East Park Street Residents Petition City for Repairs

A petition protesting the alleged negligence of authorities in maintaining and repairing East Park Street was presented to the Carbondale City Council by Bernard Gray, an SIU senior.

Gray said the petition was signed by 323 persons, many of them students who reside in the East Park area. He lives at 900 East Park.

While speaking before the Council, Gray charged that neither Carbondale city authorities nor Carbondale township authorities have been willing to accept responsibility for the maintenance and repair of East Park Street.

He also charged that the welfare and safety of motorists and pedestrians who use that street is endangered by such negligence.

Gray claimed that the absence of sidewalks and street lamps creates many serious problems for both residents of the area and transient traffic. He also criticized the city government, and other groups, for allowing what he termed an excessive amount of heavy truck traffic on East Park.

Mayor D. Blaney Miller, in reply to Gray, stated that the Council has authorized the installation of two street lamps on East Park and that a private utility company is expected to install the lamps in the near future.

Virgil E. Barringer, commissioner of the Department of Streets and Public Improvements, declared that East Park is not the only Carbondale street in need of repairs. He informed Gray that East Park was repaired less than 30 days ago.

Barringer added that construction of sidewalks on East Park is impossible with avail-

Monitor's New York Chief Covers Eastern Campaigns

Godfrey Sperling Jr., chief of the New York Bureau of the Christian Science Monitor will speak at Freshman Convocation at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. today in Shryock Auditorium.

At present, Sperling is focusing his attention on the presidential race, spending considerable time in the state capitals of New York and Pennsylvania for a close look at their respective governors and probable contenders for this year's presidential nomination -- Rockefeller and Scranton.

He also has followed along the campaign trails of Romney and Goldwater. During the 1960 presidential campaign he traveled extensively with both candidates and covered the national conventions of both political parties.

Sperling has journeyed to trouble spots throughout the world. He spent nearly a month covering the explosive strife in Birmingham, Ala., and Lexington, N.C. While in Europe, he had a close look both at the Common Market and its problems and at the extended NATO defense perimeter.

He was at the Berlin wall and in East Germany at the height of the 1961 disturbances.

He has held the positions of Christian Science Monitor copy editor, assistant to the American news editor, and as of January, 1963, as chief of the New York Bureau.

Sperling holds a B.S. degree in Journalism and an L.L.B. in law. He is also an active Reserve Colonel in the U.S. Air Force.

SIU SPELUNKERS ENTER LARGE CHAMBER OF PREVIOUSLY UNEXPLORED CAVE

SPELUNKERS SURVEYS AGE-OLD INDIANA LIMESTONE FORMATION

Spelunkers Discover Unexplored Passages

SIU's "spelunkers" have chalked up an original exploration.

The cave explorers said they recently visited a cave's passages and chambers never before seen by other humans.

Six members of the SIU Speleological Society recently spent the weekend at a newly-discovered passage in Indiana's Saltpeter Cave near Bloomington.

Their purpose was to explore and map its far reaches.

They set up headquarters in an old barn near the cave entrance. The spelunkers went underground by squeezing through a small crack between two large stone slabs.

They then worked their way down a series of ledges, 70 feet to the cave floor. After proceeding a short distance on foot, they reached "the belly crawl."

This consisted of 1,500 feet of muddy passage with ceilings so low that the spelunkers had to remove their helmets in order to get through.

Emerging from this crawl, they found more passages and chambers they said had never before been seen by human eyes.

At this point, they decided to concentrate on exploration, because mapping the entire cave system would be too big a job for a single expedition.

They spent seven hours underground. With the temperature dropping, their clothing started to freeze. They stacked it like cordwood when they surfaced.

Debaters Lose to Marquette; 2nd Team Places 5th in Ohio

Two SIU varsity debate teams went their separate ways again, but the results were almost alike.

Pat Micken and Charles

he hadn't noticed any problems.

Mayor Miller then requested that the City Commissioner and the Township Commissioner do what they can to remedy the situation, as soon as possible. Both commissioners agreed to comply with that request.

The Council, in other action, rescinded a prior ruling that established a levy of a $3 city license fee for each public performance for profit by members of the newly organized Proscemium One group, comprised of SIU personnel. The Council was informed that an existing ordinance requires a levy of a $200 annual city license fee for theaters of the size being used by the group, having a seating capacity for 400, or less, spectators.

Hoffa Found Guilty Of Trying to Fix Jury

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. -- James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamster Union, was convicted Wednesday on two charges of seeking to fix the jury which tried him on a conspiracy charge in 1962. Hoffa was acquitted on a third charge.

Also convicted were three men on trial with him--Ewing King and Thomas E. Parks of Nashville and Larry Campbell of Detroit.

Hoffa sat motionless, his face a grim mask, as jury foreman Hal W. Bullen of Chattanooga read the verdict. It was Hoffa's first conviction in five federal trials dating back to 1957.

Hoffa could receive a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a fine of $10,000. The others could receive up to 5 years and $5,000 each.

Hoffa, Parks and Campbell were convicted of offering a $10,000 bribe to the son of a Negro juror in the 1962 trial.

Campbell is business agent for the Detroit Teamsters local, of which Hoffa is president. Parks, a handyman, is Campbell's uncle. Both Campbell and Parks are Negroes. Hoffa and King, former Nashville Teamsters president, were convicted of offering a promotion in the Tennessee Highway Patrol to a state trooper whose wife was on the Nashville jury.

As Hoffa, looking stunned, was led from the parked courtroom, someone asked, "Are you going to appeal, Jimmy?"

"Of course, we'll appeal. What do you think?" snapped Hoffa.

His bond was increased from $10,000 to $75,000 on conviction. Campbell's bond was fixed at $25,000 and the others at $20,000 each. Their bonds had been $5,000 each.

Defense Contends

Ruby Was Insane

DALLAS -- A pretty secretary testified Wednesday that Jack Ruby sat with a fixed stare for two minutes shortly after the news broke that President John F. Kennedy had been assassinated in Dallas.

The witness, Georgia Mayor, is a secretary in the advertising department of the Dallas Morning News. Ruby was in the office composing an advertisement.

Ruby is charged with slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, accused as the assassin of Kennedy. The defense sought to support its contention that the slaying of the President shocked Ruby into a mental blackout during which he killed Oswald.

Ruby rose to his feet before a jury of four women and eight men today and entered a formal plea of innocent as the first day of testimony got under way.

Defense counsel told Judge Joe. B. Brown that the defendant was pleading innocent by reason of insanity.

Judge Brown was absent Tuesday with a cold and Judge J. Frank Wilson sat for him while the jury was completed.

"OF COURSE THEY DON'T MEAN A THING, BUT..."

U.N. Approves Cyprus Plan; Greek Mobs Denounce U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.--The U.N. Security Council voted unanimously Wednesday to have Secretary-General U Thant set up a Cyprus peace force and name a mediator to seek peace in the island republic.

The Soviet Union announced it would support the plan despite strong reservations on the provisions for the creation and control of the force.

There also had been some doubt about France's vote, but French Delegate Roger Seydoux went along with the others.

Russia objected to a provision that the secretary-general would decide on the composition of the proposed force in consultation with Cyprus, Britain, Greece and Turkey. This would circumvent the Security Council, said Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Fedorenko.

In Athens, more anti-American demonstrations flared Wednesday and the U.S. Embassy announced a visit to Athens by ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet has been canceled.

An embassy spokesman said the cancellation of the visit scheduled for today was requested by the Greek government.

Castro Offers Water,

But We Don't Want It

HAVANA--Prime Minister Fidel Castro offered Wednesday to turn on the water for the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo but got a quick, cold turn-down from Washington. State Department officials said the offer would not be accepted.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, commented, "We have already made it clear that Guantanamo is being made self-sufficient."

Baker Probe Windup Seen

WASHINGTON -- Democrats on the Senate committee looking into Bobby Baker's affairs say the investigation is near the end. Republicans disagree.

Indications were that the Senate Rules Committee will meet in the next few days to decide when to halt its hearings.

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., said that unless something new turns up, he thinks the committee has about reached the stage where it should close the investigation. Other Democrats on the committee have indicated they share this view.

However, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said the GOP members "still have a lot of witnesses we think ought to be called." He declined to name them.

Special counsel L.P. McLendon said he expects "the committee will reach some conclusion this week on closing the investigation."

The committee began its probe after Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 from his $19,600-a-year post as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Food Stamp Bill

Out of Committee

WASHINGTON -- An expanded food stamp bill--a key part of President Johnson's war on poverty--was pried out of the House Agriculture Committee Wednesday but with an amendment its backers regard as crippling.

Included in the bill was an amendment requiring the states to pay 50 per cent of the cost of food stamp programs.

"If this stays in," said Rep. Leonor Sullivan, D-Mo., the bill's sponsor, "we may as well not have a bill at all, because the state's just can't put out the 50 per cent."

Campaigning Goldwater Says He Would Rewrite Tax Laws

CONCORD, N.H.--Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater said Wednesday if he is elected president he will move immediately to rewrite the nation's tax laws.

Even before his inauguration, Goldwater said, he would choose a panel of labor, business, academic and legislative leaders "to frame a new tax code for this country with special emphasis being paid to the investment of money."

Goldwater said he would have the panel conduct its study between the election and the inauguration.

At the same time, Goldwater said, he would move to cut federal spending.

"I'm convinced the federal budget can be balanced without hurting any program," he added in a campaign speech.

He is campaigning for next Tuesday's New Hampshire presidential primary.

Spain Cooperates

In Cuban Boycott

WASHINGTON -- The State Department announced Wednesday that Spain has taken "appropriate steps" to prevent its ships and planes from transporting goods to and from Cuba.

U.S. aid to Spain is being continued, the department said.

The United States has important air and naval bases on Spanish territory and recently anchored a nuclear submarine tender at the Spanish base port of Rota to service Polaris submarines operating in the Mediterranean.

The 1963 foreign aid law contains a provision forbidding U.S. aid to any country which fails to take appropriate steps to prevent its ships and aircraft from carrying commodities to and from Cuba so long as Cuba is ruled by a Communist regime.

Try Bending Beer Cans

By Max Williamson

Final exams looming ahead, a term paper due at 8 tomorrow morning, a professor issuing the ultimatum that one more cut and you're dropped from his class, a student worker shouting at you to go back to the end of the Sectioning Center line—all of these things create tension for the SIU student.

Such is life for a college student. But how do these students go about easing these tensions created by their hectic university lives?

"I relieve tension by eating, or reading the latest fashion magazines. Looking at the new fashions lets my mind wander from my problems," says Pam Greenshields, 22-year-old senior from Wood River, Ill.

"I watch television or take in a movie. This gives me a chance to rest. Comedies are the best, because the plot is usually shallow and I don't have to think. I can just sit back and enjoy it," comments Paul Kibisek, 29, senior from Bensonville, Ill.

"I work crossword puzzles, weave, and oil paint. I love to do these things, and they relax me," says Barbara Schally, 20, junior from Chicago.

Pete Parillo, 22, senior from Chicago says, "I work out with weights, run at the track (when weather permits) and take steam baths. I find this an ideal way to reduce tension. After a good workout, I'm ready to tackle the books again."

James Carter, 23, senior from Brownsbury, Ind. reports, "I find that the best way to relieve tension is through extra-curricular activities such as fraternities, play clubs, and weekend dates. Sometimes I go 'way out' and go motorcycle riding."

Bill Hinchcliff, 21, sophomore from Carbondale, relaxes this way: "I put a big stack of records on the stereo, turn them on, then just sit back and take life easy until I feel better."

Sam Leek, 30, senior from DuQuoin, says, "I sleep! This helps, but as soon as I wake up I find that I still have the same problems, so I guess in the long run I'm usually just stuck with the tension."

John Harrington, 21, senior from Pekin, Ill., has another formula: "I try not to let things bother me enough to create problems and tension."

One perky little coed admitted, with a twinkle in her eye, "I try to bend beer cans with one hand."

Micken Awaiting Word on Trial

Ralph Micken, chairman of the Speech Department, said Wednesday he is waiting word as to when his jury trial will be held to hear evidence of his auto collision with a Carbondale police car.

The accident happened Feb. 2 while the police cruiser was en route to a fire. Micken said the driver, Patrolman Jerry Brown, issued him a ticket, charging him with improper passing.

"Twelve days later this charge was dropped," Micken said, and another officer issued him a ticket, charging that Micken failed to yield the right of way to an emergency vehicle.

The chairman said he pleaded innocent to the charge, asking for a jury trial. He said the case was to have come up Feb. 24, but on that date the court notified him that it would be continued to a future date. Micken said that this was the last word he has had on the matter.

No one was injured in the accident. Damage to the vehicles was slight.

Shakespeare's Cassius isn't the only one on campus with that lean and hungry look lately. It's nearly that time again....

Students discover the Library is open weekends, after all. No longer is the occasional Saturday-night student an Oasis in a desert of half-empty tables. Traffic at the reserve desk is brisk. Sharp-eyed term paper writers prowl areas near the periodical shelves, searching for that missing volume.

The coffee urn reasserts its quarterly claim to be the most popular meeting place on campus. Sales of that stay-awake pill increase.

Lights burn late over last-minute papers, conjugations and formulas. Walls and deadlines close in.

Attendance at concerts and convocations spurts. Newfound culture fans push to earn a term's convocation credits in two weeks.

"When do you finish?" becomes the No. 1 conversational topic. Migratory lust invades students' hearts, and Ft. Lauderdale-or-bust fever flushes their winter-paled cheeks.

Sales of rabbit's-foot charms are way up.

Book Review

Insight Into Doubt and Fear That Are Heritage of Youth

Shadow of a Tiger, by Clyde Briton Davis. New York: The John Day Co. 318 pp. $4.95.

While it is probably true that most novels are to some extent autobiographical, Mr. Davis' last story is obviously a fictionalized account of his own youth. It is told in the first person and the protagonist is a boy whose experiences parallel rather closely the early years of the author. It might be said to be the author's own epitaph, for Mr. Davis died last July just a week after his manuscript reached the publisher.

Older readers who grew up in the years when this century was young will find the story of George Chalmers a nostalgic bit of middle class Americana. Mr. Davis, in addition to being the author of 20 books, was a first class newspaperman and he reports life in Midwestern America in the years when the nation was growing to maturity, with a simplicity and fidelity that makes his story a vivid picture of a period when life was not troubled by cold wars, the threat of nuclear bombs and militant Communism.

But the author does more than recreate an era. He peers with sensitive insight into the doubts and fears that are the heritage of every teenage youngster and these are the fears that become the "shadow tiger," which gives the book its name. These experiences of growing up include the discovery of the world of books, girls and finding a job before the youth becomes a man with the American Expeditionary Force on the Western Front in France during World War I.

Student Peace Union Policy On Disarmament Clarified

I was very pleased to see your editorial ("Guilt by Association in Reverse," Feb. 20) concerning the Committee to Abolish Compulsory ROTC. There was one comment, though, which implied a misunderstanding of the policy of the Student Peace Union. The editorial stated: "Its (SPU's) 1961 program statement proposes a policy of American unilateral initiatives as the most productive approach toward effecting total and worldwide disarmament." Strong stuff, that."

Actually, this is not a terribly strong statement. It is not advocating unilateral disarmament, that is, that the U.S. totally disarm without mutual disarmament by other nations.

It is advocating that the U.S. set up, as a long-term policy, a series of steps (which will not make us vulnerable to conquest by any enemy) which will challenge other nations to match us in disarming. This would include steps such as removing our obsolete first strike bases in Europe, declaring a moratorium on testing nuclear weapons, removing troops from foreign countries, cutting back on internal military troops and bases, and so on.

Some of these have been done in the past two years;

however, not as part of a total program challenging the USSR to do the same.

None of these steps is a threat to our national security. They are meant to create an atmosphere in which the U.S.A. and the USSR can discuss disarmament with less suspicion than we have had previously, an atmosphere in which there is no danger of military aggression. We maintain our defenses while removing our ability to attack.

There are very few people in this nation who will advocate attacking the Soviet Union. Studies have shown that most people want peace. They are afraid, even terrified, of nuclear war.

The problem has been finding some way of stepping back from the brink, to turn from the insanity of a nuclear arms race which threatens to annihilate humanity. The problem has been finding a means which does not threaten our security.

The Student Peace Union believes a program of unilateral initiatives is such a means.

Alton Instructor Tests Students To Evaluate Shelley Paragraph

After reading the first exchange between Mr. Paul Schleuter and Mr. David Hanson ("Even Shelley Couldn't make Grade Here," Feb. 11, and "Instructor's Answer: Writing Here Would Shock Shelley," Feb. 18), I tested a freshman class of 21 students on the paragraph by Shelley. This was a fair test, since my students never see the Daily Egyptian and knew nothing of Mr. Hansen's interesting activities.

The comments on Shelley's prose may be sensed from the following extracts:

"It seems as though whoever wrote it is trying to impress someone...I don't like it. I guess I am just too young to understand."

"This is a vague paragraph."

"I truly (sic) don't understand it."

"I would grade it low... rather stuffy words."

"...doesn't seem to set forth any idea."

"...stiff and stuffy..."

"Rewrite!"

Only four students responded to my invitation to grade it if they cared to. The grades they gave were A, B, C minus and C minus. But the person who graded it A said: "...seems a little to (sic) flowery—the writer is trying too hard." And the student who graded it B said, "It takes several readings to fully understand it."

TOURNAMENT BOUND — Glam expressions by SIU coach Jack Hartman and his three mainstays (left to right) Paul Henry, Indianapolis, Joe Ramsey, Sandouval, and Eldon Bigham, Pinckneyville, may be due to the fact they are only team members certain of their starting assignments for tonight's opening NCAA college-division regional game at Evansville. The Salukis lost services of regular center Lloyd Stovall for tournament play and two others, Randy Goin and George McNeill, are questionable performers due to recent ailments. Ramsey, a junior, is SIU's leading scorer with 392 points while Henry and Bigham are only seniors expected to see tournament action for the youthful Salukis.

Pressure Is on Sam Salukis

Hartman Worried About Status Of Reserves in Opener Tonight

Concerned over the status of at least two of his top reserves, coach Jack Hartman was certain only that his Saluki cagers would "show up" for first-round action in the NCAA college-division tournament tonight at 7 o'clock in Evansville's Roberts Stadium.

"Strange as it may seem, we're about to run out of players," Hartman said as he attempted to re-group his forces for their opening test against a sound Ball State squad.

Hartman's worries began when center Lloyd Stovall was declared ineligible for NCAA championship competition and were augmented by Randy Goin's sudden ailment and disclosure of a broken bone in George McNeill's finger. Goin spent the weekend in the hospital under observation after complaining of chest pains for the second time this year. He since has been released, but may see only limited duty at Evansville.

McNeill will also be in uniform but will be playing with a splint on his fractured finger. "Our first thoughts after losing Stovall were to shift Duane (Warning) to the pivot and move Goin into the starting lineup," Hartman said. But the coach has decided to use sophomore Boyd O'Neal in Stovall's spot and leave Warning at his regular forward spot.

Certain starters, however, are cocaptains Joe Ramsey and Paul Henry, Southern's leading scorers, and Eldon Bigham, who is considered one of the Saluki's top blue-chip performers.

Ramsey was a major factor in Southern's fourth-place finish in last year's NCAA tourney and has spearheaded the Saluki's late season drive by averaging more than 20 points per game in the last eight outings.

Henry and Bigham, meanwhile, have been providing the steady influence and it may take a great deal of both scoring and steadiness if the Salukis hope to add to their current 15-9 record and gain next week's quarterfinals for the third year in a row.

But the pressure will definitely be on as the Cardinals carry a 10-game winning streak and a 17-6 record into tonight's clash. The Cards, who will be making their first appearance in an NCAA basketball tournament, are the highest scoring team in Ball State's history, with an average of 90.8, compared to SIU's 80.7.

The Redbirds are led by 6-6 center Ed Butler, who is considered one of the finest players in the Midwest. Butler carries a 22.3-point scoring average and a 17.7 rebound mark into tonight's clash.

However, the Cardinals are certainly not a one-man team, with John Lee averaging 17.9 points per game; Stan Neal, 15.7; Ron Latham, 9.3 and Ron Galloway, 9.4 to complete a starting lineup that averages 6-3 in height compared to Southern's 6-3 1/2 average.

Women Cagers End Seasons By Splitting Two Cape Games

Southern's women's basketball teams split a double-header with the girls from Southeast Missouri State to close their seasons Saturday.

The previously undefeated first team suffered its first setback of the season by dropping a 31-30 cliff-hanger to the girls from Cape. The team had rolled over four opponents prior to Saturday's contest.

Charlene Summers, who has been the leading scorer for the first team all season, paced the scorers with eight points.

She was followed in the scoring by Judy Miller with seven and Oneta Spence with five. Beverly Sellinger, who had been a consistent scorer for the team this year, was held to only one point in the game.

The second team evened the score for Southern in their game, as they walloped the second team from Cape, 28-8. It was the third win of the year for the SIU girls, who have lost a game during the season.

Joyce Niestemski was the leading scorer for the second team as she put through nine points. She was followed in the scoring column by Jane Johnston who added five.

Matmen Are Defeated 20-8 By Top-Ranked Iowa State

SIU's upset-minded wrestlers were rudely disappointed Monday night, as Iowa State's potent matmen belted the Salukis 20 to 8 at Ames, Iowa.

Coach Jim Wilkinson's Salukis, hopeful of ending the dual meet season with a triumph over the nation's top-ranked collegiate wrestling team, had to settle for two victories in eight events and a fair 3-3 record for the year.

Southern's two lone victories were registered by senior, heavyweight Larry Kristoff and sophomore stand-out Don Schneider. Kristoff pinned Cyclone Jim Homan in 1 minute 14 seconds for his 11th victory in 12 outings, while Schneider edged junior Ron Jones, 3-2 in the 130-pound weight class.

The victory was the 25th straight for the powerful Cyclones who were paced by All-Americans Gordon Hassmen and Bob Buzzard. Hassmen, owner of a 21-0 season's record and seven straight pins, nailed 157 pound Terry Appleton in 4:27 while Buzzard, a sophomore who is undefeated in 17 matches this season, outpointed SIU's Roger Bloodworth, 6-1, in the 137-pound class.

Saluki Don Millard (13-2) suffered his first loss of the campaign in the 167-pound division, as he was outclassed 5-2 by the Cyclone's Don Beckham. Millard's other defeat came in the 177-pound class earlier this season.

Wilkinson's matmen will rest until March 13 when they will compete in the two-day NCAA College Division tournament at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The results:

- 123--Roger Sebert (I) dec. Terry Finn, 5-4.
- 130--Don Schneider (S) dec. Ron Jones, 3-2.
- 137--Bob Buzzard (I) dec. Roger Bloodworth, 6-1.
- 147--Veryl Long (I) dec. Terry Ebbert, 6-0.
- 157--Gordon Hassman (I) pinned Terry Appleton, 4:27.
- 167--Don Beckham (I) dec. Don Millard, 5-2.

A student who finds he has more than three examinations on one day may petition, and a student who has two examinations scheduled at one time should petition, his academic dean for approval to take an examination during the make-up examination period on the last day. Provision for such a make-up examination period does not mean that a student may decide to miss his scheduled examination time and expect to make it up during this make-up period. This period is to be used only for a student whose petition has been approved by his dean.

A student who must miss a final examination may not take an examination before the time scheduled for the class examination. In the event a student misses a final examination and is not involved in a situation covered in the preceding paragraph, a "W", followed by the tentative grade with a "12" indicating the number of weeks attended, should be recorded on the grade report by the instructor. A "W" grade must be completed within one year of the end of the quarter involved; otherwise, it must remain as an incomplete grade.

A special note needs to be made relative to examinations for evening sections for those classes which have been granted a special time for examining all sections. As some students attending at night may not be able to attend the special examination period scheduled for the daytime, each department involved will have to arrange special examination periods for such students. This problem involves those night students who are fully employed during the day and who are taking night courses because it is the only time they are able to do so.

Summer in Mexico Offers Maximum of 12 Credit Hours

Students hoping to spend the summer in Mexico while at the same time earning credit at SIU can apply now at the Latin American Institute.

Under this plan, students can earn a maximum of 12 credit hours while attending the University of the Americas in Mexico City.

This school stresses an inter-American educational program, teaching Spanish and investigating Latin American culture and affairs.

Length of the entire summer program in Mexico is eight weeks. Two weeks are used for orientation and travel, and the rest of the time students reside in Mexico City.

Basic cost of the program is $440, not including spending money. Transportation is provided by SIU in campus cars.

Only 18 students are allowed to participate in this special program and selection is on a priority basis.

Staff members who will coordinate the program are Mr.

and Mrs. J.A. LaFontaine and Water Craig. LaFontaine is a lecturer in foreign languages and Craig is a printing and photography instructor.

Interested students who have had one year of college Spanish or two years of high school Spanish can contact LaFontaine at the Latin American Institute for application forms.

Courses available at the University of the Americas include the fields of printing and photography, anthropology, sociology, business administration, economics, fine arts, geography, history, Spanish language and Spanish literature.

Weather Alert Retesting Set

SIU will test its severe weather warning whistle at 2:45 p.m. today to familiarize students and area residents with the signal. A series of intermittent blasts lasting three minutes, the signal means take cover.

1. I've been giving a lot of thought to the future—career-wise and goal-wise.

I've been pretty busy working on my book sheet.

2. As recipients of a college education, I feel it is incumbent upon us to work in areas which allow us to make a contribution to society.

Watch me dribble right around you.

3. Material reward is important, too—so long as the job is one of profound significance.

I'm a terror off the boards.

4. What's more, the company I work for must be forward-looking and encourage initiative.

Notice the feather touch on the ball.

5. How about you? What are your goals?

I'd like to score 30 against Tech.

6. I mean after graduation.

Oh, I've got a swell job with Equitable. They've got everything you're looking for. And they're a good team to work with.

VTI Students Spend 4 Weeks in Stores To Get On-Job Training in Retail Sales

Nineteen Vocational-Technical Institute students studying under a two-year retailing program are spending four weeks this term working in Illinois and Missouri retail stores.
