Photographs of the baby must be sent to the Egyptian office, along with the child's name, age (in months), and the address of the family. It is possible to have the Egyptian staff photographer take pictures of all the entries due to the time and cost involved. Since the Chaucaucus Housing project is the more accurate, pictures can be taken by the staff photographer. However, this does not mean that other babies will not have an equal chance to win the contest if the parents will submit their babies' pictures.

Pictures must be submitted to the Egyptian no later than Friday, March 6. If the picture is to be returned, this must be signified when it is mailed. The contest is open only to children up to three years of age. The judges, who will be named next week, will select the winner by the picture and not in person. Killed In Accident

Parkinson Lab Rodent-Catcher Killed by Passing Automobile

Tom, rat exterminator of Parkinson Lab, is dead. The cat who began his job as rodent killer without being hired was run down and killed by an automobile last week. If cats can go to heaven—and surely there must be a rat heaven—wonder if Tom will find his place there as easily as he found his home in the basement of Parkinson Lab. We often wonder if we picked Tommy, or if he picked us. This guardian of public property came to the photography laboratory a few weeks ago, unannounced, and immediately began his vital work. Not being a union man, Tom never debated over long hours and no pay, but was perfectly satisfied with his room (a cozy corner in the photo lab), and board (small amounts of milk handed out occasionally at frequent intervals). However, Tom didn't confine his pot of duty to the photography lab and a feline figure to the reporters. Frequently, he would go into the office, and in a voice which sounded like hominy rattling in a football, would demand that he be put on the back. When this was done, very often he would lie down in the copy basket and promptly drop off to sleep. Yesterday Tom will be missed by those people who work in the basement of Parkinson Lab. His stay was a short one, but he made a lasting impression.

DRIVE AND LIVE

Safe driving saves lives, it saves money, and it's easy. We all realize this but sometimes we forget. We're sure we know what safe driving is, every detail of it. But do we?

Our worst fault is speed. We have lots of it in our new cars. It should stay there for emergencies, for life's, not death's, purpose. Just behind speed is carelessness. We never want for it in this fast moving world...

Well—maybe we've learned the most important fundamentals of safe driving. We want to live while longer on the road. We forget them. We'll drive with our cars open at a moderate speed and we'll have respect for the other driver...

WHAT WATTS COST Many of the students attending Southern must pay an extra fee for use of a radio, or an iron. The physics department and the CIPS company have compiled the following figures concerning costs of operating electrical equipment.

It takes a 100 watt light bulb 10 hours to consume 1 kilowatt of electricity, a hot-plate 1 hour to consume the same amount of electricity. An iron may be used for 1-3 hours to use 1 kilowatt of electricity, and a washing machine 6 hours.

It costs $4c for each of the first 30 kw, 5 cents each for the next 40 KW, 3 cents each for the next 80 KW and 2 cents each for all above this amount in Carbondale. According to these figures, an ordinary table size radio can be used for 20 hours (which is more than the average student will use one in a week) at a cost of from 2c to 5c.

On Monday, his discussion centered around curriculum requirements for prospective teachers in health education, the school lunch program, need in the state for establishing the university health departments to submit a budget to the Kellogg Foundation for the coming year. In the afternoon, Ben Kinsingham led a discussion.

On Tuesday morning, a proposal for the university health departments to submit a budget to the Kellogg Foundation for the coming year. In the afternoon, Ben Kinsingham led a discussion.

Let's Ignore Your Mind

A few hours ago we trudged over to the Registrar's office to pick up a graduation check-up and see how the June issue of sheep-skins were coming along. We waited our way through a line that was almost long enough to remember a probation line-up and finally got within talking range of a young girl who jerked open a well-worn file cabinet and promptly procured a terrible-looking transcript that according to the name on top, belonged to us.

Then, with transcript in tow, we climbed several stairs to see a man who just happened to be the head of a certain department that we just happen to be majoring in.

We showed him our transcript. He glanced at our fully aged record, looked at us and roared with laughter.

"Not wanting to be a party-pooper we slapped out our legs, and laughingly rolled out of our chair." "This is great," he said nighly strangling with laughter. "When do you expect to graduate?"

"June," we replied modestly. Shaking with mirth he started to show us a 1950 school calendar, but gave up as his laughter became uncontrollable. We slapped him on the back three times, grinned weakly, and took our transcript back to the Registrar's office.

OUTSIDE AND INSIDE

It has now come the time of the year when we award prizes for the best material of the week. Following are the winners. Each winner receives either a personal $100 check from the Egyptian or ten cents in cash.

DEFINITION OF THE WEEK: Morning: The time of the day when the rising generation retires and the retiring generation rises.—The Vogue-Ray.

POEM OF THE WEEK: New looky here boys, I want you to meet—Lil. She hasn't a dress Her figure will fill. Her back sticks out. Her front's caved in. But she's a darn good kid. For the shape she's in.

ABSENT MINDED PROFESSOR GAG OF THE WEEK: There was the absent-minded professor who sent his wife to the bank, and kissed his money goodbye. Or was he absent-minded?

SONG TITLE OF THE WEEK: "If you were the only girl in the world, and I the only boy, we'd be Adam and Eve."

SECOND POEM OF THE WEEK: When you first looked at this We'll bet you thought it was a poem. Now you know it isn't. Isn't it funny how a person will keep on reading Even though he knows he's being fooled?

Then there was the drunk who ate hot peppers and boiled out his alcohol.

freshmen and sophomore students will attend two six-week summer camps to remain commensurate with that. Successful completion of the instruction periods and graduation qualifies members for appointment to a commissioned rank.

MRS. DOROTHY HUNTER Dorothy Hunter, School Post Mistress Handles $2,000,000 During One Year

The southeast corner of Parkin laboratory is no doubt one of the busiest little places on the SIU campus. In case you don't know what establishment is nestled in this little room, it is the University post office.

Just to give you a vague idea as to how important it really is, the post office handled a total of over $2,000,000 in checks alone last year. The average number of 15 cental pieces of incoming mail per day is about 1,500. The pieces of outgoing mail per day is about 400 and comes averages from 300-400 pieces per day.

Besides the mail, the post office also issues state stamps to faculty members, students, and department members. Last year the amount of stamps sold here ranged from $700 to $1,000 per month.

In addition to this, the University post office handles faculty and campus bulletins and school stationery. The amount of incoming mail has more than doubled since the establishment of the post office.

THE VETS' CORNER

Since this column has become a regular feature, it is obvious that I will be using some common expressions from time to time. For this reason, I will define a couple of the more common ones for you now.

In using the abbreviation V.A., I should have reference to the Veterans' Administration, and when I write of the Illinois' Veterans' Commission I will often use the word "commiss" for short.

The President has signed the bill and it is now a law that single veterans will receive $75 per month for subsistence, veterans with one dependent will get $100, and those with two or more dependents will receive $120. This law is to become effective April 1, of this year.

PEACE FOR JAPAN IS SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION

"Peace for Japan" was discussed by Dr. J. R. Bobb, dean of the College of Vocations and Professions, at the Open Forum on Tuesday night, February 19 at 7:00 p. m. The student chairman, Verdie Barnes, and the sponsors were The Student Christian Foundation and the Independent Student Union.

Dean Rehn opened with a discussion of his own six year's experience in the far east. He then traced the present history of Japan which began 2600 years ago, the present ruler being 124 in the line of descendants. He also traced the most recent history of Japan and our own intervention in 1858 when Admiral Perry landed on the Japanese islands.

High Literacy

Dean Rehn pointed out a few things that should be done in order to insure the peace of Japan. He says this shouldn't be hard to put into effect. He stated that he himself as they claim the highest rate of literacy in the world and has been very quick to grasp western ideas and inventions.

People should then be sent over to see how they could understand the race and the economic conditions. His third point was to encourage reforms, especially labor reforms, such as land ownership as 4% of the people own 90% of the wealth.

Two SIU Students Turn Hobby Into Paying Profession A fruit cocktail may not sound like the necessary material for constructing a photographic enlarger, but to two Negro students at Southern, this was the equipment first used for a foundation of their new business.

The two Carbondale boys, John Hickman and Paul Anderson, turned their experience in a small basement kitchen. The studio was originally equipped with a cupboard, cook stove, and ice box.

By experimenting and reading, the students set up their own dark room with a supply of paper, printer, a new enlarger and lens. Waiting for the first picture to be taken, they are now discharging after 20 years in the Army. It was a success, and soon they had built their hobby into a well-paying profession.

check each week on the number of Illinois' bonus checks which have been issued. In the absence of such a method, I have devised a substitute which would give us a fair idea as to how we stand in the great shuffle.

This home economics class demonstrated their skill in preparing coffee and passing the specialties at a table for members of the Egyptian staff Tuesday evening after school.

The girls of this class learn such things as the proper way to set a table for every type of occasion—from teas to formal dinners. Recently they had a buffet lunch for the faculty members.

I have been requested to announce that the VA Guided Center will be closed Monday, February 23, in observance of Washington's Birthday which falls some means of making an accurate Sunday.

Our Student Council... Its Function and Organization

"Cokes and cookies are being served free in the outer lobby" is a familiar announcement heard at Student Council dances and parties held each term. These school functions have been common since the organization was formed several years ago and are only one of the many duties performed by this student representative organization.

Many seniors graduate from Southern without ever having known what the Student Council does. Here outlined is what goes to make up such a body, how its members are chosen and what its functions are.

All Students Can Serve First of all, all students have the opportunity for serving on the Council by virtue of an all-school election. In this election each class is represented by candidates of which four members will be elected.

This election takes place each year after the student body has chosen its 16 representatives. The Council elects its own officers. The Council's Purpose Primary purpose of this student organization is to act as a "go-between" for the student and the administration.

PERSONALITY SPOTLIGHT

We have all planned Irish, German, English, Spanish, Italian or Dutch descent, but it is unusual to find an attractive brown-eyed brown-haired miss who claims no national descent. She is a young lady is Georgia Mircheff of Madison, Georgia, a junior in the College of Education, is known as "George" around Southern's campus.

On her list of activities we find Modern Dance, W.A.A., Delta Phi Gamma, Girls' Rally, and Y.W.C.A. work, and plans to teach physical education.

George's favorite pastime is to "fierce," but dancing and instruction that she enjoys is a perfect fit. She is looking forward to the day dance than that. Jitterbugging is included in that last statement.

95 Apartments House Veterans at Ordnance Plant

"There's no place like home" is the motto of the inhabitants of the Ordnance plant housing project.

December 4, 1947 was the opening date of this little "village." At present, there are 95 apartments containing a hot plate for cooking, shower, sink, ice-box, living-room-kitchen combination, and either one, two or three bedrooms, according to the amount of rent paid.

The rent for the unfurnished apartments varies from $22.50 for the one bedroom to a maximum of $22.50 for three bedrooms. The rent will be raised approximately $1.10 per apartment when the GI subsistence is raised.

No community is complete without children, and this one is no different from the rest. Of course with the population changes, but the last time heads were counted there were 55 little ones reigning over their respective families.

There is now one faculty member and his family residing at the Ordnance plant project. This is Vernon G. Morrison, assistant professor of the economics department.

Five or Three Unit Apartments In Use at Ordnance Plant

Ordnance Plant vlt's housing, 10 1/2 miles east of Carbondale, was formerly used as office space. Now it is used as a housing project for veterans who are enrolled at SLL and their families.

A long circular drive leads to the plant from the highway. Upon arriving at the plant, one notices a large parking area. There are no doors—just stairs leading from windows both on the second and the first floor. These are used as fire escapes and not as entrances. A-what appears to be the back, but is really the entrance, different wings of the buildings branch off with a vacant space in the center of each wing. This serves as a lawn for the individuals living in that particular wing.

The apartments themselves are 95—either three or five rooms plus bath. An outstanding feature of each apartment is the great amount of closet and hall space. The walls are usually colored in cream, and the floors are of hard wood. Each apartment comes complete with refrigeration and small stove. Steam heat, water, and electricity are also furnished. Two metal beds and a chest of drawers may be rented if the individual desires to.

The girls' quartet, composed of Lavina Phelps, Lora Grammer, Roberta Millikin, and Betty Land-

Smiths Are Typical of Families Living at Crab Orchard Ordnance Project

The Smiths of this story are as typical of American families as their name implies. Victor and Betty Smith, who reside at the Ordnance Plant, along with their two children and the family dog, have been married almost four years and a half.

Victor, a veteran who was in the service for two years and nine months, is now enrolled at Southern. His home town is Burnt Prairie. This twenty-four year old junior is in the college of education and is majoring in social studies and minoring in agriculture. Just to show that farming can be done without a degree, Victor now capably farms 200 acres of his own land and 280 acres which his father-in-law owns. After receiving his degree next year, he plans to both teach and farm.

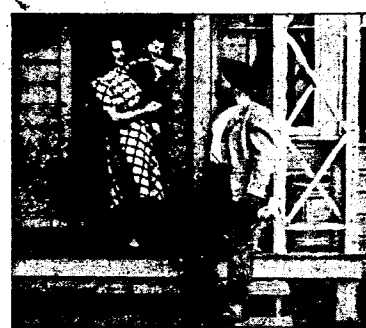

Betty Smith, 22, is a former student of Southern. While enrolled here, she was a business major and a member of Phi Kappa Sigma sorority. Now all her time is occupied by taking care of the apartment and their two children, Rusty, who is 21 months old, and Vicki Lynn, five months old.

Before moving to the Ordnance Plant in January, Victor commuted daily from Benton, his wife's home town. Their apartment is in Wing E of the plant. It consists of five rooms, a bath, and believe it or not, six closets. They say that the hallways alone are larger than their previous home.

The chief advantage of living there is an abundance of room, hot water, and good heat. The chief disadvantage is the lack of a telephone system. For although there is a phone for out-going calls, there is no one there to receive incoming calls.

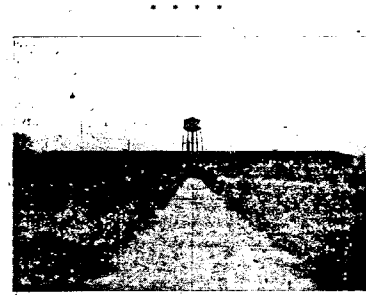

Recreation at the housing project may take the form of that pictured above as Victor Smith and his 21 month son, Rusty, engage in a game of football.

Pictured above is the living room of their apartment is the entire Smith family in customary evening pose is Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Rusty, 21 months, and their five-month daughter, Vicki Lynn.

MODERN DANCER PLEASES AUDIENCE

Gertrude Lippencott, young American dancer, presented a modern dance concert at Shryock auditorium last Wednesday, Feb. 25. She was the first modern dancer to appear at a Southern...

"Tragic Lullaby" portrayed the grief and sorrow of a mother following the death of her child. "Invitation" used the rhythms of various Latin-American countries to depict a peasant girl and her dancing ways.

Botany Classes See Shaw's Garden

The botany department sponsored a field trip to Gray Summit, Mo., Monday, Feb. 22, where a portion of the Missouri Botanical Garden (Shaw's Garden) is located.

The trip was highly successful. There they studied orchid culture, in the garden where 1,000,000 orchids were being grown. They observed orchid seeds growing on agar, which takes seven years to grow.

Mr. Marberry showed his class the various economic importance of plants. The class returned to the campus at 8 p. m.

Deposits as her home. After completing her work for a degree, she taught at Wayne university in Michigan. This cycle, she studied then went to New York where she studied modern dance and became a professional in her field.

As is the custom for professional masters of dance appearing at universities, Miss Lippencott will give a master lesson in modern dance to dance students and former dance students Thursday, Feb. 26, at 7:30 p. m.

Stag Line Waits Its Turn

The shortage of girls at Southern is clearly evident in the above picture of the stag line at last week.

Placement Office Finds Positions For Seniors

The Placement Service, directed by Raymond H. Day, is to most graduating seniors and many lower classmen the most important office on the campus. In a series of articles, we will present a summary of the annual report released by that office.

Last year, from a total of 325 graduating seniors, 238 were registered in the college of Education. Seventy-two were in the college of Liberal Arts and Sciences, and 21 received their degrees from the college of Vocations and Professions.

Of the 325 graduates, 189 went into the teaching profession. Ninety-nine were placed in high schools and 74 started their careers in the elementary schools. Positions for the college level were not so plentiful, where only two positions were filled by the service wire in the rural schools.

Sixty-nine members of last year's graduating class are now attending graduate schools. Southern has 25 enrolled and 41 are attending other colleges. Positions other than teaching were filled by 31 members of the class, and only 17 were not placed at all. Fifteen of the total were unreported, and four did not desire employment.

UNIVERSITY HIGH TAKES ALL SPEECH AWARDS

"Trifles" by Susan Glaspell, was the winning play from University high school selected to represent the high school on Saturday, Feb. 20, at the divisional speech meet held in Du Quoin, according to judges June Fulkerson, Carbonate, acclaimed best actress for her leading role in Kappa Delta Alpha play; Dale Kittle, Wayne City, best actor of 1947 and leading man in the winning play of this year's one-act play contest; Phyllis Johnson, Du Quoin, leading actress in the homecoming play; Jacqueline Beed, graduate in speech at Northwestern University; and Dr. P. Merrill Larson, chairman of the department of speech.

Dorothy Paterson won the award for the best actress in the University High group; Verda Sill, as the best supporting actress; Russell Postman, as the best actor; and Charles Tucker, as the best supporting actor. "Trifles" was selected from three plays all from University high school's speech class, as the representative of the school.

The plays were directed by Mrs. O. B. Young, speech teacher in University High, and Mrs. Bill Harton, practice teacher in the speech class.

The Faws That Don't Refresh Us

With the heavy odor of formaldehyde, the remains of a once-proud Persian, maitre, or just plain alien, ate the subjects for sociology student research. Instead of using the usual sharp edged instruments, zoo students find that improvised tools such as scissors, screwdrivers, or other blunt instruments replace laboratory scalpels and probes. The animal is laid out grotesquely with its fur folded aside so the examiner may peer into the interior of the dried out body.

Cats are not the only examples for this seemingly morbid task. Turtles, frogs, aceturus (mudpuppy), sharks, and fish are also processed and delivered for university analysis. Once one has gotten accustomed to the odor and the "feel of the object" it isn't such a nauseating experience.

Windows In Old Main Nearing Completion

At the present rate of speed, the windows on third floor Old Main should be completed within a month, according to Barney Beard, foreman for the J. L. Simpson construction company. Windows in rooms 300, 302, and 311 are the only ones remaining to be replaced and bricked in. Since rooms 301 and 311 both contain seven windows each, the scaffolding will not be as difficult because the structure can be moved within the large rooms and will not have to be rebuilt for each window. This will cut down the noise and class disturbance and will also shorten the working time.

Rest Camp In Italy

ITALY—Regular T. R. checks are part of the schedule at Rocca di Papa, rest camp for undernourished students maintained by WSSP.

STUDENTS AIDED BY WORLD STUDENT SERVICE FUND

"Have you thought what it would be like to go hungry to school day after day? Where you had no money to buy bread, potatoes and a slice of black bread for supper, day after endless day?
Have you thought what it would be like to wear the same clothes week in and week out until they were full of rips and tears, and so dirty that you did not think you could stand it any longer? Where you put wads of paper in the holes in your shoes?
Students in Europe and China are going to school right now under these conditions.
Have you ever thought what it would be like to have no home security or family support? Where you did not know where your parents were, or your brothers or sisters, if they were not known to be well and were from which to receive mail from time to time?
Have you ever thought what it would be like to be sick and not be able to call a doctor? Where you had no money to pay for a doctor?
Have you ever thought what it would be like to sit through classes numb with cold? Where the temperature was actually below 40 degrees?
Have you ever thought what it would be like to prepare lessons without pencil, paper, or textbooks?
These are the conditions students are faced with in Europe and Asia. They look to us for help. It is no longer a question of charity, but of survival. The World Student Service Fund is the one student agency whose sole purpose is to help our student comrades. Food, clothing, medical attention, books and paper have been furnished by W.S.S.F.
Last year over $600,000 was raised by students in America through WSSP, to aid students in war-torn areas. Contributions this year are more than ever before due to the worst crop failure in years in Europe, and due to inability to recover from the war devastation, therefore the need is greater than ever before.

FIVE STUDENTS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE AT U. OF I.
The first State Student Conference of the Congregational and Evangelical and Reformed churches will be held at the University of Illinois Feb. 27-29. Five delegates from Southern will attend.
The conference leader will be Dr. Bryant Drake, head of Congregational Student Work.

Students Turn Out For Recreation In Gymnasium

On Saturday and Sunday afternoons, all roads lead to Southern's gymnasium. Why? Because, now open to all university students and faculty members for recreational relaxation.
Since the gym was opened there have been from 70-120 men and from 25-40 women taking advantage of these recreational activities each day.
It's All Free
Some of the sports offered in the women's gym are: table tennis, shuffle board, bowling, basketball, badminton, and other games. In the men's gym, basketball, volleyball, and gymnastics are offered. Any of the gymnasium equipment may be checked out for use at these times. All activities are co-recreational.
Director in charge of the activities, and equipment for the women's gym on Saturday afternoons is Vera Turner. Betty Logsdon is in charge on Sundays. Carl Dillow has charge of the men's gym.
One big factor that has not been mentioned is the fact that all this fun and recreation is free. Here is really something for nothing.

State X-ray Unit Here March 1-5

The Illinois Department of Public Health will have on Southern's campus Monday, March 1, an X-ray unit to take chest X-rays of all interested students, faculty, employees and their families. All other persons interested in having an X-ray made, may do so. The X-ray will be free to all groups. The unit will be open from 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. daily except Friday, when it will be open from 9 to 12 only. No alphabetical schedule will be followed; it will be everyone's responsibility to come to the Health Office and secure the X-ray.

MAROONS ANNEX THIRD STRAIGHT IIAC CROWN; ENTER PLAYOFFS

Dunkel System May Decide Three of Playoff Squads

Southern is the only sure entrant into the Illinois District College playoffs by way of winning the third straight Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic conference crown. Western Illinois College is the likely candidate for the Dunkel System's highest ranking of the area. Southern is currently leading with a 56.5, however Western is the runner-up and will come to the tourney via Dunkel System.

The Pioneer Conference is jumbled so badly that the participants from that league will not be determined until Saturday night when Eugene and Quincy, now deadlocked, will clash.

The Little Nine Conference is worse off than is the Pioneer. Millikan and Wheaton are currently tied for the top rung and the two teams will not meet to decide who the Little Nine's representative will be. Milliken plays Friday and Saturday nights, while Wheaton is busy on Saturday and Monday nights. The Dunkel System will select the fourth squad for the tournament from these two teams.

150¢ tickets are being sold throughout various cities near Carbondale, to assure everyone a seat. Ducats may be purchased in the University Business office and may also be bought by mail by enclosing a self-addressed envelope specifying the number of tickets desired and which night, if buying a single ticket.

Following the final game at the National Intercollegiate Athletic Basketball tournament at Kansas City, Mo., the trophies for the 1945 and 1946 seasons will be presented. Southern will receive a fourth place trophy for 1945 and the first place trophy for the 1946 season. Southern returned to the tournament last year but was defeated in their first round of play by South Dakota Wesleyan 44 to 39.

Intramural Sandwich Illinois College Playoff

Playoffs in the intramural basketball leagues continued this week. Quarterfinals for both leagues are being held on Saturday with the finals to be played the night of Mar. 1 and 4.

In the upper bracket of the National League, the winner of the Memphis Motor Fight Engine game will capture the victor of the KDA Du-It-Hots battle. Lower bracket play finds the winner of Evans-ville game meeting the winner of the Midgets-Frestel Bender.

In the upper bracket of the American League, the Gunners will play the quarterfinals. Lower bracket play finds the winner of the Torres-Marion game meeting the victor of the Chi Deit-Edged Hobbes clash.

Marion's addition must be commended for his accurate statistics kept on basketball

GINGERSNAPS

By Dolan Gieger

A group of Southern students attended the St. Louis University DePaul University basketball game in St. Louis last week and have commented that the fans in this territory do not deserve the squad that we are so fortunate to possess. They described to me, the ovation that nearly burst the walls of the arena. I was sitting in the Louis V. took the floor or when they scored. We, too, have a championship quintet, however, when there is a great play or when the team comes onto the court, the roared applause is so weak and lacks enthusiasm so badly that NONE would embarrass the local camera men. Unless you have watched a practice session, probably you can't appreciate how much work and strain a hardwood five endures. Coach Holder has undoubtedly noted the lack of enthusiasm in our gymnasium. The cheerleaders have even become so disgusted that they haven't attempted to lead a cheer for the squad since early in the season.

We suggest that all support we can give out when the playoff starts next week. They would appreciate it greatly and the crowd would be heart-winning for the KANSAS CITY gymnasium is a lovely spot and an extra enthusiasm is needed to give the fans a push toward where their support will be so thin.

Leigh grade school near Johnston City has a very unusual record. It had won 25 of 26 games this season and last Saturday night lost to Johnston City in the district grade tourney by 2 points. The coach is Mrs. Bonnie Matthews of Stritz, a 34 year old strawberry blonde. "Who said woman's place is in the home?"

The Intramural in basketball produced many outstanding this or that or most fouled team or least points scored (the Hot Spot) in one game or something or other. But we suggest the outstanding coach be selected. Our vote would certainly go for John Beggs. He was by far the most consistent and displays the least concern in a game or for the Intramurals as a whole. Just ask Bill Freesburg!

Sports Profiles

Bob Colborn

Illinois has its Eddiehan, Nazre Dame has its Ljugak, and Southern has its Colborn. And what Eddiehan and Ljugak are to those two nationally known colleges, Bob Colborn is the same respect to Southern, for the 22-year-old sophomore from Flora has done a grand job in the athletic field on this campus. The six feet one inch physical education major was chosen by his teammates as the most valuable player on the champion football team this past season. It is an end and was chosen on the all-state team of the IIAC.

His freshman year brought the opinion of many Southern Illinois football and basketball fans that Colborn was a prospect that the university has been looking for some time in basketball. It usually is not difficult to follow that line of reasoning in one particular sport, so it is doubly satisfying that Colborn can play two.

Colborn is not a member of any social fraternity, although he has previously been trusted, but he lives in the same house with a couple of other Southern athletes.

During the first down of so many in basketball this season, Colborn was Southern's leading scorer with an average of close to 13 points per game. Since that time he has bounced from 20 points down to 3 and up again to 15 and 20. He is a better defensive man than a top ranking scorer and defense is like a high scoring team when the quintet has a couple of other fellows that can take care of the points count.

Aces Trumped By Powerful Maroon Five

Coch Lynn Holder's Southern Illinois University Maroons concluded their 1947-48 schedule of home games on Tuesday evening by topping the Purple Aces of Evansville College 64 to 47. It was the third meeting of the two clubs this year with Southern having a two to one edge, having beaten the Aces at Evansville 46 to 39 prior to losing the 46-40 of the Vincennes Christmas tourney to the purple and white quilted 63 to 61. The victory also enabled the Maroons to finish the season at home with an unblemished record of nine consecutive wins on the local hardwood.

Paced by Quentin Stinson, the team captain, the Holdersmen gained an eleven to seven lead after six minutes of play had elapsed. At the 15 minute mark, Southern still maintained a 23 to 19 margin but two buckets and a charity toss by Stinson and a two pointer by Charlie Finn gave the local lads a 30 to 23 halftime verdict.

After life off set of the second period, the outcome of the game was never in doubt. Joe Hughes flipped five losses through the hoop in this period to pave the way for the 17 point victory. Southern held a 17 point advantage with seven minutes remaining in the final stanza and the reserves helped the Aces on even terms for the remainder of the fray.

Stinson led the point parade with 19 points being followed closely by Hughes who connected for 17. Jim Matthews' 12 points was high for Evansville.

By virtue of their triumph, the Maroons annexed their eighteenth victory of the season in twenty-one outings. The 64 points accumulated also ran their point total to 1364 for the season which is high on the list of total offense for small colleges.

Southern will conclude their pre-season play on Saturday of this week when they travel to Bloomington to tangle with State Normal.

DAN COX

"Never judge a book by its cover," could be said about Dan Cox, lightweight now representing Sogd them in the Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament in Chicago. Dan is a senior from West Frankfort and outside his fiststuffs has many extra-curricular activities such as being president of Chi Delta Chi Fraternity, on the intramural council for the second year, and has organized the idea for the Greek Bowling League, and was on the Homecoming Committee.

Dan has the amateur record of winning 30 of 38 fights in his boxing career which began when he was a high schooler. He first fought as a high schooler in the Golden Gloves Tourney in Murphysboro in 1941. When he was but 17, he fought in the CMTC.

A Navy torpedo man for three years, he is now eight months of age.

Hodgeman Rout Beggs Stars 79-55 In Annual Encounter

Proving that teamwork is better than individual ability, the Maroon 'B' squad downed the Intramural All Stars 79-55 in the preliminary contest last Tuesday night on the local floor.

Handicapped because of lack of practice together, the jinks of the Intramural league gave a good account of themselves before falling to the more polished Maroons.

Trophy Case Holds Proof of Southern Maroons in Battle

"To the victor go the spoils" is an old adage, but one which applies to Southern's athletic department today. The trophy case in the lobby of Southern's gymnasium is filled with the types of spoils which Southern has won in contests throughout the year.

In the lobby of Southern's gym is the trophy case which will give you a review of Southern's athletic achievements of the past.

Newest among these awards is the football trophy given to the Maroons for winning the first annual Corn Bowl, which was held at Bloomington, last Thanksgiving Day! It is by far, the finest trophy received by the school. The 24-inch wooden case is set off by the gleam of the golden ear of corn, which symbolizes the Corn Bowl festivities.

Possibly the nearest rival to the football trophy is the basketball trophy, which now hangs at the south end of the basketball floor, declaring Southern the National Intercollegiate Champions of Basketball in 1946. This was won two years ago at Kansas City, at the nation-wide small colleges tourney.

Fourth Award

The Corn Bowl trophy is the fourth award won by Southern football teams—two of the other three awards were won this season. The 1947 edition of the Maroon gridders' trophy, the I.I.A.C. Conference trophy, and an award given by the business men of Carbondale, in a recent banquet. The other award is the plaque, which now hangs in the first of the door leading to the coach's office, telling of Southern's winning of the Little Nine's Conference championship in 1946.

Track has brought more awards to Southern than any other sport. In the trophy case at the present time are twenty-two track awards, the oldest of which is a second place trophy for the first Annual I.I.A.C. Track and Field meet at Charleston in 1928.

Wm 1917

The oldest basketball award in the case is a plaque, denoting Southern as the third place team in the Seventh Annual I.I.A.C. Basketball Tournament held at Milliken Gym in Decatur in 1917. Other interesting basketball awards are two pennants given to Maroon cage teams of 1937-38 and 1940-41 in appreciation of their visits to Mexico City to play the Mexico City Y.M.C.A. The only two basketball conference trophies won by Southern have been added in the past two seasons.

Tennis has given the trophy case four conference champion awards and cross country award has given one.

Highlights of Prep Sports

After collecting 19 straight victories, the Collinsville Kabobs were dropped from the unbeaten ranks Saturday night when they were ed out 45-47 by Granite City.

In one of the top games of the top games of the week, the powerful Lawrenceville Indians gained revenge for an earlier defeat by nipping the Salem Wildcats, 55-54. The defeat was Salem's first conference loss, but Salem had already clinched the championship. Pinckneyville won their twenty-second victory compared to only one defeat Friday night when they trounced West Frankfort, 57-37. Surrounding Teams Ranked Highly in the Latest Unpled Press poll, four of the first five teams are from southern Illinois: Pekin was first, Collinsville second, Pinckneyville third, Salem fourth, and Lawrenceville fifth.

Maroons Blast Eastern 73-52 In IIAC Title Bout

A fine brand of basketball, especially for the first half when the halftime score read 32 to 29 in Southern's favor. An interesting side-light to the game was when Edmo Hilderbrand entered the Eastern lineup. He received an ovation that few opposing players receive here and possibly better than what our own team members are awarded. Don Glover, the freshman sensation from last year's high school State Champion Paris Tigers, tied Jim Sullivan with 16 points for Eastern.

Winning 17 of their 20 games, the Maroons have scored 70 points or better in ten. Their streak was halted at eight in a row when Evansville College whipped them in the Vincennes, Ind., tourney and then when Western trounced them last week, they had run up eight more consecutive victories. They have one more conference tilt before the schedule ends with Illinois State Normal.

MAROONS TO CLOSE SCHEDULE AGAINST NORMAL SATURDAY

The current Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference champions will conclude their regular 1947-1948 basketball schedule Saturday night at 8 o'clock at Bloomington Saturday night. The Maroons will be playing an after-the-clock affair against the Old Normal five for they have already won 17 of their 20 games.

In the first game that will determine fate as a result of a win over Eastern State Teachers' last week.

After finishing their regular home schedule against Evansville college, and that game should prove to be tough, the Southern quintet will have but a four day rest before they tackle Normal.

In the first game that the Maroons faced Normal, Southern came out on the long end of a 73 to 64 ledger for their 13th win of the season. Last year, the Maroons took two games from Illinois Normal by scores of 67 to 62 and 88 to 32. That last one broke an all-time high for the university's record for an one game until the first contest of the current season when they racked up 96 points against Scott Field.

Coch Lynn Holder will probably use one 18-point starter, five of Colborn, Hughes, Stinson, Ladie, and Shoaff for the rest of the game, and if the going goes as is expected, he will be able to substitute freely.

Levin and Joan Young.
