Student activity control goes to new council

By Wayne Markham

A newly empowered student activities council was formally activated Wednesday replacing last year's Activities Programming Board (APB), Meeting Committee and student government activities offices.

Already budgeted some $80,000, the newly named Student Government Activities Council has virtual monopoly control over all student activities in close association with student government.

The Student Senate, at its Wednesday night meeting, approved the sole obstacle to the plan which involved transfer of Free School from a separate body under student government control to the new Activities Council.

Under the office of Student Body Vice President for Student Activities, Don Kapral, the revamped Activities Council is being heralded as closing the gap between students and student government.

The greatest change caused by the move is coordination of all student activities into one large body under the direct supervision of student government headquarters.

According to Kapral its function is "to promote involvement," and already some apparent differences from the system last year are visible.

Free School, once a quasi-independent body under loose student government control, has been put in the category of one of eleven other committees, all under the newly created Activities Council control.

In addition, much duplication of effort visible in such separate bodies as Hospitality Day and Parent Day committees no longer exists, according to Kapral.

As engineered in the revision of the former Student Activities operation are these 11 Functional Committees: Current Events, Films, Free School, Homecoming, Hospitality, International, Leadership, Training, Orientation, Spring Festival, Social and University Center.

An Advisory Board has also been added this year and will include representatives from the major living areas and interest groups who will make suggestions to the Functional Committee Board.

Kapral met with SIU President Delyte W. Morris and other members of the new council, all of whom are students.

"We'd like to have representation of the faculty too," said Kapral. "The Student Senate has already approved the idea." While the revision was made formal Wednesday with the final drafting of the Activities Council.

New parking regulations to be enforced Monday

Enforcement of the new parking regulations will begin at 7 a.m. Monday, August 26, said Capt. Carl Kirk, SIU Security Office, who previously reported that enforcement would not begin before Oct. 11, said he had not been informed of the new date.

Approval of the new parking regulations by the Student Senate will result in more parking spaces.

The chancellor drove to work Tuesday but was unable to find a parking space. After searching several lots, he finally had to park in the lot near Small Group Housing—approximately one-half mile from his office.
Freedom group to debate

Young Americans for Freedom (YAF), a new SIU organization, has accepted the Southern Illinois Peace Committee's challenge for an open debate on American involvement in Vietnam, Gregory Kleis, president of YAF, said. The debate will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Shryock Auditorium. YAF's stand on Vietnam is that "America should stay and must militarily protect the integrity of South Vietnam," Kleis said.

State collegians to meet

Student Body President Sam Panayotovich will represent SIU in Springfield Saturday at a meeting of student leaders called by Illinois Governor Samuel H. Shapiro. Panayotovich, who was invited to attend the meeting along with representatives from other Illinois colleges and universities, said he has no idea what will be discussed but plans to "play by ear."

The meeting will begin at 11 a.m., followed by a noon luncheon. In his invitation, Shapiro described the session as a discussion of the state's future and asked students leaders to be prepared to exchange their views.

Each major college and university in the state will be represented by one person.

MacVicar main speaker

Chancellor Robert W. MacVicar will address the convocation audience at 1 p.m. Thursday in the Arena. His speech is entitled "In the Great Tradition."

MacVicar, formerly vice president for academic affairs for the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses, became chancellor at the Carbondale campus July 1. MacVicar will attend a coffee hour following the program in Ballroom A of the University Center.

Everyone is invited.

The Arena will open at 12:30 p.m. for the program. Those attending the convocation are asked to sit in upper and lower sections on the west side of the Arena.

Harpsichord to perform here

Maria Pinckney, a former harpsichordist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, will perform during the Southern Illinois Symphony's first concert of the season at 8 p.m., Nov. 1 in Shryock Auditorium.

Herbert Levinson, director of the symphony, said some of the selections are Beethoven's Symphony No. 4, suite from the ballet "Swan Lake" by Tchaikovsky and "Introduction and Allegro" by Ravel for harp and orchestra.

The Southern Illinois Symphony, composed of students, faculty and community members, plans concerts in February and April. A Student Soloists' Concert is scheduled for May.

Geothermal survey

Don L. Sawatzky, SIU assistant professor of geology, has been named chairman of the Illinois District in the Geothermal Survey of North America, a project sponsored by the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and the National Science Foundation.

As chairman of the Illinois district, Sawatzky will collect rock temperatures from deep oil tests and mines. He will instruct earth scientists in collecting the field information and converting it to common use for interpretation by computers.

Peace club states goals

An effort to eliminate the ROTC program at SIU will be undertaken this year by the Southern Illinois Peace Committee.

At a Tuesday night meeting, attended by about 70 persons, the SIPC decided that ROTC has no business on campus and could be eliminated through peaceful demonstrations. William Moffett, temporary SIPC chairman, said demonstrations are being planned.

The organization also hopes to halt American involvement in the Vietnam war and to seek means of stopping future wars, Moffett said.

"To accomplish this, SIPC will disseminate information on the war through dialogue teams, teaching, debates, radio appearances and movies."

A peace march will be held Oct. 21-27, Moffett said. The week is an anti-war effort.

Special plays set

Four special plays for children will be presented by the Department of Theater at SIU this year under sponsorship of the Carbondale chapter of the American Association of University Women.

A child's version of George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion," adapted and directed by Darwin Payne of the Department of Theater, will be presented Dec. 10-13. Other special performances for children include: "The Strolling Players," Jan. 28-31; "Simple Simon," Mar. 4-7; and a special creative dance program, May 26-29. Performances will begin at 3 p.m. in the playhouse in the Communications Building. Tickets can be obtained through area schools for 50 cents.

Review needed

A thorough review of General Studies "A" area is needed.

Controversy over this area, "Man's Physical Environment & Biological Inheritance," was publicly aired during the summer quarter on the Public Forum page of the Daily Egyptian, and centered around that old bane of SIU students in General Studies: Introductory Biology (GSA-20lb).

The controversy stemmed from a student's letter (John A. Grozlik of June 27) questioning the lop-sided grade distribution in GSA-20lb for spring quarter. Of the 929 students who completed the course, 34 received D's and F's (34 and 17 percent respectively), and the question of "why such a large percentage" was rightfully raised.

In reply, George Garolian, co-ordinator of General Studies Biology stated July 9 that "Truly, I don't know why..." The controversy continued for several weeks, and apparently expired with the onset of the August goldrums. No public announcement was made to the effect that the course was being reviewed, the matter "was being looked into" or the like.

Mr. Garolian did state in his letter to the Daily Egyptian that GSA-20lb is continually being changed with the introduction of "new biological information and new ways of teaching."

He added, however, that "the basic course outline, exam mechanics and instruction in the course have been quite stable." Perhaps the cause of the lop-sided spring quarter grade distribution and the general student antipathy towards the GSA courses lies in the fact that the courses have remained "stable."

In any case, GSA-20lb and the General Studies "A" area are, as any student can attest from common campus-wide knowledge, severely criticized among undergraduates.

The usual complaints about the GSA courses that they are "dull," "strictly rote" and "poorly presented," are too often heard to be dismissed as mere "student grumbling."

There just may be something badly wrong with the current course offerings in the "A" area, and a thorough but timely review — not one of the usual "long-term" SIU studies — is needed.

Public Forum

The Daily Egyptian welcomes free discussion of current issues through editorials and forum columns. Columns and editorials are written by students of the student staff and by students selected by journalism faculty and department syllabus of the author only. Students are invited to express their opinions in forums, which must be signed with the student's address and telephone number, preferably signatures, and be no longer than 500 words. Letter writers should respect the generally accepted standards of good taste and are urged to make use of the copy desk in their writing.

It is the policy of the Daily Egyptian to encourage growth of the opinion pages. Most material on pages four and five includes columns and articles from other newspapers and journals, and interpretation or opinion articles authored locally.

Police design suit of armor from Aussie outlaw idea

By Alan Trengove
Copley News Service

MELBOURNE, Australia—The police force in Victoria has perfected a suit of armor for use in emergencies.

It can stop a .32 bullet from 10 feet. And the police claim that most rifle shots glance off it.

But one of its drawbacks is its weight. It tips the scales at 400 pounds.

Victoria’s late police chief, Selwyn Porter, got the idea of armor for the modern policeman from Australia’s most famous bushranger, Ned Kelly.

With other members of his gang, Dan Kelly, Sliven Hart and Joe Byrne, Kelly terrorized the state of Victoria from 1878 to 1880. His exploits cost the government $300,000.

His story has been veiled in legends. He is the Australian equivalent of Robin Hood, and a common phrase to describe anyone of courage is “as game as Ned Kelly.”

Kelly invented an outlawish suit of armor weighing 97 pounds, which has been depicted in a famous painting by Sidney Nolan.

When at last the gang was cornered by the police in a hotel in Glenrowan there was a pitched battle in which Dan Kelly, Hart and Byrne were killed. But the police bullets bounced off Kelly in his armor and he was captured alive. He was later hanged.

Of the new police armor, Victorian Assistant Police Chief Noel Wilby says: “Just because the idea was Ned Kelly’s in 1880, our modern police force isn’t above borrowing it.”

Whereas Kelly had his arms and legs exposed, the new model protects all but the hands and feet.

After he got the idea, Police Chief Porter consulted the “tailoring department” of Wilkinson’s of London, a firm renowned for its swords, armor and razor blades.

The helmet design was worked out between Porter and Wilkinson’s armor experts. The face and neck are protected. There are straps at the back.

The suit is made of overlapping two-inch squares of specially toughened high tensile steel. The bodywork is covered with navy blue cloth.

Heavy khaki cloth covers the 8-pound headpiece.

The eyelids are too narrow for precision rifle sighting, but enough to use a tear gas weapon.

It has chest, leg and arm covers buckled by nylon straps, and a sporran for “under the belt” shots.

The cost of each suit: $1,000.

After he got the idea it was yet to be determined in a real emergency, though judging by the spate of sieges in Australia it could be soon.

In Sydney recently, Wally Mellish, a crazed gunman, locked himself in a suburban house with a young woman and her baby, and held the police at bay for about a week with an array of weapons.

Before he gave himself up he had forced the police to allow him to marry the woman in the house and to hand him an Armalite rifle.

The police were not only concerned for the safety of the woman and the child but also for their own lives because of Mellish’s marksmanship.

Had they possessed some suits of armor they might have gotten him out quicker.

Judges consider ‘Panther’ case

By Copley News Service

SAN FRANCISCO—No decision may be forthcoming before late December in the parole violation case of Eldridge Cleaver, Black Panther leader whose invitation to lecture at the University of California at Berkeley prompted the California Legislature to censure the school’s officials.

A three-judge panel of the state Court of Appeal took the case under submission Tuesday after a 90-minute hearing. The judges have 90 days in which to reach a decision.

Cleaver, 35, was ordered freed from prison last June by Solano County Superior Court Judge Raymond J. Sherwin.

Cleaver was free on parole when he was wounded and arrested in a Black Panther gun battle with Oakland, Calif., police April 6. Black Panther treasurer, 17-year-old Bobby Hutton, was killed and another Panther and two policemen were wounded in the fray.

Cleaver has spent most of his adult life in California prisons. He was convicted for possession of narcotics and served 2 1/2 years before being paroled in December, 1956. In 1958, he was convicted on two counts of assault with attempt to commit murder and three counts of assault with a deadly weapon.

He was again freed on parole Dec. 12, 1966, after serving nearly nine years.

He is scheduled for trial Dec. 2 on new charges of attempted murder and assault with a deadly weapon as a result of the Oakland shoot-out in which 1,000 rounds were fired.

In his book, “Soul on Ice,” Cleaver says that after his 1956 release he embarked on a deliberate career as a rapist.

The 1958 assault charges arose from an attack on a student nurse and a young man in Los Angeles. Cleaver entered the couple’s car and pistol whipped the youth before tying his hands and then he fired into the car while attempting to elude capture.

This is the record that mobilized the state Legislature to censure the UC-Berkeley faculty when it was announced that Cleaver was due to deliver a series of 10 lectures as a “vivid victim” of racism.

UC regents have since limited Cleaver’s appearance at the school to one 90-minute lecture. But members of the UC Center for Participant Education said they are still determined to give him 10 audiences, on or off campus.

Cleaver has also been invited and agreed to speak before students at Stanford University and Sacramento State College.

Student coordinator Phil Coelho of Sacramento State said Cleaver will be paid $150 from student funds for the lecture during a non-credit course to include 10 speakers.

Martin Cuttermann, of the Stanford Student Committee for a New Democratic Process, said Cleaver will speak on the Stanford campus at a still undecided date. The lecture will be open to anyone who wishes to attend, Cuttermann said.

Draft law changes have limited effect on total SIU graduate school enrollment

By Al Manning

Recent draft law changes do not greatly affect the total enrollment of the SIU graduate program, William Simone, dean of the Graduate School, said.

Although individual departments were hit with resignations, Simone said, SIU actually recorded a slight increase in graduate enrollments.

“While a 10 to 15 percent decline in enrollment for the fall term was predicted near-disaster in some universities,” Simone said. Total graduate enrollment for the Carbondale campus was 2,650 last year. Final figures are not yet available this year.

Intensive recruiting was one reason given for the apparent increase.

“With the increase in the Selective Service’s relatively low November draft quota, the call for 10,000 men, nationwide, was the lowest since March, 1965,” Simone said.

Fohr gets office

John M. Fohr, director of publications in the SIU Business Research Bureau, has been appointed regional vice president of the Society for the Advancement of Management, University Division.

Fohr, an associate professor of management in the SIU School of Business and faculty adviser to the student chapter of SAM, will install and develop student chapters and help graduating seniors enter professional divisions of SAM.

Park board seeks new plan after pool proposal defeat

The Carbondale City Council passed a motion Tuesday night urging the park board to consider a new swimming pool plan acceptable to the voters.

Councilman Randall Nelson offered the motion, the recent defeat of the swimming pool was the largest community pool proposal defeated.

Councillman Frank Kirk suggested the park board seek another meeting of the fall quarter's swimming pool proposal after an acceptable plan has been formulated with the help of Carbondale residents. Kirk noted that there was no citizen participation in the writing of the defeated pool plan.

Navy Appoints Kaiser

Naval officials have announced the appointment of Commander Dale E. Kaiser as SIU Naval Reserve Recruiting and Procurement Officer.

Kaiser was director of the School Services Bureau in the College of Education, who will provide information on Naval Reserve programs available to high school and college students.

Simone said that several males are attending graduate school in the interim before being called to the service. They may be drafted after being reclassified I-A, most likely in November.

“The draft law follows its own logic in that there will be an increasing attrition of SIU graduate students. But on the other hand there will be more men who are being discharged from the service who are potential graduate students,” Simone said.

SIU's enrollment seems to coincide with the national trend. Betty Vetter, executive director of the Scientific Manpower Commission, said that final statistics for the fall term would be very close to last year's.

Gustave O. Arlt, president of the Council of Graduate Schools in the United States, indicated that he still thought

Robert Layer appointed Thai student advisor

Robert G. Layer, professor of economics, was named Saturday to replace Frank Seibert as faculty advisor to the SIU Thai Student Association.

The student association members welcome Layer at a small reception Saturday. Following the group's first meeting of the fall quarter, Seibert, a member of the International Student Services, was advisor to the group during its first two years.

Officers for the 1968-69 school year are Patrote Leevatavorn, president; Sathan Ut-Valai, vice president; Smarn Rojanakorn, secretary, and Anchansukho-Pjochuangmob, treasurer.

Fohr gets office

John M. Fohr, director of publications in the SIU Business Research Bureau, has been appointed regional vice president of the Society for the Advancement of Management, University Division.

Fohr, an associate professor of management in the SIU School of Business and faculty adviser to the student chapter of SAM, will install and develop student chapters and help graduating seniors enter professional divisions of SAM.

There might be a slight decline, but the prospects were not nearly as critical as he had predicted.

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey, whose policies have been criticized by graduate schools, has said, "I have firm faith that the graduate schools are going to live."

It appears that Hershey was right about fall term.

Keene opposes tax on food vending machines

Carbondale Mayor David Keene said Wednesday he agreed with Councilman William Eaton's suggestion that owners of food vending machines not be taxed as called for in the proposed ordinance requiring licensing and regulation of coin operated machines.

The machines stipulated in the proposed ordinance are food vending machines, juke boxes and amusement devices such as pinball machines.

Eaton raised his objection at a New council to control all SIU activities blueprint, some work remains to be done, Kapral said, especially concerning the composition of the Advisory Board.

At present, members of the Advisory Board will be selected by Kapral with help from people involved in the Activities office.

"Budgets for all activities are enough to perform a basic job," Kapral said, with a $9,000 excess appropriation designed to create new activities.

Besides Kapral, executive authority for the Council also rests with his assistants, Jack Griggs, last year's Activities Programming Board president, Griggs said the old system "never worked in the past" and appeared enthusiastic over the new Council.

Tuesday night's council meeting when the proposed ordinance was discussed. He said he felt taxing owners of food vending machines would be "discrimination against a legitimate type of business." He also opposed any tax which would accompany the license of food vending machines because of the added cost to the owner of the machines.

Keene also said he is in "100 per cent agreement with Nelson's suggestion that the administration of the machine license be invested in the city manager."

The city manager would act upon the recommendation of the chief of police concerning who should be permitted to possess a license.

Keene said the main aim of the ordinance was not as major a source of revenue. We want to know how has the machines and where they are," he said.

The proposed ordinance states that the application for such a license shall be under oath and contain the following information:

1) Name and address of the applicant, age, date and place of birth.
2) Prior convictions of applicant, if any.
3) Place where machine or device is to be displayed or operated and the business conducted at that place.
4) Description of machine to be covered by the license, mechanical features, name of manufacturer, serial number.
5) Description of machine to be covered by the license, mechanical features, name of manufacturer, serial number.

No decision has been made on the amount a license will cost.

Center crowd cheers series on color TV

The majority of the audience was for the Cards if clapping and yelling are any indication of preference, but occasionally a Tiger fan would shout his disapproval at the television set.

"The Tigers win the pennant for the first time in 23 years and I have to be in southern Illinois," a student from De- ton commented.

"Get back at them for what they did to us," said a male student who explained that he was from Boston.

Fans not having the time to watch the game would pop in the door of the TV room periodically to find out the score.

One inquirer was especially delighted with what he found.

"What's the score?" he asked. "When did the Cards score?" "Holy cow, I just won $20," he said and silently left the room.

LeMay possible Wallace VP

George C. Wallace, third party candidate for President, said Wednesday he would name his running mate this Thursday morning, and all signs pointed to retired Air Force Gen. Curtis LeMay, blunt-spoken, cigar-smoking father of the Strategic Air Command, flying into Pittsburgh from Los Angeles. Wallace's campaign aides later in the afternoon said LeMay's name first cropped up as a vice presidential possibility three weeks ago, but so was an abundance of other names.

Wallace has steadfastly refused to talk publicly about his choice. But he did announce during a campaign swing through the Midwest Wednesday that he would reveal his choice at a news conference in Pittsburgh at 10 a.m. Thursday. He said the man would be present.

LeMay, 61, has consistently advocated a stronger attack policy in Vietnam and a build-up of air and nuclear power.

"Short investigation, Uht," he quipped.

H. W. Cron, special agent, checked out at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday, Mayor David Keene said the two men left town without telling him.

Pentagon to release 16,000 reservists

The Pentagon has decided to return to civilian life some 16,000 reservists. Some men and reservists called up after North Korea's capture of the U.S. and China's tanks and the enemy Tt offensive in Vietnam.

Sources said Wednesday the Air Guardsmen and reservists will be released starting in these last three months of 1968, with the last removed from active federal service by next June 30.

This.Sort of release is designed to give the regular Air Force time to fill the slots out of its regular establishments.

The announcement of the move, under study for some six weeks, may be made Thursday.

LeMay was his choice for the vice presidential spot on his third party ticket.

Greek Week continues today

SIU’s fraternities and sororities will be open for visits from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. today. All interested persons are invited to the various open houses, according to Greek Week committeemen Jim Dougherty and Ken Ortiz.

Dougherty, a Delta Chi, and Ortiz, a Phi Kappa Tau, are co-chairmen of the Greek Week open house committee.

“We’ve arranged for at least three people from each of the fraternities and sororities to be at each house for the evening,” Dougherty said.

Ortiz said that interested students are invited to visit all the houses.

 Greeks Week activities will continue on Friday with the Greek Sing and the crowning of the Greek God and Goddess.

Arena being prepared for ‘Holiday on Ice’

The SIU Arena is being transformed into an icy stage for the Holiday on Ice Show which begins at 8 p.m. Thursday.

When the audiences enter the Arena to watch the show, they will see a 140 by 60 feet ice floor. What will not be seen are the ingredients that were into the preparation of the floor foundation Sunday and Monday.

These ingredients include two tons of sawdust, 5,000 pounds of calcium chloride circulated through miles of pipe and hose to make the brine solution for the base, and 16 cubic yards of sand.

The Holiday company is known for making its own ice surface and therefore can present shows anywhere in the world in any type of facility available.

Sunday, a crew of 50 student workers, under the direction of two company ice engineers, began placing the sections of pipe into position, according to Dean Justice, Arena manager.

Sawdust and sand were spread over the coils and then leveled into a smooth surface. Four-inch diameter water hoses were placed around the perimeter of the installation.

Once all the coils and hoses were in place, the entire apparatus was joined together and then connected to one of the compressors units engineered and developed by Holiday for such portable ice installations. The company has six units located around the world for special performances.

When the connections were made and tested for leaks, the brine solution was pumped through the pipes and hoses and freezing began. Tons of water were then sprayed over the stage where it froze upon contact with the coils.

Justice said that preparation of the Arena for the show has affected those physical education classes which normally meet on the floor, but those classes which meet in the upper concourse are conducted as usual.

Surface operations may be observed today until 8 p.m.

The show comes to SIU this year for the second time.

To enhance curriculum

Black America study program begins

By Inez Rencher

The Black American Studies Program, patterned primarily to "enhance with Afro-American heritage the total curriculum, thinking, and activities of the university and its environs," is being introduced on campus this quarter.

The new program is an outgrowth of assimilated ideas of departments, university officials and black students during the past-summer, according to James Rosser, a doctoral candidate and member of the program committee. The program was formally outlined after a series of preliminary meetings which began in late July.

The following persons comprise the committee in charge of the program: Walter Robinson, director of University Services to Carbondale and Environment; M. Check-Jackson, assistant in the USC office; Sinclair Brown, undergraduate student and president of the Afro-American Student Union; Lamar Gentry and Herbert Avam, both undergraduate students.

Also on the committee are: John Holmes, graduate student and assistant to the Carbondale mayor; London Branch, doctoral candidate in music; Ronald Brainard, graduate student, in the Department of Criminal Correlation and Education; Hubert Jackson, graduate student in design; Tom Slaughter, graduate student in philosophy; and Rosser.

Committee spokesmen said national awareness has provided the "opportunity and need... for educational institutions throughout the country to apply the worth of academic activity to the multi-dimensional aspects of Black Americanism."

The program itself is not presently sponsoring any courses but will initiate seminars and discussions open to all the campus, Slaughter explained.

Slaughter said the program will open a reference center in the old Baptist Foundation building within the next two weeks. The center will contain books on black Americana and other printed materials and audio-visual facilities.

Recognizing the "general lack of systematic knowledge of black America," Rosser said, "We're well aware of the fact that white people need this kind of orientation more than we (blacks) do."

Rosser said a number of professors have indicated a willingness to work with the history aspect of the program. Members of the committee attended seminars of black America during the summer, and Rosser and Robinson plan to attend the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History October 2-6 in New York City.

Future plans of the program include establishing courses of study directed toward a minor in black American studies.

A few former members of the Top Twenty made some notorious nose-dives last Saturday, and so far familiar faces made their first appearances for 1968. Texas, Colorado, and North Carolina State all ran into trouble and disappeared from the Top Ten. Ohio State, California, Oklahoma, and South Carolina moved into the elite group.

The next four games take the spotlight this week. Southern California and O.J., after whipping Northwestern, bump into Miami. The Trojans are in the runner-up spot in the nation — the Hurricanes are 8th. Southern Cal still looks a little bit the tougher of the two. Miami to suffer its first loss by just three points.

In the Southeast Conference, two prizes of the Southland collide. 9th-rated Mississippi and Alabama, number 20. We're picking the Rebels to slip by the Tide by four points.

Fifth-ranked U.C.L.A. and 12th-rated Texas A & M might have trouble holding their positions this week. The Uclans run into Syracuse, as yet un-ranked, and the Aggies are required to mess around with Florida State. In two thrillers, U.C.I.A., over the Grangers by nine, and A&M over the Seminoles by ten points.

On the other side of the picture, there are a few horrid games. The new number one powerhouse, Purdies, will reduce Northwestern to little kittens, winning by 28 points. Fourth-ranked Kansas will sock it to New Mexico by 42 points, and Houston, rated seventh, will chomp up Cincinnati by 31. Also, third-ranked Notre Dame should flatten all the corn in Iowa. The Irish by 30. Rice will be no hoo-hum for 10th-ranked Tennessee. The Owls, always tough, will play the underdog role by 14 points.

Salukis seek win

The teams will be the same as last year, but the situation will be different when SIU meets Tulas at Tulsa Saturday.

When the two teams meet they'll be playing in the same stadium, but the weather could be very different. It was 9,000-seat Skelly Stadium last year and the weather was unseasonably warm. This year it's 48,000-seat Milwaukee deal and the weather could be very different.

It was SIU's homecoming and a 16-13 upset was staged before a crowd of 15,560 fans, Saturday's contest will be the Golden Hurricanes' home opener and is expected to draw a near-capacity crowd to the 40,000-seat Skydome Stadium.

In their first appearances this year, both teams were defeated. Southern was downed 33-10 by Tulas and was tucked 53-16 by Arkansa.

Last year, Saluki John Quillen was the defensive star of Coach Dick Towers' squad.

Quillen picked off four Hurricane aerials in his first defensive secondary assignment. This season the 3-4, 150-pound senior from New Orleans, La., is the Salukis' offensive star.

In the opening loss to Louisville, Quillen gained 48 yards and carried through the game's first three passes for 56 yards. Used primarily on halfback last season, Quillen gained 170 yards in 26 carries.

Southern will be trying to improve last year's 3-7 record. At the time of last year's meeting, the Salukis had an unimpressive 1-5 mark, with losses to Louisville, Lincoln, East Carolina, Dayton and North Texas. SIU won its 1967 Northwest Missouri State 18-7.

While SIU defensive changes may occur, one offensive change is definite. Roger Quillen, the Salukis' star back, will be sidelined for this week's game with a knee injury. Kuba ruled for 31 of SIU's 72 yards against Louisville.

Mayo Smith shook his head sadly when asked to comment on Bob Gibson's record 17 strikeouts against his Detroit Tigers in Wednesday's opening World Series game.

"Take the story about asking Mrs. Lincoln how she liked the play," commented Smith.

Gibson left the Tigers stone cold dead in Busch Stadium with a 4-0 victory for the favored St. Louis Cardinals that sent all hands scurrying to the record books.

In addition to breaking the strikeout record of 15, put into the book by Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers against the New York Yankees in 1963, Gibson tied the old Yankee great, Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing, with his sixth straight Series victory. His sixth consecutive complete game victory put him all alone in the book.

The drama mounted for the 54,092 in sunny Busch Stadium as Gibson charged at the record. It seemed that everybody knew he had 14 going to the ninth inning. A Dixieland band set the pattern by tooting away on "Hold That Tiger." Mickey Stanley, the leadoff man in the ninth, went to a 2-2 count and fouled off four pitches, each accompanied by a chorus of sighs. Finally, he singled to center.

Now it was Al Kaline, who had struck out twice earlier, Gibson got two quick strikes, then a ball. After two fouls, Kaline became strikeout victim No. 15, tying the record. Norm Cash, also a victim in the second and sixth, came up for the fourth time. There was a tinge of anticipation as he went to 1-2, fouled off three in a row and then looked at a ball. When Gibson blew the strike past him for No. 16 everybody in the park rose in a standing ovation. A giant cannon cracker exploded in left field.

Tim McCarver, the Card catcher, came out in front of the plate, holding the ball. Gibson sneaked a look at the scoreboard and read that the 16th was a new record.

"I wasn't aware of it until Tim motioned toward the board," he said.

Willy Horton, whose error had helped the Cards score three big runs on Denny McLain, their 31-game winner in the fourth, was to be the last batter.

When Horton became strikeout No. 17 on a 2-2 pitch, the park erupted. Gibson's teammates mobbed him as he strode toward the bench and a post-game television interview.

The first great confrontation between Gibson, the man with the fabulous record earned run average of 1.12, and McLain, the first 31-game winner since Lefty Grove in 1931, had gone to the Cards series hero of 1967. He struck out everybody in the order at least once while McLain was victimized by his own wildness and shoddy Detroit fielding before he departed for a pinch hitter in the sixth, trailing 3-0.

Teach drinking?

Need education about alcohol

"By Sheldon Helgeson"

Teach people to drink.

Why not, asks Gerald O. Windham, visiting professor in the Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections here at SIU, who recently returned from 2 years at University College in Sierra Leone, West Africa, where he worked for the U.S. Agency of International Development as Sociology advisor.

Windham said that people build up many rationalizations about the use of alcohol.

"While alcohol can be a very pleasant experience," he explained, "it can at the same time be potentially destructive if not handled correctly." He said that for this reason people should be taught about the good as well as the bad effects and uses of alcohol.

Windham also mentioned that people need to be educated about the use of drugs such as marijuana and their possible effects.

He pointed out that his studies at the Summer School for alcoholics, which he helped establish in Mississippi, indicates that it takes anywhere from 1-15 years for a person to become a chronic alcoholic. For a person to become a drug addict, the period is only a few weeks or months.

"What we need," said Windham, "is to establish in every state in the Union, an educational program starting with at least the eighth or ninth grade and possibly continuing throughout a person's life, where everyone is educated to the facts of alcohol, drugs, and even possibly sex.

"Have both sides of the issue presented and let the people themselves make up their minds, weigh the alternatives, and let them assume full responsibility for any decisions they might make," he added.

The one fault that would have to be overcome in this type of educational system, according to Windham, is that some teachers and students cannot look at these problems objectively. He said that some people have been raised to view alcohol, drugs, and even sex as an evil part of one's life and that this would add to the hardship to trying to establish such an educational program.

"If we can start treating children more as adults at an early age, maybe we will be able to eliminate the problems of alcohol and drugs in the world today," he concluded.

Morris Library rents original art prints, only 200 available

Eric Kramer says he never would have finished college without Reading Dynamics.

Come to Carbondale's new Reading Dynamics Institute and see why he feels this way.

Whether you're worried about finishing college, or would just like A's instead of B's, Reading Dynamics can make you a more effective student.

How? By improving your basic ability to read.

The average person reads about 250 to 400 words a minute...word by word, the way he was taught in grade school.

Eric Kramer of St. Louis University is one of thousands of college students who have decided to stop reading like fourth-graders.

A pre-med student from Plainview, Texas, Eric says "I took the Reading Dynamics course when it became evident that I could not keep up in college, or even hope to achieve the educational goals I had set for myself, unless I learned to read faster and more effectively. Now I read 2,000 to 2,500 words a minute in literature courses, slowing down to around 1,200 for technical books. I wish I could have taken the course in high school."

Marge Rumely, a St. Louis University junior from LaPorte, Ind., says, "My greatest improvement came from the use of recall patterns learned at Evelyn Wood. All my grades have gone up. I think it should be stressed that the recall patterns become a real asset in lectures as well as reading. I find it possible to practically quote lectures heard a year ago, after looking at a short recall pattern."

Come to a Reading Dynamics demonstration. See someone just like you read two, three, four-thousand words a minute, with excellent comprehension and recall...someone who eight weeks ago, could not read much faster than a fourth-grader.

Come, call or mail the coupon today. You owe it to yourself to improve something as basic as your ability to read.

Students wishing to add a decorative touch to their rooms or apartments may still obtain original prints at the library, according to Robert Keel, head of the circulation library.

All of the prints are reproductions of original works of art processed by a photo-mechanical method. Only a limited number of prints was made from the original.

The majority of the prints are abstract in nature and range in value from $15 to $100. They may be rented for 25 cents, Keel said.

Only 200 prints are available and there is no limit to the number a person may rent. Since Friday, when the prints were made available, 190 have been rented, Keel reported.

The prints, which are made available to students every quarter, were purchased by the library several years ago with funds made available by the University Architect. Some of the prints were donated by faculty members.

Care of the prints by students has been excellent and thus far not a single print has been damaged. Generally, the prints are rented each quarter by the same students, Keel noted, and students apparently take out the same prints each quarter. One print of the 200 has never been rented, Keel commented.

Psychologist reads paper

The paper was entitled "Effects of Illumination on Binocular Vision." The symposium was co-sponsored by the extension division and the department of psychology of the University of Missouri and the Missouri Optometric Association.

Better work conditions sought by housewife

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) - Unwashed dishes and clothes piled up this week while Mrs. Tom Wagner picketed for "better working conditions in the home."

Signs in the front yard proclaimed, "Unfair to wife" and "On strike."

"Tom works 40 hours a week for pay, I work 24 for nothing," explained Sandra Wagner, 23. "Then he comes home and asks, 'What have you been doing all day?'

She said she doesn't have any minimum demands: "I just want Tom to sit down and negotiate."

She cooks for her three children, 6, 7, and 18 months, and washes clothes for the youngest. That's all her housework.

"When it gets so I can't stand it in the house I just have to go outside and do some picketing," she said.

When her husband saw the signs on the lawn Monday, she said, "He laughed and walked around a bit, but then his good humor ran out and he went fishing."

Wagner told newsmen later, "This is her game, she started it. She can finish it, I won't negotiate."

"At first I thought it was kind of funny," Wagner said, "but now it's nationwide - a little bit farther than the neighbors. After a while it is embarrassing, I guess."

Wagner is a layout designer for a sign company, expects some reaction from his male friends.

Accusation from FBI

WASHINGTON (AP) - The New Left movement has "mushroomed into a major security problem," the FBI said this week, accusing Students for a Democratic Society of sponsoring workshos to teach sabotage and the manufacture of explosives.

At the same time, the agency said it had more than kept up with the nation's rising crime rate. It said the fiscal year that ended June 30 was a period of "harsh, unrelenting challenge for law enforcement."

In its annual report, the FBI said it measured gains in several major areas of crimefighting, including a 19 per cent increase in its arrest rate over the previous year.

But page after page of the report showed increase in most areas of criminal activity. It described the increase in bank robberies and related crime as "bewildering," although the report appeared to show the FBI had kept pace by obtaining a record number of convictions.

It listed a 19 per cent increase in its arrest rate over the previous year, 19,481 compared to 15,078 the year before. And it claimed another gain in convictions - 13,099 compared to 13,032. The report said 97 per cent of those arrested and tried were convicted.

New Left movement called security problem

In a section headed "Protecting our Internal Security," the report charged that SDS is at the core of student unrest "held together by a bitter hatred of ... the institutions of democratic society."

It also asserted that the Soviet Union and several of its allies had increased spying operations in the United States. The report said the two Soviet diplomatic missions in Washington and New York have increased their staffs from 346 persons in 1964 to 573 in 1968.

Between 70 and 80 per cent of those, it said, are involved in intelligence work.

Chemistry prof presents paper

Professor D.W. Slocum of the SIU Department of Chemistry presented a paper entitled, "Metalation of Metallogenes: A Review," to the national meeting of the American Chemical Society Sept. 8-13 in Atlantic City, N.J.

Scheduled to appear in the Journal of Chemical Education, the paper summarized the existing data in the field as well as recent data from laboratory research.

Co-auther of the paper were T.R. Engelmann, C. Frits, C.A. Jenning, W. Jones, B. Kowesky, J. Lewis and P. Shenko.
Luncheon and seminar series

sponsored by campus group

The Student Christian Foundation at SIU will sponsor a series of luncheons and seminars in the fall quarter.

Starting Oct. 7, the Faculty Christian Fellowship will meet on alternate Mondays. Topics on the schedule are Student Government; Marvin A. Line, director of the foundation; and a graduate student in chemistry. Donald Robinson, assistant dean of the College of Education and Chancellor Robert McGinley, "Women in Modern Society" will be the theme for Tuesday meetings. Topic will be discussed on Wednesday's Free School class in the philosophy of Soren Kierkegaard, a 19th century Dane who has had profound influence on 20th century thought. The Rev. Joseph Van Roekel, minister of the Presbyterian Church at Marion, will be the moderator.

Thursday programs, "Translating the Times," are devoted to seeking theological understanding of contemporary plays and playwrights. The luncheons and seminars start at noon Monday through Friday at the Foundation, 913 South Illinois Ave.

Mr. Line said the Foundation is planning a coffee house, "Matrix," as a cooperative venture in nature. Membership is open to the public. Members are encouraged to make a weekly investment, which can be an hour of work, a pound of coffee, a box of tea or candy, an art exhibit or 75 cents in cash.

It is a place to meet people, to talk, to read and to appreciate arts. As the word "Matrix" indicates it is "a place within which something grows," Mr. Line explained.

The Student Christian Foundation at SIU is an association of Protestant Christian students, faculty and staff. Denominations participating in the Foundation include American Baptist (Northern), African Methodist Episcopal, Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), United Church of Christ, National Baptist and United Presbyterian, USA.

Chicago U. chancellor to be guest speaker

Retiring University of Chicago Chancellor George W. Beadle will be the guest speaker at cornerstone laying ceremonies for SIU's Life Science Building addition at 10:30 a.m. Nov. 8-9.

The new $10 million research, office and graduate studies center in biological sciences and psychology is expected to be finished late next year. It will be more than three times the size of the building it will replace.

Members sought for council

The Interfaith Council is soliciting membership of all student religious organizations.

The organization coordinates all campus-wide activities, Michael Haggerty, president of the Council, said. He also advises its member organizations and assists them in gaining recognition. The Council will hold its next meeting at 1 p.m. Tuesday, in Room C, University Center.

No need to puff

What’s a smoker?

...a ‘rush’ meeting

So you want to attend a fraternity smoker but you’re afraid of what the guys will think when they find out you don’t smoke?

No need to worry. A smoker is just a term used to designate a meeting during rush. What’s rush? Rush is Greek terminology for the period when new members are selected for pledgship.

The formal rush program for fraternities begins Sunday and lasts until Oct. 17. All men are invited to any of the events.

The opening program consists of an informal coffee hour from 8 to 11 p.m. at the University Center Ballroom. A series of slides about Greek life and talks by Greek leaders will be given.

Monday the Greeks will visit on-campus living areas and distribute information about the system.

The boxes have been placed

Tuesday five fraternities—Tau Kappa Epsilon, Phi Kappa Tau, Little Egypt Agriculture Cooperative, Sigma Pi and Alpha Phi Alpha—will hold smokers at their respective houses from 8 to 11 p.m. The next night Phi Sigma Kappa, Theta XI, Kappa Alpha Psi, and Delta Chi will hold smokers at the same time.

All fraternities will have open house Oct. 12 from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. According to rush and pledge bylaws, continuing students must have a combined 3.15 overall average. Freshman freshmen who are in the upper one-half of their high school graduating class are eligible to bid and be conditionally accepted for pledgship pending the achievement of a 3.1 minimum grade point average for one quarter.

Mail boxes gaining in use; volume lower than expected

“Four new post office boxes installed on campus between semesters are slowly being received,” Richard King, mailing foreman, said. “Volume is not quite as heavy as we anticipated,” King said, but he believes students will use the service more as they become familiar with it.

The boxes have been placed at 205 S. Elizabeth St., behind Wham Education Building, at the north exit of the parking lot at Marion and Grand, and on Harwood Avenue in front of Anthony Hall.

“We really can’t tell how much students will use the boxes yet,” King explained. “We’ll have to wait to see whether more of them will be installed.”

Rush Week for sororities set Oct. 6-11

What do parties, teas and skits all have in common? They’re all a part of Sorority Rush and they’re open to the women of SIU Oct. 6-11.

During Rush Week the five social sororities located on Greek Row—Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Zeta, Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Sigma Sigma—invite all women students to visit the chapter houses, meet the members of each sorority and see what Greek life is all about.

Hours for the parties are from 2 to 5 p.m. Oct. 6 and from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Oct. 7 and 9. During these times the houses will be open so students may come and go as they please. Dress for the parties is school clothes.

Each sorority can hold two additional rush parties during the week, and these will probably be invitational.

To be eligible to pledge a sorority, a first quarter freshman must have graduated in the upper quarter of her high school graduating class. All other students must have a 3.2 overall.

There is no pre-registration for Fall Rush.

Seven join SIU Art Department

Increased enrollment in SIU art classes has required a substantial expansion of the Department of Art faculty, Burnett H. Shryock, dean of the School of Fine Arts, said. A visiting professor and a number of new instructors have joined the staff this fall.

John Pelham Napper, English painter, is the visiting professor. Author of a book on life drawing, Napper has lectured at various universities and on television and radio in Belgium, France and England and has made two television films.

He has had one-man shows in London and Paris and in 1968 one at Larcada Galleries in New York City.

Among his commissions were portraits of Queen Elizabeth II and of Lady Churchill, as well as murals for Whitchapel Art Gallery in London and the country home of the Earl of Plymouth.

The new instructors include Sylvia Ruth Greenfield, Lawrence John Link, Lee Frederick Littlefield, Michael Oliver Oken, Stephen Daniel Wilder and Danny Duane Wood.

Mrs. Greenfield taught last year at the University of Colorado, where she obtained bachelor's and master's degrees in fine arts. She has specialized in drawing, painting, printmaking, art education and art history.

Link, a philosophy graduate of the University of Oklahoma where he has just completed the master of fine arts degree, has specialized in painting, drawing, design and sculpture, as well as philosophy and the philosophy of art. Link is a native of Norman, Okla.

Littlefield completed the bachelor's degree at Florida State University and the master's degree at the University of New Mexico but also has studied at the University of Kentucky. He has specialized in painting, drawing and two-and-three-dimensional design and structures.

Oken, a native of Pekin, spent several seasons as a set designer for Melody Top Theaters in Chicago and Milwaukee and taught the past two years at Saint Dominic College, St. Charles. He is a graduate of Eastern Illinois University and obtained the master's degree in art from Northern Illinois University specializing in drawing and painting.

Wilder, of Elkhart, Ind., is a former media analyst and buyer for the Leo Burnett Company, Inc., a Chicago advertising firm. He is a former salesman and layout artist for Stevens Gross Studios, Chicago, holds the bachelor's degree in industrial economics from Purdue University and a commercial art certificate from the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts.

Objectives of University in SIU library still relevant

By Mary Logan

To Exalt Beauty
In God,
In Nature,
And in Art.
Teaching how to love the best
But to keep the human touch.

Feting among the famous—school presidents and state governors—in Morris Library are the poetic objectives of SIU. The verse appears in metal letters, porcelain filled, on a background of gray southern Illinois marble, amida the gallery of University dignitaries.

To Advance Learning
In all lines of truth wherever they may lead,
Showing how to think rather than what to think;
Assisting the powers of the mind
In their self-development;
During the July, 1953 meeting of the Board of Trusteess, a proposal was made to draw up a statement of the University's institutional policy to be placed in the foyer of the then-now library. A committee consisting of Vernon Nickell, representing the board; Aubrey Holmes, of the alumni, and Charles Tenney, of the University staff, was selected to compose the statement.

"The biggest problem we had was getting together," explained Tenney, now vice president for planning review, "The other two men weren't working on campus."
The committee first read objectives and mottos of other universities. They studied inaugural ad-resses of university presidents as well as higher education literature.
Finally the committee drew up the first draft.
"The painful part was trying to digest what we learned and put it into writing. The first draft was too long and detailed," Tenney said.
After about 10 drafts, the committee members went over the statement word for word until they were satisfied and the objectives of SIU were born.
Nearly a year later, the objectives were adopted by the Board and placed in the library.

To Forward Ideas and Ideals
In our democracy,
Inspiring respect for others as for ourselves;
Ever promoting freedom with responsibility.
The University found several uses for the objectives. Besides the display in the library, they adorn all public documents of SIU.
In 1958, Reinhard Rutenbeck a graduate student from Germany, took photographs illustrating the objectives. When news of Rutenbeck's endeavor reached President Delyte W. Morris, the President asked to see the pictures and eventually had them published in book form.
Many classroom talks have been taken from the ideas of the objectives, and speakers use them in commencement speeches. They also appear in all SIU catalogues.

To Become a Center of Order and Light
That knowledge may lead to understanding,
And understanding to wisdom.
Nearly 12 years have elapsed since the birth of the objectives. Much has changed since then.
Is there a need for revision?
"I would put more emphasis on responsibility," said Tenney. "I don't believe in freedom to obstruct other's freedom.
The school's real responsibility is to allow a student to dig up his own facts and relate them to his own problem."
Tenney would also place more emphasis on com-unication.
"But on the whole, I would stand by them although some of the phrases are a bit old-fashioned and optimistic."

BANK-O-MATIC
Bubble Gum Bank

COMPLETE WITH TARCO RAINBOW COLORED
BUBBLE GUM BALLS.

BANK-O-MATIC features gay, colorful, design combining 3 colors in sturdy long-life plastic. Operates with penny, nickel dime or quarter. Vends only one ball for each coin. Fool proof operation.

Here’s how to play! Thirty plastic sticks are inserted through the holes in the plastic tower to form a kind of a nest within. The forty marbles supplied are loaded through the top of the tower and rest in the nest. Now each player, in turn withdraws one stick — carefully — to avoid causing any marbles to fall (kerplox). A steady hand and a keen eye are a must, or down comes the avalanche!
