French Group Sings Tonight
At Shryock

The Varel and Bailly Chan­

sel are playing a 9-inch,

America and Europe, will present a Community Concert at 8 p.m. today, in Shryock

Auditorium.

The event is sponsored by Concert Association and is

and to students who picked tickets from the information desk at the University Center.

Varel and Bailly, Chanteurs

de Paris, are described by

Robert D. Faner, president of the Community Concerts,

as "somewhat like the Christian Minstrels (although very sophisticated)."

Robert D. Faner, president

of the University Center Production, points out to the audience Thursday night as he was descending the 29,028-foot peak,

he was convinced that he was returning, "not to civilization, but from civilization."

Maynard M. Miller, who served as the expedition's leader, said it is only when man stands in death's shadow,

that he can begin to understand what life is all about.

"I'm convinced that the Judeo-Christian ethic is not a religious luxury," Miller said, "but a basic law of survival."

Miller expressed his belief

that as the world becomes

more complex and survival

more difficult, man will be forced to adopt this code of "brotherly love" in order to survive.

"Our greatest achievement

was not placing six men on the summit, or our scientific program," Miller said after the program, "but the simple fact that we all returned home

as friends."

Miller was asked backstage

his reason for wanting to climb

Mt. Everest. "Was it, as is so often quoted, because it was there?"

"I went to Mt. Everest

because it is," Miller replied.

"Loss of mountains are there,

but there's only one moon,

only one Mars — only one Mt.

Everest. Its scientific chal­ genues are unique," he said.

Miller was also asked his opinion of the "Yeti," or abominable snowman.

"I definitely saw the huge animal tracks," Miller said,

"but I don't believe in the

abominable snowman."

He explained to the group that he disagrees with the current theory that the huge tracks are simply enlargements of tracks of smaller animals.

Scientists have followed

these huge tracks from sunlit portions of the snow­ covered mountains into shadowed areas and have seen them trail off until they were only small, fox-like tracks,

Miller said.

He said the reason for the Athletic Council Chairman

Explains University Policy

What's happening to SIU in football?

That question and others

about SIU's football team and athletic policies were posed by an SIU alumnus in a letter to the Daily Egyptian.

Following are the questions

asked by Curt Hookway

of Columbus, Ohio, who attended

SIU from 1954 to 1956, and the answers provided by University officials directly connected with the football program.

1. Carmen Piccone left and said he needs big time and won't allow me to field a top-notch ball club. Who won't?

Elmer J. Clark, chairman of the Athletic Council and professor of the College of Education Since I only arrived

here last September, I'm not too familiar with the situation. However, I do know that as the world becomes

more difficult, man will be asked to prove himself, there will be a football team that the students can take pride in.

2. Why is Southern playing

Fr, Campbell and Evansville

in football?

Clark: Big-time football has its advantages. But the facts of life are that costs a good deal more important than a good football team. The way to support a football team is by gate receipts and student fees. Since Carbondale isn't a center of population and couldn't provide the gate needed by a big-time team, student fees

would have to make up the difference... and, in general, SIU students aren't rich.

I'd rather see a well­

rounded athletic program

than a second-rate football team than to give up. I'd go for example, a second-rate

football team than a second­ rate library.

3. Are they going in the Missouri Valley Conference?

If so, why?

Clark: We have applied for admission to the conference and are working under the regulations of the conference. For example, we meet the eligibility requirements. Getting into the conference is a crucial thing and what is important is having a well-rounded athletic program. Curt Hookway is placing so much emphasis on football it is important to see that some teams in the conference have football teams.

4. Southern is 'big time'

in everything except football.

We don't play

Arc Welders Trained at SIU Obtain Jobs

Jobs are immediately available for nine formerly unemployed men who have completed a 12-week arc welding course at SIU under the federal Manpower Development and Training Act.

The men are being taken by three companies which have indicated they want to consider all the welders who can be trained under the program, according to William Westberg, head of the SIU Demonstration Manpower Program.

Barney Lampbell, 40, of Marion, is expected to go to The American Shipbuilding Co., yards in Toledo, Ohio.

Westberg said Transcraft, a trailer manufacturer in Anna, has accepted applications from Murray J. Buckingham, 22, and Alfred A. Vanzandt, 43, West Frankfort; Lindell K. Horn, 20, Harris; and Stanley D. Harper, 20, Benton.

Robert Dean Carney, 20, Ewing; Samuel M. Williams, 32, Benton; William T. Vanzandt, 26, West Frankfort; and James W. Tolbert, 37, Marion, have passed all tests except the physical for employment at a local firm.

The Manpower Development and Training Act, which began last September, will eventually provide vocational training in a number of fields for some 1,000 persons in Illinois and the entire Metropolitan counties.

SIU's Division of Technical and Adult Education is handling training under terms of a $1,044,000 contract with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The center's office operates under a separate contract with the U.S. Department of Labor to provide testing and counseling for persons processed by the Illinois Employment Service for the training programs.

Courses currently in session include a literacy class, nursing, aviation, machine, and milling training and a new arc welding class.

Scheduled to begin shortly are courses in mechanical drafting, cosmetology, auto mechanics, clerical, and general.

To Resolve U.N. Crisis

De Gaulle Wants Red China To Sit in on 5-Power Parley

PARIS (AP) - President Charles de Gaulle suggested Thursday a five-power conference - including Communist China - to resolve the crisis in the United Nations.

He also declared that the role of the dollar in international finance should be de-emphasized, and that the problem of German reunification can be solved only by Europeans.

Throughout a 75-minute news conference, de Gaulle kept coming back to a recurring theme - the need for reducing U.S. influence in European affairs.

He was never turbulent or incontinent. He developed his positions in long explanations delving into the historical development of each problem and added briefly how he thought it could be solved.

The principal points covered during the news conference:

The United Nations has strayed far from its charter and has been used as a political tool in the cold war. Without mentioning the United States, he asserted that the U.N. Congo operation had been used to send in political, economic and administration missions favorable to one big power.

He said the only way one could see to get the United Nations back on the track was a five-power conference at Geneva of Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union, Communist China and France.

The principal points of the conference centers on the nonpayment of peacekeeping assessments for the Congo operation by 13 members.

The Soviet Union and France have refused to pay their dues, leading de Gaulle to argue that such intervention in the internal affairs of a state is forbidden by the charter.

Grand Jury Begins

Probe Into Murder

CHICAGO (AP) - A Cook County grand jury opened an investigation into the fatal shooting of Frank Christensen Thursday while funeral services were being conducted for the 60-year-old victim.

Neighbors who said they heard Christensen's screams Sunday night reportedly testified before the jury.

Threeteen-age high school dropouts had admitted shooting Christensen while hopped up on "gooballs," a combination of barbiturates and alcohol. They said the needed more money for barbiturates.

The funeral service took $11 from Christiansen, who was sentenced to get a package of cigarettes.

Police earlier quoted Del Vecchio as saying he fired 11 shots into Christiansen. Vecchio was quoted by police as saying he killed a dying man several times to stop his screams.

Some Viet Officials Eye U.S.-Russian Deal

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy began a round of fact-finding conferences with U.S. officials Thursday amid speculation in some Vietnamese quarters that a U.S.-Soviet deal on Viet Nam was in the making.

Bundy's arrival happened to coincide with the departure of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin from Moscow for talks in Hanoi, capital of Communist North Viet Nam.

Bundy, who stands firm for its own freedom, can be confident of some Vietnamese officials.

"This could be a hook by which America could divorce itself, on grounds that our government is torn by divisions and upheavals, and therefore not able to stand firm for its own freedom," one Vietnamese official said.

Bundy's arrival happened to coincide with the departure of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin from Moscow for talks in Hanoi, capital of Communist North Viet Nam. Bundy denied his trip was related in any way to the Kosygin visit. Bundy's arrival statement reiterated American pledges to continue support for Viet Nam's anti-Communist struggle. But the statement contained the diplomatic hint that Viet Nam was expected to do its part.

The phrase was greeted with a certain amount of cynicism from some Vietnamese officials.

"How can we interpret this?" a Vietnamese said. "Johnson is trying to make friends with Kosygin at the very time when Kosygin and one of his generals are visiting Hanoi, our enemy to the death."

Bundy said, "shows that those who stand firm for their own freedom can be confident of the strong and unyielding support of the United States of America."

'Track Widow' Role Minimized

Athletes have it tough. Coaches have it tougher. Coach's wives have it toughest?

"Well, not necessarily," says Mary Hartzog, wife of track coach Lewis Hartzog. Mrs. Hartzog, who is both a mother of three girls and an English instructor at SIU, doesn't stress any particular disarray at being the wife of a successful track coach. Contrary to popular opinion, perhaps, all coaches' wives don't lead a life of common loneliness and longing for a normal home life.

Although her husband is gone nearly every weekend during spring, the indoor season, and two weeks in winter with the AAU meet, Mrs. Hartzog finds plenty to keep her busy.

"There are always papers to grade, and the children," she said.

Mrs. Hartzog teaches fiction and English composition.

Unlike some other sports, there is not so much personal involvement with the athletes, she said.

"Track is a sport of individual accomplishment, and we take pleasure in what individuals do," she noted.

Other sports which require team effort might bring the players and coaches closer together, but in track each event is up to the individual to win, she added.

Mrs. Hartzog enjoys track, although she admits that she doesn't understand it thoroughly.

"I find it very exciting. I like to watch particularly the outside meets," she said.

"Track boys take what they do very seriously. A track coach has to keep very calm to combat the tremendous intensity and pressure on the performers themselves," she observed about the pressure on the husband.

"He keeps calm before the event," she said.

enough big-time teams in other sports to be really considered big time. 5. Most sports are booked up five years in advance for football. Southern hasn't even released the schedule of next year's team yet. Why?

Clarks: It's true that some conferences do this, and I agree that schedules should be released in advance. However, it doesn't seem advantageous to prepare a schedule five years in advance.

An Athletic Department spokesman said that SU did sign contracts with some teams covering several years but not this year. He estimated that the 1965 football schedule will be released within two weeks.

6. Southern's stadium can't seat 50,000 and per cent of the student enrollment now. Are they building a new one now? Where? Where? How high? (Bowling Green, for example, has a 50,000-seat coliseum.

7. Who is responsible for all these decisions? Who is doing the scheduling? Is there an exaggerated; at least Mrs. Hartzog seems to think so.

Trouble Shooter's Travels Told

Rendleman Tallies Distance Around the World Twice

By Frank Messersmith

John S. Rendleman, vice president for business affairs and chief financial officer for SIU, would be a welcome sight to any travel agent in this country or around the world.

In fulfilling his duties to the university, Rendleman covers approximately 48,500 miles a year. That's plenty - and possibly more miles than most people travel during each period.

To the charged of the university's financial operations, Rendleman's January travel schedule is as follows:

- Jan., 1, Edwardsville; Jan., 4-5, Chicago; Jan., 5-6, Edwardsville; Jan., 6-7, St. Louis; Jan., 7-10, Springfield; Jan., 12-13, Edwardsville; and Jan., 15-16, Springfield. Rendleman's January travel schedule is as follows:

- Jan., 1, Edwardsville; Jan., 4-5, Chicago; Jan., 5-6, Edwardsville; Jan., 6-7, St. Louis; Jan., 7-10, Springfield; Jan., 12-13, Edwardsville; and Jan., 15-16, Springfield.

Rendleman's work day usually begins about 9 a.m., and doesn't end until about 6 p.m. However, in his work schedule, Rendleman must include night work which occupied about 11 nights of the last 36 day period.

When traveling intrastate, Rendleman uses an SU plane, but when he travels across the state boundary, he is required to go by commercial airlines.

A native of Southern Illinois, Rendleman was born and raised at Anna in 1927. He attended the University of Illinois, and Springfield College, and St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minn., Iowa State, and St. Louis University.

He transferred to the University of Illinois, and received his bachelor's degree there in 1949 and doctor of jurisprudence degree in 1951. Upon graduating, he came to Southern as assistant professor of government and acting bursar.

Rendleman was special counsel to the Illinois legislature in 1956. and in 1957 was commissioned by the American Bar Association to draft a uniform system of traffic court administration which was adopted by the American Conference of Governors.

Besides his position as legal counsel, Rendleman has served the university as acting director of personnel, executive director of business affairs, and was general counsel before his promotion to vice president of business affairs in November, 1964.

ROTC Cadets Set For Fitness Test

Advanced cadets in the Air Force ROTC program are testing their physical fitness in the SU Arena from noon to 1 p.m., Saturdays and 3 to 6 p.m., Tuesdays during February.

The program was carried out in the former men's gymnasium but is being held this year in the Arena.

Capt. Stephen C. Pisoni said all advanced cadets each year are required to pass an Air Force physical test, which includes four basic exercises. The regular detachment of officers take the test every six months.

Pisoni said 30 students can participate in the exercises during each period.

SiU Survey Reveals Shortage Of Physicians in 100 Counties

Physician services are inadequate in 39 of Illinois' 102 counties. The lower part of the state is far below average on an SIU study reveals. Only Cook and Peoria Counties meet a standard of adequacy for physicians, according to a survey directed by Raymond W. Wakeley, SIU's rural sociologist.

In areas where incomes are relatively small and the population is scattered, physicians generally are fewer in relation to population, and public health suffers for lack of adequate care, the report states. There were 12,677 licensed physicians in Illinois in 1961, some of whom were in scientific, educational and public health activities, only 5.8 per cent were in the southern 31 counties, which had 10.3 per cent of the total population.

Persons per registered physician in Southern Illinois ranged from 776 in Richland County to 2,622 in Pulaski. The state average was 795, while the recommended standard is 742 per physician. Cook County had 609 persons per doctor and Peoria had 714.

Removal of Cook would boost the state average from 795 to 1,463.

In the lower 31 counties, only Richland and Jackson (897) had fewer than 1,000 persons per physician, and five counties had more than 2,000 persons per physician in active practice, the report shows.
SALUKIS MAINTAIN THIRD PLACE
ON UPI POLL; AP STILL MUM

Although still not ranked by the Associated Press, Southern maintained its third-place ranking in the United Press International small college basketball poll this week. The Salukis remained behind two unbeaten teams, Evansville and Central State of Ohio, for the second straight week.

Evansville, now 16-0, remained in the top spot after beating Valparaiso 83-78; and Central State topped its record to 14-0 with an 82-74 victory over Tennessee State.

The Top Ten:
1. Evansville
2. Central State (Ohio)
3. Southern Illinois
4. North Dakota
5. Carson-Newman
6. Augustana (Illini)
7. High Point (N.C.)
8. Fresno State
9. Grambling
10. Pan American

Southern's indoor track squad is in Lawrence, Kans., where tonight it tangles with the University of Kansas and Kansas State Teachers College in a triangular meet.

The Salukis will have an uphill battle against the always-tough Jayhawkers and the Teachers College.

The meet is loaded in the events where the Salukis scored heavily last week, the mile, half-mile, and 440-yard dash.

The Jayhawks have junior sprinter Bob Hanson returning from last year's strong squad plus a host of distance stars which led the line to a sixth place finish in the NCAA cross country championships last fall.

They also have an outstanding high jumper in Fice Smith who has gone 6 feet 8 1/2 inches. Hanson has a 6,2 clocking in the 60-yard dash and went 4-2 in the 440 while only a high school senior.

The Salukis will try to counter with sprinter Gary Carr who has gone 47.6 in the 440 and distance star Bill Cornell who ran a 4:22 mile last weekend.

Hartzog, whose team flowed into Lawrence Thursday, said he would send the 14-man squad through a light work-out this morning.

Those competing besides Cornell and Carr will be distance men Alan Ackman, Jack Leydig and John Trowbridge; sprinters Robin Convery and Jerry Hendrich; high jumper Joe Rosen; broad jumpers Bob Hopwood, Ross Franklin, and hard hurler Herb Walker, Charles Greene, Frank Whitman and Larry James.

UNIVERSITY PLAZA
Saluki Cagers to Face Ball State
At 8 p.m. Saturday in SIU Arena

For the first time in three weeks, SIU basketball will have the advantage of playing on its home court, at the end of the Salukis' 10-game win streak with them in Bloomington, Ind., but the string will appear modest compared to the Hoosiers' 45 straight.

After tonight's contest, SIU will return home to meet Iowa State tomorrow afternoon in its final appearance in University School Pool this season.

The Salukis have had the opportunity to head to Bloomington, Ind., and take on the power of Indiana University this season, and as a result, SIU coach Skip Green and his team have a 1-2 record against the Hoosiers.

Green and McAneney are both back this year and appear ready to lead the Saluki charge tonight. McAneney, now a senior, has had his best season for his career at the University. His three-point record is misleading, though, since most of his scoring has come in some of the top teams in the Midwest. McAneney is currently averaging 5.3 points a game for the season.

The Cardinals' record is misleading too, since most of their scoring has come in some of the top teams in the Midwest. The Cardinals are averaging 8.7 points a game and their highest single out of the season was a 123 point performance against Franklin College.

Leading the offensive punch for Ball State is an unlikely-looking guard by the name of Stan Neal. The 6-3 senior, who looks more like an office accountant than a basketball player, carries only 155 pounds on his 5 foot 11 frame, but has managed to score his bigger and stronger teammate, Neal is averaging 22.5 points a game, and his 40 points against St. Joseph's (Ind.) were the second highest total in the school's history. Neal is the second highest scorer in the school's history.

The Cardinals are veterans Gary Verhoeven and Dave Breumer's of Townsend later in the season will be going up against four AU-Americans in this game. Four opponents have scored more than a hundred points against Ball State with Verhoeven grabbing second in consecutive meets.

Jim Haskins, the powerful 200-pound senior at centre, is Curt Ervin. The 5-10, 185-pound sophomore, is center McAneney has a better 4:57.1 record than Verhoeven, although last week he showed his能力 in the shorter races too.

But Ball State has countered with its fairly powerful offense of its own. The Cardinals are averaging 8.7 points a game and their highest single out of the season was a 123 point performance against Franklin College.

Gymnasts Ready for Busy Weeks

Coach Bill Meade's gymnasts take this weekend off in preparation for their next two busy weeks which will find the Salukis gymnastics teams at Ohio, Michigan, Arizona, Kansas and Illinois.

With two exhibitions scheduled Thursday at the Anna State Hospital, Meade's gymnasts will remain idle until Feb. 13 when they meet Ohio State University at Columbus. Feb. 15 will find the gymnastics in East Lansing, Mich., where they will face tough Michigan State University.

A two-day break follows, and then it's off to sunny Arizona where the Salukis will compete against both the University of Arizona and Arizona State University at Tempe.

Meade's gymnasts will close their regular season with meets at Wichita State University on Feb. 22 and the University of Illinois (Chicago branch) Feb. 27.

At the halfway point in the season Bill Wolf and Frank Schmitz are in a competition for team scoring honors.

Wolf, who has competed in two more meets than Schmitz, leads in scoring with 70 1/2 points. Schmitz missed the Mankato State and the University of Minnesota meets because of the trampoline championships in London. He is second with 52 points.

Hofstra U. Cager
Near 2,000 Mark

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) - "Skinny" Steve Nisenson, who couldn't play basketball in his own backyard as a boy because he was too small, is about to become the third player in the New York area to score 2,000 points in a college career.

The 6-foot-2, 170-pound Hofstra University senior has 1,994 points and was expected to hit the magic mark Thursday night against Long Island University.

"There was a basket in our yard when we lived in New Rochelle," Nisenson remembers, "but I was quite small and never played much. The older kids in the neighborhood would all come over to play with a high school starting nine and I lived upstairs."

Bob Petit Tops 20,000 Mark
And Can Retire as Bank V.P.

NEW YORK (AP) - Bob "Petit, professional basketball's premier scorer, has a full-time bank job waiting when he retires from the game, but he still has a few more points to tack onto the St. Louis Hawks' ledger.

"I'm an assistant vice president of a bank in Fanon Broad right now, but I'm not contemplating retirement," said the 32-year-old forward now in his 11th pro season. "I was out for six weeks earlier this season — longer than any time during my career — but I feel okay at this point."

The 6-foot-9 former All-America from Louisiana State holds the National Basketball Association career scoring record of 20,683 points. He was the first player to grower the 20,000 mark, gaining that distinction early this season.

"I think that Wilt Chamberlain will be the one to break it, though," Petit predicted. Chamberlain, of the Philadelphia 76ers, has scored 17,914 points in five seasons plus, and in the 1964-65 season with 1,671 points.
