Trustees Postpone Action On SIU FM Radio Station

SIU's Board of Trustees in its regular meeting Thursday deferred decision on a frequency-modulated radio station until its next meeting when the proposal met with strong opposition from board members.

The plan was submitted by Pres. Delte W. Morris who estimated cost of equipment would be between $25,000 and $40,000. Board Chairman John P. Wham of Centralia was concerned whether the money should be spent for some other project. Board member Robert Kern, Belleville newspaper publisher, criticized the entire plan.

Morris' suggestion called for simultaneous transmission of live programs originated at SIU through area commercial studios. He said this would be a "great all" in training radio-TV and journalism students.

It would constitute a "decided improvement" over the present system of feeding student tape recordings to area commercial stations, he said. The non-commercial station would air educational and variety programs.

Kern contended there is no great difference in training advantage of tape-recorded and "live" programs, "because in neither case are the participants visually before the public."

SIU now has an option on a 500-foot, $15,000 FM tower unit. April 1, Morris said original cost of the proposed station is $100,000. Transmission equipment would cost between $3,000 and $9,000 depending upon the location of the campus station. Cost of temporary buildings to house the station was estimated at about $3,000.

The proposed station is approved by the board, application for a license will be made immediately to the Federal Communications Commission, Morris said.

Hunsinger Drafts Faculty Play

Dr. Paul Hunsinger of the SIU Speech Department has turned playwright.

Hunsinger's play, "Mike Kado", a musical comedy, will be presented Nov. 16. However, only faculty members will see the production which will be given in the University School auditorium.

Mimicking the famous Gilbert Sullivan operetta, the play will depict the life of the SIU faculty. The plot centers about a troublemaker who professes to be a faculty member who has "come to backbiting."

The character "Mike Kado" will be played by voice instructor William Taylor, and "Ava Kado" wife of "Mike", will be portrayed by Charlotte McCleod.

Drs. Charles Tenness, George Hand, and William Marxer will play themselves. C. Franklin, Dr. Robert Kern, and Dr. High Replogle, will be the "Lend High Replogle, of Foreign Languages, will play "Woody Parker."

Jack Graham, Leslie Malpass, Elbert Hadley and Phillip Olson, are to be members of the featured chorus. Phyllis M. Olson, Mrs. Robert Mueller and Mrs. W. Fishback will sing as "Three Little Maids From School."

The ROTC faculty will appear in a special chorus number.

Co-directed by Mrs. O. E. Young and Mrs. M. J. Winkler of the Music Department, the show is being sponsored by the Faculty Women's Club. Mrs. Jeri Lindgren, president of the club, said a faculty "coffee klatch" will be held during the break between acts.

Survey To Be Made Of Area Health Needs

A survey of Southern Illinois counties to determine health needs is being planned according to Dr. Donald N. Bowdoin, chairman of the health education department.

University personnel will work with county boards of the Illinois Health Improvement Association in setting up health betterment projects.

"Several counties in the area with health improvement funds available have no program functioning," Dr. Bowdoin said. "We have trained, experienced personnel who can offer other county health boards surveys," counseling and guidance service."

Administrative heads of the IHA have met with SIU officials to outline health improvement objectives and ways of reaching these goals.

St. Louis Journalist Here Nov. 16-18

The author of a textbook that is used by four SIU journalism classes will visit this campus Nov. 16-18.

Charles Clayton, author of "Newspaper Reporting Today," will speak at a student convocation Nov. 17. He will spend the rest of his time with journalism classes and informal conferences with journalism students.

Clayton has been a member of the St. Louis "Globe-Democrat" since 1925, and he became executive assistant to the publisher in 1953. He began his career with the "Globe-Democrat" immediately after graduating from the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

He received a medal for distinguished service to journalism from the University of Missouri in 1952.

Dr. W. W. Fishback, SIU professor of education, talked concerning "A Look At Religion In Public Education" at the last session.

Service To Others Topic Of Meeting

Projects that will be a service to others was the main topic of discussion at the Kappa Phi girls club meeting Thursday at the Methodist Church.

The group which more than 17 young ladies attended, planned a tea for mothers on Wednesday. They will also sponsor a party for the underprivileged children of Carbondale at 2 p. m. Nov. 22 at the First Methodist Church.

"Our greatest contribution will be homecoming float which will be presented by our pledges," Marilyn Hixman, correspondence secretary of Kappa Phi said.

The Methodist girls club will have their next meeting, and a tentative program Wednesday at the Methodist Church.

Two pinball machines. One of the machines showed SIU a "winner" and the other said for Washington U, "tilt."

Schuchard, Bode 'Typical' Frosh

Merilyn Schuchard and Danny Bode reigned over the Homecoming bonfire Friday night as Miss and Mr. Freshman.

Merilyn is an occupational therapy major from St. Louis. She is a member of the cheerleading squad and served on the dance decorations committee for the Homecoming dance.

Danny, speech major from Collinsville, is general chairman of ISA Week. He is a recently elected member of the Student Council and emcee for the gymnastics squad.

Mr. and Mrs. Freshman were announced by last year's winners of the titles, Shriely Wall and Don Gibbs.

Ridgeway Writes Book On Pick-Sloan Plan

Miss Marian E. Ridgeway, SIU assistant professor of government, is the author of a new book, "The Missouri Basin's Pick-Sloan Plan," published by the University of Illinois Press.

Miss Ridgeway deals with the molding of congressional legislation to control the Missouri River waters and studying pressures exerted by various interest groups attempting to influence legislation. The book clarified the complicated process by which legislation is created and many of the procedures involved in lobbying.

SIU Observes Education Week

SIU is observing American Education Week this week. It began with a meeting of students and teachers of the College of Education yesterday in Shroyck Auditorium.

Dr. George Hand, vice president of business affairs, spoke on "Teaching and Tomorrow" at the meeting.

A comparison of the schools of 100 years ago to the schools of today will be the topic of John A. Allen, president of the Illinois Historical Society, at a meeting of the future Teachers of America at 7:30 p. m. tonight in the University School auditorium.

Hans Karl Mueder, lecturer and educator, will speak on "Education for World Understanding" at the freshman convocation in Shroyck Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Thursday, the University School Debater Club will debate "Whether Higher Education" in the University School auditorium at 10 a. m.

Alphi Phi Alpha Dance Friday

Alphi Phi Alpha fraternity will present its annual Sweetheart's Ball from 8 p. m. to 1 a. m. Friday in the old armory.

George Hudson and his band will provide the music. The Hudson band is the house band for Club Diva in St. Louis.

Contestants for fraternity Sweetheart are Sandra Smith, Joyce Grogans, Sandra Parker, Christine Perkins, Shirley Forbes, LaDonna Richardson and Bobbie Harris.

Southern Eagles Buy New Airplane

The Southern Eagles Flying Club bought a new Cessna 140 this week. The Eagles Flying Club now has two airplanes.

In a recent membership drive the flying club signed 25 new members.

Don Cox, member of the flying club from Marion, made his first solo flight this week in a Cessna 120.

From Denmark he went to study at Switzerland, after which he went into the interior of Kenya Colony, East Africa, where he taught reading and writing to native children.

After serving as a teacher and news commentator in Manila for over two years, he came to Honolulu where he was connected with the University of Hawaii and the local YMCA. In 1943 he came to New York City where he taught and shortly became the director of Walden, one of the oldest and largest progressive schools in the country.

Mueder, who feels the best medium to reach the public is through personal contact with an audience, has written generally on education and is the author of boys' book, "Seven and His Friends."

Sigma Pi, Pi Kaps, Sigma Taus, La Casa Manana, Wesley Foundation, Win House Decoration Prizes

Pi Kappa Sigma sorority at 506 S. Poplar St. won first place in the Class A women's division in house decorations with their "Washington's Off Beat" display.

Delta Chi To Go National Saturday

Southern will lose a local fraternity and gain a national fraternity Saturday.

The queen, her court and attendants, Pres. and Mrs. Delte W. Morris and Carl Anderson, Homecoming chairman, were in the receiving line.

John Wharton, violinist-musician and assistant professor of music, and Kenneth Mills, music graduate student, furnished background music for the Homecoming occasion.

Flowers and potted plants decorated the Woody Hall formal lounge.

Thousands Watch Homecoming Parade

Southern's annual Homecoming parade was held Saturday morning before thousands of applauding spectators.

The sun shone brightly throughout the colorful procession led by state and Carbondale police squad cars. They were followed by Marilyn Liebig, SIU Homecoming queen, in a red convertible.

Thirty-eight Southern High School bands, 38 floats, 12 comic stunts and members of the queen's court followed along University Ave. The AFROTC color guard and drill team also participated.

The theme of the homecoming, "The Sands of Time," and of the parade, "Beat the Washington Bears," was portrayed in the floats and stunts.

Winners in the float competition were: women, Johnson Hall; first place; Sigma Sigma Sigma, second place; Theta Xi, second place, and mixed, VII Student Council, first place; Arnold Air Society, second place.

Stunt winners were: Sigma Sigma Sigma, men, HOHN, and mixed group and organizations, Southern Players.

Ag Club To Make Plans For Dance

Plans for the Harvest Dance will be made at the Agriculture Club meeting at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the east barracks.

The dance will be sponsored jointly by the Agriculture and Home Economics Clubs.

Members are asked to bring cards that have been given to them. Refreshments will be served.

SIU Awards 57 Special Scholarships

Fifty-seven SIU students have been awarded special scholarships for 1955-56, according to Dr. Erwin Strack, supervisor of the scholarships and loans program.

These do not include approximately 1,300 students attending on teacher training scholarships, formerly called normal school scholarships, provided by the state and awarded by county superintendents.

Sigma Pi, Pi Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Tau Gamma, La Casa Manana and Wesley Foundation won first places in the Homecoming house decoration contest Saturday.

It took the judges three and a half hours to choose the winners. They saw each house three times. Winners were announced during the Washington-Southern game and trophies were awarded in front of the Student Union after the game.

Sigma Pi's first place decoration in Class A men, was a large model of a cuckoo clock with a dead bear. A poem on a huge poster announced the "bear died from shock."

A huge replica of the front cover of Time Magazine, complete to Saluki in fighting pose, won Delta Epsilon Chi second place in the same division. Theta Xi's "Grow Southern Grow" received honorable mention.

Pi Kappa Sigma's winning decoration in Class A women, was entitled "Washington's Off Beat" and featured a large-scale metronome.

Delta Sigma Epsilon won second place with "Bear on a Hot Gridiron," complete with brilliant red and yellow "flames" under and around the gridiron and a bear jumping up and down on the gridiron.

Pep Parade Shakes City

Sirens were wailing, torches were glowing, students were shouting and the band was playing—the pep parade was shaking the city.

The paraders, starting from different places throughout the city, paraded down University and Illinois avenues and met at a giant bonfire, between the storage racks of the men's residence hall and the Illinois Central Tracks.

After the bonfire at which all freshmen took their oath given by Pres. Delte W. Morris, a large number of students began a snake dance down Illinois Ave.

The Carbondale Fire Department and Police furnished a fire engine and a police car for the parade.

Wesley Foundation won first place in the new class C, for organizations. Theirs was a take-off on "564,000 Question."

Broadcasting Service won honorable mention in the same division.

The Student Union won honorable mention in the non-competitive group.

"We were quite happy with all the decorations," said Becky Ferris, chairman of house decorations. "There was more variation this year as far as originality was concerned. We were especially pleased with the response in Class C. It certainly helped the campus look more like Homecoming."

"I'd like to urge all groups to contribute," says for Homecoming decorations when planning their budgets for next year. Homecoming is getting bigger and better, and so are the decorations."

Judges for the decorations contest were: Dr. W. J. Tudor, association secretary of Sigma Sigma Sigma; Mrs. Forsyth, American Federation of Women's Clubs; Miss Virginia Spiller, Southern Illinois society editor and Harold Schwarm, supervisor of the Art Service.

Physiology Department To Add New Course

The Physiology department of SIU has been given permission by the university to offer a new course for undergraduates.

This course will be entitled "Experimental Animal Surgery" and will be open to juniors and seniors only. The course will be offered fall and spring terms of the next academic year.

The course deals in the surgical techniques and physiological principles of operating on anesthetized animals.

The animals used in this course will be dogs, cats and rabbits.

Anyone interested in taking this course should contact Dr. H. M. M.

No Foreign Films In Year's Movie Series

The Audio-Visual Aids Department has excluded foreign films (except British) from the movie hour this year because of the lack of interest.

Because the foreign films could not finance themselves, a new series of foreign and old Academy Awards films is being planned that will be financed from another source. Admissions are charged at the regular movie hour so that the movies pay for themselves.

Attendance at Monday night showings has averaged around 300, said Donald A. Ingli, director of Audio-Visual Aids.

Outdoor Activities Body To Meet Thursday

All students interested in bicycling, canoeing, sailing, hiking and other outdoor activities are invited to a meeting at 4:30 p. m. Thursday in the Student Union.

An organization will be created in cooperation with the American Youth Hostels. Plans will be made for a bicycle trip in the Crab Orchard, Little Grass and Giant Crab region for Nov. 19.

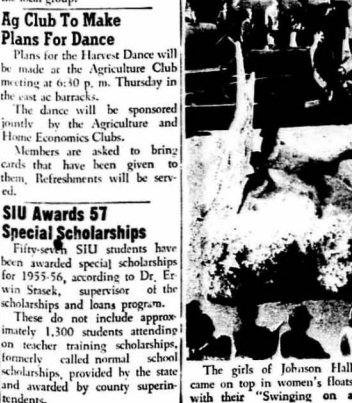

On that day hostesses from St. Louis will be guided around the area.

All interested persons who cannot attend the meeting Thursday should sign at the Student Union before 4:30 p. m. or contact Judy Bean, B-137, Woody Hall.

Horseback Riding New To REC Program

Glenn "Abe" Martin, head of the Campus Recreation committee, has announced that the campus recreation program will include horseback riding. The riding is scheduled for Sunday mornings between 9 a. m. and 12 noon, but Martin adds that additional hours will be made open to students if enough of the students indicate an interest in the program.

In case of rain or inclement weather, Martin has indicated that there will be sufficient space for indoor riding in the program. The Hillcrest Stables, one mile west of the University Cafeteria on Chautauque Street, will provide the horses.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

MAIL BOX

Dear Editor,
 How would you like to have worked in a salt mine while other people in the same level as you are, are living it up at a formal Homecoming dance? We are speaking of the fact that most of the cafeteria employees had to work for a "Clockwatcher" Breakfast from 10:30 to 2:00 p.m. on Saturday night and Sunday morning. "Salt mine" is a rather exaggerated term, but that is exactly what the Cafeteria seemed to those having to work there Saturday night. Was this fair--that we had to work while everyone else was dancing at the Armory. We are students and would have liked to have the privilege of going to the Homecoming Dance, maybe the last one for some of the employees. We don't know whose fault this is and we don't care. All we know is that we all would like to have been a part of the biggest social event of the academic year and none of us fancied the idea of working through the best hours of the night over a hot steam sifter and an unpalatable dish-noon.

Some of the employees even quit because of this. They simply couldn't and wouldn't give up this privilege of going to the Homecoming Dance. Others quit because they just couldn't work here that night even though they weren't going to the dance.

Of course, the cafeteria isn't a glamorous place to work and the people who are employed there aren't blessed with life white, uncalloused hands, because it is hard dirt work. However, we are still human beings supposedly on the same educational level with those people who are fortunate enough to work in an office or some other such interesting service. We would like, at least, to have some credit for what we do.

Last year, to cite an example, we decorated a large, evergreen tree at Christmas that reached the ceiling. We worked on it, had fun doing it, and enjoyed the finished product. But, lo and behold our satisfaction was short-lived, because a few sorority girls came over stood on a ladder, held an ornament or two, had their pictures taken around it and left, after not having put on one single decoration. To add insult to injury, the picture appeared in the year-book with the words that the sorority had the Christmas spirit and came over to decorate the Cafeteria's Christmas tree. Those girls had never seen that tree five minutes before they had their pictures taken, around it. We, the employees, decorated that tree, and we would have liked to have had the credit for it, or if we couldn't have the credit, we didn't want a sorority to. To sum it all up, we would like to say that we think this is fair. Since we are students and since we do pay tuition, we would like to have a little bit of fun instead of serving those who did have fun. We have a great deal about school spirit--how to promote it and keep it and keep it going, and yet a small minority who would like to exercise it, and are forced, literally forced, to serve breakfast at midnight. We say forced because we had one choice--either we worked or quit. And jobs are quite scarce on campus now. We think that the committee presiding over this affair should have found the people to serve it and not put that responsibility on any unfortunate employee.

Again we say, this is just! Is this school a democracy with the right to decline or volunteer as one chooses, or is it becoming a dictatorship with no choices. We the Cafeteria employees, as students and wish to be treated as such.

In closing, we would like to quote a sign we've seen around. "Ralph Flanagan expects to see you at the clock-watcher's breakfast." Well, we suppose he would expect to see us at the dance.

The Cafeteria Student Employees (Sue Milligan)

Children's Book Fair Here Nov. 16-19

A Children's Book Fair designed to "encourage good reading" will be at SIU from Nov. 16-19, sponsored by the Carbondale chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Story-telling sessions will be held each day at the Book Fair headquarters, 909 University. Herbert S. Zim, author of science books for children, will give an address Friday Nov. 18 at 8 p. m. in the University School Auditorium. Programs for teachers and parents have been scheduled at 9 p. m. on Wednesday and Friday nights.

Mrs. Alice Pector, president of the local AAUW chapter, said library specialists will supervise a display of books each day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Christmas books will also be on sale. The fair exhibit and special sessions are open to the public.

Dr. Merrick Named As Permanent Consultant

Dr. Rossell D. Merrick, assistant dean of education at SIU, has been named permanent consultant on commercial relations by the Division of American Association of Health and Physical Education and Recreation.

Homecoming committees that were tied up during the various events. What about students employees of the photographic service who never expect to actively participate in Homecoming... as well as most all the other large campus events. Let's include the photo service students in employees who take care of the sound equipment. They don't have time to dance while they're performing their duties. Sure it's easy to complain. But you people in the cafeteria aren't by yourself. It takes a lot of student time to make Homecoming successful. Some help some don't. Even so, we thank you and all the rest of the "behind the scenes" workers who contributed (willingly or otherwise, with or without pay) to make this past weekend Southern's biggest and best Homecoming.

Trustees Name 23 Appointees

The SIU Board of Trustees named 23 persons to faculty-administrative positions, 22 of them term appointees, at a meeting Thursday.

The continuing appointment were to Ruth E. Bauner, a circulation assistant on the staff of the University of Illinois, who will become an instructor in the SIU General Library next February.

Most of the term appointments were on a part-time or half-time basis for lecturers, graduate and research assistants.

Two of the graduate students are Koreans, graduates of the Seoul National University, and another was graduated from the American University of Cairo. Sarkis K. Tchekjan, Egypt, and Taek Soon Yoon, Korea, will be graduate assistants in the Cooperative Atomic and Capacitor Research Laboratory, and Jin Chull Sob, Korea, will be a graduate fellow in government.

At the meeting, the trustees last approved a sabbatical leave for mid-December to mid-February for Dean T. W. Abbott of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, who plan to visit Hawaii.

Dr. Kaplan Lectures Cybernetics Group

Dr. H.M. Kaplan, director of the Physiology department, was the lecturer at the second meeting of the SIU cybernetics group, Thursday.

"Entropy in Biology" was the topic of Kaplan's speech. The talk was the second he has given on this topic.

The cybernetics group is interested in the study of the control of communications in man and animal.

The next talk in this series will be given in six weeks by Dr. Charles Kelley, professor of Entropology.

The SIU Zoology Department has placed in the foyer of the Life Science Building two new displays.

One of these shows kinds of waterfowl that may be seen and hunted in Southern Illinois, emphasizing one of the recreational features of this area.

Homecoming Big Success

The crazy-mixed-up clock suspended from the center of the armory Saturday night, appropriately symbolized this year's Homecoming. "The Sands of Time" was the most lavish festival we can remember at Southern.

Flanagan's aggregation added that extra touch to the weekend. Smooth dance music combined with the mysterious black-lighting kept the crowd of dancers enchanted until after midnight.

Saturday was perfect for the parade and football game. The weather man cooperated with Carl Anderson, Homecoming chairman, to supply Southern with a brisk sunny day. The parade was a long colorful procession.

Half-time activities were a highlight of the afternoon event at McAndrew Stadium. The marching band and the girls of the AF ROTC presented entertainment that brought much comment from the overflowing crowd at the football field. Southern's School spirit was at its best. But we still lost the game.

Friday night the Southern Players' version of "My Three Angels" practically rocked the

The coronation of the "Homecoming Queen." Thursday evening was a pageant of splendor that crowned not only a blonde Marilyn Leibig as the 1955 Queen but topped Marilyn's four year award-winning career at Southern with the most coveted prize of all the "Clock Watchers Breakfast" in the university cafeteria was a success. The final event, like a topping on a cake, provided a true after-hour collegiate atmosphere to the weary Sunday morning Homecoming participants. Candlelight and the right kind of earburr organ music was more evidence of that "extra touch" found throughout the 1955 Homecoming.

Traditions like the visit of the Homecoming Queen and the AF ROTC presented entertainment that brought much comment from the overflowing crowd at the football field. Southern's School spirit was at its best. But we still lost the game.

Somebody Goofed

Most of the Homecoming participants were not aware of the one foul-up in the weekend festivities.

The Carbondale Lions Club came through mid-day Saturday to stage the annual chicken barbecue. It attracted a large crowd. The service was efficient, the food good.

But during the game the organization invited the football crowd to return to the Student Union for an evening. The Union had previously been scheduled for the presentation of parade and house decoration trophies and later for a pizza supper.

One-Act Plays Feature Southern Players Meeting

Two one-act plays were presented at the Southern Players meeting Oct. 26 in the Southern Playhouse.

"The Triumph of the Egg," by Sherwood Anderson, was directed by Carol Poos, graduate student. The cast of characters was Mother, Lina Murrish; father, Nelson Heinsler; Child, Ann McLeod and Young Man, James Aiken.

Bob Channess, senior theater major, directed "Hello Out There" by William Saroyan. The cast of characters was as follows: Young Man, Charles Anderson; Girl, Phyllis Hall; Man, Don Baldridge; Woman, Barbara Channess and other Man, Tom Coker.

Dr. Thalman On Road To Recovery

Dr. W. A. Thalman, director of Guidance and Special Education, is recovering from a virus attack in St. Louis' Barnes Hospital.

Thalman entered Holden Hospital, Carbondale, Oct. 16, when the attack struck, which paralyzed his neck and shoulders. He was later transferred to St. Louis. He is making satisfactory progress and should be released in about two weeks, according to the doctors.

Time Features Roy Harris

Composer Roy Harris, who will come to Southern in January as a visiting professor in the Music Department, is the subject of a feature story in the Oct. 31 edition of Time Magazine.

The story, primarily a review of Harris' "Seventh Symphony" which is being rehearsed for a premiere performance by the Philadelphia orchestra, calls Harris well-established as one of the U.S.'s better-known modern composers.

At present, he is composing for a Pittsburgh hospital bed, convalescing after an automobile accident.

Harris, who has been lecturing at Pennsylvania College for Women under a $125,000 grant from the Mellon Educational Trust, will come to Carbondale for six months with his pianist wife, Johanna.

The two will also participate in SIU's first Fine Arts Festival late in February.

Pre-Med Conclave To Be At U Of Illinois
A pre-medical advisory conference will be held Nov. 17-18 at the University of Illinois College of Medicine in Chicago.

Representing SIU at this conference will be Dr. E. C. Coleman, Chief university advisor; Dr. W. M. Gersbacher, zoology department; and Dr. R. A. Scott, chemistry department.

All undergraduate schools in Illinois have been invited to send representatives to this conference.

Lovely Christmas Had By All 3 Angels Score Success In Homecoming Play

By Joyce Brinkley
Thanks to the antics of the "three angels," the Duocet family had a lovely Christmas.

Joe Embser, Dave Brookbank and Stan Bushkull, who played the leading roles in the Homecoming play, "My Three Angels," were actually three convicts on Devil's Island.

Presented in Shryock auditorium Friday night, the play centered on the three angels' visit to the Duocet family's general store in Cayenne, French Guiana, on Christmas Eve.

Felix Duocet, played by Donald Wolfe, was a "soft" businessman who allowed his customers credit to no end. His wife, Emilie, played by Dorothy Beck, was distressed by the situation in which they were placed by the timidity of Felix.

When word arrived that Felix's cousin, Henri Trochard, played by Hal Choiser, was coming on Christmas Eve to take inventory, only Marie Louise was pleased.

[Played by Diane Finley, Louise, the daughter, was in love with Paul, Henri's nephew, who was a coming also, Paul, played by Jon Poston, was completely dominated by his hardhearted uncle.

When Henri threatened to ruin Felix because of his lack of business knowledge, that three angels promptly enlisted the service of Adolphe, their pet snake, to dispose of the uncle and nephew. Realizing the sorrow that this would bring to Marie Louise, the angels chose a young naval lieutenant, played by Bill Turner, to take the place of Paul in her affections.

The cast was rounded out by a typical customer, Mme. Parole, played by Marie Zimmer.

Their work done, Joseph, Jules and Alfred returned to Devil's Island.

A large audience expressed their delight in the play by summing the cast for three curtain calls.

U Of Illinois Provost To Talk Here Friday

Dr. Henning Larsen, provost of the University of Illinois and professor of English, has accepted an invitation to talk at SIU Friday. The title of his address will be "The Folklore and the Revival of Norwegian Nationalism."

The Illinois Folklore Society is sponsoring Larsen who will speak in the Woody all formal lounge at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Edith S. Krappel, associate professor of English at SIU, is president of the organization.

A treasurer's report will precede an election of officers for the Illinois Folklore Society for 1956.

Dr. Krappel said, "The event will be a public University lecture. Students, faculty members and the public are invited. A coffee hour will follow the address. Prior to his appointment of provost at Illinois, Larsen served as the school's Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and as head of the Department of English.

Larsen is an avid fan of Norwegian folklore, and old Norse and Old English literature. He has also composed, "An Old Odlandic Medical Miscellany," published by the Norwegian Academy of Sciences.

Jane Curry Gets Big Welcome From Woody

"It's just wonderful," said Jane Curry, Woody Hill's nominee for Homecoming Queen, of the reception given her when she returned to Woody following the coronation of the Homecoming Queen, Thurs day evening.

Attired in a white lace and net, Jane, a member of the Queen's court, returned to find her supporters crowding the main entrance and stairways of Woody. A large picture of Jane and a sign of "Still Our Queen" was placed outside the dormitory to greet its candidate.

Entering to applause and cries of "We love you, Janie," Jane hugged a few of her well-wishers, shed a few joyful tears, and finally recovered enough to manage a broken "thank-you."

$12,000 Grant Accelerates Work On SIU Speech, Hearing Clinic

Hearing Clinic has been stepped up with the acquisition of a $12,000 government grant for expansion of its "aural rehabilitation" program.

The money, provided under public law 567, will enable clinic to buy new recording equipment, hire two graduate assistants and modify the two story residence which has been its campus headquarters for the past four years.

Dr. I. P. Brackett, clinic director, said the equipment and research hearing and speech conservancy's facilities to take care of an increasing demand for testing and therapy in Southern Illinois. Areas covered by the clinic's "hearing department" are hearing aid evaluation, lip reading, auditory hearing and speech conservancy (concerning or developing speech imperiled by the loss of hearing).

The clinic now schedules special therapy sessions two nights a week for adults who have been referred through physicians, health agencies or the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation. Also scheduled are in-patient service for students, University School therapy, and an out-patient program for 60 Southern Illinois children and adults trying to overcome speech and hearing defects.

Besides the clinic's on-campus work, a "traveling clinic" is available to any school in Southern Illinois. A team of speech-hearing correctors spend a day at the school examining children (screened beforehand), talking to their parents, and advising teachers as to methods of helping the handicapped student.

Four students at SIU are majoring in speech correction, one of the most wide-open and critically short-handed areas of education in the country. Brackett says last year's five graduates were each offered 16 positions.

Of 325 speech correctors employed in Illinois school systems, only 16 are in the southern 13 counties. Ten of them were trained at SIU, Brackett says.

Running SIU's speech and hearing clinic is a professional staff of four men: Dr. Brackett, C. W. Carburn, John Anderson and Chester Atkinson.

High School Business Students To Have Meet Here Nov. 19

The Future Business Leaders of America club composed of high school students of business, will hold its annual Southern Area conference Nov. 19 on SIU's campus.

Dr. Hayes C. Rabe, associate business administration, will welcome approximately 100 FBLA representatives at 9:30 a. m. in the University School Auditorium.

Dr. Rabe will tell the purpose of FBLA clubs and what SIU offers in business training.

Schools not having clubs will also be represented at the conference to learn the setup of the organization. Discussion classes will be held in the morning and the delegates will be SIU's guests at the afternoon football game with Northern Illinois.

High schools to be represented are Alton Community, Benton Consolidated, Carrier Mills Community, Cave-In-Rock Community, Centralia Township, Lawrenceville Township, Litchfield Community, Marion Community, Mount Auburn Township, Norris City Community Unit No. 3 and Olney East Richland Community Unit.

The program coincides with National Education Week.

Dr. Peacock To Speak In Woody Lounge Tonight

Dr. Vera L. Peacock, Chairman of the Foreign Languages Department, will speak before the International Relations Group of the American Association of University Women at 7:30 p. m. tonight in the Woody Hill formal lounge.

The subject of the meeting will be the "Common Denominator in World Relationships — People."

The purpose of the meeting is to show the group the likenesses of people the world over.

Dr. and Mrs. I. W. Neckers, Maxine Vogler, Dorothy Heickel and Dr. Georgia Winn will each discuss the different people they meet in Europe and their likenesses.

Dr. Peacock will talk about the people she met in Mexico where she was working in September with a United Nations subcommittee.

Dr. Watkins To Play Shryock Vesper Recital

Third in a series of vesper recitals played by Dr. Glenn I. Watkins of the music department will be presented at 4 p. m., Nov. 15 in Shryock Auditorium.

Assisting him in this recital will be the SIU Madrigal Singers.

Dr. Cherry Completes Series For Journal

Dr. George L. Cherry, associate professor of history, has completed the third in a series of articles to appear in the periodical, "The Journal of Modern History."

The work is entitled, "Influence of Irregularities in Consecrated Elections upon Election Politics During the Reign of William III."

His two other compositions were, "The Legal and Philosophical Position of the Jacobites, 1688-1689," (Dec. 1950) and "The Development of the English Free-Trade Movement in Parliament, 1689-1702," (June 1953).

Cherry, who obtained his Ph.D. from Northwestern University has also completed, "The Role of the Convention of Parliament, 1688-1689, in Parliamentary Supremacy." It will be published in the "Journal of History of Ideas."

Property Service Receives Huge Printing Press

A huge 36,000 pound offset printing press has been received by the university. Property Service Director Ernest R. Wolfe announced recently.

The press, a Harris-Siebold-Potter make, is valued at $50,000.

"This is probably the largest item we have ever received," Wolfe said. The press has been used only 18 months, and its life expectancy is approximately 40 years.

The duplicating service will use the press to publish football programs, catalogues, stationery pamphlets and other such materials.

"Some of the printing, such as the university catalogue, is done now in St. Louis," Wolfe said. "But this press will enable the duplicating service to print such publications here.

Movie Feature Of SCF Reformation Oct. 30

The movie "Martin Luther" was the feature attraction of the St. Louis Christian Foundation in acknowledgment of Reformation Oct. 30.

Martin Luther's desire to reform the Roman Catholic faith early in the 16th century gave birth to the movement of the protestant churches. In recognition of this Reformation Sunday is heard yearly in Protestant churches around America.

State Psychologist Talks Here Wednesday

Supervising Psychologist of the Illinois State Penitentiary at Chester, Dr. Ralph P. Durling, discussed the "Role of the Penitentiary Psychologist" at a Psychology Club meeting Wednesday.

The meeting was in Old Main 215, with Bill Simmons, president of the club, presiding.

Durling told how the psychologist classifies each new prisoner as to who he committed the crime and what the penitentiary can do to help make him a fit citizen.

Vegetable Class To Take Field Trip

The commercial vegetable production class in the agriculture department will take a field trip to St. Louis Thursday to see the St. Louis Produce Market, Carnell Seed Plant and Eckert's Market.

The class will return the same day. In the calls are Bill Tweedy, John Heron and Wendell Eckert. The instructor is William Andrews, vegetable specialists and assistant professor of agriculture.

Washington Drops Southern 32-13 In Homecoming Battle

By Gene Cryer

A number of miscues by SIU and a couple of Washington U. Bears named Don Polkinghorne and Mel Siegel led to the 32-13 Bear win of Saturday's homecoming tilt in McAndrew Stadium.

The Bears drew first blood late in the initial period. The quarter had been played almost entirely in Saluki territory, but the hosts had managed to stave off any scoring threat up to that time. But with only a minute left in the quarter, the pass from center on fourth down sailed over punter Wayne Williams head, and the Bears took over on the SIU 11-yard stripe.

Then Siegel went to work, carrying the ball three times. The third try carried him into paydirt. Don Sauer converted and the Bears led 7-0.

The Saluki retaliated quickly. Bill Spratt intercepted a Siegel aerial on the Bear 40 and ruckered it to the 27. Then Jack Schneider uncorked a 27-yard touchdown run which put the Saluki temporarily in the ball game temporarily. Spratt's try for the extra point sailed wide, and the score stood at 7-6 with 3 minutes left in the half.

The Bears started another march from their own 34. Wingback Bob Ladd helped the cause with a 21-yard jaunt which put the ball in Saluki territory. A few plays later Polkinghorne went through the weak side of the line on a spinner and galloped into the end zone unopposed. Jim Lunch blocked Sauer's extra point try, but the score stood at 13-6 with 6:30 left in the half.

Minutes later, the Bears took advantage of a Saluki fumble on the SIU 40. Schneider temporarily saved a score when he stopped Polkinghorne on the three, but Siegel puffed in on the next play. Sauer converted, and the score was 20-6 with three minutes left.

SIU marched from their own 30 after the kickoff, only to fumble in the end zone, Washington recovered and the half ended.

Washington scored again midway through the third stanza as Siegel carrying the ball. The score stood at 26-6 when Sauer missed his try for the extra point.

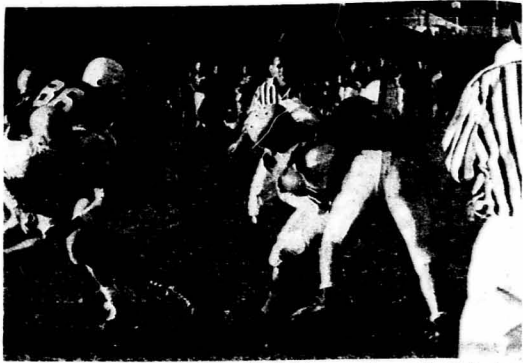

SIU's second and final touchdown came late in the final period when Al Rodgers scored from the two-yard line. Spratt converted to make it 26-13.

On the kickoff, however, Polkinghorne took the oval on his own 20 and plowed straight up the middle for 30 yards and the score. Sanders buckled the try for the extra point.

Polkinghorne turned in the standout performance of the tilt with 205 yards gained in 26 carries.

Schneider turned in a fine performance also with 83 yards in 8 tries. Jerry Hart completed 7 out of 19 passes for 131 yards.

The game, played before a record-breaking 9,400 fans, broke SIU's dominance at home this year and gave hopes for a 1956 season a setback.

Bob Batura and I. W. Sanders took out a Washington fender to enable Al Rodgers to score in the final minutes of Saturday's Homecoming battle. The Bears won 32-13.

Saluki Harriers Beat Chicago 25-35

SIU's cross country team produced the only bright spot in the Homecoming athletic festivities Saturday as they downed the University of Chicago harriers 25-35.

An Omohundro of Chicago finished first, covering the 3 1/2 mile course in 20:48. Tinkle Hevns of Chicago finished second, but the Salukis' Richard Kator, Joe Berr, Howard Branch, Ron Helberg, Bob Kaczynski, and Larry Havens took the next six places in that order.

The other results:

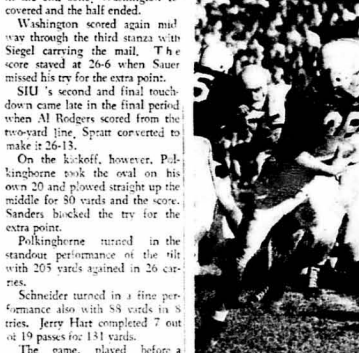

- 9. Dan Erlome (C)
- 10. Sammy Deneal (S)
- 11. Maurice Bush (C)
- 12. Ned Martin (C)
- 13. Hosa Price (C)
- 14. Bill Kroll (C)

Newman Club Takes Lead In Indee Bowl

Anchor man Ed Langen of the Newman Club used his experienced right arm in the SIU Independent bowling league to down opponent pins for a 576-231, as his mates rose in a similar fashion with a 2,460 total to cut down La Coterie three times and move into sole possession of first place.

The former co-leading Doyle Dormitory crew succumbed to Hinkley House in two games and now trail the leaders by one game. Bill Eidson topped the runner-ups with 486 with Allen Joellenbeck's 465 series high for Hinkley House.

Brown Jug moved into a tie for third place by whipping the Bloopers three times. Victor Renaud fashioned a healthy 523, which was in vain for the victims.

The Vernois Five found the victory range to be the sole team to sweep its match and relinquish the cellar to their victims. The Hawks' not, Bob Wallace's 507 topped the heavy artillery.

Bob Lass, Washington wingback, evades the clutches of Wayne Williams and prepares to meet Carter Shannon in action from Saturday's contest.

Bencini Sells Named Ass't Cage Coaches

With the exception of 18 months spent in the Army in World War II, Bencini was head football coach at Murphysboro from 1942-1954.

Sells, a graduate assistant in physical education, coached basketball, football, and baseball at Camp Gordon, Ga. in 1952-53. After getting out of the service, he returned to college, receiving his B. S. degree at SIU this year.

Sells played basketball for one year at Washington University of St. Louis and one year at McKendree College. He coached for two months at Carterville High School last spring and has been serving as an assistant coach in football at SIU this fall.

Services of the Office of student Affairs are designed to assist the individual student in developing his personal, vocational, intellectual, and social abilities.

A graduate of Murphysboro High School, where he captained the basketball team in 1930, Bencini was graduated from Missouri College where he received two letters in basketball and four in football.

During his reign as Murphysboro cage mentor, Bencini coached teams won regionals for five straight years, advancing to the state meet in 1947.

His squads won the Southwest-ern Egyptian conference title twice and finished second several times behind Coach Merrill (Duster) Thomas' Pinckneyville Panthers.
