Since When?

SIU Had Nine Straight Rainless Homecomings

By Forrest Robbette

Will it rain this Homecoming? Many students are making their predictions as to what the weather will be this Homecoming week-end. Jim Throgmorton, Homecoming chairman, has made this forecast: "Clear as a bell," with "not a drop of rain" falling this year. This is more of a wish than an actual prediction, but it expresses the feelings of most of the students on campus.

If this Homecoming is without rain it will be the first in five years. The past four Homecomings have all been discolored to some extent by rain. This does not mean that it only picks Homecoming to rain on because there have been Homecomings on which it did not rain. Prior to these four rainy Homecomings,

Marching Choir to Perform for First Time Homecoming

A new and unique student organization will make its first appearance in the Homecoming parade, and perform again at the half-time of the Homecoming game. Under the direction of Gene Hawley, senior from Fairfield, Southern's men's marching choir will sing two numbers.

The first song, Signum Rumberg's "Stout Hearted Men," will be sung with band accompaniment. The other number, "Brothers, Sing On," by Greig will be sung a cappella.

The choir, which has not chosen a name yet, was organized with the co-operation of the Student Council. It is composed of interested students. Members do not have to be accomplished musicians. At present there are 48 members. The aim is to have 60.

THERE ARE other men's marching groups on college campuses.

Wilma Dummeier, James Trigg Star in 'Born Yesterday,' Homecoming Play

Students at Southern will have their first opportunity to see Little Theatre season tickets at the Homecoming play, "Born Yesterday," which will be presented tonight at Shryock auditorium. Tickets for the Homecoming play alone will be on sale at the Kanin.

The play, by Garson Kanin, is under the direction of Dr. Archibald McLeod. Technical director is Lawrence Voss, who collaborated with Dr. McLeod in scene design for the production.

James Trigg has the male lead of Harry Brock, with Wilma Dummeier as Billie Dawn, the feminine lead. The plot centers around Brock, who was a junk dealer during the last war, and who made a lot of money in the junk business.

WHEN BROCK goes to Washington to have improper legislation passed to enable him to gain a corner on the junk market, Billie, his girl friend, goes with him. She is to become socially educated by making this trip. Brock decides, and hires a reporter, Paul Verrill, played by Raymond Vancey, to help educate her.

As the play continues, Paul and Billie fall in love, and finally Brock loses both his girl and the corner on the junk market.

"Born Yesterday" ran on Broadway for three years, and it now being made into a movie. The leading roles in New York were played by Judy Holiday and Paul Douglas.

Supporting roles in the Little Theatre production are to be played by Dave Alverson as Ed Devery; Holt Jones as Senator Norval Hodge; Patti Manesse as Mrs. Hedges; Tom Berry as Eddie Brock; Ed Lund as assistant manager; Betty Jeanne McConnell as Helen, a maid.

Vincent Sheehan, world famous author-correspondent, will open this season's Entertainments and Lectures committee's program with a lecture in Shryock auditorium Nov. 8 at 8 p.m.

Sheehan, born in Pennsylvania, and a former student at the University of Chicago, has been in newspaper work since 1921. Since that time he has traveled widely, and was an eyewitness to Gandhi's assassination in 1948.

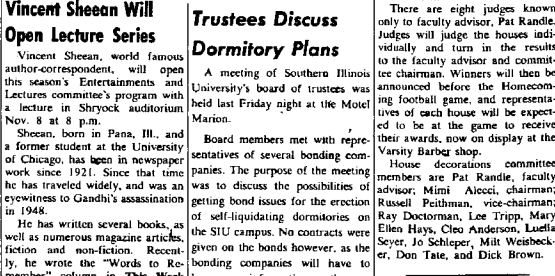

He has written several books, as well as numerous magazine articles, fiction and non-fiction. Recently, he wrote the "Words to Remember" column in This Week national Sunday newspaper supplement, of Oct. 8.

The lecture will be open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Trustees Discuss Dormitory Plans

A meeting of Southern Illinois University's board of trustees was held last Friday night at the Motel Marion.

Board members met with representatives of several bonding companies. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibilities of getting bond issues for the erection of self-liquidating dormitories on the SIU campus. No contracts were given on the bonds however, as the bonding companies will have to have more information on the project. Further discussions on this matter are scheduled at the next meeting of the board Nov. 13 in the board of trustees' office.

Southern Welcomes Its Alumni; 1950 Homecoming Underway

During our 1950 Homecoming week-end, President Delyte W. Morris welcomes all alumni and friends of Southern Illinois University with these words, "It is good to have you join us in celebrating the thirty-fourth annual Homecoming at Southern. I hope it will be a happy occasion for recollections of the days you spent here on the campus, and may you find many former acquaintances among our guests, faculty and students who are participating in the celebration."

Announce Officer Election Results; Over 1,100 Vote

Independents took at least three of the four class presidencies and seven of the class officerships in campus elections Tuesday as over 1,100 students passed through the polls.

Tom Sloan, president of the Student Council, which was the governing body at the election, said he hoped it was a record turnout for any campus election ever held at Southern.

Paka Nordmeyer, Murphyboro, was elected president of the senior class. Jim Parker, Johnston City, was named junior president, and Bob Coover, Herrin, was voted to lead the sophomores.

THE FRESHMAN class president was not announced due to an extremely close balloting. Preliminary figures showed Earl Cox, West Frankfort, and Gwen Applegate, Benton, within one vote of each other. A recount was to have been held last night.

Runners-up in the other classes for presidency were fraternity men. Art Meenderse of the senior class, Roy Clark of the junior class and Jim Schulbach of the sophomore class.

In the freshman class vice-presidential candidate Chuck White polled the highest number of votes received by any one candidate as he defeated Ben Fuller, 230 to 144. Bob Yount copied the secretary-treasurer position, with 220 votes, defeating Audrey Mayer.

IN THE SENIOR class write-in candidates Jean Humm and Forrest Derickson failed to make the grade as McEllen Donahue Dillard was elected vice-president and Bill Sackett was voted secretary-treasurer.

Marge Riskey was named vice-president of the junior class, defeating Jan Mayer, and Ruth Young won the secretary-treasurer position by seven votes over Jo Ann Eiken.

In the sophomore class Doug Shepherd out-pollied Betty Wyant for the vice-president and Barbara Ames was named secretary-treasurer, defeating Joe Selement.

Official voting returns as released by the Student Council are as follows:

Seniors
President: Nordmeyer 86, Mcenderse 74.
Vice-president: Dillard 98, Haggins 48.
Secretary-treasurer: Sackett 96, Derickson 36.

"Your loyalty to your Alma Mater, the fine spirit of our students, faculty and employees, and the splendid cooperation of the people in Southern Illinois have placed Southern where it is today. It is your university. The program to be made on the building program and the increased educational offerings will depend largely upon the support given to the university by its loyal alumni and friends. Great service is our hope for the future—greater service to the state of Illinois."

Homecoming activities officially opened with a student assembly yesterday at which the queen candidates, and the attendants were introduced.

TONIGHT'S feature attraction is the Homecoming play, "Born Yesterday," which will be presented by Little Theatre at 8 p.m. in Shryock auditorium, with Wilma Dummeier and James Trigg in starring roles. Other events of tonight include an Alumni association board banquet at the Grand City lodge, and the Chi Delta Chi fraternity banquet.

At 9 tomorrow morning, the Women's Athletic association will present a variety-alum hockey game on the hockey field, and several sororities and fraternities will have breakfasts, brunches, and alumni meetings during the morning.

Southern's 65-piece Maroon band will lead the Homecoming parade at 11 a.m. The parade, which will form at Carbondale Community high school, will contain floats sponsored by Carbondale city groups, as well as Southern organization floats. The newly-organized marching choir will march in the parade, and approximately 14 Southern Illinois high school bands will go on hand for the parade and the football game in the afternoon.

AT THE 1:30 p.m. kick-off at McAndrew stadium, Southern will meet Illinois Normal University in the Homecoming game. At half-time, the marching choir will sing an a cappella number, "Brothers Sing On" by Greig, and will combine with the pep band for "Stout Hearted Men" by Romberg. Gene Hawley, senior from Fairfield, is director of the choir.

Drum majorettes Ruth Henderson, Betty Sisson, and Pat Patton will lead the pep band. "Blue Moon," arranged especially for the band by Bill Gannon, Louis Waters will lead the band on the field in his position as drum major. The Illinois Normal band will also perform at the half.

The presentation of Homecoming awards will also be a half-time event, with trophies being presented for the best Homecoming float, the best game, authorship. Hall will be the scene of a tea for alumni, faculty, and their guests. Nu Epsilon Alpha fraternity will have a smoker at 5 p.m. and Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority will have an alumni tea at 5:30.

ACCORDING TO Miss Caroline Van Mason, the Canteen will be open today from 7 a.m. until after the Homecoming play, and tomorrow until the game, and after the game. Located in the Canteen this week-end will be a Bulletin Board for the convenience of out-of-town guests who will be able to tell friends and former classmates know where they can be reached in Carbondale over the week-end.

The Baptist Student Union at the Baptist Foundation is sponsoring a Homecoming party at the foundation dining hall tomorrow night at 7:30, to which everyone is invited.

Homecoming students activities will be tomorrow night's concert and dance featuring the music of Jack Fina and his orchestra. The concert will begin at 8 p.m., followed by the dance beginning at 9:30.

At 11 p.m. of Southern's week-end will become the university's 1950 Homecoming queen, who will be crowned in an elaborate coronation ceremony.

The Dean of Women's office has announced that all women students will have 3 a.m. late leave for the Homecoming dance, and that they will not have to obtain individual permission for it from the Dean's office. Tonight's curfew is at midnight.

Progress or Stalemate?

"Leaders of tomorrow" is the label frequently stamped on college students of today. Quite often, however, we fail to realize that this involves today's preparation for tomorrow's tasks. Southern students, at least those who are eligible voters, can help prepare for better government in the future by voting for the Gateway amendment to the Illinois constitution at the Nov. 7 election.

This amendment, simply explained, is a proposal to make it less difficult to amend the state constitution. That such a change is needed can be indicated by the fact that all nine amendments proposed since 1908 have failed to pass. These failures have been caused by two factors: first, that large numbers of voters have failed to vote on amendments; and second, the existing provision requires a successful amendment to secure the approval of all the voters voting in the general election in which the amendment is being considered. These two factors when combined means that a failure to vote on the amendment is the same as voting "No." These two factors have caused nine straight amendment defeats even though all but one of the nine received a majority approval of those voting on the amendment question.

To change this situation the Gateway amendment would permit the following three things:

1. The effecting of amendments to as many as three constitutional articles at any one general election instead of just one as at present.
2. Amendments to be approved either by (a), a majority vote of all voters participating in the election; or (b), a favorable vote of two-thirds of those voting on the amendment.
3. The legislature would determine whether future amendments should be submitted to the voters on a separate ballot or in a separate column on the regular ballot.

Five previous times the voters of Illinois have been asked to permit this change. Five times the hurdle has not been cleared. This time there is a concerted effort being made to get it over. The state government itself has authorized the preparation of an official folder explaining the amendment and these have been mailed to qualified voters by county clerks in each county. Both Democrat and Republican parties have given their endorsement.

The proposed amendment will be in the form of a separate ballot, colored blue. Vote it "Yes" in true Southern spirit—"Progress, and not Stalemate." Remember, too, that an absentee ballot can be secured from the County Clerk of the county in which you are registered to vote merely by writing for one at least five days before the election. So no excuse can be found for not voting on this important issue—Guest editorial by Robert McGrath of the government department.

Contrast of the Week

Action of a few persons is not very important, according to some people, but we can't quite agree.

At Southern this week, it was announced on the one hand that two or three Homecoming banners had been stolen while on the other hand, it was announced that the Obelisk had won medalist honors in the senior college class for the 1950 yearbook.

The Obelisk rating—highest rating ever received by a Southern yearbook—boosted Southern considerably while the other lowered Southern in the opinions of many persons.

The yearbook was put out by only a few students while the banners were taken by a few, perhaps only one or two.

We think action of only a few individuals or students is important and often has a marked effect on the university. The type of influence—good or bad—depends on the nature of the effort.—B. H.

One Sentence Editorial: We hope you alumni enjoy your visit at Southern this week end and hope you will return more often.

It Happened Here

The tragic death of William McCloskey, 17-year-old University high school senior, killed when he was hit by a car here Monday evening, again brings out the need for increased caution in driving and walking.

And what campus needs careful drivers and walkers more than Southern with its very large number of commuters and with a busy state highway winding through the middle of the campus.

There have been many near auto accidents at Southern in the past few months, but as far as we know, there have been no serious accidents.

However, that does not mean there will be none. Students crossing Route 51, be it near the cafeteria or the Canteen, should be especially careful.

Certainly drivers also should be on their toes. It is not a good feeling to know that you have killed or injured a fellow student—even though the other person may have been at fault.

We hope Southern's pedestrians and drivers will try their best to keep Southern accident free.—B. H.

Homecoming Rain Still Big Problem

by Harry Roberts

Elections, Homecoming—this is an exciting week. First, we want to congratulate the winners in the elections, and add a few more comments.

Last year's class officers—for the first time in several years—actually started a little class activity, which finally culminated in a few dances. We hope that this year's squad will use last year's record as a spring-board toward greater achievements. The Student Council has already set a good example of student leadership. If this example is also followed within the various classes, it will be a landmark in the student history of the university.

One of the biggest questions which comes up each Homecoming time at Southern is that of the weather. Various sorts of rumors have been tried in the past to prevent rain—all with a little degree of unmitigated failure. One of the main planks in the platforms last spring during the election of Homecoming chairman was the promise to prevent rain this year. Up until the middle of this week, prospects were fine. But not until Sunday we believe that there was no rain during Homecoming.

In a more serious vein, we hope that every student on campus will turn out for every Homecoming event. The Little Theatre play to-night undoubtedly will be of the high calibre displayed in previous productions. Everyone loves a parade, and one of the best will wind through Carbondale tomorrow morning. New bleachers have been installed in order to allow plenty of seating space at tomorrow's game. We need not mention tomorrow night's dance—naturally, everyone will turn out for that.

We want to salute a new organization which will make its premiere appearance at the game tomorrow—the marching choir, under the direction of one of Southern's leading music students, Gene Howey.

Non-Segregated Pools Succeed in Washington

By Roy L. Clark

An editorial in a recent issue of the St. Louis Post Dispatch commented upon the fact that Washington D. C. completed a full season of non-segregated swimming in its six interior department-controlled pools. Noteworthy, indeed! Washington, a city that is notorious for its Jim Crowism, has done something that many of her more liberal minded sister cities won't attempt for fear of "stirring up trouble."

Incidentally, during the season-long experiment not one calamitous incident or disturbance of any kind occurred. Of the 315,531 who attended the pools, 90,000 were colored; certainly enough to "make matters worse," or to "increase the of Handel's "The Messiah" begin in the Little Theatre Monday at 7:30 p.m. All campus singers are invited to attend.

We learned this week that the 1950 Obelisk has won highest honors in a national yearbook criticism contest. This is another bright feather in Southern's hat, and especially in the hats of the members of the staff. Our heartfelt congratulations go to the people who put out the prize-winning Obelisk and helped put Southern more racially tension," as was predicted by the witch hunters. But they were happily disappointed, and the entire undertaking was a complete success.

In the light of Washington's successful experiment, the old dodge, "The negro is not ready for integration," loses much of its weight. Washington still has a long way to go towards racial tolerance, but this—along with the St. Louis less successful, but not disastrous, non-segregated swimming program; Arkansas' removing of barriers against negro voters, and some great strides in education—seems to indicate a new era of understanding is dawning.

It's fine that the university will have a holiday next Friday—by that time students should be rested up from Homecoming and won't need to waste the holiday sleeping.

Cafeteria Employees Give Students Hints

Dear Editor:

The sale of meal tickets to the students in the Cafeteria with its increased volume of business has caused the personnel, its limited space, and equipment to overflow.

The following suggestions have been submitted by the employees. These may help to speed up the service and benefit everyone.

1. Read menu and select your food while waiting in line.
2. Speak clearly when giving your order to counter girl, complete your order as you move along.

3. Speed up the line by moving as fast as possible.
4. If there are any complaints report same to the manager. Counter girls only carry out orders.

5. The hours for serving are posted on the door. Follow them rigidly.
6. The cafeteria welcomes the students, but we ask that you do not misuse or abuse the property.
7. Purchase meal tickets in advance and have them or cash ready to present upon reaching the cashier.

8. There are a number of things, such as placing trays on racks after removing food; putting ashes in ash trays, rather than dishes; writing on paper instead of tables; keeping your feet off of the velvet ropes; leaving hangers in place on the racks, etc. If you will observe these requests, it will promote excellent relations.

Her Majesty

Queen Coronation Varies Thirty Years

For the twenty-fourth year, Southern Illinois University will crown a queen at the highlight of Homecoming festivities.

In 1926, Lydia Davis, the first queen, was crowned after the Homecoming play, and was attended by two handmaids representing Knowledge and Sportswomen.

Procedure regarding Homecoming queen's has varied through the years. In 1927, Edna Hampton elected, not by the usual balloting, but by a standing vote in the auditorium.

THE PLACE and the time of coronation has not followed a set pattern either. Last year, Deborah Sharp was crowned 1949 Homecoming queen on Thursday night in the auditorium and reigned over the entire Homecoming weekend. This year, as in 1946 when Emma Douglas was queen, the coronation will take place on Saturday night at the dance.

MISS VOGELY NEW PREXY OF PHI BETA KAPPA

Beta association of Phi Beta Kappa, made up of members of Phi Beta Kappa in Southern Illinois met in Anthony Hall Oct. 13 for a dinner meeting. Dean Willis G. Swartz, president of the SIU group of Phi Beta Kappa members, presided.

The Beta association offers an annual Phi Beta Kappa prize to the highest ranking graduating senior in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

An election of officers was held. Miss Maxine Vogely was elected president and Dr. Norman Caldwell, secretary-treasurer.

Expansion Program Goes Forward With Plans, Bids For New Buildings

NEW BEACON TO guide Southern is the new training school tower, complete with four clocks (one on each side). Total cost of the building will be more than $5,000,000. (Photo by Peterman).

IN ORDER to give Southern more classroom and office space, numerous barracks acquired from Camp Edin this summer are being constructed at Southern. The ones pictured above are on Thompson street. The art center is the fourth building from the left and the university cafeteria is pictured at the extreme right. (Photo by Nesbitt).

THE ARCHITECT'S drawing depicts a new life science building (upper half of picture) and proposed greenhouse and animal house which are all part of Southern's plan for the future.

Includes Science Unit, Library, Dormitories

By Barbara Ames

New structures planned for Southern, including additions to the new training building, service shops, first unit of a library, first unit of a life science building with greenhouses and animal houses, farm buildings, and a girls' dormitory, are in the progress of becoming realizations on Southern's campus.

Drawings and specifications of the library, life science, green and animal houses, and training school additions were sent to bidders Oct. 6. On Nov. 2 the bids will be opened and the construction will be awarded to lowest bidders. These buildings will all be constructed approximately at the same time, according to Dr. Charles Tenney, administrative assistant to the president.

However, the time of construction and completion is indefinite. Dr. Tenney said, "It is a risk to say anything about the time of construction, for the war is causing many difficulties. It is difficult to obtain bids because the contractors are unsure of the difficulties they themselves may run into."

AS FOR construction already completed on new buildings, Edward V. Miles, university business manager, reports that the training school proper, not including additions, is 95 per cent complete. Additions to the building will include a physical education wing with a swimming pool, and an industrial education wing. Bids are being collected for these additions now. The estimated cost for the total building is $3,250,000.

Service shops, which are additions to the new power plant, are also under construction. According to Miles, the first unit of these shops is nearing completion. Bids are now out for the second unit of the shops. The service shops are to be used by the physical plant. Paint, carpenter, and tool shops will be included along with a service garage to house university cars. It is estimated that additions to the power plant will total one million dollars in cost.

ESTIMATED cost of the new library totals $2,311,000. The library will take the place of the present one and will cover an area of almost an acre, according to Dr. Robert H. Muller, director of university libraries. Plans have been completed and submitted to bidders. Included in the library will be an auditorium, space for audiovisual aids service, the Tilton library, a bindery, library science classrooms, and reading and study areas. Twenty-five to 30 per cent of the library will be left unfinished in order to allow for expansion at later dates.

Contracts have been awarded for the construction of greenhouses which will make up the first unit of the life science buildings. Bids are now out for the life science building proper. Estimated cost of construction is $1,313,000. The life science buildings will contain facilities for instruction and research for four departments—zoology, botany, microbiology, and physiology.

PLANS AND specifications are nearly complete for the girls' dormitory which is planned to house more than 400 girls. The estimated cost is more than $1,000,000. The university is studying plans to issue a rental bond to help the building according to Miles. State funds will finance a part of the construction, however.

Farm buildings are to be constructed sometime in the latter future. The contract for an agricultural survey preliminary to the preparation of plans for the farm buildings has been awarded.

According to Miles, out of $352,000 appropriated for land for new buildings, the university has expended a total of $172,000 already this biennium.

Start Rehearsals For 'The Messiah'

Southern's presentation of Handel's world-famous oratorio, "The Messiah," will be given two performances this year. Dr. Maurits Keesar, chairman of the music department and director of the oratorio, announced this week.

The first performance will be held in Shuck auditorium Sunday evening, Dec. 10. The following evening, the oratorio will be given in Harrisburg.

FIRST CHORUS rehearsal for this year's performance—the fifth on campus under Dr. Keesar—will be held in the Little Theatre Monday at 7:30 p.m. As in the past, both students and area residents are being recruited to sing in the chorus. Four nationally known radio artists have been contracted to sing the solo parts, Dr. Keesar said, but their names will not be released until later.

In past years, the university presentation of the oratorio has been enthusiastically received by Southern Illinoisans. After playing to an audience of 2,000 persons in Carbondale last year, the group performed before a packed house in Centralia.

Future Teachers of America To Have Meet

Regarding the FTA, Roy V. Jordan, assistant professor of education and campus sponsor for the organization, stated, "Membership in the FTA might well be called a 'Campus internship' in teaching.

A NEW UNIVERSITY greenhouse is being constructed immediately east of the Veterans' housing project. It will consist of three units, each 25x42 feet with a side door, between the units. Overall dimensions of the building will be 42x110 feet. Heating will be from the central heating system, the heat being piped from the new power plant. (Photo by Nesbitt).

Alumni Service Has Names of More Than 12,000 SIU Alumni

by Forrest Rohlfette
What is the function of the Alumni Service?

Its job is to locate or keep files on all alumni students of Southern. This does not apply only to graduates, but to anyone who has been a student at Southern for one or more complete quarters. It also tries to keep in the files the new addresses of the alumni who have moved.

Very recently the Alumni Service acquired a new director, Wayne M. Mann. Before taking this job, he was principal of the Pacific Grove high school in California. He resigned his job there to accept this position at Southern. He has his master's degree from Stanford University, and has almost completed the work on his doctor's degree there.

ALSO ON the staff of the Alumni Service are Miss Mary Rose Colomby, who is the alumni recorder, and Mrs. Helen Pulio, secretary.

The Alumni Service is a rather new organization on the campus at Southern. It was established in 1946 and its growth has been very rapid in these four years. Over 12,000 names are now on file in the office.

The Alumni Service offers another service to all alumni of Southern. It mails a newspaper, the Southern Alumni, issued monthly, to them. This paper contains information on the happenings of former students of Southern. It also gives information about Southern that would be of interest to alumni.

Students attending were Julia Tucker, Carbondale; Alice Simmons, Goff; John Karsch, Vienna; Charles Dickerman, Carbondale.

DEAN E. G. LENTZ

Dean E. G. Lentz Retires From Southern Faculty

Professor Eli Gilbert Lentz, one of Southern's most popular professors, retired last month after over half a century of educating the youth of Southern Illinois.

He began his teaching career in the rural schools of Southern Illinois in 1899, and he retired with the highest rank ever given to a SIU instructor.

He served for 36 years on the faculty, including 10 years as Dean of Men. In 1948, at the request of President Delyte W. Morris, the University's governing board approved Professor Lentz's appointment as University Professor.

Last year, he served as chairman of the University's Diamond Jubilee committee. During the last few years, he has served as curator of the Clint Jacy Tilton Library of Lincolniana and Americana. At the present time, as University Historian, he is completing a history of the school.

He is one of the founders of the Southern Illinois Historical Society, and from 1939 until last year, he served as secretary of the organization. He is also a member of the Mississippi Valley and the American Historical associations, and the Abraham Lincoln association.

His activities were not limited to the University, however. As an active member of Rotary International for a quarter of a century, Dean Lentz served as district governor in 1938, and continued to serve on the board. Largely through his influence, Rotary District 149 established a scholarship fund to bring foreign scholars to SIU to study.

He is a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite and a Knight Templar York Rite Mason, and has held several high positions in that fraternal order.

Maroons' Defense Collapses; Huskies Win, 44-20; Call Makes 100-Yard Run

By Bill Hollida

Even a 100-yard touchdown run by halfback Harold Call couldn't save the Southern Maroons from a 44-20 trouncing at the hands of the Northern Huskies in a grid game at DeKalb last Saturday.

The game, played at the DeKalb high school field before an estimated 5,000 spectators, was Southern's first Interstate conference game.

It was the Huskies' second conference victory and boosted them into a first place tie with Illinois Normal, who put forth a good running attack in eight East of Charleston, 23-21, Saturday.

FOUR PASS DEFENSE, and not exceptionally good ground defense, spelled defeat for the Maroons. Northern quarterback, Bob Heinemeyer, a triple-threat man, teamed up with end Fran Canell, and Ernie Wickstrom, to form passing combinations which Southern couldn't stop.

When Wickstrom wasn't catching passes, he was running with the ball.

The Northern victory was not too surprising, but the large score was surprising when considering that Southern in the first three games held their opponents to a total of only 17 points even though they didn't show too much of an offense.

SUNDAY was quite a different story. Not only did Northern score more points against the Maroons than they had in any of the previous 18 encounters, but the Maroons also came up with the most points ever scored by Southern. (Southern did score 20 points against Northern in beating them 20-0 in 1947).

Northern opened its scoring attack in the very first quarter when Heinemeyer threw a long pass from his own 14-yard line to Wick-Altom who caught the ball on the 50-yard line and outdistanced the Maroons the remaining 50 yards for a touchdown—a total gain of 86 yards. Try for the extra point failed.

Northern scored again late in the first quarter after Northern's end Walt Beckman had recovered a Maroon fumble on the Southern 5. Hugh Helms, hard-driving 220-pound Huskie fullback, made the touch down, plunging over from the term. Captain Don Cross broke through to block the try for extra point.

Following recovery of a Northern fumble on the Northern 38, the Maroons began a touchdown drive. The drive was highlighted by a pass from Fred Brenzel to Herb Cummins and then, but consistent gains by Edward Schweinberg and Call. It was climaxed by Call who scored from the four. Lou Bobka's kick for the extra point was good.

Northern led, 12-7 at half-time. BEHIND GOOD BLOCKING, Wickstrom went around left end and raced 88 yards for a touch down early in the third period. Again McKillen's kick for the extra point was no good.

Southern followed this touchdown with a 73-yard touchdown drive from their own 27. The drive
