McIntosh, Three Trumpets Featured In Band Concert

"The Three Trumpeters" and "Stout Hearted Men" were the outstanding features of the Band Concert presented Wednesday night, January 29, in Shroyek Auditorium under the direction of Harold Hines.

"The Three Trumpeters," a trumpet trio written by G. Assolini, was played by Harold Hines, Ada Covey, and Angelo Leone. Mel Seiner, student, directed the band in this number. As an encore, part of the selection was repeated.

"Stout Hearted Men," written by Sigmund Romberg was sung by David H. McIntosh Jr., with a band accompaniment. As an encore, "Let the Rest of the World Go By" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," both by Ernest Bald. Gilbert Anderson arranged this piece.

Debate Teams Meet Eastern Tomorrow

Four Southern debate teams will journey to Eastern Illinois State Teachers College at Charleston on Saturday.

Members of the teams are Eileen Gardner and Rosemary Woodard, Lou Brummett and Eudine Rudestil, Ralph Lane and Charles Weber, and Bill Kotzky and Bob Eaton.

Big, Bad Wolf Is Granted Reprieve By Decision of Museum Curator

The big bad wolf who made her debut at Southern last week when she was delivered to John W. Allen, curator of Southern's museum, has been granted a reprieve. Formerly she had been sentenced to the farm of Irvin Pethmann and placed with the museum wild-life collection, but now, Mr. Allen has decided to hold off the execution.

Her trouble began on January 16 when she inadvertently pulled her foot into a steel trap owned by Kerchel Brooks of Karkak. She was then bundled into a wire cage and delivered to Mr. Allen.

After her brief sojourn here at the museum, she will be removed to the farm of Irvin Pethmann where he and his son Russel will attempt to tame the beast.

PLAY CONTEST PRELIMINARIES TO BE NEXT WEEK

Preliminaries for the one-act play contest currently being sponsored by Little Theatre will be held next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights in Shroyek Auditorium with nine organizations participating.

The three winning plays from this group will be repeated Thursday night for final judging. Mrs. J. W. Neekers, Mrs. O. B. Young, and Dr. Maxwell Larson will serve as judges for the preliminaries and Prof. Theodore Skinner, Northwestern University, will choose the final winner on Thursday night.

The organization winning the contest will be presented with a prize plaque by Little Theatre. Medals will be awarded the outstanding actor and actress in the contest and to the entire cast of the winning play.

Southern Receives National Recognition

Southern has been elected to membership in the Association of American Colleges in recognition of its comparatively new College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, according to correspondence received from Guy E. Snavely, secretary of the association.

"It is with great pleasure I inform you of the election of Southern Illinois Normal University to membership in our association at its annual meeting held last week in Boston. This action was taken on recommendation of the Board of Directors, which makes careful investigation of all applications," wrote Mr. Snavely.

This is the second national association which has extended recognition of Southern's expansion from a teacher's college into broader fields of education. Last spring this institution was "promoted" from Group II to Group IV in the roster of accredited educational institutions maintained by the National Association of Secondary Schools. Group IV is composed exclusively of universities.

Rural Life Club To Be Reorganized

Plans for the reorganization of the Rural Life Club will begin next Tuesday evening when club members meet in the student center at 7:30 p. m., to elect officers.

The evening's program will also include group singing and folk songs. Members appointed to the program committee include Lou Rowland, Jean Buetter, George Brock, and Lois Irwin.

All students interested in rural life activities are invited to attend meetings and participate. Future teachers in rural schools, elementary and secondary education majors, rural theological students, and farm students majoring in agriculture will be qualified members.

Davis Addresses Journalism Class

Accuracy was the keynote of the address made by Robert W. Davis, editor-publisher of the Carbondale Free Press before a group of student journalists last Monday.

The students are members of the Journalism 201 class taught by Robert A. Steffes, instructor in journalism and typing, who invited Davis to share his opinion on various questions asked by members of the class.

BOARD TO RESUME HEARINGS FRIDAY

Consideration of adverse publicity centering around Southern's administration will be resumed here next Friday, February 7, according to an announcement made last Wednesday by Frank Thompson, chairman, State Teachers College Board.

Investigation proceeding were opened here January 21 and continued through the following four days. During that period the board interviewed approximately 300 witnesses including the entire faculty, the Student Council, editors of the Egyptian, townspeople and members of the Southern Division of the Illinois Education Association.

To Open Bidding For Landscaping Training School Site

Architect's blueprints for the landscaping development of the proposed new Training School site at Southern have been completed and call for bids on site preparation will probably be signed shortly, Chance S. Hill, State landscape architect, has notified University authorities here.

"The advertisement and opening of bids will probably take from four to five weeks," Mr. Hill wrote. University President Chester F. Lay, "and if contract prices are favorable, the work should be under way approximately three or four weeks thereafter."

Commerce Club Elects Officers

The Commerce club, under the direction of its new sponsor, Leonard Klee, assistant professor of business, met Wednesday evening to elect officers.

Students selected were Vance Moyer, president; Dick Wood, vice president; Fidella Droolin, secretary; and Norma Trotter, treasurer.

Plans were made to ask businessmen to discuss their business experiences at future meetings, and the following committee was appointed: Dick Woods, Rose Ann Brock, and Lois Irwin.

All commerce students are invited, February, to be held in Main Hall, and the public is invited to attend a meeting Wednesday 6:30 p. m.

Third ISU Forum Presents Baxter On Good Neighbors

Inter-American cooperation in cultural relations, economic cooperation, and mutual good will was the keynote of the address by Joseph L. Baxter, instructor in Latin American History at Southern, last night during the Independent Student Forum which was held in the Little Theatre.

Mr. Baxter pointed out our relations with the republics of the south have in the last few years been better in many respects than ever before. He stated that progress has been made in fostering a general understanding between the United States and our neighbors of Latin America."

He went on to add that this progress was exemplified by the various inter-American conferences. The last of these was the one held in Mexico City from February 21 to March 8, 1945.

During that conference the Act of Chapultepec was passed, which stated, "that every attack of a state against the sovereignty or political independence of an American state, shall be considered as an act of aggression against the other states, which sign this declaration."

Mr. Baxter expressed the sentiments that the Act of Chapultepec is significant because it appears to be the universal Monroe Doctrine with a multi-lateral Pan-American policy designed to protect American states from the aggression of any power outside this hemisphere. He said the continued strengthening of our ties with Latin America is of tremendous importance in our program for world peace.

Mr. Baxter stated our cultural-relations policy has made important progress by the exchange of teachers and students which was made possible by the Buenos Aires agreement of 1936. He expressed the sentiments that perhaps no other phase of our program will contribute more eventually to our understanding with our Latin-American neighbors.

Mr. Baxter was the third speaker on the weekly forum sponsored by the Student Union of S. U. on current international problems. Next, Dr. H. J. Rehn, dean of the College of Vocations and Professions, will speak on the "City Was in China." This will be held by the Little Theatre at 8 p. m., and the public is invited to attend.

LIFT SUB-CEILINGS ON FACULTY PAY FOR NEXT BIENNIIUM

Waiving for the 1947-49 biennium of the prevailing salary "sub-ceiling" for instructors and assistant professors at the five Illinois teachers colleges and normal universities was authorized by the State Teachers College Board at its recent meeting here, President Chester F. Lay announced Thursday.

The present salary schedule framework provided for certain salary brackets for each of the four faculty ranks—instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, and full professor.

In addition, within the ranks for instructors and assistant professors, there are "sub-ceilings" which prohibit paying individuals the top salary for their respective ranks until they have completed a certain amount of study advanced beyond the master's degree.

For example, the salary range for instructors is $250 to $350 per month. Each instructor must have a master's degree. For those who present an additional graduate work, a sub-ceiling of $320 is fixed, but with one year's work toward the doctor's degree, the ceiling goes up to $350.

For assistant professors, the range is $400 to $450, with a sub-ceiling of $375 for those who have only one year's work toward the doctor's degree. With two years' doctoral study, the ceiling is lifted to $400.

These sub-ceilings have worked a hardship in obtaining new faculty members in recent years, and the board has now authorized the lifting and authority presidents that these so-called "salary schedule blocks" may be waived for the next biennium.

Band Is Featured At Student Assembly

Harold C. Hines led the Southern band in student assembly on Thursday morning in selections from the Wednesday night band concert. The music was provided for the special benefit of those students who were unable to attend the concert.

"Trouble is out of the name. When a pipe isn't looking we are moving a piano. We are the maintenance and service group for the entire University," stated Dr. William Neal Phelps, associate professor of education and director of the University physical plant. Dr. Roscoe Pulliam, late president of Southern, organized the group known as the physical plant and appointed Rockwell McCreight as director, who served until he entered service. John Wright, associate professor of history, directed its activities during the war years until McCreight was discharged from the service. McCreight served as director until he accepted a position at South Bend,

SCHOOL TO CLOSE LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

The Advisory Council has announced that classes will be dismissed on Wednesday, February 12, in honor of Lincoln's birthday.

Gov. Green Signs Bill For Additional Money

Gov. Dwight H. Green Wednesday night signed the bill making a supplementary appropriation of $200,000 for Southern for the remainder of the current biennium, according to a telephone call Thursday morning from Frank G. Thompson, State Director of Registration Education and chairman of the State Teachers College Board, to President Chester F. Lay.

This supplementary appropriation, Director Tho son emphasized, comes not from tax money but from monies which the Univer has already earned this omnium and which now comes available for expenditure.

24 HIGH SCHOOLS IN CHORAL CLINIC

Southern's music department is sponsoring a Choral Clinic Saturday, February 22 in Shroyek Auditorium at 7:25 p. m. Twenty-four Southern Illinois high schools will participate in the clinic. Registrations this year are far beyond any previous registrations.

Guest director will be Olaf Christensen, director of the famous St. Olaf Choir. Requests for seats have reached 1405 at the present time with the maximum seating capacity being 725. The larger groups are being asked to cut their groups in order that more seats will be available.

During the current biennium, however, all the State's higher educational institutions have been forced to spend their current appropriations at a faster-than-normal rate in order to care for vastly increased enrollments, and all have asked the legislature for supplementary appropriations to make up the deficit during the following biennium.

Southern's request for a $200,000 supplementary appropriation was first approved by the board's advisory committee for Southern, then by the entire Teachers College Board, and finally was included in the Governor's recommendations to the General Assembly.

"This supplementary appropriation will make it possible for us to operate for the remainder of this fiscal year, to July 1, without curtailing our instructional or service program," President Lay said.

McGovern, Welch Read Articles To Writer's Club

Joe McGovern's "Sermon on Tibet" was read to the Writers' club group which met in the Wheeler library basement Wednesday evening. An equal effort in "America," written by Bill Welch, was also read to the group.

Guest speaker Henry L. Wilson, associate professor of English, was appointed the new club sponsor since evening classes make it impossible for Hamilton Hill, editor, E. Claude Coleman, associate professor of English, to attend.

Those who attended Wednesday evening's meeting were Mildred Waidelids, Julia Cook, Fred Welch, Bob Brooks, Bill Sellers, Robert Hamilton, Hill, editor, Bill Price, and Joe McGovern.

The club will meet again next Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the curriculum laboratory of the Wheeler library basement.

SPANISH CLUB MEETIN

There will be a meeting of Spanish club next Wednesday, February 5, at 7:30 in Main Hall. The purpose of this meeting is to elect new officers and plan the program for the remainder of the year. All Spanish students are invited to join the club.

BLUE BOOK INCONSISTENT

Southern rated six and a half pages with three pictures and news on the development of the University in the 1945-46 edition of the Illinois Blue Book published annually by the Secretary of State.

"The Blue Book is a publication of which the State is justly can proud," states the Secretary of State in the preface. The editors of this paper can hardly be proud of a publication which in little more than one inch of type refers to Southern with three different titles, namely, Southern Illinois State Teachers College, Southern Illinois State Normal University, and Southern Illinois Normal University.

The Egyptian editors suggest that every Southern student write the Secretary of State informing him that the legal name of this institution is Southern Illinois Normal University.

And So the Story Goes

By

CURTIS HISE and CLETIS HISE

"THE LADY" DOES IT AGAIN. Earlier this week the Murphysboro Daily Independent ran a splendid editorial entitled "The Lady From Paris" in which that paper commented on a recent address by Mrs. Eugene "The Lady" Meyer, wife of the publisher of the Washington Post.

I suppose you all remember, Mrs. Eugene Meyer. It was "The Lady" who a few years ago in one of her special investigations looked into the life of a Southern Illinois. She went back to Washington and pictured the good people of Southern Illinois as "being paraded to the area as a sort of Tobacco Road comedy."

Her particular visit was to Herrin and to the Illinois Ordnance Plant. Naturally the people in Carbondale protested, but "The Lady" didn't stop. She even went so far as to record her propaganda in a book.

According to the independent she "put the area's lack of morals, as she saw morality, and an alleged lack of any righteous inspiration to do anything about it and a predominating interest in dress and custom, into the same duffie bag, shook them up, and left it like an illegitimate baby on our coal belt's door step."

In a recent address before the Women's Patriotic Conference on the National Defense, "The Lady" says Communism and Socialism are "on the march."

"Unfortunately," she says, "the established churches are so preoccupied with material possessions that it is precisely the poorest agricultural and urban areas, where emotional and spiritual security are the most needed, that their voice is least sought." The Independent says "Lady is still."

The Murphysboro paper asks, "could it be that if Mrs. Meyer domesticated herself in some quiet agricultural or urban area, far removed from the metropolitan districts, she would find that the people of the area correctives a more palatable medicine, at least for the segment of society she knows least about?"

Certainly the Independent is to be commended for editorially answering "The Lady's" false propaganda. We must realize that only when the people of Southern Illinois fight back at such assertions can we succeed in emerging from beneath the filthy skin of false propaganda.

"ON GUARD"—UNIVERSITIES. The National Collegiate Athletic Association has launched a nationwide housecleaning campaign to restore intercollegiate athletics to the students from whence they came.

During the past year collegiate athletic scandals reached an all time high. Many universities have cancelled intercollegiate competition and others are putting a close watch on their athletic departments.

It seems that many people think that college athletics should go along with professionalism and fall into the hands of big time gamblers. Certainly that has happened at more than one university, so when outsiders get any hot air about athletic establishments have to emerge from beneath the filthy skin of false propaganda.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat said in a recent editorial: "There is now hope, however, that America's colleges and universities will restore intercollegiate athletics to its proper status as a campus activity. BY AND FOR THE STUDENTS."

CLEAN RESTAURANT BILL: According to a St. Louis newspaper dispatch only 14 per cent, or about one out of every seven, of eating establishments have received an 'A' rating in a tentative grading under the provisions of a new "clean restaurant bill" which goes into effect April 21.

This inspection is a temporary one and will give the owner a chance to clean up the place before April. The figures, however, are worth mentioning. Out of 1,019 eating places, only 143 got an 'A' rating, while

The Southern Parade

By DAVE KENNEY

The mile or more is a very difficult subject to stay away from, since so much MOM activity is taking place each day. Interest in the "burd" here at Southern is due for an upswing with the appearance of "Chuck's Rust" sketch of a prime MOM specimen in this week's Egyptian. Rust made the drawing from memory as he was lucky enough to stumble across a fine rooster sunning itself upon an ant hill, while on a field trip in the vicinity of Marissa, during the Christmas holidays.

Rust has been credited with giving the most satisfactory explanation to date, of why the "burd" is named the mile or more. According to him, since it has a double foot (toes on each end, that is) it slides back a step for every forward stride which it takes and under those difficult conditions, tries to average a mile or more every night. We say night for it must be remembered that the "burd" is a nocturnal creature, which seldom ventures forth during the daylight hours.

Other MOM admirers make light of "Chuck's" explanation and insist that the mile or more found the origin of its name in the fact that upon still evenings its beautiful, haunting song can be heard for a mile or more. Who here has heard such a sound?

A struggle of no little consequence is taking place within MOM ranks, even now. Two of Southern's most charming coeds are carrying on a stubborn fight to be admitted to membership in the organization. They are Katie Alley and Shirley Stone. Secretary W. E. Baker, of the front office declared in his latest memorandum upon the Stone case that while he and other high ranking "burd" lovers were inclined to look with favor upon the applications of both Miss Stone and Miss Alley, nothing could be done until the next Board meeting which will be held in March. At that time an investigation of the situation will take place, said Baker.

Keep sluggin', girls.

CONGRATULATIONS

... champions Dan Cox, Paul Smith, and Jack Mc Carthy, for carrying Southern's name to victory in the final bouts of the Golden Gloves tournament at Herrin! We'll all be backing you at Centralia.

Speaking of boxing, why can't we have a revival of the annual boxing wrestling tournaments which were so popular here on the campus before the war? They always drew a good attendance and gave many athletes who played neither football nor basketball a chance to display their skill to the student body. The greatest objection to the athletic department is its failure to us, a more complete participation of the entire school enrollment in sports, rather than the turning out of winning varsity teams. The fine intra-mural basketball program now in full swing is doing much toward the realization of this objective, it is true, but the addition of a boxing-wrestling tournament to Southern's sports schedule would bring it even nearer. How about it, Athletic Director Martin, could we have one this year?

...Looking Elsewhere...

By JUNE FULKERSON

WE DIDN'T THINK it could happen, but according to Eastern Teachers' News, it did. In Kansas, a restaurant owner, phoned a Mrs. Jane Kilroy to complain that her son was defacing his property by writing his name all over the walls.

DARN WHITE of 'em, we said as we read of an ad in a Columbia, S. C., paper which proclaims "Nice room, nice bath, no objections to Youskers."

AND IN NEW YORK where anything can happen and generally does, a survey of articles left in the subway revealing a collection of items including false teeth, crutches, a box of goldfish, a wooden leg, and an unidentifiable somebody's, address.

SOUTHERN HAS no monopoly on the chapel attendance problem. Judging from numerous editorials we've seen in various college papers. The most recent one appeared in Macomb's The Western Courier pleading for better chapel attendance.

772 or 75.5 per cent were given the low rating and have only 30 days to improve their status or to close. Not a few eating establishments here in Southern Illinois should take note of this action in St. Louis.

NO PAPER TODAY. We have received several letters which have pointed to many verbal complaints from veterans concerning the lack of supplies in the University bookstore. At first these charges seemed absurd.

And when the complaints started coming in so thick and fast, we decided it was time to go to bat for the dear old Alma Mater. But we told one little delegation which had a representative in the Egyptian office that we would print their complaints, giving the administration a chance to reply.

Since we didn't have any paper handy, we dashed up to the bookstore for some note book filler. We asked the clerk for some blank paper. His answer was, "Sorry, no paper." "How about a couple of notebooks, then," we asked. His reply, "Sorry, none of those either." Well, this got us to thinking that maybe there was something to the complaints we had received. But we couldn't find any paper on which to write our column. Finally we decided that since the GI Bill specifically states the school will provide all supplies, it wouldn't make too much difference where we got the paper as long as the school was providing.

The Honorable "Burd"

...Looking Backward...

By Jean Larson

The Egyptian, April 12, 1935, states that Henry Hill is addicted to seeing snakes in his bed. And the sequel to that story can be seen at the community cinema—"The Lost Weekend," it's called.

Hey, all you ex-G. I's attuned in olive drab and khaki, wanted buy a 69 cent white shirt, with pre-shrunk collar? You're a little late, but it was possible, the ads stated in the November 1932 Egyptian.

The April 3, 1935 Egyptian observes that when a girl says "no" she means "yes" and when she says "yes" she means "no." Inspired by this brief quote "Accentuate the Positive" was born, issue of the Egyptian.

Those of us who believe that, as almost-mature students, our lives are over-regimented by college rules find things could be worse: the September 7, 1932, issue proclaims "Students are not to sit in cars that are parked on the campus. Students are also forbidden to drive their cars from the campus during the time classes are in session."

A headline in the March 1, 1933 Egyptian reads: "Students Vote To Have Fridays Exam End by One-thirty"—one of the finest examples of applied democracy to come to our attention since the Boston Tea Party.

Q. How many hours must a veteran in training under PL 16 carry? A. The law requires that a trainee under PL 16 take a "full time course." The rehabilitation program is set up on an average load basis. That is, an average load for the college or university attended. A trainee under PL 16 may not take less than a normal load without prior approval of the V. A. Training Officer (Langdon)

Q. If I find it necessary to quit school, what should I do to "clear" with the school? A. You should notify your instructors and the Registrar of your intention to leave school. This is done by contacting the Dean of Men and getting a "drop card," which is taken to the appropriate individuals. Also notify the Training Officer or the Chief of the Guidance Center of the date on which you quit (Wolfe and Hickey)

Q. If I am absent from school because of sickness, will my subsistence be stopped? A. That depends on several factors that may differ in individual cases. While you are attending school, you accumulate such leave as annual leave credits at approximately the same rate as Federal Civil Service workers do. Such accrued leave time may be used during periods of sickness. You should notify your Training Officer so that your interests may be protected.

Speaking of Ethics

We wonder if those faculty members who like to lecture on journalistic ethics when criticizing the Egyptian for printing material they feel should be suppressed realize just how ethical it is to destructively criticize a person or group to a class. We're paying tuition to receive an education, not to hear a Faculty member complain!

DAVE KENNEY

Personality and ability will receive their reward.
Dave Kenney, vice president of the senior class, Egyptian and Obelisk staff member, and a member of the Sphinx club, is an excellent example of this statement. He is not only popular with the present "generation" of Southern students but was also popular with Southern students prior to the war.
Entering school in 1940, Dave was president of the sophomore class, sports editor of the Egyptian, Obelisk, and Southern Alumni publications in 1941; and a member of the Student Council and the homecoming committee in 1942.
He served in the AAF from October, 1942, to February, 1946, and returned to Southern in September, 1946.
His many services to this University have been rewarded by his 50 students who are volunteers for special service, were entertained at a dinner at the Baptist Foundation.

The movie "Ottawa On the River" will be shown at tonight's open house.
Two new night classes at the Baptist Foundation will begin on February 19. These courses, which will not be taught for University credit, will be 12-week courses in which anyone can enroll.
The Baptist Foundation dormitory has organized a basketball team called "Boyle Dormitory Deacons." They have recently acquired new uniforms and play in intramural and church leagues.

BAPTIST FOUNDATION
Baptist Foundation will entertain at a Valentine Party on February 6. The party will begin with a get-acquainted period, after which there will be a game of "Truth or Consequences." Also featured will be a short melodrama and the chapel foundation choir.
A new Baptist Student Union newspaper will make its debut tomorrow. It will be circulated bi-monthly to all students at the Foundation and all Baptist alumni. Verle Campbell will be editor of the paper and Andy Sawyer, the associate editor.

Coleman, Illinois Grad, Is Interested In Semantics and Current Literature

By Bill Welch

Characteristic of active Illinoisans for his spirited personality and love for the small, midwestern town, Dr. Claude Coleman, associate professor of English and proud family man, adjusts himself easily to life at Southern.
Dr. Coleman was born near Greenup, Cumberland county, Illinois, and received the bachelor of arts degree from the University of Illinois in 1924. Choosing the teaching profession, he was English instructor at Taylorville high school for three years.
Later, in 1937, Dr. Coleman finished work for the master's degree at the University of Wisconsin. He was appointed to a position as instructor of English at the University of Illinois, where he remained until he received his doctor of philosophy degree in 1936.
In 1936, he accepted a teaching position at the East Texas State Teachers College, leaving there the next term to join the faculty of

DR. CLAUDE COLEMAN

Sul Ross State Teachers College, Alpine, Texas. He returned to Illinois in 1946, joining Southern's English department.
Dr. Coleman is interested in semantics and current literature, his favorite poet being Robinson Jeffers. He stated, "I consider Shelley's 'Ode to the West Wind,' the greatest short poem in the English language, with Robinson Jeffers' 'Night' second in standing."
Dr. Coleman is married to the former Hazel Votaw, graduate of the University of Illinois and formerly an instructor at Pana high school. Mrs. Coleman is interested in the American Association of University Women and the Parent Teachers Association.
The Colemans have five children; a son is an ensign in the Naval reserve, Dorothy is a freshman at Southern, two sons attend Carbondale Community high, and a younger son attends Brush grade school.

With tennis and swimming formerly ranking highest in his sports world, he indulges in the pastime of chess and admits that he can play a "fumbling" hand of bridge.
He rarely misses a "hello" and he's often heard to remark "drop around sometime" to an even a casual acquaintance.

Maroons Take Over IIAC Lead By Defeating Huskies 62-53 Last Saturday Night

By Fenton Harris
In virtue of some sharp shooting by John Sebastian and Oliver Shoaff, who scored 16 points each and Quentin Stinson, who scored 14 points, the Maroons were able to defeat the Huskies of Northern 62-53 here Saturday night...

teams at any time. The first half ended with the score standing Northern 28, Southern 30. In the last half the Maroons rallied to take a commanding lead, which they held until the end of the game. Two of the Northern players had five personal fouls each against them by the officials, as did the Maroons. This was really the big difference as Jack Klein of DeKalb matched field goals with the Maroon sharpshooters scoring 16 points to the Sebastian and Shoaff.

Box Score table with columns: Northern, FC, FT, F, F. Rows include Swann, Marshall, Woods, Dryden, Calcutt, DeKalb, D. Verlic, Klein, Henningsen, Speck, A. Verlic, Swaska, Total, Southern, Shoaff, Sebastain, Stinson, Hall, Colburn, J. Goss, C. Goss, Milosevich, Wilson, Ruizich, Totals, Officials: Hubble and McKinnis.

CAPE ANNEXES 51-40 DECISION

By John Rendleman
The "Junior Whis Kids" looked anything but the last Wednesday night when they dropped a 61-40 decision to the Cape Girardeau Indians in the Cape fieldhouse. This was Southern's second on-ice game against the Missouri team, the first contest the Maroons were the victors, 42-39, but the Cape quintet gained revenge, while keeping the Southern team at a safe distance from the lead all through the game. Herb Upton and Martin Radmer led the victors with 15 points apiece, while Oliver Shoaff carried home Southern's individual scoring honor with 13 points. Quentin Stinson and Shoaff with five, all of which were free throws.

Most of the Southern squad saw action but with the exception of Shoaff, couldn't connect with the hoop. Even the rebounding, which has been a Maroon strong point all season, was controlled by the Indians. Southern wasn't up to par in any respect, and that was the reason for the performance all season. However, Cape had a strong team and their offense was one to be envied, while defensively they forced Southern to attempt to score by the hoop. Cape counted first on a free throw, but four minutes of playing time elapsed before Southern, by a gift shot by Stinson, entered the scoring column. Then, generally, Cape Girardeau began to climb in the lead. The Indians controlled the scoring for the remainder of the period and at the half were on the heavy end of the score.

Box Score table with columns: Southern, FC, FT, F, TP. Rows include Shoaff, Wilson, Sebastian, Milosevich, Stinson, Goss, C. Goss, Caburn, Colburn, Ruizich, Goss, J. Goss, C. Goss, C. Girardeau, Upton, Merrick, Nichols, Klosterman, McGreehan, Radmer, Landgraph, Keller, Totals, Officials: Helfrich (Cape Girardeau) and Rejzert (St. Louis).

TENPIN TOPICS

The Southern Veterans bowling quintet handed the Leslie Dixie squad three consecutive games on Tuesday evening, finishing by the small margin of 2669-2643, in the Dixie League at the Congress Lanes downtown. The Southern team, comprised of veterans Herman Entsminger, Charles Lambert, Carl Frohock, William Hemmer, and Dick Cooper, has a league standing of fourth in six teams, two of which have rarely been beaten by either local or visiting talent, namely, Leonard's Beauty Boys and Leslie's Dixie. Southern's opponent next week will be Eddie Miles All-Stars captained by Edward V. Miles, business manager of the University. The All-Stars have defeated the Vets 12 games out of the 21 at ready play.

By BOB McDOWELL
Last year, for the first time in the history of our school, the basketball team won the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship. This year's team, although their current record stands at 12 wins and six defeats, has a good claim to do a repeat performance in the conference. Western came the closest to knocking the Maroons off this year, as they fell by the wayside 48-42. Cape Girardeau was knocked off by 38, while Northern was dropped 62-53. This leaves only one conference team to play, State Normal, reported to have the weakest team in hoop play this year. However, all of the conference games played by the Maroons so far this year have been played at home, where they have been "dab" to nearly all comers. There is an idea among the sports world that it is worth 10 points for a team to be playing at home. If that holds true, then Western is the only team that the Southernners need fear. However, basketball was knocked off on paper, cannot be worked out on paper, so the only thing to worry about now is getting by State Normal earlier in the season.

SINU Opponents

By NAVEH KENNEY
The Northern-Southern clash which took place here last Saturday night and which saw the Maroons go into first place in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference on the strength of a 62-53 win, did much to clarify the hoop situation, as it left them the only undefeated five in the circuit. The Holdermen have won over each of their conference opponents with the exception of Normal, whom they met there tomorrow night. Normal, rated the weakest team in the conference, has been defeated by Charleston and De Kalb, both of whom have fallen to the Maroons. Coach Lynn Holder's hardworkers will go into tomorrow night's tilt as definite favorites.

After knocking off the Maroons in a 52-47 thriller here last week, James Miliken of Deatur eliminated Wheaton from the rapidly thinning ranks of the nation's undefeated teams by a 53-44 score Saturday night. The loss was Wheaton's first in 11 games this season. Southern will have a chance to revenge herself upon Miliken on February 15 in the second game of a road trip which will see them at Macomb the previous night. Next Wednesday night will see the Maroons pitted against Chicago in one of the two home games remaining upon the schedule. The Washington University Bears of St. Louis, turned Chicago back 56-28 last week. The Holdermen should have little trouble with their upstate opponents, since they defeated Washington by a comfortable margin

The Modern Dance club met last Monday night and decided to sponsor a carnival show soon. The technique group of the Modern Dance club met on Thursday night and practiced warm-ups. Two class tournaments are scheduled for WAA basketball. In the advanced class, each class will enter one team, and in the intermediate class, the sophomores and the juniors will enter one team each, while the freshmen will put two teams in the race. The class tournaments schedule is as follows: Monday, February 3—game one—freshmen I vs. sophomore I, game two—freshmen I vs. sophomore I, game two—freshmen I vs. sophomore I. Tuesday, February 4—game one—freshmen I vs. senior I, game two—freshmen I vs. senior I. Wednesday, February 5—game one—freshmen I vs. senior I, game two—sophomore I vs. junior I. Monday, February 10—game one—sophomore I vs. junior I, game two—sophomore I vs. freshman I. Tuesday, February 11—game one—freshmen I vs. junior I, game two—freshmen I vs. junior I. Wednesday, February 12—game one—freshmen I vs. senior I, game two—junior I vs. senior I. The inter-house tournament will get under way in about two weeks.

IAC Standings, Statistics table with columns: Team, W, L, Pct, Points, Rebounds, Assists, Steals, Blocks, Fouls, Turnovers. Rows include CARBONDALE, De Kalb, Charleston, Normal, Cape Girardeau, De Kalb, Charleston, Macomb, Normal, Games tomorrow night.

By BOB CURTIS
Southern's Maroons journey to Normal tomorrow night for a conference game with the cellar-dwelling Redbirds of Illinois State Normal University. Next home game will be on Wednesday, February 5, when the Maroons take the floor against the University of Chicago Maroons in the first meeting between the two schools. Chicago, which has become the leading mid-west school favoring de-emphasis of athletics, boasts a season record of three wins and eight losses. Normal's conference record is three defeats and no victories, which is just opposite to the Southern record of three conference wins and ten losses. On this basis the Maroons must be favored, but previous records are proving a very poor basis for prediction in the IAC this year. Coach Lynn Holder plans to stick by his regular starting line-up in these games with Oliver Shoaff and John Sebastian at forward, Quentin Stinson at center, Leslie Cabutti, who has been out of action for over a month, is expected to see considerable action soon. Although Sam Milosevich is not top shape as yet, Coach Holder expects the veteran star to be completely recovered from the injury he sustained in football with-in the next week or two. If Cabutti and Milosevich begin operating at high speed, the Maroons will have three of the five men who carried them to the intercollegiate championship last year on the floor together for the first time this season, since Quentin Stinson has been operating under the basket in brilliant form in recent games. Starting three for the University of Chicago came next Wednesday will be a 2:00-8:15 p. m.
