HAPPY NEW YEAR—Thursday was cool, but it was sunny and early afternoon produced these outdoor types at the University Center patio.

Up to that time, raking leaves instead of snow shoveling was the order of the day on campus.

Trailer Courts May Be Okayed As 'Accepted Living Centers'

By Mike Nauer

Following the revision of the student housing policies, the administration is exploring the possibility of classifying trailer courts as "Accepted Living Centers."

The approval of trailer courts, however, will depend on whether they meet the specifications outlined by the state of Illinois, the city and the University.

In the past, trailer courts were not classified as accepted living centers because of certain management and supervision problems, and health and sanitation inadequacies.

Buses Scheduled Monday for Game With Evansville

Buses to the Evansville-SIU basketball game at Evansville are being sponsored by the recreation committee of the Activities Programming Board.

Students, faculty and staff may purchase tickets in the Student Activities Office before 3 p.m. Monday. Cost will be $2.50 for both game ticket and bus fare, or 75 cents for bus trip only.

Buses will leave at 4:30 p.m. Monday from in front of the University Center.

Gus Bode

Gus says just as soon as the University candidates take over the City Council Carbondale will have supervised housing for everyone.

The furor that resulted among students as a result of the tightening of housing regulations at the beginning of the fall quarter prompted officials to reconsider the possibility of approving trailer courts.

Students contended that trailers afforded less expensive and more private living conditions than they could receive at a dormitory.

To date, 11 trailer courts have applied for classification as accepted living centers.

So far, only Chuck Glover's Country Estates, situated a half mile south on the Giant City blattop, has received a conditional approval.

The approval of Country Estates, according to Ralph W. Ruffner, vice president for student and area services, is a pilot project. If it is successful, Ruffner said, more trailer courts may be approved if they meet minimum specifications.

Country Estates may receive the final approval within the next two weeks, and will rent only to single, male undergraduate students.

Commenting on the future of trailer courts as approved housing, Ruffner said, "I think it makes sense. It is an economical form of housing and if they meet all of our standards they should work."

Others in the community are looking on the pending approval with some apprehension.

4 Commencement Dates Announced

The spring and summer commencement dates for the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses were announced Thursday by Roland Keene, assistant to the president.

Spring quarter commencements will be Friday, June 9, in Edwardsville and Saturday, June 10, in Carbondale.

Summer quarter commencements will be Friday, Sept. 1, in Edwardsville and Saturday, Sept. 2, in Carbondale.

The manager of one of the large private dormitories said he hoped the new considerations would not give trailer court owners an unfair advantage.

"We don't want to have a monopoly on undergraduate housing, but by the same token, we would like to see them (trailer courts) be forced to meet the same standards and criteria that we do," James Johnston, manager of University City dormitories, said.

An interesting sidelight in the reconsideration of trailer living is that approval is not predicated on the court's distance from campus. In fact, Country Estates lies outside the old two-mile limit, which governed student ownership of vehicles.

Dennis E. Balgeman, an assistant in the Off-Campus Housing Office, said the evaluation of a unit is made solely upon its merits, and not upon its geographic location.

If a trailer court is classified as an accepted living center, then students can move directly into it without petitioning for approval as was the case with students wanting to live in unapproved housing last quarter.

Morris Sets Trip To Latin America

President and Mrs. Delyte W. Morris will leave for South America Jan. 18 for a 16-day trip during which time Morris will meet with officials of Ecuador and Peru concerning the Agency for International Development program. Morris will study the possibility of SIU's participating in the program in these two countries.

On the return trip, Mr. and Mrs. Morris will stop at Aruba, a Netherlands possession off the coast of Venezuela. A university is being created on the small island, and President Morris will assist in its founding.

The president and his wife are expected to return to Carbondale on Feb. 3.

Merchants Protest College Bookstore

The Illinois Retail Merchants Association has warned that it may support legislation regulating state university bookstores following disclosure of what it says are policies for such a facility on the Edwardsville campus of SIU.

Joseph T. Meek, president of the association, said in the organization's newsletter that the Edwardsville book store "must" do around $500,000 annually to make enough profit to help pay off the 1962 revenue bonds which built what once was considered a student service and now threatens to become "a Frankenstein monster to those Southern Illinois retailers who paid taxes to build the school and dug up their full share of the $230,000 to bring the 'store' into the area."

Meek said $230,000 was solicited from the merchants and others to help bring the branch campus to the area, through local provision of the site for the campus.

Meek said the store intends to open about March 1 with 10,000 square feet of floor space and lines of men's and women's clothing, sporting goods, jewelry "and other items which have no bearing on the educational pursuits of students and faculty."

Meek said such bookstores should be subject to the same controls and taxes as private retail merchants or should be regulated so that they could sell a limited line of merchandise "clearly needed to carry out the educational program," sell lines of merchandise not available in retail stores and sell only to students and parents and guests of students, not to the general public.

"The 'store' and its new 'student headquarters' (at Edwardsville) cost some $5,500,000 raised in 1962 by revenue bonds. The revenues are to be assured, in major part, by a 'retail store' which must do around $500,000 annually and more," Meek said.

NEW SIGN—Pedestrians and motorists using Campus Drive have been introduced to this new type of crosswalk sign. The "yield" is in the triangular shape of that signal, with "to pedestrians" added underneath.

Letter

SIU's Cycle Rules Drawn Too Hastily

To the Editor:

We would like to comment on an article published in the Dec. 14 issue of the Daily Egyptian.

The article stated that during the 1950s Illinois law regarding motorcycles was that those under certain horsepower rating were not considered motor vehicles and did not have to be registered.

We have been in the motorcycle business since 1938, and during this time any motorized vehicle under five horsepower did not require the driver to have an operator's license. This law was in effect for less than a year, when the legislature saw fit to repeal it.

It seems that the Board of Trustees ignored motorcycles when the vehicle regulations were passed in 1956 because the board did not consider them motorized vehicles and did not realize their potential.

Dr. Walter Scott is quoted as saying that motorcycle accidents averaged 25 per week last year. That means a total of 1,300 during the year, or 2/3 of the motorcycle owners registered with the University were involved in accidents last year!

From our 28 years' experience in the industry, we have found that statistics can be slanted to prove anything the statisticians desire. In another report in the same paper it was stated that four students were killed in motorcycle accidents during 1965-1966, including a coed killed in Peoria. How about counting all students killed in automobiles in other cities too?

Noise has been cited as another reason for the ban on motorcycles. As most people know, motorcycles do not have to be noisy, although their sound is different than that of automobiles to which everyone has seemingly become adjusted. We would like to point out that the motorcycle dealers who are still in business in this city have tried to cooperate with the University in supporting proper exhaust systems, and refuse to work on improperly muffled machines. One dealer even advertised this policy in the Daily Egyptian.

The city of Carbondale accepted the presence of motorcycles and spent time and money in marking parking lots, and providing special lots for motorcycles. One motorcycle company provided signs at the four entrances to Carbondale, advising motorists of the congested area ahead. These were installed in cooperation with the City Council.

To cure a headache do we try to find a remedy, or do we just chop off the head as a final solution?

voice little complaint, also usually have less money to spend than do the housewives or faculty members who live in Carbondale year around.

Gasoline costs three or four cents more in Carbondale than in Herrin only 16 miles away. It is too much of an inconvenience for the buyer to go to Herrin in order to save 60 cents each time he fills his tank. In addition the cost of traveling that distance would probably equal the amount saved.

Local clothing stores catering to college men and women charge more for their clothes than the same brand would cost the student in his home town. Several stores in Murphysboro, Herrin and Marion sell the same brand of clothes at cheaper prices.

The trick to getting the increased profits from the students lies in the students' lack of mobility.

For students to combat the lack of competition among Carbondale merchants they need some way of getting to the surrounding area to buy the lower priced goods. But, again, travel costs might eat up what he would save.

Many students have eaten the hamburgers in local shops because they offer a reasonable meal for a reasonable price. This fall, of the three shops in the city the one nearest the University raised the price of a hamburger from the 15 cents, which the others charge, to 17 cents, on the grounds that the sandwich offered is of better quality. The only apparent improvement is that it now equals the quality of the ones sold on the edge of town for 15 cents.

Presently Carbondale has no facility to regulate fair business practices. The argument for the higher prices is that the property in Carbondale along with the cost of building and the cost of wages warrant the higher cost of living.

This argument says that there is no basis for an increased cost of living in Carbondale when only a few short miles away in non-university towns the cost of living is decidedly cheaper.

The Carbondale Chamber of Commerce is drawing up a code of fair business practices for each member to sign and follow. This then entitles the merchant to display a plaque saying that he will follow that code.

The only way in which students could bring about lower prices in Carbondale would be to go to the effort of shopping outside of the city. The creation of competition for the local merchants would have to affect prices within the city.

Carbondale Landlord Outlives Usefulness

Amid a cloud of University construction, renovation, and land acquisition, the Carbondale landlord is slipping farther and farther into the background.

He is now seeing the beginning of the end of his mass usefulness.

Only a few years ago SIU administration, its tail between its legs, unable to face the mushrooming student population, not only encouraged, but pleaded for, area business firms and well-heeled individuals to provide space off-campus to house the student overflow.

The response was overwhelming. Duty-minded and profit-minded citizens from lawyers to shop owners joined the rush to buy old houses in the area. Soon after followed the trailer binge, which gleaned the area for liveable trailers and arranged them in courts for student use.

For several years, everyone was happy. The University was happy because it was rid of a big headache. Landlords were happy because they were really raking it in. Students were happy because they could now prove to the world that they had frontier stamina and independence they had bragged about for so long.

This triple alliance lasted until the University began its building expansion program.

Regulations for living off campus began to tighten, and before long students and landlords wondered what hit them.

While landlords watched their pocketbooks, and temporarily took the housing burden off the University, the University took advantage of the diversion to build, build, build.

Fall quarter 1966 saw the most blatant indication that the Carbondale landlord was being shown the door. Students wishing to live off campus, even if eligible under the now-defunct old regulations, had to undergo a trial by fire to get their wish.

Within the past week, SIU has leased a Carbondale factory for warehouse and office space, has bought a number of once privately owned dormitories for offices.

It has, in the past year and a half, begun construction on several University housing areas on or near campus. It has just this year opened at least parts of new buildings that offer much office and classroom space.

If University expansion continues at its present rate, it will not be long before it will have caught up with itself and have at least satisfactory room for student and faculty living and working.

Then the era of the landlordly tycoons will meet an abrupt and unglorified end.

Publish-or-Perish Philosophy Can Mean Publish and Perish

Nearly everyone realizes that the appointment and promotion of American professors depends more on their scholarly productivity than on their teaching. "Publish or perish" is a well-known slogan. But even the professors themselves feel a need for fresh information about academic publishing—information such as a recent issue of PMLA (Publications of the Modern Language Association of America) provides.

Return of 166 questionnaires by academic journals concerned with language and literature provided the facts for three pages of tables and for some interesting conclusions based on figures and comments supplied by scores of editors. A characteristic periodical of this sort publishes four issues a year, has a print order of 1,000 to 2,000 copies.

Elapsed time between submission of an acceptable manuscript and its publication is likely to be more than a year, and books may be reviewed as much as two or three years after their publication. This is a profile of low-voltage publishing, yet a great deal of highly educated time and talent is devoted to writing and editing these little-read periodicals.

Thru teaching, how can a professor hope to make a reputation away from his own campus? But officials who can make academic appointments can read lists of scholarly articles published in journals such as the 166 who reported their vital statistics to the Modern Language Association. What these officials read are lists, too, not the articles listed. The lists are read with a ruler rather than with informed judgment on the value of the contribution the lists represent.

Even the editors who read the monographs submitted to academic journals do not feel that they have to leave much valuable material unpublished. "Only three of the editors indicated that they were forced to reject articles they would like to publish because there was simply no room for them," PMLA reports. "There is apparently a dearth of well-written articles on topics that are not narrowly specialized."

—Chicago Tribune.

Jack Ruby's Death Ends Unhappy Tale

Jack Ruby was like a character out of nineteenth century Russian fiction. Gogol or Dostoevski would have found comprehensible this strange, unhappy, obsessed man. In the denouement of a historic national tragedy, he suddenly stepped into the glare of the television lights and fatally wounded the suspected assassin.

Nothing in his prior life seemed to have prepared him for any significant role. He had lived a rather mean and shadowy existence in the back streets of Chicago and Dallas. He was an unsuccessful promoter, a small-time nightclub operator, a vaguely disreputable figure known to the police. He was a nobody. But charged up by the emotional atmosphere of those November days, Ruby acted upon his lurking impulse to violence.

Was he momentarily a madman or a conspirator? Almost everything that is known of him suggests that he was temporarily insane when he killed Lee Harvey Oswald. Through his last conscious moments Ruby insisted that he acted alone. Those who believe otherwise most likely would not have learned additional information even if he had lived to stand trial a second time. The stress of his involvement apparently clouded his mind.

Youth Too Often Inclined to See Despair Bad Grades, Lost Love Not Disastrous

By Jenkin Lloyd Jones

A few days ago the 22-year-old son of a prosperous California industrialist ended his life with a hunting rifle. He left a frightened, bitter, despairing note. His girl was breaking up with him. His college grades were poor. He had had a notice from the draft board.

Here was a young man—not a stupid or psychotic young man—who had everything except a sense of proportion. He really believed that his life was in the sere and yellow leaf, that all ahead was blackness. He had paused beneath a tiny waterfall, and he thought he was caught in perpetual rain.

There is something sadly romantic about a youth who chooses to end a life hardly begun. At each school examination time in Japan the local newspapers dwell upon the young people who hurl themselves off cliffs, from ferryboats or in front of trains. We weep for Romeo and Juliet. It is melancholy to reflect what one square meal and 10 shillings of encouragement might have done for literature if given in time to Thomas Chatterton.

America is a youth-oriented society. We make a fetish of youthfulness. We spend billions on cosmetics to bring synthetic color to aged cheeks, on face-lifts, wigs and dyes to deny the march of years. In a way, this helps. Many a sales manager can testify that a new toupee can raise both the effectiveness and morale of a balding, embarrassed salesman. To look younger is to feel younger, and decrepitude is thus delayed.

But in all our adoration of youth those who have passed into middle age or youth often forget that youth is really not a halcyon time. To many sensitive youngsters it can be hell. Mounds can look like mountains, ditches like chasms. Youth has no blessing of perspective. It hasn't been over the road.

We adults, sometimes, unwittingly add to the agony. Take the matter of disappointed love. Who peddles the "Only Girl in the World" bosh? Tin Pan Alley. Who hurls our youngsters into desperate romantic ideas before they can develop a sense of humor? Hollywood. Who tells them that marriages are made in Heaven? The preachers.

It was a wise, if cynical, male who remarked that a woman is like a bus. If you miss one there'll be another along in a few minutes. Youth doesn't know this. And so when the "only girl" or "only boy" takes off, the sun goes down, the lights go out and winter seems to creep across the land. In extreme cases the path of despair leads to Lover's Leap, and what should have been a mosquito bite turns into the sting of an asp.

The despondent California lad was having grade trouble. It is better to be concerned about grades than indifferent to them. A certain amount of honest worry is the key to success. But only a certain amount. If Winston Churchill had shot himself because he repeatedly flunked English he would have deprived the English language of a richness that none of his professors could have bestowed.

College competition in the best schools is tough. It is good that it is tough, for true excellence doesn't come easily. But when a kid shows signs of fever, someone should explain that F stands for only one kind of failure. The youngster who can't clear a five-foot high jump may yet run a four-minute mile.

Nothing could be more idiotic than to shoot oneself because the draft board beckons. The wonderful thing about military duty is that the personnel files, the commanding officers and the selection boards generally don't give a hoot what your skin color is or what side of the tracks you lived on or what your old man earns. They want to know what you can do.

This works two ways. The low-on-the-totem-pole kid, who has had it tough, but who is blessed with willingness and native ability finds doors opening in front of him in marvelous fashion. And many a silver-spoon boy, who didn't think he could make it without papa's push, discovers hidden talents and powers. He learns to his astonishment and delight that he can do it on his own. So the draft board is no disaster.

As we grow older we often forget the blessing of the years. It is sad, of course, to go to funerals more frequently, and to reflect that we know the corpses better as each year passes. Youth keeps looking more golden all the time.

But we have made some great discoveries. We have found that most troubles never happen, that only a few defeats are really cataclysmic. We can't recall the scores of games lost and won which once seemed more important than all the wars. We do not delude ourselves that complicated problems have simple answers, and thus are saved the fever of frustration and the desperate dedication to dubious causes. We have a calmness Youth cannot feel.

We are also distressingly forgetful. We can't even remember the names of some of the faithless lovers who drove us to the brink of suicide.

Housing Sales Not Untouchable, Court Declares

By Robert M. Hutchins

If Congress were to pass a law forbidding racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing, would it be constitutional?

The answer turns on the interpretation of Section 5 of the 14th Amendment: "Congress shall have power to enforce the provisions of this article by appropriate legislation."

The meaning the Supreme Court gave this section when it first came before it, in 1883, denied the power of Congress to legislate against individuals. The amendment was held to apply only to the actions of states. Even to them, Congress was limited to annulling their legislation. It could not impose affirmative obligations on them. It could not substitute its own schemes of civil and political justice for state plans that met the requirements of the Constitution.

But at the last term the court issued an open invitation to Congress to change any set of conditions that in its judgment contributed to the limitation of rights guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

There is now no question that Congress may constitutionally intervene, not merely to prohibit wrongful state action, but also to effectuate the aim of equality proclaimed in the 14th Amendment.

And six justices, in two concurring opinions, said that the language of the enforcement clause empowered Congress to enact laws punishing all conspiracies—with or without state action—that interfere with 14th Amendment rights.

The court also upheld an act of Congress invalidating the requirement of English literacy for voters in New York on the ground that Congress could have thought it deprived Puerto Rican citizens of the equal protection of the laws.

It is important to note that the requirement of literacy in English is not itself repugnant to the Constitution. What led to the declaration of unconstitutionality in this case was the possible effect of the test on a group of citizens. The court said Congress might well have thought that refusing Puerto Ricans the right to vote might lead to depriving them of public services by denying them the political power that the suffrage carries with it.

These recent cases suggest that the Supreme Court will sustain an act of Congress prohibiting racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing. The absence of state action, the fact that refusal to sell or rent to Negroes is a purely private determination, would not exonerate those guilty of discrimination.

An act of Congress forbidding such discrimination would be upheld on the ground that a Negro citizen has the same right to buy and sell property as a white man and that private persons may be punished for interfering with the exercise of that right.

And if the unconstitutional denial of public services may follow from the application of a literacy test that is in the abstract constitutional, what are we to say of the denial of public services that follows from segregated housing?

It is in the ordinary case constitutional for a man to refuse to sell or rent to another on any ground, or without any ground whatever.

But if the practice of the community forces a whole race into the ghetto, with all the deprivation of public services that such confinement entails, Congress may constitutionally say that the actions of private persons have prevented the state from granting its Negro citizens the equal protection of the laws.

'Greeps' Engulf Human Vice; World Unites to Oppose Threat

By Arthur Hoppe

Herewith is another chapter of that standard, unpublished, reference work, "A History of the World, 1950-1999." The title of this chapter, "How the Greeps Saved Mankind."

All looked hopeless. The Arabs were about to attack the Jews, the Catholics the Communists, the Asians the Occidentals, the Africans the Colonialists and in America nobody much liked anybody.

It was at this critical point in human history that Dr. Schweitzer T. Pettibone, the universally respected anthropologist, discovered the Green People — or, as they came to be sniggeringly called, "The Greeps."

"Greeps," wrote Dr. Pettibone in his historic monograph, "have green skin, orange hair, pointy noses, beady eyes and slaverling lips. They come in two sizes: too short and too tall. And they smell bad."

"While their brains are undeniably smaller than ours, they are fiendishly clever. And though they are lazy, shiftless and immoral, they are driven by greed to work night and day at cheating their competitors and are thus responsible for all business failures throughout the world."

"They have no pride in themselves nor sense of family responsibility, yet they are exceedingly clannish. Partly this is due to their religion, which secretly seeks to take over all governments, and partly to their political system, which they boast will bury us."

"Born cowards, they will fight at the drop of a hat, but only with knives or other unfair weapons. They are also dirty, stupid, illiterate, incredibly poor, smoke opium, dress flashily, think life is cheap and drive big cars. Their only method of sexual expression is rape and their only form of greeting is: 'I want to marry your sister.'"

"On the plus side, they do have a natural sense of obsequiousness and when treated as equals by a liberal, they will lick his shoes."

The discovery caused a world-wide sensation. In America, 50 States passed laws relegating Greeps to the back of the bus, the balconies of theaters and separate but unequal schools. Country clubs added by-laws excluding Greeps, no real estate deed was signed without an anti-Greep covenant and the Christian Anti-Greep Crusade made $10 million in its first year.

"Don't eat like a Greep," children were told. And Greeps were blamed for everything from inducing elm blight to stealing golf balls driven down the middle of the fairway.

Arabs and Jews united to defend the Holy Land from Greeps. Catholics and Communists formed a Popular Anti-Greep Front. And Red China joined the newly-renamed United Nations Against Greeps.

At last the human race entered the golden age of tolerance, equality and brotherhood—all men happy, secure and bound to each other in their mutual superiority to the lowly Greeps.

So it was that Dr. Pettibone died, revered by all as the founder of anti-Greepism.

"Look here, Doctor," a suspicious young reporter asked him on his deathbed. "How come nobody's ever seen a Greep? I think you invented them."

Dr. Pettibone raised himself on one elbow in righteous indignation. "I no more invented Greeps," he said firmly, "than the human race invented Niggers, Wops, Kikes, Chinks or Mackerel Snappers."

And all fair minded historians agree that is absolutely true.

Trailer Courts May Get OK As 'Accepted Living Centers'

Ruffner declined to comment on the possible conflict with motor vehicle regulations, but said that the question will be included in a larger study now being conducted by the Traffic and Safety Committee.

The review of trailer courts is part of a much larger study and effort to bring all undergraduate housing into the sphere of living centers that will be monitored and controlled by the University, according to Balgeman.

He said the University hopes someday to have all SIU students, undergraduate, graduate and married, living in some form of approved housing.

Fellowship Competition

Open to SIU Faculty

SIU faculty members have been notified by the Committee on International Exchange of persons that the closing date of competition for the 1967-68 SEATO research fellowships is Feb. 1.

Application forms are available from: Committee on International Exchange of Persons, Conference Board of Associated Research Councils, 2101 Constitution Ave., Washington, D.C. 20418.

Foreign Student Workshop Slated

Foreign students are invited to the International Students' Workshop to be held from 1:30 to 5 p.m. Saturday in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics Building.

The workshop, sponsored by the International Student Center, will review information and problems of importance to foreign students. Included in the session will be information on health service and motor vehicle facilities.

Other types of housing such as apartment groups, which have been classified as unapproved in the past, are now under consideration. A number of them have received "conditional approvals."

Students may now move into units that have conditional approvals, but must petition the Housing Office before doing so. The procedure is similar to that in the past for unapproved housing.

The difference is that the student cannot be forced by the landlord to live out his contract if the University ultimately rejects the housing unit's classification.

Early next week the Housing Office hopes to have a complete list of accepted living centers and those with conditional approval available to students.

Election Participants

League Officers Resign

Several officers of the League of Women Voters have resigned because of their proposed active roles in the forthcoming municipal election in Carbondale.

They include Mrs. Randall Nelson, president; Mrs. George McClure, second vice-president; Mrs. Ralph Casey, voters service chairman; and Mrs. Howard Webb, bulletin chairman.

"These people will be actively supporting candidates in the coming election," a league announcement said.

"Mrs. Nelson's husband is a candidate for the City Council. Since the league is a non-partisan organization and does not support any candidate, it would not be proper for Mrs.

Nelson to remain in her position as president. Thus, the neutrality of the league will be maintained."

Mrs. Sanford Elwitt will assume the presidency of the league, and Mrs. William Gerler, first vice-president.

U.S. Men in Vietnam Increased to 389,000

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The buildup of American forces in Vietnam had 389,000 servicemen on the rolls at the yearend, the U.S. Command disclosed Thursday. There was a net increase of 13,000 last week, a week that saw 128 killed in action.

Pentagon figures showed 5,008 Americans were killed and 30,093 wounded in 1966, a year of steadily increasing U.S. involvement, and totals for the war rose to 6,664 killed and 37,738 wounded.

The roll of the dead actually numbers 8,175. Disease, accidents and other nonhostile cases have claimed the lives of 1,511 Americans.

U.S. air operations were busy as Hanoi's envoy in Paris, Mai Van Bo, demanded a definite, prompt and unconditional halt to the bombing of North Vietnam as the only way to create a situation favorable to a search for a settlement of the war.

American Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 116 multiplane missions above the border Wednesday and loosed 4.8 million psychological warfare leaflets along with explosives. Navy flyers reported they destroyed or damaged 77 North Vietnamese supply barges and junks, boosting their two-day score of such water craft to 188.

Against the claims of North Vietnamese that they shot down three planes, U.S. briefing officers said two were lost. These were a single-seat A4 Skyhawk and a two-seat F4 Phantom, downed over the Gulf of Tonkin. A helicopter from the carrier Bennington rescued all three crewmen.

American authorities have now acknowledged the loss of 453 planes and four helicopters in the campaign to cut supply lines and erase other military targets in the north. B52 jets from Guam bombed

Speck Trial Judge Replacement Sought

PEORIA (AP) — Richard F. Speck's lawyer said he will seek today to have Judge Herbert C. Paschen replaced as the presiding judge at the trial of Speck on charges of murdering eight student nurses.

Gerald W. Getty, public defender representing Speck, said he would make a formal motion for the substitution of judges later today. He said he would not discuss the motion until after it has been presented to Judge Paschen.

The chief justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, Ray Klingbiel, designated Judge Paschen to preside at Speck's trial to be held in Peoria starting in February.

Getty had the trail transferred out of Cook County Chicago on the ground that Speck, 25, could not receive a fair trial in the county where the mass killings took place July 14, 1966.

a suspected Communist troop concentration 60 miles south of Da Nang early Thursday in another phase of the air operations. Lighter American and Vietnamese combat craft flew 366 sorties—single combat flights—against enemy troops and holdings in South Vietnam in the 24 hours up to dawn.

Democrats Criticize Handling Of State Credit Reform Bills

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Democrats criticized the handling of the Illinois Senate Republican majority's credit reform bills Thursday and one influential Republican said they were too strong.

The first public reaction to the bills came during a Senate Committee of the Whole hearing of proponents. Opponents will be heard Feb. 1.

Sen. Arthur Gottschalk, R-Park Forest, chief sponsor of the bills, said they were intended to benefit "the poor and unwary consumer."

The bills include regulation of financing agents not now subject to government inspection, including those infiltrated by gangsters; grants of cooling off periods to consumers who buy on installment; and requirements that advertising of finance charges must state dollars of interest per $100 of loan.

LePelley, Christian Science Monitor

Sen. Thomas McGlooin of Chicago, Democratic minority leader, said the bills were the same ones passed by the Democratic majority in the House in 1965 and defeated in the Senate.

McGlooin objected to the stated intention of Sen. W. Russell Arrington of Evans-ton, Republican, to hold the two Committee of the Whole hearings and then send the bills to committee.

McGlooin said Republicans, who hold a 38-20 majority, could decide disposition of the bills in a caucus because the Democrats already favored them in principle.

Man's Largest Atom Smasher To Be Housed at Weston, Ill.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A delegation of local officials from Du Page and Kane counties, Illinois, pledged cooperation with Atomic Energy Commission officials Thursday in building the world's largest atom smasher at Weston, Ill.

The delegation included supervisors of both counties, the mayors of Weston and other nearby communities, state senators and representatives and three members of Congress.

Rep. Melvin Price, D-Ill., who participated in the meeting, said it was designed to give the local officials information on the proposed $365 million, 200 billion electron accelerator and the type of problems in site development and construction in which local government will be involved.

Weston, in Du Page County, 30 miles Southwest of Chicago's O'Hare Airport, was selected by the commission Dec. 16, as the site for the proposed nuclear research plant after a study of 126 site proposals.

Congress Investigation To Hit Dodd, Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 90th Congress opening Tuesday may turn its investigating guns inward soon after it meets, as well as aiming at such diverse targets as electronic "bugging" and the Vietnam war.

The Senate's bipartisan Ethics Committee plans a second round of hearings in its investigation of misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat, who has expressed confidence he will be vindicated when all the evidence is in.

In the House, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., has announced he will ask for an investigation of whether Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, New York Democrat and chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, should be permitted to take his seat in the new Congress.

Powell has been sentenced in New York to a year and 60 days in jail for contempt of court growing out of his non-payment of a $164,000 libel judgment against him. He recently has been staying in the Bahamas.

This week the House Administration Committee ordered Powell's wife removed from her $20,578 job on his payroll and reported widespread irregularities in the handling of his committee's travel funds.

The Ethics Committee has issued over 80 subpoenas for its forthcoming hearings on charges that Dodd diverted campaign funds to his own use, accepted improper gifts, and was paid by both the Senate and private sources for travel.

Its initial hearings last summer dealt with Dodd's relations with Chicago public relations man Julius Klein, a registered agent for West German business interests.

The committee has set no date for taking testimony in the second phase of its inquiry, except to say that hearings would be held after Congress convenes.

A potentially explosive investigation taking shape involves a dispute between Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover over who authorized electronic eavesdropping, or bugging, that has placed an untold number of Justice Department prosecutions in jeopardy.

Subcommittee aides said hearings will be held to explore FBI bugging and wiretapping practices.

Junior College Teachers Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Two American Federation of Teachers units Thursday night authorized strikes against the city's public schools and junior colleges.

The junior college walk-out was scheduled for midnight.

The strike of teachers at Chicago's elementary and high schools was set for Monday morning. Chicago Teachers Union members voted by acclamation to reject a Board of Education offer.

Norman G. Swenson, president of Local 1600, Cook County College Teachers Union, authorized some 500 junior college teachers to strike after a 4 1/2 hour negotiating session with the Junior College Board resulted in a stalemate.

A junior college strike at the system's eight campuses would affect some 36,000 students.

Swenson said the college offered to levy a quarter-cent of additional taxes to raise salaries.

Douglas Aide Charges

Percy Used Backlash

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles H. Percy has been accused of exploiting the white backlash to defeat Sen. Paul Douglas.

The charge that Percy, Republican senator-elect, played both ends of the open occupancy issue in his successful campaign was made by Richard C. Wade, a professor of American history at the University of Chicago. Wade was a campaign aide to Sen. Douglas.

2 Instructors to Participate in Exchange

Two faculty members in English will be teaching at Winston-Salem (N.C.) State College starting this month under the faculty-student exchange program between Winston-Salem and SIU.

They are Kenneth Hopkins, professor of English, and Edna Travis, instructor of English, who will start the new semester at Winston-Salem on Jan. 21.

Three students are enrolled in the exchange for the 1966-67 school year. They are Ruth Riley, Murphysboro; Ann Funderburk, Edinburg; and David Baggott, Cobden.

Miss Riley is secretary of the Student National Education Association chapter, is treasurer of the Drama Guild, is a senior cheerleader, and holds membership in the Science Club, Physical Education Club, and the Wesley Foundation.

"The kids here really believe in keeping us busy, but I am enjoying every minute of it," she wrote.

Miss Funderburk serves as secretary of the Drama Guild and as reporter for the college newspaper, sings in the college choir, and is active in the Student National Education Association and the Wesley Foundation.

Baggott reported he already he participated in many social activities such as homecoming and junior class affairs.

"As for the school itself," Baggott said, "I don't see how anyone could ask for anything more. Everyone here is as friendly as can be."

Under the program, for which the federal government granted $150,000 for exchanges between students, faculty members, and administrators in the two schools, undergraduates have their board, room, tuition, fees and travel for three round-trip journeys paid during the period Sept. 10, 1966, to May 28, 1967. Under the program faculty members, in addition to full salary, receive a dislocation allowance of up to $500 per semester.

In addition to the student and faculty exchange, year-long teaching fellowships in a number of areas of study are also available. Graduate students selected will teach on an intern basis and receive a grant of $6,500 plus $400 for each dependent. Candidates must have their master's degrees and preferably, though not essential, be at or near the dissertation stage in doctoral studies.

Exchange undergraduates from Winston-Salem doing their work at SIU during the current nine-month year are Sandra Marie Jenkins, Ruby Faye McCallum, Mary Ruth Session, Carol Lee Thomas, and Arthur Lee Phillips.

MAURICE OGUR

Ogur Gets $22,700 For Cancer Study

A $22,700 grant has been awarded by the American Cancer Society to Maurice Ogur, professor of microbiology, for continuation of his study of altered yeasts with impaired respiration.

The researcher is chairman of the Department of Microbiology and director of its Biological Research Laboratory.

This is the seventh year that the ACS has provided support for his research. Last year he received the society's special $27,406 Mary Anderson Memorial Grant, much of which has been used to acquire automated equipment to speed his study of enzyme reactions in the yeast cells with faulty "breathing apparatus."

All-Sorority Rush Parties Planned for Jan. 22, 23, 25

Registration for all-sorority winter rush will be held Monday through Friday in Room B of the University Center, according to the Pan-Hellenic Council. Registration fee is $1.

Women students must register at this time to be eligible to attend the formal rush parties Jan. 22, 23 and 25.

To be eligible to pledge a sorority, a student must be at least a second quarter freshman with a 3.2 overall grade average and a 3.2 grade average for the previous quarter.

Transfer students must have a 3.2 overall average in accordance with SIU grade standards.

First term freshman women may pledge only if they were in the upper one-fourth of their high school graduating classes.

All coeds are invited to register and attend the first rush parties regardless of their eligibility to pledge the winter quarter.

Eileen Quigley To Author Book

Eileen E. Quigley, dean of the School of Home Economics, has been awarded a contract by Macmillan Company, publishers, to write a new home economics textbook.

Title of the book is "Orientation in Home Economics for Beginning Students." It is scheduled for 1968 publication.

Dean Quigley, currently on a sabbatical leave from her University duties to travel, do research and write, is at present working on the manuscript for the book.

Mrs. Quigley has headed SIU's home economics program since 1948, first as department chairman and since 1957 as dean of the School of Home Economics.

460 Expected At Debate Tourney

More than 460 students and instructors from 50 high schools throughout the state will participate in SIU's fifth annual high school debate tournament here Friday and Saturday.

The event will be climaxed by a championship debate on Saturday afternoon between the two winning teams from preliminary rounds on Friday and Saturday mornings.

The tournament is sponsored by the Department of Speech, Pi Kappa Delta honorary forensic fraternity, and the Division of University Extension.

The first rush meeting will be held at 1 p.m., Jan. 22 in Muckelroy Auditorium of the Agriculture Building. At this meeting questions will be answered and Pan-Hellenic rush rules will be explained.

Rush parties will be held Jan. 23 and 25 from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. The parties on Jan. 25 are by invitation only.

The five sororities on campus are Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Zeta, Sigma Kappa and Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Meade Says Florida Weather Terrific... But

"The weather in Florida was terrific; temperature in the 80's and sunny all the time we were there. Then we had to leave and ran into some trouble," said SIU gymnastics Coach Bill Meade.

Meade returned from the Eastern United States Gymnastics Federation Clinic Thursday afternoon.

As far as the competition is concerned, the Salukis did very well. In the Eastern Clinic Championship, Fred Dennis was a surprising winner in the all-around with a score of 53.40 narrowly beating teammate Rick Tucker's score of 53.20.

Tucker was first in the parallel bars, Dale Hardt was first in the trampoline and Paul Mayer won the long horse. Joe Dupree was second in the trampoline, Dennis tied for second in the rings, Tucker and Dennis tied for second in the high bar, Hardt tied for second in the long horse and Mayer was second in free exercise.

Third place finishers for the Salukis were: Hutch Dvorak, trampoline; Mike Boegler and Larry Weber, side horse.

The Salukis also competed in the annual North-South gymnastics meet which is a part of the clinic. The squads were divided in the Eastern clinic so that both squads would be more evenly matched. The South won the meet over the North team, 188.10-187.60.

Salukis won in four of seven divisions. Mayer won free exercise, Boegler tied for first in the side horse, Hardt won the trampoline and Dennis won in the high bar and the rings.

The Salukis also captured four seconds with Mayer, long horse; Steve Whitlock, free exercise; Dvorak, trampoline; and Tucker, parallel bars.

The Salukis have a week to prepare for Iowa State in the season's first home meet, Jan.

14. Iowa State is expected to have a rugged team and Meade intends to send his Salukis through some rigorous workouts in preparation for the Big Eight team.

Scoring Lead Taken By Providence Guard

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Walker, the agile 6-foot-3 Providence guard, has leaped over 7-foot-1 3/5 Lew Alcindor of UCLA for the individual scoring lead among the nation's major college basketball players.

Walker held a slim 0.03 lead over the Bruins' sophomore center in games through last Saturday according to figures compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau.

"I was well pleased with both clinics over the break. The boys did very well, especially the sophomores whom I will be counting on later on in the season," said Meade.

Wesleyan Retains

Slim AP Poll Lead

The Kentucky Wesleyan Panthers were almost upset by the Evansville Aces and their slim lead in The Associated Press' weekly poll appeared Thursday to be even in further jeopardy.

The Aces, small-college powers in recent seasons, had only a 2-7 record going into Wednesday night's game against Kentucky Wesleyan. Yet, Evansville extended the top-ranked team to the limit before bowing 68-66.

The Panthers collected 138 points including 70 for seven first-place votes. The Salukis also drew seven votes for the No. 1 position, and had 135 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

1. Ky. Wesleyan (7) 6-0 138
2. Southern Ill. (7) 5-2 135
3. Cheyenne State (1) 10-0 91
4. Akron 6-1 66
5. Grambling 7-1 64
6. Indiana State 7-1 64
7. San Diego State 8-2 47
8. Tennessee State 8-3 43
9. Pan American 8-3 42
10. High Point 7-1 17

SIU Matmen Head for Ohio

SIU's varsity wrestling team heads for Oxford, Ohio, to compete in the Miami of Ohio quadrangular Saturday.

The Salukis have a 2-1 record so far in dual meet competition. They have an individual record of 76-35-1.

The wrestlers won the Illinois Invitational Tournament, completely dominating the meet. They finished second behind NCAA champions Oklahoma State at the Cowboy Invitational and finished fifth in a strong field at the Midwest Open.

Buck Deadrich, voted the most valuable wrestler at the Castro Invitational and Joe Domko and Larry Baron are termed the leading wrestlers on the Saluki squad at this point. Deadrich, wrestling heavyweight, has compiled a record of 8-0 with four victories coming by pins.

Baron has a record of 9-1. Baron's lone loss came at the Midwest Open to a freshman from Iowa State. Gable went on to become the champion in the 130-pound class defeating the favorite for the NCAA crown and a Japanese of the Mayor Daley Wrestling Club who had been undefeated for two years.

Domko, SIU's 167-pounder, has compiled a record of 10-1-1 and has recorded several pins during the young season. Domko, who was injured last year, is headed for an outstanding season now, Coach Jim Wilkinson feels.

Terry Appleton and Dan Ross join Deadrich as the only Salukis who have been undefeated. Both have won three matches this season without a setback. They will rejoin the team in Miami. Both were out for an extensive period due to injuries. Ross had a touch of the flu.

Coach Wilkinson has been flirting with the idea of moving Deadrich from the heavyweight class to the 191-pound bracket and dropping Allen Bulow, the incumbent at that weight, down to 171-pounds. Deadrich's heavyweight place would be taken by Rich Selo-over.

Inscape Cultural Series Will Feature SIU Women Gymnasts

The Inscape cultural series will feature the SIU women gymnasts Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. at Trueblood Hall in University Park. The purpose of the exhibition will be "to inform and entertain," according to Coach Herb Vogel.

Vogel said, "the program will consist of film clips from the recent World Games gymnastic championships, exhibitions on the trampoline, balance beam and floor exercise, and a demonstration of the mechanics of the different routines."

Vogel said he felt that the program would inform the audience so that they would be able to derive more entertainment and knowledge from future gymnastic meets.

He said, "We hope to give the audience a greater appreciation of a routine for what it itself is worth in addition to entertaining our audiences Saturday and Sunday."
