Regional Delegates Cast Votes For Nixon

By Mary Lou Manning

Southern Illinois "jumped on the bandwagon" when its two delegates cast their votes for Richard Nixon during a caucus Sunday night at the GOP Convention in Miami Beach. Nixon is considered the front-runner for the presidential nomination.

The 58 Illinois delegates gave votes to Nixon, 5 to New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller, 2 to California Governor Ronald Reagan and 2 remained uncommitted.

"I'll probably vote for Nixon on the first ballot," stated Ralph Dunn, a DuQuoin businessman. Dunn and James Gillett of Elizabethtown are the delegates to the convention from the southern Illinois 21st Congressional District. Carbondale is included in this district. "This is the way I believe the politicians from my area would vote. I'm not sure about the people there, though," he explained, "and could change my vote after the first ballot."

Dunn has received several letters and telegrams from the people of his district as well as from upstate districts since he arrived at the Marco Polo

Hotel in Miami Beach where he was reached by telephone Monday.

"I've received letters and telegrams from Carbondale and Murphysboro supporting both Nixon and Rockefeller about equally. However, there were none for Reagan."

Dunn stressed that a caucus vote was used only as a polling device and did not bind a delegate to vote a certain way.

"Newsmen use the caucus to speculate on the outcome," he explained.

Although many believe that Nixon will win the nomination on the first ballot, the atmosphere of the convention is charged with speculation, according to Dunn.

"Not everyone believes he will get it on the first ballot," he said. "There's also quite a lot of speculation regarding the vice presidential nomination." Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois is a contender for the VP slot in spite of the fact that he is a strong supporter of Rockefeller.

"I'm not sure if he will get the nomination, but he has been mentioned."

Parking Proposals Given to President

By Nick Harder

The recommendations for parking fee increases and major parking policy changes were sent to SIU President Delyte W. Morris Monday after a review and "certain modifications" were added by Carbondale campus Chancellor Robert W. MacVicar.

In the wake of these recommendations for $25 and $15 parking fees for blue and red decals respectively, petitions were circulated around the campus asking a protest against the proposals.

Chancellor MacVicar said that he had received a part of one petition Friday and the other part Monday containing over 50 signatures. The petition asked for a more realistic approach to the parking problem, especially in regard to proposals made for the Library lot which would be fully metered.

The chancellor declined to specify what "certain modifications" he had made to the Vehicle Traffic and Parking Committee's recommendations. He added that he was sure the changes he made were minor ones and said he felt the modifications were "not inconsistent with the Committee's" (report).

MacVicar said the petitions came in a campus mail envelope with a previous address of the Library. The chancellor said that most of the names appeared to be those of staff members.

Another petition is also circulating but apparently is aimed at a more general classification. Students and faculty are requested to sign in protest of the current parking proposals.

Its signers, however, object to the use of vehicle owner funds where state funds could be substituted. Chancellor MacVicar said that this argument was "not the most realistic approach that could be taken to the problem" (referring to the state funds suggestion).

The chancellor stressed that while he was not happy with the parking fee increases, he could see no alternative solutions.

"We've had a student-faculty committee and a fine consultant studying this problem for quite a long time," the chancellor said. "Their opinions, like mine, are that this increase is a necessary evil. Everyone objects to the cramped parking conditions on campus. Now they'll have to pay to have them improved. It's only logical."

Two Lose Cool Hot Air in Store For Class Today

A broken pipe in the air conditioning system has resulted in the temporary disruption of cooling in Lawson Hall and the General Classroom Building.

A chilled water pipe broke south of Lawson Hall and forced the cutting off of the buildings' air conditioning. The pipe, which leads from the central air conditioning system in the Communications Building, split Friday—and there's no relief in sight for suffering students and faculty until Wednesday.

According to Robert E. McCord, project engineer in the Physical Plant, the repair of the pipe is the responsibility of the J. L. Simmons general contracting firm. McCord said the repair will "probably be completed Tuesday afternoon," but added that the air conditioning system in the two buildings will not be back in operation until Wednesday.

Reagan Officially Active Candidate

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Surprising no one, California Gov. Ronald Reagan announced Monday he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination—a job he has been seeking obviously and actively here at the GOP National Convention.

The timing was the only unexpected angle as Reagan made his declaration at a news conference. It had been thought that he would announce his availability after being nominated Wednesday night as a favorite-son candidate of his state's 86-vote delegation.

Hiroshima Day Peace March

Approximately 150 students, faculty members, clergymen and area residents participated in Hiroshima Day Peace March Saturday through downtown Carbondale. The march, which was duplicated in other cities across the nation was to "demonstrate that the Vietnamese War could precipitate the use of nuclear weapons and the start of World War III."

Reactions to Marchers Changed; No Booming, Egg-Throwing This Time

Saturday's "peace march" through downtown Carbondale was greeted with quiet stares as shoppers and storekeepers stopped to pause and read the numerous signs carried by nearly 150 marchers.

This reaction was in marked contrast to the hooting, booing, jeering, and egg-throwing which had accompanied previous "peace marches" in Carbondale.

William Moffett, one of the organizers of the march, explained that "people around the country are beginning to realize that the U.S. does not belong in Vietnam, and that the demands of the marchers for us to get out of that country are not unpatriotic or un-American."

The march, which proceeded north on Illinois Avenue and then south on University Avenue, lasted for over an hour and a half. Afterwards, a rally was held in Browne Auditorium, where poet William Cohen delivered the principal address.

Two movies, "David Schoenbrun on Vietnam: How Did We Get In and How Do We Get Out," and "Hiroshima, Mon Amour" were also shown.

Novick Awaits New Hearing

A hearing for former student Stuart Novick will be held Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. in the President's Office by Irving W. Adams, assistant dean of student affairs.

Novick, who allegedly used "inflammatory" language at a student rights rally on May 3, was subsequently barred from the campus and told he would not be allowed to re-enter classes for one year.

Novick said that should Wednesday's hearing uphold the original disciplinary action against him, his lawyers would initiate a Federal Civil Rights suit against the University.

Novick's lawyers had originally scheduled an appearance in the Federal District Court at Danville to seek an injunction against the University, but that action was postponed pending the result of Wednesday's hearing at the University.

City Council to Discuss 5 Ordinances Tonight

The Carbondale City Council will consider five ordinances at its regular bi-monthly meeting at 7:30 tonight at the City Hall.

The first of the ordinances to be voted on is the long-awaited proposal creating and establishing a personnel system similar to the civil service system.

As specified in the ordinance, "employment in the city government shall be based on merit and free of personal and political considerations."

All offices and positions are to be classified as either "competitive service" or "exempt service."

The exempt service will include all elected city officials, all non-compensated members of citizen boards and commissions, the city manager, the secretary to the city manager, assistant to the city manager, department and division heads, temporary employees and all other personnel appointed to serve without compensation, according to the ordinance.

All other permanent positions are delegated to competitive service.

A seven-member personnel board is provided for in the ordinance for appeals submitted by employees of the competitive service.

Three of the board members would be appointed by the mayor and council. Three others would be chosen by city employees. The seventh member would be chosen by the six members of the board.

City employees are to be given an opportunity to make suggestions to the city manager concerning personnel classification and pay plans. The city manager will in turn make "such modifications as he believes proper" and submit the plan for council action.

The ordinance states, "Nothing herein shall be construed to interfere with collective bargaining agreements relative to salary rates."

One provision of the ordinance prohibits salaried or appointive employees from engaging in or contributing funds to city election campaigns for mayoral or council positions.

Other ordinances the council will consider include:

—No. 1459, amending the traffic code pertaining to acceptable methods of parking.

—No. 1461, amending the traffic code to reduce all speed limits in school zones to 20 miles per hour while school is in session;

—No. 1462, creating a Board of Local Improvements;

—No. 1463, rezoning property south of Highway 13 and west of Old Route 13, east of present city, from R-O to B-4 for a J. C. Penny, Co., store.

Voting at 18 Merits Acceptance

In 1920 nationwide suffrage was granted to American women. In 1968 it would be heartening to witness another constitutional landmark by lowering the voting age to 18.

In 1920 there were only 231,000 high school graduates. Today the graduates number 2,008,000. What's more, a greater percent of today's graduates go on to college. In 1920 the median age for marriage was 22.4. Today it is 21.8. The 18-year-old of today is also approximately one and one-half inches taller and fourteen pounds heavier than his predecessor of forty eight years ago. What's this all about? Answer: about a generation of young Americans who possess a mental and physical development unmatched by any other generation of almost-adults.

And besides, where did this concept of the 21-year-old adult come from anyway? For one thing, it has crept steadily out of the past as a traditional standard. Knighthood was conferred at that age. And as a matter of legal convenience 21 was set down as the distinguishing factor between the men and the boys of 1787.

Unfortunately, today many people are still separating the mature from the not-yet-ready with a pair of legal scissors which should be getting rather dull by now. Besides, as Dr. C. Kiehl Connors, Massachusetts General Hospital, has pointed out, "an extra three years is not going to add to emotional stability or maturity."

Nevertheless, it is just as unfortunate that to many people a medical opinion is too distant from the issue at hand: government. Randall Nelson, professor of government and Carbondale councilman, has an opinion more closely related to government functions. He believes that since 18-year-olds are either assumed, or required to assume, most of the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship, they should have a voice in the making of policy that affects them.

Arguments for lowering the voting age should be considered, especially when one is confronted by the disheartening fact that only 62 per cent of the nation's eligible voters cast their vote for President in 1964.

Is there any way to boost a per centage which so directly reflects one's concern for his country as well as himself? One way might be by turning the opinion of 18-year-olds into an accounted-for vote. But are they really qualified? Yes, they are qualified in the opinion of one man who said proudly, "The young Americans in this decade are far more ready, far better qualified, far more able to discharge the highest duty of citizenship than any other generation of the past." But this is only the opinion of one man—President Johnson. Tom Robb

Editorial

Disciplinary Restraint Needed

The Illinois State Legislature has passed a law that any university student holding an Illinois State Scholarship who is involved in a riot or protest against the university will have his scholarship taken away.

Students who cause physical damage and invade the private offices of faculty and administration should be punished. However, it is questionable whether loss of a scholarship is suitable punishment.

Students involved in protest demonstrations are only exercising the right of free speech and airing of opinion. If they cause no damage and advocate no cause of damage, the U.S. Supreme Court has said they are not to be punished, however little one may like their opinions.

It is unthinkable that college students, forming their own opinions as presumably a university should teach them to do, should be prohibited from expressing these opinions by the threat of loss of a scholarship.

Probably this will affect very few students involved in demonstrations, but it has given the administration a very unfair weapon, and set a dangerous precedent.

It is to be hoped that it will only be applied to those students who merit punishment, if it is applied at all.

'West Side' Gets Usual Raves

By Dean Rebuffoni

It would probably offend fewer persons if one were to criticize Mom, The Flag, or Paul Newman than to say anything bad about "West Side Story." Everyone, seemingly, has seen the musical—either on the stage or the movie screen—and everyone, seemingly, has enjoyed it. It has become part of America in the 1960's.

That popularity certainly won't be harmed by the 1968 Summer Music Theatre Company's version of the musical. The theatre company's version may not feature Natalie Wood and Rita Moreno, but it is still the "West Side Story" we know—and it's just as enjoyable.

The production, which was performed Friday through Sunday in Muckelroy Auditorium, will also run Aug. 9-11, and will return for special performances on Aug. 24 and 25. That's a total of eight performances, and no one can offer an excuse for missing any one of the eight.

The musical is, as nearly everyone knows, about a love affair between two star-crossed lovers—a contemporary "Romeo and Juliet" set not in Verona, but in the slums of New York City, amid the turmoil of juvenile gang warfare.

The love affair between Tony and Maria is the storm center of the play—and around it whirl the Jets and Sharks in a colorful display of song and dance numbers. The action of the two gangs, in fact, tends to overshadow the love affair—and somewhere along the way the audience wishes for still more rumbles and confrontations between the young militants. One almost wishes he had the cigarette-hanging-off-the-lip look of a New York City street punk, and the ability to say "Wha the hell's da matta wit ya?" without having the faked Midwestern accent show through. The play reveals the Jets and Sharks as kids having a helluva good time—but it never allows the audience to forget the real facts of life in the slums of metropolises.

Street corner society aside, the lead roles of Tony and Maria are worthy of note: the performances of Dennis Immel and Jan Owen are well done—even if Miss Owen's voice often disappears amid the wall of melodic noise coming from the orchestra. One has to strain hearing to its utmost to understand some of the lyrics, and while we enjoy the music, the words to "I Feel Pretty" and "A Boy Like That" deserve to be heard—and fully understood. The small size of Muckelroy Auditorium has something to do with creating the sound problem, but the woodwinds, percussion, bass, et. al., are still too loud.

The musical, which is staged by Z.J. Hymel IV, features some of the finest choreography seen on the SIU campus this past year. Of particular note is the "Gee, Officer Krupke" number in which the almost-likeable Jets humorously tell of the problems involved when one has a "social disease"—in this case, the ailment being juvenile delinquency. The number is excellent, with Vance "Action" Fulkerson excelling. There's much more in "West Side Story," including "The Dance at the Gym," "The Rumble," "America," and "Somewhere Ballet." The last number, featuring Hal Mischka and Gayle Kassing, provides a pleasant interlude in the musical.

All told, "West Side Story" is—like everyone expected it to be—exciting, colorful, dramatic, humorous, tragic, and—in short—a large slice of urban America, 1960's version.

Performing the lead roles of "Tony" and "Maria" in the Summer Music Theatre Company's production of "West Side Story" are Dennis Immel and Jan Owen. The two-act musical will be performed in Muckelroy Auditorium in the Agriculture Building Friday-Sunday, with curtain call at 8 p.m.

Lawson Hall-Experimenting With New Television Ideas

By Sandra Plain

Lawson Hall is the scene for an innovation in closed circuit television projectors at SIU, according to Curtis Heaviland, an education media specialist.

Three new machines that look like small pink torpedoes have been purchased for use in televising taped lectures. Each of these new projectors can replace the seven monitors usually necessary for televised lectures in the large classrooms in Lawson Hall or the two monitors used in the small classrooms. The new machines consist essentially of a control box and an extremely bright picture tube.

The new units project the picture from behind, through a translucent screen. They are compact and easily moved for greater efficiency. Heaviland commented that this is one of the main advantages of the projectors.

Everyone has a better view of a larger image. In the large lecture halls the image is 8 by 1 feet and on the smaller screens it is 6 by 8 feet instead of the much smaller television screens. The quality of the picture is similar to a black and white motion picture.

Personnel in Learning Resource Service are responsible for setting up the equipment for televised lectures. These new projectors eliminate the need for operators to enter lecture halls when class is in session. They can set up the projector as much as an hour before the lecture, according to Heaviland.

"These projectors are not operating at optimum conditions," Heaviland stated, "but we have had no unfavorable comments by students or teachers so far." With more time Heaviland feels that the projectors will be put to their full use.

Republic Steel Co. Cancels Price Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today Republic Steel Corp. is backing off scheduled price increases for steel used in artillery.

S. Viet Regulars On the Increase

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnam has increased its regular armed forces by 19 per cent in the last four months, government officials said Monday.

They attributed the substantial increase to the general mobilization which began in late May and increased voluntary enlistments. The mobilization law lowered the draft age to 18, called back reservists and veterans, and halted discharges from services.

shells and military barbed wire.

It was not disclosed, however, whether Republic was backing off any other steel price increases in a 4.5 per cent general hike scheduled to go into effect this week.

Bethlehem and Republic, the No. 2 and No. 3 producers, announced last week they would make across-the-board hikes. U.S. Steel, the nation's largest producer, and five other members of the top 10 announced higher prices only on certain items.

IBEW Vows Not to Install Democrat Message Center

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois Bell Telephone Co. said Monday that striking electrical workers' offer to install communications equipment for the Democratic National Convention does not include the telephone message center usually set up for such gatherings.

In spite of repeated requests, Illinois Bell said, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers has refused to allow its volunteers to install this facility and has blocked installation by management personnel.

Similar message centers have served every national convention since 1952, the company said.

"This telephone center... would provide personalized telephone service for presidential candidates, convention officials, delegates and the public," said W.J. Peak, Illinois Bell assistant vice president.

Gildermeister Wins in Tennis Open

Fritz Gildermeister is finding the summer tennis tournament action to his liking.

Gildermeister, who was the Salukis' number one player towards the end of the season, won the Western Illinois Open Tennis Tournament held at Lakelawn Country Club last weekend.

The export from Chile topped Jim Schwitters, Hawaii's number two ranked player, in the semi-finals 2-6, 8-6 and 6-3. In the finals he defeated Dick Banardi of Rockford, 6-2 and 6-2.

The tournament was made up of 38 players from different states as well as some of the top players in Canada, Honolulu and Chile. Gildermeister was the top-seeded player in the tournament.

The championship in the Western Open came on the heels of two fine performances in the Springfield and Champaign Opens.

At Springfield, Gildermeister won the Open tournament with a victory over Jim Riley, formerly of the University of Illinois.

Earlier in the tournament he and another SIU player, Jose Villarete, won the doubles competition.

At Champaign, Gildermeister made it to the finals before falling to Herb Rapp of Florida State University.

The tournaments include some of the top collegiate tennis players in the country as well as some of the finer independents.

All the tournaments Gildermeister has participated in thus far were sponsored by the local chapters of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Future tournament action this summer for Gildermeister includes the Missouri Valley Conference Championship, a five-state tournament, and the Evansville Open three weeks later.

On August 16, 17 and 18, the 13th Annual Southern Illinois Open Tennis Tournament will be held at SIU.

The competition will include

male and female players of all ages in both singles and doubles competition.

There will be at least eight entries in each event with competition beginning at 9 a.m. daily on courts located south of the campus.

The contestants will be housed in University dormitories and trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up in each event.

Maris Announces 1968 Retirement

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Roger Maris, who broke Babe Ruth's one season home run record by hitting 61 in 1961, announced his retirement as a player Monday effective with the end of this season.

"I feel it is time for it," Maris said. "It's something I was going to do two years ago, but my feelings were changed by the trade."

The former star New York Yankee outfielder was traded to the Cards in 1966 for third baseman Charlie Smith.

The announcement came as no surprise. The 33-year-old St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder intimated last March that this season would be his last.

Maris' salary is estimated at $75,000. Last fall, he was given an Anheuser-Busch beer distributorship at Gainesville, Fla. Last December, the 33-year-old slugger was afflicted with Bell's Palsy and the right side of his face was temporarily paralyzed.

Maris' batting average this season is .269. He has four home runs and 27 runs batted in. He has appeared in 63 of the Cards' 110 games.

In 1960 and 1961 while with the Yankees, Maris was named the American League's Most Valuable Player. During the 162-game 1961 schedule, he slammed one more homer than did Ruth during the 154-game New York Yankees' schedule in 1927.

Wilkinson's Knee Needs Help of Crutch

Coach Jim Wilkinson underwent knee surgery recently to repair a damaged cartilage that has bothered him for the last three years.

Wilkinson, who stepped down from wrestling coach this year after 18 seasons is expected to be on crutches for several weeks.

Ex-SIU Coach Knuckles Appointed Assistant at University of Louisville

LOUISVILLE—Former SIU assistant football coach William Knuckles has been named to a similar post on the University of Louisville football staff.

Knuckles served as an assistant for four seasons here before taking the head coaching position at Ferris High School in Spokane, Wash. He held that spot during the past two seasons.

The 6'4" Knuckles will coach the offensive interior line, said head coach Frank Camp. He replaces Gil Sturzel, who recently left for an assistant's post at Xavier University of Cincinnati.

"We feel fortunate in landing Knuckles," Camp said. "He brings a wealth of experience in all phases of football to our staff."

Said Knuckles, "I am very impressed by the total athletic program at Louisville, especially football. It has that forward outlook."

"To me, the position offers security because of the fact that Coach Camp has been there so long (since 1946). This indicates a good, stable situation."

Knuckles has also coached at the University of Idaho, Colorado State College, and Whitworth College in Spokane.

A graduate of Benson High School in Omaha, Neb., he received his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Denver and a master of arts degree from Colorado State College.

Knuckles was a three-sport man at Omaha University in 1945-46--football, track and basketball (and he has coached those sports).

As a high school coach, Knuckles won 42 games and lost 12. He twice sent teams to the semi-finals of the Colorado State playoffs, against Holyoke in 1952 and Yuma in 1954.

Knuckles has produced three high school conference champions, six all-state linemen, three all-state backs, 12 all-conference linemen and six all-conference backs.

He will be in his new coaching position when the University of Louisville meets the Salukis in the season's opener for both teams on Sept. 21 in Carbondale.

Sensational Scores Mark Tournament

Scores turned in at the First Annual SIU Broadcasting Service Golf Tournament held Sunday were described as "sensational" by C.P. Harding, tournament coordinator.

Instead of handicaps, the players were subdivided into four categories or "flights" depending on their "first nine" scores, according to Harding. He added that the scores turned in were for a total of only 18 holes.

Russ Rayburn turned in a 129 to win D-flight. The winner of C-flight was Scott Kane, with a 117. Ron Razowsky shot a 102 to win B-flight. The winner of A-flight was Roger O'Neil with an 83.
