'Playboy' Cast Chosen

The cast has been chosen for the play of the Western World. Dan Bode has the lead role of Christopher Mahon in the play which was written by John Synge.

Charles W. Zoelcker, associate professor of theater, will direct the Irish comedy, which is to be presented April 14-19.

The plot of the play revolves around a son's rebellion against his father's tyranny. James Lash portrays the father, "Mahon," who is a husky, strong-willed farmer.

Richard Hunsaker plays Michael James Flaherty, a jovial, hard-drinking, fun-loving owner of a public house. Flaherty's daughter, Margaret "Peegen" runs the house for him. Karen Barok and Ann Hughes will alternate in the role of "Peegen," who is a sharp business woman with a mind of her own.

Doris Drage and Jean Fowler will play Widow Quinn, who is described as being a "lady with her eye on any man."

Paul Jones portrays dull, superstitious Shawn Keogh, who has the idea that "Peegen" will marry him. The outcome of this confident idea is an interesting part of the plot.

Richard Payne is cast as Philly Callen, a mistrusting, sharp-witted farmer. Roger Long will play Jimmy Farrell, a heavy-drinking farmer.

Portraying village girls are Harriet Sax, Phyllis Hall, Carolyn Keppner, Janice Gidcomb, Carlene Laws, Kagar Guliksrud, Phyllis Uly, and Carol Yamashita.

Jerry Vandover as Dennis De-rine and David Voice as Bartley Nugent represent two young men of the town.

Wayne Crome will be the town bellinger, Jerry Boyle.

All of the members of the cast will appear in each performance. When not acting in their roles, the players will appear as villagers. Dorothy Ramp and Rebecca Burroughs are the assistant directors. James Auld is the stage manager.

Met Stars Featured

List Opens Concert Series

Eugene List, an American pianist who made his debut with the Los Angeles Philharmonic at the age of 12, will open the 1958-59 Community Concert series with a program entitled, "Concerto Festival."

Dates for the performances could not be given at this time according to Robert Faneer, chairman of the Carbondale Community Concert Association, but they will be announced later. Faneer explained that the arrangement made with the performers is such that their Carbondale appearance will be made on tour.

List, who studied at the Juilliard School in New York, has appeared as a soloist for the New York Philharmonic.

List was honored in 1945 by playing for Stalin, Churchill, and Truman at the Potsdam Conference in Germany.

Mozart's comic opera, "Così fan tutti," which is to be performed by the Metropolitan and New York City Opera stars, will be featured in the program.

"Così fan tutti" will be sung in English by opera star Phyllis Curtis, David Lloyd, Mac Morgan and Dolores Wilson.

The concert series includes two outstanding performers, Jerome Hines and Michael Rabin.

Hines, a young American bass-baritone, has sung for six years at the Metropolitan Opera in New York. His numerous television appearances have been received with eagerness by the American audience.

Rabin, a musical child prodigy, has played in most of the larger operas in America.

The first week of the membership campaign for the concert went ahead of last year's record to enroll over 900 area residents and SIU students.

Gov. Stratton Commencement Speaker Here

Governor William G. Stratton will be commencement speaker here this June.

An estimated 750 students, comprising the largest graduating class in Southern's history, will receive degrees. Commencement is scheduled for June 15th at McAndrew Stadium.

Stratton has spoken here at building dedications for the past several years. He was on hand for dedication or ground-breaking ceremonies for Woody Hall, Thompson Point residence halls, Life Science, and the agriculture building.

Debate Team Reaches Finals In Minnesota

The debaters of SIU marched to the quarter-finals of the Northwest Tournament at St. Paul, Minn., before being halted.

The debate team of Marsha Wiehn and Regina Miller won seven of nine contests and placed fifth in the tournament. They defeated seven colleges—the University of North Dakota, University of South Dakota, St. Cloud College, Wisconsin State College of Oshkosh, University of Nebraska, Augustana College of Iowa and Kansas State College. Wisconsin State College of Eau Claire gave the team their first defeat. They also lost in the preliminary round to St. Olaf College.

The team of Ted Foster and Ray Canterbury defeated Macalester College, University of Illinois at Navy Pier, St. Thomas College, Wisconsin State College at Oshkosh, Concordia Theological Seminary and Midland College before losing to Fairleigh Dickinson and Marquette University.

According to Walter H. Murish, coach of the debate team, the team of Foster and Canterbury will qualify for the National Debate Tournament if they place no lower than fifth in the up-coming West Point Regional Tournament.

The next tournament for the debaters will be the State Tournament at Chicago on March 14-15.

Senior Recitals Sunday Night

The music of six classic composers will be featured at this week's senior recital being given by Marilyn Darrough, pianist, and Joyce Gillilan, who will play the French Horn.

The 8:15 p.m. program in Shyrock Auditorium will begin with Miss Darrough's performance of Bach's "French Suite No. IV in E flat major." She will also do Schumann's "Arabesque, opus 18," Grieg's "The Lake at Evening" and "Night Winds," and Debussy's "General Lavine, eccentric."

Miss Gillilan will play the "Concerto No. II in E flat major" by Mozart; and "Concerto for French Horn, opus II" by Strauss.

Eleanor Walters will accompany Miss Gillilan at the piano.

The recital is being given in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of bachelor of music education.

Joe Bewett Named New Egyptian Editor

Joe Bewett, junior from Carbondale, has been named as the new editor of the Egyptian.

Bewett, who is married to the former Dianne Finley, succeeded Dan Hinkle as the helm of the paper. Baldyga replaces Bill Eppenzheimer, while Miss Hamp will assume the duties of Miss Rita Moser.

Two reappointments were made by the council. Tom Sheehan, junior from Belleville, was reappointed as business manager, and Ron Jacober, Highland sophomore, was reappointed as sports editor.

Miss Doris Greenlee, a Mt. Vernon junior, was appointed society editor to replace Miss Barbara Downman.

Bewett, a Navy veteran, works for the SIU Information Service, and was a register for The Egyptian.

Baldyga was an Egyptian reporter, covering the Student Council meetings. He is an Army veteran.

Miss Hamp, an advertising major, was an Egyptian reporter.

Jacober took over the sports desk in December, while Sheehan assumed business manager's duties in January.

The new staff will assume its duties effective with the beginning of spring quarter.

The Journalism Council will meet again next Monday to select editors for next year's Obelisk.

For April Primaries

Voting Information Listed

Registration deadline for the state and county primaries will be March 10. Primaries will be held all over the state April 8.

If you are a citizen, at least 21 years old, have lived in Illinois one year, in Jackson County 90 days, in your precinct 30 days, you are eligible to register to vote in the Jackson County primaries.

If a student has residence in a different county, he may write his county clerk for an absentee ballot.

Address changes since last registering must be changed. Name changes made since the last election will require the person to re-register.

Republicans and Democrats will be listed on the primary ballot for nomination to state and county offices and for the position of U.S. congressman. Treasurer and superintendent of public instruction are the state offices open.

Jackson County has the offices of judge, clerk, treasurer, sheriff, school trustees and precinct committee man to be filled. Also there is a county bond issue involving the proposed county nursing home to be voted on at this primary.

State central committee man from the 25th district and a representative for the general assembly will also be on the ballot.

SDX Calendars

On Sale Friday

The long-awaited 1958 Sigma Delta Chi pinup calendars will go on sale Friday in the Student Union.

Final stages of printing were completed this week and the calendars should be ready for distribution by Friday, according to Warren Talley, SDX president.

The calendars will go on sale for 50 cents. Those who have their stubs from voting last fall may present the stubs and pick up their calendars.

Alpha Gams

Witness Te Egg-Drips

Eggs added a yellow color to the white front of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority house Saturday night at 11:30 p.m.

A car came to a squealing stop in front of 800 S. University, and firecracker-sounding noises were heard by girls in the house.

Going outside to see what was happening, the Alpha Gams were dismayed to find eggs dropping down the side of the house, while the egg throwers were speeding up the hill towards Woody Hall.

"Jealousy"

Few Watch Sunday Movie

A jealous husband is nothing new, either in real life or on the screen. An insanely jealous one is a different matter, as Southern Film Society's "This Strange Passion" apply proved.

To the very small crowd who attended the showing Saturday night the film was a shocking suspense drama with overtones of sheer horror. The climactic scene, in which Arturo de Cordova as the mad husband who goes berserk in a church, was a master-piece of acting, one which the audience is not likely to forget for awhile.

De Cordova turned in a magnificent performance throughout the film. The stages of mental decay which led to his eventual ruin were finely done and completely believable.

All considered, "This Strange Passion" was pretty strange indeed and well worth the seeing.

unfortunately not quite so believable. Perhaps this was the fault of the script, which required her to cling to marriage with a madman even after his jealousy led him to attempt murder. In any case, her performance did not measure up to De Cordova's.

Luis de Berstein gave a creditable performance as the former suitor who finally brings the husband's insanity into the open and triggers the final explosive burst.

Director Luis Bunuel also wrote the script, combining talent quite successfully. The dialogue was crisp, crackling and to the point—thanks to some remarkably good translation—and the direction was of the best.

The Editors' Opinions Basketball Tournament Selection

It is about time something is done about the situation regarding the selection of basketball teams for post-season tournaments by the NCAA and the NIAA.

Again this year Southern's team was by-passed in the post-season selections for teams which can be questioned as suitable representatives of the conference.

Northern Illinois was selected by the NCAA small college board to represent the IAC (Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference) in the NCAA tournament. Northern finished the season with a rather dismal 9-11 record. They had a 6-6 slate in conference play, good enough for only a fifth place finish in the conference.

The NIAA board chose as IAC representatives to their tournament Illinois Normal and Eastern Illinois, both of whom are tied with Southern for second place in the conference.

Both schools have representatives on the board, Southern does not.

A few years ago, the NIAA board theoretically set down the rule that in the case of a tie in conference the teams' records against non-conference teams would be the determining factor.

Eastern Illinois had a non-conference record of 7-7 for this season so they should have been first choice. Southern had a non-conference record of 6-5 and Illinois Normal a 6-2 record. If the board would have been consistent with their selections they should have picked Southern for the second berth. They picked Normal. Normal's head coach is head of the board.

By looking at the selections of the board for the tournaments, it can be questioned whether they are making the selections for personal achievement or to get the best representatives out of the conference for the tournaments.

CUTTING UP the GOOD and the BAD

By DON HECKE

The cold winter is breaking up slow but sure. Even so, it is not yet safe to go out in shirt sleeves — not even if it is 70 in the shade.

Any upperclassman knows the unpredictability of Southern Illinois weather. Looking back, it seems there is only one time when you know what it will be the next day. That is some time after summer officially begins. The temperature seems to go up 50 degrees overnight — and it says hot.

I saw my first Robin Wednesday. I don't know what your first Robin looked like — or perhaps you haven't seen one yet. Mine was a scrawny little fellow who didn't look like he had the strength to pull a worm out of a hole.

Wednesday started out with a little shower, but the sun came out and the afternoon was mild. Yet, the little Robin I saw seemed to be shivering. It was a little discouraging. You usually think of the first Robin as a sign of the coming of spring.

sign of warm weather. Students just don't seem to get enough of the cold. As soon as the temperature starts to rise they look around for something to cool themselves off.

Convertibles are the hallmark of warm weather. You can take the oldest, most junky old jalopy and, if it is a convertible, you are the envy of all on a warm day.

There are quite a number of convertibles driving around this week. It's a cinch that a few of the drivers — and riders — will wind up at the health service for treatment of a real fresh air cold.

A ride around Crab Orchard will attest to the fact that many students are ready for a party as soon as they hear the lake lost its coat of ice.

Soon the cyclists will be out in full regalia. Not to mention hikers and walkers holding hands — minus gloves.

Yes, it looks as if spring is coming. But I for one am going to control my springtime yearnings until the day officially arrives.

Girls Say Cars Not Essential; Interested In Boys Themselves

To The Editor,

The Egyptian

It's Saturday night and here we sit, 10 girls from one floor without dates. You may wonder why we don't have a date? We feel that we are reasonably attractive and willing to have a good time. But still we sit home; we wonder why?

A boy from one of our home towns just called. In the course of the conversation we found out that there were many boys in his town that weren't doing anything either. We asked him why these boys were staying home. He simply said "NO CAR—NO DATE!"

What does this mean? Does this mean that a large percent of the girls stay home every weekend because the largest percentage of boys at SIU don't have cars? Does this mean in the future that everyone will stay home because the boys don't have cars?

After talking with several boys from different dorms we feel that this must be SIU's dating problem. We can think of no other reason why so many boys and girls sit home, when they could be out enjoying each other's company.

Boys, we've listened to your side of the story. We know that a good time unless you have a car and a fat roll of bills to spend on her.

NOW HEAR THIS!!! We Don't give a darn whether you own a car or not. We would much rather walk with a boy we like, than ride with one we don't care for. Why can't you realize this?

You come back at us with the question, "Where would we go?" What's wrong with U-School movies on Friday night? What's wrong with the Anthony Hall dance on Saturday night? What's wrong with all the activities the Union sponsors?

You say that's too cheap? Frankly, most girls aren't impressed by the amount of money spent on them. We are much more interested in and impressed by you yourself. Why can't you realize this?

You say we are snobs, that we turn you down? It seems to us that you usually have the good judgment to tell whether a girl is interested in going with you or not. You can usually always tell.

Material things do not matter to us. We are more interested in you.

So why not give it a trial? Ask that girl that's been speaking to you every day. And for heaven's sake, don't apologize for the fact that you don't have a car. We understand, really we do.

Signed,

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 2

Though this column is intended solely as a vehicle for well-tempered drollery, the makers of Marlboro have agreed to let me use this space from time to time for a short lesson in science. They are the most decent and obliging of men, the makers of Marlboro, as anyone can tell from sampling their product. Only from lustrous hearts could come such a lot to like—such filter, such flavor, such flip-top box. The filter works, the flavor pleases; the box protects. Who can resist such a winning combination? Surely not I.

Today let us take up the science of medicine, which was invented in 1066 by a Greek named Hippocrates. He soon gathered around him a group of devoted disciples whom he called "doctors." The reason he called them "doctors" was that they spent all their time sitting around the dock and shooting the breeze. In truth, there was little else for them to do because disease was not invented until 1477.

After that, doctors became very busy, but it must be admitted that their knowledge of medicine was lamentably meagre. They knew only one treatment—a change of climate. For example, a French doctor would send all his patients to Switzerland. A Swiss doctor, on the other hand, would send all his patients to France. By 1780 the entire population of France was living in Switzerland, and vice versa. This later became known as the Black Tom Explosion.

Not until 1924 did medicine, as we know it, come into being. In that year in the little Bavarian village of Pago-Pago an elderly physician named Winko Sigafnos discovered the hot water bottle. He was, of course, burned as a witch, but his son Lydia, disguised as a linotype, made his way to America where he invented the Mayo Brothers.

Medicine, as it is taught at your very own college, can be divided roughly into two classifications. There is internal medicine, which is the treatment of internal, and external medicine, which is the treatment of externs.

Diseases also fall into two broad categories—chronic and acute. Chronic disease is, of course, inflammation of the chron, which can be mighty painful, believe you me! Last summer my cousin Haskell was stricken with a chron attack while he was out picking up tinfoli, and it was months before the wretched boy could straighten up. In fact, even after he was cured, Haskell continued to walk around bent over double. This was on for several years before Dr. Caligari, the lovable old country practitioner who treats Haskell, discovered that Haskell had his trousers buttoned to his vest.

Two years ago Haskell had Addison's disease. (Addison, curiously enough, had Haskell's.) Poor Haskell catches everything that comes along. Lovable old Dr. Caligari once said to him, "Son, I guess you are what they call a natural born osterber."

"The job is on you, Doc," replied Haskell. "I am a third baseman." He thereupon fell into such a fit of giggling that the doctor had to put him under sedation, where he is to this day.

But I digress. We were discussing medicine. I have now told you all I can; the rest is up to you. Go over your mad school and pots around. Bring papers and watch an operation. X-ray each other. Contribute to the bone bank . . . And remember, medicine can be fun!

The makers of Marlboro cigarettes bring you filter, flavor, flip-top box, and ON CAMPUS WITH MAX SHULMAN throughout the school year.

The group left Friday noon, Feb. 28 and returned Sunday evening, March 2.

Those attending from the local BSU were Bob Barrow, Nada Jo Binnion, Hal McRaven, Bob Seymour, Ron Moroni, Ota Hall, Carolyn Carson, Bill Eldson, Don Donley, Ester Donley, Larry Bonifield, Marjorie Beck, Sharon Handling, Jack Shelby, Sandra Hoffman, Paul Dann, and Lucille Steele, director.

DR. HAND WILL BE GUEST SPEAKER

SIU Vice-President George H. Hand will be the guest speaker next Wednesday evening at Dowdell Halls.

Dowdell Resident Counselor, the Dowdell executive council has been sponsoring a series of educational lectures every Wednesday night for the past three weeks.

Last week the speaker was Dr. Arthur Barnes of the SIU music department. Dr. Barnes spoke on "Jazz."

The first speaker in the series was Col. Alexander R. MacMillan, Director of Air Science at SIU. Col. MacMillan spoke on "Airpower and The Privilege of Being a Student."

SWEDISH SCIENTIST HERE NEXT WEEK

An internationally-famed scientist of the Nobel Institute in Stockholm, Sweden, will be on SIU's campus for four days beginning March 15.

Dr. Torbjorn Caspersen will arrive in St. Louis, March 15, and will be met by Dr. Carl C. Lindgren, chairman of the Microbiology Department.

During his four-day visit he will give an open lecture entitled "The Use of the Ultraviolet Microscope."

The lecture will be given Monday, March 17, at 10:00 a. m., Room 16 of the Life Science Building.

MEMBERS INITIATED BY PHI DELTA KAPPA

Fifteen persons have been initiated into SIU's chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, professional fraternity for men in education, according to the president, James V. Fee of the speech department.

New chapter members are Halmar A. Engh, Syed Hasan, Robert E. McDowell, Fred M. Cornell, Carl Anderson, John H. Caster, and Earl W. Morris.

Southern Styles

By Barbara Downen

The weather is changing daily from rain to sunshine and from cold, biting winds to calm, balmy breezes. But this is all typical of the Southern Illinois climate.

But something else which is typical of Southern Illinois is the summer vacations which can be spent in leisure without spending very much money at all.

Carb Orchard Lake, Little Gray Lake and numerous city lakes and swimming pools offer all of the swimming and sunning enjoyment that anyone could desire.

Along with the warm air and the cool waters come the summer fashions and particularly the fashions in the bathing suit world.

This year's suits will range from the princess style with swirling skirt to tight-legged "little boy" style suits. The colors will appear from deep tones to pastel hues.

More and more beach clothes are coming on the fashion scenes each year. Shorts range in length from the Bermuda style to the new Bermuda fashions.

Bright new beach coats are in store for the well-dressed beach lover this season. The outfits will run from the tapered, fitted style to the extremely modern trapeze lines.

The sheet too will be made from the same cloth as the swim suit or in bright, individual colors of their own.

The beach should prove to be very colorful and exciting this season.

Gymnasts Win At AAU Meet In Dayton

Southern's gymnastic team walked away with seven medals and the championship team trophy at the Central States AAU meet in Dayton, Ohio, last weekend.

The Salukis took first place at the meet with a total of 58 points followed by Navy Pier with 41 points.

Capturing medals for the gymnasts were Ed Foster, Robert Foster, Bob Kien, Jack Wiley, Roger Counsel and Don Leas.

Foster, a freshman at SIU was the only first place winner for the Salukis as he grabbed first place on the still rings. He was followed by Robert Foster who took second place on the rings.

Bob Kien grabbed second place on the side horse for Salukis gymnasts while Jack Wiley placed third in tumbling.

Don Leas was a two-medal winner for the Salukis gymnasts as he grabbed second place in the trampoline event and also long horse.

The other medal winner for the Salukis was Roger Counsel who got third in the trampoline.

Michigan State was the leader with individual champs as five of their men picked up three championships. Ed Muscarelo captured the championship on the highbar, parallel bar, and all around for the Michigan State team.

Schmeising and Barsch took two events for Navy Pier. Schmeising won the vault event while Barsch grabbed the tumbling title.

Other winners were Ed Compton on the trampoline for Ohio State, Don Perry on the long horse for Parkersville, West Virginia. The free exercise event was won by Scarowitz from Toledo.

I Might Get Hit But...

By Ron Jacober Sports Editor

Southern's basketball team did not receive a bid for a post-season tournament from either the NCAA or the NIAA. When checking over the teams that were chosen from the IAC it appears to be ridiculous.

First of all Northern Illinois was chosen to represent the IAC in the NCAA small college tournament to be held in Evansville, Indiana. Northern finished the season with a rather dismal 9-11 overall record. They had a 6-6 slate in conference good enough for only a fifth place finish. In conference they lost to Central Michigan, who are timing writing the season looked as if they would have a hard time beating a good Southern Illinois high school team.

In non-conference games they played such teams as Winona State, Nebraska Wesleyan, Whitewater State and Lewis, while Southern was playing Washington & Lee, Beloit, and Indiana State.

Can they be considered a good representative of the IAC? Direct Bid

Sunday morning the NAAI district selection committee gathered together to pick two teams from the IAC to take part in the NAAI playoffs. Undeclared Western Illinois received a direct bid about two weeks ago in

CONFERENCE BOUND

SIU standout freestyle Joe Barry, senior from Edwardsville, gets in his last week of practice before the Interstate Conference swimming championships at Central Michigan College tomorrow afternoon.

Barry, an accounting major, holds the SIU 100-yd. freestyle record. Central Michigan will be favored in the meet, with SIU picked to cop second.

Three SIU varsity sports, gymnastics, swimming and wrestling will be shooting for conference crowns this weekend and the winter sports season turns into the home stretch.

SIU's wrestlers will be shooting for their third straight IAC wrestling crown when they travel to Northern Illinois University Saturday afternoon. After their decisive victory over Northern's Huskies last Saturday afternoon in the Men's gym, SIU will be favored.

Break Record

In nine meets and two tournaments the Saluki grapplers have won 100 matches while losing only 23. Lee Grubbs, captain, is leading with 14 victories against no defeats. "Deke" Edwards is also undefeated with eight victories in a row. Edwards has not wrestled for about two weeks because of a sore shoulder.

Jim Bledsoe is also doing a very fine job with 13 victories against only one loss in the 130-pound class. Jim won titles at the Wheaton and AAU tournaments.

Herman Ayres, also the Wheaton and Ozark AAU champ has won 13 while losing only two. Freshman Mike Knapp has won nine and lost three.

Gary Burdick, 177-pounds, is the Ozark AAU champ and has won 12 while losing one. He has fought to one draw. Gary pulled his biggest upset last Saturday when he beat Conrad of Northern, 3-2.

Phil Thorne, AAU champ in the 177-pound class has won 10 and lost only two. Marion Rushing in his first varsity wrestling, has won nine and lost three.

By the board said they followed the rule about the best non-conference record for choosing the first team who weren't they consistent and pick the second team the same way?

It seems that the primary purpose of the board should be to get the best team possible into the post-season playoffs. Did the board do this?

After witnessing the 128-60 rout last weekend in the men's gym I certainly doubt if they did.

MEET HERE
The first annual IAC conference gymnastic meet will be held at SIU Saturday.
The meet will be divided into two sessions, one at 1:30 and one at 7:30 p.m.
A total of six teams have entered the meet with only Eastern Michigan staying out.
Fans in the Southern Illinois area will have a chance to see some of the top flight gymnasts in the country at the meet. Western's Wilson was last year's national champion on the trampoline.

Frogmen, Matmen Gymnasts In Championships

Three SIU varsity sports, gymnastics, swimming and wrestling will be shooting for conference crowns this weekend and the winter sports season turns into the home stretch.

SIU's wrestlers will be shooting for their third straight IAC wrestling crown when they travel to Northern Illinois University Saturday afternoon. After their decisive victory over Northern's Huskies last Saturday afternoon in the Men's gym, SIU will be favored.

After witnessing the 128-60 rout last weekend in the men's gym I certainly doubt if they did.

like they were in their first meet of the year they could probably grab the title.

The NAAI swimming meet originally scheduled for March 21-22 in the SIU pool, has been changed to Ball State and will be held during final exam at SIU so the team will not participate in the meet.

The first annual IAC gymnastics conference meet will be held at SIU Saturday with six schools participating. Eastern Michigan is the only school that has not entered.

The six team meet will actually end up in a dual meet between Southern and Western with Western a slight favorite to win over the Salukis.

In a recent meet, Western defeated SIU by five points in a close contest. Western grabbed eighth in the NCAA finals last year.

Southern finished the regular season with wins over Indiana University and the University of Wisconsin. The preliminaries are scheduled for 1:30 and the finals start at 7:30 p.m.

Favored in the free exercise events are Kent Kuehn and Dick Mallo, Central Michigan; Ron Ellberg, Western; John Taylor and Jerry Oetle from Southern.

The side horse favorites are Kees, Ostarello and Salomon from Southern with Ron Anderson's favorite from Western. Western also has two boys rated as favorites to win in the tumbling events. They are Hicks and Wilson.

High bar topers are John Cadron from Western followed by Taylor, Bickerback or Buffin from Southern. Coach Meade said that any one has to be our sincere Southern can only have ten men at the meet.

The high bar event will end the afternoon competition, and the evening will see some of the greatest work on the trampoline.

Wilson, from Western, was national champ last year while Rihmberger and Hicks also from Western were in the top eight in the country. Southern will have Roger Counsel going against Wilson in what should be the best event of the day.

Southern has two favorites entered in the parallel bar event. They are John Taylor and Gene Salomon while Western has Jon Cada. Any of these men could be the winners.

The flying rings will see three men from Southern and two men from Western competing for first place honor. SIU will have Oetle, Foster, and Foster while Western has Wilson and Cada.

All-Around Favorites
In the all-around competition, Taylor and Salmon from Southern are favorites along with Cada and Schmidt from Western.

The officials for the meet will be the gymnastic coach and assistant gym coach from University of Illinois which is one of the top schools in the country. They are Charlie Brinkmeyer and Jon Calbutson.
