Date for the third annual Spring Carnival at Southern was set this week for May 5, 6, and 7, according to Bob Friedman, Spring Carnival chairman. Friedman, junior from Fairfield, automatically became chairman when the other seven candidates nominated for the chairmanship last week declined the nomination.

Spring Carnival will officially begin Thursday night, May 5, following the president's inauguration with a play presented by the Little Theatre. Other events planned for the Spring carnival week end include a vaudeville show, parade, carnival midway, Miss Southern contest and topped with an Inaugural Ball Saturday night.

The festival is being produced by members of Der Deutsche Klub—campus, German club—and is endorsed by the Weekend Social committee. One of the highlights of the program is the production of Mark Twain's comedy, "Meistercraft," with both German and English parts.

The modern dance group, under the direction of Miss Jean Stehr, instructor in physical education for women, will present several Bavarian dances—"Schulplattler." Members of the German club will sing several "Deutsche Lieder," and music will be furnished by an orchestra made up of club members.

ANYTHING FOR A LAUGH

You don't want to miss the special "April Fool Edition" of the Egyptian which will be distributed in the cross-halls of Old Main early in the morning. This is the time when all frustrated news writers, plagued columnists, and doped-up cartoonists really let go. All year the writers hold back the things they would like to say about persons and events, but in this edition—everything goes. All in fun of course, so if your name is concerned in a foul-up story—don't murder us because "we've left town."

Will Make Inspection of Campus; Meet Students In Assembly

Dance and Movie Offered By WSC This Weekend

Two events—a free dance and a movie—go on the Weekend Social committee's calendar for tomorrow and Saturday.

The high school seniors on campus this weekend will be honored at the Hospitality dance from 8 until 11:50 in the women's gym Friday night. Music for dancing will be featured by Ernie Linpus and his orchestra. In addition to dancing, a steller floor show will be presented at 10 p. m. Free refreshments will be served by the home economics department, and admission to the dance will be free to all students.

Movie Saturday Night. Saturday night, "One Million B.C." starring Victor Mature, will be shown in Shryock auditorium at 7:30. Also on the program for the evening will be "No Indiana, Please," with Abbott and Costello, and a musical short subject, "Piano Reflections." Admission will be 25 cents.

Installation of new projector and speakers in the auditorium has begun Tuesday. Donald Ingh, head of audio-visual aids, said this week that he hopes installation of the machine will be completed in time for its debut Saturday.

Johnny Moore and his orchestra provided the music for the "Gone with the Wind" and "Sally" dance in the Old Science gym last Friday evening. Prizes were awarded in a questionnaire contest and two dancing contests.

Chaperones for the dance were Miss Lorena Drummond, director of the Hospitality Weekend group; Miss Thelma Lyon, librarian; John W. Allen, director of the museum; and Kenneth A. Ervin, instructor in art.

Deans Tell Students How To Drop Courses

Every course for which a student registers must be either COMPLETED or OFFICIALLY DROPPED. Just failing to attend a course does not constitute an official dropping of a course. To drop a course officially, a student must obtain a program change card from the academic dean of the college in which he is registered, and have the card properly approved. The student must then file his card with the registrar.

If a student finds it necessary to drop out of school, he must see one of the student-personnel deans and obtain from him an official drop-out card. His teachers and the registrar will then be notified of the fact that the student has dropped out and is in good standing.

Probationers are expected to carry no more than fourteen hours. Consequently, Madelyn Fisher and Wally Krycher, co-chairmen; committee: Bob Carmody, Dick Carney, Dolores Hamp, Bob Hunter, Harry Jackson, Annette McKinstry and Majorie Obrecht.

Visitors Include Speaker Powell, Director Puffer, and Senator Peters

The budgetary commission, headed by Sen. Everett R. Peters of St. Joseph, will arrive in Carbondale at 7 p. m. today in preparation for an all-day inspection of the campus tomorrow. A special assembly has been scheduled for 11 a. m. Friday to enable the commission to meet the student body and faculty of the University.

Accompanying Sen. Peters will be Sen. T. MacDowning, Macomb; Rep. Calistus A. Brewer, Pontiac; Sen. Frank Ryan, Chicago; and Sen. John G. Ryan, Chicago. Rep. Paul Powell of Vienna, speaker of the House and a member of the commission, will join the group here tomorrow. Gov. Adlai Stevenson is also a member of the budgetary commission, but he will not appear on Southern's campus until the Open House Sunday.

President Delyte W. Morris and several other faculty members will have dinner with the legislators at the Marion Hotel this evening, where the visitors will stay while in Southern Illinois.

Four Campus Before Assembly. The group will tour the campus tomorrow morning before the assembly at 11. The assembly has been called at the suggestion of Rep. Powell. Bill Price, master of ceremonies, will introduce Pres.

The Welcome Mat Goes Out Again

This week end, our maroon and white welcome mat will be out for over 130 high school seniors and their parents who will be the guests of Southern. It is at them that this editorial is directed.

Southern extends to you a very cordial, a very warm welcome. And may we offer our sincere congratulations upon having attained the honor of being chosen the top-ranking students of your respective schools.

During your stay with us, we earnestly encourage you to visit our classes, confer with the deans of the colleges and the various department heads, and ask any questions you may have on your minds about Southern and what it has to offer.

The deans will try to point out the advantages which will be afforded you as a future student of Southern, but you will be in a position to witness that for yourself as you live the life of a college student for a week end.

As any university, S.I.U. has its social life. We welcome you to sample our activities while you are here. Included in our plans are a dance, a student talent show, and various other forms of entertainment. It is our sincere hope that this week end is a pleasant one for all of you.

In closing may we say that we will consider it a privilege to greet you all as our own freshmen in a few short months.

A rich plantation owner sent his old servant down to the bayou for a bucket of water. Presently, the man returned, his face three shades lighter. "Boss, there's an alligator down there what tries to bite me every time I gets close to the water."

"To heck with that 'gator! You go back down there and wade out and get me a nice clean bucket of water for my coffee. And remember this, that 'gator is just as scared as you are."

"In that case, boss, you don't want that water now! If that 'gator is as scared as I is, then that water just ain't fit to drink!"

The naked hills lie wanton to the breeze, The fields are nude, the groves unfrocked, Bare are the limbs of all the shameless trees;

No wonder the corn is shocked. Jeannie: Does it make any difference to you on which side I sit? Norm: No, I'm ambidextrous.

They sat alone in the moonlight; She smoothed his troubled brow; "Dearest, I know my life's been fast, But I'm on my last lap now."

"We know a writer who went out with a girl and got some novel ideas. She: "Your kisses are like a popular drink." He: "Powerful?" She: "No. Old fashioned."

"Say what's that toothbrush doing in your coat lapel?" "That's my class pin, I go to Colgate."

"Professor: "If molecules can be split into atoms and atoms can be broken up into electrons, can electrons be split any further?" Student: "Well, you might try mailing some in a package marked 'Fragile.'"

An inmate of the state hospital was being given an examination for release.

"What are you going to do when you get out," was first question.

"Well, I'm going to get a job," was the reply.

"Fine," said the examiner. "And then what?"

"Then I'm going to buy a big car."

"Good."

"And then I'm going to meet a beautiful girl."

"That's wonderful."

"Then I'm going to take her out driving on a lonely road."

"Yes."

"Then I'm going to grab her garter, make a slingshot, and come back here and break every damn window in this place."

She: Can you drive with one hand? He (eagerly): Certainly. She: Then wipe your nose, it's running.

Before the invention of firearms, many weddings were the result of beau and error.

Ed: You're just like a sister to me. Myra: My God, what a home life!

Otto: What's the last word in airplanes? Ted: Jump!

Judge: Who was driving when you had the accident? Drunk: (triumphantly): None of us, Judge, we was all in the back seat.

Who Receiveth But How?

Southern's vigorous battle for adequate funds has caught up and bring the University up to parity with the other state-supported colleges and universities in Illinois will draw to a close when Governor Adlai Stevenson places the entire budget before the legislature in the next few days.

The recommendations by the Illinois Budgetary commission for Southern's 1949-51 biennium budget now total $6,776,533. The commission's recommendations represent an aggregate percentage increase of 60.86% over 1947-49 appropriations.

To every open controversy there is usually a conclusion. On a football field the final score reveals the victor. In Southern's fight for an adequate budget the outcome will be measured by legislative appropriations. How will we receive the final legislative decision?

The spirit of acceptance exemplified in two recent statements regarding the issue of "how much winners" we will be.

The statement by Bill Burns, chairman of the Student Legislative committee, "I consider the final results of the operating budget entirely inadequate to meet the University's pressing needs," reminds one of the common neurotic conception of losing a football game can't accept defeat we say they are "poor sports." When an over-indulgent mother gives her child everything it wants we use the term spoiled. Should we be only 60.86% good sports about the Budgetary Commission's recommendations?

Dr. Charles D. Tenner, administrative assistant to the president, expressed the opinion that "Director Puffer and the Budgetary Commission have given us unusual help in a very difficult situation and we are grateful to them for their consideration. The students, faculty members, alumni and employees of the University are to be commended on their help and support." With commendable humility, profound thankfulness, and sincere understanding, Tenner has pointed the way to be 100% "good sports" when we have been 32.14% losers.

Southern is just completing a successful heat in the race to become a leading state university. We don't have to win all of the heats to win the race. With a leading administration, a working student body and faculty, and the support of business, professional, agricultural, and labor organizations we can place our bets "to win" on Southern.—G. S.

A 'Slight' Mistake

Last week, probably for the first time in the history of Southern, the Egyptian came out in two editions. Coming out twice in one week sounds good, but the reason prompting this instance was definitely not to be recommended or made a habit of.

A mistake in the compilation of operating budget figures resulted in an error of slightly over a million dollars, necessitating a second printing. It's things like this that make editors prematurely great as they take them as a matter of course in for a space. One consolation, however, is that we weren't inside a bank when the mistake was made. For if we were, someone today would be punching a time clock in a well-padded cell rather than punching a typewriter in a newspaper office.

Prof: "When water changes to ice what is the greatest change that takes place?" Hal: "The price."

Southern Exposure

By Harry Reiner

It's going to be mighty busy around here the next few days. Today, the budgetary commission and about 180 high school seniors will arrive. Sunday, Governor Stevenson and Noble J. Puffer will be here—practically everyone in Southern Illinois—we hope.

Southern has a giant-sized welcome mat rolled out for all of these visitors to the campus. It seems that it should be possible to create a pun about the seniors—the top two school astically from each high school in the area—arriving here on April Fool day, but none comes to mind right now.

It is a pleasure to have the commission on campus. The members will be able not only to meet this year's students, but also the prospective students of next year. Naturally, Southern is honored to have the governor appear here, as well as to welcome Mr. Puffer back to the University.

We heard from the KDA's that their dog, Doggo, disappeared during the spring holidays. This is truly a tragedy—not only for the frat, but but for the whole school, for Southern never had a more devoted and ardent fan and supporter.

The Southern Acres bus surely looks sharp since it got the new paint job over the holidays. We just wonder if it rides any easier and rattles any less now. . . . And speaking of paint jobs, if you haven't seen the Little Theatre since it was renovated during spring vacation, stop and take a look. It is wonderful what paint can do.

As a part of the program for the Diamond Jubilee celebration, Mrs. Mae Trivillion Smith, a member of the committee, has written a series of imaginary letters that might have been written by a coed of the 1850's. The letters are only a method of familiarizing students with a history of the school. Although the letters are fictitious, all facts are authentic, having been taken from old records, Oshelins, newspapers, and minutes of the Normal Board from their first meeting back in 1874. One letter each week will appear with interesting stories of life when S. I. U. was S. I. N. U.—stories of social life and academic routine—rules and regulations concerning conduct, etc.

Carbondale, Illinois October 7, 1883

Dear Nan:

Today is James Whitcomb Riley's birthday. The only reason I know is that I recited his newest poem, "The Ole Swamin' Hole," at Socratic Society last Friday night and preaced the reading with a short biographical sketch of the new poet. He is only thirty years old, and many magazines and newspapers are already proclaiming him as the coming poet of the Middle East.

I enjoyed hearing about the bot trip that you and George took together. Did your mother go along to cheer you? I remember your telling me about the fun of the four of you had at the County Fair.

Isn't everything beautiful at this time of the year? Surely Southern Illinois has more gorgeous fall colors than any other part of the country. William and I took a long walk down the I. C. railroad track last Sunday afternoon, and before we knew it we were in the little town of Boskeydell. There is where the botany students go to get specimens for their botany notebooks. William could name every fall flower that we saw, but since I'm not a science major, I revealed only in their beauty and color. I noticed that one little frail blossom was trying its level best to peep out from between two big rocks, and I recalled Tennyson's short poem that starts, "Flower in the crannied wall, I pluck you out of the crannies—I hold you here, root and all, in my hand—"

Then I asked William if he knew who wrote those lines about just such a little flower as that one, and he said, "No, but I know what Prof. French would say about this flower. Lack of sunlight has thwarted the plant's anabolic attempt to synthesize food through photosynthesis." Sometimes I fear that my friend lacks the aesthetic sense and bears down too hard on calyxes, stamens, etc. But after all, that is no great fault. He has no really bad habits, for he neither smokes nor chews tobacco.

The faculty have had some problems in discipline lately. Two students got into an altercation during military drill one day

Tired and happy, the a cappella choir and woodwind quintet returned from their five-day tour late Friday night. From a musical standpoint, the tour was highly successful. And every one of the student musicians seemed to have had a fine time.

Some of the antics of a less serious nature included the time Director Floyd V. Wakeland opened the lapel of his coat at the beginning of one concert, displaying a fine specimen of a Junior G-Man badge. . . . While cruising through a town Friday afternoon, the choir caravan got caught in a long line of traffic. Dolores Blondi was sitting high in the back seat of a convertible with a rose between her teeth. While the other members of the group shouted, "Vote for Blondi," the erstwhile Carmen bowed and waved to the crowds of people which started watching the procession.

This week we hail the Student Legislative committee, and all those students working with organizations in displaying Southern's hospitality to the widely differing groups which will be here in the next three days.

A few minutes before 9 Friday morning, a young lady tipped into the Little Theatre and sat quietly in the rear. Finally, the announcer said, "This is WSC and WSC-fm signing off until 9:50." When the PA system was shut off, the visitor asked, "Is this a local station here and in Murphysboro?"

Famous last words: "April fool."

Joe: "I wouldn't vote for you if you were St. Peter!"

Moe: "If I were St. Peter you couldn't vote for me, you wouldn't be in my precinct."

A New England cemetery epitaph reads: Here lies an atheist. All dressed up and no place to go.

Your Friend Lucy

Last week, whereupon the Lieutenant reported to the president. Dr. Allin called a special meeting of the faculty at 4:30 p. m. After a prolonged session the faculty voted to reinstate the offenders after they received a private reprimand from the president of the Normal and a public reproof from the Lieutenant in the military ranks. As a further punishment, one was required to sit in Room 2 for two weeks during the military drill.

The members of the Normal Board made their annual visitation to Carbondale and were present at Assembly yesterday. We are always warned, perhaps, that isn't exactly the word. I mean we are informed beforehand so that we shall all be on our best behavior. Also we try to look our best as well as act our best. . . . We girls always crimp our hair with the curling iron, in case we're out-of-quince seed oil; and the boys slick their hair down with vaseline to present a sleek, well-groomed appearance. The faculty also seem to take on a different look for this special occasion. The men usually have their beards trimmed to tonsorial perfection, and Miss Buck and Miss Raymond look the picture of school teacher neatness. Oh, yes, it's quite an occasion when the Normal Board pays a visit. Although they are a serious-minded group of men, they enjoy telling humorous stories, repeating the same ones year after year. The faculty always laugh even more than we do each time the old favorite joke turns up.

You know how we worried about our tanned complexions last summer? Well, I heard about a milk concoction that will make our faces lily white. Just scrape a root of horseradish into a pint of milk and let it stand for three hours—then wash your face in it. I never hope to have the complexion like Elaine, the Lily Maid of Astolat, but I should like to get rid of this coat of tan. What a blessing it would be if it were stylish to have a brown and healthy looking skin instead of an anemic, frail look.

Love,
From your friend, Lucy

Council Corner

by Charles Dickerman

Betty Bain presided over this week's meeting of the Southern Student Council in the absence of the council president, Bill Sims, and the vice president, Taylor Neely.

Mary Alice Newsum appeared before the council in behalf of the Weekend Social Committee's request for $50 to pay part of the cost of the orchestra for the Hospitality Weekend dance. She stated that the WSC had planned to engage the orchestra for their usual price of WSC dances, $125. However, before the WSC had made arrangements for the dance, the chairman of the Hospitality Weekend and the orchestra had agreed on $175 as the cost of the band. The WSC was told that the Student Council would pay the extra amount, she reported.

Since the Student Council will have to pay for the honor pins awarded to seniors receiving honor awards (the cost has been estimated at approximately $250),

STUBBS ELECTED PRESIDENT, REGIONAL IRC

Three regional officers for the Mid-West International Relations Club were elected at a special business meeting of the International Relations club of Southern last Thursday evening.

Officers elected were: president, Thomas A. Stubbs; corresponding secretary, Robert F. Osowski; and treasurer, Donald Balsaver, all from Southern. These officers represent 80 colleges and universities from the four states of Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois. Michael Derbak, secretary-treasurer of the local club presided at the election.

Regional officers will represent the Mid-West at the North American Conference of International Relations clubs which will be held in Denver, Colo., April 21-24.

Will Be April 7

Next quarterly clinic under the direction of the Child Guidance Clinic of the University will be conducted on this campus Thursday, April 7. The cases will be brought here from various communities and will be studied by members of the local staff and the staff members who come from other parts of the State for Juvenile Research. Participating in the diagnosis of these cases and also in the special seminars will be Dr. Harry Segenreich and Dr. Robert Smith, both of the University; Dr. Sullivan, psychiatric social worker.

Because of unavoidable circumstances it has been necessary to limit the work of the clinic to one day. In the future, though, the clinic will be held at a regular basis as has been the case in the past.

Only those who have already been notified will be brought to the clinic, others who are interested should contact the director of the clinic and later date will be set for them.

Increase in Cases

There is a constant increase in the number of cases that are being referred to the University clinic and they are being brought in from the county superintendents, parents, physicians, social workers and by several of the different divisions of the State Department of Public Welfare.

City cases have worked in cooperation with the State Department of Public Welfare ever since it was initiated in 1936. Although cases are seen eleven months out of the year, the clinic has worked in cooperation with the State Department of Public Welfare ever since it was initiated in 1936. Although cases are seen eleven months out of the year, the clinic has worked in cooperation with the State Department of Public Welfare ever since it was initiated in 1936.

Practical Experiences

A number of students on the campus are getting practical experience in working with many of the cases. Part of the time there are as many as five assigned to the study of cases in the surrounding communities. They are carefully directed by members of the staff. On some Saturdays there are as many as twelve cases which are examined.

Plans are underway to increase the size of the staff of the clinic and it is hoped that by next year that the clinic will be able to keep up with the demand for service. During the past year cases have been in waiting for as long as three months in order to be studied.

On Bulletin Boards

A copy of the schedule of the Bulletin Boards for Thursday, April 7, will be found on various bulletin boards on the campus. It should be noted that there will be a staffing at 1 p. m. Thursday and at 2 o'clock in the building program conducted by Miss Mary Sullivan. The topic for this discussion will be, "Existing and Needed Programs to Meet the Needs of Children in Illinois." Both the staffing and the seminar will be open to students and faculty. These two sessions will be held in the Little Theatre. All of the other studies made during the morning and late afternoon will be private and will not be open to students.

DID YOU KNOW

Southern Illinois University's library, built in 1903 to serve 250 students, has been condemned and 75 per cent of the book load is being removed to basements of other buildings and to wooden barracks. A new library building is being built in the building program. The University is pushing for the current biennium, officials say.

Coaches Clinic Here For First Session Aug. 22-24

Southern's first annual coaching clinic will be held on the campus August 22, 23 and 24. It was revealed by Glenn "Albe" Martin, athletic director here. The staff for the clinic will be composed of such outstanding men in the coaching profession as Henry "Hank" Iba, famed basketball mentor of Oklahoma A & M, Don Faurot, mastermind of the T. T. formation and football coach of the Missouri Tigers, and Bert Anderson, noted line coach of the University of Illinois football team.

The coaching clinic, according to Martin, will be open to all elementary, high school, and college coaches free of charge.

Dr. Elliott E. Elliott, chairman of the home economics department, went to East St. Louis to attend a Student Career conference March 26.

The Morning After

By JOHN DELEONARDO

If you've never tried to go fishing during a driving rain, don't feel that you've missed anything. We went fishing with a couple of fellows from Marion, and we caught everything but fish. Wet feet, shoes, clothes, and moist fog were the main topics of conversation with epithets running first by three lengths. Dry fire wood was just something we had heard about a few days before.

When we left town at 2 p. m. Saturday, we thought we were set. Before we were 16 miles from Horseboro, the rain came, and we never were the same afterward. Bush hooks and a trout line were set in the rain—but after running them a few times during the night, the bait was secure and we were disgusted.

Elsewhere on this page there is a story about Charlie Goss trying to take the Brown in better hands than "Doc" and Goss's selection as a first string guard on the mythical team picked by coaches of the five team conference.

The other four men are John Wilson, Eastern; Bob Lockhart, Normal; Al Miksis, Western; and Neal Hudson of Eastern as Goss's running mate.

We are a little premature about the coming major league baseball season, but we figure this is as good a time as any to start some words about the possible winners, but something about what some of the respective teams have in the way of added strength and the like.

If you ever pick up any St. Louis newspaper, you are bound to read the exciting exploits of the Cardinals and sometime the Browns. We'll leave the Browns in better hands than "Doc" and concentrate on the equally high-flying Cardinals. In one game, for instance, there were ten men who were not managing on the team last year, but who may see action this season. Giovanni, Diering, Kazak, Langston, Sauer, Hennis, Garagiola, Chaffee, Yasha, and Habencint were the ten with only Diering and Garagiola the only two who the lot who say much of anything to speak of with the team last April.

Going from one extreme to another, the Chicago Cubs should have a little stronger team this fall. Of course, by finishing in the eighth position in their league, they couldn't do any worse, and anything they did in the way of improvement would be a change for the good.

The acquisition of Frank Gustine from the Pittsburgh Pirates was the "atom" of the year. We have been a Bill Nicholson too long to change even though he was sold to the Phillies. "Doc" and the Phillies. Walt Dubiel is a pitcher from the Phillies that the Cubs have and he will probably be the mainstay of the starting hurlers. . . . Then there is the "Kibbles" ball-catcher Dutch Beaman. If one can take a sportswriter's word for it, Beaman should be the top green light of the "Cub" staff. . . .

Before you "cry" that "this" will be the "complete" list of the staff of this page on their choice of the final standings of the club in September.

Congratulations to Tom McCrory of Chi Delta-Gli Kappa for winning the individual high average in the Heleneic bowling league. Also, flowers go to Nu Epsilon Alpha for being the top team in the league with 29 wins of 272 games.

Frank "Pat" Gledhill, Phi Delta Theta member of Southern's varsity basketball team, was awarded the most outstanding player trophy in an independent tournament of teams from Southern Illinois in Murphysboro this week. Gledhill played for the Stuckeyville Lions as they placed second behind the Marion Mules.

Other Maroon players who were with various teams playing against each other were Charlie Goss with Marion, Bob Colborn and Jack Long with the KDA team.

The champion Mules will entertain some of this season's Maroons in a game at Marion Saturday night. Funds from the event will go to purchase a high electric scoreboard for the gymnasium that is being built. The contest is sponsored by the Marion Lions club.

The unique feature of the game is that high-scoring Charlie Goss will be playing against his former teammates as he is on the roster of the Marion club.

TRACK AND FIELD CLINIC HELD HERE JUDGED SUCCESS

On Saturday, March 26, Southern's sports department conducted a track and field clinic for grade, high school, and college coaches. Coach Leoland P. (Doc) Hingle headed the clinic and says he hopes the meeting will become an annual affair.

Thirty-two coaches from all over Illinois attended this conference which was sponsored by Veath's Sports Mart and the University Sport store.

Discussion on the finer points of track began at 10, lasted until noon. Then from 1 until 3 in the evening six of Southern's trackmen demonstrated techniques of track and field. The track-demonstration was washed out at 3 by a heavy rain.

Southern athletes participating were: Harold Hartley, Centralia, who drops the high jump; Joe Ruddle, Belleville, in the dashes;

Joe McLafferty, Carbondale, in the mile; Ken McMurry, DuQuoin, in the hundred; Bob Neighbors, Belleville, in the pole vault; and George Belts, Marion in the middle-distances.
