Dear Editor: I will admit and don't think I'm by myself, that most of the time I don't like the Egyptian for granted.

Dear Editor: I am glad to hear that the Egyptian is being published again. It is a very good idea, and I hope it will be successful.

NATION UNINFORMED AS TO PURPOSES OF SECURITY CONF.

The Department of State has been beating its breast the last week and shouting that the Security Conference of 46 nations which opened Wednesday in San Francisco, is NOT A PEACE CONFERENCE. That most people in the United States have a distorted idea of what is expected to be accomplished at San Francisco was revealed by a Gallup Poll this week. 47% of the people of this country believe that the conference will work out terms of the peace at war's end and arrange for means of disposing of the Axis. 11% feel that the nations are gathered to settle postwar problems of trade, and other economic questions. They think the ultimate end of the meeting will be to settle secondary disputes, while 42% DO NOT HAVE ANY IDEA WHAT THE MEETING IS ALL ABOUT.

The Conference is not designed to settle boundary disputes, settle economic problems, peace terms, war plans, or the future of Germany and Japan, rather the conference WILL ATTEMPT TO DRAW UP A SET OF REGULATIONS WHICH WILL MAKE THE NEXT WORLD WAR UNFAIRLY FAIR, DRAW THE LIMIT TO WHICH AGGRESSORS CAN GO, PROVIDE FOR THE POLICE FORCE WHICH WILL STOP AGGRESSORS; CREATE A WORLD COURT.

The United Nations are attempting to secure a modicum of agreement before the end of the war on the type of organization which should be set up to maintain future peace. At the end of World War I the countries waited until after the war was over. The League was created in an atmosphere of nations reluctant to participate and yearning for the past. While the problems today are more complex, at least the leaders of the world had the foresight to avoid a circumstance which partially crippled the League before it was in operation.

The DUMBARTON OAKS proposals is the framework for the security organization. However, there may be modifications in its structure as proposed by the four commissions into which the conference is divided. A Commission on General Organization, a Commission on Disarmament, a Commission on Economic and Social Relations, and a Commission on International Law. The Commission on General Organization will draw up recommendations for structure, procedure, trusteeship for conquered sections of the world, etc. The Commission on Security Council will work out plans for security procedure, peaceful settlement of disputes, methods of settling and relation of regional groups which will deal with problems in specific areas. Commission on Judicial organization will overhaul the international court of justice and set up standards for settling legal problems.

When any problem has been worked out thoroughly it will be voted on by the 46 nations which presumably have one vote each. After the rules for world cooperation have been worked out to the satisfaction of the United Nations, each of them will take the finished plan back to its legislature or people and present it for approval.

This phase is one of the most vital and calls for citizens who know what the conference is all about and what it is expected to accomplish. Last time, it will be recalled, that the League was voted down by us. While it may not happen a second time, the president has been very clear. He has set up a reactionary force at work who give lip-service to an international organization yet want to cripple the plan by restricting our participation. The procrastination of Congress in approving the Bretton Woods blueprint for an international organization is a disheartening thing in itself.

It is essential that students as well as people in general keep informed of the work being done at San Francisco—so they are the ones who must eventually follow through.

STUDENTS IN INDUSTRY WORK WITH A PURPOSE

What are you going to do this summer? Sit at home? Go to school? Work?

One of the finest opportunities for students who are going to college this summer is the STUDENTS-IN-INDUSTRY PROJECT. Students who participate in this project will work in Chicago's industries and stores at regular rates of pay (55c to 65c an hour for 48-hour week) and will attempt to see the complex economic, religious, social and political problems that exist in the city.

They will live together near the University of Chicago at George Williams College, experiencing the full values of fellowship, and understanding achieved through such group life. The students will learn by actually facing the problems of the workers and actually solving them. They will also learn to counsel and acquire an understanding of their own problems. They will also PLOY amid Chicago's recreational and cultural advantages—parks, open air concerts, museums, etc.

The project starts June 17 and ends September 1. It is under the direction of Dr. C. W. Coombs, professor of Social Ethics at the Chicago Theological Seminary.

Students who are interested in the project may write to: STUUDENT Y. W. C. A., 1100 Woodlawn Avenue, Chicago 15, Illinois

STUDENT COUNCIL MINUTES

April 19, 1945. The meeting was called to order by the president and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The presence of the president, secretary, and secretary were absent. The Selection Committee reported that the Student Council had approved the nomination of the Sophomore vacancy on the Council. The final election will be held on April 27, 1945. Final plans for the Honors Day activities were made. The Council will give a tea immediately after the Honors Day activities. The meeting was adjourned.

EGYPTIAN A Dire Problem

The education of Southern Illinois is indeed a problem which we college students should be interested in. The late President Roscoe Pulliam wrote, "The poverty of Southern Illinois is a problem which we should be interested in."

After the article appearing on the editorial page of last week, "Resources Abundant in Southern Illinois," it seemed to me that the people of Southern Illinois are not taking advantage of the resources of their state. The Illinois State Geological Survey and accepted opinions of credited geologists. Read on.

The resources of Southern Illinois are—oil, coal, fluorapatite, lead, zinc, water, limestone, kernal, gold, iron, barite, and last but not least, the average, short term fields. Because they are short term fields, they are not being developed.

There are many oil interests in Southern Illinois, but according to the State Geological Survey, these fields are not being developed. Because they are short term fields, they are not being developed.

Although the reserve of coal in Southern Illinois is large and extensive, after the close of this war many of the mines now producing will be closed on the strength of the fact that it is very unprofitable to produce coal.

I will admit and don't think I'm by myself, that most of the time I don't like the Egyptian for granted. However, at the recent YAWWCA Conference in Springfield, Mo., I was struck by the fact that here at Southern we have the outstanding college paper in the State.

Large Pointly has one of the largest deposits in the United States. This mining industry is very important to the nation as a whole but it employs only a few hundred people and cannot be greatly expanded to bring more employment and prosperity to the region.

Although lead and zinc occur in Southern Illinois, they are nowhere in sufficient abundance to be mined, directly—they are recovered in connection with the milling of fluorapatite.

The water power of Southern Illinois comes from the rivers for the most part. These rivers are not important to industrial purposes, because they do not have an even flow of water throughout the year. In the spring it is overdone and during the summer months it is extremely low.

Limestone is one of the most plentiful minerals in the state. Because of its abundance and its use in the building industry, it can be used only locally as a building stone. Because it is not the right type of limestone, it cannot be used as a building stone.

Kernal, a new quality of clay, is used in the paint industry for the small amount of the better quality, shipped out of the state for pottery making.

Although gold, iron, ore, and barite are found in Southern Illinois, they are of no commercial value. Gold and iron ore are widely scattered and barite is not so plentifully available to develop them. Barite, aluminum ore, is thoroughly distributed but is not concentrated enough to make it possible to mine it successfully.

Because of the paucity of other natural resources, Southern Illinois is a region which has a large population and few important large industries. Southern Illinois should therefore look to her soil.

Of the thirty-three or thirty-four counties making up Southern Illinois, nineteen have had 50% of their soil surface seriously damaged by erosion. Eight of these counties as much as 75% damage has been done.

Not only is the soil being eroded, but the plants and animals are being seriously depleted by misuse. The farmers, or various other interests, should be interested in the soil's fertility, but only a few places are it is concentrated enough to make it possible to mine it successfully.

Therefore, due to lack of funds, the Scarab will not be published this year. We hope that it may be possible to resume publication of the magazine next year.

While paying a friendly visit to the Egyptian office, I was astonished to find the food and tables covered with fish. I asked why so many papers were cluttering up the office. It was told that they were to be sent to former students of Southern Illinois who are now in the armed forces. Now this is a good idea, but why wait until the Egyptian is published before it is mailed?

Clean cultivation and removal of forest and land have increased runoff and lowered the ground water level. Southern Illinois can only get water in quantity by means of a high priced resource, especially when our reservoirs are being filled with our own previous soil.

MONEY'S WORTH

The gripes of college students may be numerous—but the one heard most frequently on Southern's campus is, "What do we get for the activity fee paid on registration day?"

The most worthwhile service, according to student opinion, is the community Concert series which brings outstanding artists to Southern throughout the year. Only a portion of the activity fees go to support these concerts.

That students realize and appreciate the value of the concerts is evidence by the large student audience. Students are conscious of the fact that such entertainment is comparable to that found in large metropolitan areas. Through the Community Concert set-up—students are given the opportunity to become acquainted with the finer arts at a very reasonable fee.

In addition, the Carbonate Community series has given SNU the right to claim the title: CULTURAL CENTER OF SOUTHERN ILLINOIS. Students are anxious that the college retain this distinctive claim. They are also interested in justifying in insisting on top-notch entertainment as provided by the Concert series. Students, like all consumers, want their money's worth.

POSTAL SUB-STATION NEEDED ON CAMPUS

With almost 1,000 persons on the Southern campus—including the training school—there are definite ways in which a university postoffice could save both time and money for the university and the individual.

The Southern student finds himself on a campus a mile from a postoffice. Only at opportune times are there stamps at Carter's Cafe or the Bookstore—then only three and one-cent stamps in small quantities.

Nothing but first class mail is delivered and picked up on the campus, and this is done twice a day. If the letter is not mailed before these two stops, one must make the trip to the postoffice. Besides the trips made to the campus by the postman and the irregular selling of one and three cent stamps at Carter's and the Bookstore, there are no postal facilities on or near the campus.

A campus postoffice would afford convenience for mailing that laundry bag home, for buying an air-mail or special delivery, for getting a money order, for sending second-class mail out, all which now necessitate the mile-trip to the postoffice.

The college administration would find a campus postoffice just as facilitating as the individual at Southern would, if not more so as it would cut down the shipping expenses of the university. At present, all out-going packages are sent by express. The express rates begin at 35 cents and there plus the weight. For small packages such as a book to be returned to a company or a machine part to be sent for repairs, express service is not economical.

At one time the postman did pick up parcel post packages here; but because correct postage could not be exacted here, but because correct postage could not be exacted the parcels had to be returned, such postal service became inconvenient both to the postman and the store-room clerk.

Therefore, because such a postal sub-station as proposed would not only save time but also money for the university and the individual on the campus, it is suggested that the administration consider the possibility of obtaining a campus postoffice soon.

The postal problem will become more acute when, after the war, the attendance is doubled, tripled.

BY JEAN HOLMES
The annual Founder's Day banquet of Sigma Sigma Sigma was held last Friday, April 20, in the cafeteria. Each girl presented the society with forty-five cents, a cent for each year since the first founder's day celebration.

Four long tables, with white cloths, and purple strips down the center, formed the setting for the festive dinner. Candles were placed at the ends of each table in the form of a triangle, and purple and white flowers were scattered about the banquet tables and the hall.

Speakers of the evening were: Lillian Goldberg, president, Albany State; Dorothy B. Mace, Mrs. J. H. Henderson, Betty Lou Stead, Marjorie Georgan and Neira Mijles.

Entertaining members, alumnae, patronesses, active and pledges were present.

VETERAN PATRIOTISM
GAMMA IOTA ALPHA
ORGANIZES CHAPTER
As an outgrowth of World War II, a new, intercollegiate veterans association has been organized at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn and is now ready to expand its chapters in colleges and universities throughout the country.

By VETERAN PUBLICITY CHM.
Arthur H. Loss, the new president of the Campus Veterans, is trying very hard to help his fellow ex-servicemen while they are away from the home. He is president of the Campus Veterans and due to the fact that he is well informed on college life he will help the new man to fill the position.

At Long's 28 summer old and resides in Pleckneyville when not at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn on the reserves of the Air Corps. He is a pre-medical student who has already had approximately 100 hours of college credit in A.T., and, quote, "I am sure that this new organization, the Campus Veterans, will prove to be a benefit to the country. It will help the new man to fill the position."

Loss is, really, a regular, long-time, very well liked by all the fellows in the club.

VETERAN NEWS
The Polytechnic World War II veterans have registered for the spring term at S.I.U., an increase of six over last term. The organization is currently active in many ways, including the holding of a number of social events.

Many ex-servicemen are currently in the process of being released from military service. The organization is currently active in many ways, including the holding of a number of social events.

Estimates made by authorities show that two percent of the veterans will be re-employed in their former occupations, while four percent will enter some other type of training course.

Although the increase in discharges will be great following the end of the war, the organization is so organized that the large number can be taken care of efficiently.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT
DID IT EVER EXIST?
We see by the exchange papers that the student government at other schools in the university world are also asking themselves that perplexing question: "Student government did ever exist?"

It did not seem that dire administrative edicts would be the only result of this movement. The proposal which did not prove to be sufficient, constructive. Certainly many forms of regulation of students would seem more reasonable and less playstation if they stemmed from students themselves.

HILL GIVING US THE UPGRADE!
Below are a few excerpts from a letter from LT. (JG) W. CALLOW HILL, who is in the U. S. S. Trenton.
'I've been getting this Egyptian paper regularly lately and certainly enjoy it. I read South-Saturday first of course that's where I find the names of the old gang. They are certainly scattered to the 4 corners of the earth. We will certainly have a ball-session when we get together again.

WHERE A FEW ARE:
CPL. ROBERT DONAHUE is now in Germany. He has been overseas about a year and a half—leaving Southern for the service in '42.
A. ROBERT SINKE, Annapolis, Md. 1-16 in China. Sinke went to Southern for about a year in 1941.
SPT. JOSEPH S. MITCHELL, U.S.M.C. has recently had his address changed, for either it was changed for him or Battery, 51st Defense Battalion, 9. Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif.

Although it said "Dear Sir," I took the privilege of reading a letter from A/C GEORGE H. OTTICH. He is now stationed at Selman Field, Monroe, La., and says that since he went into the Army in 1942—the first of his service. He graduated from the University of the South and taught school in Jonesboro before he went into the service.

A few more lines taken from the mail bag are these from PVT. DELMER L. PORTER, 3844526, Co. S, 9th BN. ANAC. For Knox, Ky.
'I have been one of the lags this month to school the same time that I did. One of them here at the A.R.C.
'I would like very much to hear from some of the kids at school, for letters really come in handy here.
His address is printed above—so write right now.

RICHARD "DICK" ALLEN, who joined the Navy in November of 1944 and took his boat training at Great Lakes, is now in Norman, Okla. at a Naval Aviation Technical Training School in A.O.M. Division.

SPICE JONES is building a band for the summer replacement of the Class and Sanborn show. He is planning to have a 20-piece orchestra.
The show will be called the Purple Heart show and will originate in Sanborn and rehabilitation centers.

FRANK SINTRA has recently recorded two songs (that are a little out of his line) on a twelve-inch plate. These are "Dan River and Stormy Weather."
This week's Symphony of the Air (4 p. m. each Sunday) will be of special interest to those who heard Zino Francescatti a few weeks ago. It is the violin-solo with the NBC Symphony Orchestra (directed by Dr. Frank Blaskin) in the performance of Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto.

TO GET BACK TO THE VIOLIN CONCERTO, we have no better-riding word to describe this composition than perfection. It stands almost alone as the greatest-creating concertos of the last century.
This is an excellent opportunity for all who heard Francescatti to hear him again and for those who do not hear him, to hear his superior rendition of Mendelssohn's Concerto.

ATTENTION ALL POTENTIAL POETS & POETESSES
Because there will be no student publication for the recognition of student creative writing this year, the Egyptian is sponsoring a POETRY CONTEST. Each contribution will be considered and judged carefully on the basis of originality, content and technique.

All contributions must be entered before May 15. They must be marked specifically "Poetry Contest Contribution." Name and classification should accompany each contribution. They may be put in the Voice of S.I.U. box, or mailed to the editor in care of the Egyptian, or brought personally to the Egyptian office.

MIRRORS DON'T LIE!
By FAYE OELHEIM
An extremely long mirror—Victoriano-English Department—Education, class—thousand—mathematics—twisting and turning—each exam—Women's Physical Education Department—
Yes, the preceding paragraph is only a jumble of words, not even constructed sentences. But, do any of the jumbled words seem coherent to you? Frankly, they didn't to me, but an interview with Mrs. Mae Trovillion-Smith, a member of the English Department, etc. I soon knew all the angles and answers concerning the full-length mirror hanging in the Women's Physical Education Department.

Apparently the Victorian mirror was used for election classes. The mirror was extended to the ceiling and to the floor so that even the tallest person in class could see his every gesture. Before each class the students had to practice making a speech in front of the mirror. The right foot was extended forward—the left hand was behind the back, and the right hand was placed across the front of the human anatomy.

Maroon Track Squad Cops Initial Meet at Old Normal

Earl Robert Paces Local Squad With Three Firsts

Sparked by the great performance of Earl Robert, who won all three weight events, the Lincoln coached aggregation won its first meet of the '45 season. In addition to winning the shot put, discus throw, and javelin throw, the Carlyle strong man, teamed with Avo Moss, and Harriet to win the mile relay. The official scorer's final tabulations give Southern 63 1/2 points, which were twelve more than the total chalked up for Old Normal's navy manned squad. Other entrants in the meet were: Western's Leathernecks who finished third with 30 points, Eastern was fourth with 25, and Illinois Wesleyan fifth with 10. Carthage, the sixth entry, failed to score a point.

Altogether, the locals won six events. Avo Moss, better known to the campus as "Bobo", ran a 2:16.6 two mile to win that event. Sam Milosevich, a freshman from "Christopher, came in fourth, to make a clean sweep of this event for Southern. Also Berry of Southern finished ahead of Bennett of Western to win the 150 yard high hurdles.

Other point getters for the Egyptians-Dick Harmon, who finished second in the 400 yard dash; and Dick Avo who finished second in the mile run and third in the half mile.

Besides Robert, the individual stars of the meet were: Hal Craig and Lyle Knott of Eastern, and Louis Dominguez, a Naval trainee from Old Normal, Dominguez, a Portuguese from Philadelphia and a former student at the University of Pennsylvania, won the half and mile easily. It is possible that he will also run the two mile in the I. I. A. C. title meet to be held at Normal's McCormick track May 28-30.

G. I. BILL OF RIGHTS—QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The following is a series of questions and answers released by the Veterans Information Service Bureau on the campus, concerning the G. I. Bill of Rights. Further details may be secured by consulting Dr. O. E. Young, Director of the Bureau.

- Q. Does the law apply to World War II veterans only?
A. Yes.
- Q. Does the type of discharge make any difference?
A. The discharge must have been other than dishonorable.
- Q. Must the veteran's education have been interrupted by service?
A. Yes, but such interruption is assumed for a person not over 25 years of age at the time of enlistment. If he was over 25 years when enlisted, he must present evidence to show such interruption of training.
- Q. Are there any restrictions on the type of military service?
A. The service must have been active.
- Q. Is there a minimum time of service before which no benefits may be received?
A. Ninety days active service is the minimum time, unless there was a service-connected disability in which case the ninety day rule does not apply.
- Q. What is the earliest date from which time of service can be reckoned?
A. September 16, 1940.
- Q. How long is the period of training?
A. All necessary expense such as tuition, books, supplies.
- Q. Are living expenses also given?
A. Yes, if the veteran has no dependents he is given $50 a month. If he has a dependent the subsistence allowance is $75 a month.
- Q. What time limits determine when training must be taken?
A. Only if over twenty-five, then the veteran must show evidence that his training was interrupted by enlistment. If not over twenty-five, such interruption is assumed.
- Q. How much is the maximum allowance for school expenses?
A. $500 a year.
- Q. Where may the training be done?
A. In any public or private training center approved by the veterans administration, such as college, university, high school, trade school, technical school, night school, etc.
- Q. May the veteran select the school he attends?
A. Yes.
- Q. Is the veteran given assistance in determining his educational need?
A. Yes, he is given tests to help determine his aptitudes and abilities; he is also provided with expert guidance and counsel.
- Q. May the training expenses be paid for full or part time, without a subsistence allowance?
A. Yes.
- Q. If a veteran can qualify for rehabilitation, should he take training under the G. I. Bill?
A. No. Public Law No. 16 was especially passed for the disabled veteran and the benefits allowed are greater.
- Q. If a veteran is taking training while on-the-job, does he also receive wages for his labor, then the veteran must show evidence that his training was interrupted by enlistment. If not over twenty-five, such interruption is assumed.
- Q. Is every veteran entitled to hospitalization?
A. Yes, under the V. A.
- Q. Does a veteran receive assistance in obtaining employment?
A. Yes, in a specific objective of the U. S. Employment Service, School Placement, State and other Federal agencies cooperate.
- Q. May a veteran receive training credit for his military experiences?
A. Yes, the U. S. Council on Education is conducting descriptive rating and evaluating all such courses, and recommending credit to be given.
- Q. Must training once started be continuous?
A. No, it may be interrupted.
- Q. If a veteran was over twenty-five years old when he enlisted, and his training was NOT interrupted, is he still entitled to one year furlough or retraining course?
A. Yes, and "retresher" is liberally interpreted.

To a Cat Lover.....
The thoughts of a writer on the Capitan Arrow staff drifted into the expression "as easy as killing a cat." He suddenly decided to find out how to skin one live. Armed with a baseball bat, Springfield rifle, and nail sack, he set out to look for a cat. The cat he chose was strutting down a gutter and looked as though it were decrepit, morose, bothered with its liver... the kind easy to kill. He drew a bead on it with the rifle... but couldn't shoot. Then he began to pet the cat and noticed a tag around its neck which said "1118, expiring March 21." Well, evidently the cat was scheduled to meet death in less than two months. The cat was shoved into the bag and taken to the writer's room where plans of death were considered... shooting, drowning, poisoning... Shooting was crude and noisy, drowning was out of the question because the writer's roommate was in the tub; poisoning... huh! The picture: half pint of white, faintly anaesthetic, cyanid remover, shaved lather, and toothpaste. The cat drank... heaped, rolled, stifled, he heaved again, ran in circles, collapsed. Back into the bag it was shovaled and carried into the alley, where the sack was opened. Out walked a nonchalant cat with a tag around its neck reading, "1118, Expires March 21."

MILOSEVICH AND SHEFFER ON FRED YOUNG'S I. I. A. C. ALL CONFERENCE TEAMS

Bulletin: Listed below are Fred Young's first and second lives for the 1944-45 season.
First team—Milosevich, Southern and Craig, Eastern forwards; Arnold, Northern, center; Bogan, Northern and Sullivan, Eastern guards.
Second team—Sheffer, Southern and Carpenter, Normal forwards; Prince, Normal, center; Jahns, Western and Noziger, Normal guards.

Adding to the many laurels already given to Sam Milosevich, one of Southern's most versatile and best liked athletes, goes that of being given a berth on Fred Young's all-conference five. Sam, a physical addition to the team, is a deft, sure and deft during the season and in the post season games at the Kansas City tournament. After the season he was voted the outstanding player by his teammates and was later chosen to act as Captain in 1945-46.

Don Sheffer, a junior also from Zeigler was chosen as one of the forwards on the second five.

Young states "That had it not been for Sheffer's knee injury, suffered in the Old Normal game in the early part of the season, Don would have been given number 1 choice for a forward position. The Bloomington Pentagon Sports Editor decried Sheffer as "the best shot in the conference."

Factors considered in the choosing of the all-conference team were: consistency, team value, and the ability to stand up under pressure. Young points out that modern basketball makes little difference in the three positions. He says that he has attempted this year to name the five boys he would want if he were coaching this team.
