Excuses

Southern Student Has One Too Many

In the Dean of Men's office at Southern, the excuses for absences are just about the same as anywhere else—except for a couple of seemingly new ones that have been offered within the last year. The usual number of calls has come in on complaints of illness, bad weather, and deaths in the family—in that order of importance.

But one day this excuse was submitted. A student, whom we'll call John Doe, offered his second excuse for absence because of a grandmother's death. That was all right, of course, and the excuse was granted. Then, about a month later, he came in to ask to go to his seriously-ill grandmother's house.

Naturally, the dean was dubious. To put it mildly. Through a complete checkup, it was found, much to the amazement of the dean's office staff, John had been on the up and up all along.

During that month, his parents had separated, re-married, and furnished him with a third grandmother.

List Runners-Up To ISA Queen

Feature attraction of the ISA sponsored All-School Dance presented by Singleton Palmer in the New Training school gym last Monday night was the crowning of Ita Lou (Bubbles) Bozarth as Queen of ISA Week.

Miss Bozarth received the highest number of votes in the election which took place last week. Next four top contestants were Rose Marie Gendron, Joyce Kendrick, Pat Dugan, and Freda Gower.

Students Subject to Selective Service Rules Must File Request For Deferment

Every student subject to Selective Service regulations must file a request for deferment with the local draft board at the end of each academic year in order to establish a right of appeal, according to Robert Eberidge, SIU military information officer.

The end of an academic year will not be the same for all students, and does not necessarily coincide with the university's academic year. For instance, a student who began his first term as a freshman, sophomore, junior or senior one winter term, and completed successfully the required number of hours each term following would end his academic year with the beginning of the next winter term, a year later.

A Cappella Choir, Madrigals to Make Annal Spring Tour

Southern's a cappella choir and madrigal singers will make their annual spring tour the week of March 8-16, giving concerts in both southern and northern Illinois, including Chicago.

The itinerary for the tour is not yet complete, but plans have been made for the groups to sing at Nashville, Mascoutah, Belleville, East St. Louis, Collinsville, Greenville, Hillsboro, Vandalia, Springfield, and Joliet.

IN CHICAGO, they will present a public service concert at the Wabash Avenue YMCA, a Mutual chain broadcast originating at WGN on Sunday morning, March 16, and the music portion of the Sunday Evening club service in Orchestra Hall.

John Wharton, concert master for the Southern Illinois Symphony orchestra, and music faculty member, will accompany the groups on tour as violin soloist.

During the trip, they will give a total of more than 20 concerts, returning to Carbondale Monday, March 17.

The choir and madrigal concert will be presented in Carbondale Monday, Feb. 18, 8:15 p.m., at the Walnut Street Baptist church.

Coronation of the queen took place at 9:15 p.m. The five finalists were escorted to seats before the bandstand. The queen was then crowned by Andy Patterson, designer of the crown. Harvey Welch, Southern basketball star, presented the queen with a bouquet of flowers in behalf of the Independent Students' Association.

The dance climaxed social activities of the first ISA Week held on Southern's campus.

university, or similar institution of learning in furnishing to the local board information regarding the status of the registrant as a student at such institution. However, the filing with a local board by an educational institution of a completed SSS Form No. 109 does not constitute a request for the occupational deferment of the registrant.

To establish a right of appeal, the student must file with the local board a specific written request for his occupational deferment as a student.

Whenever an educational institution has submitted SSS Form No. 109 for one of its students to a local board, the institution will advise the board if the student at any time thereafter either ceases to pursue his course of instruction in a manner which is satisfactory to the institution, or ceases to be a student at the institution.

Elect Carroll Cox Junior Replacement To Student Council

Carroll Cox, junior from Palmyra, was elected by the Student Council in their Tuesday's meeting to fulfill the vacancy on the Council of a junior male representative. Cox is an officer of the Theta Xi fraternity and is enrolled in the College of Vocations and Professions.

The Student Council conducted nominations earlier this term to fill the vacancy. However, the turn-out was not sufficient to officially nominate any student for the position.

A student must receive a minimum number of ten nominations in order to become an official candidate. In the nominations, no student received more than six nominations, and the total number of nominating votes cast was 16.

SINCE NO PROVISION was listed in the Student Council constitution as to what should be done when no student is nominated for an election, the Council, in its next meeting, voted to elect the representative among the Council members.

At last week's meeting, Carroll Cox, Don Duffy, Charles Wildy, and Lyle Sledge were nominated for the position. Then, at the regular meeting of the Council this week, the members elected Cox as the junior representative.

The junior vacancy was created when Jerry Nordberg, former president of the Student Council, was recalled into the service. Doug Shepherd is the new president of the Council, replacing Nordberg.

Preceding a luncheon at the University Cafeteria yesterday afternoon at 1:30 p.m., a campus tour was conducted for the benefit of the legislative committee.

Students and faculty members were invited to a coffee hour at the Student Center yesterday morning in honor of the legislators.

Placement Service Receives Notice Of Vacancies, Schedules Interviews

Southern's Placement service has received notice of a number of vacancies which have not, as yet, been brought to the attention of students in general. The office has also scheduled for various representatives to appear on campus to interview interested students.

Robert Krejcki will be on campus Wednesday, Feb. 27, to interview male students interested in Boy Scout work. Positions for which Krejcki is to interview are for Scout executives. Students interested in such positions should contact the Placement office to schedule interviewing appointments.

T. K. BARRETT, a representative of the Ohio Oil Co. at Findlay, Ohio, is interested in coming to Southern to interview candidates who are interested in the company's marketing training program.

The Overseas Personnel office, Standard Oil Co., has notified the Placement service of the need for elementary and high school women teachers at Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, Venezuela, Colombia, and Peru. Applicants must have two years experience and must be unmarried. Applications should be made to Overseas Personnel office, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, 20, N. Y.

THE DEPARTMENT of Public Instruction, Territory of Hawaii, has expressed the need for teachers in kindergarten, and grades one, two, and three. Applicants must offer a minimum of 18 hours in education and practice teaching. Preference will be given to applicants with the Master's Degree.

Marvin C. Johnson, director of personnel, Minneapolis public schools, is interested in coming to campus to interview candidates for teaching positions for the school year 1952-53. Johnson was here at Southern two years ago, and he employed three SIU graduates at that time.

Student Employment Office Makes Contacts

In preparation for student employment requests for the summer months, the student employment office has contacted 101 resorts, parks, concessionaires, private and group summer camps, and manufacturing and sales agencies throughout the United States concerning employment possibilities for Southern's students.

The contacts covered a great many of the 48 states. Some extended into California, Oregon, Washington, the New England states, and the Smoky Mountain regions. Several replies have been received along with application blanks for job requests.

Students interested in securing summer employment should contact the Student Employment Office immediately. All applications, for jobs should be completed not later than February, as most summer camps choose their summer staffs early.

THERE ARE OPENINGS for persons interested in group leadership, recreation, nature study, food service, and counseling.

One camp in northern Wisconsin requested help in specialized training. Four positions are open to a director in woodshop, craftshop, riflery, and canoeing. Positions in Scout Camps are open to aquatic directors, quartermasters, stewards, storekeepers, clerks, cooks, and truck drivers.

There are several jobs here on campus available now to interested students. The greatest demand is for stenographic workers. There are also jobs available in janitorial positions. Any student wishing to apply for these jobs should contact Warren Seibert in the Student Affairs office.

Transportation Service Moves to Service Shops

The university Transportation Service has moved to the Service Shops building. Departments sponsoring trips will now pick up pads, keys, and automobiles at this location, and upon return from trips will deliver them back to the Service Shops buildings.

Etheridge Stresses Importance of SS Exam

Twenty-one men at Southern took the Selective Service Qualification test when it was last offered Dec. 13, out of an estimated eligible 500 male students on campus, according to Robert Etheridge, military information officer.

Etheridge further stated that it was important that students falling under Selective Service regulations take the Qualification test, whether they are in SIU's AFROTC unit or not. Many students may think that they don't have to take the test if they are in basic AFROTC. But, if for some reason, they are not accepted in advanced AFROTC, they will lose their deferment and become subject to induction, if they have not taken the Selective Service Qualification test.

The next test will be offered at SIU on Thursday, Apr. 24.

Wounded Korean Vets May Get Tax Refunds

Students here on campus who, as military personnel, have been hospitalized as a result of wounds, illness, or injury suffered in Korea may be eligible for income tax refunds from the Internal Revenue Bureau, according to a bulletin received by Captain Paul Lundie, SIU Air Force ROTC public information officer.

It is estimated that thousands of Korean veterans are entitled to cash refunds, which may be obtained when servicemen file income tax returns for 1951.

The returns must be accompanied by certificates from unit personnel officers showing the period of hospitalization and the amount of pay received. Individual application must be made for the certificate.

Baseball Candidates Start Indoor Drills

Southern's baseball squad has started indoor work-outs for the coming spring season. Of the 21 candidates reporting to coach Glenn (Abe) Martin, six are returning lettermen from last year's squad.

The 21 players are those who showed most promise during the fall practice season. Martin said others will be invited to try out when the weather permits the drills to be moved outside.

Six lettermen returning for the coming season are Larry Burns, pitcher, Madison; Eddie Coleman, second base, Du Quoin; Wayne Grajdcolas, pitcher, Belleville; Reid Martin, pitcher, Hoopesston; Jim Schmulbach, center field, New Athens; and Jerry West, shortstop, Belleville.

Last year's team, which won 20 and lost five, was hit hard by graduation and service calls. Tom Millikin, who had a 4-0 pitching record and allowed only two earned runs, was drafted Jan. 17. Don Campbell, outfielder, and Darrell Thompson, pitcher, were also called into service.

Joe Jones, first baseman-who batted .335; Milt Weisbecker, first string catcher; and Art Menezdez, shortstop who batted an even .300, all were lost through graduation.

Other candidates now out for the team include: Pitchers Jim Allen, Marion; Harry Evers, Mounds City; Jerry Hawkins, Iuka; Dick Roser, Flora; and Tom Wehre, Highland. Catchers: Jack Chor, Lebanon; Ronald Fisher, Cape Girardeau; Bill Joseph, Carbondale; Ed Theis, Sparta; Infielders: Chuck Hines, Grand Tower; Alex Low, Cape Girardeau; Outfielders: Fred Harris, Columbia; Len Zabroski, Chicago; Vern Zapotocky, Belleville; and John Zeigler, New Athens.

Sons Follow in Dads' Footsteps

The old saying "like father, like son," applies particularly well to two members of the SIU coaching staff and their sons.

Glenn (Abe) Martin, athletic director, and Lynn Holder, basketball coach, both have sons who are starting guards on Carbondale high school's basketball team. They are Ken Martin, 16, a sophomore, and Wayman Holder, 16, a junior. Martin was quarterback of the 1941 SIU football team and Holder was a halfback. Last season Ken Martin was quarterback and Wayman Holder was halfback on the high school team. Young Holder has been elected captain of next year's team.

Besides these sports, Ken Martin was also a catcher on the high school baseball team and young

Saluki 'B' Cagers Have 5-3 Record

Southern's B basketball team has played eight games to date (not including last night's contest) and two other intra-squad battles. Coach Walter Mazurek's young men have captured five of those eight games with the opposition for a .625 average.

In all, 23 SIU cagers, all hoping to advance to varsity berths in the near future, have taken part in the games. All 23 have entered the scoring column for the Salukis who have scored 760 points in 10 games.

Leading the scoring parade are Valier, Ross, and Engle, running 3-2-1 in scoring with 72, 80, and 103 points respectively. Rounding out the top five for scoring are Doerner with 63 points and Renfro with 61 tallies. These five have averaged 37.9 points per game for mentor Mazurek.

Since most of the cagers are underclassmen and will be most likely forming the nucleus of Southern teams in the next few years, each game gives varsity Coach Lynn Holder a "sneak preview" of what he has ahead for basketball fortunes. The scorers besides those mentioned above:

Lynn Holder was a guard on SIU's basketball team and was named to the all-conference team three seasons. Abe Martin didn't play basketball but went on after college to play professional football with the Chicago Cardinals.

SIU Stuns Western In 67-47 Victory

Southern's basketball squad caught fire last night to hand the Western Leathernecks a 67-47 defeat. The Salukis scored 22 points in both the first and last quarters, as they poured in 26 field goals in 71 attempts for a .366 average.

The Salukis took an early lead, the first Western basket coming after 7½ minutes had elapsed in the first period. The Salukis shot nine for 23 in the opening quarter to take a 22-10 lead.

For the Holdermen, the scoring was fairly well distributed. Bob Nickolaus was high with nine field goals and a free throw. Nickolaus, hitting well on his jump shots, turned in his best performance to date. Chuck Thate, who fouled out in the fourth quarter, scored 14 points. Ray Ripplemeyer hit five for 12, a total of 10 points. Gih Kurtz, who played a good defensive game, also scored 10.

"Hots" Taylor, playing his first starting assignment, remained in the line-up the entire game. The tricky guard turned in 9 points. Both he and Theriot worked well on defense.

Salute the Salukis

Taylor accepted it, but circumstances caused a change in heart. He returned to Centralia and, a year later, enrolled in Centralia Junior college. While there, Taylor played basketball under coach James Tucker, "Hots" lettered for two seasons on teams which had records of 18-6 and 20-3.

After completing his sophomore year, Taylor transferred to Southern. He proved that coach Lynn Holder wasn't wrong in listing him as a promising player. Taylor started the first game against Indiana State, and was second high for the Salukis with 9 points. His running mate from Centralia, Harvey Welch, was high with 17.

Southern's game against Illinois Normal is typical of the Taylor type of play. Although he played less than half the game, Tom was second high with six baskets in 11 attempts for a 12 point total. Late in the fourth quarter, Taylor was sent back into the game. The Salukis trailed, 59-57. "Hots" sank the tying basket, a two-hander from about 20 feet out. But Normal again pulled out in front. Taylor aided in tying the score again. He drove in under the basket, then passed off to Jerry Hollopeter, who put in the score-tie.

Taylor says his greatest moment in basketball came last season when he played for Centralia Junior college against the Southern "B" squad. His team trailed by one point with a few minutes remaining. A foul was called on Taylor, giving Southern a chance at a free throw. The free toss was missed. Harvey Welch grabbed the rebound, and passed to Taylor. Tom dribbled down the floor, and sank a one-hand jump shot to put Centralia into a lead they never relinquished. That incident typifies the confidence Taylor carries with him in a game. For that was the first time he had tried that shot in a game all season.

Every sport has its "pinch hitters" to throw into a game when the going gets tough. Tom "Hots" Taylor, guard on Southern Illinois University's basketball squad, could be termed as such with but little stretch of the imagination. Ball control in tight games is Tom's specialty. When coach Lynn Holder has just a short time to protect an even shorter lead, Taylor is invariably the player who strips off his warm-up jacket and enters into the contest.

The style of ball this Centralia junior plays is slightly suggestive of the type employed by the Harlem Globe-trotters. "Hots," five feet ten inches of confidence, brings both laughter and applause from the crowd with his dribbling antics. Often, he has carried the ball down the full length of the court, then driven in to execute a perfect lay-up shot.

Taylor, oddly enough, played no high school basketball. However, he did play for the Centralia Giants, a local independent team. After graduating from Centralia high school, "Hots" entered the service. Taylor served 18 months before receiving his discharge in 1948.

He received an offer to play basketball for Maryland State.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

POOR SHEEDY was in the soup with a turtle named Myrtle. "I'm in a tortizzy," he wailed, "what shall I do?" "Well, it's your messy hare that parts you from all the girls," his roommate said. "Better get Wildroot Cream-Oil!" Non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Relieves dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's out turtle-necking all the time! So don't stick your neck out... get some terrapin-money and hurry to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hare at your favorite barber shop. Then you'll really be in the swim.
