Manager Denies Refusal to Rent To SIU Negro

By John Eppenheimer

The manager of imperial-rial housing, Donald Yeomans, denied Thursday that he refuses to rent to Negroes and said that the Student Senate housing commis-sioner did not ask him for this decision.

Carl Alexander, who manages apartments at 408 S. Wall, which are owned by Jerome Robinson, said Alexander has always been his policy to rent to Negroes. Alexander is to meet at 10 a.m. today with Karl P. Allem, of the Off-Campus division of the SIU Housing Office, to in-vestigate a complaint by the Student Senate.

Axman said he heard the story in Wednesday’s Egyptian detailing charts aga-inst him made by Senate housing commissioner Richard Wallace.

Wallace said at Wednesday’s Senate meeting that a Negro ap-plicated for housing for full term at Imperial West at 4 p.m. Wednesday and was told none was available. Wallace said he then went there at 4:20 p.m. and was told he could have housing for fall.

Alexander said he was not even there at 4 p.m. Alexander therefore could not have turned the Negro down. Wallace has not identified the Negro.

Alexander said he was filled up for fall term and has not even been there for some time. He said two Ne-groes asked at 5 p.m. Wednesday if there were vacancies for fall and he (Continued on Page 8)

Music Student Essay Winner To Get $500

A. Lynne McBain, a sophomore music student from Omaha, Neb., has won the 1967-68 Value of Education essay contest sponsored by the SIU Foundation. She will receive a $500 award at the SIU Honors Day Convocation in Edwardsville May 15.

Miss McBain is a student of pianist Ruth Slenczynska, professor of music and artist-in-residence at the Edwardsville campus. She has been active in several musical groups as an accompanist. The essay contest was established by the SIU Foundation at the request of an anonymous donor who said he was concerned with the large numbers of people dropping out of schools prior to completion of their college educations. The winning essay will be printed in the May edition of the Sou'wester, SIU's literary magazine.

Site Hassle

Ridiculous

The maneuvering over the choice of an agreeable site for the preliminary talks between the United States and North Vietnam has been on. The bargaining shows that neither country seems prepared for quick talks. It is agreed for both the parties, and particularly the United States to make sincere attempts to settle the deadlock at some site to bring about peaceful negotiations.

The site proposed by President Johnson in his announcement on May 31 as "Geneva or any other suitable place" as a meeting ground and by North Vietnam Foreign Minister Nguyen Dye rinh as "Cambodia or another place to be mutually agreed upon" are deemed unacceptable by Hanoi and U.S. respectively.

Not too later added Warsaw on the list. On the other hand, the United States came out with Laos, Burma, India or Indonesia as possible sites. Besides, the Secretary of State Dean Rus k, in his press conference, presented ten additional countries acceptable to Washington—Ceylon, Japan, Nepal, Afghanistan, Malayasa Pak isan; Italy, Belgium, Finland and Australia, where, with the exception of Ceylon, North Vietnam has no diplomatic relations, and naturally the offer was turned down.

Moreover, the names of the countries proposed by the Secretary of State are not fully in line with the four requirements for a meeting place put forth by President Johnson: to be neutral; to offer communication facilities for the representatives of U.S. allies; to provide an atmosphere conducive to a mutually agreeable setting giving neither sides a psychological advantage or handicap.

The United States is to meet the Hanoi's demand, Warsaw seems to fulfill the necessary requirements in both the countries, has no diplomatic relations with the Polish government.

To say the place is unacceptable because it is a communist country which supports Hanoi, is irrelevant. In fact, Warsaw has been a regular meeting ground between the United States and Communist China for years. Besides, the administration's oft repeated statement to the Senate that it is "ready to meet Hanoi "any time, any place" will not carry any significance as Warsaw stubbornly continues to persist. Also it may covertly reflect the inconsistency of U.S. policy as far as the Far East is concerned.

The other possible site, as proposed by the Secretary of State, is Paris. It is, however, following法国's policy and has relations with Hanoi.

Warsaw is not simply to quibble but instead, to show some earnest effort and willingness so that the adversary can be made to realize that they can go to Warsaw but also know the stakes involved. That if were to be exhibited the cause and consequences of the use of armed force or a specific pledge that troop movements, to indicate that American forces would not be sent to world trouble spots, he says, would open up Pandora's box by inviting "the communists to go wherever they want to go.

But then nobody, including Senate Majority Leader S tanford Kennedy, has suggested a gen eral declination of the use of armed force or a specific pledge that troops would not be sent to this or that trouble spot. The question—and it is one to which millions of Americans want a clear-cut answer—is whether our policy makers have learned anything from the Vietnam experience.

Mr. Humphrey stoutly insists, administration that students today require less 'culture' than those of a few years ago? Or is it a mute testament to the fact that students who are supposedly adults are incapable of seeking their own level of cultural enlightenment? Students quite naturally resent having to attend lecture hall like school children and forced to listen to persons or groups in which they haven't the slightest interest. As long as students are forced to attend oratory with only minute excellent and mediocre performances, I'm afraid that audience unrest will prevail. The Administration has only to eliminate compulsory culture and make it optional in order to achieve attentive student audiences.

Hodl Usually Silent at Senate

To the Daily Egyptian:

After reading the letter from James Hodl, I can come up with better ideas. I've attended most of the Senate special meetings, and only heard James Hodl stand up and speak once and that was at Wednesday night's Senate meeting when he helped vote down marijuana. If the student senators do not discuss this issue for the students, then who can?

I also know that when there was work to be done, Gary Krisher and Ray Lenzi were there to do it. I have not seen them lacking in their responsibilities to the students as other senators have. All I can say is people in glass houses shouldn't throw stones. I don't remember James Hodl doing one significant thing for the students since his term has started and if he can come up with better ideas other than University channels, I wish he'd bring them out into the open, so the rest of us can gain from them.

Wages, Conditions Need Improving

To the Daily Egyptian:

The Student Employee Association has discovered that, simultaneously with the minimum wage, UII abolished the automatic 500 hour wage increase. This has had no effect towards the minimum wage, and also but also know the stakes involved. If that were to be exhibited the cause and consequences of the use of armed force or a specific pledge that troops would not be sent to this or that trouble spot. The question—and it is one to which millions of Americans want a clear-cut answer—is whether our policy makers have learned anything from the Vietnam experience.

Neo-Nazis Advance

In Germany

By Antero Pietila

If the results of the Baden-Wurttemberg state elections last week bear any significance on national scale, West Germany's extreme right-wing National Democratic Party (NDP) is in to what can only be considered as victory in the 1969 federal elections.

The 9.8 per cent the NDP polled in Baden-Wurttemberg was the party's most impressive show of strength since its formation in 1965. To date it has advanced in all state elections it has entered. It is now estimated the party will very well be able to win even 20 seats of the total of 499 in the Bundestag (Federal Assembly) in next year's elections.

This newest gain made by the NDP, an extreme right-wing party with national socialist overtones, is an alarm signal which should not be lightly disregarded. At the same time it should be remembered that a great majority of voters in Baden-Wurttemberg voted for parties dedicated to the democratic ideals.

But both partners of the reigning grand coalition government, the Catholic Christian Democratic Union and the Social Democratic Party (SPD) are handing out millions to foreigners on the basis of self-determination, it means that the former German territory now under the rule of Poland and Czechoslovakia should be reunited to Germany. When the NDP made its first important gain in Bavarian state elections, in 1966, Paul Lucko, Federal Minister of Interior, had this to say about people voting for the party:

"An overwhelming majority of those who voted for the NDP and were not members, could find a political home within one of the parties represented in the Bundestag. They are mainly small independent business people, shopkeepers and clerical employees, who are mostly between 45 and 60 years of age. There are more Protestants than Catholics, more refugees than people born locally.

"They are troubled, they are worried, they are dissatisfied about the present political crisis and the supposed economic crisis and its expected political consequences. What is actually a period of economic reconstruction is seen as the beginning of an economic breakdown. There is evidence that the lack of progress in the questions of German reunification and European integration has driven many people into the arms of the demagogic, right-wing NDP."

This statement is still basically valid. But in the case of Baden-Wurttemberg the NDP also benefited from the backlash of the recent violent student riots. The NDP charges that the government is too light-handed in dealing with the students.

The viewpoint of the NDP is further explained in an interview a correspondent of the London Times had with a spokesman of the party. The spokesman claimed that the NDP "had no connection at all" with the former Nazi party but "represented a national wave of revolt, independent of all parties, against the belief that Germany alone was responsible for World War II."

He said that "we are not anti-semitic" and that "we are a democratic party." Denying that there were "old Nazis" in the party, the spokesman claimed they were "a young party concerned not with yesterday but with today and tomorrow." (The organs of the NDP, however, constantly voice strong criticism of the Jews and of the 25,000 card-carrying members of the NDP last year, nearly 2,000 had belonged to the Third Reich NSDAP already before Hitler came to power, according to a study made by Federal officials.)

In internal policy the NDP stands for "decency and order" while in foreign policy it advocates closer cooperation with France. The party believes that Germany and the whole of Europe should be independent, "not a colony of the United States." The NDP demands resistance to the encroachment of foreign capital on the German economy. It also condemns aid to developing countries overseas by saying in its program "We are handing out millions to foreigners on orders from abroad."

Despite its strong showing in Baden-Wurttemberg the NDP is still rather weak, especially after last summer's power struggle within the party apparatus. But it is apparently getting stronger and the real danger of its advancement may not be felt in Germany but in the field of international politics.

For years the Soviet Union has been rather oversensitive in regard of the German right-wing. Several notes have been sent from Moscow to the Bonn government as well as to the allied nations about the "danger of certain right-wing militaristic German elements." And last summer three Eastern European communist countries, Poland, East Germany and Czechoslovakia established "iron triangle" by signing multi-lateral treaties of "friendship and cooperation." These treaties were clearly aimed at "danger" of the Bonn government determination to retain the current borders regardless of Bonn's opinion.

Thus, the real danger of the strengthening of the German right-wing is that it may eventually have a curbing effect on the current liberalization in Eastern Europe and cause refreezing of the cold peace in Europe that has lately been thawing.

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Joseph Rizer, a stocky 40-year-old salamander, carpenter, received a new heart Thursday. Stanford University Medical Center said his condition was "fair" after 4 1/2 hours of surgery.
Rizer is the eighth person in the world to receive a human heart transplant. His was the second at Stanford where Dr. Norman Shumway and a team of heart specialists performed both operations.
The donor of Rizer's new heart was a 43-year-old man who died of brain damage.

He said all organizational activities must be open to students of all races.

Hanoi Against Ship Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) - An Indonesian offer of a shipboard site for preliminary talks on Vietnam was reported sunk Thursday by North Vietnam, leaving unbroken a month-old stalemate between Hanoi and Washington.

In Vieste, Italy, The Associated Press quoted a North Vietnamese embassy spokesman as rejecting Indonesia's offer to send a cruiser to the Tocchi Gulf to serve as a meeting place for U.S. and North Vietnamese emissaries charged with determining whether serious peace negotiations are possible. The word from the Laotian capital still another of the floating hopes for agreement that have arisen sporadically since Hanoi accepted on April 3 a U.S. suggestion that preliminary talks be held. The White House had agreed to the Indonesian proposal.

The State Department made plain that the U.S. government still object to an unsuitable site, it can only delay the serious business of agreeing on a suitable location which is fair to both sides.

Chairman Resigns Post

Continued from Page 1 of both extreme and moderate points of view. Senators Kennedy, Fulbright, Morse, Brooke, former Gov. Wallace of Alabama, Gov. Maddox of Georgia and Father James Groppi have all been invited by me in my capacity as controversial speakers chairman, to address the campus population. Some have turned down my request while others have asked that I keep the invitation open in light of their schedules.

"I solicited Carmichael, representing the other extreme, was also invited to speak. Recently I received word that he would be able to come on May 19. Since that time, however, his coming has been associated with me personally rather than with the office which I was heading. Because of the unfavorable light which my office of controversial speakers chairman has cast on me, I have decided to resign."

Bows to Students

NEW YORK (AP) - Columbia has offered concessions to its campus rebels Thursday in an effort to end the 10-day battle of Morningside Heights and reopen classrooms for its 25,381 students.

Classes at Columbia have been suspended for a week with no indication they can be resumed before next week as strikes continue.

Nearly all city police were withdrawn during the day from the Ivy League campus in uptown Manhattan's Morningside Heights. They were summoned in force earlier in the week to clear five buildings occupied by student demonstrators.

There were 720 arrests in the ensuing melee.

In addition, Columbia's Board of Trustees agreed to consult with community leaders on the fate of a controversial $11.5 million gymnasium being constructed in Morningside Park, which separates the university from Harlem.

The trustees also offered to consider demands for a greater student-faculty voice in the policies of the 214-year-old school.

The trustees' action came amidst plans for a student strike when classrooms reopen. A Columbia student strike committee claimed the support of more than 4,000 Columbia students.

Bell Workers Obtain Hefty Pay Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) - Telephone strikers won a three-year wage and fringe benefits increase totaling nearly 20 percent Thursday in 1968's fattest labor contract agreement thus far. It will affect some 600,000 workers across the nation.

The AFL-CIO Communications Workers estimated the settlement will cost the Bell System more than $2 billion and top company officials said it will mean higher bills for many of the nation's 50 million telephone subscribers.

Kahn Views Presidential Hopefuls

By Nick Harder

If SIU associate professor of government Melvin Kahn is right, it's going to be Nelson Rockefeller against either Hubert Humphrey or President Johnson in the November elections.

Speaking at a recent session of the Tau Kappa Epsilon lecture series in Muckelroy Auditorium, Kahn said that a coalition between California Governor Ronald Reagan and New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller could keep Richard Nixon, front runner for the Republican nomination, from receiving enough votes at the GOP convention.

Although President Johnson has declared himself out of the race, Kahn feels he still must be considered. "I wouldn't be surprised if Lyndon Johnson was drafted by the Democrats," said Kahn. He explained that the Democrats would pick Johnson for the same reason the Republicans would pick Rockefeller.

"The first commandment in politics is very simple — Thou shalt win. Johnson is a winner and so is Rockefeller," Kahn pointed out the pros and cons of the other major presidential candidates. He named Robert Kennedy as a man who has demonstrated his ability to win.

"He has tremendous political ability," said Kahn. "He also has a great deal of money behind him. He has experience, namely from his work as Attorney General. And more than any other white candidate in America, Kennedy is looked upon as a champion among American Negroes."

His youth is a disadvantage. The more mature Humphrey and Rockefeller will hit heavily on this point," Kahn said Eugene McCarthy appears to the American public as an intellectual.

"People see him as a high hat," said Kahn. "He just doesn't stir up crowds like the other candidates."

Kahn said the only way the Republicans can win in November will be to swing Democrats and independents to the GOP ticket. He felt that Rockefeller might be the only Republican candidate up to such a task.

In his analysis of the Vice-president's chances for the Democratic presidential nomination and election, Kahn praised Hubert Humphrey's image as a great compromiser.

"He's not really identified with either side of the fence," said Kahn. "Humphrey has kept himself tuned to both sides."

Kahn praised Humphrey's intellect, calling him one of the most knowledgeable men in politics and a man often regarded by his colleagues as an expert in several professional and business fields. Of Richard Nixon's chances for the nomination, Kahn admitted that the former vice-president has been far in the lead and possibly remains there now.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE
Saluki Track Team to Meet University of Kansas Saturday

It will be comparable to SIU facing Southern California in football or UCLA in basketball.

The Tennessee tandem of Mike Sprengel-meyer in challenge matches last week to occupy second-seeded position, and this week beat out Jose Villarete to take over the number one position. Villarete slipped down into the number two spot; Macky Dominguez as in third place. Sprengel-meyer occupies fourth place; Johnny Yang is ranked in the fifth place; and Jay Maggire is the team's sixth man.

The Salukis will face the number one man, Turner Howard. Howard is an honorable mention member of the 1967 All-American tennis team. He finished sixteenth in last year's NCAA competition.

Another strong competitor will be Tennessee's Tommie Motz. Motz, who has won a number of matches over top tennis players, qualified in the NCAA doubles last year.

"I hope that the team keeps developing up until NCAA tournament time. We are trying to face some of the strongest and toughest teams in that meet," Dick LeFevre, tennis coach, said. SIU will go into the tournament with a respectable 10-1 record. The Salukis' loss was a 5-4 decision to Oklahoma City.

In a change in schedule, Toledo has been added to play SIU here on May 8, Toledo in the defending Mid America Conference champ.
Several new names and faces will appear in the starting line-up as the St. Louis University football team holds its annual spring intrasquad game at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at McKechnie Stadium. The game will wind up spring practice.

The squad has been divided into red and white for the game. The red unit is composed of the all-star squad while the white team is composed of reserve players.
Salukis Battle Wyoming
With Eye on Tourney

By George Kennedy

The three-game series at the University of Wyoming which get underway tonight is important to the baseball
Salukis in more ways than one.

SIU will try to extend an eight-game winning streak, but more important is the possibility of post-season tournament action.

They have a 23-11 record, one of the best in the Midwest. And it's their record that will determine whether they win a berth in the NCAA university playoffs.

Only four teams will be district tournament of the NCAA. Champions of the Big Ten and Mid-American Conference are automatic selections, but the remaining two teams are chosen from an at-large field on the basis of their won-loss records.

Southern, playing some of the nation's top teams, has a good chance of being one of the two at-large teams.

The Salukis have made two straight appearances in the NCAA playoffs since Joe Lutz took the helm. The first two teams Lutz guided to the NCAA had records of 27-19 and 29-9.

The team has won 7 of its last 11 games.

"I feel that if we don't lose more than two games for the rest of the season, we will have a good chance of being selected," Lutz said. "If we don't lose many more I think we'll wind up with one of the better records in the area."

Selections for the tournament will be made May 28, according to Mary karow, selections committee chairman and coach of the Ohio State baseball team.

Karow can attest that SIU is a tough team to beat. His Buckeyes lost three of four games to SIU earlier in the season when the Ohioans were ranked fifth in the nation.

The SIU-Wyoming games were threatened with postponement earlier in the week because of cold weather and snow. But the last two days the temperature in Laramie has risen to the mid-70s. The three-game series will begin with a game tonight and single games Saturday afternoon and night.

Leading the Saluki hitting is Mike Rogodzinski (.301), followed by Jerry Bond (.290), Barry O'Sullivan (.287), Bob Blakely (.285), Terry Brumfield (.275) and Don Kirkland (.271).

Rogodzinski and Blakely are currently one-two in the home run department with seven and six respectively. O'Sullivan is leading in runs-batted-in with 26.

Despite two mediocre outings, John Gause is still the SIU pitching ace, with a 7-0 won-loss record and an earned run average of 1.60. Sussex is five wins shy of tying the single-season pitching mark for most victories, set in 1964 by Gene Vincent.

Following Sussex in won-loss records are Bob Ash (5-2), Jerry Paetsfeld (5-2), Howie Nicksand (4-2) and Skip Pitlock (3-2).
