Chicago Lawyer To Address Session Tonight

Registration for SIU's Model United Nations General Assembly begins this morning at 11:00 and continues until 2 p. m. in the University Center.

Following registration, delegates will meet in the Center Ballroom at 2 p. m. for the first open meeting.

Committee meetings will be held in the Activities Area from 2:40 to 4:30 p. m., at which time committees will begin work on proposed resolutions.

Current U. N. Problems
The troubles plaguing the United Nations in recent months are reflected in the topics chosen for discussion. These include Berlin, the situation in the Congo, reorganization of the Secretariat, and the internal financial crisis of the United Nations. Approximately 60 student groups, each representing a UN member nation, will participate in debates and discussions. In addition to SIU student delegations from 10 or 12 other colleges and universities in Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois are attending the two-day program.

Each delegation consists of four members, including a chairman, and represents a country of its own choosing. Informational materials are provided by the Student Government Office to aid the delegations in establishing their positions on each issue. The delegates will meet for two general sessions and two committee meetings during the program. The first general session at 8 p.

m. today will feature an address by Mrs. Edith Sampson, Chicago, a former alternate representative to the UN and currently a member of the United States Commission on NATO. Mrs. Sampson, a lawyer, has lectured in 20 countries and has received an award from the American Friends of the Middle East. She is a member of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations and a trustee of Roosevelt University.

Mrs. Sampson will be honored at a dinner in the River Rooms at the Center at 6 p. m.

The public is invited to hear Mrs. Sampson's address at the First Plenary Meeting in the Ballroom from 8 to 9:30 p. m. and to attend a reception to follow. She will speak on, "The United Nations — Dangerous Friends." Mrs. Sampson will arrive in Carbondale at noon today and will attend a tea given by the American Association of University Women at 3 p. m. in the Home Economics lounge.

Final Vote Saturday

Saturday's schedule begins with committee meetings from 9-11:30 p. m. in the Activities Area. Resolutions will be taken up with remarks and voting at the Second Plenary Meeting in the Ballroom from 1:30-4 p. m. The public is again invited to attend this closing session.

Richard J. Hyman, a senior economics and government major from Watertown, Mass., will act as secretary-general at the mock

General Assembly sessions. Hyman views SIU's model United Nations as a "real opportunity to increase knowledge and interest in some of the vital issues facing the United States in this time of crisis, 1962."

He emphasizes that, "participation in this activity will help individuals and groups to better understand the vital world issues which the United States and the United Nations face, as well as contributing to general leadership development."

Graduate students serving as chairmen of the various committees are Abdul Lateef, Congo; Charles Winslow, Berlin; Ken Dunham, secretary general; and Harold Riehm, finance.

BLOOD TYPING ENDS TODAY—The voluntary blood typing program ends today at 4 p. m. in Room H of the University Center. The program opened Tuesday and has drawn a large number of students. Judith Ann Lowery, McLeansboro junior is shown having a blood sample taken by Sandra Batson, Murphysboro freshman, who assisted health service technicians with the testing. Some of the students waiting their turn are shown in the background. The blood type data was recorded on the student activity cards and filed with the health service, student activity office and on the student personnel record.

More Room Stressed

Housing Needs Told in Student-Householder Meet

"Problems of Concern to Householders and Students," was the topic of a panel discussion at a joint meeting of the Householders' Association and the Off-Campus President's Council, Feb. 15. Contracts, lounge areas, fire protection, overcrowding, damage payments, and sub-standard housing were problems cited by the students.

Off-campus housing contracts were pointed out to be unfair. Kay Guscott said, "Many times a student suffers psychologically from being tied by a nine month contract to an unhealthy living condition." One householder stated that this long term contract was necessary since it is not economically feasible to rent half empty houses. Another householder declared that the student should look at the contract before he signs it.

A need for lounge areas in many off-campus houses for men was brought to the attention of the householders. This, the students pointed out, gives an opportunity for recreation and affords a chance to get away from your roommate.

The student asked that the householders consider the necessity of providing fire escapes. Even though there is not a state ruling providing for this fire protection, the students felt that the householders would want to give the students this protection.

In answer to the charge that sub-standard housing is being rented to students, the committee asked Frank Heiligenstein to meet with them on Feb. 19 to discuss this problem.

New Bicycle Lot North of Center

A bicycle parking lot has been provided in the circle drive, north of the University Center, to relieve congestion at the north door of the Center.

For about a week, bicycles will be moved to the space provided, Security Officer Thomas L. Leffler said. Then, if bikes are still parked at the door, University Police "will take more drastic action."

Abrams Speaks

Sherwin F. Abrams, Southern Illinois University associate professor of theater, will speak to the Central Business & Professional Women's Club next Wednesday (Feb. 14) at 6:30 p. m. at the Langenfeld Hotel.

$10,500,000 Skyscraper Dormitory Loan Expected to Win Approval Soon

Approval of a loan to finance a $10,500,000 high rise dormitory building on the Southern Illinois University campus is expected within the next week or ten days John S. Rendleman, executive director of business affairs, said today.

The project to consist of an 18-story dormitory building plus nine four-story buildings will provide housing, dining, and recreational facilities for 1,000 men and 800 women students.

The new residence group will be known as University Park. Construction is expected to start in June with occupancy scheduled for the beginning of the 1964-65 school year. The facilities will also include classrooms and other service centers to be located in the commons area.

Final details of the proposal were worked out last week between representatives of the University, Rendleman said, and spokesmen for the Federal Housing and Finance Agency. The governmental agency is expected to purchase one half of the bonds bearing three and one-eighth percent interest with the remaining $5,250,000 to be obtained through the sale of bonds on the open market.

The new housing complex will be located in the area south of Park Street and east of the Illinois Central tracks now occupied by the temporary Dowdell housing units. Included in the plans is an overpass over the Illinois Central railroad and U. S. Highway 51 connecting the new living complex with the main University campus.

Planned as the second phase of the project are two more high rise structures also 18-stories high which will provide living accommodations for an additional 1,600 students, Rendleman said.

'Foreign' Talent Show Will Highlight International Night Festivities Sat.

Two talent shows by foreign students at SIU will highlight the University Center Programming board - sponsored International Night tomorrow in the University Center. The first talent show is at 8:30 p. m. and the second is scheduled for 10 p. m.

In addition to the talent shows, there will be displays of newspapers, books, paintings, clothing, handicrafts, religious articles, and musical instruments. The items are to depict the cultures of the more than 30 countries represented.

The areas to be represented are Europe, Asia and Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Africa, Latin America, and North America.

The purpose of the program is to better acquaint the University and community with the costumes and beliefs of the foreign students attending the University, a Student Activities spokesman said.

Admission is free and coffee will be served in an "International Coffee House" set up in the University Center.

Competition Still Hot

High Scorers Face New Tourneys

Two Face-to-Face tournaments and two Mail-O-Matic tournaments are slated for students who scored high in Tournament Week, according to William Bleyer of the Office of Student Activities.

The Face-to-Face tourneys will actually be conducted under one roof with teams from several schools participating. The Mail-O-Matic tourneys, however, will be conducted on individual campuses and the scores will be sent to an assigned place to determine winners.

Southern's students are in region six of the Association of College Unions, and they compete with universities in Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

Southern will send students to Face-to-Face tournaments in men's bowling and men's table tennis.

A five man bowling team consisting of Dave Imber, Jerry Drennan, Gale Selnick, Charles Townsend, and Ron Stahl will travel to Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Indiana, on Feb. 16-17 to participate in the Association of College Unions Face-To-Face bowling tournament.

Students traveling to Eastern Illinois University, Charleston for the Region six Face-To-Face table tennis tournament March 23-24 will be Jimmy Lee and Richard Chu, doubles; Charles Huang and James Newcomb, singles.

Southern is also entering a six woman bowling team to participate in the Mail-O-Matic National Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament between now and Feb. 21.

The women participating are Ann Strawn, Jane Vine, Sue Nattier, Barbara Hitt, Renee Alexander, and Ellie Grimm.

The other Mail-O-Matic tourney will be the Association of College Union Billiards Tournament in which Mike Bartlett and Bill Vincent will compete in pocket billiards; and Robert Richards and Drew Gilchrist in Carom billiards.

Hour-Long Special on Homosexuality Will Be Aired Over WSIU Feb. 26

Homosexuality is the subject of a special hour-long show to be aired over WSIU-TV Feb. 26 at 8:30 p. m. The show is called "The Rejected."

The first guest speaker will be Dr. Margaret Mead, anthropologist and assistant curator of ethnology for the American Museum of Natural History, New York City.

She will outline the position of the homosexual in various societies and point out that society sets the standards by which sexual behavior is governed.

Following Dr. Mead, Dr. Karl Bowman, psychiatrist and past president of the American Psychiatric Association, makes the point that perhaps one man out of six has had some homosexual experience. Many men are latent homosexuals without realizing it or without acting on their impulses, he says.

Most homosexuals are not outwardly identifiable says Bowman, and concludes his comments by quoting from a letter by Sigmund Freud.

Next to speak are three members of the Mattachine Society, an organization set up to educate and aid homosexuals either individually or in groups. They say that it is a mistake to assume that homosexuals are concentrated only in large cities; they exist in all communities.

The program then turns to a discussion of the laws governing sexual and homosexual behavior. Those participating in the discussion are: Albert Bendich, lawyer and lecturer at the University of California, Thomas Lynch, district attorney of San Francisco and Dr. Erwin Braff, director of the Bureau of Disease Control of San Francisco.

The discussion is followed by two statements about laws governing homosexual behavior. Att. Albert Hutchinson, former member of the attorney general's of-presently in the legal code should be kept on the books.

Opposing this point of view is Morris Lowenthal, another San Francisco attorney, who points out that there is evidence that indicates that homosexuality is not unnatural and that the present laws governing it were established without full understanding of the problem.

Also presented are the views of homosexuality held by religious groups. Rabbi Alvin Fine of San Francisco and Bishop James A. Pike of the Episcopal Diocese of California, point to a growing desire by the church to help homosexuals and a realization by the church that homosexuality is a sickness, rather than a deliberate sin.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker of Mt. Prospect, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vicki Walker, and James Brunberg, also of Mt. Prospect.

Miss Walker is a freshman at Knox College, majoring in zoology. Brunberg is a sophomore at SIU.

Wind Ensemble Will Perform Sunday

The University Wind Ensemble will present a concert under the direction of Donald Canedy, Sunday, Feb. 11, at 4 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium.

The program to be presented is as follows: "Lincolnshire Posy," "Dublin Bay" (Sailor's Song), "Harkstow

WOMEN'S BOWLING CHAMP, Judy Leonard, left, receives trophy from Lun Ye Crim, co-chairman of the University Center Recreation Committee. Two Mail-O-Matic and two Face-To-Face tournaments will bring SIU winners into competition with Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin universities. Mail-O-Matic games will be performed here, Face-To-Face contestants traveling to other schools.

Department of Animal Industries Presents Fifth Annual Swine Day

The fifth annual swine day will be held Monday, Feb. 12, in Muckelroy Auditorium in the Agricultural Building. Dr. J. D. Burnside, acting chairman of the Department of Animal Industries and Dr. Howard W. Miller, associate professor in the Department of Animal Industries, are in charge of the affair.

Swine Day is the one day of the year when guest speakers from all over the country come to Southern and lecture on the different problems and matters concerning swine. Attending this meeting will be many swine producers, meat packing company representatives, livestock commission representatives and feed company personnel.

The scheduled program will be: 9:00 a. m. — Registration will be held in Muckelroy Auditorium. 9:30 a. m. — Dr. Herman Hagg will welcome all guests.

9:40 a. m. — Dr. C. E. Barnhart, University of Kentucky, will speak on the practical use of NR-180 and other Nitrofurans and feed additives in swine management.

10:40 a. m. — Mr. Bernard Ebbing of the Rath Packing Company will speak on the future and direction of hog marketing and performance programs.

11:40 a. m. — Lunch will be held in Muckelroy Auditorium.

Art Crafts On Display

The works of craftsman from Holland, Finland, Sweden, Japan, Switzerland and England as well as the U.S. are being featured at the craft exhibition which is appearing at the Allyn art building through February 17.

The exhibition was loaned to SIU by the New York Museum of Contemporary Crafts, according to Ben Watkins, Curator of the University Galleries. The exhibition includes ceramics, metal work, textiles and objects of wood and ivory.

An added feature of the exhibit was a talk given by Dr. Robert A. Laurer, associate director of the Museum of Contemporary Crafts on "The Status of Contemporary Crafts."

Eitner, who also is a director and vice-president of the College Art Association, has written numerous articles for scholarly journals and authored "Gericault", an album of drawings owned by Art Institute of Chicago.

Obelisk Jobs Open

Applications for five paid positions on the Obelisk staff are presently available in the student activities office, University Center and the Obelisk office.

The positions are: editor in chief, associate editor - business manager, and three associate editors. Deadline for the filing of applications is February 26.

Al Fasol, a 24-year-old Carbondale senior, has been named the Associated Press "Stringer of the Month" for December.

Fasol, received a check and a congratulatory message from Al Orton, AP Chicago bureau chief, citing his work on a recent Southern Illinois jail break.

A communications major, Fasol has been news director at WGGH in Marion since August of 1960. He will graduate in June with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Southern Illinois University's world of automation was increased two-fold this week by the addition of two new IBM machines.

They are the IBM 1401 data processing system and the IBM 1620 computer.

For the first few weeks, the IBM 1401 data processing system, will be used in checking out (debugging) programs in order that a program library may be set up for each IBM machine.

Tests To Be Given

The Testing Center in the Office of Student Affairs has announced two tests that will be given within the next two weeks.

On Feb. 14, the Undergraduate English Qualifying Examination will be offered. It will be held from 9 a.m. until noon in Furr Auditorium. Everyone taking this test is requested to bring his student I.D. card and an ink or ball point pen. No pre-registration is required for the test.

The Graduate Scholastic Aptitude Test for foreign students will be given on Feb. 17 from 1 until 5 p.m. in the Testing Center. Foreign students should check with their department to find out if they should take this test. Only those foreign graduate students who are in departments that require this test should take it.

Theta Chi

John Harding of Granite City was recently elected president of Theta Chi fraternity.

Other officers are: Herm Waltemate, vice-president; Ron Patton, scholarship officer; Kent Sprague, corresponding secretary; Jim Zeller, treasurer; Jack Maloney, pledge master; Gene Weidner, house manager; Ned Coulson, steward, and John Marek, social chairman.

All applications for the Theta Chi Variety Show must be turned in by 6 p.m. February 11. The show will be held March 2 and March 3.

In other fraternity news, two Theta Chi members were recently pinned. They were Herm Waltemate to Jenny Gentry, Alpha Gamma Delta and Pat Buick to Barbara Weber, Sigma Sigma Sigma.

UNITARIAN FELLOWSHIP

Miss Marion Davis of the Department of Speech at SIU will speak on "The Dance and Religious Experience" at the meeting of the Carbondale Unitarian Fellowship on Sunday, at 10:30 a.m. The meeting will be held at the Fellowship House, 301 West Elm Street, Carbondale. The general public is welcome.

According to Miss Davis, who received a PhD. from the University of Wisconsin with a dissertation on modern dance, dance has played an active part in religious ritual since the beginnings of religion itself.

"Ritual of the early Christian church included a good deal of dance," Miss Davis says. "In fact, in parts of Spain dance still plays a part in Roman Catholic ritual."

Pool Sharks Beware

Girls Invade Sacred Domain

Of Pool Shooters and "Minnesota Fats"

To Try Hand at Side Pocket

Minnesota Fats as well as the males of Southern took a back seat, in form at least, as Cressie Haben and Sandy Carlson, both of Chicago, got a billiards lesson from Bill Pontikas in the University Center Olympic Room.

The two girls received frowns, laughter, and approval from the surrounding Southern males. They provided a pleasing addition to a usually very noisy and smoke-filled room.

According to Sandy, the girls were trying to stimulate interest and encourage other girls to play as well as to have fun themselves. "It is a fascinating game of skill which I believe would interest the women of Southern as well as the men," she said.

Criticism from prejudiced males is the reason for girls not playing according to the girls.

Cressie stated that girls who play are tagged as masculine. This is definitely not the case here!

Cressie stated that the boys should encourage their girls to play, because this is one factor that makes a girl hesitant to play. Cressie said that guys should not snicker or laugh at a girl's mistakes, but they should help them.

Both girls were very interested in lessons and would like to see lessons offered by the university. "Many girls would like to learn, but they are hesitant in learning on their own," said Sandy.

Both girls concluded by saying "Don't frown please!"

SIU Vice President In the West Indies

By John E. Grinnell
(Editor's Note: Dr. John E. Grinnell, vice president for operations, is taking a winter vacation trip through the Caribbean to Latin America.)

Queens Park Hotel
Port of Spain

Trinidad, B.W.I.

January 30, 1962
Last evening directly across the street on the savannah of Queen's Park, the girls of Bishop School (senior high school) were playing St. Augustine's in a fast game of hockey. I watched with fascination. Speed, precision, endurance. The game ended 0-0. St. Augustine is the city champion, but the Bishop girls were unexpectedly good. While the game had me as excited as any local fan, I was noting at the same time the mixture of races and nationalities. Only one clear-cut European (white) girl was playing. She was the only fat one on the field, but she was strong, a real scrapper and surprisingly fast. Chinese, Indians, negroes and all kinds of mixtures seemed equally effective and all took the bumps in good humor. The star of the St. Augustine team was a lithe, graceful, swift moving Indian-Chinese with a long braid bouncing on her back.

This morning a Chinese-negro took us up to Arima Valley where William Becke ("Jungle Days" and other famous naturalist books) still lives, and where our zoologist son with another Harvard scientist worked one summer recently. Cocoa trees and coffee grew abundantly beneath the towering Immortelles, the orange-pink blossoms of which gave special beauty to the mountain sides. We saw nutmeg trees, bread fruit, citrus, papayas. A man would have to work at it to starve in such a luxurious jungle. A mongoose crossed the five-foot wide road or path our driver was pushing his car through. Several times, rain fell lightly.

Osa Wright, a fabulous Icelandic woman whom everybody knows around here, was not at home. She is 70 or more, drives a jeep furiously over the tortuous mountain roads, runs a little plantation and provides shelter and meals to scientists from everywhere who come to the laboratory in the valley at Simla, which is no particular place at all. We wanted to meet her not only because of the tales our son told about her, but because she is a sort of institution here.

It is 2:10 p.m. Queen's Park is quiet. Soon it will spring to life with scores of white - uniformed elementary school girls. The boys play somewhere else in their physical education periods. When we went walking yesterday, we saw a Samman tree with a total spread of branches of 2000 ft. or more, and orchid trailers hung from all branches.

Service-to-Southern Award Forms Ready

Applications for the Service to Southern Award may be acquired at the Student Center Desk or at the Theta Xi fraternity house, according to Jim Berg, president of Theta Xi.

Berg said anyone enrolled in SIU and in good standing with the University is eligible for the award. Winners are chosen on the basis of scholastic achievement and participation in student activities.

Four awards are given in two categories, men's and women's. The first place award is an engraved wrist watch and the second place award is a pen and pencil set.

Berg noted a strong tendency for the award winners to stay in the field of education, either as students or as faculty members.

Last year's winners are Robert Hardwick and Donna Schuchard Monschein. Hardwick is currently on the faculty of the University of Maryland. Mrs. Monschein is a first grade teacher at Washington school, Vandalia. Marsha Van Cleve, a winner in 1960, is enrolled at Columbia University Graduate School. Robert Hunt, the other 1960 winner, is working on his Ph.D. at Princeton University.

The 1958 winner, Richard Hunsaker, is a faculty member at Belleville Junior College.

Award To Senior

Sharon Loveless, a Mattson senior, won the third annual Flora Brennan Memorial Oratorical Contest held Thursday, Feb. 2.

The contest, open to all SIU undergraduates, carried a $25 first prize and automatic membership on SIU's team in the state intercollegiate oratory contest. Miss Loveless will not attend the Feb. 16 contest at Illinois Wesleyan, however, since she will be competing with the debate squad against Dartmouth College.

Second place winner of $15 was James Dodd of Fairmount while Jeff Barlow, Benton, took third place and $10. Dodd will be in oratory and Barlow in extemporaneous speaking at the state contest. Kathleen Whitelock of Metropolis, a runner up, will take Miss Loveless' place.

Gov't Dept. Head to Circle Globe

Orville Alexander, chairman of the SIU government department, will leave in mid-April on an extensive journey which will take him around the world.

Alexander has been granted a leave of absence for spring term, and will circumnavigate the globe from west to east. After reaching Germany, he will teach a class consisting of Southern students taking the chartered flight to Western Europe. The class will meet in Hamburg for a duration of five weeks.

Alexander will stop to see a former colleague at Southern, George Adams, now vice president of the University of Alaska.

Upon reaching the Far and Near East, Alexander plans to visit many of his former foreign students and certain visiting professors who have come to Southern in the past. He also plans to attend the International Convention of Lions' Clubs in Nice, France, June 25.

Alexander will be home by September to resume teaching at SIU.

Professor Gorelik's New Play Gets Reading Tonight By Faculty Group

Tonight at 7:45 in the Morris Library Auditorium the Faculty Playreading Group will present an informal reading performance of "Rainbow Terrace," a new play by research professor in theatre Mordecai Gorelik.

Veteran of more than forty years as a professional scene designer in New York and Hollywood, Gorelik terms his play as being "in work". He anticipates gaining some helpful appraisal from "comment cards" which the audience will be asked to fill out after the reading tonight.

The play has not yet been produced but has been given an earlier reading at the Actor's Studio in New York.

The Playreading Group consists of faculty members and their families who gather once a month to read plays. There are no rehearsals for readings which are presented on an informal basis. Mrs. J. Murray Lee is chairman of the group.

"Rainbow Terrace" centers on the efforts of an energetic manufacturer to change his situation in the Afterlife and even the way of Afterlife he encounters.

In the cast are Harry Moore, Irving and Esther Kovarsky, Neil

Mordecai Gorelik

Carrier, Richard Franklin, Luis Baralt, Helmut Hartwig, and James Benziger.

Roles are also read by Will Grant, Roy Wishinsky, Carolyn Moe, Cameron Garbutt, Peter Notaras, Joseph Leonard, Leon Bennett, and Charles Zoeckler.

The reading is open to the public.

Talk Today On 'Psychology In Italy'

"Psychology in Italy" is the topic Dr. Sheldon J. Korchin will speak on at today's Psychology Colloquium at 4 p. m. in the Agriculture Seminar room.

Dr. Korchin, chief of section on stress, National Institute of Mental Health, holds two masters degrees from Clark and Harvard Universities, and a Ph. D. from Harvard.

Formerly an instructor at Harvard and Princeton Universities, he has also lectured at the University of Chicago and the Northwestern University Medical School. In addition, he has served as director of the Psychology Laboratory at the Institute of Psychosomatic and Psychiatric Research and Training at Michael Reese Hospital.

He holds the Diplomate of the American Board of Examiners in Professional Psychology, in Clinical Psychology, and is a Fellow of the American Psychology Association's Division of Personality and Social Psychology, and the Division of Clinical Psychology.

THE TRUE AND TRAGICAL TALE OF HAPPY JACK SIGAFOOS

Who would have thought that Happy Jack Sigafoos, the boy the sky never rained on, would teeter on the edge of a life of crime?

Certainly there was no sign of it in his boyhood. His home life was tranquil and uplifting. His mother was a nice fat lady who hummed a lot and gave baskets to the poor. His father was a respected citizen who could imitate more than 400 bird calls and once saved an elderly widow from drowning in his good suit. (That is, Mr. Sigafoos was in his good suit; the elderly widow was in swimming trunks.) Happy Jack's life was nothing short of idyllic—till he went off to college.

Here Happy Jack quickly became a typical freshman—tweedy, seedy, and needy. He learned the joys of rounding out his personality, and he learned the cost. His allowance vanished like dew before the morning sun. There were times, it grieves me to report, when he didn't even have enough money for a pack of Marlboro Cigarettes—and you know how miserable that can be! To be deprived of Marlboro's matchless flavor, its easy-drawing filter, its subtly blended tastiness, its refreshing mildness, its ineffable excellence, its soft pack or flip-top box—why, it is a prospect to break the heart in twain!

Marlboro-less and miserable, Happy Jack tried to get more money from home. He wrote long, impassioned letters, pointing out that the modern, large-capacity girl simply could not be courted on his meager allowance. But all Jack got back from home were tiresome homilies about thrift and prudence.

Then one dark day a sinister sophomore came up to Jack and said, "For one dollar I will sell you a list of fiendishly clever lies to tell your father when you need some extra money."

He gave Jack the list of fiendishly clever lies. Jack read:

1. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a new house for the Dean of Men.
2. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a headstone for Rover, our late beloved dormitory watchdog.
3. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to endow a chair of Etruscan Art.
4. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to build our own particle accelerator.

For a moment poor Jack was tempted; surely his father could not but support all these laudable causes. Then Jack's good upbringing came to the fore. He turned to the sinister sophomore and said, "No, thank you. I could not deceive my aged parent so. And as for you, sir, I can only say—fie!"

Upon hearing this the sinister sophomore broke into a huge grin. He whipped off his black hat and pasty face—and who do you think it was? None other than Mr. Sigafoos, Happy Jack's father, that's who!

"Good lad!" cried Mr. Sigafoos. "You have passed your test brilliantly." With that he gave Happy Jack a half million dollars in small bills and a red convertible containing power steering and four nubile maidens.

Crime does not pay!

© 1962 Max Shulman

Money and girls haven't changed Happy Jack. Except for the minor bulge in his cashmere jacket caused by (1) a pack of Marlboros and (2) a box of Marlboros, he's the same old Sigafoos.

Southern Offers Orientation Program To Foreign Students In Agriculture

An orientation program designed to help foreign graduate students in agriculture overcome language problems and gain a general knowledge of farming in the U.S. will be offered by Southern Illinois University again in the summer of 1962.

This second annual program, beginning June 18, will be open to foreign students approved for graduate work in agriculture at American colleges and universities in the fall of 1962. It is designed to make foreign students familiar with basic conversational English and with agricultural terms and practices familiar to American students.

Students participating may add to their practical knowledge of agriculture in the United States by living on farms during the period between the end of the summer program and the start of college terms in the fall.

Last summer, five graduate students from Chile, Japan and Formosa completed the program before beginning studies at Colorado State University, Cornell University and the University of Minnesota. They were sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation and the Council of Economic and Cultural Affairs.

The SIU School of Agriculture and the SIU Office of Research and Projects of the Graduate School are cooperating in the 1962 program. If less than 10 acceptable applications are received by April 15, it may be cancelled.

Housing Projects Aid Married Students

by Ron Forbes

Married students are often plagued by financial burdens, but at least 19 Southern Illinois University undergraduates seem to have solved the housing problem by living in federally-aided Williamson County housing projects.

Julius Steinmarch, director of the Williamson County Housing Authority, takes pride in the fact that married men are furthering their education with the help of the low rate housing. "The students are sacrificing today so that they might be our leaders of tomorrow," he says, "and this is basically what the housing was intended for."

The low-rate housing was established for the purpose of aiding young married couples in their time of need, old people with pensions, and for large families that need financial assistance.

Steinmarch's eyes sparked as he said, "Why last June we graduated four men from SIU in the Herrin housing project alone."

Student's Income Considered
"Our rental is based on the family's income and nearly every married college student would be eligible for the County Housing program," he noted.

"In many cases the student is only working part time at some University job or other part time position, whereas in other cases the wife is holding down a full-time job in order to help support the household."

"All of our utilities are paid for by the housing, and I don't know of any other place a person could rent a house at the same rate we charge, or even two to three times that amount," he said.

To qualify for the housing a married couple without children must have a net income of $3600 or under. If children are involved, then the amount the couple could make and still live here would be greater he said.

"The lowest amount one could pay is $34 a month, and the largest sum would be $65 a month," Steinmarch said.

Larger Family - Larger House

The size of the house one gets depends on the size of the family. A married couple without children would receive a one-bedroom duplex home consisting of a living room, kitchen, bathroom, bedroom and a utility room. The kitchen comes furnished with a gas range and a refrigerator.

"Our largest unit is a four-bedroom home, and all houses with three bedrooms or more, have an upstairs," Steinmarch said.

The first of the housing units in Williamson County was completed in Herrin in 1959. One hundred duplex homes were built to accommodate 200 families. The government financed the money to build the homes in Herrin, but the loan was paid back with interest before the construction was completed.

"The homes are now paid for through 40-year bonds purchased by private investors," said Steinmarch. "If for some financial reason the bond payment can't be met during a period, then the government steps in to give us the aid needed."

Other Williamson County sites are in Marion, Johnston City, Carterville and Hurst. Marion has 80 duplex units, Carterville, 35 units, Johnston City, 26 units and Hurst has 12 units.

"We also have 91 more units for approval in Williamson County," he said. "If the plans are approved we will build 55 more units in Carterville, which might be a big boom to SIU students."

"Creal Springs will have 24 duplex units if the plans are approved and Hurst will get 12 more units."

He also points out that Jackson County also has the low-rate housing. "Murphysboro has a some units at present, and Carbondale has a project up for approval. There might be a good chance that several married students will be able to move in at Carbondale," he said.

Disabled veterans get first chance at the housing, followed by the veterans, and then from there it goes according to need, he said.

The Williamson County Housing program also has homes for the elderly, and one must be 62 years or over, or be eligible for social security.

"In order to be eligible for the housing in Herrin, a person must be a resident of the city for at least 90-days, or have employment in that area," said Steinmarch. These requirements are always according to the agreement by the local city.

Graduate Recital For Morris Library

A graduate recital will be presented in Morris Library Auditorium, Monday, Feb. 12, at 8:15 p.m., by Laurada Buntin, "Contra- to," and Myra Baker, "Piano."

The program is as follows: "Tortorella" by C. Pietragrua; "Bella bocca" by B. Pasquini; "Cara sposa (from Rinaldo, 1711) by G. F. Handel; "Frauenliebe und-leben," "Seit ich ihn gesehen," "Er der herrlichste von allen," "Ich kann's nicht fassen, nicht glauben," "Der Ring," "Helft mir, ihr Schwestern," "An mein Herzen, an meiner Brust," "Nun hast du mir den ersten Schmerz gethan," by R. Schumann; "I wish and I wish," by N. Peterkin; "Before my window," by S. Bachmaninoff; "Night Song at Amalfi," by C. Naginski; "Spring Song of the Robin Woman," by C. W. Cadman.

Our future is in the hands of men not yet hired

At Western Electric we play a vital role in helping meet the complex needs of America's vast communications networks. And a career at Western Electric, the manufacturing arm of the nation-wide Bell Telephone System, offers young men the exciting opportunity to help us meet these important needs.

Today, Western Electric equipment reduces thousands of miles to fractions of seconds. Even so, we know that our present communications systems will be inadequate tomorrow; and we are seeking ways to keep up with—and anticipate—the future. For instance, right now Western Electric engineers are working on various phases of solar cell manufacture, miniaturization, data transmission, futuristic telephones, electronic central offices, and computer-controlled production lines—to name just a few.

To perfect the work now in progress and launch many new communications products, projects, procedures, and processes not yet in the mind of man—we need quality-minded engineers. If you feel that you can meet our standards, consider the opportunities offered by working with our company. In a few short years, you will be Western Electric.

Challenging opportunities exist now at Western Electric for electrical, mechanical, industrial, and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. All qualified applicants will receive careful consideration for employment without regard to race, creed, color or national origin. For more information about Western Electric, write College Relations, Western Electric Company, Room 6206, 222 Broadway, New York 38, New York. And be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when our college representatives visit your campus.

Swimmers Face Hoosiers; Cagers, Gymnasts On Road

With Southern Illinois University's swimming, gymnastics and track teams scheduled to meet top-ranking national opponents and its basketball and wrestling squads staking their reputation against challenging league foes, Saluki athletes are facing their busiest week-end of the winter sports season.

Toughest assignments go to Coach Ralph Casey's swimmers, who meet Indiana's virtually unbeatable tankers, and Coach Lew Hartzog's thinculds, who train out-of-doors but will duel Kansas indoors Friday.

Hawkeyes Tough

Favored, but expected to be pushed, are Southern's classy gymnasts who will tangle with Iowa and Coach Harry Gallatin's cagers, who meet Western Illinois Friday and Illinois State Normal the following night. Coach Jim Wilkinson's wrestlers, meanwhile, are to oppose Western Illinois in a Saturday match. All contests are away from home.

Called the best swimming team in collegiate history, Indiana rates a strong choice over Southern which has dropped its two most recent meets to Iowa State and Minnesota.

Chet The Jet

Sophomore ace Jack Schiltz will battle the famed Chet Jastremski in the breaststroke events, but the Salukis may have to rely on Ray Padovan to prevent an Indiana monopoly of first place. The Miami, Fla., junior, who holds the national collegiate 100-yard freestyle record, is expected to be in both the 50 and 100-yard events.

With national AAU track champion Jim Dupree currently competing in New Zealand and fine British prospects Bill Cornell and Brian Turner not yet eligible for varsity competition, Hartzog's outfit also will be definite underdogs at Kansas. Chief hopes for a blue-ribbon performance will rest on the shoulders of distance runner Joe Thomas.

SIU's gymnasts, easy victors over Indiana, Minnesota, Illinois State and Ball State, will receive their stiffest test of the season at Iowa, The Salukis, who hope to bid for a national championship at Albuquerque, N.M., next month, have received additional strength of late from Rusty Mitchell, stand-out sophomore from West Covina, Calif. In leading Southern to its most recent dual victory over Ball State last week, Mitchell won three firsts, tied for another and had a third.

Basketballer Set

Gallatin's 15-4 round-ballers, currently tied with Illinois State for first place in Interstate Conference standings, collide with the Redbirds Saturday, but first must survive what is expected to be a rugged game tonight at Western Illinois.

The Salukis showed definite signs of fatigue in their narrow five-point win over Northern Illinois Saturday, but bounced back strong Monday to wallop Central Michigan 85-52. Ed Spila, averaging 20 points per game since being moved into the pivot post may be the key to a third straight conference championship.

Southern's wrestlers will be hoping to regain their winning ways after having been beaten by Oklahoma State and Michigan State on successive week-ends. Only Ken Houston, Oak Lawn junior, remains undefeated for the season.

Gymnastics coach Bill Mende's trim athletes scored what was generally regarded as SIU's greatest athletic achievement last year when they finished runner-ups to Penn State in the NCAA gymnastic meet. This season they'll be disappointed with anything less than the blue ribbon itself.

Track Man Too

Basket is not the only sport Jim excels in at SIU. In the spring Gualdoni can be seen around the broad jumping pit. Jim was Lew Hartzog's top jumper last year, hitting the 23-foot mark several times.

Gualdoni was some what of a super star in high school. Jim starred on Herrin's first and only state basketball championship team in 1957 as a junior, and led the Tigers to the quarter finals of the state tourney in Champaign his senior year.

Jim's football feats were even greater. As a junior Gualdoni led Southern Illinois in scoring with 133 points, or 22 touchdowns, and one extra point. Gualdoni won the Elks Most Valuable football award in both his junior and senior years as a halfback.

Saluki Cage Captain Excels On Defense

College basketball, as we know it, is an offensive sport, but Jim Gualdoni has made his defensive stand at Southern Illinois University. The 6-2 175-pound senior, is described by coach Harry Gallatin, "As one of the finest defensive players I have ever coached."

"Jim always guards the top scoring back-liner of our opponents," remarks Gallatin. Gallatin and Gualdoni came to SIU the same year, during the fall of the 1958 season. Jim was a standout performer from the beginning, winning a berth on the first five as a freshman.

Good Student

Gallatin says it has been a privilege to coach the present Saluki captain. "Jim is a fine student, we never have to worry about his grades, and he's also a very coachable athlete," announced the former Iron Horse of the NBA. My only wish is that we could recruit more basketball players like Gualdoni," replied the SIU cage coach.

Gallatin thinks Jim's best game this year was against Illinois Normal in Carbondale Jan. 5. "Jim was outstanding on defense in that game," stated Gallatin.

Gallatin says Gualdoni will score from eight to ten points in nearly every game.

Another member of SIU's coaching staff, golf coach Lynn Holder, has nothing but praise for the former Herrin Tiger star. Holder is the one who recruited Gualdoni for Southern.

Former Halfback

"Jim was one of the finest halfbacks in Southern Illinois during his junior and senior years in high school, and there is little doubt in my mind that he couldn't have been an outstanding player in college if he had wanted to carry the pigskin," declared Holder. "Gualdoni has all the natural talents it takes to be an outstanding athlete," said Holder. "He runs like a deer, jumps like a kangaroo, has quick hands and can adapt himself to nearly any situation," reported SIU's former basketball coach. Holder was the Salukis cage coach until 1958.

Holder says Gualdoni is a great leader and lad as well. "Jim has the attitude and temperament to be great in any sport he tries," uttered Holder.

Team Player

Holder thinks the only reason Gualdoni isn't a better scorer in college is because he's too great of a team player. "After all, he was an outstanding scorer in high school, and there isn't any reason why he shouldn't score in college as he did on the prep level," related Holder.

"I really enjoy watching Gualdoni lead the fast break, he does the job to a perfection," announced the golf coach. Holder thinks Gualdoni is good enough to play Big Ten ball. The University of Michigan was hot on Jim's trail before he announced he was coming to SIU.

JERRY HALL. (Granite City) SIU student, holds up 2 3/4 lb. largemouth bass he caught on underwater spinning lure Saturday at Lake-on-the-Campus. In December 1958, 404 largemouths were introduced into the reconstructed lake.

Looking for Success

Swim Coach Tries Different Theory

Admittedly experimenting with a change in training tactics, Southern Illinois University's swimming coach Ralph Casey and junior freestyle specialist Ray Padovan are hopeful of some indication of success in Saturday's dual meet with powerful Indiana at Bloomington.

Casey, one of the nation's more successful coaches who has led Southern to an NAIA championship and three straight Interstate Conference titles, is "working on a different theory" this season in an effort to better Padovan's chances for a national speed crown.

Lowers Record

Having lowered school records several times in early appearances, Padovan turned in his season's best performance Feb. 11 when he was timed in a record-shattering 47.9 seconds in the 100-yard dash over a short course. He followed up the next week with another national mark when he posted a 27.1 performance in a 90-yard dash over a 20-yard course. "Padovan is a great swimmer; there's no doubt about that," Casey said, "and this year we're just going about proving it in a different manner. We haven't pushed Ray yet and may not until shortly before the national meets. I've told him to swim fast enough to win and he's been doing just that although this week it may be a little tougher."

Wants Distant Events

Padovan devoted much of his pre-season training efforts to swimming the distance events in an effort to strengthen himself. However, in Southern's first meet of the year he competed in the shorter events and won the 50-yard dash in 22.7 seconds and the century in 52.4 seconds.

The popular Miamian, who last year was chosen most outstanding SIU athlete, got a down to a 49-6 time in his next outing before turning in a 50.7 two weeks ago. He followed up the next day with a 49.3 performance against Minnesota and now hopes to move steadily downward.

SIU Downs
C. Mich. 85-92

by Alan Goldfarb

Coach Harry Gallatin's osgers bounced back into a tie for the IIAC lead Monday night by dumping Central Michigan 85-92 in Carbondale.

The victory boosted Southern's league record to 7-1, the same as Illinois Normal, and an over-all season's record of 15-4. The Chippewas, after starting off in fine fashion, have dropped their last three Interstate conference games for a record of 3-5. The Chips are 6-9 for the season.

Try To Clinch Title

The Salukis will try to clinch the title tomorrow night when they come face to face with Illinois State at Normal. Before doing so, the Salukis meet Western Illinois tonight at Macomb.

Southern completely dominated Monday night's game in which seniors Jim Guadoni and reserve John Mees played their final home game in a Saluki uniform.

The Salukis played a fine defensive game in holding the Chips to only 18 points in the first half on just seven field goals. Central netted just 19 floor shots in 67 attempts for a poor .283 percentage. The Salukis collected 35 field goals in 71 attempts for a creditable .492 average.

Ten players broke into the scoring column for the 7th ranked Salukis, with Ed Spila, once again setting the pace. The 6-5 junior scored 17 points to top all scorers.

Gallatin started Ron Linder at one guard position instead of Eldon Bigham. Linder proved himself worthy of the task and netted 15 points. Bigham came off the bench to contribute 11 points, all in the second stanza.

Salukies Had 40-Point Lead

The Salukis, who out-rebounded the Chippewas 58-38, had more than a 40-point bulge at one point late in the second half, but with most of the second-stringers in the game, the Chips closed the gap to 33 points at the finish.

motion?

Not But scientists and engineers at Ford's research and scientific labs do deal in perpetual notions—and they have more than a few about what might be commonplace in the future, some of them just as startling.

Studies at Ford involving new energy sources and improved materials may help bring jet-propelled cars with gyro stabilizers... automatic driving controls... flying automobiles and wheel-less vehicles that glide on a cushion of air... vehicles propelled by atomic energy... plastics with the strength of conventional metals... adhesives that replace welding... radar and other electronic controls to assist or replace the driver in many situations.

Basic studies in these and other fields are just part of a continuing program of progress aimed at reinforcing Ford's leadership through scientific research and engineering.

SIU Athletic Dir. Courts Competition

Recently divorced from the Interstate Conference, Southern Illinois University is seeking marriage with a more substantial athletic group.

The SIU athletic council recommended in May, 1961, that SIU withdraw from the IAC because of pressure supplied by other IAC members.

A steady improvement in athletics at SIU was the cause for separation from the IAC. In 1956 and 1957 Southern won only the IAC wrestling championship. But after Dr. Donald N. Boydston's appointment as SIU athletic director, Southern's athletic fortunes took an upward swing.

At the end of the present academic year SIU will become an athletic independent. Just how long Southern stays an independent remains to be seen. SIU has made application for membership in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Boydston talked with Norvall Neve, commissioner of the Missouri Valley, in Chicago at the recent NCAA meetings and according to Boydston the Missouri Valley is interested in Southern.

Boydston is not as optimistic about Southern's chances for Missouri Valley membership because of several prerequisites that Missouri Valley members must meet.

The foremost problem facing Boydston is that the Missouri Valley requires its members to have a football stadium with a seating capacity of 20,000. In basketball the MVC says that its members should have a stadium or field-house that can average 4,000 a game.

Another point that the MVC makes is that it recommends to its members have a certain number of NCAA scholarships. In regard to the NCAA scholarships recommended by the MVC, SIU has no such scholarship.

If Southern is refused membership in the MVC, Boydston is figuring on encountering more problems. According to Boydston one of the biggest problems already encountered by him and his coaches is the drawing up of a schedule.

In the past SIU has scheduled Big 10 teams in many sports. However, there is some evidence the University of Illinois is trying to curtail Southern's competition with other Big 10 members.

"We can give the University of Illinois plenty of competition in eight of the 10 sports," Boydston said. "We feel we can compete successfully with Illinois in cross-country, track, wrestling, golf, gymnastics, baseball, swimming and tennis."

Boydston Has Confidence
Boydston's confidence is well grounded. Last fall Coach Lew Hartzog's cross-country team went to Chicago and finished ahead of Illinois and Northwestern Universities.

"Some of the Big 10 teams that we have competed against and we have beaten have dropped us the following year," Boydston said. "We welcome the opportunity to compete against the Big 10 schools because of their high academic standards."

"They generally have outstanding athletic teams," Boydston continued. "I only hope the school to our north will not prevent other Big 10 teams from competing against us."

Many Big 10 teams are on Southern's schedule this year. For example, in gymnastics Bill Meade's powerful gymnasts have beaten the University of Indiana and the University of Minnesota. They are scheduled to meet the University of Iowa this week-end and Michigan State University the following week.

This same story holds true in SIU's other sports. In swimming Southern competes against the University of Minnesota and the University of Indiana. Ralph Casey's swimmers lost to the University of Minnesota last week-end and meet Indiana Saturday.

"So you can see that we are able to hold our own against Big 10 opposition," Boydston related. "The only sports we could not hold our own with now would be football and basketball and in a few years only football will be left where we would be mismatched."

"Before leaving the subject of the Big 10, Boydston compared the athletic budgets of the University of Illinois athletic department with that of SIU. "Their athletic budget is 10 times ours and they spend 10 times as much for athletic scholarships as we do," Boydston said.

"If we had that kind of money I'm sure we could be much better than we are now," Boydston continued.

Factors Toward Rise

Boydston cited three factors for Southern's rise towards athletic prominence.

"First, we have the wholehearted support of the administration," he said. "They have the philosophy that athletics should include all sports not just one or two."

We do not overemphasize any one sport over another and this is the main reason for our successful athletic program," Boydston continued.

"Another factor is the extensive student work program that was inaugurated by SIU President DeWitt W. Morris to give the students the chance to work their way through school," Boydston said. "Our athletes work through this program."

"In my opinion we very definitely have the best all-around coaching staff in the country," Boydston said. "It is through the hard work of the coaches that we are able to be successful in athletics."

Since Boydston became athletic director in 1957, SIU has won 25 of 42 possible IAC championships. His overall winning percentage is .738 with 395 wins, 135 losses and five ties.

Boydston, after assuming the athletic directorship appointed Carmen Piccone, Ralph Casey, Harry Gallatin and Lew Hartzog to head coaching positions on Southern's staff. Meade came to SIU the same year Boydston was appointed athletic director and Glenn Martin, Jim Wilkinson, Dick LeFevre and Lynn Holder were already at SIU.

How SIU gets its athletes in order to carry on a successful program is one question that has been asked many times of SIU.

coaches and Boydston.

"Mainly the coaches are able to recruit the best boys through their reputations and because of the fine teams that we compete against," Boydston said. "We have been able to maintain a sound athletic program with one of the smallest athletic budgets in the country."

Another question tossed around by SIU students and faculty alike is the athletic scholarships Southern has. "We have no athletic scholarships," Boydston said. "We only recommend athletes to the scholarship and loan committee."

tee." "Money raised from program sales, concessions and the SIU Benchwarmers is given to the scholarship and loan committee who in turn award the scholarship to deserving athletes," Boydston said.

It is through this method that SIU is able to give athletes scholarships. There are no outright grants from the athletic department. All athletic scholarships come from the scholarship and loan committee.

Mary Margaret Mannor defeated the Haven by a 36-6 score this week. Janet Stritzel and Toni Egner led the Mannor basketballers in the scoring column.

Is this the only reason for using Mennen Skin Bracer?

Skin Bracer's rugged, long-lasting aroma is an obvious attribute. But is it everything?

After all, Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the after-shave lotion that cools rather than burns. It helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Helps prevent blemishes. Conditions your skin.

Aren't these sound, scientific virtues more important than the purely emotional effect Skin Bracer has on women? In that case, buy a bottle. And—have fun.

Book Collection Contest Announced

Students planning to enter the SIU Student Book Collection Contest may obtain rules and entry applications at Morris Library Administration Office or the Office of Student Affairs, according to Miss Elizabeth O. Stone, chairman of the contest committee.

The University Book Prize Committee invites all students currently enrolled at Southern Illinois University to compete for the awards in the appropriate academic division or the best student-owned library of paperback books in each category.

Any student who wishes to compete for this year's award must submit a list of the books in his collection to any member of the committee not later than March 1, 1962. Also to be submitted is an annotation for each book listed.

Two Divisions

The contest is divided into two divisions, with awards to be made at the undergraduate and graduate levels in both divisions.

In the General Collective Division first, second and third prizes will be awarded to undergraduates and the same number to graduates for the best personally-owned library of thirty-five or more paperback books which comprise a general collection.

In the Collection Centered in a Subject, Collection of a Single Author or Group of Authors, first, second and third prizes will be awarded to undergraduates and the same number to graduates for the best personally-owned library of thirty-five or more paperback books.

$25 Book Award

First prize is $25 in books to be selected by winners from the Book Department of University Store; second prize, $15 in books from the book department and third prize, $10 in books also to be selected from the book department.

Collections will be judged on the basis of intelligent interest; knowledge of books collected as revealed in the annotations for books submitted and on scope and imagination shown in creating the collection. Judges will be selected from the university faculty.

The contest is sponsored by the Student Activity Development Center, University Store and Morris Library. Committee members are Miss Elizabeth I. Mullins, coordinator of Student Activities Development Center; Mr. J. C. Trobaugh, manager, University Store; and Miss Elizabeth O. Stone, assistant director of Libraries, chairman.
