Student Union Suggestions To Be Revealed

Recommendations for SIU's proposed Student Union will be presented within the next few weeks by a committee of five, who made an inspection tour of student centers at other campuses spring vacation.

The 1500-mile tour included the University of Indiana Central College Medical Teachers' College, Muncie, Ind.; Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio; Ohio University, Athens, Ohio; and Tennessee, Knoxville, Tenn.

Also to be considered are questionnaires distributed to SIU students, alumni and other student union boards.

Miss Betty Greenleaf says all questionnaires should be returned as soon as possible so a summary may be made.

In the tour were Charles Paul, University Architect; John B. Odaniel, Alumni Service Director; Paul W. Isbell, Auxiliary Enterprises director; John Merriam, Student Union Board president; and Miss Greenleaf, Student Activities supervisor.

Art Students, Faculty Works At Art Museum

The work of six SIU art students and three faculty members has been on display since March 7 at the 14th annual Missouri Show, a competitive exhibition, in the St. Louis City Art Museum.

Carlton Ball, ceramics instructor now traveling over the country on a Ford Foundation grant, a 2nd Leon Moberg, art lecturer, received honorable mention in the show. Students Ted Lindsay and Marjorie Johnson, each had two paintings accepted for the exhibition. Other students and faculty creations in the show are: Dennis Sullivan, one bowl; Judy Barrett, one bowl; William Oberbeck, one casserole and one pickle fork; and Thelma Marhs, one bowl and one drawing.

One faculty member who contributed one bowl, a vase and a bottle to the show while Frederick Lauritzen, another art lecturer, is represented with three pieces of metalwork.

Council Debates New Methods Of Representation

Three new methods for selecting Student Council members and several requests for monetary aid were discussed at the regular March meeting of Southern's governing body.

The first method of selection discussed suggested dividing the campus into districts. Each student would vote in his specific district with representatives being chosen from the districts. Comments on this proposal were: How could a list of students in various districts be secured? Would a student, in moving, create an opportunity to vote more than once?

The second method was to choose representatives from major organizations. Pete Lowe commented, "Mr. William Flogge has noted that only one-third of the student body is active in organizations. This would be unfair representation."

The last proposal was for the president to be elected by the entire student body. Representatives would be from living groups such as MRH, Pan Hellenic, Interfraternity, Woody Hall and four would be chosen at large.

In other business, cuff links with the SIU seal were approved as Honors Day awards other than medallions.

An FTA request of $74 for transportation to a state meeting at De Kalb was granted.

The Social Science requested $250 for operations of Hospitality weekend. They approved a request that a way of securing money be looked into.

Action was not taken on the Debate Squad request for $700.

President Edgell asked that "future requests for funds to the Student Council should be made a week before the meeting day. The request should be in form of or be accompanied by a letter."

SIU Coeds Meet—At Rolla

Both Maids of Honor At Celebration There

By Jane Dodge

Two SIU coeds met for the first time when they were chosen Maids of Honor to St. Pat's Court of Love and Beauty of 1955 at the Missouri School of Mines, Rolla.

Mary Bowen, a junior home ec major, and Libby Cline had been on Southern campus together since September, when Libby transferred from Monticello College at Godfrey.

Mary, a Delta Sig, was nominated by her steady beau, Ted Jennings, to represent his fraternity, Kappa Alpha. Libby was chosen by her fiancé's fraternity, Theta Xi.

Neither of the girls knew the other was from Southern until Libby read about Mary in the special St. Pat's Day edition of the "Missouri Miner," campus paper at Rolla.

Friday after St. Patrick's Day, the Maids of Honor rode floats in the parade and were presented at the queen's coronation and costume dance.

Libby left St. Pat's Day festivities Saturday morning and married Arthur Canady at Rolla's First Methodist Church. Art will be graduated in June, when they will go to Newark, Ohio, to his job as a metallurgist.

"It's a small world," Libby Cline, right, might be saying to Mary Bowen. The two SIU coeds were Maids of Honor at the Missouri School of Mines last weekend.

Psychologists Meet Here

The Illinois Psychological Association held its Spring meeting here March 18-19. Dr. Noble Kelly and Leslie F. Malpass, SIU psychology department, are members of its executive board.

A reception was given for the principal speaker, Dr. Boyd McCandless, Thursday in the Woody Hall formal lounge. Dr. McCandless, director of the Iowa Child Welfare Research Station, spoke Friday on "The Child as a Focus of Study."

The convention opened with a speech by John Nebo, consultant of the Department of Public Instruction. A business meeting was followed by a dinner party at Giant City State Park.

Section meetings Saturday on clinical, experimental, industrial and school psychology were chaired, respectively, by A. L. Hunsicker, Galeburg State Research Hospital; Benjamin Burack, Roosevelt University; Joseph Mason, Caterpillar Co., and Isaac Jolles, Illinois Department of Public Instruction.

The Southern coeds went to Kappa Alpha's Dixieland Jazz Section and Sigma Nu's Tea Dance Saturday.

St. Pat's Day celebrations have been annual festivals at Rolla since 1908, when the fest's originators at Missouri University invited a lone guest "miner" to join in MU's St. Pat's Day.

The "miners" established that St. Patrick was the patron saint of engineers and conferred on him degree of chemical, metallurgical, electrical, mechanical and ceramic engineering.

MU had initiated the celebration four years earlier because "it was a long time between drinks," since the holidays between Christmas and June are pretty few.

Piano Teachers To Meet At SIU In May

A piano teachers' institute conducted by Mrs. Ada Brant, Aurora, pianist-teacher-composer, will be held May 9 at SIU.

Dr. Robert Mueller of the SIU staff, coordinator of the local committee, said registrations are now being accepted from piano teachers for $2.60. He said a musical program and exhibits would be held in connection with the Institute.

Riabikoff Outlasts Nazis Gestapo Tortures Fail To Stop Career

By Harold Casleton

Probably no one who saw and heard George Riabikoff's outstanding concert at the freshman assembly March 3 realized what over-whelming obstacles he had to overcome to become the great pianist he is.

Riabikoff, born in Europe, was proclaimed a brilliant pianist by European critics while still a small boy. He was becoming a recognized musician when the Nazi invaded his country.

During the Nazi occupation he helped many Jewish families, children and old people to escape death by hiding them in the catacombs.

Once he was caught by the Gestapo, who were aware of his musical talent. In an effort to end his career his captors drove hot spikes into his palms and under his fingernails, broke his wrist and arm and smashed his fingers by shutting them in the jamb of a steel door, hoping to mutilate his hands so they would have to be amputated.

Despite his tortures he did not betray the people he had hidden, and they, in gratitude, prayed he would regain the use of his hands.

Riabikoff was taken to Germany and eventually liberated by British and American troops.

Through long agonizing hours of practice, Riabikoff regained the piano last year.

use of his hands and began to play again.

"The completeness of this recovery was shown by his appearance here, which was described by many in the audience as "outstanding" and "wonderful."

"Of all the young pianists I have heard," said Givo Bachamer, who taught him awhile in New York, "I find that George Riabikoff has not only the best instrumental talent, but also great poery, imagination and temperament in his playing. His depth of feeling, his inner spark and warmth were acquired only through long suffering, which have made him a real and great future that he so well deserves."

A New Team

With this issue of The Egyptian a new team officially takes over the campus newspaper game. Some of our players are experienced, some are getting their first taste of college journalism. While our slate is clean, before we rack up a score or are called on a foul, we want to clarify some of the rules we plan to follow.

We feel that a student newspaper is a valuable part of university life. Editorial functions of the Egyptian include interpreting policies and actions of the administration and student governing organizations as well as voicing comments and complaints of the student body.

Journalistically, we will work toward a goal of "complete campus news coverage." We hope to minimize typographical errors. We plan to include pertinent, entertaining feature material.

We will strive for accurate reportorial coverage. We will not turn our heads when faced with material that some readers may label as "unpleasant." On the other hand, we will not overplay stories with false sensationalism. We will report, not create the news.

We are under no obligation to campus political parties, Greek or Independent.

We are proud to be part of this growing Southern Illinois University. We plan to support the administration's campus expansion program. We want to stimulate student participation in SIU activities.

The Egyptian will improve through your suggestions or criticisms. We welcome letters and personal visits to our office. The game is underway. —D. P.

By Jim Haran

George Hossfeld demonstrated in the University School Auditorium March 4 the skill that has won him 10 world speed typing championships.

He didn't quite match his best record, which is 139 five-stroke words a minute for an hour on a standard manual-type typewriter.

He did average 130 words a minute in several tests, however. The secret of championship typing?

Hosts for the two-day meeting were the SIU departments of sociology-anthropology under Dr. Joseph K. Johnson, and Area Services under associate director William Tudor. Dr. Herman Lantz, SIU sociologist, was in charge of the program.

Dr. Stuart Queen, chairman of the Washington University sociology department, evaluated the sociology of the family in the light of what characteristics a field of knowledge must have before it can be termed a science.

Dr. Thomas Dawes Eliot, professor emeritus of Northwestern University, spoke on "The Middle Class Family in Norway."

Dr. Eliot has made an extensive study of family life in Norway. He also has followed through with studies on family life among Scandinavians in the United States.

Southern Illinois history and the role and function of the university in area problems was discussed by Dr. Tudor. He also conducted the conference participants on a tour of several Southern Illinois communities.

AWAKENERS

There's even more to Chevrolet styling than meets the eye!

This is beauty with a bonus... for Chevrolet styling is designed to add safety and comfort while you drive, and to return greater value when you trade.

Truly modern lines are shaped by usefulness. You can see what we mean in the deep crystal curve of Chevrolet's Sweep-Sight windshield... a dramatic style note, certainly, but one that stems from the need for wider, safer vision. Or take high-set taillights... they add to the impressive length of line... but they are up where they can be seen for safety's sake.

The smart louvers across the hood aren't just decoration... they mark the intake for the High-Level ventilation system for cleaner, fresher air. And the whole shape of the body - its lowness, the dipped belt line - is merely a reflection of a lowered center of gravity, the added stability.

This is truly functional styling that serves you better every mile, and preserves its value against the distant day when you trade. This is Body by Fisher - another Chevrolet exclusive in the low-price field. Come in and let us demonstrate that this new Chevrolet is just as exciting to drive as to look at!
