DON'T FORGET THE STUDENT COUNCIL CARNIVAL-DANCE TONIGHT AT 8:00

VOLUME 25

Plans Are Now in Progress For Religious Emphasis Week; Sponsored by Christian Students

"Religion—an Opiate or a Stimulant?" is the theme for Religious Emphasis Week, May 7 to 14, which is being sponsored by the Student Christian Foundation. This is to be an all campus affair and not just an event of the Student Christian Foundation.

There will be present on campus, nationally known religious leaders who will stimulate the thinking and give addresses. The idea of Religious Emphasis Week is not a series of big mass meetings or unusual events, but a concentration of student attention and minds on religious matters.

Four of the national leaders to be here are Dr. Ralph D. Hyslop, Minister for Student Life Division of Christian Education, Board of Home Missions, Congregational Christian Churches; Dr. H. D. Bellis, Executive Secretary of the Department of Student Work of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, Nashville, Tennessee; and Mr. Newton C. Foster, assistant secretary and director of the University Pastor and Student Work, Board of Education, Northern Baptist Convention.

Prayer group representatives will be Dr. John Maxwell Adams, professor of the service of 77 university pastors maintained by the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education and Westminster Foundations at 66 state colleges and universities; and Mr. Raymond Allison, Director of Religious Education, Presbyterian Church of Illinois.

These discussions will operate through the normal activities and phases of campus life. Many discussions will be had in societies, cooperatives, campus clubs and organizations on the theme, "Religion—an Opiate or a Stimulant?"

In order to facilitate discussion, there will be provided a faculty member and a minister to act as discussion leader and discussor leader, respectively. It is hoped that in a frank, free, and genuine spirit this theme and the general problems of religion will be treated.

Different campus groups are being contacted right now. This is being done as a preliminary step and has been entered into.

At the foundation there will be denominational teas and dinner-chapels. There will be two chapel sessions during the week with the regular visitors speaking. On Wednesday night, there will be a mass meeting in the Little Theatre which is also sponsored by the Post War Discussion Group.

Adults interested in students will meet with these national leaders at a special luncheon on Sunday, May 7. It is hoped that there will be heavy attendance of the student body in the churches of their choice. The sermons for the day will carry out the theme of the week.

Specific details will be announced in the next two issues of the Egyptian as we approach Religious Emphasis Week.

ALUMNI-FACULTY PLAN MEMORIAL FOR MR. PULLIAM

The Alumni and Faculty of Southern Illinois Normal University are planning a memorial for the late President Roscoe Pulliam, which is to be established on the college campus. After consultation it was agreed by the representatives of the Alumni Association and the Faculty that the memorial should be a most appropriate memorial. The portrait would be similar to the ones which most have in the stairway hall between the first and second floors of Old Hall and to the one of the late President Shroyck, which now hangs in the office of the president.

NEARLY 1000 APPLAUD LITTLE THEATRE'S SPRING PRODUCTION "CRY HAVOC" LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Last Friday night at 8:00 the Little Theatre presented its spring production "Cry Havoc" written by Allan R. Kenward. It was directed by Mrs. Julia Neely, who has again taken over the direction of Little Theatre at Southern after having been absent from the campus last year because of CSO work in Oklahoma. She formerly had been the Director of Dramatics here from 1931 to 1936. Much credit is owed to the success of the play is owed to her skillful direction.

The play was attended by about 1,000 students, aviation students, and townspeople who proclaimed it a most outstanding production. Many have stated that it is the best that Southern has ever produced.

It gave everybody in the cast something to build up his role to amount to something. The quality of acting was outstanding, and the naturalness of the characters was readily noted.

MCDONAGH-FLIGOR LEAVE FOR ARMY

Dr. Edward C. McDonagh, assistant professor of sociology and coordinator of regional planning for Southern Illinois Normal University, and Mr. Jean Fligor, instructor in the Junior Training School of the college, are leaving the campus this week for induction into the armed forces.

Dr. McDonagh received his S.N.U. degree from the University of Southern California, where he was a member in Social Science Council of Southern Illinois Normal University in 1932 and his M. A. from Southern University.

Rabbi Milton Greenwald Well Received In Assembly Program Tuesday Morning, April 18

Rabbi Milton Greenwald of Evansville, Indiana, spoke on "The Contribution of the Jewish Religion to Western Civilization" in assembly Tuesday morning. He was introduced by Rev. John McCas, Student Christian Foundation director.

Rabbi Greenwald began by saying that it was his job to present the factual, historical, and informational side of Judaism. He also said that he was in charge of the Jewish people and that there is no Jewish God, but only Joseph. The word Jew has many meanings, but for many people it really means being in the present. It is usually associated with Greek and Roman as being in the past. However, this is not true since the word Jew is a living word. The Jew might be regarded as a dinosaur that has outlived all the other species. Many people might think of the Jew as pictures by the Nazis, and as being crucified on a thousand altars, crying out, "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

The first great contribution of Jews, in the synagogue, that the Jew is spiritual and ethical started a worship where also the Jew is the victim of the holy no sacrifice could be offered without struggle. Shall he be permitted to live? Rabbi Greenwald says, "Remove influence. The Bible speaks of man seed of Jews from civilization and not of one or a certain class, but of a duty to which we are called. The Jewish people are the ones of God as an intangible of our government on the continent of the Old Testament."

This is a concept to which we are called. The Jewish people are the ones of God as an intangible of our government on the continent of the Old Testament. They are the ones of God as an intangible of our government on the continent of the Old Testament.

DISCUSSION GROUPS OFF TO GOOD START; FORUM NEXT WEEK

Dr. Alexander will discuss the Jewish problem; Dr. Feunoy will discuss the Negro problem; and Mr. Lawson will discuss the future of the race problem in the post-war period.

There will be two more of the All-School Post-War Discussions on May 10, dealing with the topic, "The Future of the Race Problem in the Post-War United States." The first of these will be held at 7:30 in the Little Theatre, and the second will be held at 7:30 in the Little Theatre.

FISH OVER FIRE

The American Legion has finally got the number of Rep. Hiram Fish (N. Y.). The charge of abusing Congressmen is being investigated by showing alleged additions to make use of it was brought by the American Legion's investigation committee of the Seventeenth District located in California.

The "Undercover" character is accused of letting pro-Nazi Hiss access Elizabeth Dilling (now on trial in Washington) and C. Leon Jackson, anti propaganda under his trunk.

Looking back on the public career of Hiram Fish, it seems that he has long been either a detour or an open-eyed champion of Nazism and Nazis. As far back as 1935, one month and two days after Hitler overcame England, Fish was loud mouthed in a radio speech proclaiming that "socialism has no danger, that we would be foolish to engage our navy, and that the war arose created by Roosevelt for the purpose of distracting the nation from thinking of the depression, fascism and production figures for that period, by the way, were showing a record for America (the delirium of depression)."

On Jan. 18 of the same year, Mr. Fish can be quoted from the Congressional Record as saying "I would be perfectly willing to have Japan have a Navy equal to that of the United States, and I would be glad to see the British Empire or to fight Japan for Russia."

Fish's activities during the year 1939-1940 are so interesting he actively opposed any amendment to the National Security Act which would have authorized the FBI to investigate the activities of "American youth are again being propagandized in the United States by the British Empire or to fight Japan for Russia."

Cartoons: Build Prejudice Why Not Use Your John Hancock?

Dear Editor: Last Saturday night, April 15, a local cinema showed a cartoon about an opera. One of the scenes showed a man in a top hat and suit, possibly a character from a play or a caricature, standing in front of a building labeled "RUSSIAN THEATER" and "STAGE DOOR". A sign says "NOW SHOWING THE CRIMEA" and another says "LAST OF ALONG SERIES OF PERFORMANCES". A "CLOSED" sign is also visible.

WHY NOT GRADE PROFESSORS?

Democracy on a college campus is a process of constant action and thought on the part of every student, faculty member, administrative officer, etc. It calls for intelligent participation by all involved in an education program.

In the February 1944 issue of AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS BULLETIN, an article appeared entitled Why Not Grade Professors, written by Dr. Edward McDonagh, a member of the Sociology Department.

The incongruous fact was brought out that among the principles acceptable to most colleges and their various departments and professors is grading of students; it is to be noted that the grading system has not been extended to include professors as well as students.

Accepting the assumption that the grading system can be justified, grading of professors would work in this manner: Upon completion of a course, each individual student would turn in his evaluation of the professor's teaching to the registrar's office which would include method of presentation, organization of class material, sense of humor, fairness, etc.

If the grading system were extended to professors, the following benefits might be expected:

1. The professor, having the knowledge that students would grade his teaching, would attempt to maintain a high quality of professional service. Hence a published list of a professor's record would serve as a guide to students in selecting courses, rather than the present haphazard technique of judging a professor on the opinion of perhaps a few individuals.
 2. The extended grading system would serve as a mirror to the instructor. Student opinion would perhaps make him more aware of his teaching methods, organization of classroom materials, and he would be more responsible to the interests of students.
 3. The grading system would help put the teaching profession in its proper perspective. At many of the leading universities teaching is considered a side-line, or rather incidental. Grading a professor for his teaching would in reality, raise his status and recognition. Student criticism would, hence, stimulate a professor to keep on his toes and do a good job of teaching.
- Certainly our colleges should be among the first to promulgate democratic practices, and yet the fact remains that they are not democratic. GRADING PROFESSORS would make for the extension of democracy.

ANTI-SEMITISM, MAJOR PROBLEM

One of the major principles in establishing a firm basis in a post-war world is that of eliminating racial discrimination. The wrongs of racial discrimination must be obliterated from our modern world if we expect to prevent future wars.

Next to the Negro problem in the United States, the problem of anti-Semitic attitude is the most malignant. Anti-Semitism in this country is organized. According to Donald S. Strong, OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION IN AMERICA, there are 121 anti-Semitic agencies in this country. Such organized prejudice would be less insidious if it were not for the weakness of the Western world to anti-Semitism. The Jews have been natural objects of scapegoating because they are widely dispersed, easily identified, together with antagonism by Christians and Moslems.

A utilization of propaganda techniques for ulterior motives has resulted in distorted attitudes by many people: "Jews own the country."

Facts indicate that this is ridiculous. A rough count of 80,000 directors of corporations in 1936 showed that 4.8 per cent of the directors were Jewish. Fortune magazine in a survey in 1936 showed that Jews play a very minor part in banking, heavy industry, and insurance, and are not much more prominent in light industry, excepting clothing and furniture.

"Jews run the government."

FORTUNE survey in 1939 showed that only 30 of the 1000 jobs in the federal government were held by Jews.

"Jews control public opinion."

Jews have traditionally had to go into highly speculative fields because all other avenues were closed to them. Therefore, Jews have become prominent in the motion picture field, radio and the world of journalism. In AMERICA magazine found that 3 of 8 major moving picture companies are controlled by Jews. EDITOR & PUBLISHER estimated in 1938 that only 15 of 1,700 newspaper owner-publishers are Jewish and that their papers account for at most 6 per cent of the daily circulation in the United States.

"Jews in international banks."

A study in JEWS IN A GENTILE WORLD found that in 1939 only 3 per cent of outstanding foreign loans made by Americans were issued by Jewish banking houses.

Jews constitute only 3.7 per cent of the population in the United States, roughly 5 million people. Regardless of how large or small the Jewish population of our country is, as a democracy, we should guarantee the rights of an ethnic, religious or cultural minority to equal opportunity in educational, economic, social and political equality.

What is the meaning of public relations? The N.A.M.I. by following the Doctor's advice, set up the National Industrial Information committee, whose chief function is to popularize its resolutions and to inform coming generations what America is all about. The N.I.I.C. has done a magnificent job. They have done so well that "thousands of educators have turned voluntarily through their association to us for a better understanding of industry. (taken from an address by Dr. Weisenburger before the Congress of American Industry). Furthermore, the Doctor said these things:

"The N.I.I.C. has kept the record straight that industry did not start the war for profit. It has said the making of the private enterprise system. A RECENT SURVEY SHOWED THAT FREEDOM OF RELIGION WAS THE ONLY PERSONAL LIBERTY WHICH PEOPLE WOULD BE MORE INSISTENT UPON RETAINING. The people probably do not completely solve the problems of the system that we need not fear the advocates of any other form of collectivism."

DARK MUSINGS

By DOROTHY SYKES

It would be an easy matter for me to tell you some things about the need of more educational facilities among the Negroes and to tell you that improvement in the duration of Negroes for effective occupational adjustment is largely dependent on the improvement of general education, that improvement in the number of schools offering vocational education and in facilities for vocational instruction is needed as well as financial support. Or, I could tell you about the dread dangers of discrimination against Negroes in national defense, that I could tell you about the production, intensify the shortage of labor, contribute to the competition for housing in certain areas, which also cause payments to rise and compels government expenditure for defense housing. However, instead of telling you that improvement in the educational facilities and that the employment of Negroes will help will help to minimize them, I am going to tell you about two stamps honoring Negroes. The Booker T.

WASHING TAMP, and the Emancipation stamp

The Doctor T. Washington stamp to honor the United States postage stamp to honor an American Negro. It went on sale for the first time April 7, 1944 at the Tuskegee institution, marking the end of a seven year campaign begun by Major R. R. Wright of Philadelphia who won the support of interested organizations and individuals. Booker T. Washington, when the stamp honored, was born a slave in 1801, he founded Tuskegee Institute and remained head of the school until his death in 1901. The stamp picture, issued by the U. S. post office during 1944. Referred to as the Emancipation stamp, it was issued on October 26 at the New York World's Fair to commemorate the ratification of the 12th amendment to the Constitution which abolished slavery. Major R. R. Wright was also given credit for leading the campaign for this stamp.

The stamp picture, Thomas B. Hall's Emancipation stamp, honoring Abraham Lincoln with his head extended over the head of a kneeling slave.

STUDENT OPINION POLL

H. MATAYA & J. JACOBS, Co-Directors

FACULTY RATED BY STUDENTS

- The Student Opinion Poll has been set up by a barometer to indicate the attitudes and opinions of college students on vital issues of the day, political, economic, moral and social problems of common concern. The weekly poll takes its name from the fact that the poll was the first in a series to be carried on through out the remainder of the spring term. The guiding principles to be adhered to in forming the issues will be:
- (1) Widespread student interest.
 - (2) Timeliness.
 - (3) Controversy.
 - (4) Accuracy reporting of opinion expressed.
- The statements asked of the students was "Name in preferential order the faculty members whom you consider to be the most capable on the campus." The faculty rated by the students was as follows:
- Dr. Ronald Beyer..... 2
 - Dr. W. B. Schneider..... 2
 - Dr. Charles Tanney..... 3
 - Dr. Judson Landis..... 4
 - Dr. Willis Swartz..... 4
 - Dr. John Mayor..... 6
 - Dr. Thomas Barton..... 7
 - Dr. Edward McDonagh..... 9
 - Miss Douglas Lawson..... 9
 - Miss Wilfred Burns..... 10
 - Mrs. Julia Neely..... 10 (tie)
- Other faculty members receiving a high number of votes were Mr. J. Gary Davis, Dr. Abbott, Dr. Dillman, and Dr. Davies. There were 212 ballots cast.
- The first choice written on the ballot received five points, the second four, the third three, the fourth two, and the fifth one. It is hoped that the students will cooperate in future polls in order that the ballot will show a representative cross-section of the student body.

BOOKS IN REVIEW

By ELIZABETH BIVINS

ABOUT WOMEN

Edited by Helen Reed-Worsham Publishing Co.

Women by women and for women is a collection of short stories dealing with the feminine sex which is dedicated to the memory of the late Mrs. C. G. Conroy. The authors who range from Tess Slesinger and Dorothy Parker to Sister Mary Francis and Dorothy Conroy. The meaning of the nature of women is the aim and fulfillment of the book and among the literary and intellectual there is a wide variety to choose from a characteristic which the essential nature of the subject demands. Among these are The Yellow Wall Paper, by Charlotte Perkins Gilman, horrible and exciting for its study of a woman's mental deterioration. Tess Slesinger's observation of the futile and despairing lives of two people in the modern intellectual. The Cup of Alteration, by Phyllis Rotome, a magnificent short biography of a woman who was a woman's champion. The book is a gem in the teeth of time—her name was Sarah Bernhardt; Madame Yvonne Elizabeth Goddard's historical romance of a lonely little princess who became England's greatest queen; and there are others no less significant for their penetration into human lives than for their completion of a many sided study of the human mind.

Yes, an Inter-Racial Committee!

Dear Editor: Last week I read the editorial that was written attacking the establishing of an inter-racial committee. I think that it is one of the most ignorant and bigoted things I have ever seen. It is a really progressive campus that has come out of the hey of ideas for post-war planning. It is a campus that is a progressive campus of any school this far south, but to think that the students regard their school as a place where they should have an enormous appeal to children and this part of our population is the part that "picks up" the Negroes. The fact that you remembers it—this, in this instance forming the conclusion that Negroes are to be laughed at. Last Saturday night the place in second floor balcony. The child never steps to things. The fact that a Negro would not get popcorn and peanuts in second floor boxes any quicker than a white person would get them. I would never give the same a second thought but just the name. The idea has been placed in their minds.

It seems that the Hays effort could out some of these students even though they do furnish a lot of money. It is to the people who are against this type of thing to do something about it. Yes, you probably will be subjected ten per cent from the high schools of America and should be leaders in this type of work. What are you going to do about it? —A Junior.

Lounge Serves Purpose

Dear Editor: I would like to protest against the reference made to the present use of the former Student Lounge in your column. Voice of SINU has been a very successful organization. The lounge has been open from 7 to 9 and on Sunday afternoons and evenings, when necessary. Even as a lounge for students, it has made this a rendezvous for the Cadets and their wives and families or Cadets and friends and relatives. It is a place where the students can get together and have a good time. The lounge has been a very successful organization. Reopen Lounge to Students

Dear Editor: It is my opinion and the opinion of many students on the campus that this lounge should be reopened. It is a place where the students can get together and have a good time. A Ray of Hope

Dear Editor: The first in the series of post-war discussions on the campus last Wednesday night, it was encouraging to see that a number of students and faculty members were interested enough to come out and to engage in an interesting discussion after the lecture. Even though the weather was not the best, the students were there in large numbers and the lounge would have a great influence on campus spirit. —M. H.
