12,000 Expected At Shrine Game

First Annual Shrine Grid Classic Features Southern vs. Indiana

Foiled and costumed Shriners made their appearance at an assembly this morning in preview of what will happen a week from Saturday at the First Annual Shrine Football Classic in McAndrew Stadium.

Dick McCoy Example of Shriners Aid To Crippled

McCoy was born with a club-foot. At the age of six he went to the Shriners hospital in St. Louis where he stayed for several weeks. McCoy went back for more treatments during the next three years. At the age of nine his crippled foot had been fully corrected.

Instead of being a cripple all his life, McCoy was able to take part in active sports. While in high school, he lettered in football, basketball and track.

One of the uses of the money obtained by the Shriners in the Shrine football game here Nov. 26 will be to support the various Shriners' hospitals throughout the United States.

Egyptian Needs Math; Prints Wrong Number

The mathematical ability of the Egyptian club seemed to indicate that they needed a Mid-term report of unsatisfactory progress, a couple weeks ago as we inaccurately announced that 25 per cent of Southern students received reports that were in the "B" range. The figures above, we counted the number of cards sent out and NOT the number of students to whom lists were sent.

So, as apologies for the personal debts and a promise to enroll in the non-credit math course, we now give you the correct figures as released by the dean's office this week.

Only 660 students received Mid-term reports, 186 of which were women and 479 men. A total of 879 Mid-term slips were mailed altogether.

The majority of the students receiving cards received only one card as the following figures reflect: For the women, one card—145; two cards—31; and three cards—10. Figures for the men take the count at 403 men receiving one card, 66—two cards, and only 10—three cards.

Talk about cars! Southern really has her share of unusual ones. Robert Frank, sophomore from Carbondale, believes in making his own Frank constructed this particular mode of transportation because he wanted to see if he could do it, and also, he wanted something different. This vehicle had and has 20" bicycle wheels, a motor shoe engine (four horsepower), and a chain drive. It took Frank about three or four months to assemble the frame and body from steel, wood, nuts, and bolts.

New Dial Telephone Exchange Busy; More Than 500 Calls Made Daily

With a call made by Robert W. English of the industrial education department shortly after 8 p.m. last Wednesday, Southern began using its new campus private branch exchange telephone system. As had been promised by the Illinois Commercial Telephone Co., all was ready for the launching of the new dial system at the time of English's call.

After that first call, business picked up at an accelerated rate. In Thursday, 26 calls were taken before 8 a.m., the usual opening hour. Now about 500 calls are being made daily.

After the first two days were over and after the difficulties were worked out, the system began working fine," said Bruce Benedict, who is the temporary manager of the university telephone system. The dial phone system comes under the responsibility of the business manager's office.

Few Adjustments Made Most of the difficulties encountered were due to the fact that the people making calls did not know how to use the new dial phone system.

Also, a few adjustments of the equipment had to be made. At present, operators from the telephone company are handling the calls. However, the university will soon have its own operators. They will be two full time operators and one student operator to handle calls from Southern's 71 dial and 52 old type telephones.

Plans added to the system in the near future. The new switchboard is installed in Parkinson laboratory and is operated from 7 a. m. to 10 p.m.

One of the division pages from the 1949 Obelisk will be used as the cover design for a national magazine in March, it has been announced by the Journalism department.

The School Press Review, organ of the Columbia Scholastic Press association in New York, requested permission to reproduce page 145 of the 1949 Obelisk, which is a still life photograph of athletic equipment. The photograph was made by the Naum studio. Bob East, the 1949 Obelisk editor and Mr. Nauman composed the layout.

Symphony Orchestra Presents First Concert Tuesday

Miss Valerie Kuznetz, soprano from Dupuy, will be featured soloist in the initial concert of the Southern Illinois Symphony orchestra in Shiyock auditorium on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Miss Kuznetz has appeared as soloist with the Chicago Women's Symphony, the Northwestern University Symphony, and also appeared with the St. Louis Symphony, in Kiel auditorium in St. Louis last year. In addition, she was soloist at St. Luke's Episcopal church in Eggenston, and the "Hungarian" Protestant church in St. Louis. She is teaching at present in the Dupuy community high school.

For her solo, Miss Kuznetz will sing an aria from Mozart's opera, "The Marriage of Figaro." Selections on the program by the orchestra include the "Egmont" overture, by Beethoven; "Fantasia of a Musical Clock," by Mozart; three numbers from the "Hammered Anvil" by Berlioz, including the "Hungarian March" and "Arkansas Traveler," by the modern American composer; Carl Mendel.

This concert is the first performance by the newly formed Southern Illinois regional orchestra. Musicians from throughout the area, as well as university students, form the group under the baton of Dr. Maurice Keenan, chairman of the Southern music department. The orchestra will give the same concert at Murphysboro Community high school Sunday at 4 p.m.

'I' Club To Honor Alumni Lettermen At School Dance

Southern's "I" club will honor alumni letterman at an all-school dance, Saturday night following the "I" man day football tilt between Southern and Cape Girardeau in McAndrew stadium.

Tommy Lawson and his orchestra will provide music for dancing from 8 to 12 p.m., in the Men's gymnasium. The dance is informal and there is no admission charge.

Girls attending the dance will leave 12:30 late leave. Helen A. Shuman, dean of women announced.

Men's Music Club Goes National; Joins Sinfonia

A total of 19 members of Southern's Men's Music club will be initiated Saturday as the Epistol Sinfonia, chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national honorary professional music fraternity.

A degree team of 10 Sinfonia members from Illinois Wesleyan will arrive in Carbondale Saturday at 5 p.m. with the regional governor, Kenneth Culbert, to carry on the service.

Program for the initiation will begin in the Baptist Foundation at 5:30 with a pledge service. This will be followed by a banquet in the Little Theatre at 7 p.m. The evening's ceremonies will be closed with a musical program in the Little Theatre presented by members of the local chapter at 9 p.m.

Sinfonia was first organized at the turn of the century, and has grown to more than 100 chapters located in the major colleges and universities in the country. The campus group started working on its petition to the fraternity last year, and word was received just recently that the petition had been approved.

Officers of the new chapter are: Gene Howay, president; Charles Dickerson, vice-president; Bill Hall, secretary; and Frank Groves, treasurer.

Ag Club Sends Five Delegates To 'Barnwarming'

A delegation consisting of five members of the Agriculture club on their own initiative, attended the annual "Barnwarming" at the University of Missouri. This "Barnwarming" is an annual autumn affair of the Agriculture club of the U. of M., and took place last Friday, Nov. 11.

The Ag club of the U. of M. is not only the largest and most powerful club on the campus, but it is also one of the most outstanding organizations of its kind throughout the country. "Barnwarming" is only one of the many interesting events in the club's history which is in the others they literally take over the campus and the town for the larger part of the week.

Those members who made the trip were: Robert Davis, president; Edmund Kierker, vice-president; Leon Lubber, Leon Meyer, and Earl Meyer.

Little Theatre To Give Chinese Play Monday

Flying feet, fierce dragons and an imaginative set will highlight the speech department's new play, "The Emperor's New Clothes" to be given Monday, Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. and Tuesday, Nov. 22, in a 2 o'clock matinee, in Shiyock auditorium.

The play, directed by Rollin E. Buckman of the SIT speech department, is the first of a series of three children's plays to be given at Southern this year. It will be followed by "The Ivory Door," Feb. 8 and 9, and "Mr. Dooley, Jr.," April 26 and 27.

"The Emperor's New Clothes" was written by Charlotte Chespening in 1931 and has since risen to the top of plays for children.

Gaiety is stressed throughout the settings, costumes and dialogue. Fanciful stylized Chinese robes and inter-stylized houses are typical of the theme. The two rogues—Gene Norris of Effingham and Leon Scroggins of Harrisburg, fairly dance about the stage in their search for excitement and adventure. The pace never slackens in the play progresses to a fast and delightful climax with the two rogues losing off the stage.

Haughty Emperor Joe Embser, freshman from Benton, and his roommates and best friend, classmate, Holt Jones, sparkle as the haughty emperor and the villainous Han, respectively. Emperor Embser flaunts about the stage in hilarious manner, while villain Jones sends the entire cast cowering with his masterful interpretation of the part. Phyllis Canning as the empress adds a colorful snap to the play.

Lead Ladies of the play are: Beile Barbara English (the Child), Bill Meininger (Ling), Bill Zacharias (Gene Boy), Bob Coover (Fah), Verda Sill (the Old Woman), Ann Riley (Mong), Dorothy Heburn (Tien), Weaver Martha Jeffries, Lyle Sledge and Warda Bennett, and citizens Pat Simpson, Jack Donahue and Gene Turner laugh and cry as they bring the story to a neat close.

There are two different sets used during the play. Acts I and III feature a highly imaginative and colorfully stylized Chinese street. Act II is in the palace and a theme of mystery is prevalent with sliding panels and weird figures on the walls.

The price of admission is 50 cents for both performances. Seating is being sold by the Little Theatre members for all three plays for one dollar, with cut savings.

Blanks, Blanks, Blanks

"Oh, I thought I had filled in all those spaces. . . . "Where do I go now?" "Do I stop here?" "Must my counselor sign this, again?" These are only a few of the questions asked to the checkers on registration day as weary students approach what they think is the end of registration misery for them.

They are usually sadly disappointed as the haughty eagle-eyed checkers seem to locate the one spot on the registration card that they overlooked.

But according to Norma Trotter Melton, director of registration, most of the time consumed during registration procedures is due to students not filling in the cards completely. "If each student would check his cards before he steps into line he would save himself and everyone concerned a lot of time and trouble," she went on to say.

A few of the danger spots that are "hard to see" on the registration cards are the blanks for major and number of hours completed, located directly above the class schedule. Next in line of delinquency is the front of the IBM master card. This blank was used for the first time fall term and many students were not aware of the change.

Other danger spots are the classroom numbers. These must be filled in. Schedules with this information can be found in either gymnasium. Also the instructors name for each course must be filled in.

Counselors seem to be another thorn in the side of the student, for after he has filled out his cards he must have the counselor sign the assignment card. This is also the time to force the counselor card on your adviser.

These are the things most often overlooked according to Mrs. Melton. In spite of this she declares: "The only thing the students ever really forget to do is to fill out the blanks on the cards."

Southern On The Air by Fred Criminger

TUESDAY, NOV. 15, WCIL. The last program in the conservation series sponsored by the geography and geology departments will be presented by members from these two departments and Southern's agriculture department. Lost and Found Articles Must Be Claimed Soon

Lost something?

The Lost-and-Found department in the dean of women's office named this week that all lost articles must be claimed within the next couple of weeks or they will be disposed of through a sale or similar means. Listing the list of lost articles in quantity are the bifolds, eight of these in the storeroom front drawer of Mrs. Laveta Ott's desk in the dean of women's office.

There are also seven fountain pens, seven books, six pairs of gloves, and six scarves. The books include "Milk" by Freshman English, two physics books, Math 207, History 325, and History 101. Odds and ends to be found in the over-populous drawer are a slide rule, a leather camera case, a raincoat belt, three years of glasses and two glass cases, a money belt, a leather wallet, gray winter coat, two girls' gym suits, a man's watch and odd pieces of jewelry.

Registration Is Really Quite Simple

Yes, it is much easier to win this card to gain admittance to the men's gym. 1. Right inside the door of the men's gym, the student must obtain his second string of cards. If he has any change to make in his pre-advisement schedule then in the time to see his counselor about making that change. 2. Before filling out the second string of cards, the student should obtain class cards from the individual departments for the courses for which he wishes to enroll. Then the adviser must sign the second string of cards. This is also the time that a student carrying an overload should have his schedule approved by his academic dean. 3. Just before he enters the gym, the student will receive his master IBM card, without which he cannot register. He must show to the last two tables for checking. Here also the fees are written and class cards taken. 4. As soon as the student has relieved himself of everything but a few slips and couple of cards he is ready to leave the men's gym for greater pastures. All veterans must stop outside the door to fill out an information form if they are going under G. I. bill. 5. At the bottom of the stairs, the student will receive his activity ticket. Then on his way to freedom, he is relieved of his monetary wealth. Regular students pay at the south door while those under scholarships go to G. I. bill pay at the north door. 6. And now having finished registration in record time, the student can easily find the end of the bookstore line winding around the corner of Old Main.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

It seems to me, that many of the students at Southern Illinois University have been calling the school by the name of "Southern." I, also, have been guilty of this in the past. To us, here at Southern Illinois University, the name "Southern" is very clear, but of course that is natural to us students. The name "Southern" was called to my attention the last time I was home. A friend of mine asked me where I was attending college and I answered, "Southern." He replied, "Southern what?" Can it be, that after we leave the southern thirty-one counties of Illinois, that people do not know what the word "Southern" means? Throughout the country, we have many schools with "Southern" in their titles; for instance Southern Methodist, Southern California, etc. When I hear these names I immediately know where the schools are located. Therefore, I suggest that instead of merely calling our university "Southern" that we call it "Southern Illinois" or "Southern Illinois University."

Lately, I have heard talk around the campus about changing the name of our athletic teams. The names "Southern Knights" and "Maroons" have been suggested. Personally I have nothing against either name, but I have a hunch which I think would also be appropriate. Southern Illinois was once the home of the great Shawnee Indian Nation. We also have the Shawnee National Forest here in our vicinity. I think the name "Shawnees" would be appropriate for Southern Illinois University's athletic teams.

Sincerely, Bill Waters

Southern Exposure

By Harry Reinert

After many long months, Southern's first Scarab since 1946 appeared on campus last week, and for the most part it was worth waiting for.

The printing and general appearance of the magazine was very good. And most of the contributions were also of a high caliber. However, the first glance at the index reveals one possible discrepancy—that about half of the articles were written by only two persons. We do not deny for a moment the quality of their work, but we question the advisability of using such a quantity of it. It is quite possible that the amount of material submitted was not very great—in volume or readability—and if this was the case, we hope that it would happen again. After seeing that the Scarab does actually exist, possibly some of Southern's other young writers will be moved to submit something for the next edition.

Also after a long wait, the new telephone system is finally in operation. At first this led to some confusion because of the change of phone numbers, and other mix-ups. We hope that telephones will be installed in the near future, for as the situation now rests—Old Main, for example—the phones are often located in a few offices, and when those offices are closed, there is no phone available.

Old Main got quite a face-lifting recently. We never fully appreciated the value of a coat of paint until we noticed the marked difference in the freshly painted hallways.

There is another burning issue at stake. It is hard for the author to believe that a fellow human could pull such a gross blunder with premeditated malice. So we will just assume that the mix-up pictures in this column last week was just an honest human error made by the printer. It is impossible to imagine that the editor—unscrupulous and malicious as she may be—could deliberately pull such a faux pas. If this was the case, however, we shall rise above such underhanded methods and forgive, for "to err is human. . . ." Our heartfelt thanks go to the professor who said that he didn't recognize the picture—and to those who suggest that the picture was flattering, that the author needs a shave, etc. NUTS!

(Editor's note: We suggest that the author check the laws governing libel before he makes any more such derogatory remarks regarding the editor. And besides, we didn't notice anything unusual about the column.)

(Printer's Note: We knew it was just a matter of time until the Printer was mixed up in this "feud." Woe is us printers!")

We want to pass out a couple of bouquets this week. First, it is quite pleasing to note the manner in which the class officers are acting this year. Shattering past traditions, several class meetings have already been held, and some definite plans made for the year. We think this is something that has been long overdue, and we are glad to see that someone is finally doing something constructive about it.

Also, our hats are off to the ISA for finally pulling itself up by its bootstraps and holding an all-school social event. The dance last Friday was a welcome treat after a hard week, and was very well handled.

"Well, 'pun my word: As the bartender told the drunk as he threw him out on the street, "Sleep tight."

In the French Parliament one of the Deputies, making a speech urging the improvement of the legal status of women cried: "After all, there's a very little difference between men and women!" The entire Chamber of Deputies arose and shouted as one man, "Vive la difference!"

Conscience gets a lot of credit that he longs to cold feet.

Board of Trustees To Hold Meeting With U of I Board

Southern's board of trustees will hold a joint meeting with the University of Illinois' trustees at the Hill club in Chicago Nov. 22. It was announced today.

No special business is scheduled for the meeting. Gen. Robert W. Davis, SUU board chairman, said. Instead, the main purpose of the meeting will be for members of the two boards to get acquainted.

Gen. Davis said, "We need to let the people know that we want to be friendly." He added, "We want people to understand that we are not fighting them and that they aren't fighting us."

Southern's board will hold a business session from 10 a.m. to noon Nov. 22 at 1230 E. 120th bank will have luncheon with each other. A joint meeting will be held following the luncheon.

Invitation to have the joint meeting was made by the U of I board several weeks ago. Following the Nov. 29 meeting, Southern's board of trustees' next regular meeting will be held here Dec. 14.

31 Theatre Members See St. Louis Play

Thirty-one members of Little Theatre went by bus to St. Louis Friday, Nov. 11. The purpose of this trip was to see at the American Theatre the stage play, "Summer and Snake" by Tennessee Williams.

"Summer and Snake" is the third successful long play credited to Mr. Williams, "The Glass Menagerie" and "A Streetcar Named Desire" however, usually are rated higher than this latest production.

"Summer and Snake" was first produced in Dallas, Texas, by Maxwell Jones, who later directed the New York production.

Tennessee Williams is one of the leading English or American playwrights of today. His plays are unusual in that they are not ordinary or realistic. The plays usually deal with frustrated or neurotic women. These women usually have a powerful emotional effect.

The play was staged in a very interesting way with several abstract and suggestive scenes.

Since the college has obtained a bus, it will be possible for Little Theatre to make two or three more trips during the year.

Members of Southern's board in addition to Gen. Davis, are Dr. Leo J. Brown, Carbondale; O. W. Lyster, Havana; Kenneth L. Davis, Harrisburg; Hiedell W. Stungis, Metropolis; Guy A. Gaudin, Chicago; and John Isaac Wilton, Carbondale.

Students Changing Rooms Must Give Week's Notice

Students who do not plan to remain in the same rooms next quarter are warned by the Housing office that they must notify their householder at least one week before the end of the fall term.

According to the rule concerning a student's intentions to vacate a room, "If a student expects to move to another housing house, he should notify the householder one week before the end of the school term."

Failure to notify the householder by that time obligates the student to keep the room for the other term unless he has the householder's permission to move, or unless another renter can be found for the room.

Former Siam Missionary To Speak At SCF Today

A special missionary speaker, Rev. John S. Holladay of the First Presbyterian church, Cairo, will speak on "Foreign Missions and World Peace" at the Student Christian foundation at 7 p.m. today.

Rev. Holladay was a lumberjack in Oregon until the desire to make Christianity his life work struck him. Then he went back to Chicago and was starting along with electricity when a new wave of trouble on Missouri as the only way to stop war. That talk made sense to Rev. Holladay and he decided to give his life to that.

To his credit he has seven years of school, 12 years as a missionary in Siam, 18 months as pastor in Marion, two years as civilian with the army in the Office of Strategic Services in India, Ceylon, Siam and nearly four years as pastor in Cairo. He has been across the equator six times, twice around the world, and twice half way around and back (four trips to the Orient).

Bombed In Burma

Rev. Holladay was evacuated from Siam, down the Burma Road, with his family and other missionaries; he was bombed in Rangoon 16 days out of a 19 day stay and as often as four bombings in one day. His travels extended around South Africa, and up to New York on a ship being sent home for repair after a bombing in Singapore. Then he went back to Ceylon and was parachuted into Siam, with four months behind the Jap line training guerrilla troops and sending out secret intelligence.

However, Rev. Holladay stated that he did not want to talk about the war, or tiger hunting (he said the never bagged one), or elephant stories, or trips into Inner China. He wants to talk about Missions. He has killed Cobras and Banded Kraits, and has been at the kill of a 15 foot Python. He has shot crocodiles, mountain goats, and backing deer for food, but he still will talk only about Missions. Because he has not been an average missionary, Rev. Holladay said, he does not wish to give people going into Siam to service the impression that they may expect such things to happen daily.

Egyptian Staff Mourns Death of Co-Worker

Members of the Egyptian staff were black this week as they silently mourned the death of their closest friend. Death occurred last Wednesday night at 8 o'clock and was apparently unprovoked. It was a wholesale slaughter which took place among his family.

The staff has been operating under a great handicap since his death, for he was almost indispensable. He was the greatest source of news, the bearer of both good and bad tales to the office. It would have been hard to count the many steps he saved us.

Day or night our friend was there. Even on weekends he did not yield to the temptation to jack a suitcase, but stayed on duty in the catacombs of Parkinson lab.

Although he often seemed dusty, his shiny face and ringing voice demanded our attention and respect. He was a cheery voice still ringing in our ears, we mourn his death, for what is worse than a dead telephone in a newspaper office.

SIU Officials Warn Hunters

University officials this week warned hunters that it is illegal to hunt on the university 50-acre farm.

Harvey Woods of the university farm, said numerous hunters have been searching for quail within the farm. He warned hunters that the farm is a state game preserve and that penalties identical with those in other game preserves would be levied against offenders.

The farm, which occupies the Thompson property, the old Burkett place, and the original State farm, is posted with "no hunting" signs. It is bounded on the east by the Illinois Central railroad, on the south by Chestnut road, and on the west by the fence line along the edge of Thompson lake.

President Morris Attends Handicapped Convention

Dr. D. W. Morris, university president, attended the annual convention of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults at Hotel Commodore in New York, Nov. 7-16.

Sessions on the health, welfare, education, recreation, and employment of the nation's 28 million handicapped children and adults were attended by more than 2,000 persons.

"Achieving Goals for the Handicapped" was the theme of the four-day convention.

Through 24 dramatic displays graphically illustrating the national society's three-point program, representatives saw how direct services, rehabilitation, and research are carried out.

Floyd W. Wakeland, associate professor in music, was absent from the campus last week and to postpone the spring tour for the University choir.

Chicago Sun Times To Print Picture Story of Southern

A Chicago Sun Times reporter and photographer visited Southern's campus for the second time within a year to get material for a picture story of life at Southern, this week.

Photographer Louis Giampa and Reporter John Dowling covered the campus Tuesday. The picture story will appear sometime in the near future.

New Power Plant To Begin Operation Here Next Week

Southern's new power plant will begin functioning next week, W. A. Howe, director of physical plant, announced last Tuesday.

The power plant, recently completed at a cost of over a million dollars, will heat every permanent building on the campus. The plant, which has the capacity to heat a city of 2,500 population, will require 11 men to maintain it. Under average winter weather conditions, the plant will consume one to five tons of coal an hour. Howe estimated that the cost of operating the plant, not counting electrical power, will be near $4,000 a month.

Coal is being hauled in daily in preparation for its opening next week.

SCF Will Have Thanksgiving Dinner Tuesday Night

Thanksgiving plans are underway at the Student Christian foundation. Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 6 p.m., a combination Fellowship supper-Thanksgiving party will be held at SCF. The menu reads: cranberry sauce, chicken and dressing, potatoes and gravy, peas and carrots, rolls, apple pie, milk or coffee. 50 cents. The foundation invites everyone to attend.

Also, Thanksgiving Worship services will be held in the SCF chapel Tuesday morning at seven, followed by a light breakfast. The program is supervised as yet, but may consist of meditation and music rather than a spoken.

Western Is Conference Champ As Maroons Lose, 35-0, in Mud

The rains came at the start of the second half at Mecomb last Saturday, and with the heavy precipitation went the Southern Illinois Maroons bid for their only conference victory of the year. After holding the highly-touted Western State Leathernecks to a single touchdown in the first half, the Maroons lost traction and lost their seventh straight contest of the year, 35-0.

It was quite a happy day for the Mecomb boys, however, as the victory marked the first IAC championship ever won by a Western eleven. The Leathernecks closed the conference season with a perfect (4-0) record in conference play.

Angie Marinis scored from eight yards out in the second quarter to give Western a 6-0 lead at halftime. The Western boys seemed to be befuddled by the Maroons' 43 defense during these first two periods; and though the Maroons couldn't get an offense of their own rolling in the first half, they at least prevented Western from doing so.

Southern kicked off to start the second half, and the Leathernecks took over from there. The heavy downpour at halftime made the field virtually a quagmire of mud. It continued to rain throughout the remainder of the contest, thus making the single-wing offense of the Maroons difficult to operate. The slippery ball squirmed through the hands of Southern's backs for two fumbles, both recovered by Western; and while the Maroons recovered three Western fumbles themselves, they were unable to do much with the pickup. Fred Drenzel was caught behind the goal line with a misplaced center late in the third quarter, and the miscue resulted in a safety and two more points for Western. Two more touchdown runs, one by Franklin, and one by Suhr, made the score read 22-0 at the start of the fourth quarter.

Power plays and tricky cross-backs were greatly instrumental in one of the two fourth periods, and an intercepted pass deep inside the Maroons' territory was responsible for the other. Steve Baker appeared on the field with the Maroons at approximately two minutes remaining in the game to count the final six-point play for the Leathernecks.

Southern definitely lacked any reasonable facsimile of an offense, being held to 98 yards gained from scrimmage on the ground. The Franks account for almost half this total, as he carried 19 times for 43 yards. John Organ picked up 20 yards in 10 attempts. Southern completed five out of 12 passes for 43 yards. Bob Friedman anchored a neat 499 for the winners with Glen Johnson chipping in with 446. George Brader was high for the victims with 445.

Chi Delta Chi had the distinction of registering the evening's top total on IAC which just edged out a pair of victories from Kappa Delta Alpha. Jim Thromington not only walked off with the individual high three-game haul with 566 but also tied with teammate John Crowley for high single for the initial session with a 220 game. Charles Elliott posted a 363 series for the losers.

In another skirmish, Max Alice Omega 401 inspired Delta Sigma Epsilon to a double victory over the Sigma Sigma Sigma feds with assistance from Carol Lee Romach with 382. Sue Baker topped the team list with 396.

In the remaining sets, Tau Kappa Epsilon registered the only clean sweep of the evening at the expense of Pi Kappa Sigma with 710 yards, 516 and Lee Tripp's 492 instrumental in the whitewash. Ili Albers' 401 was in vain for the victors.

Team	Wins	Loses
Tau Kappa Epsilon	3	0
Nu Epsilon Alpha	2	1
Chi Delta Chi	2	1
Nueta Sigma Epsilon	2	1
Delta Sigma Sigma	1	2
Phi Epsilon Alpha	1	2
Pi Kappa Sigma	0	3

All these questions are answered each week by five men: Russell Sell (Normal), Norm Nilsson (Southern), Bill Hurt (Eastern), Mill West (Northern), and Jack Knike (Western). Supply statistics of their respective schools in a directory who compiles them and sends them to approximately 250 subscribers and news agencies for release.

Dean Burridge (Normal) carried the ball 42 times for a net gain of 201 yards; this is an average of 5.02 per game. William John Suhr topped the ball 33 times to pick up 192 yards and capped second in this department.

The league-leading Western Leathernecks held the number one spot in team rushing average with 281 yards per game. Normal was second with 166 yards per game.

Our own Bob Colborn was tops in pass receiving and probably still is. Bob caught 13 passes, scored one touchdown, and had an average of 4.7 catches per game. Second place was held by (Moose) Randall of Northern. He was the receiving end five times for an average of 2.8 per game.

Southern as a team was first in passing average with 10 complete passes per game. Northern was crowning them with an average of nine. With 45 attempts, 16 were completed.

Perhaps the biggest news item of the basketball camp was the loss of Bob (Smoker) Coleman, promising freshman prospect from Hoopston. Coleman has been looking good during practice, and has been developed into a fine center. His play was full of size and aggressiveness.

Bob Colborn will hang up his football gear and report for practice after the Cape and Indiana State games. He is the type of player that any coach would desire to have on his team. He has no doubt ability.

Dr. Lewis A. Mavrick, professor of basketball, will attend a meeting of the National Association of Physical Education in Chicago, Nov. 19.

Mosen' Around with Bob Mosher

Last week, we said questions, answers, and comments would be made about Southern's records; well, we have received some information concerning the conference that might interest you more than the quiz program.

Up to and including Nov. 4, who was leading the conference in rushing, passing, receiving, total offense, punting, team rushing average, team passing average, and total team offense? — Bob Heimerding.

Northern was rated number one in rushing, passing, receiving, total offense attempted 32, completed 15, and came up with an average of 4.2 per play to tie down the number two position.

Wassie being top man in passing, Bob Heimerding was also the big guy in total offense. In offense, he made 313 yards on 56 plays. That is an average of 5.6 yards per play. Dean Burridge was second here with an average of 4.2 per play in 47 tries. In five punts he covered 216 yards. His average was good, too, for an average of 42.6.

Stan Lopinski (Eastern) won most yardage on 18 punts but was a little shy in the average with a 38.3 per try.

Total team offense honors went to Western who had a total of 206.6 yards per game. Burridge of Normal was leading in scoring with two touchdowns and nine total points after touchdown for a total of 21 points. Dal Sante, also of Normal, is second with three touchdowns, 18 points.

In reply to our request for questions about Southern's records, an anonymous person has asked, "How many games has Abe Martin won and lost in his stay with Southern?" Since 1936 (Mudlin's first year at Southern) Coach Martin has won 29 games, lost 42 (this year's games included), and tied five.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL PHYSICALS NEXT WEEK

Intramural basketball practice sessions are available for any Southern desiring them, by contacting the physical education department.

The required physical examinations may be taken at the Health Office, Nov. 21, 22, 23, 24, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Intramural basketball games will begin winter term.

ALL AMERICAN?—BUNK! ... before long everybody and his dog will come out with exclusive All-American selections. Bob Zupke wasn't far wrong when he said, "An All-American is a good runner who plays against weak opposition and has a poet in the press box."

Last year Grandstand Rice, who can't possibly see more than a dozen games a year, left off North Carolina's Charlie Justice, but picked teammate Art Weiner because Justice played on offense only ... Chapel Hill fans burned and proceeded to tell Rice that Weiner didn't play defense either.

The most fanciful selection of them all came here on our campus a few years ago when Bunker Jones was picked on the Little All-American team, Jones was a fine ball player, but was ignored on all the IJAC selections ... AH-Americans—phooey!

LAST CHAPTER ... we wish to acknowledge all compliments ... and complaints ... for it was pleasing to note that at last somebody was reading it. Thanks also to our undercover men who gave us such accurate reports.

Cheering sections about "Fight team, Fight ..." The sport sections of the newspapers howl "It was a fighting bunch of Mud men, etc." ... "but we say" it takes more than guts, coaching, and material to go through a season undefeated or have a long unbeaten streak. "Brasals" are about 75 per cent psychology and 20 per cent officiating, plus a remaining 5 per cent of incidentals.

Southern this season has two games left to play. Evidence on its side ... If it could only borrow a minute particle of that of the Irish.

The Fighting Illini loaned its title to its opponent, Ohio State Saturday and the Buckeyes walked away with the game and possibly the Rose Bowl invitation by using the old fight to come from behind and take the Illini to the class, 30 to 17 at Columbus, O.

The old gridiron season is but a finite proposition, however, there are still some chuke games to be played such as the Notre Dame-Navy game, Notre Dame-Southwest, Illinois-Northwestern, Ohio State-Michigan; and Kentucky-Tennessee. Of these contests all are traditional rivals and no matter what the pre-season dope is it is hailed to the wind.

Got some finer dope on Bob Neal, that palloping former Southern fullback. Since his last appearance on the pace he has packed up and left Elmore. Bob was a net back but he just doesn't care for the home atmosphere and has the old wanderlust in his shoes.

Eastern just had to play one game too many. The Thunderbolts finished with 50 points behind Normal. Eastern had 35 and Western 65. Northern did not have five men finish. Western won state championship with 50 points. Normal came in second with 87. Eastern took 110, and Southern took fourth in the state meet with 112.

The Corn Bowl lineup looks like it will be the Western Illinois Wesleyan and the Western Leathernecks come Turkey Day.

Bill Brown's West Frankfort Red Birds now have had a most disastrous season. In playing some very good ball the Birds have won two, lost six, and tied none! In those six losses, the Brownmen have not been beaten more than six points and one of them was a 12-0 scolding by Captain Hartin Tigers. Incidentally, Radio Carbutt had a very successful initial season in winning 4, losing 4 and tying one.

Maroons Seek First Win Against Cape Saturday

Still seeking their first win of the season, the Maroons will play host to the Indians of Cape Girardeau Saturday afternoon in the teams' second encounter of the year. The Indians did some high-class getting of Southern earlier in the season to the tune of 25-7.

Bill Abernathy and crew will invade the Maroon lair a hard to beat and probably improved team. In the first tilt this season, the lads from Cape scored a touchdown in a period. The hard-hitting little guy from Anna, who turned down Southern's scant offerings a few seasons ago to play with Cape, will undoubtedly give the Maroons a rough way to go.

Defense Improved ... After the severe reprimanding Coach Martin gave the boys who wear the Maroon and White Monday night concerning the Western game, the Maroons may put on a show that will surprise the most pessimistic of Southern's backers.

Southern's lineup has changed from time to time as the season has progressed and is hard to say what the starting lineup will be. It seems apparent, though, that Don Riegs, Herb Cannon, Harold Gill, John Vanderhilt, Frank Graus, Tom Grier, Warren Littleford, (Caulie) Heinz, Bob Caldwell, Lon Hinkle, Jim Leavin, Tom Criss, Don Ledbetter, J. D. Cooley, and John Odgen will see a lot of action.

Osborn of Normal edged past McLaifferty to usurp him from conference champion. This is the first time in three years that McLaifferty has not taken top honors. Osborn finished one second ahead of McLaifferty in 1930 for the three and a half mile course.

Halfworth of Wheaton won the race in 1845-8. Conference runners ran the same race with runners from other state colleges and universities. Though Osborn was fourth in the overall race, he was first IJAC man to finish to win the conference title.

Southern's Maroons retained their second place standing in the conference by finishing with 50 points behind Normal. Eastern had 35 and Western 65. Northern did not have five men finish. Wheaton won state championship with 50 points. Normal came in second with 87. Eastern took 110, and Southern took fourth in the state meet with 112.

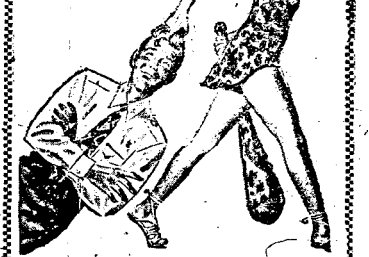

Southern's runners finished in the following order in the IJAC race: McLaifferty second, Coleman fifth, Palmer tenth, Miller fourteenth, and Menendez twelfth.
