King Tut Is Name For SIU's Saluki

Among the more distinguished of the many new faces on the Southern campus this fall is none other than King Tut.

Tut isn't the ancient Egyptian King of great fame, but is actually the new mascot of all SIU athletic teams. The King is a pedigree Saluki dog, symbol for Southern's nickname, the Salukis.

The dog, named King Tut by Doctor Lingle, arrived on the campus just one week ago last Monday from Farmington, Illinois. It stands 25 inches in height, is 36 inches long, and has a reddish color much like that of an Irish Setter. There are only about 500 of such dogs in the United States today.

KING WILL most probably make his first appearance before S.I.U. fans at Saturday night's home grid clash with Central Michigan.

According to Walter Mazurek of the athletic department, who is at present helping to train the dog, "King Tut is very excitable, skittish, not used to many people, and may take as long as six months to train before he becomes friendly."

New Cheerleaders Will Perform for Pep Rally Today

For the benefit of introducing Southern's new cheerleaders, an all school pep rally is scheduled to take place this afternoon at 4 p.m. at the flag pole in front of Old Main, according to Miss Eleanor Taft, director of student affairs.

Cheerleaders for the year were elected at special try-outs held on Tuesday night. From the group that tried out, two boys and four girls were selected by judges to make up the cheerleading squad. The cheerleaders are Charles Wildy, Ralph Miller, Jane Coombs, Joycelyn Wisley, Helen Huckleberry, and Mona Garland.

Judges were Miss Taft, John Mulkin, and Norman White.

A pep band will be present for the pep rally. Following the rally a snake dance to the football stadium is planned. The pep rally was also scheduled in order to stir student spirit for the first home football game of the season to be held tomorrow night.

Deferred Students Must Notify Draft Board

Proof that a student who has been deferred from military service has actually entered college and is attending classes must be promptly supplied to his Selective Service local board in the form of an official statement from the school, it has been ordered by Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois Selective Service director.

The student himself is responsible for making sure his board receives the necessary evidence of his attendance. Colonel Armstrong warned. In the absence of verification by the college, the board will assume that he is not in school and hence is not entitled to the deferment.

WHAT THE COLLEGE registrar must specifically certify to the local board is that the student is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of study leading to a degree. This certificate must be sent to the board on the college letterhead as soon as possible after the fall term opens and classes actually begin.

If a student leaves school or fails to pursue his course satisfactorily, the college will report the fact to his local board and the board will terminate his deferment, Colonel Armstrong said.

Student Council Holds Nominations For Replacements

Tuesday has been designated by the Student Council as nomination day when juniors and seniors may nominate one boy from each of the two classes to fill vacancies on the Student Council.

The senior vacancy was made when Jim Parker left for the service and the junior vacancy was made when Bob Coover transferred away from Southern.

Polls for the nominations will be located by the main gate in front of Old Main and will be open from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. In case of rain the polls will be moved to the cross halls of Old Main.

ELECTION for the two replacement representatives will be held one week from the day of nominations. In order to be eligible to be placed upon the ballot as a candidate in the election a student must receive a minimum of ten nominations and must have a minimum of 79 and a maximum of 116 quarter hours college credit for a junior position, and a minimum of 117 hours and a maximum of 170 hours for a senior position.

Present Student Council members will mail the polls during both the nominations and election.

Enrollment Figures Still Incomplete

Full-time enrollment at Southern for fall term had reached 2,664 by Thursday, Sept. 20, with registration totals in all divisions still incomplete.

So far, a total of 1,356 have registered in the extension division, and 150 in the vocational-technical institute. No figures are obtainable for the Belleville resident center enrollment, which totaled 56 last year.

Freedom Crusade Drive To Begin At SIU Tuesday

A "Crusade for Freedom" drive will begin on the SIU campus Tuesday, Sept. 25 and continue through Wednesday, Oct. 25 in cooperation with the Jackson county drive according to Dr. Frank Klingberg, chairman of the university drive and the International Relations club.

The drive is being made in cooperation with the county, state, and national drive which is under the auspices of the National Committee for Free Europe whose chairman is Gen. Lucius D. Clay. The drive is being held all over the nation to raise 3,500,000 dollars to supplement the "Voice of America" by building radio stations all over Europe in order to counter actions of the communist elements.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL met Tuesday and gave the drive their full approval and support. They outlined the procedure for the university drive which will be highlighted by the taking of contributions at the main gate and the placement of collection boxes at the Canteen, university cafeteria, student center, and University Drugs.

Volunteer workers who will take collections for the "Crusade for Freedom" will be members of the International Relations club and various other service organizations. However, all students who wish to work in the drive may do so. A meeting of the volunteers will be held Monday at 4 p.m.

A separate drive will take place at the same time as the student drive for faculty members and administrative workers at the university.

Activities for the day will begin at 3 p.m. with campus tours. At 4:00 parents have been invited to assemble in Shryock auditorium for a welcoming by SIU President Morris. Dr. C. Horton Talley, chairman of the speech department, will deliver the featured address. The Student Center will hold an open house immediately following.

At 8 p.m. the SIU Salukis will meet Central Michigan for the opening football game of the season. Both parents will be admitted to the game for the price of one plus taxes. Parents' tickets will go on sale at 5 p.m. Saturday at the ticket office. Parents will be able to sit with their sons or daughters in the student section of the stadium.

TOMORROW HAS also been designated as Scout Day and scouts from all over Southern Illinois will be honored at the game. A marching demonstration will be performed by the scouts preceding the game. The Boy Scout troops will be judged at that time according to number in the troops, general appearance and marching ability. Awards to the winning troops will be mailed at a later date.

Half-time ceremonies will consist of special Indian dances performed by visiting Boy Scouts. Also at the half, President D. W. Morris will deliver a welcome address to visiting parents, and scouts. Scout Day is being sponsored by the Alpha Phi Omega, men's service organization.

Back the Salukis!

A new school year has just begun and with it comes a renewed interest in sports. The colleges and universities throughout the nation are grooming their teams for another season of football, basketball, and the other athletic attractions that go to make up collegiate sports.

In the past year we have had several major scandals involving college sports. Big time gambling and racketeering have made an entry into the picture.

Why should we at Southern be concerned with this problem? To the public, what happens at one school is some indication of what may be happening at another. For many years Southern's athletic teams have gone under the title of Maroons and now that banner has been replaced. The name Maroons was as clean when it was hung up last year as the day it was first worn with the campus colors. The name Salukis has been chosen to replace it. Salukis must also go through the years with the same honor as its predecessor.

BUT THE ATHLETES must realize some gain from their efforts in their various fields. Here is where every student can make his or her contribution. The cheers and support of the student body can make a lot of difference. Indifference of the student body can make a game seem unimportant and not worth the effort to win it. Then the offer of a gambler can be a big temptation.

The support of Southern's athletic program is a vital issue. Attendance at games and pep sessions is one means by which the students can tell the athlete that they are behind him. B. P.

Life With Father

My father has progressed more in the last few years than he had in his entire previous existence. Just a few years ago he seemed stupid, silly, and old-fashioned. Accordingly, I could see no reason whatever in the things he said I should know, do, or not do.

A year or two passed and the instructions he gave me were a little less stupid, not so silly, and his ideas had been brought up to date more than before. He, however, had a lot to learn about life behavior, and what a young man should be permitted to do. The years passed; my father changed; his moods are no longer contrary to mine; and he seems to have corrected all of his major faults.

Yes, my father has really progressed with the last few years. He has become more and more my source of information, hand of guidance, and partner in frolic. In fact, the more I learn, the smarter he gets, the older I get, the more adult he becomes. Come to think of it, how my father got along in the world before I started learning is a mystery I haven't been able to solve. T. W.

Presents Exhibit At Du Quoin Fair

Featuring demonstrations in various fields, from home economics to strip mining, the Southern Illinois University exhibit at the Du Quoin State Fair, Aug. 27-Sept. 3, was one of the largest in the grandstand exhibit hall.

Visitors to the SIU exhibit were able to use ordinary cameras for taking fast action shots of exploding bulbs, to hear recordings of their own voices, to see their own handwriting projected on screens, and to view colorful dioramas depicting the story of strip mining in Southern Illinois.

IN HOME ECONOMICS and industrial education demonstrations, one student, strictly an amateur, demonstrated how to construct and upholster a living room chair, completing the entire job while the fair was in progress. Another showed some of the latest methods of making dresses in a minimum of time.

Millions of "germs" that cause many of the common diseases are everywhere. But have you ever seen one? Some of these tiny organisms were on display in the S.I.U. exhibit.

The "germs" actually were only a part of a unit prepared by the SIU microbiology department which has attracted international attention for research with yeast cells and which only recently was awarded a research grant by a committee of the Atomic Energy commission.

SIU Expands Program Of Agriculture Testing

Improving the economic status of the Southern Illinois farmer is the major objective behind an expanding testing program being carried on by the agriculture department here at SIU, says Dr. W. E. Keeper, chairman.

Such phases of farming as production of grains, fruit and vegetable crops, dairying, meat animals, poultry, and woodlands, are being touched at several points by at least 20 testing projects being directed by members of the SIU agriculture staff.

Some of a limited nature have been completed; others are being carried on from year to year in a continuous program. The aim is to make known the adaptability to the Southern area of some of the basic research findings of major universities and experiment stations.

This year under the direction of W. T. Andrew the university expanded its testing program in the field of commercial vegetable production.

HIGH SCHOOL CHORAL DIRECTORS MEET HERE

Choral directors from area high schools met here at Southern Saturday in preparation for the annual Southern Illinois Choral clinic to be held here Nov. 10.

Directors met with David Foltz, choral director of the University of Nebraska and guest director of this year's clinic. More than 1300 high school students sang in the clinic last year.

SIU Extension Courses Total 48

Southern Illinois University launched 48 extension classes in 32 Southern Illinois towns last week, according to Raymond H. Dey, director of the University Division of Extension and Adult education.

Faculty Members Bring Acclaim to Southern

The work of William M. Marberry, Kenneth A. Ervin, and Wayne M. Mann, all members of Southern's staff, is attracting attention in far-away places.

Michael Lorant, London, England, correspondent for a chain of overseas newspapers, has written requesting pictures and story of the paper chairs which Ervin, instructor in art, invented. Lorant first read of Ervin's chairs in the August issue of "Popular Mechanics Magazine." Look magazine has made a similar request, and Ervin has received correspondence and clippings from coast to coast.

CARLETON SMITH, President of Bement and presently of London, has written requesting seeds from Marberry, assistant professor of botany. Smith read of Marberry's direction of the campus beautification program and responsibility for the large collection of hollies and exotic flowers in the ship's newspaper as he crossed the Atlantic on a Dutch ship.

After Quick magazine recently published a photograph and description of Mann's "Magnagraph" King Features, Inc., Elsie Hix of "Strange As It Seems," and various business and educational publications have requested detailed information. Mann is director of the Alumni Services.

Student Speakers Bureau Organizes

A student speakers bureau has been organized again this fall at Southern.

Major function of the bureau will be to provide speakers upon request to various organizations in the SIU area. Qualified students have registered with the bureau to deliver such programs as book reviews, poetry readings, humorous readings, and lecture-recitals. The speakers are available without fee and will receive academic credit for their speaking engagements.

The Rotary club of Harrisburg is the first to take advantage of this service. Students Thomas Sloan, West Farnfork; Marilyn Wakeland, Carbondale; and Robert Cagle, Metropolis; appeared on the Rotary program Monday, Sept. 17. Miss Wakeland delivered a humorous reading, "Intimate Disclosures of a Wronged Woman"; Sloan spoke on "How To Tell Your Friends From the Apes"; and Cagle gave selections from Ogden Nash.

ART DEPARTMENT OFFERS EVENING POTTERY CLASS

A non-credit evening class in pottery under the guidance of F. Carlton Ball, internationally known ceramic artist, has been added to the schedule of art classes here at Southern.

First meeting of the non-credit class was scheduled for Sept. 19 in room 109, Allyn art building, from 6:30 to 9 p. m. Tuition fee is $5.00.

Salukis Face Central Michigan in Grid Opener

Southern's Salukis will be hosts of Central Michigan tomorrow evening in the first I.I.A.C. game of the 1951 football season.

Central, a team picked by many experts as the one to watch in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, may prove to be the toughest opponent which the Salukis will have to face in their eight game schedule.

Bob McDaniels, second in passing among the small colleges last season, will again captain the Michigan team from his quarterback position. McDaniels' accuracy plus the capability or incapability of Southern's pass defense may prove to be the deciding factors in the contest.

The Saluki pass defense, often pitifully erratic last year, has visibly improved in practice sessions thus far. But, as in everything, time will tell, and the time will be when the Michigan sureshot sets his sights on his receivers.

The Salukis will run their offense from both the single wing and "T" formations tomorrow, with Herb Cummins and Joe Huske probably doing most of the calling. The probable starting offensive line-up, according to coach Bill Waller will be:

- Leo Wilson, LE
- Dick Ryan, L.T.
- Lou Bobka, LG
- Tim Bowers, C
- Junior Funderburke, RG
- Jim Buckler RT
- Bill Wangelin RE
- Herb Cummins QB
- John Vanderpluy, LH
- Reid Martin RH
- Bob Ems, FB

Ryan and Bowers are both newcomers in the line. In the backfield, all are veterans of last season. Martin, however, was used mostly as a defensive line backer during the 1950 campaign.

Although the starting line-up is composed mainly of veterans, Waller will have to count heavily on

Cross-Country Meet Scheduled for Oct. 5

Southern will open its 1951 cross-country season on Oct. 5, when the Salukis will travel to Charleston for a dual meet with Eastern.

Only two veterans have returned from last year's conference champions. The two lettermen from last year's five man team are captain Phil Coleman and Harry Pick. Coleman, a Carbondale senior, is also the defending I.I.A.C. title holder.

Coach "Doc" Lingle will have about 18 candidates from which to choose replacements for such track stars as Joe McLafferty, Ray Palmer, and Roy Lambert. Palmer and McLafferty have both graduated since the 1950 season, and Lambert has since been called into service with the Air Force.

Approval of the remainder of this season's schedule is yet to come.

Baseball Team Drops Opener to Fairfield

Southern's baseball team opened its fall season Saturday by dropping a 9-2 game to the Fairfield Merchants.

Tom Millikin pitched all nine innings and gave up 13 hits. Fairfield's Pitcher Ware limited Southern to five singles and fanned nine batters. The game was played at Fairfield.

Despite the score Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin was not displeased with the team's showing. He cited the strength of his outfield and catching.

Martin played a different team Wednesday night when Southern fielded the Capahaws at Cape Girardeau. Purpose of his fall program is to season his squad for the regular spring season.

The Salukis scored both their runs in the fifth inning, on singles by Bud Ripplemeyer and Wilbur Miller, a walk and an error.

SIU Becomes Member Of National Group

Southern Illinois University has received national recognition upon its selection for membership as one of 75 universities into the National University Extension association, Raymond H. Dey has announced. Dey is director of the SIU Division of Extension and Adult Education.

Membership election came at the annual convention of the national association upon the recommendations of L. H. Adolfsen, who represented the admissions committee in a visit to the SIU campus last spring. Adolfsen is president of the association and director of the extension division at the University of Wisconsin.

THE GEORGIA School of Technology and University of Maryland were elected to membership along with SIU. The University of Illinois and University of Chicago are the only other Illinois universities within the association.

Membership will qualify Southern extension workers to attend regional and national workshops and to receive association reports on newest extension procedures in operation throughout the nation.

Gereke To Speak At High School Press Conference

Student journalists and advisers from 87 high schools will discuss improvements for yearbooks and newspapers at the annual Southern Illinois high school press association meeting to be held at Southern Illinois University Sept. 28 and 29.

Rev. Henry F. Gerecke, Lutheran representative at Menard Penitentiary and assistant to the pastor of the St. John Lutheran Church, Chester, will speak at the luncheon on Sept. 29. Rev. Gerecke, an Army chaplain in World War II, was spiritual adviser to high Nazis on trial at Nuremberg, Germany, in 1945.

A dance for the high school students and an adviser's banquet on Sept. 28 are new features of the conference this year, according to Donald Grubb, SIU instructor in journalism and director of the association.

A section on the publication of mimeographed high school newspapers has been added to the conference curriculum. The SIU photographic service will demonstrate the latest techniques and equipment used in newspaper and yearbook photography.

DELEGATES MAY attend discussions on the fundamentals of high school news reporting, the writing of features that count for readership interest, writing the sports story, and editorial campaigns.

Yearbook staffs will attend sections on book design, offset yearbook production, yearbook photography and themes, and yearbook budgets.

An editor's problems, tapping of news sources, producing ads with character, and "gossip" columns also are topics to be discussed at the conference.
