Registrar Moves To New Office

The entire Registrar's office was moved May 5 from Aligned Hall to the altered barracks three buildings south of the Cafeteria on Thompson street. The Advance Registration center was included in the move as was the General Admission's office.

Students will follow regular advance registering procedures in the new building. The new office is located one door north of the Placement service in the same building as the Statistical service. Telephone numbers will remain the same regardless of the change.

Both the Registration Center and the Registrar's office reopened Thursday in their new location. The internal arrangement of the office has been changed from the former small cramped offices to a large lobby with advance registration procedures, a large well-lighted general office, and two smaller private offices. The two smaller offices are the General Admissions office and the office of Dr. Robert McGrath.

Divisions of the Registrar's office included: Registrar and Admissions, Recorder, Examiner, and the Registration Center.

BETTY LOU HALL, in charge of the Veterans' Affairs section of the Registrar's office, counsels J. Peterson on a matter concerning his Veterans' schooling. The Veterans' Affairs section was reopened, along with the rest of the sections of the Registrar's office after its move from Aligned hall.

Wisconsin Offers Scholarship For Radio Students

The income from a trust fund established by H. V. Katzenborn is available for an annual radio scholarship amounting to $500 for the 1953-54 school year.

The scholarship was established to assist deserving students in the pursuit of education and training in some phase of radio broadcasting, with particular emphasis whenever possible on training for the presentation of news and news analysis.

Any entering student of junior standing or above in the University of Wisconsin is eligible for this scholarship.

Selection of the student to receive the annual scholarship is made on the basis of the following considerations: (1) scholarship (2) special aptitudes and interest in some phase of broadcasting (3) evidence of planning for a career which includes the use of radio (4) financial need.

Selection is made by the Regents on recommendation of the President of the University after consultation with the University Radio-Television Committee.

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to the Chairman of the University Radio-Television Committee, Professor H. L. Evans, Department of Speech, University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Final date of filing of applications is June 1, 1953.

Don Smith, Jim Gibbons Win In Tournament

Don Smith and Jim Gibbons are Southern's pool and ping pong champions!

To gain the billiards championship, Smith defeated Gene Jackson in the tournament sponsored by the Student Union this week. Robert Jackson was Gibbons' runner-up in the ping pong contest. Losers in the semi-finals, according to the official score sheet, were Don Smith and Jack Ludwig.

Final games in the chess and pinocle contests are yet to be played. Miss Virginia Harris, Union supervisor, explained that the games will be played at the convenience, and names of the winners will be announced later.

The pinocle finals will match the team of Will Bursner and Jack Ludwig against Bill Barrett and Bob Tweedy. By defeating Robert Lee in the chess semi-finals, Robert Hubner advanced to the finals where he will play the winner of a match between A. Byers and James Stinson.

At the Ladies Steel Company in Alton and Madison, there are many opportunities for summer work for college students are positions in camps, open to both men and women. In Wenakee, Wisconsin, workers are paid as high as 95 cents per hour for a 40-hour week. The number of hours per week worked depends upon weather conditions. Room and transportation are free.

At the Ladies Steel Company in Alton and Madison, there are many opportunities for summer work for men, also.

Lantz Discusses Marriage

The American family isn't what it used to be, but far from lamenting this fact is Dr. Herman Lantz, a sociologist at Southern Illinois University, who seems to delight in solving marriage problems.

He is an instructor in marriage and dating courses at Southern, as well as a counselor in marriage. He contends that even since the old basis of family unity has passed, young people have an even greater chance of marital bliss today. That is they approach matrimony on a more mature basis and take time to find out what their problems actually are.

Here Dr. Lantz comes in. He is called on to identify those problems. He points out to would-be brides and grooms, that "In rural America the family used to stay together to keep the farm going, but today many of the traditional functions of the family have been taken over by society. The spiritual, recreational, and business activities have deserted the hearth."

"Don't cry for the good old-fashioned family," warns Dr. Lantz, because its members had little time to devote to cementing family relations through warm companionship. Today's parent's and their children play an affectionate role unknown to society before on such a general scale. "However, when this modern function goes down, the counselor cautions, then comes the troubles that cause high divorce rates. Good marriages are not a trick of fate; they take careful pre-marital planning and plenty of in-service training in human relations after marriage."

"We're hundreds of years behind the times in knowing about how to get along with each other," the professor says. "But families who have discovered the value of working out their problems in an open warmhearted give-and-take, and who make allowances for personality differences will never become the divorce rate."

As soon as the playoffs are completed, results of the pinocle and chess tournaments will be announced in a later edition of the Egyptian.

Southern Is Host To Civil Defense Meeting Today

Emphasizing the growing need for civil defense programs, Southern is host today to a Civil Defense Orientation meeting including officials, educators, and military advisers from all over the state.

The meeting will be one of the largest and most important civil defense conferences staged in Illinois and will have more than a dozen key emphasis-in military and communications affairs as speakers and demonstrators.

This meeting will be held in Shroyck auditorium at 4 p. m. following the parade at 3:30, and will concern military preparedness on the college campus. All AF ROTC cadets will attend this conference.

President D. W. Morris will give the orientation address. ## Greek Week Sponsors

BOB ETHERIDGE

DR. BETTY GREENLEAF

Dr. W. J. Tudor of Area Services gave a short kick-off address at the assembly. He explained the purpose of the drive was to help the Greek organizations to pay the operating costs of Anatolia College for one day.

The Greek College has an enrollment of approximately 600 students. Officials of the school have expressed their gratitude to Southern by proclaiming one day Southern Illinois University Day.

Only mountains separate the small country from the Iron Curtain. But the Greek students are as anxious as we to keep Communism from spreading. They are taught the same truly Democratic principles that we believe in. And although extremely poor, the Greeks are doing their best, and materials to completely rehabilitate a war-torn village, relieving suffering, rebuilding, and teaching.

The student council sponsored the drive with Louisa Hartsch, director, and Mary Jane Ball as general secretary. Others on the committee included Bill Lower, Gerry McGovern, and Carolyn Bernhard.

Food will be served at 5:30. Miss Greenleaf said that there will be plenty to eat for everyone.

Admission to be made through the Student Union desk or from any member of the Student Union Board. All tickets must be purchased by noon, May 19, so that there will be a good supply of food for everyone attending the picnic.

Recreation will consist of badminton, volleyball, baseball, basketball, and other games. Equipment will be furnished for all games.

Drive For Anatolia College Raises $200

"You are receiving much more than you are giving," were the opening words of Pat Randle, auctioneer at Southern's second annual Anatolia fund raising auction.

The auction was held during the school assembly in Shroyck Auditorium, Wednesday. More than $200 was raised at the auction, passing up the $125 mark reached in 1952.

The auctioned items included everything from kisses to a six-piece orchestra. Fraternities and societies offered services such as babysitting (with infants or otherwise), waitresses, waiters, and housecleaning services.

Salon Al-Javan (The Shick) offered to call with himself as chauffeur, for one-day service to the highest bidder. Alpha Eta offered an entertainment directed by Pat Lamont. The sorority has had a prize-winning act in the last two campus shows.

Community merchants donated meal tickets, toilet articles, and a camera. White elephant articles were donated from the Student Union and the Fraternity department.

North Hall was highest bidder for the services of Boyd L. Marsh's orchestra.

Our Opinions

In Transition

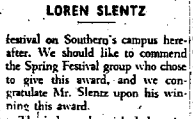

Any change can bring an accompanying slow period in which gears are shifted, cogs are meshed, and the "new machine" gets underway.

We do not fancy ourselves the editors of one of the best college papers, however, we do not think we have a good paper which can be made better.

Readers' comments on the paper have helped greatly in keeping us on the ball in covering the news. We find that many comments represent serious thinking and that they point to things which we couldn't easily see from our vantage point.

We Salute . . .

Loren Slentz was the first to receive this award which is given as a traditional part of each spring festival on Southern's campus hereafter.

SU Helps Place Walleyed Pike In Little Grassy

Southern Illinois fishermen may be angling for walleyed pike for the first time in home waters if an experiment at Little Grassy lake works out.

William M. Lewis, assistant professor of zoology at Southern Illinois University, said 26 brook pike were added to the lake last week.

Efforts to obtain large numbers of walleye for stocking, the lake were unsuccessful in the spring of 1951 and again in 1952.

AF ROTC

The AF ROTC has a new insignia to go along with the new blues. USAF has approved the new design for the Air Force ROTC shield, symbolizing the AF ROTC potential in peace and war.

The design was developed from combined ideas resulting from a contest and the joint efforts of Captain Edward P. Winslow, Jr., Framingham, Mass., and Lt. (now first) lieutenant will be on the campus Thursday and Friday, May 14 and 15. The team, from Scott AFB in Belleville, will set up operations in the Student Union.

In charge of the group will be Capt. Robert L. Zimmerman and he will be assisted by Maj. Sgt. Robert Lewis and John McNulty, all of Scott AFB, Illinois.

The team will be primarily interested in the graduating seniors; however, all students who are interested in flight training or in flight observer training should contact Capt. Zimmerman or his men.

All applicants will be screened and if accepted they will be notified by mail when they should report for their processing. This processing will be given at either Scott AFB, Belleville, or Champaign AFB, Champaign, Illinois.

Any student who has been notified of induction or pending induction into the Army will not be eligible for application into the cadet program.

The Queens Guard performance at the Festival in McAndrew Stadium drew many comments from the large audience.

Under the leadership of Cadet Captain J. Keller, a 16 man rifle squad went through a series of intricate maneuvers, which was one of the highlights of the show.

The Harper Squadron of the Army old Air Society is truly in a national organization. There are 152 squadrons throughout the United States and Hawaii, which include colleges and universities that offer the AF ROTC program.

You'll Not Be Forgotten When You're An Alumnus of Southern

By Dan Halloran

When you grow old and bent, when your blue eyes dim and your face begins to resemble a toasty prune, then your memories of Southern may fade and waver. But you will not be completely forgotten. Your name may not bring a cheery smile to the faces of students 150 years from now, but somewhere, tucked away in files, the records concerning addresses, names of husband or wife, number of children, experiences, and interests of Southern Alumnus scattered through the job of the Alumni Service, is mainly one of keeping up to date on the country.

VIRGINIA MILLER edits the two publications which Alumni Service publishes and mails to most alumni of Southern. Virginia is a journalism and English major who will be graduated in June.

JANE ROSS, student employee in Alumni Service, consults the master card file in the central office to get some information about a former student at Southern.

JIM MCKINLEY, student employee, starts on the chore of addressing the May issue of the Southern Alumnus, magazine publication of Alumni Service.

BETTY TRUSHELL, a student employee, starts on the chore of addressing the May issue of the Southern Alumnus. After the magazines are addressed, they are sorted according to destination.

SIU Students Prefer Kenton Poll Ranks Star Tops, But Few Can Explain Why

By Jean Wheatley

How music-minded are Southern students? That's a pretty tough one to answer, but we can give a representative answer to a more specific question, "Who is your favorite band leader?"

This question was asked of 50 students recently. Following are the results:

Fifteen of the 50 students queried preferred Stan Kenton, but few could state just why he is their favorite. As Loreta Lee senior, put it, "Why? I don't know why, except that he's real smooth." Another student said he liked Kenton because he couldn't understand him. The best-liked his brass section and his playing of progressive jazz.

Ralph Marterie rated next with seven votes. Russ Vanoy, a sophomore, said, "Ralph Marterie has a wonderful piano player, and Gene Patton, one of his vocalists, is tops." Bob Robertson, a senior, classed the Marterie band as one of the "most versatile" bands of this time. Five students preferred Guy Lombard's "soothing and restful" music. Ray Anthony got four votes for his trumpet playing. Two preferred Wayne King because "he's the waltz king" and "he plays the prettiest music I ever heard." Ralph Flanagan, Harry James, and Sammy Kaye also got two votes each.

These band leaders were preferred by one student each: Russ Morgan James Moody, Woody Herman, Jimmy Dorsey, Lester Young, Gene Krupa, Duke Ellington, Buddy Morrow, and Johnny Maddox.

Below this they listed the names of those students who had failed to pay their fees.

Nor was this the only evidence of drastic action. The following warning appears in the same issue:

Warning to those who have taken books and periodicals from Wheeler Library without having charged them at the desk:

Saluki Baseball Team Splits Doubleheader

Scoring two runs in the seventh and another in the ninth, the Fluksies from Northern dumped the Salukis for their first conference defeat of the season. Southern came back in the second game to gain an even break, 3-0.

Northern jumped on a tiring Dargen Thompson as Sarina opened the seventh with a single. Rightfielder Torricelli followed with another single. Sarina stopping at second, Nevada, the catcher, reached first on a fielder's choice, Sarina out from Thompson to Jacques Theriot.

A passed ball by catcher Jack Campbell permitted the runners to advance to second and third. Leftfielder Lawson struck out, but first baseman McRoy singled scoring Torricelli and Nohava. Graham, the pitcher, singled, but the Shortstop fled to Jim Schumblach to end the inning.

In the ninth, Nohava led off with a single, went to second on a sacrifice. McRoy's long double drove Nohava home with the winning run. The Salukis scored first in the sixth inning on Larry Burns' home run. Schumblach got on with a single, scoring ahead of him. Eddie Coleman, and Schumblach were the big men in the plate, each getting 2 for 4. Little Verlan Zapotocky, Southern's leading hitter, went for the horse collar four times.

Thompson pitched great ball until he tired in the seventh. He had given up only three hits in the first six innings. Northern got four hits in the eighth and two hits in the ninth that brought home the winning run.

After a night's rest the Salukis came back strong Saturday to whip the Huskies, 3-0, on great three-hit pitching by Ray Rippelmeyer.

Northern got hits in the fourth, fifth, and seventh and Rippelmeyer was never in trouble as he gave up only two walks and struck out 14.

The Salukis picked up their first run in the second inning when Theriot was hit by a pitched ball. Don Campbell, who had, Coleman also got a free trip to first filling the bag.

Third baseman Sarina bobbled Schumblach's grounder allowing Theriot to scamper home.

Another marker came up in the fourth when Campbell walked, went to second and the Salukis' first baseman McRoy, and scored on Coleman's line drive to left.

Just for good measure Southern got another insurance in the ninth. Theriot gave them the lead, however, free for nothing. Zapotocky singled and went to second on an error by second baseman Bedrosian. Zapotocky went to third as Centerfielder Verlan honored the crowd drive, and then scored as McRoy, who had a runner on Burns was safe on a fielder's choice.

Southern now has a 5-1 conference record. They are a game ahead of second place Eastern, who will be host to the Salukis May 15.

Southern Conf. Has Big Split Five Teams Leave

In a meeting at Greensboro North Carolina's group of the seventeen schools in the big Southern Conference decided to pull out and form a conference of their own. The seven schools, represented most of the actual athletic progress of the circuit. They pulled out in a momentous session Friday. They will meet in Raleigh, N. C., June 14 to make plans for the new conference. The new conference as yet, hasn't been named.

The remaining 10 schools will gather in Roanoke, Va., June 26 to decide their fate.

Withdrawing were North Carolina, Duke, Wake Forest, Wake Forest, Maryland, South Carolina, and Clemson.

Those remaining in the Southern Conference were Davidson, Furman, Georgia, West Virginia, George Washington and F. S. Virginia. Virginia schools - Richmond, William and Mary, Virginia Tech, Virginia Military and Washington and Lee.

It took eight hours of seemingly endless closed meetings, with discussions and considerable delicate maneuvering to accomplish the long rumored split of the ungainly circuit which had embraced five states and the District of Columbia. Better schedules with each member meeting each other conference later, will result.

Actual operation of the new conference has been set for a "later date" to quote the chief spokesman. This date will be announced the week of the next football game, or next year. What happens at the Raleigh meeting will determine the pattern.

Snead And Hogan Battle It Out In Greenbrier

Sam Snead and Ben Hogan battled it out point by point at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. The occasion was the Greenbrier Open golf parade. It was at the halfway point Friday and will be finished this week.

The two favorites for the $2,000 first prize purse were a snail pace and considerable delicate maneuvering to accomplish the long rumored split of the ungainly circuit which had embraced five states and the District of Columbia. Better schedules with each member meeting each other conference later, will result.

Actual operation of the new conference has been set for a "later date" to quote the chief spokesman. This date will be announced the week of the next football game, or next year. What happens at the Raleigh meeting will determine the pattern.

Wisconsin Leads Big Ten Baseball Shutout Buckeyes

Wisconsin plunged into first place in big-ten baseball recently. They held lone but possibly brief possession of the big-ten crown, State's Buckeyes 13-0 put them there.

Northernwestern, which had led the lead with Wisconsin at two victories and no losses, lost to Illinois' defending co-champions 4-2.

In other games Friday, Michigan to beat Indiana 9-4, Iowa drubbed Purdue 11-3 and Michigan, the other 1952 co-champ, whipped Michigan State 9-1.

The Badgers and the Fighting Illini soon play a doubleheader at Champaign. The winner of this game will take the lead in the conference.

Other games to be played in the big-ten - Northwestern vs. Ohio State, Michigan at Michigan State, Indiana at Iowa and Purdue at Minnesota.

Victim of Wisconsin's outburst Friday was Paul Ebert, an undisciplined Big Ten pitcher in 1952. The Badgers hopped on him for eight runs in the second inning, including a grand slam homer by catcher Cavlie Wagner and a three-run homer by Gus Vergies. Dave Moran hit his another three-run home run in the fifth inning off Ronnie Roland, who relieved Ebert. Ron Unke was the winning pitcher, limiting the Buckeyes to three hits.

Fuentes Slugs To 14th Victory Ready For Champ

A new contender is coming up in the welterweight division of pro boxing. Ramon Fuentes slugged his way to his 14th straight win in New York Friday. He said that he has a strong yen to mix with any of the top-ranking welterweights.

Fuentes is a 25-year-old ex-Marine. He racked up number 14 at the expense of Al Wilson. It was a unanimous ten-round decision. The bout was held at the St. Nicholas Arena.

Fuentes said he'd like to take on welterweight champ Kid Gavilan. He's realistic though. He said he'd be happy to settle for Danny Fagan, the Welterweight night now. Welterweight didn't open decision over Gavilan a week ago.

"I don't care who I fight" said the Los Angeles leatherneck. "I couldn't get much work out on the coast. Nobody wants to fight me. I hope I don't see them off here."

It was Fuentes' Eastern debut and his first appearance on a coast to coast television network.

Who Did What And When That Was The Question

After Archbishop Richard J. Cushing completed a confirmation ceremony, he went among the youngsters plying them with questions from the catechism.

"Who made the world?" he asked one of the young boys.

"God made the world," the youngster replied.

The next question came with a smile. "Who made the Red Sox?"

"Tom Waboy," was the quick reply.

The youngster was Michael Conroy, son of Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin.

Willie McGoo Wins Dog

By Don Primas

There was a scorch of brakes, a dull piercing scream and then the skull thud of a body hitting the pavement.

Ordinarily, such a happening would cause great excitement, but not at this instance. Women passing the scene put their right hands over their hearts, and men politely tipped their hats to the corpse who lay squashed in the street. But there it was no great excitement. Willie McGoo had merely run over another pedestrian.

WILLIE'S IN A HURRY

Willie is one of those people who wait until the last minute to do something, and "doubly" become pressed for time. In his haste to get to his 10 o'clock class on time, Willie, at the controls of his antiquated jalopy, has accounted for the destruction of a number of pedestrians. Fortunately for the people of Carbondale, university officials have done away with 10 o'clock classes beginning next fall, therefore assuring Willie a more leisurely morning (since he never has any 8 or 9 o'clock classes). But there is a certain gambler named Evanoff who is betting stacks and stacks of buffalo chips that McGoo still slays his quota of pedestrians.

WILLIE HAS A DATE

Willie has a certain episode in young Willie's life that can now be told for the first time. It happened during Spring Festival, when Willie had one of his very intricate social engagements with a member of the opposite sex. In other words, he had a date with a broad, a thing which doesn't usually happen to Willie.

The midway offered real attraction for Willie and his date, and especially for Willie, since most of the booths were concerned with the exhibition of certain skills. As everyone knows, Willie is a great admirer of athletics in any form, and as far as he's concerned, any exertion of physical energy is a muscle of athletics.

WILLIE FLEXES HIS FORMS

Willie made Herculean efforts to impress his date with his skill. He threw baseballs at milkboots, he pitched pennies at dishes, he tried to throw footballs through a tire suspended from a tree. Willie was as unsuccessful as a furnace salesman in Hades.

Finally Willie came to the booth where darts are thrown at balloons. Willie was dumfounded when he broke two balloons in three tosses, when he was even more dumfounded when he received his prize - a live puppy. Willie did a little dance of joy, and then he and his date tripped gaily off to deposit the dog in a friend's car.

WILLIE GOES OFF

Right now, Willie is spending a few days in jail. It seems that he was fishing and accidentally fell in, so he made a fire in order to dry his clothes. Willie wasn't too careful; not only did he dry his clothes, he reduced them to a pile of ashes.
