Name Four Freshmen To Serve on Student Council

Four freshmen students were recently appointed as freshman representatives to the Student Council by the Personnel Deans for the fall quarter. Two girls and two boys from each class represent their class on the SIU Council.

Jan Evans of Collinsville has participated in a wide variety of high school activities, including Student Council, Thespians, Girls' Athlete Association, and National Honor Society. She is majoring in elementary education.

Linda Lee McCree comes from Anna where she was an active participant in many organizations. Student Council, Thespians, Girls' Athlete Association, and National Honor Society are among those in which she held office.

Carl Anderson, a graduate of Charles Sumner High School, St. Louis, has been an active member of National Council, a member of Student Council, and president of the senior class at his former school. He is majoring in government at SIU.

Earl Walker, formerly of Harrisburg but most recently from Danville, in addition to being president of Student Council, was named by his senior class, and participated in dramatics, football, and band. Earl plans to study medicine.

Each year the freshman class Council representatives are appointed for the first term by the Deans, since the freshman class is not on campus for the spring term elections when the regular Council members are elected.

At the beginning of winter term, a regular election will be held to elect two boys and two girls from the freshman class to act as freshmen representatives on the Council for the remainder of the school year.

La Casa De Sista, men's organized house, had the highest grade point average of all organized groups for the spring term of 1952, and for the academic year of 1951-52, according to a report from the Office of Student Affairs. Their averages were 4.05 and 3.85, respectively. The Duchesne, women's house, took the second place high with a grade point average of 3.78 for the year. For the spring term of 1952, Marston, women's house, was high with a 3.78.

SOUTHERN ACRES and the Chautauque housing projects had averages of 3.58 and 3.48, respectively for the year. For the spring term, their averages were 3.65 and 3.72.

Tau Kappa Epsilon headed the list of fraternities averages with a 3.28 for their year average, and spring term. Chi Delta Sigma was second with averages of 3.17 for both the year and spring term.

THE TOTAL organized house averages were 3.35 for the year, and 3.47 for spring term, while the all University averages were 3.35 for the year, and 3.42 spring term.

The all-fraternity averages were 3.06, 1951-52, and 3.09 spring term; and all-sorority averages were 3.51, 1951-52, and 3.6 spring term. Scores and lists of members include both pledges and actives.

DON JOHNSON, new Student Christian Foundation director

Johnson Is New Head of Christian Foundation Here

Don Johnson is the new director of the Student Christian Foundation. Johnson, who assumed his new duties as director just recently, comes to Southern from Edinburgh, Scotland, where he has been doing work for his Ph. D.

Originally from Minnesota, he studied at the University of Minnesota, and received his bachelor's degree from Eastern Baptist Seminary, Philadelphia.

During the war he spent about two years as a Navy Chaplain, after the war he studied for a year at Union Seminary, New York City, and then served at a church at Warrenville, Ill.

For the last year and a half prior to coming to Carbondale he has been studying at Zurich, Switzerland, and Edinburgh, Scotland. He also served here as a chaplain for the Swedish congregation, and as pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Ordinarly, Johnson likes to spend his spare time playing basketball or tennis, but since he is working on his Degree, he doesn't have much spare time right now.

Asked about his plans for the Student Christian Foundation, Mr. Johnson replied that he first wanted to get thoroughly oriented to the foundation and the campus activities. Then he said that he would follow a program which would further the aim of the Foundation to conserve the religious training and experience that students have received in Christian homes and local churches before coming to college.

Mr. Johnson replaces Rev. E. J. Kent, who has served as pastor of the foundation, who is now pastor of a church at Moline, Ill.

Industrial Ed Classes Have New Asset-Girls

By DOROTHY SURWALD

Something new has been added in the Industrial Education department — girls!

There are two courses offered in the Industrial Education Department that give opportunities to girls, something relatively new since vocational education is thought to be strictly for males. "Furniture Upholstering and Finishing I" (216) and "Construction Activities for Rural and Elementary School Teachers" (202).

AT PRESENT, there are five girls enrolled in the Industrial Education 216 course. The girls began with a chair frame that has been cut and partly assembled in the machine woodworking classes. After completing the assembly of this chair frame they went at the very beginning by putting in web-lings, springs, covering it with burlap, padding that with row and cotton, and covering it with cambric. Then they select their desired tapes and properly cover the chair. The result — a new chair that hope cheer or home.

Also, in this course, students study information about woods, chair frames, furniture construction, finishing, and an extensive amount of information about upholstered furniture and upholstering materials. In particular, they study the various types of fabrics available on the market. Carl B. Kinsey is instructor of the class.

ACCORDING TO Dr. W. C. Picknell, chairman of the Industrial Education department, the 202 course will have to be divided into two sections because of over enrollment. Approximately 95% of this class is made up of girls — something unusual for an industrial education course.

The class consists of girls here who are working toward an element certificate and also a considerable number of area teachers. Some principals of elementary schools are also enrolled in this class.

The course is designed primarily to give elementary teachers opportunity to work with craft materials and construction materials which can be used in an additional way in teaching in the elementary schools with special emphasis on kindergarten and the first six grades.

THEY WORK with such materials as plastics, leather, wood, been cement, plaster of Paris, rattan, reed work, weaving, leather, painting, linoleum block printing, tin cardboard construction, decorative celluloid construction, art metal, and various other media which have been found successful for use in elementary schools.

Students not only make the planned projects offered by the instructor but they are required to select and write plans for other projects that may be used in the schools.

These elementary teachers in training work on projects which are designed and elementary teachers in the University School.

USUALLY FIVE or six different projects which are worked out in this class are actually introduced into the classes at University School by the students and the supervising teachers of elementary school. John James Gunderson is instructor of this class.

And what do the co-eds think of this taking classes in the Industrial Education department? First-hand information from "a girl who knows" is from Patricia Inel, Pauline took the class last term and she states, "I enrolled in the course because it is required of elementary education majors, but I soon found out that this course was a lot of fun and that one learns a great deal that can be used in places other than classrooms in the way of crafts."

Life of Lincoln Is Feature of Tilton Library

Anyone who is interested in Abraham Lincoln and especially in his connection with Illinois, has a mine of information in the Clint Clay Tilton Library here at South Gate. This library is located in Room 202 of the University Center.

The collection may be used freely by the general public, as well as students and faculty. However, no books are subject to loan.

The library is named after Clint Clay Tilton who gave the entire library, consisting of 2100 items as a gift to the University in 1941.

Mr. Tilton gave a well known collection of Lincoln and American Biographies and by purchase, more than 600 volumes have been added to the library, dealing principally with Lincoln, the Civil War, the period and regional history. Mr. C. L. Houghton, Carbondale, has made large cash gifts to the library.

THE ABRAHAM LINCOLN Book Shop, 18 Chestnut Street, Chicago, has fitted many bookshelves in the SIU collection as rare and valuable volumes in the Lincoln collection.

In a glass case in the library there are many interesting things concerning Lincoln. There is an original letter, 1863, submitted to the Secretary of War, two commissions received by General Joseph E. Plummer and signed by Lincoln, are also here; there is a 100-year Illinois Central Railroad medalion — Lincoln was an attorney for the R. Railroad. There are interesting plaques, pictures, and documents scattered throughout the library.

THERE IS A dedication by Carl Sandburg to Clint Clay Tilton in his book, "Abraham Lincoln, the Prairie Years," which reads: "With Salutation and attention to research and cooperation in Lincoln research are given neighbors."

Clint Clay Tilton undertakes research in the relationships of Abraham Lincoln to this area. It also welcomes assistance of alumni, friends, and people who are generally interested in this effort.

Like that saluted mackeral that's always being smacked into the faces of the Keystone Kids, we were really "hit" when we returned to SIU this fall after a 15 month absence, and found all the old boys back, mainly Bill O'Brien and Jim Wilkinson.

Bill had to spend a brief (18 months) stint with the Marines, and Jim spent a year coasting Oregon State. So when we look at our problems this year, we'll have to admit they look pretty minute when compared to those of Bill and Jim... particularly Bill.

To say that Bill O'Brien has a problem this year would be the vast understatement of the age. He not only has a problem, singular, and problems, plural, he has problems galore, doubled and tripled and quadrupled. Of course that's always the way with a coach, football, basketball or otherwise. If a coach didn't have problems, he would have no challenge. If he had no challenge, he would have no incentive. And, of course, no incentive would mean no cause to win.

Maybe that's why Bill O'Brien has such an incomparable will-to-win. He knows he's up against odds that rarely face a football coach. He has only eight returning lettermen, counting Bill Fly, and Bill Goodman, who lettered in '48 and '49 respectively. Eight lettermen wouldn't be such a bad state of affairs in itself. But behind these lettermen, he has nothing but untested freshmen and unproven upperclassmen.

Not to intimate that these freshmen and upperclassmen aren't qualified to play college football. But it is a proven fact that freshmen don't win college football games for a coach. There's just too much to learn—too much to master in one season. At least, so goes the saying of veteran coaches all over the nation.

And so, if ever a coach needed a vote of confidence, young and personable William O'Brien does. We hope this will serve as such. Two years ago, we climbed on the O'Brien bandwagon for his selection as head football coach. However, a Marine call is probably louder than an EGYPTIAN bandwagon, and he went back into uniform.

Now that he's back, we intend to remain on the bandwagon. We've always liked the way he handles men, and his knowledge of football is sound and unlimited. His spirit and drive made him one of Southern's all-time great hallbacks, and he's carried the same attributes into the coaching field.

Just so the SIU football players know what a BIG man they're playing for.

Jim Wilkinson's problems aren't small either, as far as Southern's line is concerned. He's working with a great coach, however, in Bob Franz, and he should come through in usual style.

The only problem he will face in his speciality, wrestling, is that of keeping the boys eligible. Joe Fedora and Bob Whalen are back from the Air Force, and coupled with returning lettermen Jack Stout, Jack Robertson, and others, he should have the team of teams this winter. All the wrestlers have to do this term is study.

And then wrestle next term.

O'Brien Prepares For Initial Season

The 1932 season will be the first for Bill O'Brien as Southern Illinois University's head football coach. It also will be the first college season for most of his players.

Of the 57 candidates who have survived the first two weeks of practice at SIU, 41, or more than two-thirds of them, are freshmen.

O'Brien, who took over this year as Southern's football coach after going 16 months duty in the Marines, has three linemen and three backs left over from last year's squad that lost all of its nine games. Except for a few other upperclassmen who are taking another crack at winning letters, the rest of his players are fresh from high school.

Other promising candidates are Frank Morgan, back, and Fred Pivett, guard, from Carthage; Bill Frank, Abbott, linebacker; Carbonado; Bill Hemphill, back; Tom Bishop, guard; Budgetor; Hu-ron Senger, back; Fairfield; Ray Tabuchi, back; Auburn; Ed York, linebacker; guard; Collinsville; Don Kozlowski, back; St. Louis; and Ed Johnson, back from Painesville, Pa.

Jim extremely proud of this squad and attitude. O'Brien said of the newcomers, "I've worked man back, Swainston and Ed Johnson had and, except for a few who dropped out, when contact work began, none of them have complained. I'll be just as proud of them at the end of the season, too, even if some of them are lost."

Johnson played for the Camp Lejeune, N. C. Marine team when O'Brien was on the coaching staff there.

SIU Launches 37th Grid Season Next Saturday

Southern will launch its 37th football season next week when the Salukis take on Southeast Missouri State at Cape Girardeau.

Football was played on the campus as far back as 1896 but organized, intercollegiate play began in 1913. In 1920 and 1943 no games were played because of manpower shortages.

Southern's all-time football record for the past 36 seasons reads 125 wins, 34 losses and 26 ties. THE LATE William McAndrew, after whom SIU's stadium is named, was the first coach here. He was head football coach for 24 years, until 1939. His teams compiled a record of 87 victories, 82 defeats and 20 ties. Glenn "Abe" Martin took over as head grid coach in 1939. His 10-year record was 35 wins, 5 losses and one tie. Bill Waller, who resigned his job as head coach this summer after two years, had a record of three wins, 14 losses and one tie. IN THE PAST 36 seasons Southern has had one perfect football record. That was in 1930 when the team won all of its nine games. Martin was captain and quarterback of that team. The last time Southern won a majority of its games was in 1947 when the team's record was 7-2-1. That team won the conference championship and the first annual Corn Bowl at Bloomington. Until last year Southern's athletic teams were known as "Marion Southern." Then the saluki was adopted as team mascot. "King Tut" Southern's saluki, is a descendant of the famous Egyptian saluki, a hunting dog renowned for speed and endurance. It is the oldest pure breed in the world, records of its existence dating back to 3600 B.C. HERE ARE some of Southern's all-time football records: Most points ever scored by Southern in one game: 118 against International University of Arts and Sciences in 1914. Most points ever scored against Southern in one game: 68 by Arkansas State in 1951. Most points scored against IIAC in one season: 45 against Western Illinois in 1933. Most points scored against Southern by IIAC team: 54 by Western Illinois in 1951. Most points scored by Southern in one season: 224 in nine games in 1930. Most points scored against Southern in one season: 354 in nine games in 1951. Fewest points scored by Southern in one season: 0 for five games in 1925. FEWEST POINTS scored against Southern in one season: 24 in nine games in 1930.

History of IIAC Goes Back to 1908

History of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, of which Southern is a member, can be traced back to April 4, 1908. At that time, seven schools organized the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Charter members of this parent organization were Monmouth, 111 in o i s Wesleyan, Lombard, Knox, Bradley, Millington, and Illinois Normal. The group was organized primarily to hold track meets.

Jack, Heddin and Lincoln colleges joined in 1909 and William and Vashu, Shurtleff and Carriage were admitted in 1911. That year, officials decided to add football, basketball and baseball to their schedules. Knox and Monmouth were suspended, leaving 11 members.

EASTERN ILLINOIS State joined in 1912, and McKendree and Augustana the following year. SIU (then Southern Illinois Normal University) was admitted as a member in 1914, together with Blackburn Western Illinois State joined in 1915, and St. Victor became a member in 1916. In 1920 the group changed its name to Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Northern Illinois State was the 19th school to sign a new constitution and the conference was unofficially called "I-I-A-C" until 1922 when Lake Forest became a member.

Ten schools withdrew in 1937 and by 1942 only the five Illinois state teachers' colleges remained—Southern, Northern, Eastern, Western and Normal. Central Michigan and Michigan Normal were voted in in 1950 and the organization's name was changed to Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

SIU Grid Game Climaxes Kiwanis 1952 Kid's Day

Kid's Day will be climaxed this year with Kids of Carbondale seeing Southern play Cape Girardeau on Sept. 27. Southern Illinois University has asked the group, sponsored by the Carbondale Kiwanis Club, to be their guests that night at the first home game of the football season.

Each year Kiwanis Clubs throughout the U. S. sponsor a "Kid's Day" in which children of elementary school age are given a full day of entertainment, refreshments, and competitive sports, gratis.

NORMAN MOORE, chairman of the fourth annual Kid's Day program, has outlined the day's program. The entertainment in the morning will consist of Kiwanis sponsored music at the Varsity Theatre.

Grid Tickets For First Game Available Thursday

Tickets for Southern's first football game Saturday, Sept. 27, will go on sale next Thursday. Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin has announced that tickets for students will be made available two days before each home game.

Students can obtain reserved seats for next week's game with Cape Girardeau by presenting their student activity tickets at the office of law in the gymnasium. Office hours will be 9:15-11:45 a. m. and 1:15-4:00 p. m.

ALL RESERVED seats south of the 50-yard line on the west side of the stadium will be saved for students and their guests. Martin said.

This year one student may present the activity tickets of several friends and receive game tickets for the whole group.

Both the student activity ticket and the reserved seat ticket are not presented at the gate on the night of the game.

Martin reminded students that their tickets are non-transferable. Any student presenting at the gate an activity ticket which is not his own will have that ticket confiscated and turned over to the student council.

STUDENTS MAY buy reserved seat tickets for wives or husbands at 60c each.

Faculty members may buy at the athletic office a faculty athletic ticket for $3. This ticket can be exchanged for reserved seat tickets to all Southern's home football games, Martin said.

Wives and husbands of faculty members may also buy these faculty athletic tickets for $3, Martin said.

Tickets for the general public will be sold at the ticket office hours mentioned above and also by means of 6 p. m. on the night of the game. Reserved seat prices are $1.20 and 60c cents. General admission tickets for the east side of the stadium will sell for 75 and 40 cents.
