Council Sets $5,000 Goal For Campus Chest Drive

The Student Council approved April 27-May 2 for the first campus chest drive and passed a resolution that a check-cashing facility be established in the University Center at a meeting Thursday night.

The goal for the drive is set for $5,000, which amounts to roughly 25 per cent plus due to spring leadership camp.

Jerry Fenzel, Council vice-president, explained that the drive will reduce to a great extent other fund drives on campus, but may entirely eliminate other such drives.

This is the first effort at SIU toward the campus chest. Charities to which collected funds will be distributed are now being selected by Campus Services.

A student check-cashing service was discussed, and Senator Jim Connell brought to the Council's attention the difficulty some students have in cashing large personal checks.

The question was raised as to whether the University is contemplating any check-cashing service in the new University Center, as there is no place on campus to cash checks at the present.

Senator Connell said that when the matter was being investigated fall quarter, officials had stated that no facilities existed for such a service but that the University Center might afford some such facilities.

In discussion concerning activities of the election commission,

Convocations

For Spring

Interesting

The final term of Freshman Convocations for most freshmen fast approaching. The schedule promises a varied and interesting program for the spring term.

Herbert Block, a cartoonist for the Washington (D. C.) Post will be the speaker April 2. Block has received the Sigma Delta Chi National Editorial Award, the American Newspaper Guild award and the Pulitzer Prize in 1948.

Charles Claybaugh will narrate the film "Arctic Holiday," April 9. Claybaugh is a Republican representative of the 44th Illinois District. He is particularly active in matters relating to education.

Pan American Week

In commemoration of Pan-American Week April 13-18, Professor Manuel Zardoz, a Brazilian teacher from Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C., will speak on April 16.

Mrs. Emily Taft Douglas' wife of Senator Paul Douglas, will be the speaker April 23. Mrs. Douglas was once a congresswoman-at-large from her state. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago and has been awarded honorary degrees by McMurry College and Lindenwood College.

Robert Herremans will narrate the motion picture "Ranch of the Purple Flowers" on April 30. Herremans was an artist for 30 years before he returned to his first love — wild life. He is an outstanding photographer and has had a great deal of experience covering wild life.

The convocation on May 7 will kick off the Spring Festival. The Student Committee for the Festival will be introduced and the entertainment will consist of student talent.

May 14 Open

The program for May 14 has not been definitely announced as yet.

On May 21, Scholastic Honors Day, students of Southern who have been outstanding in their academic achievement will be honored.

On May 28, Activities Recognition Day, the students who have contributed to the University through co-curricular activities will be honored. Faculty advisors will also be recognized and the highlight of the program will be the capping of the Sphinx Club members.

Fenzel said that student elections are set tentatively for May 12, will be a primary, if needed, and will be held May 5.

Chairman Senator Sandra Latz suggested that every possible effort be made to complete elections as soon as possible so newly elected students can gain some practical experience prior to spring leadership camp.

In two separate moves, the Council passed resolutions that members be given certificates of membership at Activities Recognition Day, and that the same type of certificate be given other members of student government.

The Council considered giving tokens, such as a small pen and pencil desk set or a pin, recognition for student government work.

More Council members felt this was unnecessary; that student leaders expected no material reward for their work and that the certificate would do nicely.

At the final meeting of the Council for this quarter Thursday night, John P. Longeran is scheduled to show slides illustrating future modification of the campus.

Absent from the meeting Thursday were Junior Class President Yvonne Anton, Sophomore Class President Ron Meyer and Harold Heller, representing out-of-town students.

Heller, attending class until 8 p. m., missed the meeting, which was over shortly after 8 in a record for Council meetings.

In discussion concerning activities of the election commission,

Fenzel said that when the matter was being investigated fall quarter, officials had stated that no facilities existed for such a service but that the University Center might afford some such facilities.

There was no mention of the election of Student Affairs on campus, so beware, illegal auto possessors!

An anonymous letter was received by Assistant Dean of Men Elwyn E. Zimmerman last week, asking "why so-and-so" is allowed to drive a car on campus without a driving sticker."

The writer continued to give the person's license number and make of car and ended up with saying, "I have been refused permission to drive my car, so why should another person have the privilege?"

Zimmerman did not say what action would follow receipt of the incriminating letter.

Three Acts Go On Television

Three acts taken from the Theta Xi Variety Show will furnish the entertainment on the Cape Girardeau Breakfast Show Thursday.

Bobbie Jones will sing "Storm Weather," and do a song and dance routine to "Life Is Just A Bowl Of Cherries." Nedra Clay will sing the melodies; "But Not For Me" and "By Myself."

The third act is not definite at this time.

Featured on the show this morning was A. Frank Bridges, SIU. Civil defense coordinator and associate professor of health education.

Bridges gave a talk about tornadoes, warning systems, storms in Southern Illinois, and safety precautions to use in case of storm warning.

Two In Speech Visit Washington

Two authorities on speech and hearing therapy of SIU Speech Clinic have been invited to Washington by the Federal Government.

Chairman Isaac P. Bracken and Ass. Dean John O. Anderson will attend the American Institute on Rehabilitation Training in Speech and Hearing next Friday and Saturday.

Representatives from major institutions throughout the United States have been invited by the government for the purpose of discussing training programs. Training facilities, training grants and preparation for future programs will be discussed.

Bailey Hall, Nightwine-Wilkinson Win First Places In Theta Xi Show

Sellout Crowds Watch Acts; Connell, Adams Win Awards

Bailey Hall and the June Nightwine-Hall Wilkinson duet were first-place winners in the 12th Annual Theta Xi Variety Show Saturday night at Shroyer Auditorium.

The show, which was also presented Friday night, was viewed by sellout crowds, as 18 acts competed for the first-place trophies.

In the group competition, Bailey Hall was followed by The Newman Club in second place and Pi Kappa Sigma third.

The Kappalors were given the second-place trophy for individual acts.

Bruce Hayward, KMOX, St. Louis disc jockey, was master of ceremonies for the two shows.

Bailey Hall presented "T he Re-Creation" in its first prize-winning performance. A choral reading written by a member of the Hall, Bruce Baggs, the scene told of how God created the Earth. When man came along, Fear, Hate and Sin were created by humanity.

The scene was accentuated by sound effects and lighting.

This year marks the first time Nedra Clay has been in the Variety Show.

Nedra Clay presented "Be My Woman Now" and "Softly, As In A Morning Sunrise."

Bruce Hayward Says:

SIU Is Top In Talent

"There is no university in the nation that培养 more talent than Southern," beamed Bruce Hayward following the Theta Xi Variety Show Friday night.

"You can take this for what it's worth—but I've traveled a lot, shown none of what I learned here. None have been more diversified, have had more originality."

Hayward and his attractive wife dined with the reporter following the four-hour show Friday night. He talked of his radio history.

He began in radio while in college at the University of Minnesota, where he received his master's degree. Later he married the present Mrs. Hayward, a daughter of five children.

He seemed sincere in his praise of SIU, both during the Variety Show and during the interview. He said he was amazed at the talent displayed in the and that Southern could compete with any university in the country.

During the show, Hayward kept the audience entertained with pointed bars at the delapidated Shroyer Auditorium curtain.

He said he was going to start a fund to buy new drapes and would be happy to contribute at least $1.

He also talked about the incidents on campus that were sitarized during the show.

"It's amazing how students make something big of it," he said. "Just pushing a little bus onto the tracks. Boys will be boys, you know."

"Now, when I was a boy, some of the youngsters used to tip over trolley carts!"

"But I'm an outsider—even an out-of-stater—and I think you should be very proud of what you have here. But you do need a new curtain."

Kappa Alpha Psi was illuminated, and a dancé to the tune of "Dry Bones".

The near-four-hour show was produced entirely by students; Sam Meyer and Brian Merriman were co-chairmen.

Jim Connell and Linda Adams were winners of the Service to Southern Award, which was presented following the show Friday night by President Delyte W. Morris.

The two winners were presented silver wristwatches for the curtain.

Chairman Sam Meyer said they were presented by Dr. Delyte W. Morris, president of Theta Xi.

Hedfield was not injured and Miss Davis was committed to Doctors Hospital in Carbondale for observation. According to hospital authorities, she was suffering from shock.

Sunday, a spokesman for the hospital said Miss Davis would be released Monday if the X-Rays are negative.

According to Hedfield, a car going south rammed into an eastbound car on Rt. 13. The car glanced off and struck a westbound car. Hedfield, who was driving in the right lane, going east, believed he avoided hitting a person who had been thrown out of the car, and rammed into a telephone pole on the south side of the highway.

Known as the "dean of St. Louis disc jockeys", Hayward said students should be proud of Southern.

4-Car Wreck After Show Hurts Student

Two SIU students were involved in a four-car collision Friday night shortly after the Theta Xi Variety Show.

Jerry Hedfield and Kay Davis were riding in a car sports car when three cars collided, and Hedfield swerved to avoid hitting a body on the highway, ramming into a telephone pole.

Theta Xi Gives President Office Bronze Plaque

President Delyte W. Morris was presented with a $300 bronze medallion by Theta Xi fraternity following the Variety Show Friday night.

The award was given to the President's Office.

Co-chairman Sam Meyer said the medallion had been ordered for over a year. The official seal is imprinted on the front and an inscription is impressed on the back.

The inscription of the one and one-half pound medallion reads: "Presented to the office of President of the University."

In A Cloud Of Dust

Well, The Curtain Fell

We'll, the curtain fell.

Immediately following the Theta Xi Pledge Act Saturday night at the Variety Show in Shroyer Auditorium, the right curtain ripped from its rings and floated gracefully to the floor in a cloud of dust.

Master of ceremonies, Bruce Hayward, who had made pointed barbs at the delapidated drape for two nights, walked onto the stage amid a storm of applause, laughter and mass hysteria. The noise lasted for two or three minutes, the most noise made in Shroyer Auditorium in years.

Hayward just smiled and said, "Well, it fell at the right time, anyway."

A member of the Office of Student Affairs asked one of the Theta Xi members if somebody destroyed the curtain purposely.

During the show, Hayward volunteered to start a collection for a new curtain and said he would be glad to contribute at least $1.

He said he had actually been connected to the thinning drapes during the two nights. The KMOX disc jockey suggested,

"Approximately 60 speakers from throughout the country will participate in the institute. Enrollment is limited to 60 students,"

REHABILITATION UNIT RECEIVES GRANT

SIU's Rehabilitation Institute has been awarded a grant of $2,810 by the Federal Office of Vocational Rehabilitation.

The money is to be used in conducting the 6th annual Rehabilitation Institute, which will be held this summer from June 21 to July 3, on the SIU campus.

He said he had actually been connected to the thinning drapes during the two nights. The KMOX disc jockey suggested,

"Approximately 60 speakers from throughout the country will participate in the institute. Enrollment is limited to 60 students,"

SERVICE TO SOUTHERN Linds Adams and Jim Connell accept the Service to Southern Awards from President Delyte W. Morris Friday night following the Theta Xi Variety Show. The two students were awarded silver wristwatches for their service to the University, an award given annually to a man and woman.

The Editors' Opinions

First Campus Chest Drive In April

The first campus chest drive marks the start of a new trend at Southern—consolidation of the different charities. For the student body and the campus the chest drive should be an improved method of donation.

There are many worthwhile organizations which ask for donations every year. Is it fact that this is where the fault lies. The student is asked to give to several different ones and as his limited funds aren't sufficient to donate to all he is faced with a perplexing problem.

Southern Tradition

Tradition is a link binding many people who have varied cultural and social backgrounds, and the tradition at Southern stimulates the students to be one "big happy family." The annual Theta Xi Variety Show has become one of these traditions on campus, with various traditions of its own.

An idea of true sportsmanship is a true aspect of the production. From the moment of first tryouts to be presentation of the awards, the students are facing a challenging battle between themselves, their fellow students, and the race of time. Win or lose, the students portray a true atmosphere of sportsmanship.

Another tradition of the show is the laissez-faire attitude.

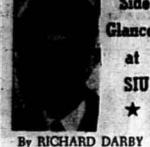

Which to give to?

The campus chest drive will eliminate the problem of choice. The student can donate once and know his gift will be put to good use in several funds.

Goal for the first campus chest drive is $1,000. This is only 25 cents per person. The goal should be met and passed.

Of course the campus chest drive could turn out to be a bad thing. Only if it is supported by the student body can it prove a success.

Southern Tradition

At Southern, it is rather common for instructors to encourage classes to "always express your views—speak up!" Often students hear the familiar "if you disagree with me just say so."

Students have long lists of freedom since kindergarten. These lists vary in content from instructor to instructor, but the bit on press is always included and emphasized. Students still hear about freedom of the press is "relax."

And from some of the personnel, I have found this attitude: "Freedom of the press should exist so long as it does not involve me."

It is this hypocrisy that is most obvious and most sickening to a newspaper man.

I have observed these things here:

After a classroom lecture on "the free flowing of ideas and facts is good for Democracy," an Egyptian reporter told me that the same free-flowing prof said, "Don't mention the students present at my club meeting last night, because only five came."

An administrator here told me once, for one hour, that students should speak out more often, that she is alarmed with conformity on campus, that she thinks the Egyptian should write an editorial condemning students for not expressing themselves, and that the Egyptian is doing a good job.

I left the same lecture with a freedom-fighter attitude. But just as I left the door she began to tell me what all not print (as well as what and how to print) in the Egyptian.

Yet, I do not feel too badly when these things happen, because I know that tomorrow someone will call the office and request "publicity," "building, or something similar."

It is as refreshing as it is unusual to hear someone say, "I have a news story for you."

Incidentally, the Egyptian does not distort or withhold news, and there are many students and some SIU officials who accept freedom of the press as it was intended in America, a freedom to include everyone.

The winter enrollment at Southern was 9,440, an increase of over a year ago.

The first building on campus was Old Main, which at one time constituted the University.

Job Interviews

March 10-13

Job interviews have been set for the week of March 10-13 at the Placement Service.

Todays E. A. Bond, assistant superintendent of the Milwaukee city schools, will hold interviews for elementary, special education, high school chemistry, mathematics, home economics, girls' physical education, physics, and industrial arts teaching positions.

Bond will also interview seniors for a school psychologist position.

Also at the Placement Service today will Jack Miller, representing the Upjohn Company of Muskego; V. E. Moss of Schlumberger Well Service Corp.; Mt. Carmel; and Albert J. Arbogast, Jr., from Banks Lifes Co., Paducah.

Miller will interview seniors for sales positions requiring a background in science; Moss for positions as chemists in petroleum engineering; and Arbogast will talk to seniors interested in sales and underwriting careers.

Clyde Winkler, superintendent of Carbondale city schools, will hold interviews Wednesday for elementary E. M. H. teachers, and a woman vocal music instructor.

Mahlon S. Hunt, Aeromarine Chart and Information Center, St. Louis, will interview seniors Wednesday for geography and geology positions, and Margaret Greenman will interview prospective teachers for the Champaign elementary schools.

On Thursday, R. C. Nelligan, representing the U. S. Naval Ordnance Testing Station, China Lake, Calif., will hold interviews for applied science, physics, chemistry and mathematics positions.

Also on Friday, Maurice Clark, superintendent of Western Springs city schools, will interview seniors for elementary teaching positions. Clark will also offer positions in junior high school English, social studies, girls' physical education and art.

Other interviews Friday will be Roy Mohr, holding interviews for accountants positions with the Post, Meawick and Co., St. Louis, and L. D. Parrish, superintendent of the Harmony school, Bellwood.

Parrish will interview for first, second, and sixth grade teachers, and girls' physical education instructors in the seventh and eighth grades.

J. S. Hoffman, U. S. Industrial Chemicals Co., Tulsa, will interview for accountants positions with the Post, Meawick and Co., St. Louis, and L. D. Parrish, superintendent of the Harmony school, Bellwood.

The winter enrollment at Southern was 9,440, an increase of over a year ago.

The first building on campus was Old Main, which at one time constituted the University.

Pettingill At Convocation

Lecturer Has Audubon Film

D. Olin S. Pettingill, nationally known Audubon lecturer, will narrate an Audubon Guide Screen Tour Wednesday night at Furr Auditorium, and will present another film at Thursday's Freshman Convocation.

Out of the magnificent forest, bog, marshes, lakes and farmlands parade a variety of animal life in natural setting and color. A hunting foray and a red-backed salamander is born before one's eyes.

The audience will see one of the rarest birds in the world, the jack-pine warbler, in its mating. The back-swimmer and mantis—perform their curious and comical antics to the delight of viewers.

A Scientific Discovery

At the University of Michigan Biological Station, the world's largest school of field biology, unfolds an absorbing story of scientific discovery.

Life scientists are observing and studying the mysteries of nature in the outdoors. Once their research has been completed, they apply their findings to benefit man's welfare.

Ichniologists, men who study fish, are seen tracking down the dreaded sea lamprey the most serious enemy of game and commercial fish in the Great Lakes basin. In another scene protozoologists discover the carriers of bird malaria.

Dr. Pettingill is nationally known as a scientist, photographer and lecturer. He now teaches at the University of Michigan Biological Station at Cheboygan.

To obtain first-hand knowledge and color motion pictures of wildlife and conservation, he has traveled 125,000 miles and exposed 35 miles of film.

Profili Speaks Thursday Night

A distinguished Italian diplomat, Dr. Giacomo Profili, Consul General of Italy at Chicago, will speak on "Italy Old and New," Thursday, March 12, at 7:30 p. m. in Morris Library Auditorium.

Dr. Profili has been in the Italian Foreign Service since 1936. He has acted as the Italian Counsellor in France and in Detroit, Mich. Profili has also held the position of Secretary of the Italian Legion in Bulgaria, Switzerland, and Austria. He was Head of the Economic Office for North and South America in the Italian Ministry for Foreign Affairs, and came to his present post in 1957.

This public meeting is sponsored by Southern's International Relations Club and Pi Sigma Alpha, as a sequel to the Fine Arts Festival which emphasized Italian culture.

All students, faculty and townspersons are invited to attend.

A Financial Assistance Office is located in the Office of Student Affairs.

"Europe resents its dependence upon the United States," Dr. Werner Imhoff told SIU freshmen Thursday at convocation. Imhoff used the historic example of the fact that strong, rich, and powerful countries are not always loved when other nations are forced to follow them.

Imhoff is the chief United States correspondent for the Neue Carlsru Zeitung, a newspaper published in Zurich, Switzerland.

The American system of government impressed the Swiss journalist.

"The co-equality of the three branches of government allows flexibility," he said. "Adjustments can be made when they are necessary. An example of this would be the Supreme Court decision on segregation."

Educational reform in the United States came in for criticism.

"Discarding the present educational system is not the answer," he stated.

Freshmen Hear Swiss Journalist At Convocation

"We think we should have in the neighborhood of 45 to 50 boys in the chapter," predicted Benton. "We hope to eventually have the whole group in the chapter."

The 87 students eligible to join the club were also eligible to vote, Benton said. Only 27 students took part in the election however.

Benton attributed the 31 percent vote turnout to the students not knowing each other well enough. FFA will give them a chance to get better acquainted with each other, he said.

The first official meeting of the new FFA chapter will be on April 17.

The officers will hold board meetings before the official meeting, he added.

Wandering Around

What A Year It's Been

By Doris Greenlee

The end of the line has finally arrived, and it seems impossible. It seems like only yesterday I first sat down at this typewriter and started pecking out these words of wisdom, wit, and downright foolishness, that's what a year!

Last spring I was a pretty dumb bunny when it came to the business. I didn't know what to do or how to do it. Looking back now, I wonder how anybody ever tolerated me, but they did, it seems like I've been writing lots of junk to an awful lot of people.

This spring I'm the richer for a lot of knowledge, and most of all, for a lot of new friends. Some of you, I know, have had complaints about the way I've run things here, and I've done my share of griping too, but that's the way the ball bounces. I've tried to do my best, when it came to tight deadlines and short spaces, but ye old ruler is pretty strict, and what won't fit must go. I hope nobody has been seriously offended by the cutting and chopping that resulted.

Actually, things haven't been so bad. The midnight oil has burned, but it's been fun. I've gotten kicked out of my rooming house (almost, anyway) for some of the comments in these little gems, but that was fun, too. (Hope somebody else enjoyed them besides me.) I've met a lot of people, and that was the most fun of all. The more I see of it, the more I think Southern's a pretty good place, and I'm going to hate to go.

This started out to be a short, simple little paragraph or two, telling everybody farewell, but somewhere along the line I got carried away. Before I turn this over to Marilyn entirely, I'll try to sum up what this year has meant to me.

In three words—It's been great.

New Ag Group Elects Officers

Gary R. Smith, sophomore vocational agriculture major, was elected president of the college Future Farmers of America chapter, now being formed at SIU, on Tuesday, March 3.

These officers form the nucleus of what will be the only collegiate FFA chapter in Illinois, the groups faculty sponsor, Ralph A. Benten, associate professor of agricultural industries said. Eighty-seven students majoring in vocational agriculture are eligible to join, according to Benten.

"We think we should have in the neighborhood of 45 to 50 boys in the chapter," predicted Benten. "We hope to eventually have the whole group in the chapter."

The 87 students eligible to join the club were also eligible to vote, Benten said. Only 27 students took part in the election however.

Benton attributed the 31 percent vote turnout to the students not knowing each other well enough. FFA will give them a chance to get better acquainted with each other, he said.

The first official meeting of the new FFA chapter will be on April 17.

Leader of the group for Greek Sing this year is Tom Schenck. Jim Connell was one of the three finalists for the Service to Southern award.

Dean Carr, Ed Swick, Ed Murray, and Bob Hauser will graduate at the end of this term.

SIGMA PI PLANS EXCHANGE PARTY

Sigma Pi fraternity is making plans for an exchange party with Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority in the near future.

Virg Mueller returned last weekend from a trip to Akilen, Indiana. Root Hayden took part in a two-day rifle meet with the AFROTC squad.

Next Newman Club meeting will be held tomorrow night in the Newman Center, at 8 p. m.

ANTHROPOLOGY CLUB HEARS RILEY TONIGHT

The Tepuhuan of northern Mexico will be the topic under discussion by Dr. Carroll Riley at tonight's Anthropology Club meeting. The session will begin under way at 7:30 in the Museum Lounge in Alfeld.

Tepuhuan are Indians in the Sierra Madre Mountains in the state of Durango, Mexico.

Dr. Riley will show colored slides of work he did with the Tepuhuan last summer while he was working on a research grant from the U. S. Public Health Service. The grant is for a study of the Tepuhuan medical practices and health facilities and conditions. Dr. Riley may also show choice items from collections he made among these Indians.

KAPPA DELTA PI TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Delta Chi chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education society, will be a guest of the chapter at Austin Peay State College, Clarksville, Tenn., on Saturday, April 25. Occasion for the visit is the regional conference for all chapters located within 200 miles of Austin Peay College.

Officers of the local chapter are Pat Bond Telford, president; Carol McGregor Sue Foster; Dr. Ted Ragdale and Mrs. Evelyn Rieke, counselors.

SIGMA DELTA CHI HOLDS INITIATION

Sigma Delta Chi, journalism professional fraternity, initiated seven new students Thursday evening at the Elks Club.

Initiated were Charles Bundy, John Fels, Ken Jaeger, Warren Gray, George Denison, Jon Dill and Joe Huang.

Ray Serati, president of the group, and Charles C. Clayton, adviser, attended the regional conference held at Robert Allerton Park, University of Illinois, over the weekend.

SIU made its bid to host next year's conference at the meeting.

Swimming

Paced by the most brilliant crop of freshmen athletes ever to hit this campus, the Saluki swimmers broke about every record in the books last weekend as they completely dominated the IAC Conference Championships.

SIU chalked up 142 points in the process of setting 14 new conference marks. It was the first conference swimming title won by Southern.

Western Illinois' team was a distant second with 68 points and defending champ Central, winners of the first conference meet last year, was third with 66 points. Illinois Normal was fourth with 46 and Eastern Illinois was left at the bottom of the pool with 11 counts.

The Salukis' international speeders, Norbert Rumpel, freshman from Germany, and Jim Fountain, freshman from Australia, continued their slaughter on the American record books. Rumpel established another new American and Collegiate mark in the 100-yard breaststroke. Rumpel earlier set new American and Collegiate marks in the 200-yard event.

Cagers Clutch At Evansville, Lose To Whittenberg, Belmont

By Ron Jacober

Evanston, Ind. — Clutching up when it really counted, the Saluki cagers, dropped two big games in the first round of the NCAA Collegiate Basketball tournament last weekend.

On Thursday night, Gallatin's Warriors bowed to ninth ranked Whittenberg, 80-70. In almost a carbon copy a night later, the "Go-Go" Salukis, who forgot to go, lost to fifth ranked Belmont Abbey, 79-70.

Lead 2-6

Thursday night against a tall Whittenberg squad, Southern jumped off to a 2-0 lead as Charlie Vaughn hit his first jump shot. This was the only lead the dogs held all night. Tony Walton sent home a jumper and tied the count at 2-2 and the Tigers were sent with Whittenberg.

Southern stayed within striking range during most of the first half. With 10 minutes gone in the game and Bryan on the break with three fouls, the Salukis trailed 26-25. With 12:47 left in the first period, Tom McGrail hit on a 15-foot jumper to move the Salukis within seven at 35-28.

However, two buckets by Deems and two by Miller gave the boys from Ohio a 41-30 edge at the half, one that stunk worse than seven-year-old cheese for Southern.

With only five minutes gone in the second half, Whittenberg pulled away to a 54-36 advantage and the game appeared out of reach of the cold shooting Salukis.

The brilliant out-court shooting of Florian and the dogging defense of Jim Guidoni, bought back within 11 points at 63-52 and 73-62. The two clubs seemed content with exchanging baskets the rest of the game.

Bryant & Vaughn 6

The game was marred by the under-play of Seymour Bryan and Charlie Vaughn, a combination averaging 10 points per game between them. Bryan managed only six points while Vaughn hit for only eight.

Florian led the attack as he hit 7 for 11 from the field and one charity toss for 15 points. Don Hepler tallied 12 points and Jim Guidoni marked 11 to the books.

Whittenberg hit a sizzling 28 for 50 from the field for .560. Southern hit 30 for 71 for .423.

Late Belmont

In Friday night's contest, Belmont Abbey, behind 6-8 Danny Doyle and ball-handler Jim Sparrow, built up a 13-point second half lead and staved off a late Saluki rush for a 79-70 win in the consolation game of the NCAI Midwest regional.

Gallatin's players, playing in their final game of the season, competed without the services of Charlie Vaughn, freshman point machine averaging about 24 points per game. Vaughn reinforced his ankle in Thursday night's contest with Whittenberg.

Doyle and Sparrow both finished with 23 points as the fifth-ranked club from North Carolina took command midway through the first half and built a 36-28 intermediate edge.

The Salukis late charge was again paced by the sharp cutout shooting of Frank Florian. With three minutes remaining in the game, Southern had cut the deficit to three points, 64-61.

Jim Guidoni, stalking brilliantly on defense throughout the tourney, then engineered a steal but blew a wide open layup and the Salukis were doomed.

Belmont cashed in on the next four points to cushion its edge.

Without "Shotgun"

Playing without "shotgun" Vaughn, Southern presented a balanced scoring attack headed by captain Seymour Bryan, playing in his final game, with 15 points. Bardo, Florian and Guidoni all tallied 12 markers and Hepler, hitting his soft jumpers, made only six points while Vaughn hit for only eight.

Florian led the attack as he hit 7 for 11 from the field and

Wrestling

By Larry Mayer

Every dog has its day, according to the saying, but the wrestling Salukis had have had several; and Saturday was no exception. The team won the IAC Conference tournament by scoring 105 points to top the six other schools.

Northern Illinois finished second with 79 points; Illinois State Normal was third with 54; Central Michigan placed fourth with 47; Eastern Michigan scored 18 points for fifth place; Eastern Illinois finished sixth with 10; and Western Illinois was last with seven points.

Southern wrestlers won six weight titles and scored two seconds and two thirds in the remaining four weighins.

The SIU championship winners and the scores of all of their matches are as follows: Jim Bledsoe—123 lbs. (forfeit, 5-3, 4); Duke Edwards—130 lbs. (11, 5, 4-2); Dick Frankenberger—137 lbs. (pin, 6-5); Jack Cramer—147 lbs. (3-0, pin); Lee Grubbs—157 lbs. (pin, pin, 8-7); and Rushing—191 lbs. (pin, 7-1, decision).

The only event out of the 14 that Southern did not win was fancy diving. Marlow of Southern followed suit as they topped up with more records. The 440-yard freestyle team of Fountain, Epperson, Wilhelm and Schulz set a new record with a time of 3:39.3. The 400-yard medley squad of Steele, Rumpel, Deady and Roman set a record with a time of 4:11.3.

"Bryant is a good wrestler as any I ever met," was Marion Rushing's comment after his title victory in a very close match over the Western Ill. opponent.

Illinois Normal is only the third team in the IAC conference to have won an IAC basketball title. Since the cage competition originated in 1950 only Eastern Illinois and Western had shared conference crowns.

Last night Southern played Wittenberg at the NCAA College basketball tournament at Evansville Indiana.

Gymnastics

Coming through as coach Bill Salukis scored 2184 points, more than twice as many as defending champs, Western, who finished second with 1034 points. Normal was third with 77, Central Michigan had 474, Northern 44 and Eastern Illinois again brought up the bottom with 15 points. Eastern Michigan did not compete.

Southern jumped off to a big lead in the afternoon session as they won every first. John Taylor and Ed Buffum finished first and second on the high bar. Fred Tjerina was sixth. Ed Foster and Bob Foster, the Salukis ring twins, finished first and third and Tjerina, running in a fine performance, finished fourth.

Taylor continued to show his all-around ability as he tied with Jack Wiley for the blue ribbon in the free exercise event. Len Kaliski and Blaneen and Jack Wiley, one of the top tumblers in the country, finished fifth and sixth.

Bob Kies defended his all-around title as he put on a repeat performance and beat Anderson of Western for the medal. John Ostarello was fourth and Taylor, sixth.

Saturday night rolled around and conditions were not as good as Saturday. Southern finished just as strongly as they had started. Len Kaliski, Hugh Blaneen and Jack Wiley, one of the top tumblers in the country, finished fifth and sixth.

IM Cage Finals Begin Today

The all-school intramural championship tournament begins tonight, with the winner from each league participating.

Sigmas Pi, the Fraternity League champ, Felt's Hall 3rd Floor, winner in the Men's Residence League, and the winner of the Off-Campus League elimination tournament will compete for the championship.

Studs clashed with Road Runners Monday night for the Off-Campus League title. Road Runners moved into the finals by drawing a bye in both the quarterfinal and semi-final rounds.

The Studs advanced to the finals of the Off-Campus League scoring with 21 points. He was defeated by Fred Losesack, 13, Ron Ayers, 6, and Cecil Hart, 5. Frank Sachdelich took second honors for Manor Jug with 14 points. Jim Lindsey and Milt Ganey had 12 each for Jug.

ADVENTURES IN SOCIAL SCIENCE: NO. 2

Today, with earnestness and sobriety, we make the second of our forays into social science. We take up the most basic of all social sciences—sociology itself.

Sociology teaches us that man is a social animal. It is not instinct or heredity that determine his conduct; it is environment. This fact is wisely borne out when you consider the case of Julio Sifaces.

Julio, abandoned as an infant in a dark wood near Cleveland, was adopted by a pack of wild dogs and reared as one of their own. When Julio was found by a hunter at the age of twelve, he was more canine than human. He ran on all fours, barked and growled, ate raw meat, leaped water with his tongue, and could neither speak nor understand one single word. In short, he was a complete product of his environment.

Julio, incidentally, was more fortunate than most wild children. They never become truly humanized, but Julio was exceptional. Bit by bit, he began to talk and walk and eat and drink as people do. His long-dormant mental processes, when awakened at last, turned out to be fantastically acute. He was so bright that he learned to read and write in a month, got through grammar school in three years, and high school in two. And last June an thousands of spectators, knowing the odds, Julio had overcome, stood and raised cheer after cheer, he was graduated valedictorian from Cal Tech with a degree in astrophysics!

Who can say to what towering heights this incredible boy would have risen had he not been killed the day after commencement while chasing a car?

But I digress. To return to sociology, people tend to gather in groups, a tendency that began as we all know, with the introduction of Marlboro Cigarettes. What an aid to sociability they are! How benignly one looks upon one's fellows after puffing on Marlboro's filter that really filters, on Marlboro's flavor that's really flavorful. How eager it makes one to extend the hand of friendship! How grateful we all are to Marlboro for making possible this togetherness! How good not to live in the bleak pre-Marlboro world with every man a stranger!

The groups that people live in today (thanks to Marlboro) vary widely in their customs. What is perfectly acceptable in one society may be quite outlandish in another. Take, for instance, the case of Van Wyck.

Up a Polywog hill, grew up in an idyllic South Sea isle where the leading event of the year was the feast of Max, the sun god. A quaint all-day ceremony was held, with tribal dancing, war chants, fat-lady singing, picnicking contests, and, for the grand finale, the sacrifice of two dozen maidens.

According to Ugo's folkways, sacrifice was entirely acceptable, but when, in his eighteenth year, he was sent as an exchange student to the University of Wisconsin, he soon learned that Americans take a dim view of this practice—in Wisconsin, at any rate. The first fifteen or twenty maidens Ugo sacrificed, he was jet off with a warning. When, however, he persisted, drastic measures were taken: he was deposed by his fraternity. A broken man, Ugo quit school and moved to Milwaukee where today he earns a meager living as a stein.
