like to remind Mr. Waters that the ISA was in power of the student council for three years, which seems to have been adequate opportunity to clear up such points. Also, he should remember that the Greeks lost two major candidates in comparison to the one lost by the ISA.

And besides, perhaps the ISA should use a little more foresight in the future and not put all their eggs in one basket.

Secondly, the assembly Friday morning was the finest display of spirit seen on this campus since the budgetary drive. What with the ISA representatives whooping it up in the balcony and the Greeks ripping and roaring down front, it was really quite a show. Somehow, though, it seems the most important students in the assembly were overlooked—those were the independent independents who were sitting on the first floor behind the Greeks. After all, it's the votes of these impartial voters that will swing the election.

The best statement made during the assembly was when Bud Loftus said, "We feel that Homecoming queen elections should depend on more than politics..." And our hats are off to the ISA for very clearly pulling the fact one is getting another ISA candidate placed on the ballot—we're not saying that it was illegal—but it was neat!

As for the class officers that were elected last Tuesday, let us urge those students who were elected as leaders to LEAD, and break that chain of tradition which makes this election nothing more than an empty political victory. One of the crying needs of the student body is class organizations.

One zoology class was taking an exam last week in which students were required to identify various portions of preserved specimens. One disgruntled student, finally answered, "dead fish."

In the first place, the good—i. e., flattering—pictures at the top is very definite proof that the author is human. And in the second place, there is space reserved on the left hand side of this page reserved for whatever comments you may wish to make. In a word, please observe my squatter's rights. (Ed. Note! Nuts! It's my land you're squatting on and I still don't see any prof.)

At long last, the Handbook on Student Organizations is finally completed and on the stands in the cross-hills of Old Main. If you are interested in deciphering the many little notices on the bulletin boards, pick up your copy now—they're going fast.

Well, 'pun my word: Would you say that a pretty girl was SWELL-headed?

Southern's Homecoming To Climax Year of Festivities

Southern's 75th anniversary celebration which began Founders Day, July 2 will reach its climax in an elaborate series of festivities in the Diamond Jubilee Homecoming Oct. 20-22. All the usual features of the traditional annual Homecoming will be projected on a much larger scale and given a commemorative historical significance.

Beginning with an alumni reunion dinner honoring older alumni, emeritus faculty, and former members of the SINU board at 6:30 Thursday evening will be two full days of reunions, programs, exhibits, pageantry, and receptions.

When To Speak Friday, Oct. 21, will be devoted to open house, campus tours, departmental demonstrations and a Homecoming pep meeting in Shryock auditorium. Friday afternoon is given over to the reunion programs of the old Zeta and Sigma fraternities and Kappa Phi Kappa. A free movie for students will be shown at the Varsity theatre beginning at 2:30 p. m. A reception honoring the members of the SIU Board of Trustees and their wives will be held at Anthony Hall from 4-5.

Southwestern Historical Society cooperating with Southern's Diamond Jubilee will hold a dinner meeting at the University cafeteria with Dr. Richard L. Beyer as speaker.

The annual Homecoming play, "Male Animal" in Shryock auditorium at 8:20 will conclude Friday's full day of activities.

To Unveil Plaque Saturday, Oct. 22, weather favoring, will be Southern's grand day. An impressive 11:30 will honor the memory of the late Gen. William M. Anderson, maker of Southern's athletic history, with the unveiling of a memorial plaque at McLean stadium. The Hon. A. H. Martin, former governor of Illinois and past national commander of the American Legion, will give a brief tribute to his long-time friend, Gen. Anderson.

Homecoming parade will begin at 11:30 from downtown Carbondale and will be accompanied by a special demonstration by U. S. Marines. The Homecoming football game between Southern and Charleston will start at 2 o'clock. Following the game an informal open house for alumni will be held at Anthony Hall.

Following the open house a concert in Shryock auditorium at 8 p. m. Homecoming activities will close with the annual Homecoming dance in the Men's gymnasium from 9:30 p. m.-12:30 a. m.

WATKINS TO EXHIBIT CERAMICS AT GIANT CITY Ben Watkins, acting chairman of the art department, will give a demonstration in ceramics to a 4-H and adult recreation group Oct. 20 at Giant City.

Watkins, on Nov. 11, will serve on the jury for the selection of awards for the state art exhibition exhibit to be held in Evansville, Ind.

Here's the Answer

by Gene Flowers

Mail your questions along with name and home town on a post card to Gene Flowers, Egyptian.

Question: What is probably the most valuable book in the library?

Answer: The Jesuit relations and Allied documents: travels and explorations of the Jesuit missionaries in New France, 1600-1701; the original French, Latin, and Italian texts, with English translations and notes; illustrated by portraits, maps, and facsimiles.

The set, which contains 73 volumes, was purchased for $600.

Southern-Band Will Perform At Normal Game

Southern's band will leave at 7 a. m. Saturday to go to Normal to play the home game. The band will probably arrive in Carbondale on Saturday night.

The band will perform several maneuvers and formations, some of which will be repeated here next week for the Homecoming celebration. A total of 76 persons will make the trip. There will be 18 bandsman going on the field, with five twirlers and the drum major. Also, four alternates are making the trip.

After the game, the Normal band is holding a party in honor of the Normal band. The information will probably arrive in Carbondale on Saturday night.

The band also participated in the special assembly held last Friday, opening the program with two marches.

Table Tennis Room At SCF Being Given 'New Look'

A "new look" is being given the table tennis room in the Student Christian Foundation. A Work party was called last Saturday and Ogration P.P. put into effect. Wet weather delayed completion of this task but it will be finished as soon as possible.

Amateur decorators were: Deryl Shaw, Bobby Robertson, Bill Hill, Charles Burger, Gloria Moroni, DeLores Blodi, Martha Spear, and Belle Mitchell.

Ruth McClure was in charge of the serving of the fresh cider and doughnuts for refreshments at an artistic endeavor of the members were drawn to a close by the Saturday Night Supper club meeting. The attending members paid 45 cents each, and prepared and ate their supper. Menu was: hamburger, mashed potatoes, green beans, salad, and cookies.

The salad was accidentally given a new flavor by the addition of soap flakes to it. Virgil Jones was the culprit.

SCF students extend an invitation to all students staying over on weekends to participate in the meetings of the Saturday Night Supper club.

Music Group Visits Chicago's Orchestra Hall

A group of students and faculty members from the university music department were in Chicago last weekend to hear the College choral under the direction of Robert Shaw, one of the foremost choral directors in the country today.

The principal purpose of the trip was to give the listeners a change to notice the acoustics in Orchestra hall, where the concert was held, in preparation for a concert there this year by Southern's a cappella choir.

Faculty members making the trip were: Robert S. Reznick, woodwinds instructor; Floyd V. Wakeland, choral director; and Phillip Olson, band director. Students included Gene Howie, Gene Ellis, Bobby Robertson, Bill Hill, Charles Burger, Gloria Moroni, DeLores Blodi, Martha Spear, and Belle Mitchell.

ROSE CUTTINGS NOW AVAILABLE

Persons who are interested in obtaining cuttings from campus rose bushes should contact William Marberry, assistant professor of botany. The bushes are now being pruned, Marberry said, and the cuttings may be obtained free of charge.

Football Game To Be Broadcast

The Southern Illinois University Football Network, composed of Southern Illinois radio stations will broadcast the football game of Southern versus Illinois State Normal University at Normal, Oct. 15. This is the fourth broadcast of the game. The information will be carried by stations WMIX in Mt. Vernon, WOIL in Carbondale, and WEQB in Harrisburg.

Broadcasters are Norm Nilsson, sports reporter for the Normal Service, and Bill Price, faculty assistant in Alumni Services.

AAUP Hold Meeting At SIU Saturday

Local chapter of the American Association of University Professors was held Saturday, Oct. 8, to a joint meeting of the AAUP chapters in the Illinois state supported colleges and universities. Sixteen delegates were here representing chapters at Eastern Illinois, Southern Illinois, University of Illinois, Illinois State Normal university and Western Illinois State College.

The morning session held in the Little Theatre, was devoted to a special discussion of Publicly Supported Higher Education in Illinois. Participants in the panel were Prof. Russel M. Nolan of the University of Illinois, Prof. Claude Dillinger of Normal, Dean Robert F. Heller of Eastern, Prof. Arthur Olsen of Western, and Prof. Ted R. Ragdale of Southern.

Luncheon meeting at the University cafeteria was addressed by Prof. Donald L. Kemmerer of the University of Illinois.

Afternoon session of the meeting was devoted to a summary of the morning session and to making plans for further study of some of the issues which had been raised. Dr. John A. Kinneman of Normal, who is first vice president of the AAUP, presided at this session.

The chapter at Charleston was selected to be the host chapter for the next joint meeting.

Student Organizations Book Still Available

"Printing of the final 2,500 copies of the Handbook of Student Organizations" has been completed, and copies may be obtained at the cross hills of Old Main, in the bookstore, post office, or in the office of the personnel department. The first copy of the book appeared during Freshman Orientation Week, but mechanical difficulties delayed printing the remainder of the 3,000 copies until last week.

Name Two New Members To Publications Council

Bud Loftus, head of the Student Council and chairman of the Publications Council, announced this week that DeLores Williams and Louis Knoblen were named to the Publications Council.

Other members of the nine-man council are Dick Plater, Mary Beeson, Charles Bicklerman, Dr. Robert D. Fayer, Dr. Harold Briggs, and Robert A. Steffes.

Duties of the Publication Council include electing the editors of student publications, including the Egyptian and Obelisk, and to acting as co-ordinator between the student publications and the students in case of complaints.

Five Students Attend National Press Convention

Five journalism students accompanied by Robert A. Steffes, instructor and acting chairman of the Journalism department are attending the national convention of Associated Collegiate Press to be held in Detroit, Mich. Oct. 13-15. Those making the trip are: Mary Alice Newsum, Egyptian editor; Bill Hollada, managing editor; George R. Denison, business manager; and Dorothy LaBash, feature editor.

IT'S A HIGH STEP.

Council Corner

by Virginia Miller

Meeting of the Student Council was called off-center by the presence of Bud Loftus. Members present were Gene Johns, Dean Patterson, Bob O'Donnell, Gerald Pugh, Mary Ellen Donahue, Barbara Heath, Virginia Miller, M. J. Patterson, Barbara Ames, Ray Palmer, Dave Rendleman, Martha Spear, and Bud Loftus.

Robert Steffes, chairman of the department of journalism, and Dr. Viola DuPrain presented to the council a plan for the purchase of venetian blinds and asphalt tile for the Egyptian office and new metal type which would make the appearance of the paper more professional. The following changes were made in the application requirements for WHO'S WHO.

1. Will be open to juniors and seniors, but seniors will have preference.

2. There will be no repeats.

3. A group or an individual may nominate.

4. A three point overall grade average is required. The application form will be made by Donahue and Heath and will be presented to the council at the next meeting.

Miller moved that the meeting be adjourned. Resolution seconded, and the motion carried unanimously.

U.R.C. WILL SHOW MOVIE ON ATOM BOMB TONIGHT

A dinner honoring Dr. Frank Klingberg, sponsor of the International Relations club, was held in the University cafeteria Wednesday evening.

Those attending the dinner were as follows: Tom Stubbs, regional president; Don Balsover, regional vice-president; Bob Osanich, regional corresponding secretary; Al Loughran, president; Wanda Moore, vice-president; Marilyn Kneidler, corresponding secretary; Edwin, John Beaver, Frank Hietto, Ed Miller, and Mike Denbak, members of the executive committee; the honored guest and family.

The club is beginning to prepare various arrangements for a regional conference which will be held here in March. More than ninety colleges from Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, and Illinois are expected to send delegates to the conference. The purpose of the conference is to discuss and study current problems relating to International Relations.

Tonight the club holds its bi-monthly meeting in the Little Theater. A movie displaying the power of the atomic bomb and illustrating its future role will be shown. A discussion period will follow with three speakers presenting the various plans to control the atomic bomb and to discuss its present effect on International Relations.

DELTA RHO WILL HAVE COFFEE HOUR HOMECOMING

Delta Rho will have a coffee hour for members and alumni in the Canteen Saturday, Oct. 22, from 9 to 10 a. m. Three tables have been reserved for this purpose and all on-campus members are urged to be present at this time to welcome visitors.

Members are reminded that in order to take advantage of the new dues discount adopted at the last meeting, dues must be paid on or before the last regular meeting of this term. Under this new discount system dues are 25c per term including summer term, making a total of $1 for the year, or 75c for the four terms if paid before the last regular meeting of this term.

Next meeting this term will be held Nov. 7, in Main 314 at 7 p.m. The speaker for the evening will be Miss Imogene Beckmeyer. New officers for the fall and spring terms will be elected at this time.
