PhD Program
Expanded

Two more departments have been authorized to begin doctoral degree training here this fall, bringing to nine the number of PhD programs in effect at SIU.

Southern's Board of Trustees last month authorized the department of anthropology and health education to accept PhD candidates. The board also recommended that the departments of physical education and women's and physiology instruction be granted doctorate degree programs in the fall of 1961.

Action was taken following extensive investigations of the department facilities, library holding, laboratory and physical fitnesses, and basic courses by qualified specialists.

Departments now offering PhD training are government, speech pathology, microbiology, social education, psychology, zoology, elementary education and educational administration and supervision.

Final tryouts for Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" will be held at 8 p.m. tonight at the Southern Little Theatre.

SU's Queens

Barbara Gill, Tella Johnson and Rose Marie Hohlich have been chosen for the position of Southern's comedown queens for 1961. Each year the students are selected for the task of cleaning and straightening the gowns of Southern's comedown queens.

There are several crowning events each year-Miss Thompson Point, Miss Southern Arena, Miss Southern outdoor and a few in fact have suggested crowning a "Miss Min." None of the major or more elaborate events in the Miss Southern crown Homecoming Queen and the Military Ball Queen.

Carmie McGinnis, 1890-91 Military Ball Queen, was selected from a field of five contestants by the 2,000 members of the local AFROTC unit. Her court consisted of Bolinda Gates, Phyllis McCauley, Bonnie Mootz and Barry Wood.

Miss McGinnis replaced Barbara Latcha February 5th at Southern's only formal dance of the year. The theme was "The Carpeled Dragon" and the best themeSetter was the "Flight of the Nightingale." Mary Ruth Nevin was crown- ed Miss Southern Homecoming Queen of 1960-61 before a capacity crowd in the Student Auditorium by the mysterious King Surprise.
