Stratton Replaces Four Members on SIU Board

William C. Stratton, Illinois' new Governor, recently revamped the SIU Board of Trustees by replacing four members of a board formerly appointed by Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson about a year ago.

Those newly appointed to the board and their terms of office are: Lindell Sturges, president of the First National Bank of Metropolis, six years. Mrs. Stella Collins, West Frankfort, women's club leader, two years. Robert L. Kern, Belleville, News Democrat, publisher and editor, two years. Melvin Lockard, president of the First National Bank of Cobden and president of the Illinois Bankers Association, six years.

Those who received reappointment to the board were: John Page Wham, Centralia lawyer, six years. Kenneth C. Davis, Harrisburg businessman, four years. Robert C. Lamphier, Jr., Springfield industrialist, four years.

The four new members who were appointed by Stratton replace the following four members of Stevenson's second board: Mrs. Ruth Cook, Chicago; Guy Karaker, Dongola, board president; Dr. Frank L. Ewell, Columbia; George W. Mitchell, Cahoon banker.

Sturges is also a member of the Masonic Lodge, Odd Fellows, the Baptist church, the Metropolis Chamber of Commerce, and Rotary club.

In his first service on the Board of Trustees, he was named a member of the executive committee. WELL KNOWN for her efforts as a member of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Collins was president of the Twenty-Fifth District from 1947 to 1949. Graudan Team Slated To Play Here Tuesday

SIU students will be able to hear Joanna and Nikolai Graudan, internationally acclaimed "cello-piano duo," Tuesday, Jan. 20 in Shurek auditorium at 8 p. m. when the Carbondale Community Concert association brings another pair of versatile artists out way.

Nikolai Graudan, a master of the cello, and his pianist wife Joanna, will combine their talents to play selections from Beethoven, Brahms, and Mendelssohn.

The program will be divided into four main parts. The first two sections will consist of selections played by the "cello-piano ensemble as a duet. Nikolai and Joanna will play "Grave and Rondo" by Beethoven, Beethoven's "Variations on Theme" and "Sonata in D major, Op. 58" by Mendelssohn.

The third portion of the evening's entertainment will feature Joanna's piano solos. She will present "Fair Tale" by Medtner, Prokofiev's "March" and "Janymprius," Liszt's "Zurita" and "Erdle" by Chopin. Nikolai Graudan and his cello will climax the program. Graudan's cello solos will include "The Dream Butterfly" by Franck, "Holy Thursday at Midnight" by Tchaikovsky, and "Delusion" "The Dragon Fly."

Both musicians are noted as soloists, having begun their careers in Russia in the solo field. Both have also been engaged as guest artists with the Berlin Philharmonic, and the NBC-Symphony under Sir Adrian Boult and with the London Philharmonic under Sir Hamilton Harty.

The SIU students will be admitted to the Graudans' concert upon the presentation of their activity tickets.

Our Opinions

Again Here we are again — writing on that same old subject. No, guess again — it's not about school spirit. However, it could be termed that if one wanted to get technical, for actually, it's nothing but school spirit that is reflected by the number of students who come out to vote when there is an election, even if it is only the primaries being held. Tuesday a primary election was held during which students were nominated for Spring Festival chairman and for the four freshman positions on the Student Council. Fortunately two students were nominated for each position. However, a total of only 183 students made nominations. This is approximately 15 per cent of our student body. Now, we ask you, is that a good enough representation to nominate students to positions on the Student Council, the most important positions SIU students can hold? And likewise, is it good enough representation to nominate a student who is so direct one of the biggest all-school events held here on campus during the school year? Now you may say, "What's the difference, enough students got nominated, didn't they?" Yes, there were enough nominated, but the point we need to make here is that if only 183 students vote in the final election this coming Tuesday, the students elected won't actually be representatives of the students as they should be if they are going to serve on the student government body of the school or direct an all-school student function. During the nominations, several students walked right by the polls, which were located in the crosshalls of Old Main, and after asking what was coming off, merely walked on without voting, never thinking what kind of school we would have if the students weren't allowed to vote at all. We hope that when the election day comes Tuesday, students will take advantage of their right to vote. If enough students don't vote to elect a good representation, who hold elections at all? Then we would have something in common with the schools of Russia. B.V.B.

We Did It Before

Over 200 lives were saved last year by students and personnel here at our own university. Many wonder how on earth we are hiding behind stacks of books (well, supposed to be answers) down here in Southern Illinois could ever manage to save the life of even a person. But, it was done, and it can be done again. The one thing which permitted us to be heroes last year was the blood drive sponsored by the Elks for the city of Carbondale with the AF ROTC detachment here at SIU conducting our part of the drive. Exactly 237 pints of blood were donated by students and other university personnel — which was more good turn-out, even if we do say so ourselves. Now, with another drive like the one last year coming up in just two weeks, its time to think about how we're going to break our own record. The days, Jan. 28-29, have been set as the days for the collecting of the blood to be donated by university people. If you're one of those Squamish types, it's high time you began getting up the nerve to make your contribution. Just because the idea of giving blood isn't exactly a glamorous one is no reason you should avoid it. B.V.B.

Japan and the United States have warned Soviet Russia that they have embarked on a get-together policy in the Far East and are ready to back it up with bullets if necessary.

The warning means that anti-communist guns will not tolerate any more Russian craft flying over the Japanese islands. The note referred to a "certain foreign power," but there was no doubt that Japan was talking about Russia. The one-way flight was made by a Soviet plane from Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost isle.

United States Sabre jets destroyed at least eight MIG 15's in the savage air battles over Korea. The Air Force also said that eight Red planes were damaged.

The air battles came after U. S. Superforts and fighters smashed a gains the key Communist transport center at Sinuiju. The one-way solo marked the sixth straight day of relentless drives to knock out main Red supply routes from Manchuria to the frozen front.

Approved: Robert A. McGrath Acting Registrar

The Registrar's office has prepared this announcement for the attention and guidance of male students who are subject to Selective Service legislation. Existing legislation imposes no types or classes of scholastic deferment. The first is that of 15-C; the second, that of 15-I. IN ORDER to be entitled to a 15-C (C) deferment a student must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction leading to a regular university degree. A full-time course of instruction is a minimum of 12-quarter hours a term. This 15-C (C) deferment is not automatically granted.

The Registrar's Office will certify full-time attendance letters only upon the request of the student or his selective service board. This deferment classification can be granted only once and is terminated at the end of the student's first academic year after the letter has been sent. If a student fails to pursue, satisfactorily, a full-time program while

Education Group Makes Award To Study Abroad

A brochure listing nearly 200 fellowship opportunities for American students to study abroad during the 1953-54 academic year was issued this week by the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th St., New York City.

The awards, which are largely for graduate study, are offered to American students by private organizations and by foreign governments and universities. Most of the awards are for study in European and Latin American universities. Grants are also available, however, at the University of Ceylon and at the University of Thailand.

IN ANNOUNCING the opening of the competition for study abroad, the Institute of International Education emphasized the fact that although a good knowledge of the language of the country is a prerequisite, the awards are not limited to the study of languages and literature. Suggested fields of study in the sciences, the humanities, and the social sciences are given with the listing of grants.

General eligibility requirements for the majority of the grants are: (1) U. S. citizenship; (2) a Bachelor's degree; (3) a good academic record; (4) a good knowledge of the language of the country of study. The closing date for applications for grants averages lead time of the French government is February 1 for most of the other grants the closing date is March 1.

THE PAMPHLET, entitled "Fellowship Opportunities for American Students Studying Abroad 1953-54," may be obtained from the Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York 21, New York.

The Institute of International Education is a private, non-profit organization which administers international scholarships and fellowships for many private and governmental agencies.

SIU Employment Office to Have Vacation Jobs

"Would you like to spend your summer vacation near home, or in Michigan, the Wisconsin lake region, or perhaps, in California?" asks Mrs. Alice Reiter, director of student employment at Southern.

She has found an answer to the student's question of what to do with his summer vacation, and she has done it without turning travel agent. Mrs. Reiter suggests that students combine vacationing in a resort region with work.

Right now she has requests from many resort or camp directors for student employment during the summer months. The jobs are varied—waiters, waitresses, drivers, recreation directors. Many positions are open, both for the experienced and the novice.

Now is the time to start investigating the possibilities for summer employment. Mrs. Reiter emphasizes finding the right job for your several interests, and then there will be various other arrangements.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., will be host to the national tournament, February 5 to 9. The tournament is sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity. Southern will be limited to two teams in debate and one entry in extemporaneous speaking, oratory, and discussion.

Between now and national, however, Southern's squad has four more tournaments scheduled to which to gear their cases in shape for the big trial.

Four teams will go to Eastern Iowa for a tournament Feb. 6 to 7. Four teams will attend the Purdue-Norfolk tournament at Lafayette, Ind., that week-end.

Two teams are scheduled to go to DePaul university, Greencastle, Ind., Feb. 20 and 21.

Herrick Receives Appointment Staff Adds Member to Forestry Research Center

Appointment of David E. Herrick, 32, native of Wapella, Iowa, to the forestry research staff of the Carbondale Research Center, Central States Forest Experiment station, was announced today by Richard Lane, forester in charge of the center which is on the SIU campus.

HERRICK's duties, Lane says, will be to organize the research phases of a proposed forest utilization pilot plant to be located at Southern as a cooperative project of the University and the Forest Service.

The pilot plant for which Congress appropriated $35,000 to the Forest Service, is designed to benefit the forestry industry of Southern Illinois and nearby regions through research, demonstration, and worker training programs.

UNDER the cooperative agreement the Forest Service will prepare and conduct research programs. The University will provide a pilot plant building, office space, and conduct the worker-training program.

The educational and occupational training of Herrick has been in forestry research, wood utilization, and forestry pilot plants. He received a bachelor's degree in forestry from Iowa State College, Ames, in 1947, and expects his master's degree in 1953.

Job Positions Brighten For College Graduates

Job opportunities continue to brighten for the college graduate, according to Roy B. Brant, placement director for Southern.

A shortage of well trained elementary teachers continues and the shortage is spreading into more subjects matter fields in the secondary schools, Brant says in his annual report.

An increasing demand for college graduates in non-teaching fields is noted, also, especially in accounting, chemistry, business, drafting, physics, merchandising, and sales.

ON THE BASIS of job openings for teachers, Southern's Placement Service has received more calls for first grade teachers than for any other grade level. Requests for second grade teachers rank second.

Surveys indicate that the need for elementary teachers will continue for several years, Brant says.

The year's beginning salary for elementary teachers, according to 53,023, this year outstripped the average beginning salary of secondary school teachers — $2,886.

Beginning salaries for college men and women in business and industry will be rising. The base for figuring averages in these fields is not as broad as that in the teaching field at Southern because of fewer job requests, Brant released the following figures for the Placement Service from Oct. 1, 1951, to Sept. 30, 1952.

IN THE secondary education field Southern's Placement Service has a shortage of teachers for teaching positions in home economics, girls' physical education, music, art, physical and biological science combinations, industrial education, and commercial subjects.

OF 206 graduates in the College of Education at SIU last year, 194 accepted teaching positions. 26 took work in business and industry because salary offers were better than in teaching. 33 continued in graduate work.

LISTING of job opportunities for women is on the upgrade in business and industry, particularly in training programs, Brant reports. Fields in which calls for college women are most numerous are accounting, welfare, and accounting.

IN the education field, the Placement Service had 4,002 teaching and 119 administrative vacancies held during the year. A total of 308 teachers were placed, most of them in Southern Illinois counties including Williamson, 34; Jackson, 26; Madison, 22, and Franklin, 18.

Teachers were placed in 56 counties of Illinois, 11 other states, and Hawaii.

OF THE 513 SIU graduates of 1952 who entered with the Placement Service, 504 were recommended from one to 195 times. The average number of recommendations was 33 per candidate. Of Southern's 550 graduates, only 17 failed to find other employment.

Schools in Pakistan to Use Text Written by University Professor

Seventh and eighth graders in the schools of the Karachi Federal Area, Pakistan, within a year will be using a geography textbook written by a member of Southern's geography department.

Dr. Robert A. Harper, geography teacher at Southern since September, 1950, completed writing a textbook in cultural geography of Europe and North America last month, and has been assigned the authorship of another textbook on economic geography for completion by spring.

The work, says Harper, is part of a curriculum improvement effort by the Pakistan ministry of Education for the secondary schools of Karachi area. Harper's writing is part of a larger program providing for the publication of a series of nine new textbooks in history and geography through an American publishing firm. Dr. Clarence Woodrow Sorenson of the Illinois State Normal University is geographic department, Normal, who has returned from Pakistan after serving nearly a year as advisor to the country's ministry of education, is assigning, directing, and assisting in writing the textbooks.

The Karachi program is an effort to make textbooks more available at lower cost to the school children. For the first time these books will be enriched with pictures and will be supplied through the schools.

Two Pakistani geographers, five historians, seven translators, and editors of Pakistan are assisting in the work. Original manuscripts are written in English. Before final printing they are translated into Urdu, native tongue of the Karachi area.
