SIU Bans Campus Drive Parking; To Restrict Cars in Parking Lots

Southern Illinois University campus parking rules underwent radical changes this fall in an organized attempt to relieve the crowded parking conditions and to secure better safety for students.

Two basic policies were put into effect this year by the University parking committee, and these changes were outlined in a bulletin presented to the students of the University on registration day.

The Committee ruled "no parking" on the campus drive which begins at the intersection of University and Grand avenues, circles about the main campus, and ends at the intersection of Illinois and Grand avenues.

The committee also adopted a plan whereby all campus parking lots would be reserved and would be available only to students and faculty members with parking permits from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on week days and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays.

These permits will be granted to disabled persons whose disability necessitates their using a car to get to the campus, to faculty members whose duties directly necessitate an automobile being used in the instructional duties or service activities, and to commuters.

Commuters and disabled persons will have first chance at the parking areas, with any additional space open for sale to other students.

Parking permits will entitle the bearer to park in a designated lot, either by the barracks on Chautauqua street, by the foreign language building on University avenue, behind the music department building on University ave., or behind Lake Ridgway next to Anthony Hall.

All other parking areas will remain on the "first come, first served" basis.

Permits are optional and may be obtained at the Bursar's office upon the payment of a $1.50 service charge. Dr. Charles D. Tenney, administrative assistant to the president, said the charge was necessary to cover costs of printing the stickers for the car and to pay the extra police it would require to patrol the reserved areas.

Violators in the parking areas who do not own tickets will be given a ticket. Student violators must report to the Dean of Men, I Clark Davis, while faculty members who violate the ruling must report to the president of the University.

The "no parking" ruling on the campus circle drive is already in effect, while the reserved parking stickers will go on sale early in October. Application blanks may be secured from the office of the Dean of Men.

All students must send their applications to the Dean of Men's office and faculty members send theirs to the president's office. Deadline is Oct. 1.

Girl Baton Twirlers To Try Out Tuesday

Tryouts for girl baton twirlers for this year's Maroon band will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 19, Phillip Olsson, university band director, announced this week.

There are still a few openings, Olsson said.

Enrollment for First Two Days Shows Increase

Registration for fall term this year at the end of the second day was running 72 students ahead of last fall term's record for the same period, according to Miss Marjorie Shank, registrar.

By Wednesday morning 2,815 students were enrolled at the university, as compared to a total of 3,100 for last fall.

However, the process of registration will continue until Saturday, for evening and Saturday classes and some late full-time students, and this year's final enrollment is expected to equal that of last year.

To Hold Play Tryouts Here Monday, Tuesday

Tryouts for the Little Theatre's Homecoming play, "Born Yesterday," will be held Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 18 and 19, at 7 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Anyone who is interested in theatre work may try out. It is not necessary to be enrolled in the speech department. Students who are not interested in acting but would like to work on any of the various committees should also appear at these tryouts.

Committees include: Business, publicity, costumes, make-up, stage, lights, sound, props, and rehearsal assistants.

"Born Yesterday," written by Garson Kanin, ran on Broadway for three years. The New York cast was headed by Judy Holliday and Paul Douglas. The play is now being made into a movie.

Candidates for Southern's cheerleading squad will vie for positions at tryouts next Tuesday night, 7 p.m., in the Men's gym.

SIU Names Leah Farr Throgmorton Begins Plans for Homecoming

Miss Leah Farr, assistant dean of women and co-ordinator of social activities, has taken over the duties of Dean Helen Shuman during her leave of absence this year.

Miss Farr received a master of arts degree from Syracuse University in June of this year. Her work there was in the student personnel field.

MISS LEAH FARR

Before entering at Syracuse, Miss Farr was employed by the YWCA Division, USO. Her work as assistant director of USO clubs was done in Texas and Mexico. She has also worked in community recreation programs.

A part of the work for her degree at Syracuse was done as head resident of girls' dormitories. This included much the same type of counseling that she is doing now. A resident of Ogden, Utah, Miss Farr took her under-graduate work at Utah State in Logan, Utah.

Homecoming chairman Jim Throgmorton has started making plans for Southern's 1950 Homecoming celebration by sending out cards to various campus organizations asking them to send in the name of members who will act as a representative of that organization on committees.

According to Throgmorton, this plan of recruiting committee members will give all organizations an equal voice in formulating the plans for the celebration and will allow for better representation of the students in general.

A meeting will be called sometime next week for all students who are to be representatives from organizations. Time and place of the meeting will be announced later.

Homecoming will be held the third week in October.

Meal Ticket System To Begin at Southern Cafeteria Monday

Beginning Monday at 12 noon in the cafeteria, students may purchase meal tickets worth $7.50 at a price of $5, the Student Council has announced. Any student who can present his own activity ticket may buy one of these tickets which will be good for any food regularly served in the cafeteria.

The meal ticket will not be transferrable, but it may be transferred among students. The ticket will not be good to buy Cokes. It will be valid any time during the school year.

According to Dr. Charles D. Tenney, administrative assistant to the president, "There is absolutely no way to make money out of such a meal ticket system. Any deficit will be made up out of income from auxiliary enterprises. This plan is now in just an experimental stage, he said.

The meal ticket plan is a result of work done by the Student Council this summer. The Student Council has co-ordinated with the administration in working out such a system.

Tom Sloan, president of the Student Council, said, "Now with food prices so high all over Carbondale, there is no better time for a cafeteria meal ticket plan to be inaugurated. It is the hope of the Student Council that this practice will not be abused.

Freshman Camp Opens At Giant City Today

Freshman activities will be the most important part of the September program of the Student Christian foundation, Rev. Elwood K. Wylie, the foundation's director has announced. Annual freshman camp will be held this year at Giant City State park from this afternoon until tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. Wylie described the purpose of the camp as: To help freshmen to get ready for their religious life on the campus.

The program will be a combination of worship, recreation, and discussions centered around "Campus Success" and "Campus Religion." These discussions will be led by C. Horton Talley and Paul Hunsinger of the Southern speech department.

Next week, on Monday and Tuesday evenings members of the Student Christian foundation will visit freshmen who have indicated on their religious preference cards that they come from churches which are members of the denominations co-operating in the foundation. The freshmen will be invited to a special all-school party on Thursday, Sept. 21.

Plans are also underway, Rev. Wylie added, for a Freshman club which will meet during the fall term.

To Freshmen Only

Many of you freshmen have been receiving advice concerning college for the past several weeks. Perhaps these tips came from college friends, high school teachers, or from mother and dad.

By now most of you are burdened down with suggestions—both good and bad—but we cannot resist the temptation to pass on our humble advice.

First of all, don't become too enthusiastic or too pessimistic about college. Both bring equally bad results.

Those too enthusiastic soon find college has its darker side and that Southern, along with its virtues, has many faults.

Also don't build up teachers too high. Many are outstanding professors—as good as you'll find anywhere. A few, we are sorry to say, probably couldn't hold a teaching position at Pudruk Holler except for the tenure system.

The building situation at Southern is not what we would like it to be. In fact, you may find many of your classrooms and classroom equipment not as good as what you had in high school.

Southern is trying to remedy this bad situation—and believe us—it has made considerable headway in the past three or four years. However, it is a time-consuming process.

Each year many freshmen are startled to find that the "old college spirit" is not on an even par with the "high school spirit."

This is not to our liking. We understand plans are in the making for a much better cheering section. You freshmen can make or break that drive.

A few other tips:

If possible, don't get tied down to one eating place for a couple of weeks. Don't be content with just following other people's advice on where to eat. Try them out yourself.

Eat a couple of meals at University Drugs; go downtown to the Ritz or Green Mill; try the Baptist Foundation cafeteria and the University cafeteria. Try eating at some of the organized houses.

Of course, some of you won't be able to have this freedom of where to eat, but those of you who do, take advantage of it so you can be a better judge about where the best eating place is.

Are you friendly with your householder or housemother? This is a fairly important point often overlooked by beginning students. Also, are you considerate of the furniture in your room?

If you think your room lacks something it should have, ask for it, but don't be unreasonable. Feel free to ask advice or information of your householder, but don't burden the householder with all your beginning troubles.

It has been recommended that all students study two hours outside of class for every hour spent in class.

Some weeks you may have to spend more than the recommended time; other weeks you can get by on much less. It depends on the subjects you're taking, the teachers you have, and of course, your ability to master the subject. Hint: Few students study too much.

Your room may sound like the best place to study, but in many rooms, especially in large dormitories, it often isn't. If you do find your room too noisy, try the library. If you really go in for quietness, you probably will find the second floor slightly quieter than the first.

Caution: Many college teachers don't like to push students to study. Although these teachers say little about poorest grades and failure to get assignments, their pens speak forth boldly when they make out final grades.

And a last bit of advice: Don't be too hasty in forming opinions, especially the early part of this term. Just take things in a matter-of-fact attitude and before long you'll be in a better position to judge your roommates, your teachers, your courses, —and Southern. B. H.

Letters Welcomed

The Egyptian welcomes letters from its readers. They should be mailed to The Egyptian or dropped in a letter to the editor box in the first floor crosshalls of Old Main.

Letters should be brief and should be signed. Names will be withheld if requested.

Southern's students returned to the campus to find many advances—but about the biggest advance they found was the boost in price of coffee from 5 to 10 cents at the University Canteen.

Southern Exposure

SIU Has Several "Unwritten Laws"

By Harry Reinert

In past years there have been some gross misunderstandings among the freshman students concerning the "unwritten laws" of the university. Below are some of the more important points of this code. Upperclassmen may also learn something here.

All students "DO:" Study hard; participate in all school functions; attend all assemblies; read the Egyptian—and especially Southern Exposure—every week; vote in every campus election for best candidate regardless of political ties; and show lots of school spirit at all times. (Editor's Note: They do???)

Southern students "DON'T:" Go home every week end; cut classes; miss a single football game, play, or other similar event; walk across the campus lawns; go swimming in Lake Ridgway; participate in dirty politics; make noise in or swipe books from the library; think evil of any professors.

Freshmen, in addition to following the above rules, should also seek information about the bats in the attic of Old Main, the cannon, why Dr. Staff teaches nearly 100 frosh courses each term, and how to join campus organizations catering to their special interests.

In the past two years this column has been closed with famous last words and puns, respectively. This year the column will be closed with notable quotes, some original, some swiped. This week we quote—rather liberally—Schopenhauer, a quote which would be appropriate for the new library building. "If a book and a head collide and a hollow sound follows, is it necessarily the book that is empty?"

Simpson Injures Knee In Practice

Don Simpson, hard-running full-back from Fairfield, was the first football man to be seriously injured in practices this fall. Don, who had been looking very good in early sessions, sustained a wrenched knee early last week.

Simpson, now on crutches, was told by a local doctor that he would be unable to play for the remainder of the season. However, Don has high hopes of returning to active play before 1951. A sophomore, Simpson lettered in football, basketball, and track at his home town high school in Fairfield.

During his professional baseball career Babe Ruth was struck out 1330 times.

SIU Begins Erection Of 27 New Barracks

Erection of 27 new barracks recently moved here from Camp Ellis began last week. The barracks are to provide temporary housing for classrooms and offices until definite plans can be made.

In an effort to speed up production on the Obelisk to get it out on time, it is requested that all students, as well as members of the faculty, have their pictures taken promptly.

All students will be requested to give their names, classification, home town, and major when they report to have their photos made.

THE SCHEDULE is as follows:
Freshmen and Graduate students, Varsity Studio, 410 So. Illinois.
Sophomore students, Grindle Studio, 214 W. Monroe St.
Junior and Senior students, Nauman Studio, 793 So. Illinois.
Faculty members, Grindle Studio.

Photos will be taken during the period of Wednesday, Sept. 13, and Sat., Sept. 23 for students. And from Wed., Sept. 13, to Sat., Sept. 30, for members of the faculty.

Those who have not as yet received their 1950 Obelisk may do so any afternoon after 3. They may be obtained at the Obelisk office on the second floor of the student center building.

At present four of the barracks are being constructed on Thompson ave. Classroom and office space will be assigned in them as needed for the exception of one building which is to be used by the art department as an annex to the present Art Center. The four barracks will be ready for use sometime during the term.

Ground is being graded on the Dowdell land tract in preparation for the erection of seven of the 27 barracks. These will be made into mens' dormitories to house approximately 250 men students. An eighth barrack may be erected later for the same purpose. The dormitories will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the winter term.

Plans are now being made concerning the erection and use of the remaining 16 barracks.

Winter Term Student Teachers Should File Application Soon

Formal application for winter quarter student teaching must be made between Sept. 18 and Sept. 29, according to Dr. Charles D. Neal.

Failure to do this will mean the student cannot teach winter term. Application blanks may be obtained from the director of teacher training office, Administration barracks, Harwood ave.

Students wishing to teach must also have fulfilled university prerequisites, Dr. Neal said.

The requirements include a physical examination which will be given by the health service from Nov. 1-30. Those who fail to take their health examination at this time will not be given a student teaching assignment for winter term.

OTHER STUDENT teaching prerequisites are:

1. Application should be made to the director of teacher training one year prior to graduation.
2. Detailed form must be filled in a full quarter prior to teaching.
3. The student must pass satisfactorily a physical examination.
4. The student must be working toward the bachelor of science in education degree. (Exceptions are made only by the dean of the college of education.)
5. The student must have 128 quarter hours' credit, with a "C" average, before beginning work in student teaching.
6. The student in secondary education must have at least 16 quarter hours in the subject which he proposes to teach.
7. Students must have at least 12 quarter hours of professional education prior to student teaching. Secondary majors must have had G. and Sp. Ed. 205 and 305 or 345, as well as Ed. 315. Elementary majors must have had G. and Sp. Ed. 205 and 305 or 306, as well as Ed. 316.
8. The student must have taken Speech 101 and Speech 307, securing a grade of "C" or better. Special exemptions may be made by the chairman of the Speech department.
9. The student majoring or minoring in English must have completed English 300, securing a grade of "C" or better. The student majoring or minoring in other fields must have taken English 391, securing a grade of "C" or better. Special exemption may be made by the chairman of the Eng-

Labor Disputes Delay Installation of Lights For McAndrew Stadium

Delays in the construction of the lighting system for McAndrew stadium at Southern have forced the Athletic department to revise its plans for the first two football games of the season, Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin, has announced.

Games of Sept. 30 and Oct. 7 which were previously scheduled for 8 p.m. will now be played at 1:30 p.m.

The delays in the construction of the lights were caused by jurisdictional disputes between labor unions.

Note: No university credit is allowed for past experience in teaching.

Assignments of student teachers will be made one week prior to the pre-registration week of winter term.

It is hoped that the lighting system will be completed in time to play the remaining game scheduled at night on Nov. 10.

Southern Orchestra To Begin Practice

First rehearsal for the Southern Illinois Symphony's second season will be held on the stage of Shryock auditorium Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m., Dr. Maurits Kesnar, conductor, announced this week.

The orchestra, founded around the nucleus of the university symphony, last year gave four performances in six different Southern Illinois towns. The orchestra is composed not only of Southern students, but also of residents in the surrounding area. Dr. Kesnar has repeatedly pointed out that the orchestra has two primary aims—to bring "live" symphonic music to the towns of Southern Illinois, and to feature talented Southern Illinois soloists.

In issuing the call for members, Dr. Kesnar was very optimistic about the coming season. He said that the first season was a "great success, but I am sure that this season will be even more outstanding." Several programs have already been planned, including Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, Bizet's "L'Arlesienne Suite," Mendelssohn's "Midsummernight's Dream" music, and many other selections. Also, several leading soloists have

NEED APPLICATIONS

Freshmen interested in serving on the Student Council until the elections are held should apply to the Personnel Deans offices by Sept. 21.

It is hoped that a large number of candidates will submit application blanks to the Personnel Deans.

Application blanks may be secured from the Student Council or from the offices of the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women.

The interim appointments of two women and two men will be made by September 26, and the persons selected will serve until the third week of winter term.

PTA SCHOLARSHIPS OPEN TO SOPHOMORES

Sophomore students who have been graduated from high schools in which there are Parent-Teachers associations affiliated with the national PTA should contact the Dean of Men's office and Dean of Women's offices before Sept. 23 if they wish to apply for the $200 PTA scholarship.

Students to be eligible must plan to teach in the schools of Illinois upon graduation.

Students who have been contacted and have agreed to appear.

Dr. Kesnar said that he will welcome new students who wish to play with the orchestra, and that there is an especial shortage of strings.

SIU Footballers Prepare For Game With Hanover

Under the direction of new head coach, William H. (Bill) Waller, Southern Illinois University's football squad has just completed their second week of practice and are rapidly rounding into shape for their first 1950 contest at Hanover college Sept. 23.

Coach Waller started from the very first day with two grueling sessions including long scrimmages on the afternoon of every day. For the majority of the boys they have been through the toughest conditioning program in their careers.

Coach Waller, who comes to Southern from Yaldia Valley Junior college in Washington, reports that he is especially pleased with the spirit and enthusiasm of the squad as well as the unusually large turnout of close to 80. Waller expects over 100 candidates once school gets underway and he emphasized the fact that everyone will have an equal opportunity and all are potential first stringers. The coach is unimpressed by previous individual records of any candidate and his status will be determined on the practice field.

Returning for the first week of practice are several lettermen of last year headed by Captain Donald (Red) Cross, who is one of the most versatile athletes ever to don the Maroon and White. Cross started as a freshman fullback, switched to tackle his sophomore year and moved to both guard and end last year. He may play any position this year although he has been used mostly at tackle thus far.

Other returning lettermen are Phil Bruno, Homer Malone, Lou Bobka and Herb Cummins, Harold Call, Fred Brenzel, John Organ, Charles Oyster, Bob Brown, and Frank Kraus.

Warren Littleford, 225 lb. tackle from Vandalia, is expected to report for practice in the near future.

Other veterans who will see a lot of action this year are Bill Goodman, John Vanderpluym, Don Simpson, and Willie Malone.

Following the first game at Hanover College, the Maroons will open at home against Cape Girardeau Sept. 30.

FOOTBALL, 1950

Well, it's here! School, that is. And athletically speaking, football. And it's a new kind of football at SIU. Revamped, renovated, and revolving. In short, the Southern men seem to have accomplished a lot in the less than two weeks of practice that have washed by, with ample support from Southern Illinois rains. The field has been wet; in fact, it still is. But the hecklers and otherwise less critical spectators on the practice field sidelines have already denoted that the grid men look good for this early in the season.

The spirit on the squad seems to be good, and the sometimes jovial, sometimes driving, mannerisms of one Bill Waller, alias football coach, seem to have something to do with this atmosphere. At any rate, if the men continue to progress as they very apparently have during the past several days, football's outlook here is brightening.

From the limited observations we've made so far, it looks as if a lot of beef is going to be available for service in the forward wall, and the backfield looks plenty fast. Let's just wait and hope . . .

INDIAN BALL

Along with football and cross-country, another sport, usually reserved for spring here, will see some action this fall. For Glenn (Abe) Martin, erstwhile baseball mentor is going to put his diamond crew through a few paces this Indian summer in preparation for the 1951 season. Several of the veterans will be working out, getting in some helpful practice licks, and picking up possibly a few tricks to use next season. It all helps.

CORN IN SEPTEMBER

The name of John Corn is not a new name to SIU football fans. For John Corn established a coveted football record here at Southern during his four-year reign in the line of several good teams. After a year's absence, which he spent coaching at Benton, Big John has returned to coach the line this year, and it's a big step for him. But a football player doesn't make the All-Conference squads with the frequency that Corn did without possessing a goodly amount of tricks. John should do all right here, and should be learning all the time.

OUT ON THE LIMB

Halfback names Call, Vanderpluym, and Organ will be the ones most mentioned this year. Remember, we said so.
