ELENA NICKOLAÏDI

sponsored by the Carbondale Community Concerts association.

When she made her debut in this country after having already won acclaim throughout Europe as an opera and concert star, J. D. Bohm, music critic of the New York Herald Tribune wrote, "In 20 years of music reviewing and in twice that number listening to most of the world's best singers, I have encountered no greater voice or vocalist" than Miss Nickolaïdi.

Born near Athens, Greece, she entered Athens conservatory at 15 to begin serious vocal studies. During her last year at the conservatory, she made her debut as soloist with the state orchestra, Dimitri Mitropoulos conducting.

In 1936, the Greek government selected Miss Nickolaïdi for a scholarship to study voice in Vienna, where she entered and won an international vocal contest which entitled her to a recital at Vienna's Konzerthaus—her first appearance in a foreign country.

Sings In "Don Carlos"

After, Bruno Walter, then director of the Vienna State Opera, heard her and engaged the young singer for the role of Princess Eboli in the 1936 opening performance of "Don Carlos." That appearance marked her first great success in Europe. Since then she has added many other roles to her repertoire and has been equally successful in each.

Since arriving in this country in January, 1949, she has appeared over ABC's Sunday evening program, "Carnegie Hall" and the State Department's "Voice of America" program, in addition to several engagements in most major cities, and two appearances with the New York Philharmonic.

Students will be admitted to the concert upon presentation of their activity tickets.

S. C. President Raps Attendance At Assemblies

Only about 100 students attended the all-school assembly held last Thursday during the regular time allotted for such assemblies.

The assembly was planned by the Student Council because of the poor turnout, it was adjourned to the Canteen, which already was quite crowded.

Bud Loftus, president of the Student Council made the following statements about the assembly.

"When the plan for shortening the Thursday classes was passed by the advisory council I told the administration that students would attend because of their interest in the school. It would appear that something has happened to this interest when less than 100 attended the assembly last Thursday."

"Since there are no more than three all-school assemblies a term it seems like it could be possible for students to give up their coffee time because actually this time was allotted for assemblies and not for a coffee hour. It is very evident that the students who are not shown, we will revert back to the old schedule for Thursday classes."

SIU Students Eligible For Audio-Visual Aid Scholarships: Inglis

Southern has been selected as one of 20 colleges and universities to award scholarships for audio-visual aid study this summer, Donald A. Inglis, director of Southern's Audio-Visual Aid service, announced today.

The 20 scholarships are being provided by Encyclopaedia Britannica Films, Inc. Approximately 97 of the scholarships will be available, and successful applicants may attend the university of their choice, according to Floyd E. Brooker, chief of visual aids to education, U. S. Office of Education, who is chairman of the EB films scholarship selection board.

Students who are interested in Illinois selected for this program is the University of Chicago.

"All of the universities chosen by the board have outstanding audio-visual programs and will offer full time courses in audio-visual instruction for the scholars who are appointed for the tuition grants," Brooker said in announcing the names of the 26 institutions.

It is the fifth year such scholarships have been made available by the educational films company. Scholarship grants have been given to almost 250 teachers and visual aids instructors.

All applicants must be those who are interested in using audio-visual materials in the field of education, and recipients will be chosen directly by the 26 participating universities, Brooker said. Deadlines for applications is April 15.

400-Bed General Hospital Proposed for Southern

Recommendations for establishment of a two-year basic science medical school and construction of a 400-bed $7,220,000 general hospital were laid before Southern's Board of Trustees in a meeting here Monday.

Recommendations for development of training programs for nurses, medical interns, and other technical and semi-professional personnel in the health science fields were made by Dr. Gerhard Hartman, University of Iowa hospital superintendent.

In his report Dr. Hartman estimated cost of the proposed general hospital would be approximately $7,220,000. He proposed we expand to provide housing for nurses, interns, resident doctors and out-patients, the entire cost would run to approximately $9,920,000, he said.

He reported that only 16 hospitals are available in Illinois, and only seven nursing schools are operating, while 90 accredited nursing schools are operating in the entire South. Southern Illinois nursing schools have only 273 students enrolled, or 4.4 per cent of the 8,768 total for the state. By contrast, the southern 31 counties have 17 1/2 per cent of the State's total population, the report showed.

At present there are only 1,000 "acceptable" hospital beds in the hospitals in Southern Illinois, the survey showed. The Illinois Hospital Survey and Plan provided in public Law 723 calls for 2.5 beds per 1,000 population in rural areas and four beds per 1,000 population in centers of 25,000 to 100,000 population.

Need 3,885 Beds To meet this standard, Southern Illinois would require 3,885 beds, the report pointed out. There is a shortage of 2,883 beds. Additional hospital facilities under construction or projected would reduce this shortage to 540 beds, and the proposed 400-bed hospital at Southern would bring the area almost up to standard.

Dr. Hartman recommended that 60 per cent of the beds in the proposed university hospital be allocated for the care of indigent patients, 25 per cent for part-patient patients and 14 per cent for full patients. He stressed the inability of small hospitals, such as those in most Southern Illinois communities, to give service which may be established to purchase and serve only grade A milk.

The board authorized university officials to proceed to acquire certain land in the area, subject to the university's immediate building program and for expansion of the university farm, and authorized President D. W. Morris to make application for federal funds under Public Law 352 to aid in development of university food service which may be established to purchase and serve only grade A milk.

At this meeting the top six will be chosen for the finalists. A photo will be taken, according to Miami Alcega, chairman of the affair.

Werner To Star In Season's Second Symphony Concert

Kent Werner, senior, Belleville, will be soloist in the second concert this season by the Southern Illinois symphony under the direction of Dr. Maurice Cassar, chairman of the University music department. The same program will be presented Sunday, Feb. 19, in Cairo, and in Shryock auditorium Tuesday, Feb. 21 at 8 p.m.

Werner will be featured at the grand piano for the presentation of the first movement of Brahms' "Concerto No. 2 in B-flat major for piano and orchestra." The soloist has been studying piano for 15 years, and has hopes of becoming a teacher of music theory and piano.

He is now enrolled in the College of Vocations and Professions, and is a candidate for graduation in August. He hopes to go to Northwestern university for his master's degree.

Werner was last heard in recital last summer in his student journal recital. He has also acted as piano accompanist for several recitals on campus. He has been clarinetist with the University orchestra for four years, and now holds solo position in that section.

Another Brahms composition, "Academic Festival Overture," will open the program for the concert. Following the piano solo, the orchestra will give the premier performance of "Concerto for Violin by Robert E. Mueller, instructor in music at Southern.

This will be followed by "Suite of Fiddler Tunes," by the contemporary American composer F. McKeay. The program will be closed with a Strauss waltz, "Roses From the South."

The performance on campus is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Fierro To Speak At Folklore Meeting

Miss Friesa Fierro, graduate student from Chile, will talk on the folklore of her country at a delayed meeting of the Illinois Folklore Society to be held at the University cafeteria Monday evening, Feb. 20 at 6:30. Those attending will pass through the cafeteria line.

Miss Fierro will present the basic similarities of the lore of the people of Chile and of our own country. Miss Frances Barbour, English department, will report on some of the recent research she has made in the lore of this region. A motion picture held at the National Folklore field at St. Louis in April, 1949, will be shown. This picture reveals various aspects of the folklore of the United States, particularly of the Midwest.

All students and faculty members interested in folklore, whether members of the society or not, are welcome to attend the meeting at the beginning of next term. Officially start the student union building drive.

Two SIU Debate Teams Compete at Purdue

Two of Southern's debate teams went to Purdue last weekend. Five, coached by Carl Harwood, were these: Oliver, Lake Forest, Franklin college, Purdue, and Southern.

Teams entered from Southern were Cecilia Penland and Jeannine Myers, and Joe Alvarado and Bill Graustein. Each team lost three debates and won one.

All stamps used by Southern Illinois university are perforated by the state department of finance for identification purposes.

Alumni President Gives Southern 5,000 Shares Of Ashland Oil Stocks

W. W. Vandever, Rocky River, Ohio, presented Southern Illinois University foundation with a gift of 5,000 shares of Ashland Oil Refining co. stock, currently valued at $14,000, here Monday.

W. W. VANDEVEER

Vandever, president of Southern's Alumni association, said income from the stocks are ultimately to be used to provide scholarships for needy students.

Dr. D. W. Morris, University president, announced the presentation at a joint luncheon meeting of the Alumni association board members and the Board of Trustees.

Pending development of the scholarship plan, the income, which currently amounts to about $10,000 yearly, is to be used at the discretion of the SIU foundation, although the donor suggested that it be used to strengthen the organization and development of the Alumni association.

To Aid Needy Students In commenting on his gift, Vandever said, "A great many students in this area have not been able to attend Southern or any other institution because of lack of finances. It is for that particular use that this fund is being set up."

Students Discuss Union Building With Alumni Board

Student representatives, Bill Waters, Dolores Williams, Bill Burns, and Bud Loftus, met with the Alumni association board Monday to present plans for a new student union building. W. W. Vandever, president of the association, introduced the students to the board members.

Burns explained the purpose of the students' visit to the board and Miss Williams presented the reasons why a new student center building was desired and needed.

Waters explained what has been done in the past six weeks by a committee of campus student leaders towards planning for a new building. He also told about the student poll on what was thought most important in a student union building.

Plans of Financing Loftus presented to the board seven means by which a new union could be financed. The means were as follows: endowment, state aid, federal aid, activity ticket tax, civic organizations' contributions, bond issues, and revenue after the building is completed.

The representatives asked that the Alumni board appoint a committee to work with a student committee to be appointed by the Student Board. The two committees would act as the head of a drive for funds for the new building.

Board of Trustees Urges More Fire Prevention Measures Be Taken Here

No criticism of previous precautions were made, but further tightening of fire prevention measures were authorized following the executive committee's report on the personnel deans building fire at the Board of Trustees meeting Monday.

The committee giving the report was headed by O. W. Lyrer of Herrin.

Among the tightening of fire prevention measures were more frequent checks of temporary buildings and additional training for physical plant personnel.

Egyptian Platform For 1950

- 1. A clean campus
2. Removal of Campus Safety hazards
3. Decent Student Housing
4. Lower Prices at Cafeteria
5. Efficient Physical plant
6. Student Union Building
7. Strong Alumni
8. Less Week-end Commuting

One Plank Gone

One plank of the Egyptian's platform for 1950 was pried up this week and destroyed. Southern now has a half-time employment service.

Although the employment service was practically burned up a couple weeks ago in the fire that destroyed the personnel dean's house, it is still in full-time operation under Mrs. Alice Rector.

Students seeking jobs should apply at the employment office, now located in the old barracks on the football field. Mrs. Rector will then attempt to place them either on campus, downtown, or help them create their own jobs.

Mrs. Rector asked last week that all students reapply since her records were burned. The Egyptian would like to congratulate the personnel dean on seeing the need of a full time employment service.

Congratulations go this week to the physical plant for two definite improvements. One was the placing of gravel at the north side of Parkington lab.

Another safety measure we thoroughly approved of was the placing of a heavy, serviceable railing in front of the duplicating office on west Grand.

Taking the Lead

The National Conservation bureau circulates a pamphlet, concerning fire hazards, to all hotels. Many of the leading questions in this pamphlet apply equally well to Southern.

Are all informed, by prominent notices, of the meaning of the fire alarm and also how to report a fire? Do all know the location of the fire extinguishing equipment and its proper use?

Are there lights on a separate circuit which will not be disconnected when the main power switch is opened?

The above questions were lifted at random and twisted to fit the university and householders rather than the hotels for which they were written.

From the Southern Illinoisian we learned that recently a campus safety official said in a Chicago address that many campus dormitories lack the barest fire prevention equipment.

John J. Ahern, director of the fire protection and safety engineering department at Illinois Institute of Technology, said that no college should feel smug.

A minister, leaving his church one day, noticed three small boys sitting on the steps. One had a toy airplane, one a racing car, and the third a copy of Esquire magazine.

Maybe we are rushing the season or maybe there is a bit of the spring feeling in the air at any rate, we find ourselves agreeing with John Barrymore that the trouble with life is that there are so many beautiful women and so little time.

A college senior was rushing a pretty coed. "Don't you get it?" he urged. "I want to marry you. I want you to be the mother of my children."

Letters to Editor

Scoffs At Egypt; Blames Laziness

I would like to enter my protest to all the hullabaloo which has been and is being raised about the wonders of Egypt. True, Egypt was once a land of plenty in a time of famine.

Today great industries are decentralizing, both because of economics and the dread of the awful A- and H-bombs. Why do they not move to Southern Illinois?

Southern Illinois has fostered some large industries. For example, a bus company, the tremendous coal and oil fortunes. Yet look closely at the buses.

Egypt has fostered some large industries. For example, a bus company, the tremendous coal and oil fortunes. Yet look closely at the buses.

Egypt is a potential vacationland. Hah! Not while it has the state's worst highways, the country's dirtiest towns and the world's laziest people.

Americans spend five billion dollars annually on recreation. Egypt gets more than its share. It cannot, does not, and will not provide for tourists.

We are lucky to live in an unexploited wilderness. We are so lucky that every one of us who has the nerve, guts, or whatever it takes, should quickly find our tents and steal away to a better place.

Sincerely, Name Withheld

"What did the Indian Chief say when he looked at the mermaid?" "How?"

A minister, leaving his church one day, noticed three small boys sitting on the steps. One had a toy airplane, one a racing car, and the third a copy of Esquire magazine.

Turning to the third boy, questioned, "And you?" The boy dragged his eyes away from the magazine pages and replied, longingly, "Grown, sir, grown!"

Maybe we are rushing the season or maybe there is a bit of the spring feeling in the air at any rate, we find ourselves agreeing with John Barrymore that the trouble with life is that there are so many beautiful women and so little time.

A college senior was rushing a pretty coed. "Don't you get it?" he urged. "I want to marry you. I want you to be the mother of my children."

"But how many do you have?" asked the girl.

College Robbed; Boston Blamed

A note of apology to all profs and interested parties who took offense at last week's reference to the "tombs." Due to the diligence and humor of our laughing editor and her eagle-eyed proof-readers, it was allowed to run as it was, instead of as "tomes" as it was written by this wide-eyed innocent bystander of a reporter.

Four robbers entered the MORGAN STATE COLLEGE library at Baltimore, Md. last Monday and made off with $16,000, the day's receipts in registration fees.

Headline in the Vienna Times—"Grade School District's Tournament at Cypress Gyp." This sound suspiciously like a bit of bad sportsmanship.

Fashion note in the Pinkneyville Sphinx—"There will be little change in men's pockets this year."

After a spirited campaign, UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE women voted three to one against permitting establishment of sororities on the campus.

The EASTERN music department presented the American opera "Down in the Valley," by Kurt Weill, last Thursday and Friday on their campus.

Last Wednesday, Governor Adlai Stevenson closed all teachers colleges in the state. He said that the coal which would have otherwise been used there would be diverted to prisons, hospitals, etc.

Swapping talent is the latest wrinkle among the progressive Western colleges. Everything from a cowboy to modern dance is swapped among COLORADO A & M, UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO, COLORADO COLLEGE, UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING, DENVER UNIVERSITY, LORETTA HEIGHTS COLLEGE and COLORADO STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE.

Faculty Has New Whiz--Dr. Staff

By Harry Reinert

Southern has acquired a new addition to the faculty—a professor whose versatility and whose physical and mental powers are amazing. Evidently—although no official information has been released yet—this addition to the teaching staff is a doctor.

This omniscient, omnipresent, pedagogic wizard is listed in the tentative schedule simply as Staff. With the possible exception of Anon, who has written untold stacks of wonderful poetry, philosophy, fiction, and music, it seems that Dr. Staff must be the reigning genius of the era.

If the above proposition seems a little illogical, and downright outlandish, so does the alternative—that the notation "Staff" in the schedule merely means that just anyone in the department might be teaching these courses.

Seriously, let's get down to brass tacks. Although the underlying motives behind this innovation may be the best in the world, the effect is devastating. Something that even any freshman knows is that all professors are not created equal, and do not possess equal ability.

And why not? The economics of this country are set up on a basis of competition; and the first law of nature? It seems that if this favoritism in the student body is so strong, those who fall short would look to themselves to find the reason why and try to take corrective steps.

But there is another objection even more serious than this. By making the student buy a "pig in a poke," so to speak, those who make up the schedules are in effect prescribing the same dose for all students.

Well, pun my word: A shapely film star has been said to have an astronomical figure.

You'll learn this from life, if you don't out of books.

In fact, it's the safest of bets: Through a woman may be just as old as she looks.

She's as young as she looks that she gets!

Heading on a column of census figures: "Population of U. S. Broken Down by Age and Sex."

A couple of newlyweds got into the elevator of their hotel. The elevator operator, a cute little gal, looked at the groom.

"Hello, darling," she said. There was an icy silence until the couple got off upstairs. Then the bride exploded.

"Who was that woman?" she demanded. "Look, honey," replied the groom, "don't get excited! I'm going to have enough trouble explaining you to her."

"How did you get the black eye?" "From a cough." "A black eye from a cough?" "Yeah, I coughed in a clothes closet."

Weber, Davis New Radio Finds

By John "Crazy" Anastasio

Charlie Weber, a former campus favorite, is now spinning the discs and performing various other chores in the announcing field at WJBF, in Herrin. Charlie, who resides down Cairo way, formerly worked at WKAR, in Cairo, and gives promise of becoming a versatile employee of the "Voice of Egypt."

Over at WEBQ in Harrisburg, there is a gentleman who possesses undoubtedly the most lackadaisical and unimhibited manner of presentation in Southern Illinois radio. He is what is affectionately known in the trade as a "character." His name: Jim Duncan.

Two shows in particular are worthy of note: Requestfully Yours, at 4:45 each evening and the "Jim Duncan Show," which can be heard likewise on FM, at nine o'clock. He is someone with an original radio style, and with the aggressiveness and ingenuity to effect some of those late ideas which the average man on the fifth estate is reluctant to uncover—for fears of audience apathy or management disapproval.

Dorthea Dee Davis, student here last quarter, now is doing "specialty work at Marion's WAGH-FM. She has a regular stint on Saturday mornings, 11:15 until 11:45, in which she recites in story-book fashion and gives helpful hints for the housewives. We happened to catch her last a.m. . . . were immensely pleased by her unaffected air (although unalloyed with feminine commentators) and her folksy style of presentation.

Southern students are listening to . . . Twenty Questions (MBS-WJBF-7:00 p.m. every Saturday)

America's Town Meeting of Air (ABC-8:00-Tuesday)

"Going around with women a lot keeps you young."

"How so?" "I started going around with them four years ago when I was a freshman, and I'm still a freshman."

Newsboy: "Extra! Extra! Read all about it. Two men swindled."

Passerby: "I'll take one. Say, there isn't anything in here about two men being swindled?"

Newsboy: "Extra! Extra! Three men swindled."

Delta Sigs Travel; Others Take Vacations

It seems as if everybody, including the society page, went on a vacation this last week.

The Delta Sigs got the traveling bug. Jayne Mountain went to Chicago, Marilyn Martell, Columbia, Missouri, and the Delta Sig house mother, Mrs. May Howell went to her home in Paducah, Ky. Harvace Greenwood was pinned by Jack Turner, Cal Del, last week. Betty Mann received an engagement ring from Luther Denison. The Delta Sig contribution to KDA Variety show, starting Harvace Greenwood, Jayne Mountain, and Marilyn Martell is under way.

Delta Rho, honorary mathematics fraternity, will meet Monday, Feb. 20, at 7:30 p.m., in Main 114.

Richard Vorwald will be the speaker for the meeting. Plans for the Founders' Day banquet will also be made at this time.

Till next week when we hope there'll be more going on.

DRAWING PICTURES OF TEACHERS OKAY

Drawing pictures of teacher is now a legitimate practice. Dr. Robert D. Faneer, associate professor of English, has been serving as a model for the portrait painting class in the art department. Judging from the little resemblance between the subject and the portraits, students should confine their drawing of instructors to lecture pastime.

Teacher's Workshop To Be Here Saturday

Southern will be host to the Elementary and Secondary Classroom Teachers' workshop Saturday, from 9:30 a.m. till 3 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

"Meeting the Challenge of Our Profession" will be the theme of the meeting with the following discussion groups: (1) professionalizing teaching, (2) techniques of professional organization, (3) teacher welfare, (4) public relations, and (5) democratic participation.

University school is sponsoring this workshop in cooperation with Mrs. Lois W. Locke, Harrisburg, director of classroom teachers for the Southern district of the I.E.A. Mrs. Madoxly Trece, supervisor at University school, is serving as chairman.

Following a noon luncheon at the university cafeteria, the workshop will hear Mrs. Sarah C. Caldwell of Akron, Ohio, past president and currently director ex-officio of the department of classroom teachers of the National Education association. Her topic will be "Let There Be Light."

Mrs. Caldwell has championed the cause of the classroom teacher and has worked for teacher welfare and advancement. The president of the Ohio Education association speaks of her as "a progressive thinker with sound judgment, broad vision, keen understanding, unusual personal charm, and great skill in management of human relations."

Dr. Charles Neal, director of teacher training at Southern, will give the address of welcome to the members of the workshop.

There will be an eclipse of the sun on Sept. 12, 1950.

Council Adopts Charter Changes

Creative Writing Teacher To Visit Here Feb. 23-24

Amendments to the Student Publications charter were accepted at the Student Council meeting last Thursday. The Student Council accepted the two proposed amendments for the Publication Council constitution as stated:

(1) Only in case of a tie vote on any matter may the chairman of the Publications Council have the final say. This second vote will be by means of a secret ballot. (2) In the section on meetings—"regular meetings of the council shall be held once each month during the school year"—be stricken from the charter.

A letter was read from Dr. Charles D. Tenney concerning a request from Dr. Mauris Kenan that smoking on the second floor of the music house be stopped. The Council decided that the matter should be left up to the department concerned.

Rosie Knight was appointed to see if the Student Council minutes are filed in the library.

The Council discussed the poor student turnout for the assemblies, and decided that it (1) See Dr. Tenney about teachers keeping classes after 9:25. (2) See what could be done about closing the Canteen. (3) Expand assembly publicity through the Egyptian and posters. (4) See that the Council is notified about each meeting at least one week in advance.

EDWIN L. PETERSON

Edwin L. Peterson, highly regarded instructor of creative writing and Victorian literature at the University of Pittsburg, will be on the campus for two days, Feb. 23-24.

His trip to Southern was arranged by the university English department.

Next Thursday Peterson will deliver two lectures in the Little Theatre, one at 9:40 a.m. and the other at 4 p.m. On Friday he will meet with several English classes and will consult with individual students concerning the possibility of a career in creative writing.

Peterson's students have had amazing success, having won prizes in Story magazine's national short-story contest, in Harper's magazine's short story contest, and in Atlantic Monthly's short story contest, essay contest, and poetry contest. His former students now appear in most of the leading American magazines and have been represented in both the Martha Foley and in the Herschel Bickel annual anthologies.

All those wishing to consult Peterson on Friday, Feb. 24 should make advance arrangements with the English department.

SIU Drops Normal In Thriller, 58-51

By George Harris
The underdog Normal Redbirds gave Southern an opportunity to show their greatest comeback of the season in the Maroon's 58-51 victory at Normal Saturday night. Southern had one of those bad nights when everything seemed to go wrong, except the unerring eye of timely Tom Millikin.

Millikin showed Normal fans just why he is one of the league's leading scorers as he hit for 28 points. His first half was sensational as he hit 20 points to lead the Maroons to a comfortable 36-26 half-time margin. Both teams played listless ball the first half with SIU's passing a little off par.

Second half play was all Normal for the first ten minutes. Redbird hoopers had to shoot over the Southern defense, but were not enough to melt the 10 point Maroon lead. Hornsbrunck and Gus Ellis Austin finally potted the two pointers that gave Normal their lead at 45-41. They added three more to a lone free throw by Millikin to make the score 48-42, Normal.

With things going the Normal way, it looked like a sure upset, but Lynn Holder's charges just didn't give up. With five minutes to go, Bill Duncan cannoned Bob Brennan's fifth pointer to knot up the ball game at 49-41. Normal went out ahead, 51-49, on Hol Henkle's goal, but Goss duplicated and Millikin got a tip-in to put the Maroons ahead for keeps. Duncan hit from the corner, Gladson fit on a free throw, and Millikin added the last points of the game on a drive in.

Newcomer Ellis Austin and improved play kept an inspired Redbird five in the game. It is to Southern's credit that they had the ability to win after losing a 10-point lead.

Millikin Sets Pace
Millikin was up against a tight defensive team, but he showed his stuff. Not content with his favorite one hander from the side, he also collected on drive-ins, jump

INTRAMURALS

Tournament play in the intramural league will start this week since the completion of regularly scheduled games ended last Thursday.

Teams have been divided into two brackets, upper and lower, and the winner of the former will be holder of the University intramural championship. The top three teams of the seven leagues will vie for first place in a best-of-three series. The remaining teams will be in the respective leagues. Winner of this bracket will be consolation tournament winner.

Composing the upper bracket will be the Kick-a-poo, Sabers, Frankfort and Deacons. Schmoos, Kappa, River Rats, Sigma Beta, Manor House, Greisdieck Bros., N.E.A., Hoodlums, Chi Delts, KADYA, APA, Gillespie Miners, Harrisburg Terraces, Pretzel Benders and the Ragland Raiders. Remaining teams will compose the consolation bracket.

Drawings were held last Tuesday in the gymnasium with Coach James J. Wilkinson presiding. First round pairings found the Kick-a-poo playing the Sabers, the Frankforters tangle with the Deacons, Greisdieck Bros. and Kappa, River Rats opposing the Sigma Beta and the Manor House throw against the Greisdieck Bros. Second round byes were drawn by the N.E.A.'s, Hoodlums, Chi Delts, APA, Gillespie Miners, Harrisburg Terraces and the Pretzel Benders tangle with the Ragland Raiders.

Results of these contests along with the scores in the consolation tourney will be announced next week.

Memphis State to Be Guests Saturday

Memphis State college will journey to Southern this coming Saturday in hopes of stopping the rampaging Maroons. Coach Lynn Holder. Riding on a crest of four straight victories the Holders will need to play heads-up basketball to get by this club.

In respect to Memphis State, the Memphis club will be the Southern squad. Each of these teams have former high school state champions playing for them. On the roster of the Memphis club will be the five boys who led their high school to the Kentucky state basketball championship two years ago in 1948. Southern has three boys from Pinckneyville—Tom Millikin, Fred (Pud) Gladson and Dave Davis, who led Pinckneyville to the state basketball crown the same year.

Not much is known of the state college boys except that they have lost previously to Louisville university, 79-58. Comparison proves to be very little value in basketball, but Evansville beat the Louisville squad and Southern, shall we say "managed" to beat them.

Blue activity tickets have the first call for duets to this fray.

Sigma Beta Mu in Basketeers Try to Greek Bowl Lead

The leading Sigma Beta Mu team boosted its lead to four games in the SIU Hellenic bowling league with the annexation of a double win from Delta Sigma Epsilon, while the second place KDA outfit was taking it on the chin in two games. Ward Armstrong and Charles Oyer teamed up together for the leaders with 513 and 503 respectively to provide the margin of victory. Mary Ohm's and Pauline Shinn's 342 topped the sorority's efforts.

The Nu Epsilon Alpha quintet walloped Tau Kappa Epsilon for the odd game and forged into a two-way tie for the runner-up spot for their efforts, mainly on the strength of Bob Carmody's 513, which was backed up by August Schwartz's 433. Lee Tripp and Jack Bennett collaborated their efforts for their lone win.

The Sigma Sigma Sigma girls gathered in the most sticks in the get-together with a 2232 bundle that was good for a double win from Kappa Delta Alpha. Ferns Rooney McCarthy's 413, Jane Keane's 400 and Sue Baker's 389 were the prime factors in gaining the lofty figure. Bob Barbara's 486 and Charles Elliott's 461 topped the scoring attack for the losers.

In the Chi Delta Chi and Pi Kappa Sigma set, Jim Throgmorton led the attack for the former with 530, helped by August Schwartz's 483. Doug Garber resulting in the odd game being chalked up in their favor. Lil Albers and Joyce Brown powder the pins for 406 and 382 scores for the victimized Pi Kaps.

Normal, Ritenour Oppose Wrestlers This Week

By Emil Kass
Pinning and winning their way to a 23-5 victory over Eastern last Saturday, the bonchousers of Southern seem to be in fine physical condition to avenge their only defeat of the season when they travel to Normal this Friday to tangle with last year's conference champs.

Roy Wiley initiated last Saturday's slaughter by quashing a heavy opponent in the exhibition bout. With Whelan was next on the program, dispatching Joe Temple of Eastern in the second period with a pin that was admirably administered. By a score of 6-2, Joe Fedora, Jim Veatch, Charlie Heinz and Don Riggs, all of whom will make Southern a tough team to whip this Friday.

An extra match has been scheduled for Saturday also. On their way from Normal, the Southern matmen will drop off at Granite City for a dual meet with the Ritenour YMCA grappling stylists. A suburb of St. Louis, Ritenour possesses an outstanding mat team, composed of many former champions of Granite City high school.

The meet will add polish and conditioning for the conference match, and will give the local boys a chance to see just how good they really are.

Prognosticators believe that the story will be different this time, however. Evansville is thought to be too good of a ball club to be beaten twice by large margins. The Maroons, in fact, will be lucky to win this second meeting. For Evansville hosts victories over such strong basketball schools as the University of Louisville and Bowling Green of Ohio. They have also whipped Indiana State, a strong midwestern club.

At their last meeting, Southern played a remarkable game on defense, and sparked by (Pud) Gladson's 19 points, played an outstanding, offensive 40 minutes. Southern, however, has proved to be a different team on their home court, and reach great heights here on the campus. With 81 points against Normal here, the Holders reached their highest point total of the season. Then too, the Maroons dropped quarter Eastern here in their own back yard after taking a terrific lacing from the Panthers at Charleston.

Southern has more height, speed and drive than the Aces, but Evansville presents a polished, shifty, experienced ball club, well established in the ways of the hardwood. When teams of this ability clash, an interesting outcome is always assured.

Next Friday's encounter at Normal will predict the future conference champions. Although Normal will have its usual strong group of glappers, Southern's fast coming fighters stand a better chance of winning than they did the last time the teams clashed. It was Southern's first meet, and many of our boys were raw in experience and conditioning. Notable for their subsequent development are Joe Fedora, Jim Veatch, Charlie Heinz and Don Riggs, all of whom will make Southern a tough team to whip this Friday.

Marbons Oppose Huskies Wednesday

Northern Illinois college of De Kalb will provide the opposition next Wednesday night as the Maroons travel north in search of their fifth conference victory of the closing campaign. The Southern men have dropped the Huskies in an earlier meeting, and will be required to do so again in order to keep their conference title hopes alive.

Since Northern has been closed down for two weeks due to the coal shortage, the game will be played in the local high school gymnasium at DeKalb. A prep crowd will therefore view the contest, as most of the college partisans have journeyed homeward during the forcing closing.

In their first meeting this year, the Holders dropped the Northerners rather badly. To date, Northern has never really established themselves as any real threat. They have not won a conference game, and possess a rather poor, 4-14 record for the season's play. The last averages led by the Huskies, however, and followers of the Northern cage team expect them to turn in an upset before loop play is over.

It would be much to the Holders' advantage to lose this one, with Western meeting the Maroons here Saturday, Feb. 25, the local cage men wish their two remaining conference tils in order to maintain their bid for the Kansas City tourney playoffs.

Morons, Birdmen Share WAA Crown

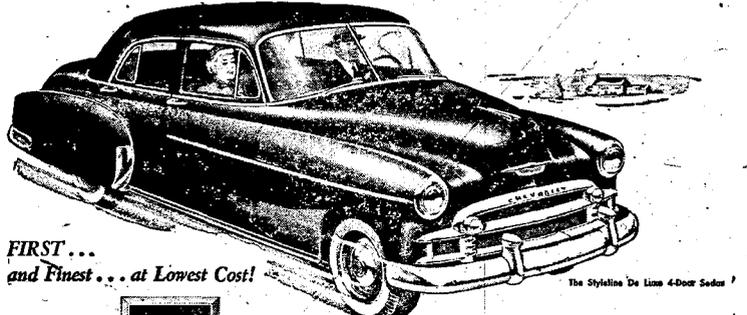

Last Thursday the annual class basketball tournament came to a close. Morry's Morons and the Seater Birdmen tied with each other having five victories and one defeat in their record. The tie may be played off at the end of the season.

Gloria Bonali, with 107 points and Minnie Neal with 95 points were high scorers of the tournament.

The house basketball tournament started Wednesday. The first contests were between 610 University and Johnson's Co.-Op; and the Pi Kaps and the Turner 12.

COMING FROM BEHIND
There's an old line scribbled in the book of basketball ahead reading that a team is not worthy to be termed "great" unless it has proven its ability to come from behind and win. Ample proof for this statement was made by the Holy Maroons last Saturday night, when the rampaging basketeers overcame a six-point lead to win and bring their victory list over Normal to two straight.

Let's not kid ourselves about this coming from behind. It's not a simple matter, even though one team may be superior to the other. When teams have "off" nights, (and Southern most assuredly had some Saturday night) it seems they can do it right, and in a sense they become easy meat for the spirited, inspired aggressors. For example, we might turn back the pages of prep basketball history to 1947, when the Pinckneyville Panthers were going strong. Indeed Millikin, Gladson, Davis and Co. went on to win the 1948 state basketball championship. The outstanding Panthers went out and just beat the daylight out of every team they played. They even won by a 30-point-or-more margin in the final game of the state tourney finals. But on Dec. 30, 1947, the story was different.

The Panthers were playing in the Mt. Vernon Holiday tournament. They had beaten Macomb rather easily and were prepared to meet Edwardsville, Ill., in the next game. Although Edwardsville had a good ball club, no one picked the boys from the Missouri border to beat the Panthers in their first game. They even won by a 30-point-or-more margin in the final game of the state tourney finals. But on Dec. 30, 1947, the story was different.

But Pinckneyville didn't win. Analyzing the situation we can note that the Panthers were bigger, stronger, more experienced, and a better balanced ball club than Edwardsville. But it was early in the season and although the blue and white were terrific, they had not yet learned to come from behind to win. They had not really been pressed that season. And Saturday night, they were to have their true trials. They could pour it on, or they could play slow. They could fast break, or they could set plays up (as was usually the case). But at any rate, they became a better ball club because of that single beating by an inspired little ball club in 1947.

Let us apply this lesson to Southern's present team. We've thought for some time that Southern was as good as or a better ball club than Eastern. And Saturday night's triumphed our thinking as we have made us think that Southern is better. Eastern probably wouldn't have gotten themselves into such a position. But if they had, what would have happened? Eastern was behind here at Southern. What happened? ... Southern, then, is already a seasoned ball club. They have tasted defeat only sparingly. They know what it is to lose, and the usually steady state of defeat. Consequently, Southern might well be a better ball club when the chips are down because of their four losses. When play-off time rolls around, we're looking for the Maroons to surprise somebody... somebody up north, and to go to K. City. Pinckneyville went all the way in 1948... the same boys can help do it here for Southern.

PREDICTION OF THE WEEK
In their final IHAC, contest of the year, Southern will make Western's spurs JINGLE, JANGLE, JINGLE here Saturday, Feb. 25. Maroons say that song isn't very far from wrong.
