First One At SIU Council Sets $5,000 Goal For Campus Chest Drive

The Student Council approved April 27-May 2 for the first campus chest drive and passed a resolution that a check-cashing facility be established in the University Center at a meeting Thursday night.
The goal for the drive is set for $5,000, which amounts to roughly 25 per cents per student.

Jerry Freezel, Council vice president, explained that the drive will reduce to a great extent other fund drives on campus, but may entirely eliminate other such drives.
This is the first effort at SIU toward the campus chest. Charities to which collected funds will be distributed are now being selected by Campus Services.

A student check-cashing service was discussed, and Senator Jim Connell brought to the Council's attention the difficulty by some students have in cashing large personal checks.
The question was raised as to whether the University is contemplating any check-cashing service in the new University Center, as there is no place on campus to cash checks at the present time.

Senator Connell said that when the matter was being investigated full quarter, officials had stated that no facilities existed for such a service but that the University Center might afford such facilities.

Beware Of Illegal Car Informer!

There is an Office of Student Affairs Informer on campus. Beware, illegal auto possessors!

An anonymous letter was received by Assistant Dean Men Elwyn E. Zimmerman last week, asking why so-called "informer" to drive a car on campus without a registration sticker.
The writer continued to give the person's license number and make of car and ended up with saying, "I have been refused permission to drive my car, so why should another person have the privilege?"

Zimmerman did not say what action would follow receipt of the incriminating letter.

Three Acts Go On Television

Three acts taken from the Theta Xi Variety Show will feature the entertainment on the Cape Girardeau Breakfast show Thursday.

Bobbie Jones will sing "Stormy Weather," and do a song and dance routine to "Life Is Just a Bowl of Cherries."
Nedra Clay will sing the melodies, "But Not For Me" and "By Myself."

The third act is not definite at this time. Featured on the show this morning was A. Frank Bridges, SIU Civil defense coordinator and associate professor of health education.

Bridges gave a talk about tornadoes, warning systems, storms and Southern Illinois, and safety precautions to use in case of storm warning.

Two authorities on speech and hearing therapy of SIU Speech Clinic have been invited to Washington by the Federal Government.

Chairman Isaac P. Brackett and Asst. Dean John O. Anderson will attend the American Institute on Rehabilitation Training in Speech and Hearing near Chicago and Saturday.

Bailey Hall presented "The Re-Creation" in its first prize-winning performance. A choral reading written by a member of the Hall, Bruce Bagg, the scene told of how God created the Earth. When man came along, Fear, Hate and Sin were created by humanity.

The scene was accentuated by sound effects and lighting.
This year marks the first time Bailey has been in the Variety Show.

Miss Nightingale, a sophomore from Granite City, and Wilkinson, Mr. Carmel senior, sang "Bea, You're My Woman Now" from the Broadway production, Porgy and Bess. They also sang "Softly, As In A Morning Sun."

The Kappals took the second-place individual trophy with renditions of "Stagger Lee" and "Crazy Baby."
Julius Saluki, a takeoff on Caesar and the SIU parking situation, was performed by the Newman Club.

The group acts included Bowler Hall's rhythmic interpretation of "The Small Trail of Little Jane"; Alpha Gamma Delta did a takeoff on "My Fair Lady" with their presentation of "My Fair Kitten"; Tau Kappa Epsilon presented "The Festering Earth" and Kappa Alpha Delta did a dramatic performance of "Forsaken."
In other group acts, Sigma Kappa told of the history of the blues in their interpretation of "Salute to the Blues"; Steagall told how girls react after a date in "Hours, Hours, Hours"; Delta Chi did an entire concern of a Chinese-Western with an SIU setting in "Dragon Smoke"; and Sigma Sigma Sigma moved to Little Red Riding Hood to Russia with "Little Red Riding Hoodchev."

The Southern All Stars, composed of members of Pi Mu Alpha, opened the program with one selection Friday night and two Saturday. Gerry Snyder sang "I've Got It Bad and That Ain't Good."

The pledge act, "Bing Bong School", showed how children supposedly react on some of the television programs.

Chairsman for the show this year were: Dan Wolf, correspondence; Dick South, stage crew; Bill Kommick, concessions; Dick Cross, Service to Southern; Don Halbert, trophies; Jim Conway, publicity; Bob Key, public relations; Rex Anderson, pledge act; Dick Baldwin, lights; and Jerry Wallis, finance.

4-Car Wreck
After Show
Hurts Student
Two SIU students were involved in a four-car collision Friday night shortly after the Theta Xi Variety Show.

Jerry Hetfield and Kay Davis were riding in a sports car when three cars collided, and Hetfield swerved to avoid hitting a body on the highway, ramming into a telephone pole.

Hetfield was not injured and Miss Davis was committed to Doctors Hospital in Carbondale for observation. According to hospital authorities, she was suffering from shock.

Sunday, a spokesman for the hospital said Miss Davis would be released Monday if the X-rays are negative.

According to Hetfield, a car going south rammed into an east-bound car on Rt. 13. The car glanced off and struck a west-bound car. Hetfield, who was driving in the right lane, was cast, swerved to avoid hitting a person who had been thrown out of the car, and rammed into a telephone pole on the south side of the highway.

In A Cloud Of Dust Well, The Curtain Fell

Well, the curtain fell. Immediately following the Theta Xi Pledge Act Saturday night at the Variety Show in Shryock Auditorium, the right curtain ripped from its rings and floated gracefully to the floor in a cloud of dust.

Members of the Theta Xi and other groups were alerted to the fact that the curtain was hanging about a foot off the stage in the center, which Hayward called "A hitch in our skin."

So you might say the curtain "fell" to end the Theta Xi Variety Show.

Bruce Hayward Says: SIU Is Top In Talent

"There is no university in the nation that sports more talent than Southern," beamed Bruce Hayward following the Theta Xi Variety Show Friday night.

"You can take this for what it's worth—but I've traveled a lot, and have seen a lot of college shows. None have been more diversified, have had more originality," he said.

Hayward and his attractive wife dined with the reporter following the four-hour show Friday night. He talked of his radio history.

He began in radio while in college at the University of Minnesota, where he received his masters degree. Later he married the present Mrs. Hayward, a d is the father of five children.

He seemed sincere in his praise of SIU, both during the Variety Show and during the interview. He said he was amazed at the talent displayed in the show, and that Southern could compete with any university.

During the show, Hayward kept the audience entertained with pointed bars at the delapidated Shryock Auditorium curtain. He said he was going to start a fund to buy new drapes, and would be happy to contribute at least $1.

"It's amazing how students can take some little thing and make something big of it," he said. "Just pushing a little bus onto the tracks. Boys will be boys, you know."

"Now, when I was a boy, some of the youngsters used to tip over trolley cars," he said.

"But I'm an outsider—even an out-of-stater—and I think you are so very proud of what you have here. But you do need a new curtain."

Jim Connell and Linda Adams were winners of the Service to Southern Award, which was presented following the show Friday night by President Delye W. Morris.

The two winners were presented silver wristwatches for their service to the University during the past year.

First Campus Chest Drive in April

The first campus chest drive marks the start of a new trend at Southern—consolidation of the different charities. For the student body and the campus the chest drive should be an improved method of donation.

There are many worthwhile organizations which ask for donations every year. In fact this is where the fault lies. The student is asked to give to several different ones and his limited funds aren't sufficient to donate to all he is faced with a perplexing prob-

Southern Tradition

Tradition is a link binding many people who have varied cultural and social backgrounds, and the tradition at Southern stimulates the students to be one "big happy family." The annual Theta Xi Variety Show has become one of these traditions on campus, with various traditions of its own.

An idea of true sportsmanship is a traditional aspect of the production. From the moment of first tryouts or presentation of the awards, the students are facing a challenging battle between themselves, their fellow students, and the race of time. Win or lose, the students portray a true atmosphere of sportsmanship.

Another tradition of the show is the laissez-faire attitude of the administration toward the satiric performances which appear in the show. Although some of the critical "cracks" are mingled with a jesting overtone, we must take our hats off to the administration for being able to laugh with the students at their own expense.

Of course the campus chest drive could turn out to be a bad thing. Only if it is supported by the student body can it prove a success.

The parents who travel for miles to see their offspring's college production has also become a traditional track expressing their loyalty to the University.

Traditions such as these can have only one way to go... forward... in binding the students together and making the student-administration-university spirit team one of lasting endurance.

He was Head of the Economic Office for North and South America in the Italian Ministry for Foreign Affairs, and came to his present post in 1937.

All students, faculty and townspeople are invited to attend.

Freshmen Hear Swiss Journalist At Convocation

"Europe resets its dependence upon the United States," Dr. Werner Imhof told SIU freshmen Thursday at convocation. Imhof used the historic example of the fact that strong, rich, and powerful countries are not always loved when other nations are forced to follow them.

Imhof is the chief United States correspondent for the Neue Zürcher Zeitung, a newspaper published in Zurich, Switzerland.

The American system of government impressed the Swiss journalist.

"The co-equality of the three branches of government allows flexibility," he said. "Adjustments can be made when they are necessary. An example of this would be the Supreme Court decision on segregation."

Educational reform in the United States came in for criticism.

"Discarding the present educational system is not the answer," he stated.

Greek Week will be observed this year beginning April 17.

New Ag Group Elects Officers

Gary R. Smith, sophomore vocational agriculture major, was elected president of a collegiate Future Farmers of America chapter, now being formed at SIU, on Tuesday, March 3.

These officers form the nucleus of what will be the only collegiate FFA chapter in Illinois, the groups faculty sponsor, Ralph A. Benton, associate professor of agricultural industries said. Eighty-seven students majoring in vocational agriculture are eligible to join, according to Benton.

"We think we should have in the neighborhood of 45 to 50 boys in the chapter," predicted Benton. "We hope to eventually have the whole group in the chapter."

The 87 students eligible to join the club were also eligible to vote, Benton said. Only 27 students took part in the elections however.

Benton attributed the 31 percent vote turnout to the students not knowing each other well enough. FFA will give them a chance to get better acquainted with each other, he said.

Wandering Around What A Year It's Been

By Doris Greenlee

The end of the line has finally arrived, and it seems impossible. It seems like only yesterday I first sat down at this typewriter and started pecking out these words of wisdom, wit, and downright foolishness, but the calendar says it's been a year, and what a year!

Last spring I was a pretty dumb bunny when it came to this business. I didn't know what to do or how to do it. Looking back now, I wonder how anybody ever tolerated me, but they did. It seems, as else I've been writing a lot of junk to an awfully small lot of people.

"This spring I'm the richer for a lot of knowledge, and most of all, for a lot of new friends. Some of you, I know, have had complaints about the way I've run things here, and I've done my share of griping too, but that's the way the ball bounces. I've tried to do my best, when it came to tight deadlines and short spaces, but ye old ruler is pretty strict, and what won't fit must go. I hope nobody has been seriously offended by the cutting and chopping that resulted.

Actually, things haven't been so bad. The midnight oil has been burned, but it's been fun. I've gotten kicked out of my rooming house (almost, anyway) for some of the comments in these little gems, but that was fun, too. (Hope somebody else enjoyed them besides me.) I've met a lot of people, and that was the most fun of all. The more I see of it, the more I think Southern's a pretty good place, and I'm going to hate to go.

This started out to be a short, simple little paragraph or two, telling everybody farewell, but somewhere along the line I got carried away. Before I turn things over to Marilyn entirely, I'll try to sum up what this year has meant to me.

In three words—It's been great.

Need A Break? Saturday Dance

Since it is an informal record dance, students are invited to "come as you are." The dance is free, and refreshments will be served.

"If the students have any favorite dance records, they are invited to bring them," says the chairman.
