2500 MEMBERS OF S. I. T. A.

A state-wide drive is being made to increase the membership of the State Teachers' Association for 1924. The membership for 1923 was 29,316, an increase of 2,775 over that of 1922. The Southern division (S. I. T. A.) had an enrollment of 2,285 for 1923, and was the third largest division of the state. The leading school people in the counties comprising the Southern Division are making every effort to push the membership up to 2,500 this year. This will in all probability place us in the second rank instead of third, Chicago always taking the lead.

The enrollment of counties comprising the Southern division was as follows in 1923:

	Pct. of Teachers
Alexander	147 89
Franklin	262 64
Gallatin	23 23
Hamilton	15 42
Hardin	23 46
Jackson	369 126
Johnson	67 65
Massac	101 94
Perry	175 99
Pope	35 45
Pulaski	114 106
Randolph	143 68
Saline	184 74
Union	106 73
Wayne	9 4
White	13 7
Williamson	382 96

It is to be observed that Jackson and Pulaski counties went above 100 percent of their teaching force. It is confidently expected that a half dozen counties will do equally well this year.

The advantage of an increased enrollment lies in the prestige which it gives the county and division. We become a greater power in determining the educational policies of the state. Each division is entitled to one delegate to the representative assembly of the State Association for every hundred of its membership.

My Dearest Kewpie—What should a fellow do before he falls in love? Yours in the deepest suspense.

ROBERT BUZBEE.

Answer—Well, Bob, remember that if he must fall in love, the harder he falls the more it will hurt. It is easy enough to fall in, but, as the entombed miners would say, it's a devil of a job to get out,

MACKMEN LOSE TO FAST CHARLESTON QUINTET IN A ONE-SIDED GAME

Upstaters Penetrate Lax Maroon Defense for Eleven Field Goals—Hall Stars for Visitors With Four Goals

The Maroons lost to the fast Charleston Normal quintet in a ragged and one-sided game Thursday night on the home court. Charleston showed her superiority throughout the contest and was never menaced by the Maroons. Charleston became "basket hot" in the final period and piled up a total of 25 points before the termination of the game. The Normal's scores, few and scattered, totaled but 8 points.

After a few minutes of slow play in which each team studied and felt out its opponent, Pyatt put the Normal in possession of a short lived lead, when he netted a field goal from center. Hall soon nullified this advantage when he slipped past the Maroon defense to score on a "dum."

THE MIKADO COMING; NOTED PRODUCTION AT S. I. N. U. MARCH 13

One of the biggest theatrical productions ever undertaken by the school is the Mikado, which is to be presented by students of the University in the auditorium March 13. The Mikado is one of the most popular musical productions that ever swept the country. It has enjoyed record breaking performances and has attracted record breaking crowds wherever presented.

The cast of the Mikado represents the best talent in the University. A great number of students volunteered to try for places in the cast and consequently this display of interest has made it possible to select the best talent of the school. This unusual interest which has been shown by the student body in the Mikado seems to presage an increased interest in music. But two more weeks remain before the presentation and the cast is practicing diligently.

THRILLS! THRILLS! THRILLS!

A personification of these were furnished by the Epsilon Beta girls Friday night, February 15, at their formal opening. St. Valentine gave them an opportunity to decorate their charming home in the most bewitching manner imaginable. Hearts dangled in profusion from the ceiling while subdued lights cast a lovely glow over the realm of love and laughter.

While awaiting the arrival of the guests, the girls arranged their dance programs for the evening. After all the guests had arrived two lovely little girls, dressed in light organdies, entered to the accompaniment of soft melody; and carrying large heart baskets. The young men bent low as one little girl deftly fastened hearts around their necks, the other giving arrows to the girls.

As the chord was struck each girl pierced the fluttering heart of her "Beau Brummel." The music increased in volume and soon the floor was filled with the swaying forms of young people.

They enjoyed themselves thus until intermission when the guests withdrew to the dining room, where a delicious ice course was served.

During the evening a large heart which was suspended from the center of the ceiling was slashed, pouring forth a profusion of long streamers; attached to the ends of which were hearts and arrows. The heart streamers were claimed by the young men, and the arrows by the girls. An interesting little "Heart and Dart" dance followed in which the large heart was hidden by the interweaving of the streamers. The command was then given to choose "The Girl of Your Heart" and dance.

As the evening advanced the merry making increased, and suddenly over the gay assemblage a multitude of tiny streamers of various hues darted hither and thither in and out among the throng until everything and everybody seemed but a mass of bright and tangled streaks of color.

The hour of departing came only too soon. It seemed as if they had been delving into the realm of fairyland; surely Cinderella felt thus as she fled, leaving her golden slipper; so the young men did leaving their hearts—paper.

The young people were not the only

SIR WALTER RALEIGH TO HIS WIFE

Sir Walter Raleigh, courtier, statesman, historian, explorer, and philosopher, was in his day a figure who loomed large both in the Old and New Worlds. This letter, written to console his wife for the loss of her son, killed in an attack upon the Spanish settlements, can be seen by the reader to be pregnant with the forebodings of the tragic fate that was to come.

March 22, 1618.

Sweet Heart:—

I was loath to write, because I knew not how to comfort you; and God knows I never knew what sorrow meant till now. All that I can say to you is, that you must obey the will and providence of God; and remember that the Queen's Majesty bare the loss of Prince Henry with a magnanimous heart, and the Lady Harrington of her only son. Comfort your heart, dearest Bess, I shall sorrow for us both; I shall sorrow the less because I have not long to sorrow, because not long to live. I refer you to Secretary Winford's letter, who will give you a copy of it if you send for it. Therein you shall know what has passed. I have written but that letter, for my brains are broken, and it is a torment for me to write, and especially of misery. I have desired Mr. Secretary to give my Lord Carew a copy of his letter.

You shall hear from me, if I live, from the Newfoundland, where I mean to make clean my ships and revictual, for I have tobacco enough to pay for it. The Lord bless and comfort you, that you may bear patiently the death of your valient son.

Yours,

W. RALEIGH.

PRIZE TO BE OFFERED

The Egyptian is holding a grand contest which opens today and will close on Thursday noon. We hope that many students will take this chance to show their ability in the Math. line. The question to be asked is "What was the number of apples eaten by Adam and Eve while they were in the Garden of Eden?"

We have in our hands the exact number that were eaten by these two ancestors of ours and will print the answer next week together with the name or names of any of the students who answer the question in the correct manner. The prize offered will be a trip to Y. M. C. A. candy counter.

STRUT AND FRET TO PRESENT PLAY

The members of the Strut and Fret will present a play entitled "Her First Assignment" in the Zetetic Hall next Thursday at 7 o'clock. All the members of the club are urged to be present.

POEMS WORTH REMEMBERING

RECESSIONAL

Rudyard Kipling

God of our fathers, known of old—
Lord of our far-flung battle line—
Beneath whose awful hand we hold
Dominion over palm and pine—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

The tumult and the shouting dies—
The Captains and the Kings depart—

Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Far-called, our navies melt away—
On dune and headland sinks the fire—

Lo, all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
Judge of the Nations, spare us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

If, drunk with sight of power, we loose

Wild tongues that have not Thee in awe—

Such boasting as the Gentiles use,
Or lesser breeds without the Law—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

For heathen heart that puts her trust
In reeking tube and iron shard—
All valiant dust that builds on dust,
And guarding, calls not Thee to guard,

For frantic boast and foolish word,
Thy Mercy on Thy People, Lord!
Amen!

Dilla Hall: "Yes, when you have been here as long as I have you certainly deserve a B. Ed. when you graduate."

Virgil Beadle: "Oh, do they really give you a bed on commencement day?"

EPSILON BETA OPEN HOUSE

The Epsilon Beta Sorority, which has only recently been organized, lowered its draw-bridge and opened its portals to the members of the faculty, students and public in general, Thursday, February 14, from 2 to 5 p. m.

The Sorority girls welcomed all guests, and were delighted to show the visitors through their charming new home. The visitors seemed enthusiastic in their praise of the dormitory, which was especially interesting and unique to them with its "double deckers." After making a tour of the house, the guests were conducted to the dining room, where tea was served.

Be sure and subscribe for your "Obelisk" at chapel Thursday. This is your only chance as no books will be ordered which are not subscribed for.

This year's "Obelisk" is to be better than ever. Some of the things which will make it better are an elaborate cover design in colors; an eight page scenery-section in two colors; a home-coming section has also been added.

EDITORIAL

S. I. T. A.

You have been noticing in columns of the Egyptian a number of articles pertaining to the Southern Illinois Teachers' Association, which is to be held at this place during the latter part of March. You will notice in this issue an accurate account of previous year's attendance. It is desired to increase the membership this year and this can be done largely by the student body. This meeting coming during vacation makes it rather hard for many to come back the two or three days before the opening of the Spring term, and it is not expected that those of the lower classes will, but the Seniors and Senior College students owe it to the school and to themselves to be here. It is a chance to be in company with master minds. It is an opportunity to live more in less time. You are urged to be here. You will not be disappointed.

WATCH YOUR SPEECH

Mend your speech a little
Lest it may mar your fortune.
—Shakespeare.

To use the right word on every occasion should be the conscious ideal of each one of us. The English language is ours to use, then why limit ourselves to such a few words to express our thoughts and ideas when with a little effort on our part, we can greatly increase our vocabulary?

There are two results from the study of good English. One is, we are able to communicate our thought; the other is, our own thinking is stimulated. Too many of us forget the latter. Did you ever think that the right use of words has economic as well as social value? Marring your fortune may be brought about not only by the misuse of words, but by wrong pronunciation and poor enunciation. It is difficult to tell which is worse.

Sloven speech is as unpardonable as sloven dress, and the doors of good society are closed to both. The man who does not know enough to comb his hair every morning, to keep his hands decently clean, to eat soup without attracting undue attention is more or less ostracized from good society. The same is true of speech. For a person to say "I seen it" is just as injurious or detrimental to his standing in the world as to go about with naysayed to his clothes.

DID YOU?

Did you ever sit on—a starlight night
And spoon—with the trees all around?
And tell of your love to the—musical chirp
Of the Katydid's down on the ground?

Have you ever danced with—an orchestra swell?
Or been tripped by the door to the hall,
And suddenly squeezed—the lemon
they served
With the iced tea after the ball?

Did you ever ride in a—panama hat?
Or swim one bright afternoon?
Or walk along by the side of a—house?
Or get lost in the dark—of the moon?

Did you ever taste a pair—of shoes
Or complexion of peaches and cream?
Did you ever hear a dog wood bark?
Or see the moss on an old sunbeam?
Did you ever drink with a ginge-
bread girl
Sit up within reach—of your eye?
Or eat a bite—a mosquito made?
You haven't? Well, neither have I.

We quote the following from the Teachers' College News: "There will be no school here on Friday, which is Washington's birthday. The students welcome this holiday, coming as it does to break the long stretch from Christmas to term end."

COAXING YOU TO SMILE

Worse to Come.

Having been served with a wedge of some yellow substance, the husband poked at it cautiously with his fork, and finally turned it over heavily on his plate, asking:

"What is this?"

"Pound cake. What of it?" the wife replied.

"Nothing," said the husband. "I thought my section weighed more than a pound. What are you going to make next?"

"Marble cake," said the wife, defiantly.

Not Interested

The lumberjack was being cross-examined in a north woods murder trial. "You say the murder occurred on the night of March 5?" questioned the attorney for the defense.

"Yaas," said the Swede.

"You say," continued the lawyer, "you saw the defendant murdering the woman—saw it with your own eyes?"

"Yaas," said the lumberjack.

"You say also," concluded the triumphant attorney, "that at the time you saw the murder you were two miles away from the scene of the crime?"

"Oh, vell," said the Swede, stretching his arms and legs, "Ay don't care much for this trial anyhow."

A Good Job.

Charles M. Schwab delights in telling the following story of an incident at one of the steel mills under his charge:

"One day while I was passing through the works I looked out a second-story window into the first floor of an adjoining shop and saw a big Irishman sitting on the handles of his wheelbarrow smoking his pipe. I called to him: 'What are you doing down there? Why don't you get to work?'"

To which the Irishman replied: "Well, tell me, and who are you, sir."

"I said: 'I'm the general manager.'" "Well, young man," said he, "you've got a damned good job; you'd better take care of it."

Befitting the Occasion.

The drug store was located near a popular payhouse. The matinee hour was nearly due and people were beginning to filter by.

Temporarily abandoning his experiments to find a substitute for gasoline, the druggist emerged from behind the counter and hailed the window dresser:

"John, I've kind of lost track. Is there a comedy on at the theater this week?"

"No, sir, a sad play."

"Very sad?"

"Weepy."

"Then take the chocolates out of the window and put in the smelling salts."

SPRING RIDDLES.

1. Why are tall people so lazy in springtime?

They are longer in bed.

2. Why should a watch be carried while traveling in a desert?

Because it has a spring in it.

3. In the springtime what does a marble do when it stops rolling?

It looks round.

4. How can you make a slow horse fast. Tie the beast.

5. How does the water get in the watermelon? By planting the seed in the spring.

6. What will nine men out of ten do when cleaning up last summer's straw hat? Buy a new one.

7. At this season of the year what smells most in a drug store? Your nose.

8. What is the last thing you do before getting into bed? Take your feet off the floor.

9. Teacher: "What causes spring fever?"

Little boy: "Spring fever is caused by sleeping on a spring bed."

Sigma Alpha Pi announces the pledging of Orville Carrington, college freshman.

VALUES AND SUCCESS

"Why has this store been so successful?"

Is a question which is asked occasionally. Our answer is that we have always given the best values obtainable plus good service, authentic styles, good assortments, absolute satisfaction and honesty in advertisements and all statements made in the store. You get values here every time. We believe in square dealing and we give every student the most that they can get for the money.

WHAT ABOUT EAR DAY?

Did we miss the famous Anthony Hall Ear Day this year? It has long been the custom that the girls of the Hall should show to the students on February the seventeenth—their ears. The girls give as their excuse that the date fell on Sunday. Nevertheless we think they should celebrate some other day.

We quote below a poem written several years ago on Ear Day: They had gathered at the south end Of the old Normal Hall; They were gesticulating wildly,

Talking loudly one and all. "Where is Stegall, where is Bailey. Where is Smith, where is Lentz? Where are all the council students? Oh my God, but this is tense! Just to think that this fine morning, As the sun rose over all, These shameless, brazen hussies Should promenade through Normal

SOCRATIC SOCIETY

There wasn't a dull minute all during the program Friday evening. The new officers took their places. The president, Miss Virginia Neftzger, made a very inspiring talk.

Alice Grant gave a reading in her own inimitable way that reminded us of the times when we were "kids." Some favorite Irish songs were sung remarkably well by James Allen.

Aline Neftzger's stunt was so successful we see no reason in the world why everyone shouldn't be exactly the right size. At any rate, Lester Buford is rushed with orders.

An extemporaneous debate, "Resolved, That it is better to have kissed and caught a cold than never to have kissed at all," caused much amusement. William Welge and Marcia Pierce upheld the affirmative while Earl Kennedy and Anna McCutcheon took the negative side. The affirmative practically won when William Welge pointed out that Earl Kennedy's adherence to the negative side of this proposition was the cause of his being a bachelor even at his age.

Julia Carleton presented the Socratic Star which contained much fun at the expense of most of us.

Owing to the illness of some of the characters, the play, "Doris Comes To Town," has been postponed until next Friday night. Louis Ed Williams is directing it. If you want to hear the latest cheese scandal, come!

The Egyptian wants twenty-five letters from former students. Don't think this does not mean YOU, for it does. Write today.

What is your suggestion for a "poem worth remembering?" Send one in.

WE APPEAR IN PICTURES

Many students of the college took advantage of seeing themselves and their friends in the movies last week when the reel taken of the Cape Girardeau Home-Coming was shown at the Barth theatre. This reel was loaned to the local theatre by the Cape Teachers' College. Pictures of the game that resulted in our victory 13-0 were very vivid as were the pictures taken of the squad during halves.

The pictures of many different individuals who accompanied the team as rooters were very clear.

We wish to thank the Cape for the loan of this reel.

THE WAY WE FEEL ABOUT IT

A pessimist is one who thinks there are more hornets in the woods than butterflies in the field.

Most men who want to sell you a good investment merely means it will be a good investment for them if they make the sale.

Probably the reason there are more women school teachers than men is because women have more patience than men.

If you kick when you are well off, nobody will pay any attention to your kicks when you are badly off.

Who demands his rights seldom gets privileges.

Not every wedding ring has the ring of sincerity.

A man is as old as his cells and a business as old as its sellers.

There is always more money in somebody else's business.

A lot of them are called "pleasure cars" whose pleasure has all been knocked out by their cost.

A deep thinker is one whose views are the same as your own.

If the old folks look shiny it's often caused by suppressing a bright child.

One who thinks he knows what's what, more often knows what is not.

It doesn't seem reasonable that a girl who knows she has been happy ever before would be willing to marry and take a chance on being happy ever after.

Travel may be broadening but it is flattening on the pocketbook.

It is estimated that the money spent for automobiles would pay the mortgage off every home in the nation. Yes, and probably the money spent on homes would pay off the mortgage on every automobile, too.

The trouble with most people who boast that they have nothing to be ashamed of is that neither have they anything to be proud of.

The June Bride has it on the June graduate for she only has to conquer one man while the graduate has to conquer the world.

It is fine for a young boy to have good table manners, but all the same it makes everybody suspicious that he isn't going to amount to much.

A PROPER LITTLE RHYME

We walked in Cupid's garden,
We wandered 'o'er the land,
The moon was shining brightly,
I held her little—shawl.

Holding her little shawl,
My breath it came in sighs,
She looked at me so tenderly,
I gazed into her—lunch basket.

Yes, I looked into her lunch basket,
And wished I had a taste,
We walked on side by side,
My arm about her—umbrella.

Yes, embracing her umbrell'a,
(This charming little Miss,)
Her eyes were full of mischief,
I slyly stole—a sandwich.

WARREN GOES TO GRAND CHAIN

It would not be possible for the Egyptian to give a biography of every graduate who leaves this institution, but when someone plays as big a part in the various activities of the school and for as long a time as J. Ralph Warren has, he is entitled to a great deal more recognition than we are able to give. It is useless to mention the many phases of school life into which Ralph entered. Every reader of this paper knew of these things. It is enough to say that a loyalist has taken his degree and is now principal of a good high school. His friends will be glad to learn of Ralph's success.

Hall;
Walk unshamed-faced through the corridors,
Then out upon the campus green.
Oh, that I should live to witness
Such a shameful, vulgar scene!
When Prof. Warren's eyes fell upon them,
As they strolled the campus there,
He affirms he almost fainted,
And Prof. Colyer rent his hair.
Then Prof. Boomer coming sudden
From his laboratory den,
Saw the bold and brazen creatures.
Turned and quickly fled within.
These unholy shameful maidens
Out upon the campus green,
Midst the vulgar gaze of students,
Walked with both ears plainly seen.

MACKMEN LOSE TO FAST
CHARLESTON QUINTET
IN A ONE-SIDED GAME

my." Two more short shots by Hall and a field goal and a free toss by Towles followed before the Maroons again scored, when Hickey netted a short shot in a close play under the basket. Wiley replaced Brimm and Lawder replaced Purnell. Foreman caged another field goal for Charleston before the end of the first period. Another goal caged by the visitors as the whistle blew was not counted, having been shot after time was up. The score stood 10-4 in the visitor's favor at this point.

Charleston began netting the second half, and boosted their score fifteen points during this period. Phipps substituting for Foreman marked his advent into the game by netting two field goals in rapid succession. Phipps netted again in this period and Hall and Cochran each added a field goal. Muchmore added one point on a free toss.

Normal increased their score four points on free throws by Purnell and a field goal by Brimm.

Hall and Phipps starred for the visitors. Hall netted four field goals and Phipps netted three. Both men were accurate shots and were a constant menace to the Normal defense.

The Maroons played a ragged game, their defense being especially weak. Charleston repeatedly penetrated the Maroons' defense for short shots. The Maroons' play was undoubtedly affected by the absence of Allen, who is still detained at Herring with the militia. Charleston appeared to be the fastest collegiate team that has opposed the Maroons on the home court. The score:

	Charleston	G	P	F
Muchmore	0	0	1
Foreman	1	0	0
Phipps	3	0	0
Towles	2	0	2
Cochran	1	0	0
Harbour	0	1	0
Prown	0	1	1

	Normal	G	P	F
Hickey	1	0	0
McIlrath	0	0	0
Purnell	0	1	1
Lauder	0	0	0
Brimm	1	0	0
Wiley	0	0	0
Smith	0	1	0
Pyatt	1	2	0
Pierce	0	0	0
Crawshaw	0	0	0
