MANY GRADUATING LETTER MEN BECOME COACHES

SOME OF THESE STARS WERE PLACED OUTSIDE OF STATE

Many familiar names will be missing in the lineups of our athletic teams this year. In football the majority of last year's regulars have passed on, leaving a record of successful athletic accomplishment behind. To tell the story statistically, fifteen of last year's twenty-two letter-men are missing. Most of these are filling coaching positions in the high schools of neighboring towns. A few are continuing their studies at other institutions.

The fact that high school authorities in Southern Illinois have seen fit to employ practically all of our experienced athletes speaks well for the school and especially the athletic department. It is evidence of the coach-

FRESHMEN DOMINATE FOOTBALL SQUAD THIS YEAR

ONLY SEVEN LETTER MEN BACK TO TACKLE ENEMY'S LINE

Fall and the opening of the new school year finds students and especially coaches everywhere thinking about the fall sport, football. The comment on almost every campus right now is—"I wonder what kind of football team we're going to have?"

Our coaches and our students are no exception. The problem dominant in the minds of the former at present is the getting into shape of the best possible team out of this year's squad. The students are full of questions about what success that team is going to have. Will it be as good as that of last year? Are any of the old stars back? What about the new fellows? Any good ones?

These questions are highly interesting to everyone, but must remain (Continued on Page Five)

Athletics Department Increasing

The growth of the Athletics Department during the past few years has been really remarkable. We have now succeeded in bringing the benefits of athletic training within reach of all students. The varsity teams—football, basketball, and track—can accommodate only a very limited number of students. However there are many forms of athletic activity open to other students. Much enjoyment and profit are to be had from the physical education classes and from the other sports and games, such as boxing and wrestling, offered. We also have class tournaments in basketball, which furnish opportunities in athletics for many students who could never hope to make the varsity teams.

In every way our athletics department has kept pace with the rapid growth of other departments. We now have three instructors in the boys' department.

The girls' athletic department is growing very fast. There are now three instructors: Francis Etheridge, Dorothy Muzzey, and Aileen Carpenter, with Emma Jane Wiggs a student helper. Approximately four hundred girls enrolled for some form of physical education this fall.

The two main reasons why girls are becoming more interested in physical education are the new courses offered and the new equipment lately purchased for the girls' gymnasium. Physical education is also being taught regularly in the training school and in the high school by girls who want practice teaching in physical education.

New Gymnasium Well Equipped for Games

We should feel proud of our new gymnasium. For many years the gymnasium occupied cramped quarters in the old Science building, but for the past five years we have had the very best possible accommodations. The cost of the new building without equipment was $175,000.

Perhaps the most distinctive feature of the gymnasium is the basketball floor. No school that our team visits has so good a floor. In fact Mac says there is no better anywhere. It is of maximum size, ninety feet by fifty feet. The bleachers seat about 1500.

The gym also contains adequate accommodations for all the physical education classes for both boys and girls. The locker rooms will eventually contain many more lockers than they do at present. In addition the gym contains several offices and class rooms, making it one of the best equipped gymnasiums in the Middle West.

SOCIETIES PLAN PARTY FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Something new in the way of "get-together" meetings is being planned by the executive committees of the Socratic and Zetetic societies for Friday night, the 20th, in the new gymnasium. The idea is not only to entertain the new students with an unusual variety of games, stunts, and music, which is under the supervision of Wendell Margrave and Howard Thraikill, but also to create a friendliness among them which will induce them to work together with a common interest.

Newton Defensive Football Captain

Tom Newton, former "Dean of Athletics" at Johnston City is the S. I. N. U. defensive football captain for the coming year. With three years of college football experience, he is well qualified for the position. When he first entered school he was only a mediocre athlete; but by ability, pluck, perseverance, and good coaching, he has developed into a real star. He has shown decided improvement with each succeeding season.

Tom is a distinctive character on the football field. Although his playing is not extraordinarily spectacular, he holds down his position in a very commendable fashion. Gains around his end are remarkable because of their absence. He is never discouraged; and what is more important still, never lets his team mates become so.

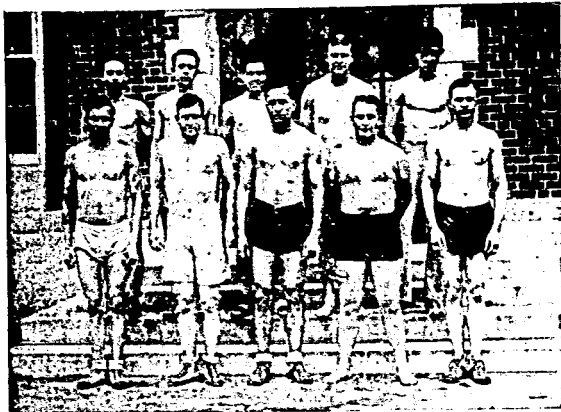

Harry Lutz, New Football Field Captain

"Dutch" Lutz

Harry "Dutch" Lutz, quarter-back, is to be our field captain this year. His preparation for such a position includes a successful career at the Carbondale Community High School and three years at S. I. N. U.; there is, therefore, every indication that this will be his best year.

To "Dutch" football is a serious proposition, a situation to be met which calls forth one's very best efforts, and on this theory his play is based. The results of such play are found in past season records. He is just the sort of a man on whom to place the responsibility of the team. He is one of those fortunate leaders who can mingle with his men and yet command their respect and obedience.

WRESTLING

In the latter part of the winter term wrestling took the place of boxing. The strong men of the school found a great deal of amusement and training on the mat in the wire cage at the gymnasium. Those who looked on were well entertained.

In wrestling as in boxing, there are tricks to be learned, and it is true that there is, perhaps, as much skill to be developed in one of these sports as in the other.

There were wrestling contests to determine the champion in the various classes. These matches were staged at the beginning of the spring term.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

Out of ten football games played during the year 1928 by the S. I. N. U. squad nine were won by our men. A large measure of credit for such a victorious team goes to Coach McAndrew and Assistant Coach Lingh. Their work was always efficient.

Frank Eovalli was captain of this remarkable team. He had played here one year before. His work at fullback was such as to bring him honorable mention in the "Little Ninety-ten" Conference.

Of all the ten games played but three opposing teams scored; and only one of the three scored above

Normal. Charleston beat the Normal to the tune of 18 to 0, thus giving our squad the only beating of the season. With our team the best in the "Little Nineteen" we had nothing to be ashamed of. Newton is the captain for this season. We're expecting another record-breaking run.

Eugene Bricker
Captain Track Team

Eugene Bricker, star shot and discus man, will captain our track team this season. He throws the discus farther than anyone who ever attended this school, 135 feet, 5 1/2 inches. This is his third year in school, and his improvement has been remarkable. When he first entered school, there were several men who either equalled or surpassed him; but now he is in a class by himself.

Last season he was particularly successful. He won first in every meet he entered except the Little Nineteen and the National, and in the former he won second. He holds the all-time record in the discus for all the Illinois Normal Schools.

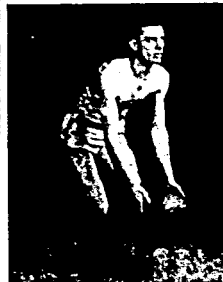

Besides being track captain, he is also playing his third season as a football regular and is the heavy-weight boxing champion of the school.

MISS CARPENTER WILL HELP IN ATHLETIC DEPT.

The girls of S. I. N. U. have been very fortunate to have for their physical training teachers Miss Etheridge and Miss Muzzey, and now a third has been added, Miss Aileen Carpenter who received her M. A. degree at the Iowa State University last spring.

Miss Carpenter is a great hiking and camping enthusiast. She spent last summer visiting various camps, but most of the time she spent at Camp Maqua, the national U. W. C. A. camp at Poland, Maine.

In spite of having spent the summer at Camp Maqua, Miss Carpenter is finding the campus at S. I. N. U. a very beautiful and interesting place, and expects the camping in Southern Illinois to be just as good as it was in Maine.

WILSON TO BE BASKETBALL CAPTAIN FOR SECOND SEASON

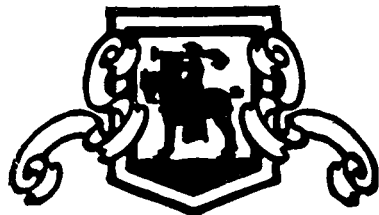

For the second consecutive season we have for basketball captain, Virgil "Cuss" Wilson of Marion. This is an honor which is very rarely bestowed, but then "Cuss" is a very rare basketball player. In high school he was not considered good enough for the team, but in college he has come out wonderfully. He is without doubt one of the very best players ever produced by this school. Although as guard he missed several games last season, he was easily high-point man for the team. He was the most important man on the team on both the offense and defense. Without him the team was utterly disorganized; with him it worked like a well-oiled machine.

His ability is also recognized by other schools. He was placed on the all-star State Teachers College team and received honorable mention from the Little Nineteen. We are certainly lucky to have such a man back for captain this season.

In spite of his ability and skill "Cuss" is a very modest fellow. He thinks that deeds are more important than words and acts accordingly. We are expecting good things from him this year; and since his health has improved this summer, we hope and have every reason to believe that he will not miss a game.

Tom Newton: "Can you tell me the greatest war song ever written?"
Virgil Wilson: "Here comes the bride."

Berger: "Did you say that sheep were the dumbest animals?"
Miss Etheridge: "Yes, my lamb."

Upper Classmen
Basketball 1928 29

As soon as the winter term opens, the girl interested in athletics turns her mind to basketball, the dominating sport of the winter. Last year's upper-class team proved that winning is not essential to the enjoyment of the sport for the team lost every game it played in the tournament and yet enjoyed it enough to stick to the finish. Too few girls reported for a really strong team to be developed through competition.

STRATEGY

Jim Wheeler was full seven feet-six in height and was built like a brick silo. Muscles? Why that man was muscles from the tips of his toes to the end of his unshorn moppyish red hair. He wasn't much to look at, but he could take punishment!

He could! Waterbury College, which Jim was attending, was short one man on the football squad. Some of the boys had hinted to Jim that he ought to try out for the eleven himself, but he was hopeless. Didn't know the difference between a punt and a goal. More, he'd as good as said that he wouldn't have anything to do with athletics in any respect.

But the season to begin practice was at hand. Somewhere a player must be found or the whole team would fall through. It was certain that ten men could not compete with eleven. Freddie Mulvaney, the captain, was much worried. Coach Leathers had given up hope.

"There's no use," Leathers said to Freddie. "There's no use to think about having a team this year. How can we play when we haven't eleven men?"

It did look pretty bad. But Freddie had always managed somehow to get the thing he needed.

"What do you think about Jim Wheeler as a prospect?" Freddie asked.

"Nothing. It's a ham. Won't play. 'Gainst his principles or something. I guess. Poor boob. He's flickering out in his classes, too, right regularly."

Freddie's eyes opened wide. IS HE?"

"Of course he is! McGill told me that in rhetoric—"

"Hurrah! Hurrah!" shouted Freddie, jumping up and down. "Why, man, we'll get him! Why didn't you tell me before?"

"What's the matter with you?" Coach Leathers asked. "You'd better calm down and save that energy. You'll have to play two men's positions in football—"

"Two men's positions? Why, I'll have a man on the team who can take the place of half the squad!"

"It's easy to TALK!" Leathers was sarcastic. He'd tried with all his power to get Jim to come out to practice, but the tall, red-haired freshman had only walked away and left the coach with his glowing picture all by himself. Much good it would do Freddie to talk to Jim!

At his rooming house Freddie stopped to see Henry Smith, the only A student within a block and borrowed Henry's grade book.

"I've got good use for this for a little while," he explained to Henry. "I'll bring it back soon."

Thus armed Freddie started out to see Jim Wheeler.

"Better take along a couple big red Ben Davis apples," George Hartford called out. The boys at the house knew what Freddie was going to try.

"Yes, and a stick of candy," another would-be wag supplemented.

"That's all right," Freddie shouted. "You guys will have another guess comin' when you see Jim Wheeler eating outa my hand, and makin' a tackle that'll upset half the team!"

Freddie did know his stuff. He was the one man to go to Jim Wheeler for help. Freddie talked a bit to Jim about his school work, and then produced a nicely filled in grade book.

"Take a look at that," said Freddie, "if you want to see the kind of grades that makes one's head swim!"

Jim read aloud. "A, A, A, A, A, A, B, A, B, A—Oh, that's enough, that's enough!" he said, eyeing Freddie with great admiration. What I'm wanting to know is how you did it. I work hard all day and most of the night, and a B minus is my best. More often a C. How do you earn such grades?"

"Easiest thing you know," said Freddie, smiling comfortably. "Just the very easiest thing you know."

"How?" Jim asked impatiently. "I never did think anybody could do work like that. I never—"

"Now listen," said Freddie, laying his soft white hand on Jim's Titan shoulder. "There's no reason why you shouldn't have grades like these, or even better, and not work half so hard as you're doing now." He paused a moment. Jim's eyes grew bigger than fried eggs.

"How?"

"And you're just the type of man we can use well, as it happens, right now. How tall are you anyhow?"

Freddie knew to half an inch Jim's height and also his weight. But this was a situation that had to be handled with care—and to have the carmarks of being unpremeditated. Jim was known to openly oppose football.

"Join the football squad, said Freddie with a knowing wink. "It's the simplest thing you can do. No hard work about it, plenty of long trips, a whole bevy of girls, and grades—well, take a look at these!" He shook the grade book significantly.

"Will that turn the trick?"

"The story's inside this book!" Freddie displayed leisurely the whole family of A's.

"By Jove!" Jim gasped. "By Jove—I'll do it!"

Football Captain: "Now honestly, what would you do if you were in my shoes?"

Basketball Captain: "Get a shine."

Miss Muzzey: "Does that question bother you?"

Krysher: "Well, no, it's the answer that bothers me."

CONTESTS WAX HOT

Athletic contests wax hot. There is primitive strength in a team backed by a whole school. Look with me at a mammoth stadium. The bleachers are lined with thousands of people, students, alumni, has-beens, and enthusiasts, all well-wishers of the school and team, all keenly interested. The squads are on the field. They take positions. The signal is given. See that kick-off! Watch that man run! The pack! The pack! They are upon him. But no! He passed. A clever turn. He is going on! He has eluded the tackle! He has gained twenty yards! Watch! He is still running! Five, ten! Such a run! But now! They are closing in around him! There! He is borne down. A thirty yard gain!

"Rah! Rah! Rah!" Such a thunderous roar! "Hartley! Hartley! Hartley!" Such a mighty cheer! The very heavens re-echo and among the clouds the cry reverberates. The whole school is waving pennants and shouting. But look. The team is ready to start again.

Those on the bleachers are co-operating with the players. In union there is more than strength—THERE IS VICTORY! Unbounded power is in the school that is so closely joined.

The spirit with which one enters into the football game, whether as a player or observer, is typical of his attitude toward life's activities in general. Cultivate that positive spirit. Join in cheering the team.

Who would be a hermit? Who would be a recluse? He who fails to avail himself of the opportunities, either by playing or attending the games in so far as convenient, is making a hermit out of himself. In olden days men could live the life of a hermit, but not so any more. Then, hermits were considered wise—now they are known to have been sadly deficient. Go to the football games and help make yourself a fully NORMAL individual.

Enjoy the thrill of a hard fought victory. It's for you. Without it you are losing many of your school advantages.

HONOR LETTERS

The athletic traditions of this institution are built up around the Normal "N." Let each student whether he owns one or not, respect the official letter of this campus and help to maintain its dignity.

Since last Monday the Normal "N" is the only official letter that should be worn on our campus. Those who still proudly wear their high school (foreign) letters have not yet become a part of the Southern Illinois State Normal. They do not realize that their high school emblems have a destructive effect upon the order of the "N" Club and the Student Council. They have yet to learn that high school days are now past and that they must adjust themselves to a new environment.

KEEP OUT

We aren't going to put this sign on the Egyptian office door, but we want you to act as though it were there. The Egyptian office is not a lounge, a wrestling mat, or a recreation center. It is going to be this year an office for business. A great deal of work must be turned out there, and only those who have definite work to do or who have a matter of business with the paper, are wanted. We will greatly appreciate the long and continued absence of everyone else. One thoughtless little co-ed with a gay line of chatter can keep everyone in the office from accomplishing anything worthwhile from the time she breezes in until her very welcome departure. Surely no one would willingly commit such a faux pas.

If the lure is a friend of yours on the staff, remember that we are generally "at home" to callers in the evening, but never, never, never when we're in the Egyptian office.

S. I. N. U. Orchestra Well Organized

One of the Southern Illinois Normal University institutions of which we may be justly proud is our orchestra. While other colleges have been emphasizing chorus work or some other phase of music, our chief interest has been in the orchestra. As a result we have a college orchestra which leads the state teachers colleges in accomplishment.

Much practice is necessary to keep up the high standard of the orchestra. String rehearsals are provided for in addition to the regular practice.

There are two orchestras here. The junior organization is for those just beginning, and it serves as a filler for the more trained body of players who make up the senior group. This is, to persons ambitious to play in the school orchestra, a stepping-stone to the realization of his desire. The junior orchestra has its regular times for rehearsals just as does the senior group.

Mr. Margrave will be ready to begin his work as assistant director of full music with the commencement of the fall term.

THE CODE OF SPORTSMANSHIP

Keep the rules.
Keep faith with your comrade.
Keep your temper.
Keep yourself fit.
Keep a stout heart in defeat.
Keep your pride under in victory.
Keep a sound soul, a clean mind, and a healthy body.
—Sportsmanship.

Coach Lingle: "Why did you stop singing in the chapel?"
Cisne: "Because one day I didn't and somebody asked if the organ had been fixed."

TEAM WORK'

Its all very well to have courage and skill
And its fine to be counted a star,
But the single deed with its touch of thrill
Doesn't tell us the man you are;
For theres no lone hand in the game we play,
We must work to a bigger scheme,
And the thing that counts in the world today
Is, How do you pull with the team?

They may sound your praise and call you great,
They may single you out for fame,
But you must work with your running mate
Or you'll never win the game;
For never the work of life is done
By the man with a selfish dream,
For the battle is lost or the battle is won
By the spirit of the team.

You may think it fine to be praised for skill,
But a greater thing to do
Is to set your mind and set your will
On the goal thats just in view;
Its helping your fellowmen to score
When his chances hopeless seem;
Its forgetting self till the game is o'er
And fighting for the team.

PRAYER OF A SPORTSMAN

Dear Lord, in the battle that goes through life
I ask a field that is fair,
A chance that is equal with all in the strife,
A courage to strive and to dare;
And if I should win, let it be my code
With my faith and my honor held high;
And if I should lose, let me stand by the road
And cheer as the winners go by.

And Lord, may my shouts be ungrudging and clear,
A tribute that comes from the heart,
And let me not cherish a snarl or a sneer
Or play any sniveling part;
Let me say: "There they ride on whom laurel's bestowed,
Since they played the game better than I;"
Let me stand with a smile by the side of the road
And cheer as the winners go by.

So grant me to conquer, if conquer I can
By proving my worth in the fray;
But teach me to lose like a Regular Man
And not like a craven, I pray.
Let me take off my hat to the warriors who strode
To victory splendid and high,
Yes, teach me to stand by the side of the road,
And cheer as the winners go by!
—Berton Braley, in Illinois High School Athlete.

Coach McAndrews: "Not one of you shall have liberty from practice tonight."
Lutz (from rear of locker room): "Give me liberty or give me death."
Coach McAndrews: "Who said that?"
Lutz: "Patrick Henry."

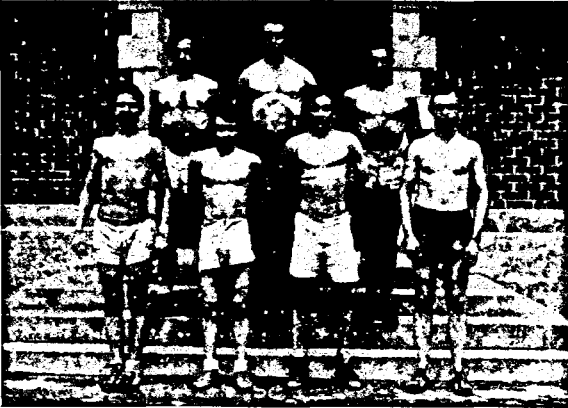

VARSITY TRACK

Coach "Doc" Lingle developed the best track team in the history of the S. I. N. U. last year. Our boys took part in five meets during the season. They were:

- Dual meet with Cape Girardeau—S. I. N. U. 68½; Cape 67½.
- Dual meet with Charleston—S. I. N. U. 84, Charleston 47.
- Triangular—S. I. N. U. 35, McKendree 53, and Shurtleff 45.
- Normal School meet—S. I. N. U. took first place; also second.
- Dual meet with McKendree—S. I.

N. U. 66, McKendree 64½.
In the Charleston meet "Doc's" Kendree's star javelin man, came man took nine firsts to Charleston's within inches of the world's record. The high point man was Byers, a star two-miler. Other firsts were won by Davis in the pole vault and high jump, by Bricker in the shot, by Harris in the discus, by Hartwell in the broad jump, Smith in the javelin, by Lay in the half-mile, and by McMahon in the quarter mile.
At the time of the meet with McKendree and Shurtleff two of our men were sick and another had a bad ankle, yet the score was surprisingly good, considering everything.
McKendree lost a close meet in our second home exhibition. Goode, McKendree's star javelin man, came within inches of the world's record when he threw the spear two hundred feet and nine inches. McMahon was high point man, winning first in the four-forty, the two-twenty, and the hundred. Tucker ran a sweet half mile against exceptionally hard competition. Davis won the pole vault and the high jump, clinching the meet for the S. I. N. U.

Akin and Woll won in all but one of the running events in the first meet of the year. Akin ran the mile like a professional, although this year was his first time out for track.

BOXING

With James Hastie as boxing instructor a number of S. I. N. U. fellows pushed the leather with a grace and effectiveness that would have made Bob Fitzsimmons and John L. Sullivan hesitate about getting in the way of one of Hastie's strong-armed, skilled pugilists.

Boxing is a manly art, and it is well to have a class in our schools. That it brings about much enthusiasm was evidenced by last year's classes. There were class encounters and elimination tourneys which were more than interesting. The climax came when the school champions in the different weights were determined in the finals the third week of the third term.

unanswered for several weeks. Mac has a good enough squad to begin with, and there is quite a number of new material, but as to whether it contains any stars—good ones—only time can tell. One thing is certain—there is work ahead for everyone. With only seven letter men back, several regular positions must be filled and a goodly number of capable recruits developed, for after all it takes more than eleven or fifteen good men to make a successful team. Only the end of the season will tell whether or not the team is to be as good as last year's. If it is, it will be good indeed. With seven letter men as compared to twenty or more for the last two years, the strength of this year's squad is almost certainly inferior. There is nothing to feel elated about, but by hard work the team can come through with a winning combination.

Dugo Eovaldi, the plunging "full" and captain of last year's team, will be absent, and the team will miss his driving offensive play.

The squad at present numbers between fifty and sixty, including seven letter men and some twenty-five freshmen.

Letter men: Captains Harry Lutz and Thomas Newton, Eugene Bricker, Clarence Harriss, Andrew McArthy, Freddie Wall, Hal Hall.

Mrs. Muzzey Active In Girls' Athletics

To take care of the increasing number of girls who are interested in physical education, Mrs. Muzzey became one of our instructors in physical education last year. Although she has been here but a short time, she has been very active in helping the girls who wish to take part in the sports on the campus and has done much to further interest in athletics in all forms. Last winter she helped to organize the W. A. A. so the girls could belong to the national association. This fall she will take the lead in the introduction of archery, our latest sport.

Historical dates do not interest the athletes half so much as present dates do.

Miss Etheridge Head Of Girls' Athletics

For five years Miss Etheridge has been instructing the girls in physical education. During that time this department has grown from one regular instructor to three. It has added many new courses and purchased much new equipment.

Miss Etheridge has always encouraged all athletic activities, working hard in the old Girls' Athletic Association to interest girls in good clean sports. Organizing hikes, organizing ball teams, planning stunts and parties, she showed the girls the enjoyment to be gained through athletics and by living out of doors. For several years she wanted it to be organized into the W. A. A. and become a member of the national association. Last year after continued persistence on her part the girls were able to join the national organization.

STRUT AND FRET'S FIRST STRUT THURSDAY NIGHT

Strut and Fret will hold its first meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 in Zetetic Hall. All students who are interested in taking part in campus dramatics are invited to belong to this club. Also all who expect to become coaches of plays will find these meetings an excellent laboratory and workshop for training in that particular work.

Hal Hall, Strut and Fret's popular president last year, will preside at the Thursday night meeting. He refused to impart any information whatever to the reporter as to the nature of his opening speech, but all who attended the meetings last year will remember that they were NOT dull as a result of the entertainment furnished by this speaker. Ralph Bailey, the best old man that ever acted a part on the auditorium stage will be on the program; and Jewell Ferill, the leading lady of the spring play, "The Show-Off," will give a reading. The usual impromptu stunts will be featured as they have been in the past. It is from these that the committee learns about the promising material for the future plays and skits for the Home Coming entertainment.

ing ability and clean sportsmanship developed at S. I. N. U.

Following are the names of the fellows—gone but not forgotten—and their locations for this year:

Louis "Rabbit" Foley, star half of last year, is running the athletics of Du Quoin High School.

Glen Trulove, of University High's basketball team last year, is head man at Mounds.

"Toddy" Crawshaw, our basketball forward, is coach at Vienna, Illinois.

Stewart Williams, a four letter man in the rough and ready sport, is in charge of the athletics at Newton, Ill.

Raymond, Spiller, one of the Marion stars, is assistant coach at Pana.

"Bud" Bridges, another one of the four year men, is helping whip the boys into shape at Sikeston, Mo.

Kenneth Pyatt is assistant coach at the big city a few miles to the south, Anna.

"Cabbage" Floyd, business manager last year and one of the best football men Mac has produced, is coach at Marissa.

"Bill" Bundy is coach at Crab Orchard.

"Two Ton" Willis is coaching and teaching the pupils at Ava.

"Hank" Loudon, who was an excellent center for four years, is working with Sears Roebuck & Co., in the roofing department.

Willard Allison is working with a manufacturing company in Indiana.

Robert Allen is attending the Georgia Tech and taking an engineering course.

Raymond Stotlar is continuing his school work at the University of Illinois.

John Veach, the ladies choice two years ago and a 4-year football man, is attending George Washington University, Washington, D. C., preparing to become a lawyer.

President William A. Nelson, of Smith College, has come to the conclusion that the average campus graduate loses the last cultural trace of his college career by the time he is 25, cultural disintegration beginning a decade after valedictory.

Lingle Successful With Track Teams

Leland Lingle, "Doc" for short, is track coach and assistant director of athletics. He is a graduate of S. I. N. U., and played on the football team while in school. After a very successful year at Sikeston, Mo., "Doc" returned to the Normal to help "Mac" put things over.

In track where he has complete charge success has crowned his efforts from the very first. His team has always placed right up at the top in the Normal meets. He knows how to coach and easily wins the confidence of students. Good fellowship is the keynote of his method in handling the squads. "Doc" also looks after part of the physical education classes. With him on the job the physical part of the young men's program is well taken care of. The fact that our track coach is of the same caliber as our football and basketball coach speaks for itself.

William McAndrew Head of Athletics

Coach William McAndrew, commonly known as "Mac" has been head of athletics at S. I. N. U. for sixteen years. The records of our athletic teams and the growth of our athletic department tell in an objective way the ability of our coach as a leader and builder. His efforts were vital in making possible so early, our new gymnasium, one of the very best in the state. Mac has always stood for the very highest degree of sportsmanship in all athletic competition and has a reputation among his fellow coaches of always playing fair and square in every way. He has a fine personality and is a leader whom boys like and are anxious to follow. He keeps constantly in mind the ultimate aim of athletics, to build up character as well as the body. His interests are for the school and its program, and the school is interested in and proud of his work.
