Council Turns Down Berry's Judicial Board Appointments

Senator Beltz Denies She Will Resign

The Student Council denied approval of suggested appointments to the Campus Judicial Board in its Thursday (Nov. 6) meeting.

Lack of a two-thirds majority of the Council vetoed the appointments made by Student Body President Bill Berry.

In discussion the basic point of objection to the appointments was that a representative understanding of all areas of the campus is needed in this type of position, and it was felt that the appointments, as a group, did not meet this criteria.

The Council did not feel, however, that this criteria should be met through a basis of appointments from each of the representative living areas.

Council members stressed that all the appointments were objected to as a group, and not on an individual basis.

Those suggested for the Judicial Board by Berry are: John C. Carlisle, Douglas E. Taber, Marsha Van Cleve, Willie Brown Jr., Judy Ann Speck, Margaret Ann Cottry, Edward C. Swick, Karen L. Asselmeier and Peter C. Morris.

Under the terms of the new student constitution an all-campus board named the Campus Judicial Board will be concerned with individual and group behavior in referral and appellate situations.

The Judicial Board has the responsibility to review situations previously handled by other student judicial groups upon requests of the students involved and to make recommendations to the Office of Student Affairs.

The individual student may have the prerogative of appealing his case to the Campus Judicial Board or to the Office of Student Affairs. It revers other cases involving student infractions upon request.

The Board holds the responsibility to recommend to the Office of Student Affairs the establishment of review boards for such situations as vehicle violations.

Crash Victim Still Critical

Janet Hule, 18-year-old freshman from Besser, is still in serious condition at the Carbondale Clinic. Miss Hule and two other SIU students were injured Nov. 7 after a head-on collision on Rt. 12.

The latest report from the clinic stated that Miss Hule had regained some semblance of consciousness. According to the report, she has been unconscious since the accident. She is suffering from head and neck injuries, and due to the seriousness of her condition, a full examination has not been made yet.

Other students in the automobile, which collided with a car driven by Homer Eaton, 50, of Carbondale, were Sharon M. Allen and Timothy R. O'Brien. O'Brien, the driver of the car, has been released from the hospital. He received minor injuries. He is a freshman, 19 years old.

Miss Allen is in favorable condition at the Clinic. The 19-year-old freshman has multiple abrasions and contusions.

Both girls live at Woody Hall. The accident occurred about 2:20 Friday afternoon four miles east on Rt. 12, near the Reed's Station road. The car driven by Eaton, who is still in serious condition, was traveling west.

Two other students in the car driven by O'Brien were Jerry Clark, 18, and Amon White, 18, both uninjured.

Clark stated that O'Brien slammed on his brakes when a car in front of him suddenly stopped. The car swerved to the left into the path of Eaton. Another report stated that the driver in front of O'Brien made a signal for a right turn, and failed to turn. O'Brien started to make a left turn and crashed into the oncoming car.

The bodies of the three injured students were thrown clear of the car.

TP's Baily Hall Admits Theft

Several organizations stole lumber to build Homecoming floats and house decorations, according to William Rogge, director of Student Housing.

Rogge said a source reported some lumber had been stolen from the Thompson Point Boat Dock. At a meeting Nov. 10, it was decided that all organizations who enter decorations and floats must submit a statement telling whether or not stolen lumber was used.

Thompson Point's Baily Hall is the only organization to admit using the stolen material, although Rogge said he is sure there are other organizations who will turn in statements admitting theft.

He said there would be no investigation, and that as far as the Student Housing office goes, the only concern was that University buildings are not damaged. However, he was not sure that action would not be taken by University officials.

Rogge said that the Homecoming committee next year should make sure such an incident doesn't repeat.

Asks Only SIU To Show Special Exhibit In Dallas

Southern Illinois University has been invited to present a special exhibit at the convention of the National Society for Crippled Children at Dallas, Texas on Nov. 16-20. SIU is the only college asked to present an exhibit.

The exhibits presented at the convention will deal primarily with the manufacture of equipment for crippled children.

Kenneth Miller, administrative assistant to the President, was the originator of the exhibit. "I had the idea but much work has been done by others to develop it," said Miller. "The exhibit features three displays in panel sections."

One panel will have pictures of special ramps built by SIU for handicapped college students. Several pre-registration lasts for 12 more days.

Only 12 more days remain for students to pre-register for the winter quarter, according to a section chief spokesman.

Nov. 25 is the last day for registration. Students who have not registered at that time will be required to wait until the quarter begins Jan. 5.

As of Nov. 11, more than half the students on campus had pre-registered.

Buses Take SIU To Game

SIU students will have an opportunity to see the Salukis in action for the final time tomorrow, Nov. 15. The Spirit Council of AFROAC department has arranged for buses to make the trip.

Buses will leave the Student Union at 6 a.m., tomorrow morning.

Deadline for signing up for the trip was yesterday, Nov. 13, at 11 noon.

Prices for the trip are $7.25 for transportation. Students should take approximately $2.75 for meals and the game ticket.

The price for this trip is higher than the $5 charged for the trip to Central Michigan last week because there are no underwriters. The Spirit Council is the underwriter for the Central Michigan trip.

The buses will arrive back in Carbondale about midnight Saturday night.

The AFROAC 46-piece band will make the trip to Northern and perform during the game.

Proclaims Friday United Nations Day At SIU

In the interest of better understanding of the student role in International Affairs, and to create an International Awareness on Southern's Campus, the International Relations Club and the Student Government are sponsoring a Model United Nations Assembly on Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15, 1958.

The Student Council and I, in an investigation of the program, encourage student participation in and attendance at this assembly. We further proclaim Friday, November 14, United Nations Day on Campus.

Family Housing Construction Begins For September Opening

Construction has begun on the small family housing project on South Wall street which will accommodate 128 families.

The 128 apartments will be in eight buildings. Completion of three of the buildings is expected in the fall of 1959, and the other five structures should be ready for occupancy during the winter term, 1960.

Included will be 68 2-bedroom apartments, 45 1-bedroom apartments, and 15 efficiencies. The efficiencies consist one large room, which houses bedroom, kitchen, dining room and living room.

The buildings will all be two stories high, and a closed passage

$50 Car Fines Given To Five

The number of students who have received $50 fines for illegal possession of automobiles has grown five, the Office of Student Affairs reported today.

Three students received the maximum fine in September and October. The last two fines were given this month. Second offenses are punishable by dismissal from the University.

sity $1,474,784. $1,012,148 of the total amount will be used for general work which has been delegated to A. M. Norman & Son of Marion; $322,000 will be spent on plumbing and heating, which will be installed by Morrow & Co., Paducah, Ky., and $139,636 will be used for electrical installation. The electrical work will be done by Harrison Blades of Decatur.

The site of the new housing area is south of the new trailer court.

'Shooting From Cop Is Incompetence' Walker Says

The jaywalking SIU student who drew gun fire from SIU Campus Policeman Ardel Crews Friday morning told the Egyptian in an exclusive interview he feels Crews is "incompetent."

Arthur "Artie" Allison, 20-year-old sophomore from Benton, said he crossed the Grand-University intersection against the red-faced traffic director's signal because it was late for a mid-term test.

Crews discharged his revolver into the ground near the Allyn Building during the chase.

"I never dreamed he would pull a .38 Smith and Wesson. The major said, 'I didn't feel like a criminal, and I was insulted when he chased me. When he shot, I slowed down from trotting because I wondered, 'Why am I running?' A second reason I stopped is that I was afraid the old man had hurt himself."

NO COMMENT-CREWS
Crews declined to comment on the incident to the Egyptian, saying, "ask the University."

Crews contacted about four hours after the shooting, said, "get your story a little later."

"I've given a written report to the man told the Egyptian that Crews had accused him that the shot was "a result of incompetence."

Crews said he knew what he was doing," said Zimmerman.

A top official in the President's Office pointed out: "Crews is an elderly man; he couldn't continue the chase without shooting or something." Student Council Senators began an immediate investigation of the incident.

Crews wanted Allison to report to the Office of Student Affairs immediately after the apprehension, according to Allison.

Allison had time to leave to take the test," Allison said.

Allison had no identification with him at the time of the chase.

"I told my dad that I was coming to Southern to study," said Allison. "When he hears about this he will think I am leaving going off."

WITNESS TELLS
Jack Sheldon, 24-year-old senior from Great's Lake, told the Egyptian that there were only "four or five" people around at the time of the gun play. Otherwise, Allison, Sheldon and Crews' accounts were almost identical.

Sheldon said Crews responded "foolishly, because if the bullet had struck the curb or hit a stone in the bank, it could have ricocheted and killed someone."

Several students have told the Egyptian it is not unusual for Crews to stop a student and make him walk and cross properly.

A University official said he does not blame students if they are alarmed about the situation, "especially since the Egyptian came out with a campaign against campus policemen having guns."

'Will Shoot Again If Students Jaywalk,' Says Cop Crews

"I'd do the same thing again if it came up," said Ardel Crews, campus policeman, speaking of the shot he fired in hitting a student last week on the SIU campus.

"I knew exactly what I was doing all the time," he said, in a positive tone. "and I know that it would cause an investigation."

Crews was speaking of the shot he fired Nov. 7, while pursuing Arthur Allison, who allegedly ran through a signal by Crews.

"The boy had no respect for law and order," Crews said, "and he would have run had he broken into a building or anything else."

"I talk slow and think fast. It was 25-30 seconds after I had told him to stop before I fired the shot into the dirt."

"I picked the spot in a safe place so the bullet wouldn't ricochet, and the reason I didn't fire into the air was because there were too many trees in the area."

"It's illegal for a policeman to fire his weapon anytime he thinks it necessary," he said. "I did this to show the boy - and anyone else on campus - that I mean business. Several students respected me and give me no trouble at all. But just like every place, there are some who will cause trouble. My policy is to be courteous - but firm."

'Will Shoot Again if Students Jaywalk,' Says Cop Crews

Policeman Arthur "Pop" Newberry said that he would have done the same as Crews.

Crews, who has a special deputy sheriff's badge for Jackson County and who is also deputy in Carbondale, talked freely with the Egyptian reporter.

"If you're going to print this, make sure that everything is correct," he warned with a grin.

When told that the Egyptian was interested only in getting all sides of the story, he said, "start asking."

He said that he turned his report into the Office of Student Affairs, and that in his opinion the student should be punished.

"This would set an example for all students," Crews commented.

Theater Major Tops Ticket Sales Record

Don Gilleland, theater major sold 230 season tickets for the Southern Players' 1958-59 season, a new ticket sales record.

The previous record for ticket sales was 88.

Runner-up to Gilleland in sales this year was Doris Draege, Richards, who sold 65 tickets.

The Southern Players sold more than 900 tickets for the five plays.

It's Saluki, Not KKK Commuters

Commuters are taking steps to change the name of their newly formed organization from Kampus Kummeters Klub to Saluki Commuters, a spokesman said today.

The organization decided that the initials KKK has an undesirable connotation.

The next meeting of the organization will be Monday at 10 a. m. in Shroyck Auditorium.

STAG OR DRAG

A stag or drag dance will be held at the Southern Acres Student Union on Friday evening, Nov. 14, from 8 to 12 p.m.

The dance is being sponsored jointly by the student unions and the residents' halls. Refreshments of older and cookies will be served and everyone is cordially invited.

Trailer Court Opens Today

The new trailer court on South Wall street goes into operation today, according to William Rogge, director of Student Housing.

The court has 62 trailer spaces, and is available to SIU students and staff. At the present time, 30 spaces have been leased for the academic year.

Rental for the area will be "about" $19. Rogge said that this was a tentative figure, and that it might be changed at a later date.

Any persons interested in renting a space at the court should contact Rogge at the Office of Student Affairs.

All married SIU personnel are eligible to live in the area, Rogge said, as they meet the required standards. He said that their trailer must be approved before they gain entrance to the new area.

Persons must have a space for the academic year.

JUBILANT SALUKIS

This was the locker room scene last Saturday after Southern's Salukis upset the mighty Chip-was of Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant Mich., 24-7. The victory boosted SIU into a three-way tie for first place in the

IAC. A victory tomorrow at Northern Illinois would give Southern at least a share of the title - their first since 1947. (Related story on page 4.)

The Editors' Opinions

The Shooting Incident

The flare-up over Campus Policeman Ardell Crew's shot to stop a jaywalking SIU student last Friday has, for the most part, produced no one-sided view as to the course of action that should be taken.

The administration and students have been fairly objective about the situation. Southern refuses neither person asked about the incident.

It is undoubtedly wrong for a student to disobey a policeman's command. Five or six times the officer asked the student to stop—he didn't. There is no justification for the student's action and to punish the policeman without doing anything about the student's part in the incident would in effect give the go-ahead to disobedience.

The University has not turned its head from the incident. The student reported Monday and Wednesday for talks with Office of Student Affairs officials. On Wednesday it was a two-hour conference. No action had been taken at that time.

We feel that the University soon will—and by right should—take action of the disciplinary nature toward the student.

About the policeman:

The stand The Egyptian recently took toward Campus Policemen wearing guns while on duty here is still fresh in Southern's mind. We said then and still say guns should not be used while dealing with students.

We feel Mr. Crews acted in poor judgment when he fired his gun to the side of the running student. To fire the gun in the air is the logical place—it is bad enough, but to fire the gun into the ground is an invitation to tragedy.

Chances for a bullet to ricochet after striking the ground area were great. A stone could have been hit and caused the bullet to ricochet.

Too, it is very unwise to discharge a revolver in the presence of a crowd of students. Perhaps the jaywalker was in no danger, but what about other students?

Mr. Crews said he has a legal right to shoot if he chooses. This may be correct, but it is irrelevant, just as it doesn't matter whether or not he is more wrong or right than the student.

A significant point is Crew's statement that he will shoot again if the situation happens again. His superiors should explain a few things to him. We feel that a minor offense never calls for gun play.

In our opinion, students are justified in seeking to have action taken which will assure no such future acts.

As a representative of the student body, the Student Council should make a resolution asking action be taken to curb future developments of this kind.

It would be a matter of ignoring a serious incident if the University took no action in regard to Crews. In our opinion the policeman must be brought before proper authorities and must receive a decision which will assure the school that no shooting incident will again place a black mark on the school.

If the incident is tolerated, it is likely to happen again,—possibly with very serious consequences.

When Pancho Sifnos, sophomore, pale and sensitive, first saw Willis Ludovic, freshman, lithe as a lizard and rosy as the dawn, he hemmed not; neither did he haw. "I adore you," he said without preliminary.

"Thanks, hey," said Willis, flinging her apron over her face modestly. "What are the sensations?"

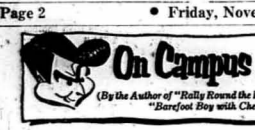

"Position!" said Pancho, looking at her ankles. (The ankle is a ligament just behind the ear.)

"On the football team," said Willis.

"Football!" sneered Pancho, his young lip curling. "Football is violence, and violence is the death of the mind. I am not a football player. I am a poet!"

"So long, buster," said Willis.

"Wait!" cried Pancho, clutching her damask forearm. She placed a foot on his pelvis and wrenched herself free. "I only go with football players," she said, and walked, shimmering into the gathering dusk.

ANYONE FOR FOOTBALL?

Pancho went to his room and lit a cigarette and pondered his dread dilemma. What kind of cigarette did Pancho light? Why, Philip Morris, of course!

Philip Morris is always welcome, but never more than when you are sore hearted. When a fellow needs a friend, when the heart is dull and the blood runs the surplus, then, and above all, is the time for the mildness, the serenity, that only Philip Morris can supply.

Pancho Sifnos, his broken psyche welded, his fevered brow cooled, his synapses restored, after smoking a fine Philip Morris, came to a decision. Though he was a bit small for football (at even four feet) and somewhat overweight (427 pounds), he tried out for the team—and tried out with such grit and gumption that he made it.

This year's college opened the season against the Manhattan School of Mines, always a mettlesome foe, but strengthened this year by four exchange students from Gibraltar who had been suckled by sheeps. By the middle of the second quarter the Miners had wrought such havoc upon Pancho's team that there was nobody left on the bench but Pancho. And when the quarterback was sent to the infirmary with his head driven straight down into his esophagus, the coach had no choice but to put Pancho in.

Pancho's teammates were not conspicuously cheered as the little fellow took his place in the huddle.

"Gentleman," said Pancho, "some of you may regard poetry as sissy stuff, but now in our most trying hour, let us turn to these words from Paradise Lost: 'All is not lost; the unconquerable will and study of revenge, immortal hate, and courage never to submit or yield.'"

So stirred was Pancho's team by this fiery exhortation that they threw themselves into the fray with utter abandon. As a consequence, the entire squad was hospitalized before the half. The college was forced to drop football. Willis Ludovic, not having any football players to choose from, took up with Pancho and soon discovered the beauty of his soul. Today they are seen everywhere—dancing, holding hands, nuzzling, snuggling.

Smoking what? Philip Morris, of course!

And for you after fanciers, the makers of Philip Morris give you a lot to like in the sensational Marlboro—after, after, pack or box. Marlboro joins Philip Morris in bringing you this column throughout the school year.

Are you maladjusted? Neurotic? Anxious? In these days and times you aren't in any category when something is wrong with you. These popular terms and questions spring at you from every newspaper and magazine. No one can be called an "anxious" or "neurotic" as a writer unless he has written the story of how he overcame his neurosis. We seem to worry more over whether we're properly adjusted than anything else.

The weather is fast becoming legendary as the major topic of conversation. More lately two women meeting on the street will be saying something like, "My analyst says I'm suffering from a persecution complex derived from the time my kitchen..."

Quizzes abound on the subject of neurotics. The usual theme is to ask if you are neurotic and if so what you should do about it. The frightening thing is that the poor reader is left wondering if he is overdoing one thing or another.

Many things which once were thought "quaint" or at worst mildly peculiar are now condemned as tendencies of the confirmed neurotic. Under this new trend Grandmother's favorite habit of putting gray on her cake would probably be classified as extremely neurotic. But then, grandmother never knew about these matters so she was quite contented.

The current craze knows no age limit. A small girl was overheard admonishing her brother because he was stepping on every crack in the sidewalk for "only neurotics did that."

But, grandmother never knew about these matters so she was quite contented.

Views On Egyptian And Union

FOYBURN BREAKS STEIDE
The first issue of the STEIDE has impressed me as being a good college paper in both news content and mechanical make-up. But I can not say this about the success in making-up seemed to have been aimed at breaking the "Southern Strife."

Frankly speaking, the last few issues of the paper have not been representative of a "progressive" university offering a Master's degree in journalism.

The errors in the Egyptian have included innumerable misspelled words, poor mechanical make-up, and ambiguous lead sentences because they are as pronounced as the Egyptian streamer.

I couldn't submit to your ad, "Send The Egyptian home," for I could never convince my people that the paper was from the "progressive" SIU they have heard so much about. May be your staff doesn't really impress The Egyptian is making upon its readers. It is fastly becoming a "laughing piece" of both students and faculty.

I resent hearing students make fun of their school's paper. The Egyptian reflects SIU and not a segment of the student body.

Primarily, you and your staff are responsible for the production of The Egyptian. But you are not totally responsible for its short-comings. We, the students and faculty in journalism, are also responsible. The Egyptian is in our department and we should make it a model piece of journalism displaying our daily learned news styles and techniques.

The students in journalism are capable of producing a model college paper. In my graduate class alone, we have a history, a printed, a proof-reader, professional journalists, and even Associated Press writers.

The prize was awarded to the best of the two floats entered in the homecoming parade by the Southern Acres Men's Residence Halls by Richard C. Lutz, head Resident Counselor.

The prize was won by the West Dorm. Chairmen for the floats were Jim Harrington, East Dorm, and Darrell Otwell, West Dorm.

STUDENT UNION MESS

Dear Editor:

I would like to address a series of questions that the student body who administers the Student Union's policy of inaufeatable arrogance towards students—treating them as if they were so many noses to be freely twitched?

Certainly one cannot regard the cavalier attitude of these supposed gentlemen, delegated to serve the student body, as the typical characteristics of students capable of sensible and courteous replies and blunt, earnest comments are often aimed at students who only desire a modicum of respect.

And what service! You ask for a simple item like a ping-pong paddle and you have to give them a whole list of credentials proving absolutely your authorization to request such equipment.

Library cards are not in order strangely enough. Nothing less than an ID card with your photograph, name, and address will serve; so great is the trust these sometimes bewildered gentlemen have in the desk have created.

Furthermore, regulations in meticulous detail are some of those job joys, a tendency to include every action, trifling or not, in a rule book of rules that make of people as if they were fools." Moreover, merely to ask highly endowed pillars of humanity.

IN GOOD CONDITION, USEFUL

Old Main Stays For Tradition

By John Felts

Old Main, built in 1887, with its friendly Victorian stature, will be around for future generations to use and admire, according to long range plans for the SIU campus.

Charles M. Pulley, university architect, said, "It should be preserved as long as it is useful and can be kept in good condition."

Authorities would like to keep it as a landmark but also recognize the waste of a useless building.

"Having and preserving a landmark should be given careful consideration in long range planning," commented Pulley.

TWO SITUATIONS

Old Main is the only building on campus exhibiting a definite period," Pulley said. "The Allyn building, Anthony Hall and others on campus were built in the 1920's and are part of a transition period."

In the original plan Old Main was to be torn down. No building was planned to replace it. A road was to go through the lot and continue around the campus.

"The original intent had been the extension of University ave. to the front of the Student Union and meeting the Thompson Point road at the Agriculture building," Pulley said. "This road would connect through Old Main, between Anthony Hall and Parkinon. It would be a loop that would circle the campus."

As it stands now, one of the two approaches to the situation will be used. Either Old Main will be torn down and replaced, or the road west of Old Main will be widened and extended.

This year, the building houses offices of several departments and many types of classes. The first three floors are used for these purposes.

The fourth floor, considered the attic, is used by the AFROTC rifle team for its practice.

"Ten to one he forgot the Camels!"

If he did, the odds are he'll be hotfooting it right back for America's most popular cigarette. Nothing else gives you the rich tobacco flavor and easy-going mildness of Camel's costly blend. It stands to reason: the best tobacco makes the best smoke.

Instead of fads and fancy stuff...
Have a real cigarette - have a CAMEL

You have to get up mighty early... to give the kind of service that's building America's second largest telephone system.

When it comes to service we aim to deliver the goods. Result: we're growing fast! For in Gen Tel Territory, America is finding the room the overcrowded big cities can no longer supply. New homes, new stores, new factories are springing up fast. And so is the need for up-to-the-minute telephone communications. That's where Gen Tel comes in big. To meet the growing need for telephone service, we're installing 750 new phones each day, investing almost 4 million dollars each week in new facilities. At Gen Tel we're working overtime to develop new uses for the telephone to keep ahead of the growing need for better and more complete communications. That's one reason we are America's second largest telephone system. No doubt about it, America is on the move. And Gen Tel is moving with it—moving up.

Salukis Shoot At Northern Illinois, IAC Pennant After Routing Central Michigan's Mighty Chippewas

Shannon Scores 3 TD's; SIU Defense Stands Out

By Ron Jacober
Sports Editor

Mt. Pleasant, Mich. — Southern's powerful Salukis took a giant step in their drive for their first IAC gridiron title in more than 10 years here Saturday as they upset the favored and mighty Chippewas of Central Michigan College, 24-7, before about 7,000 soaked fans in a steady rain.

The Salukis, fired up by the brilliant running of Carver Shannon, took the aggressive line play and the excellent punting of Dave Weneer, took advantage of almost every break as they almost completely outplayed the Chippewas.

The loss was the first conference loss on the Chippewas since Northern Illinois downed them in 1951. They compiled a string of some 20 IAC victories in a row.

The Salukis surprising victory threw the league into a huge turmoil as three teams, Southern, Central and Western, are all tied for the top spot with only one game remaining to be played.

Southern had control of the game from the very beginning kickoff. On the first play from scrimmage the Chippewas' Wall Beach, fumbled and Suptoe recovered for the first-up Southern.

Lane Jenkins capped a 45-yard

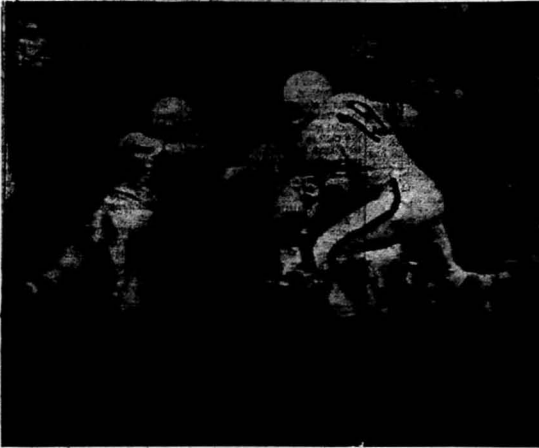

With about four minutes remaining in the half, halfback Bill Smith broke loose for 67 yards around his right end good for the Chippewas only touchdown of the day. Henry Longhini punted the conversion and Central took the lead, 7-0.

Carver Shannon, returning to his old form for the first time in several games, spurred through Central's line for 17 yards and a first down. A pass to Scooby Good for seven yards and a two yard pickup by Norwood on a sneak, gave Southern another first down. With less than a minute left in the half, Norwood hit Shannon in the flat with a short pass. Shannon looked like a drunk on roller skates as he bobbed and weaved through the Chippewas' defenders good for 36 yards and a touchdown. The extra point attempt was fumbled but Shannon and Norwood had pulled the Salukis out of the hole and into the lead.

Chippewas halfback, Bill Smith, who looked like he was trying to carry a greased watermelon, fumbled on the fifth play after the second half opened and Ranette Lewis recovered for the wet but spirited Salukis.

The two squads exchanged punts twice before Saluki fullback, Cecil Hart, fumbled on Southern's own 15. At this period Southern's defense really dug in and on the next two plays threw the Chippewas a 19-yard loss to end the serious threat.

Southern took the ball over on downs but again couldn't move and Dave Weneer kicked them out of trouble as he cut loose with his best kick of the year and probably the best of his career, a 66 yarder down to Central's five.

IDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECT
Carver Shannon, 19, breaks loose for a 17-yard gain in last

After three plays and only one yard gained, the Chippewas again reverted to the punting weapon. Fullback Jerry Sventor punted only 19 yards however, and Southern had the ball on Central's 24. Shannon took care of those 24 yards on the next play as he demonstrated why he has been nominated for All-American by scampering around his left end for the TD. Again the PAT was muffed but Southern led 18-7.

Saturday's thrilling victory over the mighty Central Michigan

Chippewas. "Merik" cut loose for three touchdowns in the 24-7 win.

The victory was a deserved reward for Al Kaval and his Saluki gridder who have played good ball all year. The win pushed Southern's overall mark to 7-1 and 4-1 in IAC play. A victory tomorrow at DeKalb would give Southern their best record in 28 years.

In winning the game, in which they were definite underdogs, Southern threw the league into a three way tie for first place and guaranteed Southern at least a share of the title with a victory over Northern this weekend.

Defense Key to Victory; Lew Flinn Biggest Threat

The stage is set. Tomorrow Southern's title hungry Salukis will tackle the Huskies of Northern Illinois University in the final step of their current IAC title drive. The game is the finale of the current season and is a "Must" win game as far as Southern is concerned.

Many things can be accomplished in a total net gain of 1,700 in tomorrow's final game if yards for a game average of 2129 Southern should come through yards per game. SIU has also lost with a victory. A win would lower the opposition only 97 points Southern's overall mark to 8-1 for in the eight games while scoring the season — the best in 25 years 225.

Last weekend Northern scored 225. A win would also assure the most points in a single game Southern of at least a share of since 1950 in defeating the University of Omaha, 41-0. In the win Saturday, Northern returned to early season form and chalked up 425 yards in the net as far as Southern is concerned gain column to Omaha's 194.

Lew Flinn, junior quarterback from Princeton, turned in his best performance of the season. He ran two touchdowns, passed for a third and kicked five extra points. Flinn, the biggest threat to the Saluki defense, rushed for 54 yards and but has been even greater the past three games. In those past three games Southern's forward wall has allowed only 191 yards rushing, an average of 63.7 yards per game. Over the eight games played thus far, SIU defense has allowed the decided by the defensive play.

Two Left Feet?
Men and women with two left feet and a stride like a race horse shouldn't be dismayed. With a little effort they can become as graceful as a prima ballerina.
The fencing club offers a fine opportunity to build poise and coordination, said Yvonne Dempsey, advisers of the team. "Fencing activities also help to soothe tensions and develop a keen eye."
"Men are especially urged to join the fencing club," said Miss Dempsey. "The sport is one which both men and women may participate in, and it isn't difficult at all."
Fencing club meetings are held each Tuesday evening from 7 to 9.

A TIE IS NECESSARY
If Southern is to win undisputed possession of the IAC football crown the Western Illinois-Central Michigan game tomorrow will have to end up in a tie.

Going into this final week of the season, Southern, Western and Central Michigan are all tied for first place in one of the tightest conference races in the history of the league.

Of course, another element is necessary for the Salukis to win the crown—a victory against the Huskies of Northern Illinois.

There is also a remote possibility of the title ending up in a three way tie for the top spot. If Western and Central should play to a tie and Northern and Southern played to a tie, the season could wind up with three teams with one foot in the trophy room.

In the IAC tie counts as a half win and a half loss so a victory Saturday would assure Southern of at least a tie for the title regardless of what happens in the Western-Central game.

OVERCONFIDENCE
Two of the biggest weapons that will be used against the Salukis tomorrow at DeKalb will be the passing arm of Lew Flinn and overconfidence on the part of Southern.

True enough, Northern hasn't been a Northwestern this season but they can be tough to an overconfident team. Everyone remembers what happened about a month ago when a winless, WEAK Illinois Normal team came into town. The same thing could happen at Northern.

MY GUESS
After last weekend I shouldn't even try this again... but here goes.

Central Michigan is at Western Illinois for the big game. WESTERN has been on a rampage and should win by a TD.

Illinois Normal goes to Illinois Wesleyan for the finale. NORMAL, even though having to top last year, should beat the Titans by about six points.

The Salukis are at DeKalb for the season final. It is a must game for Southern. The SALUKIS by 13 points.

Regardless of how tomorrow's game comes out a great deal of credit should be given to Al Kaval and his excellent coaching staff and to the Saluki gridders for the excellent season they have had. A victory tomorrow would push the SIU mark to 8-1, the best record in about 20 years.

Defensively Saturday's game at Mt. Pleasant was probably one of Southern's best of the season because the Chips had one of the most powerful backfields in the conference and they were held to 144 yards, 283 gain.

Walt Beach, the Chips' brilliant halfback, was held to seven yards in three carries—quite an accomplishment in itself.

Before the game started Central's boosters in the press box were remarking that they were really proud of their football game and their marching band. After the game they were proud of only their marching band.

HATS OFF TO THE ROOFERS
A hats off should be given to the roofer students and band members who made the long trek to Michigan for the game. Anyone who travels about 1400 miles on a bus to see Salukis play a football game certainly has that "Southern Spirit."

The state of Michigan may decide to outlaw Illinois football teams after last Saturday. The University of Illinois defeated the University of Michigan, Southern defeated Central and Western walked all over Eastern Michigan. To top off the day Michigan State fell to Indiana—enough in itself to make the governor shoot himself.

SIG. TAU'S DOWN DELTA CHI'S

By John Felts

Sigma Tau Gamma defeated Delta Chi in a game highlighted by a Delta Chi player having his pants torn and a 60-yard kick-off return.

Midway in the second half, Ron Miller carried the ball for Delta Chi. He started on his opponents ten yard line and ran to the seven.

There his fate was torn loose, but to add to his misery his pants were also critically torn. Fortunately, a team mate had his gym shorts on underneath his overalls. An official time out was called while Miller regained his respectability.

In this last two minutes of the game, after Sigma Tau had scored their final touchdown, Al Swales cut loose for a 60-yard touchdown.

He caught the low, short kick on the second bounce and gave a neat exhibition of broken field running to score.

When the second half began, it was a tie game. Both teams had scored one touchdown and ground out two first downs. The second half began the same way the last few minutes of the first half had been played.

Sigma Tau scored first in both halves and Delta Chi had to fight back.

With the score tied at 12 all midway in the second half, Sigma Tau went about to stay there. They scored their third touchdown and kept Delta Chi from doing any damage.

Then with less than two minutes to play, they scored their final tally. Miller's long run followed this to complete the scoring.

Sigma Tau, in winning both Monday and Tuesday night (Nov. 10 and Nov. 11), extended their record to six wins and no losses. Sigma Psi, also, has six wins and no losses.

These two teams will meet next Tuesday, Nov. 18, to decide which team will represent the fraternity league in the intramural championship play-offs.

Lineman And Back Awards Entire Saluki Squad Cited

Because of the outstanding game of the entire Saluki football team turned in last weekend against the mighty Chippewas of Central Michigan College, not one individual could be singled out for the outstanding play in the game. The victory was truly a team effort.

In appreciation to the team for the excellent game they turned in, the entire defensive team plus the starting offensive backfield have been picked as this week's "Line-man of the Week" and "Back of the Week."

The Saluki defensive alignment almost completely contained the potentially wild running Chip offensive. The SIU forward wall held Walt Beach, the Chip's candidate for All-American, to seven yards in three carries—quite an accomplishment in itself.

In the Southern backfield, Carver Shannon looked like an All-American as he ran through the Central Michigan defense for three touchdowns. Fullback Cecil Hart, bulled up the middle for needed yardage constantly. Quarterback Bill Norwood called one of the finest games of his college career and he guided the Salukis to victory. Halfback "Night Train" Lane Jenkins played his best all-around game of the season. Lane scored 27 as well as playing brilliantly on defense.

The selections for this week look like this: "Line-man of the Week," Don Bates, Paul Brostrom, William Sellheimer, Nick Re, Willie Brown, Houston Antwine, and Rich Carpenter.

The selections for the "Back of the Week": Tom Bruns, Lane Jenkins, Don Miller, Ranette Lewis, Carver Shannon, Bill Norwood, Cecil Hart and Dave Wheeler.

Baird was born in Scotland and received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Glasgow. During World War II, he worked in the film division of the British Ministry of Information and became the division director in 1944. In 1951, he joined the UN Secretariat, Department of Public Information.

The model UN will be patterned after the original and the delegations of the different countries coming from SIU's organized groups. At plenary sessions, the delegates will be seated on the main floor and exhibit hall in front of the Agriculture auditorium seats.

INTERN PARTICIPATES
Mohan das Baliga, graduate student in government and a UN intern.

TV Wants SIU Talent

SIU students sporting talent vocally or instrumentally are urged to audition for performances over KPVS-TV, Cape Girardeau.

The Radio-TV department has a program over KPVS each Thursday morning, and according to professor Richard Uray, students will be featured on the program.

Any person interested in appearing on the program should contact Uray at extension 4661. He will talk with students individually and arrange auditions for each.

Uray emphasized that the auditions are open to all students.

The department will choose three individuals or groups each program. All performers will present two numbers each appearance.

Uray said that the group would leave campus at 5:30 Thursday morning, returning about 9 a. m.

Students representing India last summit, will serve as secretary-general.

Anthony Lowe of Great Britain will be president of the assembly. Any person interested in the International Relations Club, will be secretary.

The chairman of the five committees are Arthur E. Miller, Thomas McClintock, Donald McHenry, Richard Arterburn and John McAster.

The assembly is co-sponsored by the SIU Student Government and the International Relations Club.

The five committees and their topics are: political and security committee, "nuclear disarmament"; economic and financial committee, "a large special fund for economic development"; legal committee, "recognition of two Chinas"; Middle East committee, "political security, refugees and economic development"; and the UN Peace Force, "proposal for a permanent force."

VISITS ART DEPARTMENT
Peppino Mangravite, head of the Columbia University School of Painting and Sculpture, will visit the SIU art department Nov. 17-21. Mangravite, son of an Italian naval officer, will visit Southern in the role of visiting lecturer.

COLUMBIA U. PAINTER LECTURES WITH SIU ART STAFF NEXT WEEK

Peppino Mangravite, head of Columbia University's School of Painting and sculpture, will act as a visiting lecturer with the SIU art department Nov. 17-21.

The Italian-born artist will conduct a series of lectures in beginning and advanced classes in the graphic arts, as well as consult with staff members on Southern's art program.

Mangravite, a member of Columbia's powerful "Program in the Arts" department, was born on the Ligari, the son of an Italian naval officer. He came to the United States at the age of 16, returned to Europe for several years of study, then came back to America in 1914 to continue studies in New York.
