"Midsummer Night's Dream" Opens Monday

By Don Hargus

Shakespeare's popular comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," is to be presented by the Southern Players in one week beginning Monday night.

Since this marks the official opening of the new theater, opening night is to be a formal affair with admission by invitation only. However, the play is to be given five additional nights, Tuesday through Saturday, for the general public.

Admission is 50 cents with all seats reserved. Reservations may be made at the theater ticket office which will be open from 11 a.

m. 'til noon, and from 2 to 4 o'clock each afternoon as well as at 7:30 each night. Seats may also be reserved by calling extension 307 or 350.

"Midsummer" is one of Shakespeare's most loved comedies. It has been bringing audiences fun and laughter for over 300 years. A tale of romance and buffoonery, its fairy-like grandeur has kept all its appeal to young and old alike throughout the centuries. As a play, it is ever new, ever entertaining.

Dr. Archibald McLeod is directing a cast of 21 in the production.

Lawrence Voss is technical director. Included in the cast, in order of appearance, are Don Hargus, Nancy Yost, Henry Burdick, Dixie Buayan and JoAnn McIntyre, who are double-cast in the same role, Bob Chamness, Don Becker, Melvin Heiser, Helen Collins, Darwin Payne, Don Wolfe, Charlie King, Jack Stevens, Jack Turner, Nancy Brookbank, James Walck, Nancy Forsyth, Pat Bahm, Patty Lamont Joan Vigeant, and Dorothy Shelby. Production crew chairman are publicity, Darwin Payne; business, Marilyn Wakeland; stage managing,

John Douglas and Jean Sisk; costumes, Pat Bahm; sound, Ralph Becker and Nancy Forsyth; lighting, Bob Chamness and Dick Edwards; make-up, Carole Poo; properties, Loretta Mondani and Carolyn Reed; and program and ushers, Ray Yancy.

The play is actually three stories done into one pattern. One part tells of Theseus, the Duke of Athens, and his upcoming marriage to Hippolyta, an Amazon Queen whom he has conquered in combat.

The second story tells of a double triangle in which two young

Athenians, Lysander and Demetrius, are in love with one girl, Hermia, and Helena, who unsuccessfully loves Demetrius. Their romantic mix-ups, in which each first loves one, and then another, provides the central story of the play.

The third tale is of a bunch of crude Athenian workmen who aspire to write and act up a play in honor of Theseus' wedding day. Their raucous carryings on are comedy high spots in the story.

Throughout the play is woven the mischievous magic of the fairies. Their interference in human affairs leads to strange happenings, as when Puck causes Bottom, one of the workmen, to have his head changed into that of an ass, and then makes Titania, the Fairy Queen, fall in love with him.

In all, the play promises to be brilliant, bit of royal pagant and splendor, and should afford anyone a pleasant evening's entertainment.

The relatively small size of the new theater limits seating capacity to only 228, so Marilyn Wakeland, business manager, urges that reservations be made early.

Religious Council Formed At Woody

A Religious Council has been formed at Woody Hall as the outgrowth of regular bi-weekly Protestant worship services and the daily Catholic prayer service.

The idea of such a council was submitted to the dormitory House Council several weeks ago and then was passed on to the nine Hall units and accepted. Representatives alternate from each section were appointed to serve on the Council.

The Council will seek to promote Christian fellowship in the dorm and the religious growth of the residents, encourage participation in and attendance at religious functions and other activities which help yield a well rounded life, and try to convey to the residents that in many ways the pattern of post-college days is being started during these four years.

Serving as Religious Council members are: Pat Durrell, Granite City; Stephanie Ferguson, Metropolitan; Dorothy Osborne, Puna; Emma Kelley, Covington, Ky.; Sarg Sawyer, Carbondale; Anita Schury, Steelville; Wanda Barrett, Equalizer; Delores Clavton, Ina; and Mae Dell Hamilton, McLansboro.

La Casa Manana Has Highest Fall Grade Average

For better or for worse, the news is out. The Office of Student Affairs has released facts and figures concerning fall term house averages for both organized independent and Greek living groups.

A quick rundown of the entire list reveals a range of 1.15 grade points, from 3.88 to 2.72, between the highest and lowest groups on campus.

The house at the top of the list, boasting the greatest accumulation of gray matter, is La Casa Manana with the 3.88 average mentioned above. They lead all groups, Greek or independent, men's or women's, on campus.

Top sorority, Greek leaders, and third ranking group in the entire school, is Sigma Sigma Sigma, with a 3.71 average. Incidentally, the Tri-Sig pledges, when figured as a separate unit rank just one step below the first place Mananas with a 3.79.

La Casa de Sista, organized men's house, ranks first among non-Greek male living units, with a 3.69 average. The TRKS make the grade as leading fraternity. They boast a 3.35 house average.

Other information: The all women average at Southern is 3.43 while the total sorority average is 3.40. All sorority averages carry an average of 3.55, and the total of women's organized houses tallies that at 3.41. The averages of all women's organized houses is 3.40.

The total average of all Greeks, both fraternities and sororities, is 3.29, and, oddly enough, the average of every organized living group at the university is close behind with 3.28.

Men's organized houses have a slight edge on the fraternities. The independent houses have a 3.18 average, and the Greeks have a 3.17. Total for all men's groups is 3.17.

The fraternity averages, considered alone, however, are up to 3.28. Average for the entire university is 3.28.

AAS Initiation Set For Feb. 19

Southern's chapter of the Arnold Air Society, social organization for aviation and air ROTC students, will hold its third annual initiation at 7 p. m. Friday, Feb. 19 in the banquet room of the Carbondale Elks club.

Seventy-five candidates are being considered for membership into the organization, according to Jerry West, chairman of the initiation committee.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Harper, commanding general of the Air Training Command with headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, has been invited to attend the banquet and initiation ceremony. The local squadron was named in honor of Gen. Harper.

The past two banquets were held at the officers club at Scott Field but it was decided to hold the ceremony in Carbondale this year to integrate the activities of the Society with on campus life. Maj. Willis E. Blum, sponsor of the Arnold Air Society, said.

"David And Bathsheba" To Be Shown Monday

"David and Bathsheba" is to be shown Monday night at University High School Auditorium at 6:30 and 8:30. will be the last movie in a series of shows presented bi-monthly by the audio-visual aids department.

"David and Bathsheba" is drawn from a story in the Old Testament and is a meticulously produced film rich in the color and pageantry of the ancient days. Gregory Peck as King David and Susan Hayward as Lady Bathsheba are the stars of this technicolor production.

Boys' Choir Here Feb. 22

The Tucson Arizona Boys' Choir, heard on many national radio and television programs, will sing Feb. 22 in Shryock Auditorium at 8 p. m., according to Dr. Robert D. Grier, chairman of the Carbondale Community Concert Association.

Directed by Edward Caso, the chorus is made up of Tucson boys between the ages of 8 and 16. There are about 28 to 30 boys in the chorus. The boys are selected at auditions held three times yearly in Tucson.

The Tucson Boys' Choir has been heard and seen on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town, Tom Breneman's Breakfast in Hollywood and other radio and TV programs.

They feature songs from the classics, carols, folk songs, Mexican melodies and original western tunes. The boys have received high praise from the critics of New York.

This is the third program sponsored by the Carbondale Community Concert Association during the current season. SU students will be admitted with activity tickets and membership card.

Jim Aiken New Egyptian Head; Dick Lee Assistant

Other staff positions decided upon by Council members during their two hour session include Roger Van Dam, business manager, and Don Primas, sports editor. Don is a Wood River sophomore and Roger is a sophomore from Homewood.

A total of eight applications for staff positions were submitted to the Council. Two students applied for editor-in-chief and two students applied for managing editor. There were three applicants for the post of business manager and one for sports editor, stated Marce.

The appointments will merely result in a continuation of present duties for Editor Aiken and Managing Editor Lee, who recently took their respective offices after former Editor Bob Brimm requested that he be relieved of his post temporarily.

Aiken is responsible for page make-up and the general operation of the paper. He writes editorials and determines Egyptian policy campus matters.

Lee writes headlines and gives out story assignments to reporters. He also serves as assistant to the editor.

Theta Xi Presents Variety Show Tonight

By Jerry Kulecky

After weeks and weeks of preparation, tonight is the night for the "Show of Shows" at SIU. Final try-outs ended Monday evening, and the dress rehearsals lasted until late hours Thursday evening. Co-chairmen Jerry McGovern and Bob Edgell consider this year's Theta Xi Variety Show, "Good as last years, if not better."

Last year there was only standing room available around the walls of Shryock. The auditorium has 1703 seats. ED BONNER, St. Louis disc jockey, will emcee the Variety Show. Bonner, called E. B. by his many teen-age radio fans has kept in contact with the Theta Xi indirectly through his "St. Louis Ballroom" broadcasts on KXOX. During his

Six Finalists For Service To Southern Picked

Six finalists have been chosen from the fourteen entrants for the Service to Southern contest and the winners will be announced tonight at the Theta Xi Variety Show. One man and woman will be selected for the honor, with each receiving a gold wrist watch.

Clifton Edom On Journalism Club Program

Clifton C. Edom, journalism instructor at the University of Missouri, will give a special discussion Monday in Allyn 200 for members of the Journalism Students Association and others interested in photography. The talk is the first in a series of lectures explaining "Jobs in Journalism," and is sponsored jointly by the JSA and the journalism department.

Paul Morris, Venice senior in industrial education, who has been Student Union Council president of the Sphinx Club, and former president of the Sphinx Club, will be the speaker Feb. 24. On March 24, Robert A. Willer, president of Robert A. Willer Associates of St. Louis, will present a talk on job openings in the field of public relations.

Gene Graves, Marissa senior in political science, who is president of Sigma Pi fraternity, and a member of the Sphinx Club. He was vice-chairman of Homecoming last year and is now president of the Social Club.

Mary Myers, Centuria senior in botany, who is president of the Social Senate, and former member of the Student Council. She was chairman of Christmas week, and a member of Girls Rally and ISA.

program last week. Bonner mentioned that he would like to do a show from a sorority house on the SIU campus. Bonner has said to the Theta Xi members, "I will be very happy to emcee the Variety Show at no cost to the school, because the show is a benefit."

The following is the schedule of acts in the order that they will appear:

1. Southern All-Stars
2. Woody Hall Chorus Line
3. "There's no Business Like Show Business"
3. Theta Xi Pledge Skit

Student Union Funds Invested In Securities

With the approval of a resolution Feb. 9, the Student Council gave President D. W. Morris authority to invest the money collected each quarter from students for the construction and/or the equipping of a new Student Union building.

The money is to be invested in securities which are considered safe since the investments for other University unappropriated funds.

A committee of students is to be selected by the Student Council to assist in the building program development for the new Union in cooperation with representatives of the administration, the faculty, and architects.

Hospitality Weekend Sub-Chairmen Picked

Hospitality Weekend co-chairmen Dick Schmitz and Bernice Gindler have announced the committee chairmen for the weekend. Seniors from Southern Illinois high schools will be the guests of the University April 23 and 24, for the annual event.

Activities which are being planned for the seniors include a mixer on Friday night, a dance Saturday night, campus tour, and, possibly, a variety show featuring university talent.

Committee chairmen are: secretary, Lois Seppington; entertainment, Francis Mackay; hospitality, Bernice Gindler; housing and registration, Tom Richardson and Sondra McGee; invitations, Lois Kalla; program, Bob Gill; publicity, Marcia Day; banquet, Paula Turner; guides and group leaders, Paul Morris and Evelyn Schumack; and Social Seniors, John Hammock.

KAM Banquet Tonight; Photo Judging Tomorrow

Immediately following the initiation ceremonies the members of the Alpha Gamma chapter will participate in a Founders Banquet.

Kappa Alpha Mu will present fraternity pins to the founders of the local chapter. The Alpha Gamma chapter was organized on campus last spring.

George Bliss, Robert Brimm and Ray Tucker are the pledges who will become active members tonight. Ed Hahoy, of the Information Service, will join the competition as a professional member.

Clifton Edom guest speaker of the Fair, is a journalism instructor at the University of Missouri. He has directed the Photo workshop at the Missouri school and has served as secretary of the Print Competition and Exhibition since it started eleven years ago.

Saturday, Edom will judge the SIU Exhibition of Photographic. Entries have been arriving throughout the week for the competition which is open to all amateur and professional photographers, excluding members of the Alpha Gamma chapter," said Robert Stokes secretary of the fraternity.

"THE SIU competition will be displayed in the Student Union

"THIS IS my biggest day since Gettysburg," says Abe Lincoln, who has been brought to the campus by Theta Xi to publicize their show tonight. Abe had appeared in the Student Union and at the Monday night basketball game.

MAIL BOX

Brief letters of general interest to students, faculty, or other readers of the Egyptian will be considered for publication in this column. Letters of invective and anonymous letters will not be considered. Writers' names will be withheld at their request.

Dear Editor:

I am about to launch a new society, and I need your help. All the students of Southern, all faculty members and administrators, and indeed all the people of Southern Illinois are cordially invited to become members of this society, the name of which shall be "The S. P. S. A. S. A. N. S."

Although the society shall be known by these initial letters, its full name would be something like this: "The Society to Promote the Pronunciation of Shryock as Shryock and Not Shy-Rock."

I have never seen a bashful stone, and I doubt if you have. (If a harmless pun will help you to remember the correct pronunciation, perhaps you will forgive me.)

Shryock is spelled s-h-r-y-o-c-k. It is pronounced as if you were going to say "shrike," but instead of saying all of "shrike," you change your mind and end up with "shy-ock."

Shryock Auditorium was named after a former president, the late, well-remembered, and oft-quoted Henry W. Shryock. His son, Burnett H. Shryock, as head of our division of fine arts, also spells his name Shryock, not s-h-y-o-c-k.

Mr. Burnett Shryock's wife, Mrs. Mary Ann Shryock, also favors Shryock, not Shy-Rock. They have three children, Burnett Jr., Mary Ann, and William Henry, all of whom prefer Shryock, not Shy-Rock.

The boys who presided over the P. A. room in the gymnasium this late basketball season all said "Shy-Rock." Mr. Lou Zarwick and Mrs. Wesley Perry of WCIL also say "Shy-Rock." All newcomers to Southern Illinois, many students and about half the natives of this area say "Shy-Rock." You may see the "Shy-Rock" society.

All you need to do in order to join the society is to start pronouncing the name correctly. No dues. No card carrying. No commitments. We should love to have you as a member.

Shryock, not Shy Rock. Darnit.

Sincerely,
E. C. Coleman.

Editor's Note: I will be very happy to join your society, Dr. Coleman. It is good that we should have to carry no cards — SIU doesn't need a visit from a Wisconsin Senator. Also, don't overlook the fertile field of potential members, who pronounce the much discussed word as if it were the name of one of Shakespeare's most famous sinister individuals.

Dear Editor:

I've got my back upon your editorial printed in the Feb. 5 edition of the Egyptian.

If someone does not look out for the "degenerate college youth" and improve these moral, physical

Looking Back

By Sue Alice Martin

"After Clifton Cliff had heard about the 'Dating Bureau' which has been established at various universities, he made a plea to the faculty and to the board of this school in which plea he asked for a similar method to be enforced at SIU. Whether he will be successful remains to be seen." —April 26, 1927.

"Hint to the SIU flappers: an onion a day will keep the shicks' away." "It is said that Sir Lancelot had two horses. We wonder how many Sir Galahad." "Never ask a judge how he feels, for nine times out of ten he will say, 'Fine.' $5.00!" —April 12, 1927.

"The sixth annual crop of similes harvested by Frank Willtack from the literature of 1927 contain these examples:

"As necessary as the black squares in a crossword puzzle."

"As commonplace as gutters in a motor bus."

"As bashful as a college student."

"Miss Lucille Gray, who has one of the best roles in the Socratic play, 'So This is London,' says one can learn a lot of things that she can use later... When we asked her what part she liked best she answered: 'Oh, the angry parts. It is easier to get that, I'm more ample in striving to create better understanding and relations?'"

We were united in planning, in games, the dinner, the group singing, and general fund, but above all else we sang, worshipped and prayed side by side. It was an evening we'll all remember for some time!"

Sincerely,
Miss Beatrice Hill

SIU Debaters Take Six Bouts At Purdue Meet

Novice debaters won six out of eight debates at Purdue last Saturday while the four teams at Eastern won nine and lost seven.

Dorothy Beck and Mary Ann Bass brought home wins from Notre Dame, Cincinnati University, and Xavier. Southern was the only team to defeat this Notre Dame team at Purdue. Miss Beck and Miss Bass lost one round to DePauw University.

Richard Rieke, Tom Sill, and Richard Crawford composed a three-man team on the affirmative at Purdue. They defeated Butler, Goshen, and Ferris and lost a round to Wayne University.

Gene Penland and Charles Tucker were the only Southern team at the Eastern Illinois State College journey to win more than two out of four debates. Penland and Tucker, who were on the negative, defeated Normal, Wheaton, and Greenville and lost to DePauw. Jim Viganet and La Donna McMurry, who were also on the negative, defeated Eastern and Bradley and lost to Ohio Wesleyan and Millikin.

Both affirmative teams at Eastern broke even. Betty Betts and Kenneth Dean defeated Principia and Greenville. They lost to Wheaton and DePauw. Carolyn Reed and Sue Alice Martin defeated Eastern and the University of Illinois. They lost to Principia and Navy Pier.

Both tournaments were invitational. George Ziegelmueller accompanied the four debaters to Purdue, and Dr. A. J. Croft and Dr. Paul Hunsinger went with the Eastern debaters.

Book Reviews

By Mike Patrick

Poker had and divorced five wives, but still he lived with all five ex-wives and 15 children under the same roof with astonishing harmony. This is the story of a new book in Southern's library, FAITHFUL IN MY FASHION by John Coates.

Poker, otherwise known as, Henry Mahomet Bowling, 26th Baron Bowling and 18th Earl of Tingalt, thought the whole arrangement of five wives under one roof was perfectly logical. His recognition of an ordinary convention being somewhat dim."

Lesbia, one of Pomer's many daughters, tells his story and how it soon became clear that her need to love and be loved goes deeper than a simple explanation. As all of the Bowlings, she cannot be properly inspired.

A distinctiveness in our own has this book which is "...urbane and civilized, yet human in a true, touching and riotously funny way."

20 DAYS TO BETTER SPELLING by Norman Lewis, promises to increase the reader's spelling ability, make him a more accurate speller, eliminate most of his unconscious errors, and help to rid his mind of commonly misspelled words.

"Anyone can learn to spell thousands of words by applying the principles in 20 DAYS TO BETTER SPELLING. The book is presented in a clear, informal style and arranged for one hour's studying for 20 days. There are 32 chapter-end tests and four comprehensive review tests in the book. Self checking is simple and invaluable for showing progress. Included with the book is a visual -aid card, which makes learning easy."

"By continuing to apply the principle set forth in 20 DAYS TO BETTER SPELLING, you can quickly learn to spell practically any word in the English language," according to the author, Norman Lewis.

EARLY AMERICAN POETS, selected and with an introduction by Lewis Ulmer-very, begins with America's earliest poets that became independent of the writing of the old world, and developed a style of their own.

America declared her political independence long before she declared her poetic independence. I took her to free the poetic America from the different backgrounds of the old world. For years poetry of this country expressed itself through scores of imitators before it found its own characteristic way of thinking, reacting, and writing.

The collection "...reveals the spirit, the scene, and the troubles of early America, setting forth work of numerous accomplished poets, many of whom are all but forgotten."

"This collection is devoted to the expanding spirit as well as the formative spirit of America. The list of poets dealt with is considerable." Among whom are: Edward Taylor, William Cullen Bryant, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, John Greenleaf Whittier, Edgar A. Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Henry David Thoreau, James Russell Lowell, and Herman Melville.

The first publication of the translation of Professor Jean Piaget's LA FORMATION DU SYMBOLE CHEZ L'ENFANT is now in the library. The book's title in English is, PLAY, DREAMS AND IMITATION IN CHILDHOOD. Dr. Cattagno and Miss F. M. Hodgson, translators of the book have been warmly praised by the author, Director of the International Bureau of Education.

"Based on the detailed case histories of three children, the book deals specifically with the development of imitation, play, and unconscious symbolism; and having studied these, concludes by placing the beginnings of cognitive representation within the whole structure of growth." The book throws light on hitherto neglected subjects of childhood and development of personalities.

Delta Sigs Threatened By Bursting Water Main

By Don Hargus

"Man the life rafts! The Delta Sig house is caving in!"

There was lots of excitement around the Delta Sig house Monday night when a water main burst and threatened to wash away the house's foundation.

According to Jim Mitchell, an eyewitness of the event, it happened something like this: At 10:45 p. m., a large chunk of earth on the edge of a deep ditch being dug alongside the house on Mill street gave way and caved into the ditch.

In its fall it hit the water pipe breaking it.

Within 45 minutes enough water had flowed from the broken pipe to fill more than half of the ditch. The force of the water from the pipe caused other sections of earth to cave in until it had endangered the ditch to the very edge of the Delta Sig foundations.

At 11:30 Carbondale city police and water works employees arrived, and managed to shut off the water before any extensive damage had been done to the house. They immediately went to work and pumped water from the hole to prevent further landslides and possible loosening of the house foundation.

Within minutes after the original earth slide, a large crowd of passers-by and people from surrounding houses had gathered. Every one seemed to enjoy the excitement — except perhaps a few Delta Sigs who looked rather cold in night clothes until they were convinced that it was safe to go back into the house to change.

Before city officials arrived, a group of Sig Pi's, Gene Graves, Bob Donarski, Pete Lov, and Andy Marce, attempted to shut off the water but were unsuccessful.

"The Sig" delegation was there in full force, and serenaded with a rendition of "Down By the Old Mill Stream."

Egyptian photographer Don Phillips was on hand to make several on-the-spot news shots, and reporters from both the Egyptian and the Southern Illinois showed up.

Among many comments making the rounds of the crowd gathered at the water's edge were remarks

Officers for Delta Sig's pledge class this term are Delores Weatherford, president; Pat Hicks, vice-president; Virginia Pope, secretary; and Sally Davis, sergeant-at-arms.

The Delta Sig's held a bake sale at Sawyer's Paint and Wallpaper store Saturday.

Committee chairmen have been chosen for the formal dance to be held Feb. 20. Sara Floyd and Carol Moore are general co-chairmen.

Members of the Northern Illinois basketball team visited at the Delta Sig house Monday afternoon.

The Delta Sig's served coffee to the city workmen after the water pipe burst outside the house Monday night.

Sheila Planz and Jane Green from Belleville, visited at the sorority house over the weekend.

THETA Xi SELECT SPRING RUSH CHAIRMEN

Bob Edgell and Gerald McGovern have been elected rush chairmen for the Spring term.

Miss Francis Barbour of the English department was a guest at dinner Wednesday night, Jan. 27. Mrs. Leo Brown, Carbondale, was a dinner guest on Feb. 3.

Weekend visitors were Mr. Jesse Stonecipher, Kappa Delta Alpha alum of 1946. Mr. Stonecipher is now a faculty member at the University of Illinois.

Pvt. Carroll Cox, ex-president of Theta Xi, and his friend, Pvt. Richard Wyan of Boston, Mass., also visited this weekend. These men are stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

PHI KAPPA TAU ELECTS OFFICERS

Phi Kappa Tau elected officers at last Monday's meeting. They are: president, George Evanoff; vice-president, Willie Coatsney; secretary, Bob Taffinger; treasurer, Lyle Reed; house manager, Gene Richards; editor, Jere Mileur; chaplain, Tom Richardson; pledge master, Bob Wagner; rushing chairman, Harlon Seats; Inter-fraternity representative, Harlon Seats and Bob Wagner.

Alum Bob Sdoboda visited the house this past week. Alum George Coover was formally initiated into Phi Kappa Tau last Monday night. The 21st annual open house will be held Feb. 16. Cleaus Richards, Bill Brown, and Rich Sandrin are in charge of committees for open house. Willie Coatsney is overall chairman.

SIGMA PI PLANS EXCHANGE PARTY

Sigma Pi plans to have an exchange party with Delta Zeta next week. A French theme will prevail.

Richard Guyton and Don Reed were elected as inter-fraternity representatives for the remainder of this year. Topsy Turvy Day was held Feb. 4.

Gene Graves is the Sig Pi candidate for the Service to Southern award. Final plans for the Ouchie Ball are complete. It is to be held at the Giant City Lodge.

A billiard table has been added to the recreation room and a ping pong table will soon be purchased. The Sig Pi B team won 40-35 and A the team won handily 45-27 in intra-mural basketball.

Pat Bahn Plays Role Of Mischievous Fairy

By Don Hargus

"How now, mad spirit? wether wander you?" If you met a girl on the street and she said that, what would you do?

Pat Bahn is playing Puck, a mischievous fairy in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and that's one of her lines. She says, "I've been so wrapped up in the play recently that I've actually caused myself saying that to people. I've nearly driven by roommate, Jo Rushing, mad with it."

IN THE PLAY Pat has another line that is much more well known, the oft quoted, "Lord, what foels these mortals be!"

Pat's had the acting yen from way back. She says, "I was planning to be a great dramatic actress until my last year in high school. Then my boyfriend made fun of one of my bit scenes and I changed my mind and decided to become a teacher instead."

Here at Southern Pat's a speech major in the College of Education with an English minor. She's hoping to graduate in August and then go to Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge to earn her master's degree. Then, on to teaching. "In high school, if I have to, in college, if I can make it."

PAT GRADUATED from Staunton High School before coming to SIU. There she appeared in class plays, a homecoming play, and several speech contest plays over four years. She was on the yearbook staff, and acted as a cheer-

Shortage Of Elementary Teachers

Today's college graduate still may shop for jobs. Roye R. Bryant, Southern Illinois University Placement Service director, said in issuing his annual report.

SIU 1953 graduates available for job openings were recommended an average of 6.67 times, he reported. A total of 3,914 sets of confidential credentials were mailed out during the year ending October 1. One candidate was recommended for 38 job opportunities.

Reports of 6,683 vacancies received by the Placement Service during the year represented a 25 percent increase over the previous year. Part of the increase was attributed to more contacts and greater effort in obtaining business and industry vacancy listings.

Education vacancy listings increased 22.5 percent with a continuing shortage of elementary and specialized teachers indicated. Bryant said there is a particular shortage of kindergarten and primary teachers. A strong demand exists for chemistry, physics, and foreign language, and library service majors and for agriculture teachers qualified under the Smith-Hughes program. A continuing need for music, art, home economics, and commerce teachers exists, but otherwise the supply of secondary teachers is in balance with the demand.

More SIU education graduates went into teaching the past year. Seventy-six percent of the 1953 education graduates took teaching positions as compared to 65 percent the previous year. SIU graduates having bachelor's degrees averaged nearly 2,300 this year in elementary teaching and 53,300 in high schools. Those having a master's degree command about $200 a year additional.

AMERICAN AND German officials in Germany are baffled because copper pennies are disappearing from circulation in huge quantities. Both the American penny and the German Pfennig are affected. Officials point out that the Pfennig, worth about one-fifth of an American cent, is the same size as a New York subway token. And they have advanced the theory that the Pfennigs may be ending up in the rumble of Manhattan. But their is no explanation at all for the drain of American pennies.

CONSERVATION OFFICIAL Robert Mann of Chicago knows he's a dog of geese but he's no goose. Flocks of geese were seen honking their way over the windy city leading north. Conservation official Mann was asked whether the early northward migration could mean an early spring. Could, said Mann. Or it couldn't. Let the geese stick their necks out. He isn't.

Tired businessmen may be telling their wives the truth—after a fashion—when they phone their excuses from Joe Valdez's bar in Albuquerque, New Mex.

No one will be able to say that they're lying when they say they're being detained at the office. Joe is planning to change the name of his tavern to "The Office."

leader. Pat also played clarinet in the band and sang in the mixed chorus.

When asked if she sang soprano or alto, she said, "Believe it or not, I sang tenor. The boys couldn't hit all the high notes, so three of us girls sang with them. Can you imagine it? Three girls and 50 boys? I loved it. In fact, I tried to sing bass, but they wouldn't let me."

On campus, Pat's been a member of Tri Sig sorority since her freshman year, and is social chairman now. She's a past secretary of Little Theater and now works with the faculty speaker's bureau. Last year she was director of the student speaker's bureau.

HER PLAYS on campus include "Goodbye My Friend," "First Lady," "The Curious Savage," "The Late Christopher Bean," "Medea," and lots and lots of children's plays. Last fall she directed "Mooncalf Mugged," a one-act play.

Pat can't seem to stay away from the theater. Once she even found herself doing stage work during a California vacation. She was visiting a cousin in Hollywood who belongs to a group called the "Play ers Ring" and went backstage one night to visit.

"I WAS all dressed up," she says, "and they handed me a paint brush and said to get to work on the scenery. I even found myself helping usher."

"Midsummer" is Pat's last play at SIU. She'll not be able to go on the Spring Tour as she did last year, and will be practicing teacher during the summer. She says, "I'm really going out with a bang. I don't think my knees will ever be the same again after bowing to Obcron, the Fairy King, so many times."

RUNNING through a few of their lines for SIU movie makers are Don Hargus and Nancy Yost, (seated on bench) two students playing in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" which opens Monday.

Installations On Interior Of Life Science Begin

Practical completion of the new life-science building will be finished sometime within the next few weeks, according to Willard C. Hart, construction supervisor. Classes will not be held in the building until next fall, however, due to the complicated procedure of installing new equipment and moving of equipment now in use.

The furniture company has been notified, and they will be on the campus to complete details of furniture installations.

New details which will be in the building include: air conditioning equipment for experimental areas where controlled temperature is necessary for experimentation work; new type lighting facilities for the auditorium; a larger still enable experiments to be undertaken on the larger scale; a portable laboratory demonstration table to enable experiments to be moved around the laboratories. It features tubes for carrying various fluids around the lab. They are hooked to a central reservoir in the floor of the lab, and a grey asphalt tile floor throughout the building.

Extensive preparation and planning will be required to move and install new equipment and equipment presently used in the laboratories and classrooms now on campus. Some 3,000 items of equipment have to be moved into the building, arranged in proper order, be adjusted, and given a complete check to insure their proper operation.

News Oddities

Bob Henly, RESIDENT OF Green Bay, Wis., Gordon Pearson, thought he had a hot idea when he put a heating pad in the dog house to keep his pet warm during near-zero weather. The idea turned out to be too hot. The heating pad developed a short circuit, drove the dog out, burned down the dog house, and caused $200 damage to Pearson's home.

BEN JAMES JOHNSON, of Duncan, Oklahoma, didn't make a very good holdup man. He tried to hold up Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams, in their grocery store with a 60-cent cap pistol. But Mr. and Mrs. Williams refused to settle for a hold-up. They insisted he wasn't serious. Believe it or not, the hold-up ended with Johnson buying and paying for six slices of baloney. Johnson was arrested later when Williams decided to notify police anyway.

THE GREENWICH VILLAGE Chamber of Commerce has a sentimental interest in New York City's past history—but it doesn't appear that many other New Yorkers feel the same way. The group has good reason for skepticism. The chamber began a drive to drum up $70,000 to save the old Mark Twain house from demolition. So far, contributions have included $12 cash and a check of George Westinghouse's heir. New Yorkers gave one dollar.

A HOUSEWIFE in Ottawa, Ontario ordered a book from a company in Washington, D. C. but the officials of the firm apparently need to read the volume more than she does. She enclosed Canadian bill in payment for the book. The company turned down the money and suggested that if she wanted the book she should send United States currency. Th lady replied she would be delighted. She pointed out that Canadian dollars are worth more than American dollar right now, and the switch would save her about a dime.

OFFICIALS AT RADIO station WWCW in Sanford, N. C., are pondering about the thin line which divides a loan from robbery. The station's $300 tape recorder outfit was stolen. The other day, it was mysteriously returned. Accompanying the device was a one dollar bill—apparently in payment for the "loan" of the recorder.

ALL DOG LOVERS can have a big sigh of relief. It looks now like "Chief" is not caught in a drain pipe near Indianapolis, after all. Lester Jackson, the dog's owner, thought a seven-month-old puppy can slip into the drainage tile January 10th during a raccoon hunt. But the owner of the land holding the pipe, Dr. Earl Ferree, had Jackson and his supporters twice run off for trespassing. Before the controversy ended in a formal Marion county sheriff was taken into court, and Indiana Governor George Craig offered $1,000 of his own money as damage bond.

But now Jackson says he's satisfied the puppy is not in the tile. Says Jackson: "But I'll keep looking for him—he was the best trained coon dog a man ever had."

THE WORLD-FAMOUS Pinkerton Detective agency admits that it can't keep track of its own guns. Nine of them have been stolen. New York Police say the disappearance of the .38 caliber pistol came to light when the private eye agency

Eastern Still Leading, Southern Running Second In Conference Struggle

Southern Illinois University strengthened its hold on second place in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, defeating Northern Illinois 77-63 Monday night (Feb. 8). The victory moved the Salukis to within one game of the league leading Eastern Illinois Panthers. Eastern was idle Monday but will tackle Northern at DeKalb Saturday (Feb. 13).

The two Michigan entries continued to give the Illinois schools a late-season headache as the Chippewas of Central Michigan knocked Illinois Normal out of third spot with a 67-58 licking. Michigan Normal pushed Western Illinois to the limit before losing to the Leathernecks, 75-74.

Western and Southern will mix it up and Central Michigan and Michigan Normal will battle at Mt. Pleasant, Mich., to round out the first round of the playoffs.

Huskie Grapplers Meet IIAC Champ

A preview of the IIAC wrestling meet will be held Saturday at Normal when the Illinois Normal Redbirds, defending conference champions, play host to Northern Illinois Huskies, who finished just one point behind them.

Both teams have built impressive records this winter with the Huskies holding a 3-0 mark despite a late season start. A lack of competition could hurt Northern at both 123 and 130 lbs. Both Merle Varvil and John Reimer are undefeated at those weights but have gone unchallenged in two matches. B-6 won by falls in their matches. As a result, Reimer has had a total of one minute and 40 seconds wrestling time in three matches this season. He now holds an unbeaten string of 24 matches.

Bill Meredith at 137 lbs. is a third undefeater Northern wrestler, but he has competed in all his matches with one fall to his credit. Al Hopkins, who did not compete last week due to an injury, has a 1-1 mark at 147 lbs. Jim Grady, the Huskies' 157-pounder, has a 2-1 mark; Jim Murawka at 167 lbs. a 1-2 record; Bob Schulze at 177 lbs. a 1-2 record; and heavy-weight Ralph Krupke a 1-1-1 season.

Varsity Hockey On Tap At Northern Saturday

Weather permitting, Northern Illinois State Teachers College will compete in its first intercollegiate hockey game Saturday afternoon, facing the University of Chicago on Stagg Field at 1:30.

The Chippewas, along with Wheaton college, have attempted to popularize the sport in the Chicago area and have played each other twice this season with Wheaton capturing both contests. Northern skaters, independent of the official sanction of the school, have decided to get on the bandwagon and join in the competition.

Len Jacobson, a senior from Chicago and regular tackle on the football team, is player-manager for the Huskies. He will be a starter at one defense post. The remainder of the starting line up includes: Bill Sterrett at left wing; Fred Pottinger, center; Tom Burkhardt, right wing; Ed Delaporte, defender; and Dick Sienkiewicz, goal. All are Chicagoans.

for Saturday (Feb. 13). Eastern, with a 6-1 record, is a top-heavy favorite to repeat as IIAC basketball champions for the second straight year. The Panthers have five remaining games, four against teams Southern can catch a tie if Eastern drops one of the five contests and SIU wins all four of theirs. The only way the Salukis can take top honors is for Eastern to lose two of its coming games.

If the Salukis win all their remaining contests and the Panthers win their five, Southern will fall one game short of the crown. Southern can clinch a tie if Eastern drops one of the five contests and SIU wins all four of theirs. The only way the Salukis can take top honors is for Eastern to lose two of its coming games.

The Panthers have games with Northern, Central Michigan, Michigan Normal, and Illinois Normal. The only loop team to defeat them this season, Southern has contests with the two Michigan schools and with Western and Illinois Normal.

The standings:

W	L	Pct.
Eastern	6	1 .857
Southern	6	2 .750
Western	5	4 .556
Ill. Normal	4	4 .500
Central Mich.	4	4 .500
Northern	2	6 .250
Michigan Normal	1	7 .125

Results: Southern 77; Northern 63; Western 75; Michigan Normal 74.

League Leaders Play Northern This Saturday

Attempting to rebound from two straight road losses, the Northern Illinois State basketball team will entertain the Eastern Illinois Panthers Saturday night.

The league-leading Eastern five snapped a three-game Huskie winning streak last Saturday by a decisive 96-78 count. Southern Illinois blasted the Northerners 77-63 Monday night to complete the unproductive road trip. But then IIAC teams are virtually unbeatable at home, and the Huskies could make things tough for the Panthers Saturday night.

A victory is essential for the Eastern aggregation, since the Salukis of Southern are only one game behind them in the league standings. The other teams in the IIAC have virtually eliminated each other.

If the Panthers can stop Huskie center Norm Goldman, a win can come much easier. Goldman continued his rapid rise, scoring 23 points in each game. He now holds an 18.3 average. Big gun for Eastern is Martin Chivoch, who dumped in 30 points against the Huskies last week.

Despite the two losses over the week end, Northern must be considered an improved team. Their chief weakness all year has been a lack of experience, and it takes a long time to overcome that. Coach Gil Hertz added freshmen Joe Acto of Maywood and Charles Faso of Chicago Von Steuben for the trip, which gave him a total of seven frosh, two sophomores and one junior on his ten-man traveling squad.

Coach Hertz said, "We are losing with the seniors, so we might as well lose with the freshmen. Rather than play the seniors, I'll give the freshmen the experience. They do what I tell them to do on the basketball court."

Central Michigan 75; Illinois Normal 58.

This Week's Schedule:
Friday, Feb. 13—Southern at Western; Eastern at Northern; Michigan Normal at Central Michigan.

Saluki Gym Team Is Revived Again After Long Lapse

Gymnastics, lying dormant for nine years, is being revitalized, revived, and resurrected at Southern.

Through the Hurleran efforts of Coaches Jim Bosco and Ray Chinn Southern will again be represented by a gymnastics team. The 1954 edition will start its staff Feb. 25 in the first "Lig" show of the season in Shryock auditorium.

Everything from pyramid building to trampoline magic will be displayed by the Saluki coordination boys. Coaches Bosco and Chinn have been running the aquad through vigorous workouts in preparation for the exhibition. The team has performed at several high schools, perfecting their routines before a live audience.

With the help of Mrs. Bosco, who repaired the few uniforms left from better days, and other interested students, including the team members who purchased their own shoes, the gym crew is building for the day when it will be able to compete with other schools in gymnastics meets.

In the past the teams have competed with such schools as Minnesota, Chicago, and Illinois, but after the decline of the sport in 1944 gymnastics has been relegated to an exhibition status. This exhibition standing will continue until a policy can be worked out whereby the squad will become an official athletic team of the University.

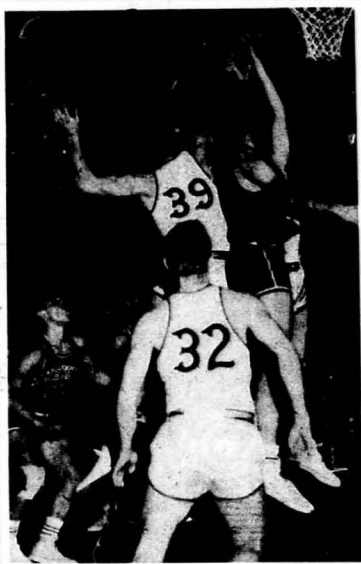

Various exhibitions in Southern Illinois schools have been scheduled for the near future and if Feb. 25 performance is as team member want it to be, another such exhibition will be held in the spring term.

Tickets for the show may be purchased from any team member. Coaches Bosco and Chinn, or from the University ticket office in the men's gymnasium.

Huskie Mentor Thinks Wise Coaches Switch To Freshman Players

It seems like Northern Illinois State's basketball team has not only the youngest coach, Gil Hertz, but it also has the youngest team in the IIAC league. Part of the first five are three freshman ball handlers. Traveling to Southern Illinois University for a court battle, coach Hertz brought seven freshmen, two sophomores, and one junior to play the Salukis. "I left the seniors home," said Hertz.

Coach Hertz said, "We are losing with the seniors, so we might as well lose with the freshmen. Rather than play the seniors, I'll give the freshmen the experience. They do what I tell them to do on the basketball court."

A BIG TANGLE of hands in the air as they attempt to take a rebound from Norm Goldman (70), while Gordon Lambert (32) is poised in the foreground.

Primas On The Loose

By Don Primas
"I'm going to be a bachelor."

There's no doubt in anyone's mind that Isador O'boole made that profound statement, uttered in contempt of the grand old institution of marriage. True, it was made back in the days when Isadore thought "Sue" was the number after five, but nevertheless he made the statement. He is now faced with the dead certainty of making a liar of himself.

You see, Isadore is a marked man marked by the fickle finger of Tattletale Tillie. Somehow, some way, Isadore got himself engaged to Tattletale Tillie, the most nee-happy girl this side of Yankee Stadium.

Tillie is a nice enough girl for Isadore; it's just that she's got a perverted sense of recreation. While some girls get their kicks out of roller-skating or rubbing tummy with gags in dance halls, Tillie gets a kick out of sitting around in a tattoo parlor and getting herself punched full of multi-colored holes. Every inch of her (and that's plenty of inches, brother) is covered with a picture of some sort.

Perhaps it was the tattoos that attracted Isadore to the busom young Tillie. After all, Isadore is a poor guy, and he can't afford a television set, but with Tillie and her art work, who needs a TV set? There's a story circulating around the poolroom to the effect that Isadore once invited Tillie up to his apartment to see his etchings. Tillie went him one better and invited him to her shack to see her tattoos. Isadore was very proud of the fact that he was the only guy in the precinct who had a technician girl friend.

The two lovers' first meeting was very tender. Isadore was stumbling down a very dark street when he heard something moaning in the gutter. His curiosity got the best of him and compelled him to investigate the noise. Sure enough, the noise was coming from the future Mrs. O'boole; she was face down in the gutter with her hand

Southern Chills Northern In Last-Half Rampage

By Don Primas

Although in the first half the Northern Illinois quintet was hotter than a fat man in a phone booth, they chilled in the last half and were handily stifled by the rip-snorting Salukis 77-63, Monday at SIU.

The Huskies from DeKalb hit 15

Wrestlers Face Tough Navy Men Here Tomorrow

Southern Illinois University wrestlers will tangle in their second home match of the season Saturday (Feb. 13) at 2 p. m. against the Sailors from Great Lakes. The Salukis lost a 2-3 decision to the Navy team earlier in the season.

Southern, sporting a 1-3 record, is preparing for the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference meets Mar. 6 at SIU. The Salukis have been defeated by two league foes this year, dropping meets to Western 14-11 and to defending champion Illinois Normal 19-8.

Coach Jim Wilkinson's team placed fifth in the conference last season and has four members of that team back this winter. Co-captain Bob Whelan, last year won the conference 123-pound class. Co-captain Joe Fedora is a second spot in the 147-pound class, Bob Zdenek won third in the 157-pound group, and Kent Werner placed second in the heavyweight division.

For the Great Lakes scrap Wilkinson will probably send this lineup onto the mats: 123—Whelan (3-0-1); 130—Jack Cookson (1-2); 137—Bill Mayr (2-1) or Bob Calhoun (1-2); 147—Fedora (2-0); 157—Zdenek (2-2); 167—Dick Erickson (2-1); 177—Giles Sinkewicz (2-2); and Heavyweight—Kent Werner (0-3-1).

out of 24 shots in that first half, but could only muster eight out of 23 the second half. Consequently the three point lead they held at halftime was swallowed up by the Salukis in the third period, and Northern found themselves in a hole from which they couldn't climb out.

Four SIU seniors took the boards for the last time before the home crowd. Capt. Jacques Theriot fouled out with three minutes left in the final period, and the Saluki followers showed their appreciation for his all-out performances by rendering him a salute of rafter-banking applause. Tom Millikin and Dave Davis were accorded the same honors when they were taken out of the game earlier.

Harvey Welch, the fourth senior, topped off his farewell performance with 21 points, 11 of them in that fateful third quarter with a total of 15 in the second half. The Salukis were trailing, 49-44, with three minutes left in the third period when they started their game-winning push. Jack Morgan connected on a jump shot from outside the circle, followed by a one-handed set shot by Dan Smith. Northern called a free throw, but Welch came back with a long set shot. Two more field goals by Welch and one by Smith gave the Salukis a lead which wasn't seriously threatened the rest of the game.

Welch received the adulation of the crowd for his neat work in the pivot spot. Most of his points were scored on a lay-up shot, made after he had taken a pass from a guard and faked his defender out of his sweet spots.

The Huskies' Norm Goldman was the game's top scorer with 23 points. Besides Welch's 21 marks, Gib Kuruz had 17 and Theriot had 13 or account for the major portion of SIU's scoring.

IN THE still of the night—high above a sleeping American city—an unidentified aircraft is spotted. In a matter of seconds a lightning-like jet interceptor takes to the air. Unerringly, with an Aircraft Observer showing the way, the Air Force F-94 Night Fighter speeds to intercept the stranger. The Aircraft Observer is the man behind the pilot—the officer who keeps America's planes flying on course and on target. Without him the Air Force couldn't do its job.

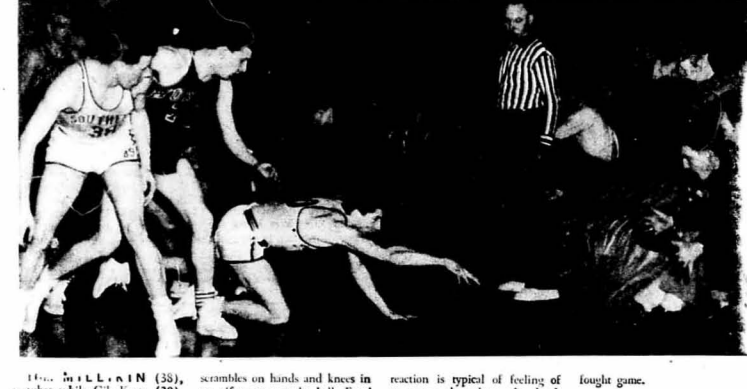

He's a Bombardment Officer... in full control of the plane over the target area... the Air Force Officer who "lowers the boom" on the enemy.

What the Aircraft Observer gets
He earns over $5,000 a year. His silver Aircraft Observer wings give him prestige and distinction, and he wears the bars of an Air Force Lieutenant. They mark him as the eyes, ears, and brains of America's Number One flying team.

What is the Aircraft Observer?
He's a Radar Officer... employing an all seeing eye that penetrates where human sight fails.
He's an Aircraft Performance Engineer Officer... knowing everything there is to know about his plane... keeping it fit for the skies and ready for action.
He's a Navigation Officer... plotting his plane's course... with an entire crew depending on him for a safe flight.

What it takes to be an Aircraft Observer
The Aircraft Observer must be sound of limb, keen of mind, and above all, must have the determination to be the best. To qualify as an Aircraft Observer you must be single, between 19 and 26½ years old, and a high school graduate. However, it will be better for you and the Air Force if you stay in college and graduate before you apply. Then you, too, can be one of the best... as an Aircraft Observer.
