Presidential Forecasts for 1924

Agoresans Hear Famous Men

Dr. Wm. Keith, eminent divine; D. Ransom Sherretz, celebrated editor; August C. Meyer, noted publisher, and C. V. Parsons, distinguished politician, addressed the Agora, April 16, on the subject of presidential candidates for 1924. Dr. Keith said that the country is in a very bad condition, due to Mr. Harding's failure to solve pressing problems of the day. "What we need," he asserted, "is some one to lead us as Moses led the children of Israel. Such a man, according to Dr. Keith, is Senator Moses of N. H. Mr. Sherretz admitted that he was no speaker—that writing came easier for him—but he declared that his voice should be heard in the next presidential campaign. The celebrated editor thought that the present incumbent of the White House lacks the one great requisite of a successful president, namely, an iron back-bone. He showed that Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama possessed this requirement. The next speaker, Mr. Meyer, is a personal friend of Mr. Harding. He said that he frequently played golf with the President. "The chief executive possesses all the traits of a great man and his administration has been the most successful one in years," declared Mr. Meyer. He mentioned the "Arms Conference" and the "Tariff" as Mr. Harding's greatest achievements. The noted publisher said that he was no orator but the writer of this article, a Democrat of the Wilson variety, never applauded so loudly a speech he entirely disagreed with. Mr. Parsons said that the Harding administration had neglected the interests of the farmers and laborers, that the tariff was in the interests of "big business." What we want, he affirmed, is a Democrat not too radical or too conservative but a man of liberal views, and Mr. Wm. G. McAadoo satisfies this condition. The repeal of the tariff, Mr. Parsons thought, would be an issue. This, he said, would put fifteen dollars in the pocket of every man in the United States and consequently it was strongly favored by the Agoresans.

It was clearly shown that in politics the Agora is a "house divided against itself. Despite the fact that there were four different views expressed, there were still members who wouldn't agree with any of them. There were advocates of Gump, Ford, "Know-nothings," "Moss-back," "Mugwumps," Woman's Party, Socialist, and Clarence Sanford disappointed with all these parties advocating wit hall these parties advocated himself for the Presidency.

Are you a live, wide awake student? Do you want to hear something new and interesting. If so, put a ring around the days May 6 and 7 to remind you to make arrangement for these days. You will be sure to want to hear Rex Hopper, the Student Volunteer Secretary.

Shannon Austin, saxophone player with the Oriental Melody, well known Carbondale dance orchestra, was called to Tampa, Fla., last week, where he will play with Collin's jazz band. This is said to be one of the best jazz orchestra in the south.

FRATERNITY HAS BASEBALL CELEBRITIES

From the Chicago Herald and Examiner we read this: "Monmouth will lose the potency of the world's 'eighth wonder,' the Dickson twins, who were the big guns on the Little Nineteen last year." Unknown to most of us, we have a brace of wonders in our midst. These fine boys are members of the Sigma Alpha Pi fraternity of S. I. N. U.

Socratic Society Presents "Deacon Dubbs O' West Virginia"

Socratic Society again catered to the wishes of its members and friends last Friday evening when the three-act comedy, "The Deacon O' West Virginia," was presented in a most successful manner.

The success was due to various factors. In the first place the drama was a well selected one which held the attention of the audience during the entire performance. In the second place practically all the cast had appeared in plays at some preceding time on the same stage. Among these people might be mentioned Glenn Ayre, Frank Watson, Sarah Carter, Mary Ingram, Chas. Goforth, Clyde Burgess, and the last thing that one might attribute the success to was the fact that Claude Wright had coached the play. It might be added that Mr. Wright has proven his ability at such tasks during previous years.

The leading role of the drama, being the part of the deacon, was ably played by Glenn Ayre. It was indeed interesting moments when he was holding the real estate man in the well and when, thru mistake, he was saying such nice things to Trixie.

Music was furnished by the orchestra between acts. This term has proven to be a new epoch in the history of the orchestra. It is larger from the standpoint of numbers, and is furnishing some excellent music.

The hall was filled to an over-capacity. But despite all physical discomforts due to crowded conditions, the expression of the audience was that a very pleasant evening's entertainment had been provided.

The society promises to feature interesting programs the rest of the year. Everyone is invited to attend any and all meetings.

Former Letter Man Plays in International Contest

William "Bill" Rude, basketball letter man of '20 and '21, finished the season with an international game against Cuba. Rude shot the final and winning basket which gave him head lines in all the southern papers.

Margaret S.—"Well, bra'nless wonder, what do you think I came here for, to sing?"

WHEN WE'RE GONE, YOU'LL SOON FORGET

When we're gone you'll soon forget us,
Others will our places fill.
We can hope that you will miss us,
Pray that we'll not come to ill.
We have done as Seniors all do,
Fought our way through many years,
Done our best for S. I. N. U.
Whom we're leaving now with tears.

CHORUS

When we're gone you'll soon forget us,
When from you we're far away,
You'll be happy in the old School
That we yearn for day by day.
In your heart there'll be no longing,
Not one small or vain regret.
We will leave you at Commencement,
When we're gone you'll soon forget.

We have striven hard and faithful,
Worked as Trojans, hard and long,
But it's not all been for honor
To be meted to us in song.
For Alma Mater we have struggled,
Strived for her with might and main,
Then when we're gone our small
achievements,
Will be added to her name.

Though others rise to take our place,
And reap for them what'er is due,
We hope our work has left a record
That will bear on them and you.
When our names you don't remember,

And our forms have vanished, yet,
May our spirit hover near you,
That our worth you'll not forget.

HORSE SHOE PITCHING

Another touch of "Main Street" has come to New York. A window in one of the smartest sporting goods stores is given over to a barr-yard golf exhibit. The game of horseshoe pitching has become extremely popular here. In the window are nickel-plated horse shoes and leather bound carrying cases, soft-steel stakes and cute celluloid scorers. The game is finding a certain popularity among the social bloods and many exciting matches are being held on Long Island and in the fashionable Westchester section. There is a publication devoted to horseshoe pitching.

THE RADIATOR

"Happiness"

I cannot but think that the world would be better and brighter if the teachers would dwell on the Duty of Happiness as well as on the Happiness of Duty; for we ought to be as cheerful as we can, if only to be happy ourselves as a most effective contribution to the happiness of others. Everyone must have felt that a cheerful friends like a sunny day, shedding brightness on all around; and most of us can, if we choose, make of the world a palace or prison. To be bright and cheerful often requires an effort; there is a certain art in keeping ourselves happy; and in this respect, as in others, we require to watch over and manage ourselves almost as if we were somebody else.

INSTALLATION OF Y. W. C. A. CABINET OFFICERS

Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock all members of both old and new Y. W. cabinets and also Y. W. members and visitors gathered at Anthony Hall. Bess McGuire, president of last year's cabinet, presided. Miss Entsminger's talk on "Discipleship" was enjoyed by all. Alice Barrow, who is new president for this year, took the oath of office.

The new cabinet officers are as follows:

- President—Alice Barrow.
- Vice-President—Susan Patterson.
- Secretary—Agness Lentz.
- Treasurer—Edna Young.
- Undergraduate Representative—Marie Waller.
- Membership—Kate Cunningham.
- Bible Study—Blanche Dollins.
- Program—Ethel Parr.
- Finance—Katherine Wintersteen.
- Social—Medrith Smith.
- Social Service—Margaret McMaster.
- Publicity—Hazel Pyatt.

Gone Are the Days

When Latin pupils could ride thru Caesar on a pony.
 When high grades were in vogue.
 When girls wore long tresses with hair ribbons down their backs.
 When there were only a few clubs in school.
 When the boys stayed after school to erase the blackboards.
 When the boys parted their hair on the side and did not even use water on it.
 When the pupils used to "cry" if they were deficient in any study.

Mark Twain once asked a neighbor if he might borrow a set of books. The neighbor ungraciously reported that he was welcome to read them in his library, but he had a rule never to let his books leave his home. Some weeks later the same neighbor sent over to ask for the loan of Mark Twain's lawn mower. "Certainly," said Mark, "but since I make it a rule never to let it leave my lawn you will be obliged to use it there."

"READ 'EM AND DRY YOUR EYES"

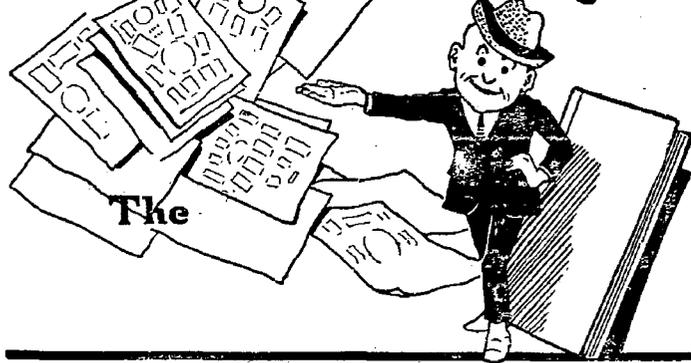

The following are extracts from the Reference room rules published in the University of Oklahoma magazine:

- 1.—"The books in the reference rooms of the library are not worth much as a rule; otherwise they wouldn't be there. So treat 'em rough. Jam them into the standards and ends of the book shelves so that the leaves are all crumpled up; this is one of the best ways known of doing them permanent damage.
- 2.—This is your library (remember that) bought and paid for by your father's taxes; use it accordingly. If you see anything you want in a book or magazine cop it. It may not be worth anything to anyone else, you know. If you take one volume of a set, especially the index volume, please take the whole set (if it isn't too heavy); that will save us embarrassing apologies for the missing volume.
- 3.—Talk as loud as you like in the halls, in the reading rooms and outside the windows. It does not bother anyone."

A fifth grade schoolboy was told to write a composition on teeth and the next day handed in the following: "Teeth is growed in the mouth of most animals 'cept hens. The hen doesn't chaw what she eats, she just swaller it and then says to her gizzard go to it and see what you kin make out of that. My ant fanny she has store teeth, which keeps a drop-pin' down. I ast her one day why she did not threw than away and git her a gizzard like a hen. Sometimes teeth akes awful. I don't knw which is worst a tooth ake or a stummick ake. I've had both. there is this difference when yure tooth akes you kin git it pulled if you hev the nerve. I hed a tooth pulled once by a doctor he told me it wouldn't hurt. I beleve all the doctors is liars, there was another and thet doctor give me some medicine once and said it would taste good. he's a liar too. teeth is a regular nusance anyway you take them, my maw makes me brush my teeth every day which there aint no sense in so fur as i kin see if i hed

OUR BUSINESS GROWTH

Every month our business shows a healthy growth. This is as it should be. If we did not go forward, we should go backward; for one of nature's laws is that nothing shall stand still.

We attribute our five years' growth to the sane, sound policies which animate our business. It is our aim and purpose to please every customer and to render a real merchandising service to our patrons.

If we do this we will accomplish and grow as much during the next five years as we have during the five past years.

With this aim in view we sincerely solicit the students' trade and influence.

STRONG METHODIST AGGREGATION HUMBLLED BY STUMBLE INN FIVE

Coco-cola Slingers Stage Strong
Comeback and Win Last Minute.

Accepting a challenge, the Stumble Inn basket ball team met and defeated the Methodist church team at the Methodist church gym Wednesday afternoon by a score of 31-29. The Methodist church team hold the championship of the church league in Carbondale and are rated as one of the strongest church teams in Southern Illinois.

The game started off with a rush and the Methodist worked through the Stumble Inn guards for seven points in the first five minutes. Then the boys "across the street from the Normal" shut down and came out four points behind in the half. In the second half, owing to the superb guarding of Capt. Allen and Carter of the "other" team the Methodists had to resort to long shots and did very well the third quarter. In the fourth quarter the word rough was mild. The Methodist five may be Sunday school boys but Capt. Allen and Capt. Hickey of the Normal and U. High teams respectively soon learned to respect them. Even old Ed Carter, the hero of many a hard fought battle had the floor fly up and hit him once or twice. Lollar, wise as a cat, crawled out from under the struggling mass of humanity and in the last minute won the game for the Stumble Inn. F. Lawder and Brimm each played at half and did very well owing to their inexperience in such battles. On the Methodist side D. Lawder, L. Lewis and Cherry did admirably, making seven field goals between them. It seemed as if the rough end of the battle fell on C. Renfro, who left the gym a sorer and wiser man. Goodall at standing guard had a habit of breaking up plays and starting the ball down toward the Methodist goal.

For the Stumble Inn, Lollar led the scoring with seven field goals and six free goals while C. Renfro of the Methodists gathered in five free goals. Hickey and Lawder each got two goals and Brimm and Carter each got one. For the Methodists Lewis got four, Cherry two and D. Lawder one. Eenton of Johnston City refereed and Williams of Carbondale was time keeper.

Joe Montgomery, coach and manager of the Stumble Inn All Star extends an open challenge to any team in Southern Illinois for a basket ball game.

First Englishman—Charley, did you hear that joke about the Egyptian guide who showed some tourists two skulls of Cleopatra; one as a girl and one as a woman?

Second Englishman—No, let's hear it.

We are sorry to report that Dr. D. B. Parkinson is ill at his home on Beveridge street.

Too Personal

The length of the fluency of Helen Callis' speech is not known. For inquiry see Dorothea Merz, an ear witness.

Ana Huffman is almost the luckiest person in school. This statement does not refer to a certain lad; but to the sudden increase in her wealth.

It is said that Pauletta Jansen "got out and got under" early last Wednesday morning. It was merely a birthday courtesy that was administered by gentle friends.

August Meyer and Cecil Davis fell out last week.

Claude Parson had his face powdered by a lady on Friday, 13th.

Cary Davis knows how expensive some women are to keep. (In Washington.)

Benj. Merkel has discovered that he is just old enough to get married.

Grace Eagleson has been parting her hair on the left side the last week for a change.

Halene Street has been paying attention to John Lockwood lately.

Jimmie wants to know who the girl was who sat on his lap at Socratic Society last Friday night.

Albert Witters is so good in algebra.

Clida Price got her slippers while taking a car ride.

Ray Hedges is very kind.

They say Miss Cox likes peach pie.

Lynn McCormack has been dressed up this week, he's been wearing his white sweater.

Maude Hood has been on the sick list lately. It is thought that she is suffering of lovesickness.

Norma Jay was heard singing the latest hit the other day, "Aspirin dear, aspirin, my head aches for you."

Floora Clark states that her studies this term keep her quite busy. She is taking two hours campistry, two hours loveology, one hour vamping, and one hour flirting, which is enough to keep any one busy.

George Lirely has a new pair of "kicks" this term and their only fault he thinks is that they hurt his feet. The other day he took the "kicks" off to rest his feet and then fell asleep. During this nap some one took one of his shoe strings. George says that if the person who took his shoe string will come to him, they may have the other one, also.

Harold Loomis and Harley Mowery are studying a little this term.

Hazel Pyatt was "tickled silly" last week and all because she had received three letters from a certain person upstate.

To Women Who Want New Suits

Most of us, no doubt, would prefer a new suit every few weeks, if bank accounts were sufficiently elastic—

But since this isn't always the case, have you thought of the possibilities for "renewing" that old suit.

Your suit, or any other apparel—dresses, blouses, gloves—dry cleaned by our modern methods, take on a newness which you'll find pleasantly surprising.

Phone today and we will call at whatever time you name.
