SOUTHERN TRIUMPHS 13-6

"TUNE IN" PLAYS TO CAPACITY HOUSE

EXCELLENT MUSIC, WELL-TRAINED CAST MAKE MUSICAL COMEDY A HIT

Scott's Third Act Setting Wins Applause; Bauman, Hamilton Construct Sets For Acts One and Two

Snapping off a gay theme chorus as the curtains opened at 8 o'clock last night the cast for "Tune In" initiated the first real three-act musical comedy ever produced on this campus. Throughout the entire performance the excellent music set the key tempo for a lively Homecoming celebration.

Grover Morgan, Miss Julia Jonah, and Mr. Wendell Mangrove go on record as authors of another successful Homecoming production. The play was under the direction of Miss Jonah, with assistance on musical numbers from Mr. Wendell Mangrove. Members of Little Theatre and of the MacDowell club made up the cast of fifty.

Honors go to Miggie Nelson, Berdena Faner, Anna Lee Moore in the first act; to Bob Boyle, Miss Faner and John Moore in act two; and to Henry Hill, in addition to Mr. Boyle, Miss Faner, and Mr. Moore, in the final act of the production.

The story of the play is woven about the "campus keyhole," who in a series of weekly broadcasts runs down a southern college and arouses the resentment of all the other students on the campus. Sally Sloan is in love with Sammy Jackson, but when she discovers that Sammy is the keyhole, she refuses to have anything to do with him until the college auditor comes forward with an explanation that the whole "keyhole affair" is a scheme to get the alumni to support the college and bring it safely through a financial crisis. After the revelation, Sammy becomes the hero of the campus. Berdena Faner gave a commendable performance as Sally, and John Moore did good work as Sammy. Arnold Thomas was the auditor. Henry Hill won the audience with his comic portrayal of Professor T. Herrington Sims.

The subplot of "Tune In" reveals Hollingworth Danks, a timid young man, striving to win Dee, and to become an expert violinist all at once. Much to his own surprise, he is successful on both counts. "Holly" was played by comic star Bob Boyle. He gave his usual rollicking performance. Anna Lee Moore was a charming "Dee."

Maggie Nelson as Mae B, the Tri-Tri maid, sang the song which captured the show in the first act. Her interpretation of "I Ain't No 'Gonna See My Man No Mo'," was excellent.

The music of the entire production was extraordinarily good for an original amateur show. In addition to Miss Nelson's presentation, outstanding solos were "I Heard a Fiddle Crying," "Torch Song," "Afterglow," "Still and Forever," by Berdena Faner; "Only Believe" by John Moore; "I Don't Want My Man to be a Shot" by Anna Lee Moore; talks. Various other members responded to impromptu toasts. The woman's gym is as "In a Little Cuckoo" by Bob Boyle; and "Star of Love" by Alene Barger. The chorus numbers

Coaches Lantz, McAndrew Taken Into "I" Club

Two Oldest Coaches in Illinois College Conference Honored Today Between Halves of the Football Game

In a simple ceremony between the halves of this afternoon's game, Coach Charles P. Lantz of Eastern Illinois Teachers and Coach William McAndrew were initiated into membership of the S. I. T. C. "I" club, and given sweaters. The presentation was made by Louis Bertoni, secretary of the "I" club, and was followed by a brief congratulatory address by President Shryock. Then the "I" club members congratulated the two mentors.

After the Charleston and S. I. T. C. bands had executed some attractive drills, both bands remained on the field, and the S. I. T. C. struck up the college song. The two coaches, members of the "I" club not on the football squad and President Shryock met on the field in front of the west stands.

After the presentation and congratulations, the S. I. T. C. cheering section gave each coach an enthusiastic cheer, and the dignitaries went back to the sidelines. The men honored today have served their respective colleges long and faithfully, and have greatly furthered athletics among the Illinois colleges. Their coaching rivalry began with the inception of football in 1913, and has continued annually since, with the exception of the war season of 1918.

Coach McAndrew came to Carbondale from Lawrenceville high school and immediately assumed the duties of coach of all sports and athletic director. His undergraduate work was done at Vincennes University, at the University of Chicago, and he has also a L.L.B. degree from Cumberland University. With the exception of 1918 and 1919, when he served in the War and became a captain, all of McAndrew's time and energy has been devoted to the duties of his office. Coach McAndrew has tutored some championship athletic teams in his nineteen year tenure here, chief among the winning aggregations being the all veterans 1930 and 1931 outbursts. Those two years saw a sixteen game winning streak, featuring the activities of some of the greatest players in S. I. T. C. history. Among the outstanding stars of those great teams were Abe Martin, Frank Eovaldi, Paul Swoford, and Harry Canada.

This is Charles Lantz's twenty-

MAROONS REMAIN ON TOP OF LIST FOR LITTLE NINETEEN TITLE RACE

Big Crowd Sees Macmen Outplay Charleston in Historic Rivalry; Sixth Straight Homecoming Victory for the Maroons

In a thrilling last quarter scoring surge, the championship bound S. Maroons whipped the fighting Eastern Illinois Teachers 13-6 before a wild cheering crowd of more than 4000 Homecoming fans. Today's victory marked the sixth consecutive Homecoming win turned in by the Macmen.

Held to a 6-6 tie throughout most of the contest the Maroons unleashed their famous pass attack, and the combination, Lenich to Gray, featured the drive which put the ball in scoring position. Two essential catches by Big Jim left the oval on the five yard line, and in two plays S. I. T. C. scored. Lenich plowing over right tackle for the touchdown. A pass to Moorman counted the extra point.

Points after touchdown, Moorman (pass), Eastern: Ritchie, Boez, Johns, Neal, Weekly, M. Dwyer, Wally, Austin, Stovers, Southam: Hill, Atherton, Patterson, Book, Fox, Vinson.

THESE TEN HIGHEST QUEEN CANDIDATES FOR HOMECOMING

In the recent student vote for Homecoming Queen 1024 votes were cast. Ten persons received more than twenty-five votes each. Their names, arranged in an alphabetical order which gives no clue to the one among the ten named as Queen, were as follows: Jane Burns, Virginia Drayner, Jane Federer, Martha Howells, Frances Locker, Georgette McCormick, Anna Lee Moore, Betty Viek, Elizabeth Anne West, and Eloise Wright.

Among the many scattering votes were those for the following: Mae West, Queen of Sam, Opal, Henry Hill, Nellie Pamphandine, Sallie Rand, Santa Claus, Jack Vinson, and Little Annie Roonie.

ALUMNAE WIN OVER VARSITY, 3-1 IN HOCKEY GAME

About seventy-five students and alumni gathered along the east wall of the gymnasium this morning to watch the alumnae defeat the varsity, 3-1 in the annual W. A. hockey game.

The contest was a little war for hockey, but sticks clashed and legs tangled furiously. The alumnae team, including such famous players as Maurie Taylor and Kate Conte, proved too powerful for the varsity. Maurie Taylor knocked the ball across twice and Virginia Shields once for the alumnae. Varsity's single score was made by Alberta Hamilton, senior.

Since this is the first time the varsity has gone down in defeat before the alumnae, today's game is a major event in W. A. history.

The lineup:

Varsity	Alumnae
A. Hamilton	C. M. Taylor
J. Spalding	L. A. Nallau
V. Hueting	L. I. C. Goedell
N. Goggin	R. I. W. Louden
M. Winters	R. W. E. Smith

L. H. Hiller	L. H. M. Goetting
M. Frapp	R. H. M. Cox
F. Friggs	L. E. V. Shields
E. Brockway	R. F. V. Kuhn
H. Bates	C. Diers

After the game the W. A. A. members entertained the former members at a luncheon. The women's gymnasium was decorated in fall colors. The toastmaster, Miss Nedra Goggin, W. A. A. president, called upon Maurie Taylor, Mrs. M. H. Diers, for informal various forms of entertainment. Besides dancing a being offered tonight. The woman's gym is as being used for bridge and ping-pong.

Queen Crowned at Intermission of Dance Tonight

Climaxing the Homecoming activities, the Homecoming dance is being held in the new gymnasium 8 o'clock tonight to the rhythmic music of Selma Snow and His Snowflakes. This orchestra is made up of students and alumni.

The old gym, decorated artistically as a street scene in maroon and white, adds its part to the welcome of the old members of the society. Soft lights, popular tunes, and confetti contribute to the making of this dance, one of the best Dunbar functions ever staged. The dance is arranged for card playing. Dancing lasts from 9 until 12.

S. I. T. C. PLAYS WESLEYAN FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

STRONG TITANS INVADE CARBONDALE FOR THE SEASON'S WINDUP

Next Saturday afternoon will see the Illinois Wesleyan team, Little Nineteen conference champions for the past two seasons...

Southern and Wesleyan have met on the gridiron only once before in the history of the colleges. In 1932, when the Elliott coached eleven began their reign as leaders of the conference...

Wesleyan, while possibly not as strong as in previous seasons, has managed to keep the conference record unblemished thus far this season, winning two and tying two league games.

The Titan team this season is built around Co-Captains Blazins and Henry, all-conference tackles, Benson and Weger are the stalwarts in the backfield...

The upstate team has a record of not having lost a conference game since November 1931. Since then the team have piled up a total of 17 victories.

Alumni Dinners- At Greek Letter Houses Tonight

Alumni dinners at the chapter houses at 6 o'clock tonight served to welcome back all homecomers of Delta Sigma Epsilon, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Chi Delta Chi, and Kappa Delta Alpha.

About thirty-five alumni were present at the Delta Sigma dinner, including four past presidents and several of the charter members.

The dinner for the Tri Sigma alumnae honored the nine charter members of the chapter, eight of whom were present. About twenty five former students attended.

Chi Delta Chi initiated Coach William McAndrew as an honorary member following the dinner for fifteen of its old members.

"SLATS" VALENTINE LEADS YELLS AT MASS MEETING IN AUDITORIUM

More than 1000 students paraded noisily through downtown Carbondale in a hilarious demonstration of Homecoming enthusiasm yesterday morning. Following President H. W. Shroyck's announcement of the dismissal of classes for the remainder of the day, the student body, gathered in pep assembly, cheered him to the echo with many yells. Without "Slats" Valentine, former S. I. T. C. cheer leader, who gave the pep talk, led the yells for President Shroyck. During the program, Coach William McAndrew and Co-Captains Holder and William Morawski gave brief talks concerning the Homecoming game. After more cheering, led by Robert Courtney and his assistants, the student member of the auditorium and most of the north gate. Led by the S. I. T. C. band, the parade of shouting collegians moved down Normal avenue to Cherry, then east to Illinois, and north to Main, then made a circuit of the east side business district, after which they gathered around the traffic signal where Courtney and company led a grand finale of yelling.

(Continued From Page One) the exquisite setting for act three. Barbara Jane Scott, outstanding stage director at S. I. T. C. and charter member of Little Theatre, achieved one of her greatest triumphs in this act. A silver tree, a huge silver moon, and black shadows silhouetted on the far horizon were beauty touches of the scene. All the sets were under the supervision of Miss Lulu D. Roach of the Art department. Frances Noel, technician of Little Theatre, and applicants, including John MacDonal, Allan Buchanan, and Robert Channess, were in charge of properties and general stage management. The entire cast of the play follows: Sammy (Stonewall) Jackson, a football player - John Albert Moore. Sally Sloan, a Tri-Tri pledge - Berthena Famer. Hollingsworth Dunks, a freshman - Bob Boyle. Dee Wilson, his inspiration - Anna Lee Moore. Professor T. Herringbone Sims, Ph.D. - Henry Hitt. Mrs. Post, the house mother - Marjorie Brown. Jean Andrews, the pledge captain - Lois Boyle. Mae B. the Tri-Tri maid - Maggie Nelson. Big Tim, her man - Selma Snow. Hal Simons - Everett Mitchell. Linda Phillips - Elizabeth Ann West. Louie Dean, a radio scout - Ernest Brashear. Mrs. Stoddard, an announcer - Edward Mitchell. Dolly Dean, a dancer - Kathryn Tunks. Harry Damon, editor of the college books - Arnold Ray Thomas. being incomplete, and then Lenich kicked out of bounds on Charleston's 15 yard line. Ritchie, substitute halfback, then kicked to Holder on the first play and Holder punted the pigskin on Charleston's 45 yard line and ran through the entire Charleston team for the first touchdown of the game. Lenich missed the extra point. Score Southern 6, Charleston 0. Southern kicked off to Sockler, who returned to his own 26 yard line. After attempts by both teams that resulted in no big gains, Southern during the closing minutes of the game made two fire downs and the end of the quarter saw the pigskin on Charleston's 6 yard line. Second Quarter With the pigskin on Charleston's six yard line, Wolfenbarger and Holder were stopped for no gains and on the next play Charleston was penalized for being off-side, putting the ball on the one yard line. On an attempted plunge through the center of the line, North was stopped one foot from the goal line. Charleston kicked out of bounds. After two team gained any great yardage, Hill, with ball on Southern's 40 yard line, fumbled and Charleston recovered. Charleston then tried a pass, Sockler to Bullard, that was incomplete and on this play Southern was off-side, being penalized five yards, putting the pigskin on Southern's 19 yard line. Here Sockler, Charleston's chief ground attacker and reversed the field, scoring that tied the score 6-6. Sockler's attempt at a place kick for the extra point was unsuccessful. Third Quarter Charleston started this quarter off with a bang and kept knocking at Southern's goal line during most of the quarter. With the pigskin on Southern's 37 yard line, Charleston attempted a pass, Davidson to Ballard, and a Southern backfield man tried to knock the ball down but instead it landed into Ballard's outstretched hands and he raced across the goal line. The umpire motion took the ball back to the 37 yard line. The Southern defense then tightened and Charleston lost the ball on downs. The quarter ended with Southern having the ball on its own 20 yard line. Fourth Quarter Southern opened up during this quarter with a bang, scoring that scored the touchdown that meant victory and kept the Maroons in

SIDELIGHTS ON TODAY'S GAME

A perfect Homecoming... A shower... Wolfenbarger and would-be tackler both full down in early minutes... Charleston's snappy boy and girl pair of drum majors... Hill having trouble going around his own interference... also head line-man, who just about ruined one run... The flashing color schemes—blue and maroon... Panthers victorious, but clean blockers... Maroons over-awful... Looking for that consecutive championship... touchdown the most spectacular individual play of the season... the flashy co-captain... The sideline and bleacher shouts of welcome... A gala Homecoming throng... The great first half... mass defense of the Charleston boys... Too close for comfort... Let's wallop Wesleyan next week and claim that conference championship.

BAND TO PURCHASE DRUM-MAJOR WILEY NEW UNIFORMS SOON HAS BROKEN ANKLE

Next Homecoming the college band will be resplendent in new modern uniforms. The student vote taken recently indicated that a great majority was willing to establish a fee to provide new uniforms for the college musicians. Nothing very definite has been decided yet about the color and design of the new uniforms. At any rate students and alumni may be assured that next year on this occasion the Band will appear in new regalia. Marjion Wiley, the drum major of S. I. T. C., is suffering from a broken ankle, sustained while practicing basketball Tuesday evening. "Minnie," as he is known to his friends, is a freshman from Harrisburg. Wiley survived the first and second out of the basketball squad, was looked upon as a good court prospect. He is expected to be out about five weeks. Wiley has worked faithfully with the band as drum major since the opening of college and it was very unfortunate to lose him on the eve of the Homecoming game. Stanley Layman of Central is serving as drum major in place of Wiley.

the lead of the Little Nineteen conference. Passes, Lenich to Gray, plus a run by Lenich put the pigskin on Charleston's 4 yard line where Lenich scored the winning marker that meant victory. Catching the E. I. eleven completely off-balance, Gray, instead of place-kicking, passed to Moorman for the extra point.

SOCRATS, Y. M. C. A. HOLD REUNIONS

The Sororatic Literary Society opened its annual reunion at 9:30 this morning with a program at Sororatic Hall. Music was played by the string ensemble after which one act play was presented. Eleanor Jane Hall entertained the society with a solo on the marimba, while Margaret Dean played the piano. John Albert Moore gave his customary satisfactory performance in a vocal solo. Following the program was a luncheon which was attended by twenty-five active members. Among the graduates were Professor E. H. R. Deane, professor R. E. Muckelroy, Dean G. B. Whaley, Judge Lydell Hancock, and Mr. Roscoe Pulfman of Harrisburg, and Miss Mary Goddard. The address of welcome was given by Fred Cagle.

The Y. M. C. A. began its program for the day with a breakfast at the Missionary Baptist church at 8:30. Robert W. Healy, '33, acted as toastmaster, and Charles Finley, Ernie Mitchell, and Clarence Stevenson, past presidents, gave their reports. The address of welcome was given by John Mings, president for this term. Gordon Dodds, secretary gave an outline of the work which is being undertaken by the Association this year. The program was closed with reminiscent accounts and songs.

GANGLE GUEST REPORTER

William Gangle, ex-'36, is a guest reporter on this edition of the Egyptian. Mr. Gangle is now a student in the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri, and is a Homecoming visitor. While in college here, Mr. Gangle served a sports editor of the Egyptian.

Orville Alexander, '31, is working on his doctor's degree at the State University of Iowa. He is doing his dying in the field of political science.
