Gorbachev, Yeltsin plan transitions

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev and Russian Federation President Boris Yeltsin, their post-coup unity on display once more, urged lawmakers Tuesday to approve emergency measures preserving some central control but giving republics new powers. Meanwhile, the Soviet Union's three Baltic republics Tuesday applied for membership in the United Nations with the backing of France, Britain and the United States, three of the five permanent Security Council members. In separate speeches to the Congress of People's Deputies, Gorbachev and Yeltsin solicited support for a blueprint of transitional rule in the country, which they signed Sunday with the heads of other Soviet states. "We are living at a time when we must react in unconventional ways with unconventional decisions," Gorbachev said. "We're talking about transitional organs, but we must very rapidly create new structures of authority. ... Winter is coming on. The economic situation must be dealt with in a coordinated way." Russian Prime Minister Ivan Silayev, whom Yeltsin and Gorbachev put in charge of an interim economic-management committee after the coup, said the panel has taken steps to ensure adequate supplies of food and fuel this winter. Gorbachev, who was held captive in the Crimea for three days last month while Yeltsin rallied the resistance that repudiated the coup, see TRANSITION, page 6

Pentagon Papers reporter to give lecture at SIUC

By Kristina R. Rominger
General Assignment Writer

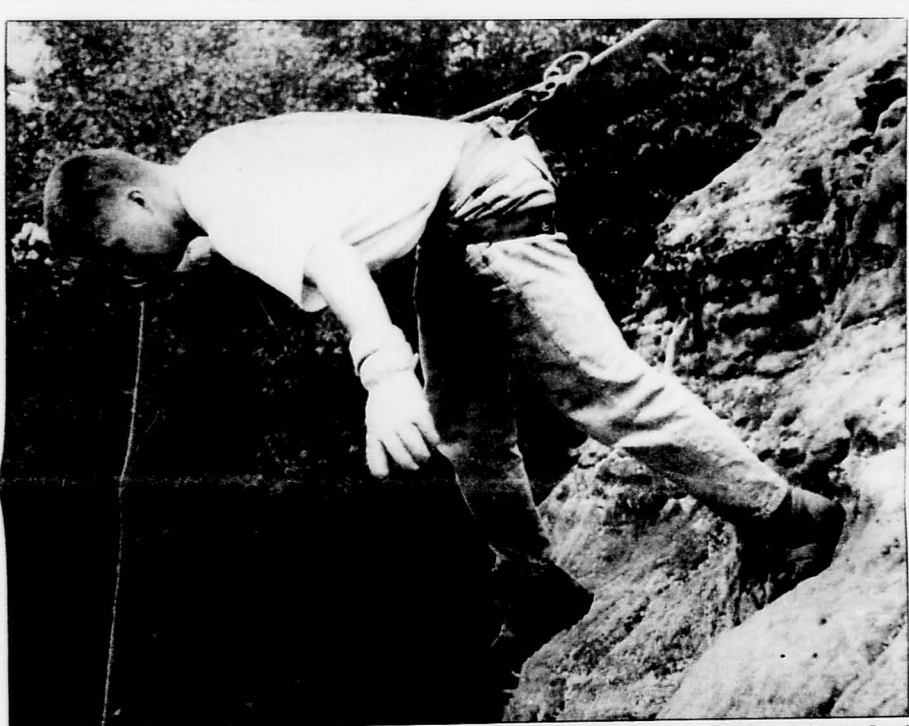

A Vietnam-era reporter who started a chain of events in a landmark Supreme Court decision pitting the media against national security will speak Oct. 15 at SIUC. Neil Sheehan, who received a copy of a report for the New York Times from the Pentagon that later became known as the Pentagon Papers, is part of the 1991-92 University Honors Lecture Series. Former Pentagon official Daniel Ellsberg gave the New York Times and Washington Post a classified 47-volume study conducted by the Pentagon that contained letters, memos and other documents, including analyses of every step in U.S. involvement with Vietnam. The Times and Post began publishing articles based on the Pentagon Papers. Government officials obtained a temporary restraining order preventing publication of articles about the report in the New York Times, after the Times refused to stop

Council extends hours for parking, raises fee

By Annette Holder

The Carbondale City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to increase parking meter enforcement four hours from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and to increase city parking fees from 40-cents to 25-cents an hour. The council also voted to provide assistance to SIUC student leaders to continue work on getting a special service district that allows students to park for free in areas supported by businesses. But student leaders said a special service district will never be implemented once the see COUNCIL, page 6

The parents and police officials began a series of statewide meetings in Rockford and made stops in Chicago, Bloomington, Champaign and Carbondale in an effort to spread information about Subbiah and the continuing search for her.

A total of 12 law enforcement agencies at federal, state and local levels are involved in the search along with family friends and volunteers, but more help is needed, R.V. Subbiah said.

Shelly Lane, freshman from Bartonville, practices pitching at the Saluki softball team's opening practice Tuesday. As a high school senior, Lane was 16-4 with 197 strikeouts.

Batters stirred for fall; coach wants right mix

By Norma Wilke
Sports Writer

Even with a good group of players coming back and new people coming in, the Saluki softball team will have a tough time repeating as Gateway Conference champions, coach Kay Brechtelsbauer said.

The team started fall practice Tuesday, and Brechtelsbauer said she hopes the team is ready to make strides toward a repeat of the remarkable 42-7 spring season.

"We have a good returning nucleus of players and a good group of new people," she said. "I think we'll compete again as conference champions."

"It will be a tough year trying to repeat last season. But the team has been waiting for this day. They were eager to start practice."

The Salukis have lost four starting players to graduation. Brechtelsbauer said repeating last year's record-setting season, when the Salukis were undefeated in all 14 regular season conference games, would be hard even if the team had the same players back.

The Salukis lost third sacker Mary Jo Firnbach, who started a record 184 games and was named all-conference for two years. Also gone is left fielder Shannon Taylor, who stole a record 20 bases in 1991, is the University's career leader with 110 runs scored and 58 stolen bases and was named all-conference two years.

Other seniors who graduated are Angie LeMonnier, who started 181 games at first base and finished with 100 career hits, and pitcher Lisa Robinson, who finished her

Coach: Salukis 'fortunate' to sign standout recruits

By Norma Wilke
Sports Writer

The new recruits will have to work hard to help replace graduated seniors for successful fall and spring Saluki softball seasons, coach Kay Brechtelsbauer said.

"Obviously I'll know more after I've seen them play," Brechtelsbauer said. "I feel good about them from their experience in high school, and I feel that SIUC is very fortunate to have some of these people."

SIUC will gain Karrie Irvin, a transfer from Illinois Central College where she played center field and was named a Junior College All-American.

Both years Irvin played for the college it qualified for the Junior College National Championship. She is a graduate of Streator High School where she was a three time all-conference pick and was named Senior Athlete of the year.

"I'm very excited about playing for SIUC," Irvin said. "It has a very good softball program plus the academics look promising. The team has a lot of good players and good recruits. I think we'll have a good season."

Brechtelsbauer said Irvin is a strong hitter and has good speed as an outfielder.

Another recruit is Shelly Lane, a right-handed pitcher from Bartonville Limestone High School. Lane was an All-State pick in Class AA in 1990.

As a senior Lane had a 16-4 record with 197 strikeouts. She was team MVP and an unanimous all-conference pick.

Pitching coach Gary Buckles said Lane was considered to be one of the best players in Illinois.

"She has an excellent drop ball, and when we develop other pitches to go along with it, she'll be a very strong pitcher," Buckles said. "We're very fortunate to get Shelly."

Marlo Pecoraro, an outfielder from Belleville East, also will play for SIUC.

career with a 33-16 record and a 1.09 ERA in 102.1 innings.

Junior Angie Mick, a returning pitcher who was named all-conference last season, said she hopes the short fall season, which begins with a doubleheader at Wabash College Sept. 14, will prepare the team to compete for the conference title in the spring.

Intentional passes: Three walk-ons await last pitch

By Todd Eschman
Sports Writer

Although the Saluki baseball season doesn't begin for another seven months, head coach Sam Riggelman is patching up a team that has lost five starting position players and six pitchers after the spring.

Three of the Salukis' biggest losses were pitchers Sean Bergman and Al Levine and infielder Kurt Endebrook. The three were selected in the June 1991 major league draft.

To fill the voids left by the departed players, Riggelman has recruited seven high school and junior college standouts. He also conducted walk-on tryouts last week.

Forty-five players showed up for the three day tryout.

Riggelman said three non-position players will undergo continued evaluation in daily intrasquad games. He would not release their names because of their uncertain futures on the team.

Riggelman said players were given "pro style" tryouts to access their ability.

"We evaluated them on arm strength, running ability and hitting ability," Riggelman said. "Pitchers get put on the (radar) gun to show us what kind of velocity they have on their pitches. Mechanics is the most important thing."

Riggelman said very few players make the team as walk-ons and recruiting is the main source of talent.

"We can't rely on the tryouts," he said. "The baseball program survives with recruiting. But if we find a skilled player, that always helps."

Among the recruited high school players is 6-foot-4-inch pitcher Mike Blang. Blang recorded 92 strikeouts and a .48 ERA while earning Wisconsin Player of the Year honors.

Two other pitchers were recruited, and Riggelman hopes they can fill the gap left by Bergman.

Right-hander Ryan Norris struck out 158 batters in 102.1 innings, in his senior season, en route to a 12-3 record. Lefty John Newkirk earned Most Valuable Player honors at his high school posting an 11-1 record with 154 strikeouts.

Triathlete triumphs; to try toughest test in tropical Iron Man

By Cyndi Oberle

After winning two national triathlons in the last six months, Cameron Widoff is on his way to compete in the Bud Light Iron Man Triathlon in Kona, Hawaii.

The April 14 Crawfishman Challenge Triathlon in New Orleans, in which Widoff finished first, qualified him for the Oct. 19 Iron Man.

This will be Widoff's second excursion to Hawaii to compete in the Iron Man. In 1990, he finished 86th out of about 1,350 participants. He clocked in with a time of 9:58:57 in the 2.4-mile ocean swim, 112-mile bike ride and 26.4-mile marathon.

"Just finishing the Iron Man gave me a sense of well being," said Widoff, a senior in exercise physiology from Woodstock. "I have learned more about myself in the past year training for the 1991 Iron Man than I

Seles strolls to semis with straight set slam

NEW YORK (UPI) — Although she won't win a popularity contest among her fellow players, Monica Seles became the first of them to reach the U.S. Open semifinals Tuesday with a routine romp over Gigi Fernandez.

Seles, seeded second, moved within two victories of sweeping her third Grand Slam championship this year by crushing Fernandez 6-1, 6-2.

On the same court where a day earlier Jimmy Connors had battled for 4 hours and 41 minutes to wear down Aaron Krickstein, the 17-year-old Seles completed her business in 53 minutes, whipping through the opening set in 18 minutes.

In the semis, Seles will meet the winner of Tuesday evening's match between defending champion Gabriela Sabatini and Jennifer Capriati.

Fernandez was asked if Seles' popularity among the players had suffered after her mysterious withdrawal from Wimbledon.

"I don't think I should answer that," said Fernandez, a 27-year-old doubles specialist who lives in Aspen, Colo. "What I can say is I don't think she is very popular in the locker room, but she never was. This is not a popularity contest."

YELTSIN TRUSTS GORBACHEV 'ENTIRELY' — Boris Yeltsin said Tuesday he now trusts his on-and-off enemy Mikhail Gorbachev "entirely, or almost entirely" and added the collapse of the coup gave the Soviet leader one last chance to prove he is a democrat. In the latest chapter in the love-hate relationship between the two dominant Soviet political figures, Yeltsin also said he believes Gorbachev has gained political standing since the abortive coup, but not enough to win a popular election.

CHARGES FILED AGAINST SALVADORAN ARMY — An organization representing civilians in combat zones Tuesday filed a complaint with the United Nations about deaths and injuries from indiscriminate shelling and shooting by the Salvadoran army. "We presented the United Nations observers with a projectile that tore off the leg of an elderly woman during a bombardment," said Morena Magarina, spokeswoman for the Christian Committee for Refugees and the Displaced.

YUGOSLAVIAN PEACE CONFERENCE MOVED UP — European Community foreign ministers Tuesday decided to speed up a peace conference on Yugoslavia and scheduled it to start Saturday amid growing Yugoslav violence that threatened to destroy an EC-brokered truce. The EC ministers, meeting in an emergency session, chose Lord Carrington — an ex-British foreign secretary and former NATO secretary-general — to chair the peace conference.

SUBWAY MOTORMAN INDICTED — Manhattan prosecutors revealed Tuesday that the motorman at the helm of last week's deadly subway derailment has been indicted by a grand jury on five counts of murder — one for each victim. The motorman, Robert Ray, 38, had been charged with manslaughter, but Manhattan Assistant District Attorney Daniel Brownell said a grand jury upgraded the charges to five counts of second-degree murder.

JUDGE REFUSES TO BLOCK DEPOSITIONS — A judge refused Tuesday to block the release of depositions given by three women who claimed they were sexually assaulted by William Kennedy Smith. But Palm Beach County Circuit Judge Mary Lupo gave Smith's attorneys two days to appeal her ruling to the 4th District Court of Appeal in West Palm Beach. The depositions were among 20 that were taken primarily by police investigating the alleged rape of a woman at the Kennedy estate.

EXPLOSION IN BROOKLYN KILLS THREE — Rescuers Tuesday searched for more victims in the charred rubble of two row houses in Brooklyn ripped by an explosion that killed at least three people and set the buildings ablaze. The explosion erupted at 6:35 p.m. Monday inside the six-unit structures in the quiet residential neighborhood, and 200 firefighters battled the ensuing blaze until it was declared under control at 12:46 a.m. Tuesday.

CHILD SAFETY SEATS LENT TO DRIVERS — Instead of handing out tickets, some Illinois police will be lending free child safety seats to people who are stopped for not having the restraints. The Secretary of State Tuesday kicked off a program called "Operation Precious Cargo," an initiative aimed at making sure more children are buckled up. When police officers stop drivers who fail to secure children under age 4 in a car seat, the officers will loan the motorists a car seat for 30 days.
'BILL OF RIGHTS' PROPOSED BY TREASURER — Illinois Treasurer Patrick Quinn Tuesday proposed a "Property Taxpayer Bill of Rights" that would require election of more local tax officials, peg homeowner and senior citizen exemptions to the cost of living and mandate a shift of the tax burden in Lake and DuPage counties away from homes and farms. The plan, which would require legislative enactment, also would establish a "Taxpayer Advocate Board" similar to the Citizens Utility Board.

Blood drive needs turnout to fight regional shortage

By John Sommerhof
General Assignment Writer

The American Red Cross is calling on SIUC students to help balance out a blood shortage in Southern Illinois.

The Ameritus Association is sponsoring a two-day blood drive from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday in Ballroom D at the Student Center.

A Red Cross official said the blood supply has been short since the middle of May, and the amount of people giving blood has dropped off since the end of Operation Desert Storm.

"At our present collection rate, we will fall short of meeting hospital needs by 500 units per week," said Vivian Ugent, American Red Cross blood drive coordinator.

Ugent said current blood supplies are being used only for emergency and surgery situations.

"Some people require blood as a treatment or need it for organ transplants and with the shortage they are missing opportunities," Ugent said.

Ugent said the goal of the six-day blood drive is to collect 1060 units with the hope of getting 800 units from SIUC.

"What people may not understand is the amount of blood required for some operations," Ugent said.

"A liver transplant may require 100 units of blood," she said.

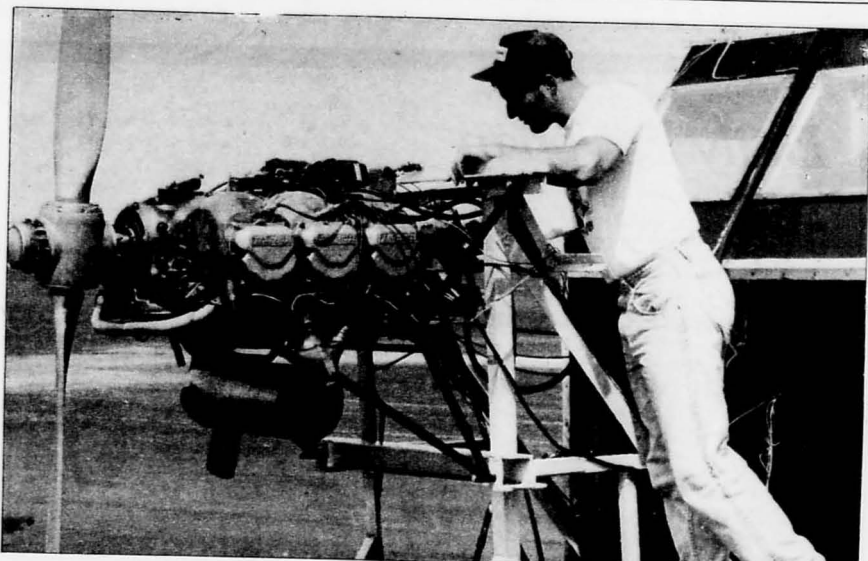

Ugent said the students and faculty at SIUC have always been good supporters of the blood drives and hope for a good turnout.

"It only takes about a half hour and donors can make appointments in advance if they need to fit it into their schedules," she said. Ugent said giving blood is a painless, sterile procedure.

"The only thing you could get from giving blood is a lot of free food," she said. Sandwiches, cookies, fruit and juices are available to donors.

To make an advance appointment, donors can call The American Red Cross at 529-2151, Vivian Ugent at 457-5258 and personnel services at 453-6668.

A table also will be set up in the Hall of Fame area at the Student Center from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. today.

Students can still phone chancellor

By Julie Autor
Administration Writer

Like Pettit, Brown to keep home number in directory

Most University administrators make it easy for students to reach out and touch them by publishing their home telephone numbers. The numbers are listed in the student directory, a listing of administrators, students and professor's telephone numbers and addresses.

Former SIUC Chancellor Lawrence K. Pettit's telephone number was available in the regional GTE directory but not in the student directory. Pettit was unaware his home telephone number was not listed in the student directory. He said anybody should be able to reach him at 529-4823.

"It's a risk I'm willing to take," Pettit said. "I believe in being accessible. I think it is important that not just students, but their parents know how to reach me if there is a crisis." Pettit said he hasn't had many problems having his number listed. "It really hasn't been that much of a burden," Pettit said. "I've had some crank calls and we occasionally get drunken calls at two in the morning when the bars are ready to close. But that doesn't happen that often. People are pretty polite about it."

Accessibility to the chancellor continued when James M. Brown became acting chancellor Sept. 1. Brown said his number will remain listed and he does not believe it will cause many problems.

"A telephone number is a very peculiar kind of property these days," Brown said. "I simply have never felt the necessity to not have my number listed. If I had a number of crank calls, I might want to do something about it, but I don't anticipate that."

Pettit said having a phone number listed is a matter of personal choice, and could see where some people would not want their number listed because of family circumstances. But some University administrators keep their telephone numbers out of the student directory.

SIUC President John C. Guyon and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs John S. Haller are two top administrators whose home telephone numbers are unlisted.

"My phone number has been unlisted for the past 17 years and I see no reason to change it," Guyon said. "My wife and I enjoy our privacy when we get home."

Vice Chancellor for Administration Thomas Britton said he made the choice to have his telephone number listed.

Policy should cover all women's options

PREGNANCY IS a time that is very difficult for a woman to handle, not only emotionally and physically, but financially as well.

The student insurance offered at SIUC gives women who choose to have their babies some financial help, but what about the women who choose not to have their babies?

Shouldn't they have the opportunity to receive financial help, too?

Although the issue of abortion has always been controversial, abortion is legal and it is an option for a woman dealing with a pregnancy.

The insurance offered to students at SIUC covers the cost of a pregnancy but not the cost of an abortion.

AN ABORTION is not covered because a Health Service poll conducted in the early 1980s indicated that the students did not want the cost of abortions covered by insurance.

The Health Service should consider conducting another poll to see if the attitudes of students have changed in the past 10 years.

Times have changed, and people's attitudes have changed. After all, abortion had been legal for only about seven years prior to the poll.

Because the majority of women who become pregnant while at SIUC choose to have an abortion, it is likely that those students would have been grateful for insurance coverage.

ANOTHER SOLUTION might be to make the fee optional. Students who want that coverage on their insurance can pay an extra fee. The insurance fee would remain the same for those students who don't want the coverage.

That doesn't necessarily mean the students who choose to have the coverage are planning to have an abortion, but maybe it is better to be safe than sorry.

People who live in earthquake-prone areas usually invest in earthquake insurance, just in case. It is the same principle.

THE STUDENT insurance currently does cover abortions if the pregnancy endangers a woman's life, but what about women who are raped?

Although the percentage of women who get pregnant after being raped is very low, it does exist and these circumstances should be considered.

Because the insurance covers the expense of an abortion does not mean the company or SIUC is advocating abortion.

If the insurance covers one option—having the baby—it should cover the other option.

Free thinking should dominate classroom to preserve diversity

By Markus Funk
 Daily Illini

Here at the University and at campuses across America, thousands of freshmen with brains filled with fluff are hooking up their stereos and, at least in theory, getting down to the business of learning what they should have learned in high school—how to think.

Problems arise when professors and university administrators take it upon themselves to teach students what to think instead of how to think.

The classic liberal-arts education ("liberal" is derived from Latin for "free," and the Greek translation of "liberal" is "a free man" as opposed to slave) has been replaced by a political liberalism that has little resemblance to the original definition.

Last summer, at the University of Texas, an attempt was made to give a uniform political topic and text to all sections of English 306, the school's only required course on composition. All sections were to read "Racism and Sexism," an anthology of writings with a pronounced left-wing slant.

The text explains that a non-white "may discriminate against white people or even hate them," but cannot be called a "racist."

The book's editor, a New Jersey sociologist, sends her students to formulate a "class analysis of shopping malls." They go to a boutique mall and a mall for the masses.

"I have them count how many public toilets are in each and bring back samples of the toilet paper. It makes class distinction visible," the sociologist said.

After some faculty members protested the subordination of instruction to political indoctrination, that text was dropped, and the decision about revising English 306 was postponed.

But there is pressure to offer courses loaded with political content, thinly disguised under some aniseptic course title such as "Writing about Differences—Race and Gender" or perhaps even "Speech Communications 177—The Art of Public Discourse."

Such skirmishes in the curricula were occurring because campuses have become refuges for radicals who want universities to be as thoroughly politicized as they are. Like broken records stashed in the nation's attic in 1968, these politicized professors say:

America is oppressive, imposing subservience on various victim groups. The culture is permeated with racism, sexism, heterosexism and classism (oppression of the working class), so the first task of the universities is "consciousness raising."

This is done with "diversity education," which often is an attempt to produce intellectual uniformity by promulgating political orthodoxy.

This orthodoxy is reinforced—and enforced—by codes of conduct called "anti-harassment" codes, under which the designated groups of victims are protected from whatever they decide offends them.

To cure the offensiveness of others, therapists and thought police are proliferating on campuses, conducting "sensitivity seminars" and similar activities.

The irony of this fierce inquisition in the name of "cultural diversity" is that the radicals are hardly creating a campus atmosphere of love and mutual respect.

Professor Alan Kors of the University of Pennsylvania observes that campuses today have "the cultural diversity of Beirut. There are separate, armed camps. The black kids don't mix with the white kids. The Asians are off by themselves. Oppression is the great status symbol."

Certainly anyone who has been at the University for more than two weeks can attest to this.

The effects of this type of intellectual blackmail are very visible at our University. Robbed of intellectual leadership and surrounded by overwhelming skepticism, many students become totally self-absorbed, earning a degree only to help gain entrance into a career.

Intellectual growth and morale are apparently never presented as worthy goals, but material success is.

The ennobling idea of a free university, where students of every background can study the great thinkers as equals, seems lost. Instead of celebrating what people share, our campuses are dedicated to the inculcation of group resentment.

The Western tradition is scored as the font of racism, sexism, homophobia and so on. And the great ideas of the Western world, when they are studied at all, are judged by the narrowest, most humorless and most Philistine standards.

I believe freshmen should be aware of the new environment into which they have been thrust. When they run up against these forms of intellectual-imperialism forced conformity, they should have the courage to stand up and disagree with the professors without fear of scorn or ridicule.

Only in such an environment will they ever truly learn and develop into thinking, discerning citizens.

The value of individual thinking should always be regarded as one of the highest ideals. In 161 B.C., the people certainly were aware of the importance of resisting intellectual conformity.

College professors and administrators should take a lesson from a classic thinker, Terence, who said: "As many men, so many minds; every one in his own way."

Flashback to 69th Du Quoin fair

Steeleville natives Degen Sanders, 2, and his father Rick take a ride on the carousel last week during the Du Quoin State Fair. The fair had many different rides from the tame to the terrifying.

Low attendance fails to dampen fun

By Mark Busch
Special Assignment Writer

Despite an attendance drop this year the 69th running of the Du Quoin State Fair drew thousands of families and friends to the fair grounds, offering a little bit of everything including food, rides, games and entertainment.

Angie Roach, fair spokeswoman, said the fair drew 341,000 people this year.

Fair attendance figures were down 121,000 from 462,000 last year.

Roach said the decrease in the 1991 attendance figures may have been the cause of new counting methods used.

Lower attendance, however, did not lessen the Du Quoin State Fair's intrigue.

Janet McGinnis of Westmont said the fair was a good family excursion.

"I like to get together with my family and have a good time with the kids," McGinnis said.

Bob Watkins from Bloomington said he has been coming to the fair for the last 16 years and the fast paced events are what he enjoys most.

"I came here to see the horse and stock car races," Watkins said.

Some of the fair's attractions were not scheduled events.

Barbara Hart-ford, 15 from Vienna, said the main reason she came to the fair was to watch for guys.

Aside from the usual games, rides, and exhibits the fair gave visitors a chance to see performers such as REO Speedwagon, Randy Travis, Matthew and Gunnar Nelson and Garth Brooks.

A view from the grand stand shows many food and game booths and rides covering the grounds of the Du Quoin State Fair.

The fair also offered a chance to see horse and auto racing, live-stock and farm-ing equipment shows, a water ski show, and many other events.

Matthew Nelson rocks the grand stand at the Du Quoin State Fair Friday night. Other acts appearing at the fair included Cheap Trick, REO Speedwagon, Randy Travis and Garth Brooks.

Margaret Fann from Du Quoin cooks up a plate of food at The Sirlain Hut during the fair. A variety of food was offered at the state fair grounds to please almost anyones palate.

Milo Rupp from Tampa, Fla. stands in front of the thriller ride The Predator, which he operated last week at the 69th running of the Du Quoin State Fair.

SEARCH, from Page 1

"Everyone is puzzled that with this much effort we are unable to find our daughter," Subbiah said. "We must ask that anyone who has any information, no matter how insignificant it may seem, to bring that information to the State Police. The eyes and ears of the public are the best help."

Col. Thomas Schumpp, deputy director of the Illinois Department of Criminal Investigations, said the search has been extended to include Southern Illinois because persons' items belonging to Subbiah were found on the south bound lanes of Interstate 57.

The initial search included air surveillance coupled with volunteers and police on foot and ATVs.

Despite the size of the search, there have been no solid leads, Schumpp said.

"We've had a number of sightings that we've found to be unfounded," he said.

Schumpp said the search process is one that touches everyone.

Anyone with information should contact the proper authorities, he said.

Subbiah was seen last on Aug. 9, 1991, at a Shell gas station around 12:30 p.m. on Interstate 74 in Bloomington. She was driving a 1988 Ford Escort hatchback, charcoal grey with red stripes on the sides, Illinois license plate NK 2750.

Nandhini is a junior at the University of Illinois in Champaign. She was last seen wearing white shorts, a short sleeve red and white check pink with wide white stripes, white canvas shoes and white socks.

Anyone having any information on the whereabouts of Subbiah should contact Tim Brown at (815) 544-2144, Crime Stoppers at (815) 963-7867, Illinois State Police at (815) 987-7440 or the I SEARCH Hotline at 1-800-U HELP ME.

"Our family is built around our children," Subbiah said. "We love Nandhini very much. We pray for the safety of our daughter and her safe return."

city gets money from students because city officials will not work to obtain funds from local businesses.

City Manager Steve Hoffner said implementing a special service area would take a coordinated effort by both student and city government leaders to gain the support of the majority of property owners downtown.

John Miller, manager of El Greco, 516 S. Illinois Ave., said by extending parking meter hours, the council forces him to start towing out of his parking lot.

"I doubt it will have much impact on me," Miller said. "(But) after 5:30 p.m., I do a majority of my business with students. During lunch, professionals will pay it."

Jack Sullivan, Undergraduate Student Government president, said he gave the best argument he could for delaying a vote on the meter enforcement until details could be worked out for a special service area.

"We got the hours reduced but lost the 30-day extension," Sullivan said. "I felt like that set the tone of (the) meeting."

Mayor Neil Dillard said Carbondale could lose between $5,000 to $10,000 a month in revenue by not raising the parking rates and by extending the hours until an agreement is worked out.

Dillard said if the cost is too much for students the alternative would be to walk.

John Poth, junior in film production from Chicago, said he thinks there ought to be a better alternative than to raise parking fees and enforcement hours.

"(With) all the money we as students have given to the community," Poth said, "I think it would be better to give us some more parking because there is very limited parking."

Ron Isbell, undecided major from Chicago, said the increased rates is another way for the city to get money from students.

When the case came before the U.S. Supreme Court on appeal, the court voted 6-3 that the articles based on the Pentagon Papers did not constitute a danger to national security.

Walter Jaehnig, director of the SIUC School of Journalism, said Sheehan's name is easily recognizable.

"There is always a value on speaking with and listening to someone who has made an impact in history," said Jaehnig.

The series begins at 8 p.m. Sept. 11 in the Student Center Auditorium with security expert Gustavus J. Simmons, who will speak on keeping classified information secret.

Simmons helped devise a way to check up on Soviet compliance with a test treaty early in his 37-year career with a data security research center.

Joel Rogers, a student in the University Honors Program, said the lecture series is a good opportunity for people to learn about interesting topics.

"It definitely beats your typical lecture," said Rogers, a sophomore in aviation flights from Rochester. "These issues will be more exciting than a chemistry or math lecture. It's unique and different, which is something that I like."

The lectures will give students the opportunity to learn about historical events from people who experienced them first-hand.

Rick Williams, director of the University Honors Program, said the program gives students a chance to talk privately with speakers.

"It gives them the chance to ask questions up-close," said Williams. "That's part of what the University should be about — inviting fresh, intellectual people to speak on issues that will stimulate our minds, and we're excited to be a part of it."

Williams said the honors program is an academic program that any undergraduate with a 3.25 or better cumulative GPA may join.

Advantages of the program include special curriculum, which students may substitute for general coursework, Williams said.

Other perks, he said, include free admission to events such as the International Film Series, extended check-out of library materials and opportunities to learn about a wide-range of human activities from experiences such as the lecture series.

"We try to find interesting, distinguished speakers that will bring something to the community," Williams said.

The series is free and open to the public.

emphasized the aspects of the draft agreement maintaining a semblance of central rule.

"The main issue demanding immediate clarification is the question of state structures," Gorbachev said. "If we cannot deal with this, we will not be able to solve any other issues."

Yeltsin agreed the central government must retain control of armed forces and nuclear weapons, but he said it should cede most other powers to states that want to remain part of the Soviet Union.

"The union organs now have to play a coordinating role, not the role of issuing orders," Yeltsin said. "The coup undermined the signing of the union treaty, but it could not destroy the desire of the republics to construct a new union. ... There must be a free community of sovereign states based on different forms of interstate agreements."

Yeltsin repeated the basic points of the statement he signed with Gorbachev and nine other republican heads.

Volunteers provide tax help to area citizens free of charge

By Sarah Anderson
General Assignment Reporter

University accounting students are volunteers in a program offered by the Internal Revenue Service to provide free tax assistance to people who cannot afford professional help.

SIUC accounting students volunteer their time and run programs in several area locations including the Student Center and the Carbondale Senior Citizens Center.

Last year about 40 accounting students volunteered two to three hours a week, according to Charlie Cserny who was the chairperson for the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance committee for the Beta Alpha Psi accounting fraternity.

"The volunteers helped people fill out about 400 returns altogether. Some were normal forms, some were for small businesses and some were for people who just bought a house,"

"Last year these programs provided help to 35,000 people in the Springfield district . . ."

—Sonya Jacobs

Cserny said.

The IRS sponsors two programs for assistance.

The first is the VITA program which helps people who are elderly, low income, disabled or who have difficulty with English.

The second is the Tax Counseling for the Elderly program which is cosponsored by organizations like the American Association of Retired People and the Illinois Office on Aging.

Last year these programs provided help to 35,000 people in the Springfield district which stretches from Peoria County to Southern Illinois, said Sonya Jacobs, Taxpayer Education Coordinator.

Volunteers don't have to be accountants. They can be students, business people, teachers and retired people.

"At a minimum, volunteers should be preparing their own tax return," Jacobs said.

"People should also be interested in preparing tax returns otherwise it would be a little overwhelming. However, we do provide training," Jacobs said.

"We would refer others who volunteer to the accounting students' group on campus so they can join that group for training," Jacobs said.

The IRS is recruiting volunteers now. Training will begin in January and volunteers will be working Feb. 1 through Apr. 15.

Those who would like to volunteer or have questions about these programs can call the IRS at 1-800-829-1040 and ask for the Taxpayer Education Office.

Mall officials ask for participation in grand opening
By Sarah Anderson
General Assignment Reporter

The Illinois Centre Mall is offering Southern Illinois residents a chance to participate in the grand opening festivities at the mall.

The first of two programs offered by mall officials is a chance to audition for the Illinois Centre Community Choir.

The choir will include 40 men and women ages 16 and up who will perform during the mall's grand opening week and at other times throughout the year.

"Singing will be the main requirement in being chosen, but you don't have to be Whitney Houston," said Sheri Adams, a spokeswoman for the event.

"The auditions will be based a lot upon personality but you should be able to carry a tune," Adams said.

Auditions will be held at John A. Logan College, from 6 to 9 p.m., Friday, Sept. 6, in Rooms B-43 and B-42, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 7, and from 2 to 4 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 8.

Each applicant should bring a singing selection.

Singers who are chosen will be awarded $100 and will be expected to attend four rehearsal sessions prior to Oct. 2.

The second program offers a chance to serve on the Illinois Centre Ambassador Board.

The board will consist of 25 people ages 16 to 25 who will serve as fashion consultants for Illinois Centre.

Informal interviews will be held at John A. Logan College, from 1 to 4 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 7, in Rooms B-43 and B-42.

Anyone interested in the programs should call 997-5377 for more information.

Pizza parlors permeate market in Carbondale

By Sarah Anderson
General Assignment Reporter

Local pizza dealers say the increasing number of pizza places in a city the size of Carbondale may be taking a bite out of the pizza business.

But the owner of the new Hot Stuff Pizzeria, 1301 W. Main, says he's still willing to throw another slice into the pizza market.

"I don't really know why pizza is so popular," said Jim Morgando of the new Hot Stuff Pizzeria. "It was popular when I was in college."

Morgando is trying a different approach to the competitive angle of the Carbondale pizza market. He is opening his new pizzeria within the Videomania Video Store.

"We hope people from the college will stop and get a movie and dinner in one stop," Morgando said.

Dealing with competition from other businesses plays a key role in the pizza market in Carbondale.

For nationwide pizza chains like Domino's, the main competition is other chains. Therefore, they have different techniques for competition than do the locally run pizza restaurants.

National chains have an advantage over local businesses because they use procedures that have been proven successful, according to Joel Herche, an assistant professor of marketing.

"Chains have national advertising campaigns that increase awareness. Local firms cannot afford to take on this advertising."

Herche said. "These are substantial hurdles for a business to overcome."

"We have national advertising, but we advertise locally, too," said Phil McMahon, a Domino's assistant manager.

"We try to keep competitive prices and a high service level with both fast delivery and good service in the dining room," said Jim Formentini, Quatro's manager.

Quatro's also offers Quatro's "Qupons" and a menu that diversifies their business from others by offering salads, subs, soups and pasta, Formentini said.

Other businesses use different methods to stay competitive.

"We try to stay competitive by offering free sodas, free delivery, emphasizing the quality of our pizza and by promising a quick delivery," said Chuck Stuhrenberg, owner of Chuck's Gourmet Pizza.

Though the new Hot Stuff Pizzeria is strictly carry-out, much of the business at local pizza places depends largely on delivery.

"Ninety percent of our business is delivery," said Stuhrenberg.

The threat of saturation, or more pizza places than people wanting pizza, is still a concern.

"Last year Saluki Express closed," said Stuhrenberg, who first opened his business as Rosati's when he graduated from SIUC and later had to return to resuscitate the business by re-opening it as Chuck's Gourmet Pizza.

"There are way too many pizza places for a town the size of Carbondale," Stuhrenberg said.

Controversial company gets $350 million for expansion

NEW YORK (UPI) — An investment firm said Tuesday it would pump $350 million into Whittle Communications, the Knoxville, Tenn.-based media company that ignited controversy with educational programs that include commercials.

Under an agreement in principle, Forstmann Little & Co. will provide subordinated financing that it will convert into an equity interest representing one-third of Whittle.

The plan to bring in Forstmann Little has been approved by general partners Time Warner Inc., Associated Newspapers and Chris Whittle, who founded the firm and is its chairman.

The $350 million will be used in an "ambitious" expansion program, Whittle said.

Preservation of arctic wilderness topic of show

James T. Rendulich
General Assignment writer

Photojournalist Lenny Kohm, who has devoted his life to preserving the culture and life of the Alaskan Arctic Wildlife Refuge, will bring his multimedia slide presentation "The Last Great Wilderness" tonight to SIUC.

The 90-minute presentation, which tries to educate people about the refuge and the legislation that threatens to open it up to oil and gas drilling, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Lawson Hall, room 151.

Kohm left his job four years ago to devote his life to assisting the native people, the Gwich'in, to protect their cultural and environmental values from irresponsible industrial development.

Kohm first went to the refuge in 1987 on an assignment from Audubon magazine. During this assignment, Kohm not only got a chance to see the way the native Gwich'in people lived but also lived within their lifestyle, culture and society.

"For anyone who has travelled to the refuge it is obvious that it is far from being the vast wasteland that the government and oil companies claim it to be," Kohm said. "Unfortunately, very few people ever get the chance to travel to the area so our job is to bring the area to the people down here and educate them."

By opening the 1.5 million-acre coastal plain up to drilling, Kohm and the Gwich'in fear the delicate structure of the ecosystem will be disturbed which would have serious consequences, according to Kohm.

In addition to disturbing most of the indigenous life, the drilling would affect the migration and the ultimate survival of the 180,000-member Porcupine Caribou herd that is vital to the Gwich'in.

Glenna Frost, a representative from the Porcupine Caribou Management Board and resident of the Yukon Territories, is a native of Old Crow, a town located near the center of the territory.

"My people rely upon the caribou for nearly 80 percent of their food, clothing, tools and in some cases even their shelter," Frost said. "This bill not only threatens the caribou, but also my people's 30,000 year old heritage and very existence."

Having given his presentation in more than 40 states, Frost says he has had an outstanding reaction to the program which he believes appeals to all audiences. Whether the viewer is a Democrat or a Republican, the message is universal and everybody can see what a travesty is being done, Kohm said.

The bill Kohm is fighting is the National Energy Security Act is sponsored by Sen. J. Bennett Johnston of Louisiana and is a part of the President George Bush's larger energy strategy.

"What has made the bill so hard to fight is that it is tied in with a larger energy plan that has some things that people want," Kohm said. "Even though some representatives oppose the drilling in the refuge they support the plan as a whole."

Retiring prof enjoyed 'golden years' of SIUC

By Teri Lynn Carlock
General Assignment Writer

Michael Hoshiko is closing the door to his SIUC Clinical Center office after 34 years in what once was his empty lab in 1957.

Hoshiko, communication disorders and sciences professor, is retiring after 34 years on the SIUC faculty. He has been the coordinator of the speech and hearing department in the Clinical Center for the past four years.

When he came to SIUC in 1957, the communication disorders and sciences department was just starting. Hoshiko was on the committee that gave the first doctorate at the University, and he said his best memories are from that time.

"I was here during the golden years of Dr. Morris, who was the president of the University at that time. I witnessed the creation of the department as well as the University," he said.

Hoshiko said his lab wasn't equipped when he first came to SIUC. He was able to buy supplies for his lab through grants from the National Institute of Health, the American Cancer Society and the Illinois Department of Mental Health.

Hoshiko said the speech and hearing department has grown tremendously since he first started when the field had 2,500 members.

"Now the speech and hearing field has grown to 65,000. I'm advising students who are the children of my former students," Hoshiko said.

In the last four years Hoshiko has stopped doing research and spends most of his time at the Clinical Center where he does administration work. Hoshiko said he feels it is time to retire, but that won't stop him from continuing his other activities associated with the University and his field.

Hoshiko has been the faculty adviser for the Amateur Radio Club for 15 years and plans continued involvement with the club. Hoshiko said it is one of the oldest clubs on campus, having been started in 1934.

The club provides communication for various University activities and helps other students organizations. The club also provides services for natural disasters. If an earthquake, hurricane or any other event occurs, the club will try to contact the SIUC students' family living in those areas.

Hoshiko also will continue to make site visits for the American Speech and Hearing Association as he has for the past seven years. He visits universities and talks to audiences about the speech and hearing program. He then writes reports based on the facts he has collected. His reports are viewed by the A.S.H.A. board to see if funding for the University's program will continue.

Hoshiko is a board member in the St. Louis chapter of the Japanese-American Citizens League, which promotes protection for Japanese-Americans. Hoshiko said he feels many people need to be educated about the difference between Japanese and Japanese-Americans.

"Japanese-Americans live in America and work in America. We aren't just here for a couple of years then go back to Japan. This is our home now," he said.

Law students argue to third in national event

By Katie Fitzgerald
General Assignment Writer

The SIUC School of Law most court team placed third in the American Bar Association's National Appellate Advocacy Competition.

Team member David Stevens took second in the individual competition. The team includes third year students Christopher Beveridge of O'Fallon, George Norwood of Rolling Meadows and Stevens of Carbondale.

"Students are able to compete against other students to prove they can handle themselves well in a court situation," said Harry Haysworth, dean of SIUC School of Law.

The competition provides students with brief writing and argumentative practice for a hypothetical case. The competition case focused on clergyman malpractice and free speech restraint, Stevens said. Case preparation began in January.

Oral arguments were judged on the strongest verbal skills not the argument which decided the case, Stevens said. Each team argued both sides of the situation.

SIUC scored higher than the first placed team in oral competition, but ranked third when brief scores were accounted. First and second places went to teams from South Texas College of Law.

Teams from 18 law schools competed from Aug. 9 to 11 in Atlanta in conjunction with the ABA annual convention.

"The competition was as good as it gets," Norwood said.

PEACE CORPS IS OVERSEAS

AND, SITTING RIGHT NEXT TO YOU IN CLASS.

One of your fellow students is a returned Peace Corps Volunteer. Someone who spent two years overseas living and working in a developing country, making real strides in improving the daily lives of the people, while cultivating job skills and career interests.

Now pursuing those interests in graduate school, this former Volunteer is also helping recruit new Volunteers on your campus. Ask about the most incredible experience of your classmate's life. And, the experience that has enhanced a strong educational and career path. Busy with graduate school, yes. But never too busy to talk about Peace Corps.

Visit your on-campus Peace Corps recruiter. You might have a lot in common.

If you have a degree in one of the following fields, look into the Peace Corps: Agriculture, Education, Health Professions, Forestry, Math, English, Crop Extension and Physical Sciences.

Arctic drilling threat to polar bears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In what they called a "virtually unnoticed" problem, environmentalists and scientists charged Tuesday that oil drilling in Alaska's Arctic National Wildlife Refuge could seriously disrupt reproduction of polar bears, which are protected under federal law.

The drilling critics cited a recent report by the federal Marine Mammal Commission that expressed concern that road-building and other industrial activity in the refuge could disturb female bears when they enter winter dens and give birth to cubs. The commission's December 1990 report said research showed that if disturbed by vibrations or noise, mother bears are likely to abandon their dens before cubs are able to travel with them or fend for themselves.

The commission's findings are particularly significant because polar bears — which spend much of their life at sea on Arctic pack ice — are accorded special federal protection under the Marine Mammal Protection Act. As a result, the government is legally required to ensure their survival.

In addition, the United States signed an international treaty with other Arctic nations in 1976 under which U.S. officials specifically agreed to protect polar bear denning habitat.

Despite those commitments, the environmentalists and scientists said the threat to polar bears remains largely unaddressed by Interior Department officials pushing to open the Arctic refuge to oil drilling.

"In the debate of the fate of the Arctic Refuge, the severe impacts of proposed oil and gas development on the polar bear have gone virtually unnoticed," said the Defenders of Wildlife, a wildlife protection group, and the American Institute for Biological Sciences.

Police Blotter

Jeffery L. Davis, 24, of 2461 S. Illinois Ave., Apt. 44, was arrested at 2:47 a.m. Aug. 31 in connection with illegal use of weapons and aggravated battery.

The alleged victim, Anthony P. Rametta, told Carbondale police he and Davis were involved in an argument at 516 S. University Ave. when Davis pulled out a knife and cut Rametta's wrist.

The Aldi supermarket at 2201 Ramada Dr. was burglarized between 6 p.m. Aug. 28 and 3:25 a.m. Aug. 29.

Carbondale Police discovered the store was broken into and robbed of food.

The damage is estimated at $400, and the food loss is undetermined but believed to be minor.

Lazaro J. Milian, 28, of 129-9 Southern Hills was arrested at 5:22 p.m. on Aug. 29 on a warrant for failure to appear in court to face the charge of driving on a suspended license.

He could not post bond and was sent to Jackson County jail.

Marvin R. Walker, 22, of 800 E. Grand Ave., Apt. 24-E, was arrested at 12:09 a.m. on Aug. 30 on Physical Plant Drive in connection with driving while license suspended, operation of a vehicle with a suspended registration and improper use of registration.

University Police said they heard a bottle drop near the car Walker was allegedly driving and checked the registration on the car.

They said they found it was suspended and stopped the car as it left lot 13.

Walker was released on a $1,000 recognizance bond.

Scott Warren, 20, of 1113 Walkup Ave., told Carbondale Police his house was broken into between 5:30 p.m. Aug. 30 and 9 p.m. Sept. 2.

He said the burglars took stereo equipment and books. The loss is estimated at $1,700.

Delowrence J. Key, 23, of 411 Boomer II, told University Police someone burglarized his room between 12 and 12:22 a.m. Sept. 3.

He said he left his room unlocked when he went to take a shower. When he returned, an answering machine and $150 in cash was missing, he said.

Craig J. Williams, 22, of 612 S. Logan Dr., was arrested on a warrant for failure to appear in court to face the charge of operating an uninsured motor vehicle.

He was arrested by University Police at 9:40 p.m. Aug. 31 at the corner of Washington Street and Grand Avenue.

His bond was set at $500, which he could not initially raise, so he was sent to Jackson County Jail.

He has since posted bond.

STUDENT CONDUCT CODE FOR SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

* Paid Adv.

I. INTRODUCTION

A. Purpose
Southern Illinois University at Carbondale is devoted not only to learning, research, and the advancement of knowledge, but also to the development of ethically sensitive and responsible persons. This is accomplished by achieving these goals through sound educational programs and policies governing individual conduct, that encourage respect and maturity. By accepting membership in this University, an individual joins a community characterized by free expression, free inquiry, intellectual honesty, respect for others, and participation in constructive change. All rights and responsibilities exercised within this academic environment shall be compatible with these principles.

B. Rights and Responsibilities
Students shall be free to examine all questions of interest to them and to express opinions. They shall be guaranteed all constitutional rights including free inquiry, expression and assembly. All regulations shall seek the best possible balance between the principles of maximum academic freedom and necessary order.

C. Title-Authority-Enforcement
These regulations shall be known as the Student Conduct Code for Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. The regulations contained herein are established under the authority granted by law to the Board of Trustees to establish rules and regulations for Southern Illinois University and pursuant to Chapter 3 Policies of the Board of Trustees. C and D of the Illinois Revised Statutes. Regulations dealing with student rights and conduct. All students of the University community have the responsibility to understand these regulations. The responsibility for the enforcement of the Code rests with the President of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and that officer's designee. The effective date of this Code is June 9, 1986.

D. Jurisdiction
The University community has a responsibility to provide its members those privileges, opportunities, and protections which encourage and maintain an environment conducive to educational development. Accordingly this Code shall apply to all members of the University community who are on property owned or controlled by the University, and (2) to conduct occurring elsewhere, but only if the student's conduct has substantial interference with the University's educational functions, including, but not limited to, interference with the normal operation of students, faculty, or staff or conduct having its origins in the educational process.

When a student has been apprehended for a violation of this Code, the University will not request special consideration because of the individual's status as a student. The University reserves the right to request law enforcement and other agencies administering a corrective or rehabilitative program for the student. The University reserves the right to initiate concurrent disciplinary action.

Academic dishonesty violations in the School of Medicine will be adjudicated through that unit's Professional Ethics Policy. Academic dishonesty violations in the School of Medicine will be adjudicated through that unit's Professional Ethics Policy and Medical Students on the Carbondale campus charged with violations of the Code will be treated as any undergraduate and graduate student. In addition, law students charged with violations of the Code will be charged under the School of Law's Professional Ethics Policy and Medical students on the Carbondale campus charged with violations of the Code may also be charged under the School of Medicine's Student Progress System.

II. VIOLATIONS

- A. Acts of Academic Dishonesty
- Plagiarism: Representing the work of another as one's own work.
  - Preparing work for another that is to be used as that person's own work.
  - Cheating by any method or means.
  - Knowingly or willfully falsifying or manufacturing scientific or educational data and representing the same to be the result of scientific or scholarly experiment or research.
  - Knowingly furnishing false information to a University official relative to academic matters.
  - Soliciting, aiding, abetting, concealing or attempting conduct in violation of this Code.

B. Acts of Social Misconduct

- Sexual Misconduct:
  - Rape
  - Physical Abuse
  - Direct threat of violence
- Harassment
- Intimidation
- Intentional obstruction or substantial interference with any person's right to attend or participate in any University function
- Participation in any activity to disrupt any function of the University by force or violence
- Reckless behavior representing a danger to persons:
  - Property Damage
  - Arson
  - Willful or malicious damage or destruction of property
  - Reckless behavior representing a danger to property
- Weapons (unauthorized possession and/or use):
  - Firearms
  - Explosives and/or explosive devices
  - Any type of arms defined as weapons in Chapter 38 of the Illinois Revised Statutes
  - Pellet guns and B-B guns
- Fireworks
- Disobedience:
  - Disobedience, interference, resistance or failure to comply with directions of an identified University official acting in the line of duty.
  - Trespassing
  - Unauthorized entry
- Deception:
  - Furnishing false information to the University with intent to defraud
  - Forgery, alteration or misuse of University documents, records, and identification cards

- Violations of University Housing regulations
- Violations of other duly promulgated University policies, regulations, including but not limited to: alcohol, demonstrations, pets, smoking, solicitation, and guidelines for access to data and programs stored on the computer, will be adjudicated under this Code.
- Acts Against the Administration of this Code:
  - Initiation of a complaint or hearing participation, acceptance of bribes, dishonesty or distortion of proceedings and hearings held under this Code.
  - Knowing violation of the terms of any disciplinary sanction or attached conditions imposed in accordance with this Code.
  - Soliciting, aiding, abetting, concealing or attempting conduct in violation of this Code.

*Charges of sexual harassment may be adjudicated under the University Sexual Harassment Policy.

III. SANCTIONS

- The following are sanctions which may be imposed for a violation of this Code. Also, a condition may accompany a sanction. Sanctions are not limited to: restitution of damages, work projects, required counseling or therapy, required academic programs, etc. A condition may include loss of certain university privileges. If a condition accompanies a sanction, the condition must be related to the purpose of the sanction.
- Failure of an assignment, quiz, test, examination, or paper
  - A failing grade may be assigned for the work in connection with which the violation occurred.
  - Failure in a course:
    - A failing grade (F) may be assigned for the course in which the violation occurred.
    - Disciplinary Reprimand: In cases of minor violations and when the violation is acknowledged by the student, a written reprimand may be issued by the Coordinator, Student Judicial Affairs' or that officer's designee upon recommendation of a University representative by the Coordinator. The reprimand shall be to call to the student's attention the violation. Since a reprimand is given only when the violation is acknowledged the official reprimand may not be appealed.
    - Disciplinary Censure: Disciplinary Censure is a written warning to the student that the cited behavior is not acceptable in the University community and that further misconduct may result in more severe sanctions. The student may appeal the finding of a violation but may not appeal the severity of the sanction.
    - Disciplinary Probation: Disciplinary Probation removes a student from good disciplinary standing. The probation shall last for a stated period of time and until specific conditions if imposed, have been met. Any misconduct during the probation period will bring further disciplinary action and may result in suspension. Probationary status prevents the student from representing the University in some extra curricular activities, and may result in the loss of some types of financial aid.
    - Disciplinary Suspension: Disciplinary Suspension is an involuntary separation of the student from the University for a stated period of time and until a stated condition, if imposed, is met, after which readmission is permitted. Disciplinary Suspension is entered on the student's transcript for the duration of the suspension.
    - Indefinite Suspension: Indefinite Suspension is an involuntary separation of the student from the University for an unspecified period of time and until a stated condition, if imposed, is met. Any consideration for readmission requires the student's petition to the appropriate administrative official before readmission will be considered. The indefinite Suspension is entered on the student's transcript for the duration of the suspension.
  - Interim Separation: If the President or that officer's designee has reasonable cause to believe that a serious and direct threat to the safety and well-being of the members and/or property of the University community will be present if an individual is permitted to remain an active member of the community, an Interim Separation may be imposed. A preliminary hearing and the opportunity of a preliminary hearing shall be afforded. If it is impossible or unreasonably difficult to conduct a preliminary hearing, the opportunity for such a preliminary hearing is to be determined if there is justification to invoke an Interim Separation. During the preliminary hearing, the student will be provided a statement of the reasons for Interim Separation and will be afforded the opportunity to rebut. Interim Separation is temporary and shall be enforced only until the completion of a full disciplinary hearing. A full disciplinary hearing shall be provided within a reasonable period of time.

IV. POLICIES AND PROCEDURES APPLICABLE TO ACADEMIC DISCIPLINE

A. JUDICIAL STRUCTURE

- Department Level: The Department chairperson shall have initial jurisdiction over complaints of academic dishonesty and may adjudicate the case if the student accepts responsibility for the violation(s). In any case where the student does not accept responsibility for the violation(s) the chairperson shall review the complaint of alleged academic dishonesty and decide whether there are sufficient grounds to formally charge the student with a violation of the Code. When a formal charge is filed, the chairperson shall also be involved in an incident(s) of academic dishonesty, the chairperson shall review the student with all violations. All charges shall be adjudicated under the provisions for academic dishonesty.
- College/School Level:
  - Each Dean has the responsibility for the formal resolution of charges against a student. For the purpose of administering this code, the Graduate School Dean shall operate at the level of other deans.
  - Charges of falsifying information on applications for admission shall be adjudicated by the Director of Admissions and Records. The Director of Admissions and Records, for the purpose of administering this Code, shall operate at the level of other Deans.
  - When social misconduct is also involved in an incident(s) of academic dishonesty, the chairperson shall charge the student with all violations. All charges shall be adjudicated under the provisions for academic dishonesty.
- Presidential Level: This level has jurisdiction to hear appeals.

B. INFORMAL DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

- Informal Hearing: In cases where a student admits to a violation of the Code relating to academic dishonesty, the matter may be adjudicated at the departmental level. An informal discussion between the instructor and the student shall be held. If the student admits to a violation of the code, the instructor shall inform the departmental chairperson and the student whether, as a sanction for the violation, the instructor will assign a failing grade for the work and/or course. The instructor shall recommend to the chairperson any other sanction that may be imposed, pursuant to Article 2. The chairperson shall meet with the instructor and the student, receive an acknowledgment of responsibility from the student and apprise the student of the sanction.
- Sanction: The full disciplinary history of the student shall be considered in determining the sanction. Sanctions which may be imposed, when the student accepts responsibility for the conduct are:
  - The student may be removed from the class for the remainder of the testing period.
  - The instructor may assign the student a failing grade for the work and/or course.
  - The student may be placed on disciplinary probation. The student must meet the conditions of the above.
  - The departmental chairperson may recommend to the Dean that the student be placed on disciplinary suspension. The departmental chairperson shall also inform the student in writing that disciplinary suspension is recommended as an appropriate sanction for the student's violation of the Code.
    - If the student elects to challenge the severity of the recommended sanction, the student may request an informal hearing on the proposed sanction(s) before the Dean.
    - The student may submit a request in writing for an informal hearing on the proposed sanction(s) within 5 days of receipt of the chairperson's recommendation.
    - In such cases the Dean or that officer's designee shall meet the student, the chairperson and/or instructor, and apprise the student of the sanction(s).
- Notification: The DEO shall send member verification of the sanction(s) to the student. Such notification will normally be made by the fifth day of the meeting with the instructor and the student.
- Appeal: The student may appeal the severity of the sanction or failure to follow prescribed procedure, pursuant to IV (C) if the student may not appeal the question of guilt.

C. FORMAL DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

- Initiation of a Complaint:
  - Any member of the University community may initiate disciplinary proceedings by filing a complaint within twenty days of discovery of an alleged violation of the Student Conduct Code.
  - The complaint must be made in writing with all available evidence attached.
  - The complaint shall be filed with the departmental chair of the course in which the violation is alleged to have occurred.
  - The complaint may include a recommendation concerning the appropriate sanction to be imposed if, following formal adjudication, the student is found in violation of the Code.
  - In any case initiated by an instructor, the complaint shall be filed whether or not the instructor will assign a failing grade for the work and/or course. If, following formal adjudication, the student is found in violation of the Code in the manner alleged in the complaint, in any such case the instructor shall assign an "incomplete" in lieu of a letter grade pending the final resolution of the complaint.
- Formal Charges: The departmental chairperson shall review the complaint and, within ten days, determine whether there are grounds to believe a violation may have occurred.

- Each Dean has the responsibility for the formal resolution of charges against a student. For the purpose of administering this code, the Graduate School Dean shall operate at the level of other deans.
- Charges of falsifying information on applications for admission shall be adjudicated by the Director of Admissions and Records. The Director of Admissions and Records, for the purpose of administering this Code, shall operate at the level of other Deans.
- When social misconduct is also involved in an incident(s) of academic dishonesty, the chairperson shall charge the student with all violations. All charges shall be adjudicated under the provisions for academic dishonesty.
- Presidential Level: This level has jurisdiction to hear appeals.

B. INFORMAL DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

- Informal Hearing: In cases where a student admits to a violation of the Code relating to academic dishonesty, the matter may be adjudicated at the departmental level. An informal discussion between the instructor and the student shall be held. If the student admits to a violation of the code, the instructor shall inform the departmental chairperson and the student whether, as a sanction for the violation, the instructor will assign a failing grade for the work and/or course. The instructor shall recommend to the chairperson any other sanction that may be imposed, pursuant to Article 2. The chairperson shall meet with the instructor and the student, receive an acknowledgment of responsibility from the student and apprise the student of the sanction.
- Sanction: The full disciplinary history of the student shall be considered in determining the sanction. Sanctions which may be imposed, when the student accepts responsibility for the conduct are:
  - The student may be removed from the class for the remainder of the testing period.
  - The instructor may assign the student a failing grade for the work and/or course.
  - The student may be placed on disciplinary probation. The student must meet the conditions of the above.
  - The departmental chairperson may recommend to the Dean that the student be placed on disciplinary suspension. The departmental chairperson shall also inform the student in writing that disciplinary suspension is recommended as an appropriate sanction for the student's violation of the Code.
    - If the student elects to challenge the severity of the recommended sanction, the student may request an informal hearing on the proposed sanction(s) before the Dean.
    - The student may submit a request in writing for an informal hearing on the proposed sanction(s) within 5 days of receipt of the chairperson's recommendation.
    - In such cases the Dean or that officer's designee shall meet the student, the chairperson and/or instructor, and apprise the student of the sanction(s).
- Notification: The DEO shall send member verification of the sanction(s) to the student. Such notification will normally be made by the fifth day of the meeting with the instructor and the student.
- Appeal: The student may appeal the severity of the sanction or failure to follow prescribed procedure, pursuant to IV (C) if the student may not appeal the question of guilt.

C. FORMAL DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

- Initiation of a Complaint:
  - Any member of the University community may initiate disciplinary proceedings by filing a complaint within twenty days of discovery of an alleged violation of the Student Conduct Code.
  - The complaint must be made in writing with all available evidence attached.
  - The complaint shall be filed with the departmental chair of the course in which the violation is alleged to have occurred.
  - The complaint may include a recommendation concerning the appropriate sanction to be imposed if, following formal adjudication, the student is found in violation of the Code.
  - In any case initiated by an instructor, the complaint shall be filed whether or not the instructor will assign a failing grade for the work and/or course. If, following formal adjudication, the student is found in violation of the Code in the manner alleged in the complaint, in any such case the instructor shall assign an "incomplete" in lieu of a letter grade pending the final resolution of the complaint.
- Formal Charges: The departmental chairperson shall review the complaint and, within ten days, determine whether there are grounds to believe a violation may have occurred.

- If there are sufficient grounds to believe a violation may have occurred, within five days of such determination, the chairperson shall notify the student in writing of the violation with which the student is charged. A copy of the charges shall be submitted to the appropriate academic Dean.
- If there are no grounds for disciplinary charges, the complainant shall be notified. If the complainant wishes to proceed with a disciplinary charge, a written request must be submitted to the appropriate academic Dean within ten (10) days of the receipt of the notification. The Dean shall review the request, the complaint, and the departmental chair decision and decide whether to allow the complainant to pursue formal charges. If the alleged violation set forth in the complaint.
- Formal adjudication: In cases of alleged academic dishonesty where guilt is disputed by the student, the case will be adjudicated at the Dean's level with a formal hearing. The Dean shall notify the student in writing regarding the date, time and place of the hearing. The notification will be considered to have been delivered if the notice is sent to the current local address of the student as provided to the Office of Admissions and Records by the student. Thus, failure to notify the University of changes of address could result in hearing being held in absentia.
  - The student has the right to:
    - Be apprised of all evidence;
    - Hear and question available

UNIVERSITY POLICY

classes may not serve as student members. Graduate assistants and student workers in the department in which the incident occurred shall be excluded from judicial boards.

(b) Faculty members may include any person under faculty appointment excluding administrators.

All appointments shall be reviewed by the Office of Student Judicial Affairs to insure that candidates meet the minimal requirements. A list of judicial board members will be available upon request within the office of the academic dean.

(3) Judicial Board Operating Papers

Each judicial board may develop its own operating paper. Each operating paper shall be reviewed by the Office of Student Judicial Affairs to insure consistency with the provisions of this Code.

(4) Administrative Advisors

Each Judicial Board shall have an administrative advisor from the Office of Student Judicial Affairs. The advisor's role shall be limited to:

(a) Terms

Each judicial board shall be in session for twelve weeks during the fall and spring terms and for four weeks during the summer term. A board is not expected to meet during the first two nor the last two weeks of a term. Disciplinary cases shall be adjudicated by an administrative hearing officer when a board is not in session or is defunct.

(6) Powers

A judicial board shall make a decision of guilt or innocence and shall make a recommendation on the sanction to the Dean.

b. Administrative Hearing Officer

The administrative hearing officer communication to keep each other apprised of the decision of the hearing and sanctions which may be imposed are:

(1) The student may be assigned a failing grade for the work and/or the course.

(2) The student may be placed on disciplinary probation.

(3) The student may be suspended from the University.

(4) Any combination of the above.

7. Notification

The dean shall send written notification of the decision of the hearing and sanction(s) to the student. Such notification will normally be sent within five days of receipt of the judicial board's recommendation or within five days of the administrative hearing.

8. Appeals

Any disciplinary determination or sanction involving academic dishonesty may be appealed from the level of the hearing to the Office of Student Judicial Affairs. An application for appeal to the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Research within five days after receiving notification of the decision. However, the right of appeal does not guarantee that an appeal will be granted nor does it entitle the student to a full rehearing of the case. An appeal hearing, if granted, will be limited to the issues set forth in subparagraph a below.

a. The student may submit a preference for an appeal hearing before a judicial board or an administrative hearing officer. The appropriate university official shall decide the hearing agent.

b. The burden of proof at the initial jurisdiction level is on the University. At the appeal level, the burden of proof is on the student demonstrating error as defined in the following item (c).

c. Three issues constitute possible grounds for an appeal:

(1) Were judicial procedures correctly followed?

(2) Did the evidence justify a decision against the student?

(3) Was the sanction(s) imposed in keeping with the gravity of the violation? Previous violation(s) of the Code and the accompanying sanction(s) will be considered in determining a proper sanction for a current violation.

d. The appropriate committee of the judicial board or the administrative hearing officer will review the appeal to ascertain whether there are sufficient grounds for a hearing.

e. If an appeal hearing is granted, the hearing officer will review the appeal to ascertain whether the appeal is warranted. The agent will limit its review to the specific points of the appeal that were accepted at the screening review.

f. The agent hearing the appeal may:

(1) Affirm the decision(s) of the initial jurisdiction.

(2) Affirm the decision(s) and reduce the sanction.

(3) Modify the decision(s) of violation and reduce the sanction.

(4) Reverse the decision(s) of violation, remove the sanction, and dismiss the case.

g. A student dissatisfied with the decision on appeal may request a review by the President by submitting such a request in writing within five days after receiving notification of the prior decision. Review by the President shall also be limited to the issues specified in subparagraph c above.

Further appeal may be made to the Board of Trustees by filing an application for appeal in accordance with Article VI Section 2 of the Board of Trustees Bylaws. The Board of Trustees will review only those administrative decisions which meet the requirements of review established by the Board's Bylaws.

not handled by other offices. The campus level also shall hear appeals from the unit level.

3. Precedential Level

This level has jurisdiction to hear appeals.

B. INFORMAL DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

1. Informal Hearing

In cases where the student accepts responsibility for the social misconduct the matter may be adjudicated at the department/office level.

An informal hearing shall be held by the University official and the student shall be held. If the student accepts responsibility for the charges(s) the University official shall recommend a sanction to the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs.

2. Sanctions

The full disciplinary history of the student shall be considered in determining the sanction. The University official may recommend to the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs any of the following sanctions:

a. Disciplinary reprimand

b. Disciplinary censure

c. Disciplinary probation

d. Disciplinary suspension

e. Indefinite suspension

f. Interim suspension

3. Notification

The Coordinator of Student judicial Affairs shall send written verification of the sanction to the student within five days of the receipt of the recommendation.

4. Appeal

A student may appeal the severity of the sanction pursuant to V C 9 or failure to follow prescribed procedure. A student may not appeal the question of guilt.

C. FORMAL DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

1. Initiation of a Complaint

a. Any member of the University community may initiate disciplinary proceedings by filing a complaint with the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs within twenty days of the discovery of an alleged violation of the Student Code of Conduct. The complaint must be in writing with all available evidence attached.

b. The Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall make a preliminary review of the complaint. If there are no grounds for disciplinary charges or if the complaint is a preliminary review under another policy the complainant shall be notified. If the complainant wishes to proceed with a disciplinary charge a written request must be submitted to the Director of Student Development within ten days of the receipt of notification. The Director shall then forward the complaint, and the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs decision and decision whether to pursue formal charges.

2. Formal Charges

In cases of alleged social misconduct when guilt is disputed by the student, the case will be adjudicated at the appropriate level with a formal hearing. The Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall notify the student in writing regarding the charges(s) as well as the time and place of the hearing. The notification will be considered to have been delivered if the notice is sent to the current local address of the student provided to the Office of Admissions and Records by the student. Thus, failure to notify the student of charges of address could result in a hearing being held in absentia.

3. Fact-Finding Conference

The Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall conduct a fact-finding conference which shall include the charged student and may include the complainant and/or witnesses. Matters to be examined at the fact-finding conference are:

a. The charge(s) filed against the student.

b. The evidence against the student.

c. The witnesses, if any, that shall be called.

d. The provisions of the Student Code Code.

e. Whether to continue disciplinary proceedings.

f. The student may elect to acknowledge the violation(s) at the fact-finding conference and have the decision made on the sanction by the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs or desist at the fact-finding conference. If this option is chosen the student may appeal only the severity of the sanction.

g. The student may elect to have a formal hearing scheduled in the future.

h. If the student fails to make an appointment for a fact-finding conference or fails to appear at a fact-finding conference the case may automatically be referred to the administrative hearing agent for a hearing.

4. Formal Adjudication

a. The student has the right to:

(1) Be approached by the hearing agent.

(2) Hear and question available witnesses. Sworn statements will be accepted from those persons unable to attend the hearing.

(3) Not be compelled to offer evidence which may be self-incriminating.

(4) Receive a written decision specifying judicial actions.

(5) Appeal the decision, pursuant to V C 9.

b. The student has the option to have:

(1) Advisory assistance. The responsibility for selecting an advisor is placed on the charged student. The advisor may be any individual except a principal in the hearing. The advisor shall be limited to observing the hearing and shall not participate directly in the hearing.

(2) An open or closed hearing.

(3) Waive the process entirely in his/her behalf. Sworn statements shall be accepted from those persons unable to attend the hearing. Character witnesses shall be excluded.

c. Hearing agent

The charged student may submit a preference for a hearing before a judicial board or an administrative hearing officer. The appropriate University official may decide the hearing agent.

5. Judicial Hearing Agents

a. Judicial Board Directives

(1) Size

Each judicial board shall be comprised of seven members. A quorum required to conduct a hearing shall be five members. A decision shall be reached by majority vote.

(2) Membership

(a) Student Members shall meet the following standards:

(i) Full-time as defined by the Director of Admissions and Records.

(ii) Good disciplinary standing since matriculation.

(iii) Minimum grade point average of 2.5 (undergraduate); 3.0 (graduate); or professional student in good standing.

NOTE: Full-time University employees who are enrolled in classes may not act as student members. Graduate assistants in which the incident occurred shall be excluded from judicial boards.

(b) Faculty members may include any person under faculty appointment excluding administrators.

(c) All appointments shall be reviewed by the Office of Student Judicial Affairs to insure that candidates meet the minimal requirements. A list of judicial board members will be available upon request within the Office of the academic Dean.

(3) Judicial Board Operating Papers

Each judicial board may develop its own operating paper. Each operating paper shall be reviewed by the Office of Student Judicial Affairs to insure consistency with the provisions of this Code.

(4) Administrative advisors

Each judicial board shall have an administrative advisor from the Office of Student Judicial Affairs. The advisor's role shall be limited to providing guidance and clarification. The advisor shall sit with the panel in all open and executive sessions.

(5) Terms

Each judicial board shall be in session for twelve weeks during the fall and spring terms and for four weeks during the summer term. A board is not expected to meet during the first two nor the last two weeks of a term. Disciplinary cases shall be adjudicated by an administrative hearing officer when a board is not in session or is defunct.

(6) Powers

A judicial board shall make a decision of guilt or innocence and shall make a recommendation on the sanction to the appropriate administrator.

b. Administrative Hearing Officer

An administrative hearing officer appointed by the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall be available at all levels to adjudicate disciplinary cases.

9. Appeals

Any disciplinary determination or sanction involving academic misconduct may be appealed to the next level in the judicial structure by submitting an application for appeal in writing to the Director of Student Judicial Affairs or the Vice President for Student Affairs, as appropriate, within five days after receiving notification of the prior decision. However, the right of appeal does not guarantee that an appeal will be granted nor does it entitle the student to a full rehearing of the case. An appeal, if granted, will be limited to the issues set forth in subparagraph a below.

a. The student may submit a preference for an appeal hearing before a judicial board or an administrative hearing officer. The appropriate university official shall decide the hearing agent.

b. The burden of proof at the initial jurisdiction level is on the University. At the appeal level, the burden of proof is on the student demonstrating error as defined in the following item (c).

c. Three issues constitute possible grounds for an appeal:

(1) Were judicial procedures correctly followed?

(2) Did the evidence justify a decision against the student?

(3) Was the sanction(s) imposed in keeping with the gravity of the violation? Previous violation(s) of the Code and the accompanying sanction(s) will be considered in determining a proper sanction for a current violation.

d. The appropriate committee of the judicial board or the administrative hearing officer will review the appeal to ascertain whether there are sufficient grounds for a hearing.

e. If an appeal hearing is granted, the hearing officer will review the appeal to ascertain whether the appeal is warranted. The agent will limit its review to the specific points of the appeal that were accepted at the screening review.

f. The agent hearing the appeal may:

(1) Affirm the decision(s) of the initial jurisdiction.

(2) Affirm the decision(s) and reduce the sanction.

(3) Modify the decision(s) of violation and reduce the sanction.

(4) Reverse the decision(s) of violation and remove the sanction, and dismiss the case.

g. A student dissatisfied with the decision on appeal may request a review by the President by submitting such a request in writing within five days after receiving notification of the prior decision. Review by the President shall also be limited to the issues specified in Subparagraph c above.

Further appeal may be made to the Board of Trustees by filing an application for appeal in accordance with Article VI Section 2 of the Board of Trustees Bylaws. The Board of Trustees will review only those administrative decisions which meet the requirements of review established by the Board's Bylaws.

h. Implementations of Sanctions(s)

a. The disciplinary sanction(s) shall be implemented when:

(1) The student has waived the right of appeal.

(2) The appeal period has expired.

(3) The sanction shall be as specified by the Board of Trustees.

c. A student separated from the University for disciplinary reasons is subject to the normal consequences of tuition and fee refunds, grades and financial penalties for terminating a housing contract.

d. In cases of disciplinary separation from the University may be accompanied by a condition which bars the student from University property.

(3) Disciplinary probation

(4) Disciplinary suspension

(5) Indefinite suspension

(6) Interim separation

8. Notification

The Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall send written notification of the decision and sanction(s) to the student. Such notification will normally be sent within five days of receipt of the judicial board's recommendation or within five days of the administrative hearing.

VI. AMENDING PROCEDURES

A. Review and/or Revision

At the request of any recognized constituency or the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Research, the Vice President for Student Affairs shall appoint a committee to consider amendments to this Code. The committee shall consist of two undergraduate students, one graduate student, two faculty members, one academic dean, one representative from the University Housing Office, one representative from the Office of Student Judicial Affairs, and one office representative from the Legal Counsel Office. The student and faculty members shall be assigned by the appropriate constituency. The Vice President for Student Affairs shall appoint a chairperson for the committee, but may be one of the member listed above.

B. Amendments

The President may propose to the affected constituencies and the general public consideration of the Code. Whenever the circumstances allow, due consideration shall be given to the recommendations of the committee proposed in the preceding paragraph. Amendment will be accomplished by the regular procedures for amendment of University Policy.

C. Notification

Any amendment of the Code shall be accompanied by a copy of notice of such change has been given to the student body, faculty and administrative staff. General notice shall be made, but not by means of public notification of approved amendments twice successively published in the Daily Egyptian in accordance with the provisions of said amendment by the Chancellor.

7. Sanctions

A student's disciplinary history shall have no bearing on the question of guilt or innocence. If, however, a student is found to be in violation of the Code, the full disciplinary history shall be considered in determining the sanction.

The Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall request the student's disciplinary records from the academic dean. The academic dean and the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall develop lines of communication.

Sanctions which may be imposed are:

(1) Disciplinary reprimand

(2) Disciplinary censure

(3) Disciplinary probation

(4) Disciplinary suspension

(5) Indefinite suspension

(6) Interim separation

8. Notification

The Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall send written notification of the decision and sanction(s) to the student. Such notification will normally be sent within five days of receipt of the judicial board's recommendation or within five days of the administrative hearing.

Different yet complementary art work exhibited

By Jefferson Robbins
Entertainment Editor

Artists Kathy Kelly and Janet Schill have radically different approaches to art — Kelly tries to capture the majesty in a true-life landscape, while Schill spends much of her time trying to break down the barriers between dimensions.

But their 34-piece exhibit at the Associated Artists Gallery, 213 S. Illinois, proves that their styles are complementary rather than contradictory.

Schill, who specializes in printmaking and metalwork, has produced 17 sculptures, metal prints and woodblock prints for the exhibit, most of which are interior scenes. Kelly's 17 works are dominated by landscapes in pen and ink, pencil and oils.

"Some kind of a feeling has got to come through your work," said Kelly, an art teacher at Anna-Jonesboro Community High School, "so you find things that you like, that you feel powerful about. For me, that power comes in doing landscapes."

The power is fully evident in pieces such as "Open to the Dawn," a pen and ink landscape of bare trees in deep winter. The lines in Kelly's work are thin and clean, and the stark whiteness of the scene makes the trees seem like small islands in a snowbound sea.

Kelly, an SIUC graduate from Evanston, Ill., now on sabbatical from teaching, said all her landscapes, such as "Johnson's Pond" and "Grandfather's Last Summer," are renderings of real places, many in the Southern Illinois area.

She said she also is inspired by literature, such as the "Merlin" series of books by Scottish writer Mary Stewart. A section of her exhibit deals with Stewart's interpretation of the the King Arthur legends in detailed drawings such as "...and between them a King shall be made."

Kelly said she finds benefit in working as both an artist and a teacher of art.

"In being a teacher and trying to pursue your art, first of all, you have the classroom as a studio as well as an area to be energized by all the creativity around you," she said. "By doing some of my work there, they (the students) get to see the piece finished, from start to end, which encourages them -- and that encourages me."

"It's a big, wonderful circle," Schill said she is one of the fortunate artists who is able to get by without a second job.

"I'm in the black, but just barely," she said. "It (my art) is supporting itself, basically."

In contrast to Kelly's thin lines and clean tones, Schill's printwork is dark, moody and sometimes primitive in its rendering of a line. Most of her woodblock prints are interiors of dark rooms with a window dominant.

Human figures occur only in Schill's earlier work, in pieces such as "Turmoil" and "Stations Change," where the interior scene is of one or more figures with a sense of isolation very evident between them.

When making prints from metal plates, Schill tends to incorporate the plates themselves into the exhibit, placing them alongside the print from which they were made. This gives the viewer two perspectives on the same piece — a sculpture in three dimensions, a print in two.

"It can take you just a day to print a piece," Schill said of this tactic, "and the part of the piece you worked so hard on, the metal plate — it's just shoved away in a drawer. You never see it again."

"Because I'm not just working two-dimensionally, like a painter would...I'm constantly trying to fight between the two-dimensional and the three-dimensional," Schill said.

The joint exhibit of Schill's and Kelly's work will run at the gallery until Sept. 21. The gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

Group to provide literacy training for volunteers

By Teri Lynn Carlock
General Assignment Writer

The Literacy Connection will conduct orientation and training sessions for literacy volunteers beginning Saturday at the east campus of Carbondale Community High School.

Registration will be at 8:30 a.m. and the training session will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Lunch will be provided for all volunteers.

The session is aimed at individuals interested in helping adults improve their literacy skills. Volunteers are not required to have a college degree or teaching experience.

Hugh Muldoon, coordinator of the Literacy Connection at John A. Logan College, said more than 100 people volunteer for the program each year.

"We especially get a lot of volunteers from the Carbondale area. But since it is a four-county effort, we need volunteers from other areas as well," he said.

The Literacy Connection four-person staff trains volunteers. Past students also serve on the staff panel and help with program training.

Literacy volunteers will be provided with 15 hours of training before being matched with learners. The total training lasts about seven weeks.

Volunteers use different kinds of learning strategies. Audio and video cassettes commonly are used as learning aids.

"We try to help the adults discover their own way of learning, that proves to be more successful," Muldoon said.

Muldoon said friends and families of illiterate people contact the program every day searching for help.

The Literacy Connection is a free service funded by the Illinois Secretary of State's Literacy Office and the Illinois State Board of Education, and is based at John A. Logan College.

Senior to represent SIUC at leadership conference

By Christiann Baxter
Administration Writer

A senior in political science from Carbondale will represent SIUC next weekend at the Student Leadership Conference in Springfield.

Michael Parker, government relations commissioner for Undergraduate Student Government, said the conference will provide him with an opportunity to bring back improved negotiation tactics for dealing with University officials to the Undergraduate Student Government.

Techniques in negotiating with difficult people will be the topic of the conference, which is sponsored by the Illinois Student Association.

Parker said the conference will teach him to become knowledgeable on any subject that is being negotiated.

"When we sit down at the table with administrators, we'll have a better idea of all the options that are available concerning an issue," he said. "We'll work from a base of knowledge. The idea is to develop and disseminate information that's available.

"It's definitely going to give me an opportunity to increase SIUC's student body government impact on state issues," Parker said.

Susan Filion, legislative director of the ISA, said negotiation skill building is the main feature of the conference.

"Handling negotiations and taking the friction and stress out of dealing with conflict will be taught," she said.

The Harvard Negotiation Project is the technique that will be used.

Improving theory and practice of negotiations is the goal of the HNP, Filion said.

The program is targeted at people who want a career in law.

The conference will be held Sept. 13, 14, and 15 at the Lincoln Plaza Hotel. The fee is $60 a person, meals included.

The registration deadline is Sept. 10.

Sixty people attended last year's spring conference.

The ISA is a non-profit, educational and charitable student advocate organization.

Library to offer training session for computers

By Fatima Janvekar
General Assignment Writer

Morris Library is offering regularly scheduled ILLINET Online Training Sessions for anyone interested in learning the way to access the computerized catalog.

"These sessions meet on a first come, first serve basis with a limit of 10 people," said Jan Griffith, secretary in the library's administrative office. Griffith is coordinating the sessions.

"These training periods serve an educational purpose by introducing the students to computerized catalogue searching so that they don't have to go through the card catalogue all the time," she said.

The card system still is in operation.

Sessions will be offered Sept. 10 through Oct. 31, Tuesdays through Thursdays at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

UI among best values for college education

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rice University tops this year's list of "best college buys" compiled by Money magazine.

The Houston-based private institution dubbed "the Harvard of the South" by Texas residents placed third in last year's Money survey, based on data on the quality of the student body, faculty and facilities as well as on annual tuition costs.

A $1 billion endowment has enabled Rice to hold yearly tuition at $7,700, according to Money. The century-old institution was also praised for its "academic vigor."

Following Rice on Money's list of public and private schools offering what it said are the best value were:

- The New College of the University of South Florida. State residents pay $1,675 a year in tuition, out-of-state residents $6,690. Academic programs require "high intellectual purpose and tremendous self-discipline," the magazine said.

- Trenton State College. Money noted its "unusually close student-faculty relations." Tuition runs $3,079 for state residents and $4,750 for students from outside New Jersey.

- University of Virginia. With an enrollment of about 18,000 and full-time teaching faculty numbering 1,600, the school attracts many from out-of-state students, who Money said pay $9,564 in tuition and fees.

- University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Among other things, the school offers a library that is third in size after Harvard and Yale. Tuition: $2,236 for Illinois residents, $5,988 for non-residents.

- California Institute of Technology. Despite a $14,100 tuition, Money said CalTech has a "high-powered" faculty and facilities that are "top-notch."

- State University of New York at Binghamton. Class size averages about 30, and the upstate institution boasts "highly regarded" business and engineering schools, Money said. New York residents' tuition is "startlingly low" at $2,150.

- University of Washington. The university is tops among public universities for receiving federal research and training grant money. Resident tuition amounts to $2,178.

have my entire life. I know what I need to do and I am doing it."

Widoff's latest victory was the Aug. 25 Muncie Endurathon Triathlon in Muncie, Ind., in which he finished first while competing in a field of professionals.

"I'm breaking the rules right now," Widoff said. "Amateurs don't win these races. The triathlon community just doesn't see many people like me who are in school and winning races. They don't know what to make of me."

The Muncie Triathlon was exactly one-half the distance of the Iron Man course, Widoff said.

"It (Muncie Endurathon) was the biggest and best win of my career so far," Widoff said. "I think I am improving my consistency more than anything and that is what it takes to win races."

The Muncie event consisted of a 1.2-mile swim, 56-mile bike ride and a 13.2-mile run, which Widoff finished in 3:55:14.

"If I can double my time along with the double distances in the Iron Man, my time would be eight hours," Widoff said, "and that is two hours faster than my time last year. Even if I finish in nine hours, it would still be exceptionally better than I did last year."

Widoff said a person's endurance gets better as one gets older and that is why young competitors usually don't win races.

"This has me really excited," Widoff said. "At this rate, I have many more years of strong racing ahead of me. Every time I win a race, all the bystanders can say is 'wait until he grows up!'"

Widoff gained interest in triathlons after competing for two years on the SIUC swim team. He said he was lured into running by his older brother Benjamin.

The elder Widoff won the Doc Spackman Triathlon, which is held annually at SIUC's Campus Lake.

Widoff won three Spackman Triathlons and numerous other races in the following years.

In 1991 alone, Widoff has competed in more than 15 triathlons and biathlons and won nine. Widoff said he has never finished worse than third in any of them.

"I have been into triathlons pretty hard-core for the past three years," Widoff said. "But now I am focusing strictly on training for the Iron Man."

Widoff said he is forcing himself to run every day at noon because that is the hottest time of the day.

"I was there last year, and I know the course," Widoff said, "and if you can deal with the heat, you have half the battle won. If hell would be an area on earth, in terms of heat, this course would be it."

Besides running at noon, Widoff said he has increased everything in his training schedule in order to prepare for the Iron Man.

"Instead of running one hour, I will run for an hour and 15 minutes," Widoff said. "I will bike 100 miles instead of 70, and I will swim an extra mile. I know this little extra will help me out on Oct. 19. I have to reach my maximum peak by then, and I have got to give 110 percent."

Widoff said he does not train in all three sports every day.

"I know when enough is enough," Widoff said. "Some days I train really hard in all three sports and other days I just run or bike."

SOFTBALL, from Page 24

"I'd like to see our team be as successful as last year, maybe even surpass last season," Mick said. "We have some big positions to fill, but with the squad we have I think we can be as strong as we were last season."

As for the pitching staff, pitching coach Gary Buckles said the team is fortunate to have four strong pitchers.

"We haven't really got to see them in action yet," Buckles said. "We have four pitchers capable of taking the lead role at any time. The two returning pitchers, Angie Mick and Dede Darnell, will lead the way."

Other players pitching for SIUC are senior Dede Darnell, new recruit Shelly Lane from Bartonville Limestone High School and walk-on Angie Ingram from Percy, who was a dominant high school pitcher.

Buckles said he looks forward to working with the new pitchers.

One top position player returning to play this season is junior right fielder Colleen Holloway, who was named third team All-American and Academic All-American for 1991.

Holloway set four single-season records with a .397 batting average, a .616 slugging percentage, 44 runs scored and 39 RBIs. Holloway already has the SIUC career mark in triples with 16.

Another returnee, senior shortstop Cheryl Venorsky, was named all-conference in the the Midwest and Academic Player of the Year.

Venorsky said she hopes the players can work well as a team, as they did last season.

"I hope we can have as good a season as last year," Venorsky said.

"The team will have to make do with what we have.

"Hopefully the new people will fill in and we'll do as good as last year."

Another returnee is catcher Laurie Wilson, who was named Conference Rookie of the Year in 1991.

Assistant coach Kerri Blaylock said the team was very excited about starting practice because of the success in the spring.

"We're very excited because of last year's successful season," Blaylock said.

"We are happy to have all the newcomers, and we also have a talented group of walk-ons coming in."

RECRUITS, from Page 24

Pecoraro was a first team All-State pick last season. She batted .370 last spring and led the team with six home runs, 28 RBIs and a .767 slugging percentage.

"I hope I can fill the places of the people that have left," Pecoraro said. "I'm happy to be on the team."

Brechtelsbauer said Pecoraro is a power hitter who can hit the ball a long way. She also has good speed as an outfielder.

Another recruit is all around player Andrea Pierson from Mattoon high school.

Pierson was a three time all-conference pick in high school. She batted .403 last season and had a team high 25 hits.

Pierson has good speed and good range as an outfielder Brochtelsbauer said.

Other recruits include catcher/infielder Tamara Sundstrom from Mt. Carmel high school and infielder Mandy Miller from South Terre Haute high school in Indiana.
