Southern's Little Theater Will Present 'Mr. Pim Passes By' Tonight at 8 p. m.

At 8 p. m. tonight in Shryock auditorium, the respectable Mr. Pim will pass by, giving the second annual Southern Spring Carnival its initial kickoff. The second play to be presented by the Little Theater in less than three weeks, A. A. Milne's comedy in three acts, "Mr. Pim Passes By." They will clarify numerous conjectured statements as to how Mr. Pim accepts his passing by.

The story is based around the happy happenings of a certain English family, the Goggs. Mardens. Confusion is the result of several entanglements until Mr. Caraway Pin enters the scene to save the day. Being a miser, he may or may not have any bearing on the plot, but it adds to the characterization of the philosophically equipped Mr. Pim.

Dr. Archibald McLeod of the speech department, director of the play, designed the stage setting, and his stagecraft class constructed the scenery. The production of this year has been designed and made collapsible so as to allow for future use. This is his third play he has

Before this elaborate display of the feminine anatomy, at 2:30 p. m. will be a conference baseball game between Southern and Eastern to be played at Chautauqua Field.

Vaudeville Show At 8:00 p. m. the CRNIVAL throng will again be held in Shryock Auditorium laughing their sides off at the hilarious gaiety to be displayed in the Vaudeville Show. We assure you, Monti and Fargo, those two well known celebrities, that they will be after their performance, will keep you in tears between acts. The five top contestants in the "Miss Southern Contest" will also be presented at this gathering. Immediately following the Vaudeville Show there will be a street dance on the campus.

Activities will start early and last late on Saturday, the third and final day of the celebration. The crowd expected to attend 9:30 with the conference track meet preliminaries at McAndrew Stadium. The final of this meet will be held at 1:00 p. m. the same afternoon.

Parade At 12:50 o'clock noon there will be a parade starting at the Roberts Hotel and proceeding to Illinois avenue and across to University avenue to the campus. Floats and stunts will be featured by campus organizations plus the Southern Marion Band as well as floats by some of the town merchants.

Beauty Contest Friday afternoon something entirely new will come to SIU campus. A beauty contest to elect a Miss Southern, who will reign over festivities, will be held outdoors.

John Koonce Prexy Of Little Theatre At a meeting of the Little Theatre members on Wednesday, May 12, officers of the club were elected for the coming year by secret ballot with all the active members participating in the election.

The following officers were elected: John Koonce, President, Dale Kittle, Vice-President, Peggy Coleman, Secretary. The officers will be installed at the annual banquet to be held sometime in June at Giant City Park.

At present the members are working on a play, "Mr. Pim Passes By" to be given in the Auditorium on Thursday, May 20, to open the Spring carnival.

This is a masked ball. By masked ball it meant that every person attending the dance must wear a half mask. This point must be stressed.

Many persons have asked, "What shall I wear?" The answer is simply wear anything that you like best. Bear in mind that this is one of the few chances that the students of Southern have to let their hair down and really have a big time. In choosing something to wear, remember the gaiety of Spring Carnival, and choose something comfortable, gay, loud and unimpassive. Wear anything but a dress and hat. Arrange for the dime stores have a stock of masks if you are trying to find one.

This is your carnival and it depends upon you how big a carnival it will be. Let's climb aboard, let your hair down and play a gay weekend.

"Caught up Bub? This is the 9th week of spring term."

Letter To The Editor

An Open Letter to the Athletic Department

Dear Sirs: You certainly are to be congratulated on the fine teams you have guided to victory this past year...

Several times lately we have noticed the brevity of your trips to other colleges for games...

We are all concerned over the future of Southern's sports program. The curse of it, if Southern's old fashioned policy continues...

In conclusion, we realize that efforts are being made to improve the situation, but so far you have been as slow as "molasses in cold water"...

Respectfully submitted, D. F. This spring weather is really taking its effect on both classes and the proverbial young man's fancy...

INSIDE AND OUT

By Bill Plater It must be spring, I saw a scotchman throwing away his Christmas tree yesterday.

She turned her head, set her jaw, and saucily said, "Look mister, just how long is this car going to stall?" He answered politely, "Just as long as you do baby."

Dear Mr. Agony: My hair is coming out at night no matter how I try. What shall I do?—Dear Madam: Move over to the edge of the bed and you'll drop off in no time.

Dear Mr. Agony: My hair is coming out so fast I don't know what to do. What should I get to keep it in?—Dear Sir: A paper bag.

"Darling, please be mine. I'm not rich like Percy Smith; I haven't a big car or a fine house, but I love you."

In Carbondale two can live as cheaply as one—providing one has lockjaw.

Do you think your soul will forget all he learned at college? I hope so, he can't make a living necking.

A 105 year old veteran, the oldest veteran in the state, was recently asked to what did he owe his long life. He replied, "I owe my long life to the fact that I never smoked, drank, or went out with women—before I was 12 years old."

Prof.: Didn't you have a brother in this course last year? Student: "No sir, it was I. I'm taking it over again."

Her lips quivered as they approached his. His blue frame shook as he looked into her blue eyes. Her body trembled as their lips met and he could feel his chest heaving, his chin vibrating and his body shuddering as he held her close.

Little Gallery Features Outstanding Paintings by Senior Art Majors

By Emily Farham Now showing in the Little Gallery is an arresting exhibition of paintings by students of Southern Illinois University which will run until June 1, after which an exhibition of the color-paints of Boris Margo will be hung.

Five of the six painters who are now exhibiting, the current show, represents the culmination of four years' training as majors in art. Kinsey Jitodi, James Nettleton, Clarence Hill, Norman Henderson, and William Stone are all present. One exhibiting painter, Jane Wallace, is a sophomore.

The five works by William Stone are perhaps more mature than those of other painters in the collection. They are accompanied by considerable technical facility, a sure knowledge of composition and a certain subtlety in the use of color. Oscar Worms is choice of color and setting. The complexity of the composition, reminiscent of the painting of Gennane, and for its unity of tone. The bitterness of the work's commentary on life is supported by the artist's choice of form. Artist Margo's four matted oils, placed on the movable scroll at the South end of the gallery, underscore his rather excessive subtlety of color and setting.

"Imaginary Landscape Kinsey Jitodi exhibits three canvases—a landscape, a figure study and a painting of a sculpture. The landscape is a study of tendons and textures, is close to the surrealist school. It is a carefully executed work. The large landscape, Mystery City, an organization of dynamic vertical planes is a strong composition, painted with a yellow light. The subject-matter employed—ruined walls, along with the yellow saturation, succeeds in creating an effect of mystery, as the title indicates. But it is a lusty variety of mystery with a gay sun overhead and happy trees growing out of the average scene. In contrast to the other two, this is a study of form and texture. The Mystery City is a traditional figure painting done from a posed model, but painted in Miss Jitodi's characteristic style.

Three of the show's important canvases, hung together at the south end of the gallery, are by sophomore Jane Wallace. The three figures from The Obsequy of the Shell, a non-objective painting, conveyed expression work that was painted entirely from imagination and memory. The painting is unusual in that, with the exception of few blue spots, all of the colors used are variations of flesh tones. The composition, which employs black poses, is at once simple and complex, incorporating several influences. The background is a composition within a composition. Green Turban above Turquoise Eyes is Miss Wallace's successfully stylized portrait of her roommate at Southern, The Spirit of Music, a non-objective painting executed with both palette knife and brush, is a work of real distinction and one of the noteworthy paintings in the exhibit.

THE VETS' CORNER

By Ralph Grasmeyer

WOLFE LEAVES VA. Ernest P. Wolfe, former chief of the VA Guidance Center, has left the University to go to the VA with the University, just on campus. According to information, duties will be in connection with the Veterans' Housing program here. The University's staff of this column wishes to thank Mr. Wolfe for the fine cooperation which he bestowed this column in its attempts to be of assistance to veterans.

THE VA URGES ALL Veterans in education and training programs not to write or contact VA offices asking how to qualify for increased allowances. The VA has changed its rates, ceilings and number of dependents. The higher rates will be paid automatically to those GI bill trainees whose existing applications for VA benefits are still in process. No further action is needed to certify them for increased allowances authorized by the recently enacted law.

Adjustments for disabled vets training under the GI bill will be made on or after June 1. Veterans of the (Public Law 16) and qualified to receive additional benefits also will be automatic. When additional information is needed from veterans training under the GI bill, they will be given a form from the VA asking for the necessary data.

As Others See Us

By Donald Smith Jabber

While I was coming from New York by train I met an Argentine student. He was mad at the American people. All the way to Chicago he cursed them, and the day he left he said, "My work is in the land, but I have no experience with the American people. I asked the reason for all of his bitterness. He said, "I am a poor man, when I first landed in New York, I had a map of the city, but I could not afford to ride in cabs. I was glad to get the map, and I asked the man who sold it to me to show me where I was. He knew I was lost, and he took me to a place where I became more worried and uncertain. I thought I was a big fool not to go to England, which is the place I was supposed to go for school, at first."

For all the rest of the day, I could only think of the difficulties. I would have transferred my application back to England, the sea sickness was so bad that I was unable to tell the father, and all the different ideas which come to one's mind when you are in trouble.

Finally I gave up those ideas, and started thinking about my very near future. I thought about getting a hotel room in Carbondale—at the same time I wondered how I could get it. I had a little town. I expected to put my luggage in it, and then go register. I spent the rest of the time wondering how I would get along with those Americans, and I could state that they were not the way they treat foreign students.

At 12:00 the next day, I reached Carbondale. I was worried, restless, uncertain, and tired. When I got off the train, I saw a bunch of boys, about ten of them, waiting at the station. They came forward and asked me if I was the student from New York. I said, "Arabic, as the 'Egyptian' wrote last week. I told them, that was right, then they told me their names and we started shaking hands. I said, "I am not a student here, but I had a bad impression about Americans. I thought that Chicago was not very far from Carbondale, and these were men from Chicago. I said, "I am not like I used to see in the movie at home, and who are tryto the VA the first of these forms are already in the mail. The forms are to be filled in the forms completely and returned (if possible) as early as possible to the VA. Adjustments will be made on the basis of the material received.

The first adjustments that possibly can be made will be in June. Substantial allowances payable on or shortly after July 1. It is more likely that most of the initial adjustments will be made. If not made before the July adjustment check are sent out about August 1.

Veterans now training will receive all increased allowances from new rates back to April 1, if they return their completed forms prior to September 1, 1948. The initial payment at the adjusted rate will include all increased allowances from April 1 through the end of the subsistence period covered by that check.

Veterans attending school on a part-time schedule will be paid allowances on the basis of the increased subsistence for which they qualify. Subsidies are paid for full time, as well as three-quarter, half, and one-quarter time. No increase in allowances will be made for those whose school work is not the equivalent of at least one-fourth of a full-time course.

ANOTHER BONUS CHECK Another GI on campus, received his Illinois bonus check this past week. He informed us that his serial number was 239,396. So keep up your spirits, boys, it shouldn't be too long now.

NOTICE TO VETERANS All veterans living in the Ordinance Plant Housing Project of the Chautauque Housing Project are asked to notify Van A. Byrd, 227 West Adams, Carbondale, Ill. 62901, as to whether or not they intend to vacate their apartments during the summer term. Those shown those who have so far been allowed for a total of $4,250 to be vacated at the Ordinance Plant.

Through the rain and mud, with out although of turning back, came a bus load of co-eds from Cape Girardeau to participate in Southern's Sportday, Saturday, May 15. Even though the weather was anything but perfect, basketball, tennis, archery and softball were played. Softball, played in the men's gym proved to be a little difficult, and was really not very exciting, there were no hits to stumple into, and no ball lost, since the walls surrounded the field served as a never-failing backstop. Luncheon was served overseas and entertainment and singing followed.

The W.A.A. in conjunction with the "Y" Club and Girl's Rally, will decorate the gym for Spring Carnival. Betty Longdon is chairman of the W.A.A. committee.

The Softball Tournament began May 18th. Three teams are playing. Lillian Albert, student manager with the assistance of Miss Theresa Ivanuck, instructor, have been leading softball this year.

The teaming schedule, which will vary according to the weather is posted daily on the bulletin board.

Movies Are Shown At Meeting Of Agriculture Club

Movies were shown at the Agriculture Club meeting Tuesday at 7:30 according to Clarence Cox, reporter for the club.

Movies shown at the meeting were: "Forest and Conservation" "Wearing Away of the Land," and "The Dodger."

Besides these movies, the club discussed plans for making a float for the Commencement.

Soft drinks were served at the close of the meeting.

SIGMA BETA MU
Sigma Beta Mu received the first trophy in basketball for the Carbondale league.

The Sigma Beta will have two concessions at the Spring Carnival: archery and nail driving. Quentin Stinson is in charge of the archery concession and John Griffith is in charge of the nail driving concession.

The pledges were warmly received by the activities after skipping out on the meeting last Tuesday.

NU EPSILON ALPHA
An exchange party was held with the Sigma Sigma Sigma society behind the Nu Epsilon Alpha fraternity house last Thursday night.

Another party was held with the Delta Sigma Epsilon society on Tuesday of this week.

The NEA track team set the interfraternity track meet next week is shaping up on schedule.

Plans for Greek week and work on NEA's Spring Carnival float and home are progressing according to Vince Campanella, chairman of the float committee and Robert Carmody, chairman of the booth committee.

The NEA's and the Delta Delta Chi fraternity in a softball game yesterday. Final score was 12-7.

TAMARACK
Members of Tamarack held a water roast in the back yard Tuesday night.

Eva Johnson of St. Louis was the guest of Helen Francis last weekend.

ANTHONY HALL
Anthony Hall had his annual spring formal Friday night, May 15. The theme, "Southern Gentility," was ably carried out by the decoration committee, headed by the Almas "Paka" Nordmeyer; the program committee, headed by Charles Waggoner; the refreshment committee, directed by June Cannon; and the invitation committee headed by Joan Ann Bierk. Ernie Lewis furnished the music.

Plans for Spring Carnival are being completed at the Hall. Ruth Shafer is chairman of the concession committee, Marge Raback and Huzko Musko are co-chairman of the float committee, and Patricia Morris and Betty Scheuchler are co-chairman of the house decorations committee.

TRI SIGMA NEWS

Majoring in physical education and minoring in commerce, she plans to teach physical education. Further showing her interest in sports is the fact that she was counselor at Camp Widiwagan at Springfield last summer.

A great deal of her spare time is spent in her new hobby—knitting. At the present moment she has knitted one sweater, one neckerchief, and she is working on another sweater. She likes popular music and folk and social dancing.

Besides being president of W.A.A., she is a member of Modern Dance Club, Secretary and treasurer of Anthony Hall, a member of Anthony Hall house council, a member of Delta Pi Kappa, physical education sorority; Hall house council, and her name appeared in Who's Who in America Universities and Colleges this year. GRANITE CITY BAND PRESENTS CONCERT TO LARGE CROWD

By Jack Turner

The 85 piece Granite City band, under the direction of Mr. Louis Meeks, played to a large crowd in Shryock auditorium last Thursday. Starting their concert with a lively melody from "My Hero," the group swung into the overture "A Night in Algiers." Featured in this selection was an oboe section that was no less than perfection personified.

Holding the feature spot on the program was Miss Betty Kline, whose E-flat alto solo, "Fantasy in F Minor" could only be heard to be appreciated. Her perfection in tone and chromatic work was a thing of beauty to all.

Following Miss Kline's solo, Mr. Meeks stepped from the podium to allow Harold Hines of the SIU music department to conduct the band in Sousa's "Washington Post March."

The group left Southern shortly after the concert to continue its tour of the southern part of Illinois and Kentucky.

The A Cappella Choir returned to Southern to present its first recital of the year on campus last Monday night. Opening its program with three selections in Latin, the choir smoothly rolled through its numbers with the ease and ability which has made it one of the top choral groups in American colleges.

Highlighting the recital was the performance of Southern's Madrigal Singers. Their interpretations of "Begone! Dull Care," "Just as the Tide Was Flowing," and "My Bonnie Lassie She Smiled," was proclaimed by many as the top presentations of the evening.

Solo parts by Lorraine Carrington, Carbondale, Fana Whittle, West Frankfort, and Jacqueline Davis, Salem, were said by many critics to be among the best that Southern has offered in many years. The choir, led by Floyd V. Wakeland, concluded their evening's performance with the selection, "I Am Music."

Southern's potent track squad will defend its unblemished record here Saturday as they entertain the 20th annual conference meet of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

A strong Northern squad from DeKalb, winner of last year's title, is favored to repeat its victory this year, but both Southern and Eastern have squads which may provide the Huskies with plenty of trouble.

Northern, who recently finished second at the powerful Elmhurst meet, has depth in its squad in addition to having several outstanding stars. Northern's two pole vaulters, Hummerberg and Grinkle, have both won 12.7 this year, and are well ahead of the field. Northern's high jumper, Marston, has turned in a 6-4 mark and is favored to win the high jump.

Excellent races are shaping up in the high hurdles, 880, and two-mile run. In the hurdles Joe Hughes of West Frankfort, Northern's Bayer and Northern's L. Sullivan are the 120-yard course in 15.8 sec.

In the 880, James of Western, Spiller of Eastern, Jones of Normal, Drynan of Northern, and Southern's Goff are the 120-yard course in 15.8 sec. With Joe McLafferty of Southern and Nelson and Miller of Northern in the 200-yard two mile run, there may be a seldom-seen close finish in this event. McLafferty recently set a subbol record with a time of 10:14.4 while Northern's men have been ranging very near the 10 minute mark.

There will also be rugged competition in the mile. McLafferty, Goff, and Northern and DeKalb's Goff are all outstanding in this event. The time may go below the 4:30 mark.

Western's sprint star, Ronnie Jackson, seems to be the stand-out dash man, having a 1:00 sec. time in the 100 and a time of 22.2 sec. in the 200. Southern's Bender and Southern's Joe Budde of Belleville may also give Jackson some keen competition.

Records May Fall
Two records—the shot-put and discus—have a good chance to be shattered. Southern's famed Quentin Stinson of Eldorado will be out to break the old discus mark of 148 feet 5/8 inches set by Behan of Northern in 1941. Stinson's best throw thus far this year has been 145 feet 7 inches.

The other prospective record-breaker is Lenley La Rose of Eastern, who will be out to break the shot put record of 46 feet 9/8 inches which he set at last year's meet. His best heave this year has been 47 feet 11 inches.

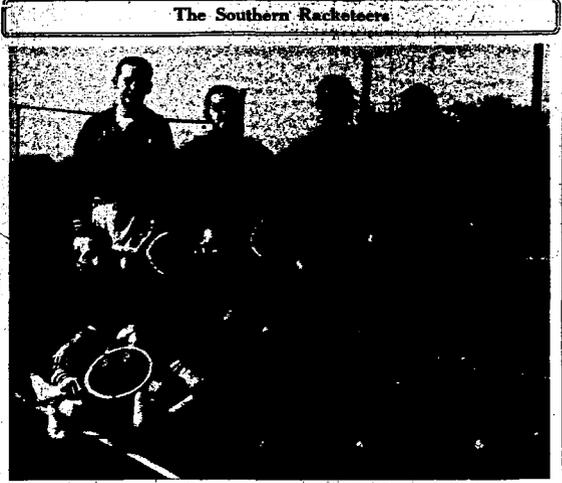

Last year Northern won the meet with 78 1/2 points with Southern second with 57 1/2. In 1946 Southern won the meet with an all-time record total of 86 points.

In addition to those already mentioned notable Southern athletes entered in the meet include Charles Matthew of Eldorado.

Courtmen Defend Title In IAC Tennis Meet

Southern Illinois University's tennis courts will be the scene of the annual conference meet on Friday and Saturday of this week as the Maroons will attempt to defend the I.I.A.C. tennis championship they won last year. Match play will begin at nine o'clock on Friday morning with the finals being run off on Saturday.

The Maroon Netstars, under the guidance of Coach Bill Freeberg, are not favored to retain their title as none of last season's best performers are around. However, the local lads are improving rapidly and are rated as a possible dark horse in the meet.

Southern has broken even in two starts against conference squads this season, losing to Western in their final match of the year and then later routing Illinois Normal. Little is known about the prowess of Eastern's squad, but if they are up to par, they'll present teams from those schools, they can't afford to be ousted out of the picture. At this writing, Western's squad is expected to triumph Southern as the conference champ with Normal given an outside chance.

Freeberg's charges will meet the meet with a record of five wins and three losses, having beaten Cape View, Franklin, Evansville, and Normal and losing twice to St. Louis and one to Western.

It appears that Southern's power will be in the double play with Bill Williams and Jack Mawdsley teaming up for one set and Bob Armstrong and Q. D. Miskell pairing up as the pumber two team. In singles competition, Williams and Mawdsley, both of whom are inexperienced in conference tennis, are Southern's most likely point getters. Dick Vorwald is improving rapidly and he, too, might come in for some consideration as might Bob Harmon and Armstrong.

The match with Washington University in St. Louis last week was cancelled because of wet grounds.

William E. Wilkinson, senior from West Frankfort, has been signed to position of head track coach and assistant football and basketball coach at Sioux Falls, College, S. D. "Wilky" was a member of the I.I.A.C. champions at the first change of the new organization. Corn Bowl, the only bowl game in the Middle West. He has received many injuries from his participation in both varsity and intramural sports. He is well known for his trick knees, he had a broken ankle and other injuries. He is known for his spunky competition regardless of his size, 5' 7". He has served as athletic manager twice.

The Athletic Director of Sioux Falls College is also an alum of Southern, Bill Hazy of West Frankfort, who completed his graduate work at Columbia University.

Maroon Notes

Our sport star of the week is Joe Budde of Belleville, one of the "in" additions to the Maroon track squad this season. Joe was recognized as one of the outstanding sprint men in the state in his prep days at Belleville High. The day after he graduated he was seriously injured while in service. The doctors said he'd never run again but Joe proved them wrong. It was a long and arduous road to his winning stride and new ranks along with the conference's best.

Gene Dart, Washington University, was clocked in at 10.1 the other day and looks like he'll give Joe some competition in the century next week. Joe defeated Dart seven out of eight times, however, when Gene was wearing the colors of East Side High.

Incidentally, Joe Budde whizzed across the finish line in 9.9 in a time trial this Tuesday. Ronnie Jackson of Western, being the Cape Indians are defending champion of the Missouri Teachers Conference.

Southern's triumph in the century, not once, but twice... another feather in our cap!

We noticed a cartoon on the Sport page of the Northern Illinois paper out of the headlines carrying a turkey-symbolical of the I.I.A.C. track championship. Above the cartoon is the caption "How Soon Southern may be a long time if Southern is at its best this Saturday."

The expected duel between undefeated Washington U. and our Southern Maroons failed to materialize as "old man weather" interfered and the game was called off. The meet will probably be run sometime after the conference meet. The date is set for next Wednesday.

The problem of choosing the outstanding athlete of the year at Southern falls to the honor award winners. Personally, we wouldn't like to be in their boots with Hughes, Stinson, Colborn, and all to pick from... the Henry Hinkley award will be then presented to the winner at the Carbondale Businessman's banquet on June 1... all letter winners are invited.

Just received the "hot" news that the Minneapolis Lakers, one of the outstanding professional basketball teams in the nation, have drafted Southern's Quirt Simpson. This is the team which George Mikan, the great All American, stars.

MARTINMEN LOSE TO NORTHERN 14-4

Seating seven runners in the fifth inning, the Northern baseball team drubbed the Maroon squad 14-4, last Friday afternoon at DeKalb.

The Huskies gathered 18 hits of the combined twirling of Maroon hurlers Marion Moakle and Byron Hargis, while the Martinmen were collecting seven base hits out of the Northern pitcher, Boyce.

Northern put together three hits to produce a run in the first inning, but the Maroons came right back to score and tie the contest in the second, as Bill Beyer doubled and came home on Charlie Green's single.

The Huskies picked up two tallies in the third on an error, a hit batsman, two stolen bases and a single. They made the score 4-1 in the fourth when they scored once more on an error and two hits.

Bob Geahly's home run with two mates aboard tied the score in the top of the fifth, but then the roof caved in and the opposition scored seven markers on six hits and two miscues.

Northern put together five more hits in the eighth for three runs to complete the scoring.

By Dick Vorwald

Enough can and has been said for our athletic teams thus far this year. They have been as successful as one could wish for without being illogical. Now we urge the body to support the sports by their attendance and to be here for the many other interesting events in the Spring Carnival. The big athletic event, as we know, is the I.I.A.C. track meet here Friday and Saturday. Of course, right with it is the tennis teams meet. Out at Chautauqua street district, the Maroon baseball team will take the field. They all need the support of the school, some worse than others. The baseball team having beaten the best college team in Illinois, Normal, twice; still hasn't even swayed the joy of having a band of supporters. Not taking anything away from the tracksters of "Doc" Lingie, the baseball team could use the backing and the West Hill Dogs (you figure it out) constitute a few. The arguments are few and far between. So for the formula for settling a serious dispute has been "We'll play you next week."

Have many of you happened to stray to the practice football field after school? Those who have tell you that amidst paraphernalia of baseball, softball, and other sports there is in all probability a so-called unrecognized softball game. This is not true in the sense of the word. Although not organized by the Director of Intramural Sports, William Freeberg, this year, there has been a voluntary organization by some who have taken it upon themselves to do so. In this group, there are all the fraternities and fellow from various hometowns who "stick together", and some independent houses that have schedules filled for two weeks in advance. The five frats, KDA, Chi Delta, Delta Chi, NEA, Sigma Beta, Independent, Utopia-Slobovia, Fighting Fogs from Mt. Vernon, Flickerweed, Rompka, Benton, Maroon, Scodding, Harkishurg, and the West Hill Dogs (you figure it out) constitute a few. The arguments are few and far between. So for the formula for settling a serious dispute has been "We'll play you next week."

Honestly, though, the sportsmanship has been unusually good and the interest is high enough that there have been spectators at all games this week. Turn a team and let one of these organized bodies know you want a game... You'll get one!
