HERE TOMORROW
The Four Lads, Columbia recording artists, will present two shows at Shryock Auditorium tomorrow night at 7:30 and 9 p.m. Creators of such songs as "No, Not Much," "The Things We Did Last Summer" and "Standing On the Corner," the quartet is composed of Frank Buserri, Bernard Toorish, James Arnold and James Corrado Codarini. Tickets for the show are priced at $1.75, $1.50 and $1.25 at the Student Union Ticket Office. Unsold tickets will be on sale at the door tomorrow evening.

Columbia's Four Lads Headline Weekend

Tickets Still On Sale For 7:30, 9 P. M. Shryock Shows

From Scranton to Las Vegas, Tulsa to Toronto, musical history has been, and is continuing to be, made by a fresh and imaginative vocal quartet with what is called "a new sound" . . . the Four Lads, who will be at Shryock Auditorium tomorrow night for two performances.

The Lads will perform at 7:30 and 9 p. m. in place of Johnny Mathis, who was scheduled for two presentations. Mathis cancelled his entire Midwestern college tour last week because of illness.

Tickets are still on sale at the Student Union Ticket Office. Exchange of tickets and refunding of money will end at 5 p. m. today. Persons who wish to attend the show tomorrow night and who have tickets for the Mathis performance may exchange them for Four Lads' tickets, and will receive 25-cents refund for each ticket. Persons who do not wish to attend the show may have their money refunded.

However, those who do not either exchange tickets or get a refund prior to the 5 p. m. deadline today, will "be stuck" with the Mathis tickets. No exchanges will be made after the deadline.

The Four Lads—Frank Buserri, Bernie Toorish, Connie Codarini and Jimmy Arnold—will be described by Mitch Miller as "by far the most truly musical group singing today." They have been voted "America's Favorite vocal group" on the Make-Believe-Ballroom Poll.

Five Gold Records
They have recorded five Gold Records (records which sell more than a million copies): "Standing on the Corner," "The Bus Stop Song," "Who Needs You," "No, Not Much" and "Moments To Remember."

The Lads have appeared at New York's Copacabana Club, where they recently played to capacity crowds, and appeared with equal success at Los Angeles' famous Palladium and Las Vegas' Thunderbird Hotel, where they broke all existing attendance records.

Launching their professional career under their present name, the Four Lads sang at local clubs and hotels in Toronto and nearby cities. They were booked on a coast-to-coast radio program, but

92 Southern Coeds Out Of Commission

Ninety-two Southern girls—at one time single and available—are now out of commission . . . for the most part.

These 92 have succumbed to the charm of Southern gentlemen, as they have become either pinned, engaged or married . . . and in the short time of six weeks.

Since Christmas, attachments reported to the Egyptian include 50 engagements, 23 pinnings and 19 marriages. Needless to say, there are several which have not been reported to the paper.

So if spring is the time when the young man's fancy turns, the past six weeks is just spring training. And when the season really gets started, the jewelers at the vicinity will have a field day.

And guys, to make this astounding situation even more ironic, is the fact that 1960 is Leap Year!

So beware the idea of spring . . .

'Salty Dogs' Tops Masked Ball Friday

The Salty Dogs, Purdue's student Dielcian band, will feature at the 1960 Fine Arts Masked Ball a week from tonight (Feb. 19) at Lentz Hall. The Dogs will also present an all-school concert at Shryock Auditorium prior to the dance.

The Ball will cater to costumes depicting any type of American art. Admission for the 8:30 p. m. dance will be $1 per person. Glen Daum's Orchestra will supply the dance music.

The Salty Dogs have made several recordings and have traveled extensively in the Midwest. Admission to the concert will be 50-cents per person, and there will be no reserved seats.

Prizes will be given for best individual, best couple and best group costumes at the second annual Ball. Lentz Hall will be transformed into an effect of art, music and design studio.

In addition to their recordings and concert appearances, the Salty Dogs have played at Chicago's elite Blue Note.

They have been termed by members of the Office of Student Affairs as one of the finest Dielcian groups in the Midwest.

Both the concert and Ball are open to students, faculty and staff. No advance tickets are needed for the show, but both will go on sale Monday in the Student Union.

Free J. J. Johnson Jazz Show Here Monday Night

J. J. Johnson, who will appear here with his jazz orchestra at 8 p. m. Monday, began his climb to musical stardom in 1947, when Esquire Magazine voted him new star on trombone in its Jazz Poll.

The free concert will be held in Shryock Auditorium, and no tickets will be available. Seats will be given on a first come, first serve basis. The show is part of the Festival of Fine Arts.

Johnson began his long trip to stardom in 1942, when he joined the Benny Carter Orchestra as solo trombonist. He joined forces with Count Basie in 1944 and later enlisted with the "new movement" in New York.

After playing for about a year with the Illinois Jacquet combo, J. J. formed his own combo, and began playing small engagements.

After the 1947 honor, he went overseas in 1951 to the Far East with an All-Star group to play for servicemen in Korea. Japan, Philippines and Hawaiian Islands, Guam and Kwajalein.

Following his tour, he taught part time at a progressive music school in the Bronx. In addition to his free lance work, Jay teamed up with Kai Windig—who appeared as Southern with his septet for the Homecoming stage show in 1958—to form a group which was known as "Jay and Kai."

The group disbanded in 1956, and Johnson again formed his own group, consisting of first rate jazz artists. He still has the same group, which is now popular both on recordings and personal appearances in clubs, concerts and colleges.

Johnson, who has a long-term exclusive contract with Columbia records, has won first place on trombone in every major jazz poll both here and abroad. He won the 1958 Playboy Magazine Jazz Poll, receiving more total votes than any other musician—four of every five votes were cast for him.

Leonard Feather recently included in his Encyclopedia, Yearbook of Jazz a Musician's Musician Poll. A jury of 100 fellow artists voted Johnson as the "greatest trombonist ever" in the poll.

His diversified tastes and interests in music extend to symphonic and classical musical literature.

J. J. Johnson has appeared at Massey Hall, Toronto and Town Casino in Toronto; Spolite in Washington, D. C.; Peacock Alley in St. Louis; Crawford's in Pittsburgh; Modern Jazz Room in Cleveland; Showboat and Peps in Philadelphia; Storyville in Boston; Carnegie Hall and Town Hall in New York; and Blue Note, Modern Jazz Room and Preview Lounge in Chicago.

MRS. CARTY SPEAKS AT MOUNDS SCHOOL

Mrs. Dorothy Carty, field lecturer in home economics education at SIU, served as counselor for a round table discussion of "teen-age" problems in the Mounds elementary school.

Mrs. Carty led girls in upper elementary grades in discussion of social relations, "growing up," boy-girl relationships and other personal "teen" problems.

On Feb. 18, Mrs. Carty will be the speaker at a combined New Baden and Trenton founders day meeting of PTA, using as her title "How Much is Enough?"

Three Films This Weekend

SIU movie-goers will have three films to choose from this weekend as a Sunday Southern Film Society showing is added to the regular Movie Hour features.

Showing tonight at Furr Auditorium is "The Virgin Queen," starring Bette Davis, Richard Todd and Joan Collins. The color and Cinemascope film is an insight into the 16th Century court of that most famous monarch, Queen Elizabeth I. Show time is 8, 8 and 10 p. m.

"The Mississippi Gambler" will show at 6:30 and 8:30 p. m. tomorrow, also in Furr Auditorium. Starring Tyrone Power, Piper Laurie and Julie Adams, it is the story of a handsome gambler, adept at cards, who sets out to build himself a fortune through honest gambling. This movie is also in color.

Sunday's feature is "The Forty-first," a color movie starring Izabella Ivizkayeva and Oleg Strizhnev. It has Russian dialog with English subtitles. A small Red Guard detachment loses its way in the Kara-Kum desert. Their best sniper, a young girl, falls in love with a white guard prisoner.

All alone, far from the world of war, the two forget their enmity. This movie will be shown at 2 and 8:30 p. m.

Admission to each of the three films is 25-cents for students with activity cards, and 40-cents general admission.

Theta Xi Applications Due Today

Applications for Theta Xi Variety Show acts and candidates for the Service to Southern Award are due today. The show is set for March 4-5 in Shryock Auditorium.

About 25 applications had been submitted by groups and individuals for tryouts at press-time. Tryouts will be held in Shryock Auditorium Feb. 22 and 24.

The Service to Southern Award is presented annually to a junior or senior man and woman for their contribution to Southern in extracurricular activities. Members of Theta Xi fraternity will choose five finalists from the candidates, and a faculty committee will choose the two winners.

Five trophies will be presented to winning acts in the annual variety show, with a traveling trophy to the first place winner in group competition. Second and third awards will also be presented in group competition, as well as first and second place trophies in the individual field.

Four or less persons are considered an individual act, and five or more persons constitute a group.

The U. S. Marine Band of 100 men sometimes is divided into smaller musical units for special affairs.

4 TP Forums This Quarter

Four Thompson Point Forums have been announced for the remainder of the quarter, for which Freshman Convocation credit will be given.

Edward Shea, chairman of the physical education department, will speak on "Pro's and Cons of the Physical Education Program" Tuesday at 9 p. m. in Muckelroy Auditorium.

The Feb. 23 assembly will feature Dr. Roye Bryant, director of the Placement Service, who will speak on "Job Seeking and Job Opportunities" at 9 p. m. in Lentz Hall Dining Room No. 3. Egan Kearns of the government department will fill the March 1 date with a talk on "The Students' Role in Politics." The lecture will begin at 9 p. m. in Muckelroy Auditorium.

The final forum will be held March 8 in Muckelroy Auditorium, and will feature Herman Haag, visiting professor in agricultural industries. Haag will speak on "Agricultural and Living Conditions in Burma."

Rifle Club Plans Begin For Campus

Plans are being made to establish an SIU Rifle Club, open to any student who desires to learn better shooting techniques and improve his skill in shooting.

The new organization is to be listed by the Office of Student Affairs as an activity, and will be under the acting direction of Jack Philbrick, traffic supervisor of the Saluki Patrol, through Miss Elizabeth Mullins. Organizational meeting for the club is scheduled for Saturday at 10 p. m. at the rifle range, fourth floor of Old Main.

Once established, the club is expected to have target shoots every week. Philbrick said. The primary purpose of the club is not to enter into competition, but to give its members a chance to shoot inexpensively and under supervision, he said.

U. N. Representative Leads Model Assembly Here Tonight

Clark M. Eichelberger, executive director of the American Association for the United Nations, will discuss "The Major Problems Before the United Nations" in a public lecture here tonight. He will speak at the 8 p. m. plenary session of SIU's second Model United Nations General Assembly in Muckelroy Auditorium.

Eichelberger, a native of Illinois, has been active in world peace organizations since 1929. During part of World War II he was consultant to the State Department, and as such was a member of a committee of five which prepared the first American working draft of the United Nations Charter.

He was a consultant to the American delegation at the 1945 San Francisco Conference which wrote the Charter. Immediately preceding the United States' en-

Judging For Southern Acres Queen Tuesday

Judging of the "Miss Southern Acres" contest will begin in the Southern Acres Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, with crowning of the titlist to be at a coronation dance in Lentz Hall March 11.

The winner will be Southern Acres' candidate in the University-wide Miss Southern contest during the 1960 Spring Festival.

Application blanks, with details of the contest, are available at the Student Union Desk. There is a $1 entry fee. Entries should be sent to Al Henderson, 1117 East Hall, Southern Acres.

Preliminary judging will be held in Southern Acres Auditorium Feb. 16 and 23, with third and final judging in the University-wide Miss Southern contest during the 1960 Spring Festival.

Campus Chest Goal $3,000

A goal of $3,000 has been set for the 1960 Campus Chest Drive which opens Monday. Money collected is to be equally distributed to the Blind Service Agency, Save the Children Federation, United Cerebral Palsy and the World University Service.

Contributions to the Blind Service Agency are used to help the visually-handicapped and the blind to become self-reliant and self-supporting. Free services, such as guide dogs, eye clinics, medical care and emergency relief are also provided.

The Save the Children Federation provides aid to individuals and groups without regard to race or creed. Material aid is provided for children in underprivileged rural areas in the U. S., as well as in Austria, Finland, France, Germany, Holland, Italy and Greece.

United Cerebral Palsy needs funds to increase facilities for diagnosis, treatment and education to train greater numbers of trained personnel and to launch an effective research attack. Cerebral Palsy is one of the greatest cripples of mankind, knowing no age barriers. The disease damages brain tissues, which results in the loss of muscular control.

Slogan for the 1960 Campus Chest Drive is "We've got it; they need it. Share it." Glenda Smith is chairman of the drive on campus.

Starts Monday

Plans call for students to be contacted individually for contributions, but containers will be placed in classrooms for those who do not get a chance to make their contributions directly.

MEMORIAL

Sam Meyer, right foreground, president of Theta Xi, presents a Siegfried Reinhardt painting to SIU as a memorial to the late Richard Rodgers, a 1958 graduate of Southern and past president of the fraternity. Accepting for the University are John E. Grinnell, SIU vice president, and Ralph McCoy, director of libraries. The painting will be hung in Morris Library. Rodgers died in an Oklahoma plane crash.

Editors' Opinions

Good Or Bad?

Is the SIU intramural program serving its true purpose? Granted, the program in theory is a good one, but in practice it is defeating its own purpose.

The program is aimed at sportsmanship and friendly competitive spirit. It offers the opportunity to develop athletic skill and team togetherness. But recently the teams have gotten too close together and the result has been more "skills" than "skills."

The competition in the sports should be taken as "may the best man win, but will play fairly." But lately the byword seems to be "no quarter asked and no quarter given."

Does the fault lie in the teams themselves? It does seem logical and probable that much of the blame should be on the players themselves. When a team begins a rough-house treatment of the other team seldom stands back and lets them continue. They usually fight back... which results in a nice little fiasco of sportsmanship and leaves a bad name for the intramural program.

Is the program itself at fault? It seems that quite possibly there has been a breakdown along the line of "what this program should really mean."

Maybe there has been a slackening in the guidance and leadership of the officials. If this is the case then it should be a simple matter to remedy... Among all groups the drive is to win... win at all costs. This has brought a cut-throat situation that breeds ill-feeling and destroys the major idea behind the program.

Writers Declare Opinions On Intramurals, Apathy

Dear Editor: Why is it that the American university student is so apathetic towards and unconcerned with the political and moral problems of his society? I have talked to various educators from different parts of the United States and they have informed me that the attitude is quite general.

They say that the students seldom if ever take an explicit stand on any political issue. It seems that they either have no opinions or they are afraid of expressing them. This is a nation in which we have freedom of speech, and assembly. Yet for all practical purposes these rights might as well not exist, because the students never choose to exercise them.

In the revolutions of most countries it has been the student body of the university that has aroused the masses and stirred them out of their lethargy. The students always pointed the way, showed the people how to obtain their real desires, and provided the leadership for the purpose.

But in our society, it seems that the students themselves are not politically conscious enough to ascertain what political forces are working in their favor, let alone provide the leadership for the masses of the academic community. They do not read about, discuss or debate social problems.

A soap-box orator on the university campus is about as rare as athletic events are numerous. The flag waving and the critical agitation of the Twenties and the Thirties has given way to the sports arena, chummy but intellectually stagnant parties, and the television sets. With the terminus of the flag waving and the political banners came a stiffening of the American conscience.

The success of a democratic form of government depends upon the criticism which the citizens make of it. Unless they know and evaluate what the government has done in the past they cannot know if the government is acting in their interest. Also, if the government doesn't receive criticism it will assume that its past policies are what the citizens desire and the status quo will be maintained.

It is also obvious that no moral progress can occur unless the status-quo gives way to constructive change, but again this cannot occur without a public denunciation of the established order.

This theory has either been disproven since "The Thirties" or (and this seems to be more probably the case) it just cannot make its way to the level of consciousness which is under fire from the incessant mass media and the cowboy's fast-draw.

The causes of this political illiteracy is difficult to determine with accuracy, but in addition to the mass media which is training us to "group-think," I would cite the following causes:

1. The modern student is a specialist in a particular, narrow and confined field of study. Here he learns a certain range of facts and perhaps a certain technique. These are his ticket into the economic world and once he has presented his credentials he can sell these technological gems for a fairly high price. Those who can take orders and endure the monotony even manage to survive, after a fashion. Because of this social pattern and the attitudes that fortify it there is little motivation on the part of the student to learn anything more than his job demands. Thus our universities turn out lots of "technological idiots," but few people who are able to analyze, decipher and evaluate the stream of social and political events around them.

2. A second cause could very well be the attitude of many religious people towards politics. They not only separate the church and state in the sense that the clergymen are not statesmen, but they also believe in the separation of church and state. They not only separate the church and state in the sense that the clergymen are not statesmen, but they also believe that no moral person would concern himself with political activity and its problems.

3. The third cause lies in the fact that our economy is now functioning adequately enough to supply most people with enough material to satisfy their animal needs. This pacifies the spirited element in the soul and there is no longer any passionate drive to goad the intellect on to great achievements. These people have no problems because they have no spiritual and intellectual needs, or if they do have such needs they cannot formulate and recognize them. Thus, they are still animals who have not yet evolved. They have traded their freedom, their intellectual integrity and their dignity for a "mess of pottage" which will rot and decay.

Whatever the causes may be, this author is certain it is not the absence of burning political issues and important social problems.

Linn Hamilton, Philosophy department.

Dear Editor: As a witness to the basketball game in which Phil Wolf received a broken nose plus a broken frontal plate I feel that I must reply to a statement made by Edgar Moore in a recent letter to the editor.

Mr. Moore states that the paper did not print that Phil was showing and elbowing thereby causing the fight. The reason the paper did not print it was that Phil was doing less elbowing and showing (or as far as I could tell none at all) than members of the other team.

When an intramural basketball game becomes so important that a man has to be hospitalized for five days, receive surgery to rebuild his nose, and now quite possibly withdraw from school, then it is time to re-evaluate the purpose of intramurals. Games should be played hard but not that hard. Let's not condone such games!

ASHES AND WATER

Within me there lies a hot fire. Or perhaps it's a pool of ice. I don't know which and I don't know what I will do.

Suppose it makes much difference. Anyway, for I've heard tell that extremes are akin. No matter then, ice or fire, Let me try and describe it to you.

(Now to begin with you must Remember it has no words and Of course this makes it very difficult to explain.) It comes as if toying with your senses, Never fulfilling, only flirting with consciousness.

It's almost as if it leaks to The surface only to tease, Making you ask, is it really there at all. This hot fire, this pool of ice.

Think. Think. Think. At a moment you're going to understand. You'll know the words, you'll be able to say it.

Ice? You'll Understand. You'll say, "yes, yes, that's it. That's it. I know now, I know myself. I know you. I understand. I understand.

KOLSTOE IN DALLAS FOR SMU CONFERENCE
Dr. Oliver Kolstoe was one of five educators who participated in a group session at a conference for rehabilitation of the mentally retarded held this week at Southern Methodist University in Dallas Cooperating with SMU in the project is the National Assn. for Retarded Children and the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare.

Kolstoe was especially selected for the session because of the pioneer work SIU has done in the rehabilitation of mentally retarded teenagers through vocational training. The work on the Carbondale campus has, in less than a year, served as a training source for over 60 youths. It is supported by joint federal and state funds and is unique in its link with a state university.

THREE WHO PASSED IN THE NIGHT

Last year, as everyone knows, 1,210,614 undergraduates dropped out of college. 256,080 flunked; 309,656 got married; 375,621 ran out of money; and 309,254 found jobs. As you have, of course, observed, this accounts for only 1,210,611 out of 1,210,614. What happened to the other three?

Well sir, to find the answer, I recently completed a tour of American campuses where I interviewed 40 million students and sold several subscriptions to The Open Road for Boys, and it pleased me to report that I can now account for those three elusive undergraduates.

The first was an LSU junior named Fred Gaugin. He was extremely popular, always ready with a smile, fond of folk dancing and pralines, and last semester his Chi Psi brothers unanimously elected him treasurer of the fraternity. This proved an error. Gaugin, alas, promptly absconded with the money and went to Tahiti to paint. The fraternity is bending every effort to extradite Gaugin, but Tahiti, alas, is currently observing the feast of Diphong, the Sun-God, a five-year ceremony during which all the islanders wear masks, so nobody, alas, can say for certain which one is Gaugin.

Nobody can say for certain which one is Gaugin.

The second missing undergraduate is William Cluff Sigafos, Oregon State freshman, who went one day last fall to a disreputable vendor named A. M. Saschweit to buy a pack of Marlboros. Mr. Saschweit did not have any Marlboros because Marlboros are only sold by reputable vendors. However, he told Sigafos that he had another brand which was just as good, and Sigafos, being but an innocent freshman, believed him.

Well sir, you and I know there is no other brand as good as Marlboros. That fine filter, that flavorful flavor, that pleasure, that joy, that fulfillment—are Marlboro's and Marlboro's alone. All of this was quickly apparent to young Sigafos and he flew into a terrible rage. "As good as Marlboros indeed!" he shrieked, kicking his roommate furiously. "I am going right back to that mendacious Mr. Saschweit and give him a thrashing he's won't soon forget!" With that he seized his lacrosse bat and rushed out.

Mr. Saschweit heard him coming and started running. Now Mr. Saschweit, before he became a disreputable vendor, had taken numerous prizes as a cross-country runner, and he thought he would soon outdistance young Sigafos. But he reckoned without Sigafos's stick-to-itiveness. At last report the two of them had passed Cellaville. When they reach the Atlantic Seaboard, had Mr. Saschweit will get his lungs from Sigafos, you may be sure, and, I, for one, am glad.

The third missing undergraduate, also named Sigafos, is a Bennington sophomore named Celeste Sigafos and, ironically, she never intended to leave college at all. She was merely going home for Christmas on the Natchez, Mobile, and Boise Railroad, and during the night, alas, her upper berth slammed shut on her. Being a Bennington girl, she naturally did not wish to make an unbecomingly ugly, so she just kept silent. The next morning, alas, the railroad went bankrupt, and Miss Sigafos today is living forgotten on a siding near Valparaiso, Indiana. Fortunately she has plenty of Marlboros with her.

And how about the rest of you? Do you have plenty of Marlboros? Or do you like mildness but you don't like filters, plenty of Philip Morris? Hmm? Do you?

'Not As Good' 1960 Job Opportunities

Job opportunities are not as good for the 1960 education major graduate as they were for the hopeful teacher of 1959, according to Roye Bryant, director of the SIU Placement Service. Bryant said there is a considerable shortage of interviewers as compared with previous years.

Supervisor Says Still Nights And Saturday

"I can see no way in which night and Saturday classes can be eliminated on this campus. This is the feeling of Mario B. Treese, Sectioning Center supervisor at SIU. In an interview Saturday, Treese said that as more classroom space is made available each year, the number of night and Saturday classes will probably decrease; however, there will continue to be a need for these classes.

Keith Sanders, junior speech major from Benton, won the $25 first prize in the Flora Brennan Memorial Oratory Contest in Morris Library Auditorium Feb. 5. Sanders' oration was "The Sophistic Society."

Engineering Day Set Feb. 26-27

Displays of engineering equipment, laboratory instruments and student projects will be features of an Engineering Day at SIU Feb. 26-27, according to Stanley Chesnek, Centralia, president of the SIU Applied Science Club. The club and the SIU applied science department are co-sponsoring the event for interested area high school students interested in engineering, science and mathematics.

Next Decade Housing Sites Needed

With seven new apartment buildings for married students almost three-fourths filled, SIU housing officials have started a major appraisal of student housing needs for the next decade.

Contractors have turned over the keys to the last of eight buildings in the new Southern Hills apartments project for 128 student families. But negotiations are well underway for a joint $7.9 million loan that will add 144 more apartments to Southern Hills as well as 11 other units for 990 single students in the Thompson Point and organized group housing areas on the other side of the campus.

The drive for housing construction, being carried out largely by another record enrollment. For the past two years, increasing numbers of September newcomers have been forced to abandon registration when they could not find housing.

Now, with about one-fourth of the single students at Carbondale housed in permanent University facilities, Housing Director J. Albin Yokie and other administration officials are wondering if a 1957 estimate of 8,500 beds needed in the next decade is a realistic one.

Long Range Plan "Although right now we are in better shape than at any time since the end of the war, we must try to assemble a definite picture of housing needs for families, graduate students, organized groups and single students during the next seven to 10 years," Yokie says.

PHI SIGMA HAVE SCHOLARSHIP FEAST

Phi Sigma Kappa held its steak-and-beans dinner for the brothers who made high grade averages for Fall term recently. Those honored were Joe Kistner, Gary Stoltz, Dave Moon, Jake Ghazarian, George Folkerts, Denny Withers and Larry Sykes.

Kistner took top honors with his 4.86 grade average. He is a sophomore from Belleville and is majoring in psychology.

Mike Anderson was appointed house manager Monday evening and Stoltz was appointed steward.

Al Holtzschler and his wife were guests at the house for Sunday afternoon dinner.

Lynn Yuill, the wife of Bob Yuill, was a finalist in the Mrs. Southern contest.

SLUMBER PARTY FOR DELTA ZETA

A slumber party for the pledges and actives of Delta Zeta was held at the chapter house. A line-up will be held when the girls get in, and an informal party will follow.

Another rush party was held at the house Wednesday evening with Linda Sunday, assistant rush chairman, in charge. Pledging has been planned for some time this weekend.

Linda Burkitt, acting president of Aquettes, is chairman of the Spring Water Show. Pat Chester is modeling in a style show at Sparta tomorrow afternoon.

The sorority's basketball team beat Alpha Kappa Alpha 1 a s t week, 22-7, and also was victorious over Alpha Gamma Delta's team.

ALPHA PHI ALPHA HOLDS PLEDGING

Several men were recently pledged into Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, according to Pledge Master Oscar King. They are Morris Bradford, Jerome Chestnut, Ronald Harris, William Hatcher, George Henderson, Anthony Jackson, David Jackson, Charles Kendall, William Moffet, Allen Nelson, Jerome Oglesby, Edward Pugh, Samuel Stiles, William Sims, Clarence Walker and Jacques Weaver.

In last week's basketball game with Sigma Tau Gamma, the fraternity emerged victorious by 10 points. In other sports, the Alpha Phi Alpha's are presently ranked number one in the Independent Bowling League.

The members are busy with decorations for the Old Armory in preparation for a Leap Year dance. This dance will be given immediately following the Southern-Tennessee A & I game next Friday.

A Boeman party is scheduled for Feb. 20 in behalf of Edgar Jackson, who will not be able to take an active part in the fraternity next term.

BOWYER FASHION SHOW TONIGHT

Thirteen students will be modeling the latest in fashions tonight as Bowyer Hall, Thompson Point, holds its annual banquet and fashion show at Lents Hall.

Those modeling in the style show are Claudia Castallo, Joan Lemen, Julie Dietrich, Judy Valente, Beverly Coleman, Sara Millspaugh, Suzanne Smith, Karen Adams, Sheila Frazer, Anita Lubko, Sherrie Sousley, Lou Evans and Connie Houston.

The banquet begins at 5:30 p.

m. and the fashion show at 6:15. Fashions will be supplied by Kay's of Carbondale.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA GOES ICE SKATING

Sigma Tau Gamma had an exchange ice skating party with Sigma Sigma Sunday evening. An exchange with Delta Zeta has been set up for the first weekend in March with a "Mardi Gras" theme.

Len Kalakian and his committee are at work preparing the group's act for the Theta Xi Variety Show.

The pledges presented a skit for the active body during Monday's meeting. John Kohlfier and Charles Argento shared the lead.

Jim Hayes was formally pledged during the last chapter meeting also.

Recent chapter appointments saw Fred Surovick installed as chaplain and Bob Bourque as athletic chairman.

Alumni Jim Anderson and Howard Helwig stayed at the chapter house last weekend. Alumni Wayne Walker is to be married tomorrow afternoon, and Dave Wheeler was recently married in Chicago.

TRI SIG OPEN HOUSE IS SUNDAY

Sigma Sigma Sigma will hold an open house Sunday from 7 to 9 p. m. at the chapter house, 107 group housing. Everyone, especially those who have not seen the new houses, has been invited to come.

Judy Shackelford, chairman, is planning the formal show of the new house around a Valentine's Day theme.

ALPHA GAM-DELTA CHI PARTY HELD

Last Sunday evening an exchange party was held with the Delta Chi's at their chapter house. Both Alpha Gam's and the Delta Chi's dressed in costumes which represented some Hollywood actor or actress. The pledges carried out the Hollywood theme with the presentation of a skit, "Cinderella". Dancing was held and refreshments served.

The new pledge class elected officers last week. They are: Kay Hall, president; Mary Groeteke, secretary; Melinda Federer, treasurer; Phyllis Racina, chaplain; Mary Ann Bartie, social chairman and Lois Palmer, scholastic chairman.

Mrs. Emma Jean Baldwin, former president and an alumna of the chapter, was chosen "Mrs. Southern" in the annual contest last weekend.

The Alpha Gamma Delta annual Winter formal will be held tomorrow at the chapter house. The theme for the evening will be "The Majestic Ball".

THETA XI NAMES NEW OFFICERS

Theta Xi fraternity recently elected new officers for the coming year. Jerry Brooks is president; Ray Stockton, vice president; Jules Lindner, treasurer; Tom Hughes, corresponding secretary; John Harding, social chairman and Ralph Green, pledge master.

Don Wallace will be the new house manager and Ray Caruso will be steward.

Theta Xi defeated Phi Sigma Kappa in a basketball game recently. Ralph Green was high scorer for Theta Xi with 29 points.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON PLEDGES TWO MEN

Mike Nixon and Jim Keller were formally pledged last Wednesday evening at the chapter house.

Last weekend a large number of members visited the Teke chapter at Eastern. The safari was highlighted by a party held by the Tekes at Eastern in honor of the Southern Tekes.

Mrs. Alberta Buxsien was one of the 10 finalists in the Mrs. Southern contest. She is the wife of Russell Buxsien of the fraternity.

MEET RABBI

Members and guests of the Jewish Students Assn., meet Rabbi Robert Jacobs, director of the Eban British Hill Foundation at Washington University.

Students Forget Changes

"Southern's student body is a highly mobile one. If anyone should care to check on this he can contact two offices which are constantly concerned with keeping up with students' local address changes."

TV Problems Discussed At Local Meeting

Educational television and its problems were the main items of discussion at the American Assn. of University Professors meeting in the University Cafeteria recently.

Edwards Named Acting Dean In Education

Asst. Dean Troy W. Edwards has been named acting dean of the College of Education as a by-product of the move which last week sent former Dean John E. Grinnell to the President's Office.

College of Education Offices Moved

The College of Education offices were moved to a frame house at 610 W. Grand Ave. The old location at 315 W. Grand Ave. now houses Vice President Grinnell's offices.

Until a permanent appointment made, Edwards will be responsible for handling all matters that formerly were directed to Grinnell.

This will include "administrative detail involved in operating the College of Education, administrative policy that affects the College of Education, and student inquiries or problems that cannot be resolved on a departmental level," he said.

Edwards declined to speculate on who the new dean might be, or when the appointment would be made.

Regarding what President Morris called sweeping re-examination of the University's organization and programming, Edwards said he thought this would mainly pertain to top administrative levels rather than to schools as such.

He said there were no changes that he knew of that would affect the College of Education, other than as they might be further effected by staff changes.

Edwards joined the University School faculty in 1947, and in 1949 became asst. principal. He has been acting asst. dean of the College of Education at SIU for the past year and a half, prior to being named acting dean.

He holds bachelor's and master's degrees in education from Southern, and a doctorate from Indiana University.

Cagers hope To Pad Lead Against Michigan Squads Here

Victories Could Mean First Conference Crown In 12 Years

Two "must-win" IAC basketball battles face Harry Gallatin's league leading Salukis this week as the Dogs seek to pad their 6-1 hoop mark. Fortunately for the Salukis, both games will be played in friendly SIU Men's Gym where Southern has been beaten only once in five starts this season and only three times in the last three years. Central Michigan calls tonight and Eastern Michigan call in town - tomorrow. Central stands in sixth place in the IAC heap and Eastern's Hurons are holding up everyone—in the cellar.

The Salukis are 6-1 in league play and own a first place seat by a slim margin of .024 per cent points over Western Illinois. The Southerners strengthened their grip on first place last weekend with a 76-69 win over Eastern Illinois at Charleston while Northern Illinois, which was tied with SIU for first place, could not secure the last two, 91-83 to Illinois State and 86-72 to Western Illinois, to drop to third place with 5-3.

The Salukis are going in as heavy favorites but on any given night either Central or Eastern could get real tough. In previous meetings this season, Southern edged Central Michigan, 69-65, and Eastern Michigan 81-76. Central's unpredictable Chippewas are 2-5 in IAC and 8-11 for the year. The Hurons are 1-5 in the conference and 7-1 overall. Central has met three opponents twice and split 2-1 with all three by wide margins.

Southern's private sideshow, Charlie Vaughn, is still the top gunner for Coach Harry Gallatin. Vaughn could go Western Illinois tomorrow without playing and still lead the team in practically everything. The greatest scorer in the history of Illinois high school basketball, has poured 512 points in 39 games for a 13.1 average. Don Hepler strengthened his second place position by pumping home 31 points in two games over the weekend and run his total to 227 points (132). Tom McCreel has come on strong and has totaled 211 points for an 11.1 average. Jim Gualdoni, who probably thinks somebody put a lid on the basket recently, has 161 points for an 8.5 average. Randy McClary comes real strong in his last four games, is averaging 19 with 142 points.

Gymnasts At Western And Normal

The Saluki gymnastic squad will try to find their winning ways again this weekend when they travel to Western Illinois today and Illinois Normal tomorrow. Bill Meade's squad has dropped two of its last three meets, but heads the Little Catcher with a 16.4 average. Lee has dumped in 328 points. Dean Adams, the only other Chip in double figures, is

Frosh Cagers Win Over McKendree

By Tom McNameara
The Saluki freshman take a six game winning streak into tonight's game against McKendree College at 6 p. m. in the Mens G. Y. M. Southern defeated McKendree Tuesday night 88-62 as Doc Kasubke paced the running Salukis with 20 points.

Coach George Lubell's freshman cagers won the First Annual Kiwanis College Invitational Basketball tournament at Farmington, Missouri by defeating top seeded Hannibal - LaGrange ahead of Hannibal - Missouri 72-68 in a semi-final and handing Beebe Arkansas a 81-70 defeat Saturday night in the championship game.

Don Kasubke paced Southern to a 43-22 lead at halftime over favored McKendree. Southern played steady ball the rest of the way to win 88-62. Southern outscored its opponent in the last half 40-40.
Hannibal - LaGrange blew a 41-27 lead at halftime as the running Salukis used a press to its utmost advantage and outscored Hannibal 45-27 the last half to win 72-68. Frank Lentfer a 14 and Dave Hensen combined to score 36 of Southern's 45 second half points.

George Lubell's freshman cagers battled back from this half-time deficit to win.
The championship game found Southern trailing at halftime by seven points but the freshman cagers battled back to take their first lead in the game in the early minutes of the second half.

Dave Hensen scored 30 points and Warren Barty 20 to pace Southern to this come-from-behind victory. This is Barty's highest point total point this year.
Hensen continues to play fine ball for the freshman cagers and Lentfer continues to dominate the backboards along with his fine play of Ed Spila and Leroy News.

A balanced scoring attack paved the way for the win over McKendree as four men scored in double figures. Kasubke led the two figure scorers with 20 points followed by Newton's 16. Hensen's 15 and Barty's 12. This balanced scoring attack was too much for McKendree to overcome after falling behind 43-22 at intermission.

Spring Baseball Practice Opens; Martin's Top Tossers Return

"Spring" training began this week at Saluki baseball coach Glenn (Abe) Martin greeted some 30-plus candidates at the opening of the 1960 season.

Pitching and plenty of it is the prime commodity as the diamond Dogs spend their workweeks. Five veteran hurlers, three of them southpaws, headed the list of 10 lettermen expected to answer the first call. The five accounted for 26 wins last spring and were charged with only seven losses as the Salukis compiled their best season in history, 27-9, and won their second IAC title in a row.

Big Larry Tucker, sophomore from Lemay, Mo., again looks like the mound mainstay. Southpaw Tucker had a 5-0 mark last season and set IAC records for best earned run average (.094) and most wins (6.0).
Martin also can count on the following pitchers: Duke Gatton, and Jim Woods, junior right-handers from Penns Grove, N. J., who won six and lost none; Roger McKnight, senior lefty reliever from Flora, 4-1; Harry Gury, sophomore left-hander from Overland, Mo., 4-3; and Jim Woods, junior right-hander from New Athens, 3-3.
The other five returning lettermen are Capt. Rocky Bridges, Duane Quoin; "Itchy" Jones, second

Swimmer Ray Padovan Frosh Record Setter

By Joe Gagie
Ray Padovan, 18-year-old freshman from North Miami, Florida, has wasted little time in gaining recognition here at Southern. He holds the 100-yard freestyle and 50-yard freestyle records in the school record book.

A high-school All-American at North Miami High his senior year, Padovan, at the Centennial A.U. Swimming Meet in Chicago on January 3, broke a record set by Johnny Weissmuller in 1928 in the 100-yard freestyle. Padovan swam the 300 feet in 5:12. Dick Blake of North Central University, defeated Padovan in the finals in 5:19. "It was a bad last turn that beat me in the finals," said Padovan. He had broke the Loyola pool mark in a preliminary heat. Weissmuller has been known to move goes as Tarzan in last Friday's meet with Loyola University here at the University School pool. Padovan broke his own school and pool records in the 100-yard freestyle with a leadoff time of 5:06 in the 400-yard relay event. Coach Ralph Casey stated that this was one of the more recent changes in rules for collegiate swimming; that the swimmer who "gets the gun" in a relay is eligible for setting individual records because of his lead-off position. Oddly enough the SIU relay team, in this particular event, was disqualified, but Padovan's record was entered in the books. The reason for the disqualification was that one of the swimmers, not Padovan, did not turn on a turn. The time 3:28.2 would have been a new school and pool record for the team. The next day, the same foursome did break the old time of 3:33.8 with a reading of 3:31.0.

Padovan's time of :50.1 for the last 100 yards in the 400-yard relay Friday does not count as an individual mark because he didn't lead off.
"I swam the 100-yard butterfly and the 50-yard freestyle at North Miami High," he said. "Our team finished third in the state my senior year and I took an individual first in the butterfly," Padovan continued.
"My high school coach knew Coach Casey," state Padovan, when asked why he happened to pick Southern. Majoring in physical education, he lives off campus this year but hopes to be at Thompson Point in the fall.
"This summer, sometime in August, I'm going to Yale University to workout for the National AAU long course and the Olympic Trials. Long course is an entire change in pace; in the 100, you do four turns here, but there you only do two turns. The fewer turns slows everyone's time down," explained Padovan, when asked how he intended to keep in shape this summer.
"Ray is going to have to do a lot better than what he is doing now," says Coach Casey.

Cagers Like It At Home

Home, sweet home. The Saluki basketball coaches have probably always wished they could schedule all of their games at home.
The Saluki cagers are apparently particularly fond of the neighborhood confines of the Men's Gym—and the record shows it.
Since 1951, SIU cagers have compiled a home court record of 71 wins and only 19 losses, contrasted with a 94-70 performance on the road.
Southern has posted 9-1 local marks the past two seasons, topping the previous high of 10-2 in 1951-52. Currently the record stands at 4-1 in Carbondale with five games remaining, and 9-5 on foreign floors with two left.
The Salukis have chances to widen the home victory margin this weekend when Interstate Conference rivals Central Michigan and Eastern Michigan are in town.

Much of the offensive punch (that helped the Salukis compile an overall team batting average of .305 and set an IAC record of .277) is gone from the SIU lineup with the loss of Dick Dillinger (.349), Len Monschke (.331), Fred Loesekam (.295), Roger Boyan (.310) and J. W. Sanderson (.311). IAC most valuable player last year. All have graduated except Loesekam, who signed with the Chicago White Sox.
Dillinger led in hitting with .349 and Loesekam in homers with 10.
The only 300-plus hitters returning are Hardcastle (.333) and Jones (.318). "The pitchers are going to have to carry the load until our young hitters come along," Martin says. "We hope to return from the seven-game spring trip with our hitting clothes on and lost none."
The Salukis tentatively are scheduled to open the southern march March 21 at Southeast Louisiana at Hammond, and the 26-game regular state opens April 2 at Southeast Missouri, pending approval of the schedule by the athletic council.

I Might Get Hit But ...

SABAN QUITS WESTERN JOINS PRO RANKS

Lou Saban former college and pro star and recently head football coach at Western Illinois University, has been named head football coach of the Boston entry in the American Football League.

Saban, 38, was signed Monday on a three-year contract at what Boston General Manager Ed McKeever called "very satisfactory" terms.
Saban played for Indiana and the Cleveland Browns of the defunct All-American Conference and held coaching posts at Case Institute, the University of Washington and Northwestern.

Saban spent the last three seasons at Western. The Leathernecks have lost only one game in two seasons under him. That loss came at the hands of Southern in the 1958 blow-out quarterback Bill Norwood scored a 67-yard pass to Lane Jenkins in the final eight seconds of the game. "Night Train" converted the two-point conversion to win the game 23-31.

Speaking of gymnastics, Iowa State's Coach Dick Holzapfel brushed aside any idea of the sport being a getting big. "Any sport with the dollar sign attached can't excel in the United States," why gymnastics will never become popular.

SIU 25, Central Michigan 8; Oklahoma State 31, SIU 3; SIU 31, Rittenour YMCA 2; SIU 13, Northwestern 13; SIU 23, Eastern Illinois 8.

Five Saluki grapplers, including front-line performers Frank Coniglio, Jim Bledsoe, Jack Crider, and Larry Meyer, missed practice Monday because of flu attacks. However, they worked out lightly Tuesday and regularly during Wednesday's practice.

Wilkinson will use the following lineup in tomorrow's meet:
115—Izzy Ramos
123—Frank Coniglio
130—Jim Bledsoe
137—Dick Frankenberger
147—Jack Crider
157—Ed Lewis
167—Larry Meyer
177—Ken Pontikes

LEFTOVERS FROM MISO GYM MEET

Bill Meade, Saluki gymnastic coach, seemed fairly satisfied after last Friday's meet with the powerful Michigan State Spartans. "I thought we did pretty good tonight," snapped Meade. "We got a bad break over the trampolines. Jon Shidler hit the edge and his performance was stopped by an official) but then Michigan State had a bad one, too." (Festa dropped from the high bar unintentionally.)
Michigan State's coach George "Zig" Scarpia said, "We had a tough spots tonight. We were phenomenal against Wisconsin in a recent meet when we didn't need as many points, but weren't that good tonight. Both teams had done better. Our team held Bill Norwood scored a 67-yard pass to Lane Jenkins in the final eight seconds of the game. "Night Train" converted the two-point conversion to win the game 23-31.

"Doc" Lingle has notified me that all men interested in the Saluki 1959 edition of the varsity track and field team are requested to report at 3:15 next Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday in room 204 of the gym.

Wrestlers Host Illinois Normal

Southern's wrestlers will attempt to make Illinois State Normal their fourth victim tomorrow afternoon. They host the Redbirds, who are what SIU Coach Jim Wilkinson termed "not as tough as last season, but still an aggressive team and will likely give us a tough battle in virtually every weight."

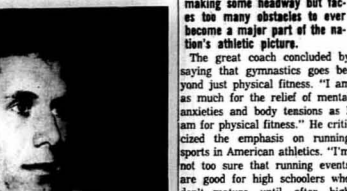

The IAC meet will start at 2 p. m. in Men's Gym.
The Redbirds have been stumbling along this season in contrast with their last year's team which finished third in the IAC Tourney. Central Michigan, who lost to SIU, 25-9 earlier this season, beat SIU in convincing fashion in a recent encounter. The birds pulled their season mark to 2-3 with a victory over Eastern Michigan last weekend. The Salukis captured last year's meeting with State, 23-9.

Southern will be making its final appearance in this meet before the Wheaton Tournament next weekend.
SALUKI SEASON RECORD
(Won 3, Lost 1, Tied 1)
SIU 1st (unofficial team title) in Illinois Invitational.

Warren Dick, distance freestyle man on Ralph Casey's swimming squad, pulled a shoulder muscle and did not compete in last Saturday's meet. Warren did swim Friday, however, and placed second. He will probably swim this weekend against Illinois Normal.

SOUTHERN'S TARZAN

Gymnastics has sure picked up at Southern in the past three years. The Salukis meet seven of the 10 schools in the Big Ten and have gone a long way in making a name for Southern in athletics.
