Dance, Galleries, Dance!

Campus organizations are sponsoring an all school dance at Anthony Hall Wednesday, February 4, from 7 to 10 p. m., which is to be the first of a series of all school dances sponsored by the various campus organizations.

This small article of news promises to be of interest to a great number of students here on campus, and when we think of the significance of it we are very proud of the organizations who have, and will, devote their time and energy to making it a success.

These dances will provide a place for students to spend an evening of entertainment and fun that they would otherwise probably have to forego, due to the fact the nearest place to dance is too far and too expensive for most students.

No place for student dancing has been provided since last summer, but the fact remains that students like to dance, and all they need is a place to go, and now, at last, they have it—an opportunity that was provided for the students by campus organizations. Another nice feature of these dances is that everything will be free here except the usual nickle for a bottle of coke.

Anthony Hall has provided the space and the different organizations have provided the effort which was necessarily a part of any such undertaking. Now all that is needed is the cooperation of the student body to make the event a successful weekly affair.—D. W.

To some, getting an education is like taking a vitamin tablet. Unless you need it, it probably doesn't help much. But neither does it do you any harm.

Passing a local clothing store window a few days ago we were abruptly halted by an expensive looking suit. Our curiosity easily overpowering our pocketbook's resistance, we went inside to buy it. As the salesman approached we excitedly blurted out, "We want that suit, but we simply can't pay for it now. Probably in about six months." "Oh, don't you mind one bit about that," he says assuringly. "Well, give, thanks!" we say, almost hugging his neck. "When'll it be ready?" "In about six months," he says, beating around the bush. Staggering toward the door we walked under it and headed for a place where they sell liquid courage.

The Sunday school teacher's theme had been "God is everywhere. Find Him. Keep Him." That night at supper little Wilbur asked, "Mummy, is God every where?" "Is He in this house?" "Yes, darling." "Is He in this room?" "Yes, darling." "Is He in my cup?" "Yes, darling."

Little Wilbur quickly placed his hand over the cup. "Got 'im," he said.

Then there was the guy who had B. O. so bad he was tipped over three times on Highway.

The old jalopy puffed up and came to a screeching halt at the toll-bridge. "Sixty-five cents," said the bridge keeper. "Sold!" said the driver jumping out.

As Others See Us

The Voice of The Visiting Student

By Jose Luis Reyes-Navarro

As a student along the line of Educational Science and Instruction, I have written a "Practical Spanish for the use in the Americas, with its sociological implications. I write this article with a central purpose: to state the views of the members of the Egyptian, my ideas about a Philosophy of Happiness.

I express my appreciation of the inspiration that my students and friends at Southern Illinois University are giving to me and to my writing. They are producing these articles with the emotion of my life, living and enjoying life in America. Families, fraternal aid universities.

Today Perry Dale Eisenhauer gave me this constructive thought: "Man is not born human, but strives to become so throughout life." This was happening after I expressed in my class, my admiration and appreciation for the wonderful material progress of the United States of America.

This progress is the well planned architectural projects in combination with the most advanced engineering realizations: highways, bridges, dams, irrigation systems as the T.V.A. and Boulder Dam in the Colorado river; cities such as New York, Boston and Washington; universities such as Harvard, Yale, Columbia and Howard; colleges as Vassar, Wellesley, Smith, high schools such as Pulasky, Vermont and Felton in Montreal.

What is the reason for this progress with more than 1708 institutions of higher education, included Southern Illinois University and the University of Illinois? Why this development, the industrial progress with coordinated methods of mass production for the enjoyment of constructive human life, and the heart of the American philosophy of life, the human understanding and appreciation between members of the home with love and aspirations of happiness everyday. But in relation to the Philosophy of Happiness, to check social progress in the interaction of our schools and the World Community, I have these questions:

AL PEACE AND SECURITY, and peace of mind, to insure, by the acceptance of principles and the introduction of methods, that armed TWO THOUSAND NATIONS are not engaged in the common interest, and to employ international machinery for the promotion of the economic and social advancement of ALL PEOPLES.

How many persons have developed faith in education for international understanding and peace of mind?

How can we avoid the problem of international conflicts, their ambitions of peace and national and personal happiness?

If social interaction through friendly guidance produces attitudes of understanding, constructive cooperation, appreciation of higher qualities of individuals, groups and nations, with the increasing of the feeling of happiness, what social friction can make real trouble?

And I repeat: Who is happier—the person that has ten needs and satisfies nine (90%) or the person that has ten needs and only satisfies two (20%)? AND NEEDS, 20%?

If the amount of scarcity in the world and local communities, is the desire of understanding, and if the man's biological nature (human nature) is neither good nor bad, aggressive nor submissive, warlike nor peaceful, but neutral in respect to the direction of developing in either direction depending on what he is compelled to learn by his environment and by his culture.

Why do we not organize an international relations club on our campus, as many professors and students want to have, keeping in mind this idea from UNESCO:

Since we are not organized an international relations club on our campus, as many professors and students want to have, keeping in mind this idea from UNESCO:

What is a best situation for human beings, thinking in terms of the postwar problem, living in ONE GEOGRAPHICAL WORLD, war or peace?

F.T.A. SPEAKERS TO GIVE POINTERS ON TEACHING

The Egyptian Chapter of the Future Teachers of America will meet Wednesday, February 4, at 7:30 p. m. in Old Main 101. Mrs. Mabel Lane, University High School Supervisor, and a panel of four of her student teachers will discuss problems confronting the practice teacher. Mrs. Lane plans to outline briefly the requirements of a student as a practice teacher and will give a few pointers to aid the student in directing his study before becoming a practice teacher.

The panel of four student teachers consists of Matty Sabo, Betty Inowring, Bob Curtis, and George Endman. They plan to discuss the times which they are doing a new practice teaching to provide for individual differences to discipline the pupils in advance, to provide that work, and to provide for excursions and trips as aids in teaching. After the discussion will be open to questions from the audience.

The plans for this next meeting of the F.T.A. indicate that it will be of extreme interest and importance to all who are engaged in teaching and of especial importance to those students who plan to begin their practice teaching. The F.T.A. invites all Southern students to come to attend this meeting.

At a previous regular meeting of the club, Ruth Sprankle was elected secretary-treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Nina Akman.

STEIN ATTENDS MEETING OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN

Miss Helen A. Stein, associate professor of zoology, attended the mid-year board meeting of the American Association of University Women, Saturday, Jan. 24.

What practical contributions can you make for a Philosophy of Education for International Understanding and dynamic lasting World Peace?

It is easy to develop loyal attitudes and love for all the peoples of the world when we have the opportunity to be educated for International Understanding living and enjoying with members of families in other countries.

Variety Show Discussed At Freshman Meeting

The variety show, which will be held on campus in February, was the subject discussed at Freshman class meeting in Shryock auditorium on January 22. All members of the class were asked to submit one or more names of Freshman members who should be considered for participating in the show.

Plans were also discussed concerning a possible class sponsor. Next class meeting will be held in approximately two weeks.

HORTICULTURE DEPARTMENT REQUESTS FUNDS

An urgent request that additional personnel, facilities and funds be allocated to Southern Illinois University for further expansion of its horticultural program was voiced here this week by the Southern Illinois Horticultural Society, in a resolution adopted at the cancellation of its two-day meeting on the University campus.

A second resolution called upon the University to undertake research on marketing problems of the Illinois potato industry.

The resolution was submitted by a committee composed of W. B. VanAntine of Old Pass, D. P. Dell of Grifton, Alan A. Myers of Keokuk, and J. Paul Zwick of Carbondale and Harvey Harrison of Carbondale, the association's secretary-treasurer.

Asked To Support Expansion The resolution, calling on the University president, the University president, and the Teachers College board to provide greater financial support for expansion of the University's horticultural work follows:

"We it resolved that this organization, the Southern Illinois Horticultural Society, do on record as recognizing the following facts which justify the following requests:

"First, the fact that horticulture in the State of Illinois is centered in the south third of the area of the State, secondly, that there have been changes in the status of the institution now known as Southern Illinois University, from that of a Teachers College to that of a University.

"Therefore, we recognize that the lack of personnel and facilities at Southern Illinois University, make it impossible to maintain teaching of students in horticulture and extension services to the horticultural interests of Southern Illinois.

"Therefore, we, the members of this Society request of Governor Green, President Lay, and the Teachers College Board that additional personnel, facilities, and funds be allocated to Southern Illinois University for further expansion of this university's Horticultural Department. This expansion will make possible better teaching in horticulture and more young people living in this area of horticulture, but unable to attend school elsewhere, but desiring a horticultural education, and making possible better and more extensive services to the Horticultural Department.

Seniors In College of Education To Register With Placement Service

Raymond H. Dey, director of the Extension and Placement Service, has scheduled meetings for seniors in the College of Education for the purpose of registering with the Placement Service required by the State before graduation. Graduates of the Colleges of Liberal Arts and Sciences and of Vocations and Professions will be registered at a later date.

Seniors should make every effort to attend the meeting. The placement place will be in room 101 of Old Main. The Placement Service makes eight sets of credentials (composed of approximately ten work samples) for each student. This makes approximately 80 pages of typing by the Placement Service for every Senior. It is necessary for this job to be completed before the job placement season arrives.

Some time will be devoted at each meeting to discuss the job possibilities this year and the probable salary trend. Dates: Meetings Listed The time set aside for the Business Department meeting is Monday, February 2, 4:00 p. m.; for Elementary Education the time scheduled is Wednesday, February 3, 4:00 p. m.; Home Economics will meet Thursday, February 5, 4:00 p. m.; Boys Physical Education will meet Monday, February 9, 4:00 p. m.; The Faculty of Language and English Department meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, February 10; the Social Studies, Sociology, History, Economic, Geography and Government departments will meet Wednesday, February 11; Thursday, February 12, 4:00 p. m. has been set aside for Music majors; Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, Botany and Zoology will meet Monday, February 16, 4:00 p. m.

MAJORITY OF SOUTHERN STUDENTS EAT WELL-BALANCED MEALS

Where do you eat during the week when you make up an active part of Southern's student body? Are you one of the many who live on hamburgers, French fried, and coffee until the week-end when you can go home and load up on Mom's specialties, or do you eat at one of the campus-approved places where you can get good, well-balanced meals every day? Every one of those that you don't get that there is in a lecture on the dining room at State University, so let's see what Southern's students do about eating.

Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, housing director, reports that 25 percent of the students at the campus-approved homes and organized houses. These houses include the sorority and fraternity houses, the Manor, the Normandy, Johnson's Co-op, Seven Cabins, Johnson's, Mrs. Burke's, the Baptist Foundation, Anthony Hall, and the University Cafeteria. Here the students are served well-balanced meals. The menu includes meat, potatoes, green beans, a salad of raw or green vegetables, a dessert of canned fruit or pudding, and coffee or milk.

On the average, a student pays 55c to 56c per meal. In addition, the students are not eating breakfast. They stop in somewhere and have a cup of coffee and doughnuts or rolls on the way to school, or after that 9:00 class. That's how a fourth of the students keep their tummies filled. Some Live in Homes! Another twenty-five percent of the 2708 students live at home and do not eat at school but their parents keep them in homes filled. The sanitary and aesthetic conditions where food is served could be better, but the recognized houses are trying to make their dining rooms more attractive and sanitary. Some of the houses in the health department, and the individual proprietors are working together to improve the standard conditions.

Workshop Courses To Be Offered During Summer

Raymond H. Dey, director of the Placement and Extension Service, announced that the university will offer 11 one-week workshops this summer in various southern Illinois communities. These courses, to be conducted by the geography department, will be held at the following places: Cape Girardeau, including the athletic, art, and music departments. A committee composed of Joan Fairburn, Tom Middleton, Lewis Hammack, and Red Kraus will be appointed to meet with the deans and some of the instructors to discuss the problem.

Also on the program of the evening was the nomination of four faculty to serve on the Organization and Activities Budget Committee, and the decision by the council that Red Kraus and Lewis Hammack should retain their positions on the advisory council.

Southern offered three workshops during the summer of 1946 but the summer of 1947 was so short due to shortage of staff members. The courses will be offered this summer during the three weeks following the close of the school year. The courses will be taught by Dr. Floyd P. Cunningham and Mr. Dallas A. Price of the geography department and by Dr. Lowell R. Tucker and Dr. Marshall H. Cook of the agriculture department.

Engineering Tests Set For Apr. 24

Pre-engineering students must place their orders for pre-engineering laboratory tests in the Office of the Registrar on April 23. This is especially important in this area due to the great damage which can occur to soils, forests, and water supply, according to Mr. Dey.

First to Offer Work

Southern holds the distinction of being the first institution to offer work of this kind in the State. It is especially important in this area due to the great damage which can occur to soils, forests, and water supply, according to Mr. Dey.

Southern Students Receive Credit Without Entering Campus Gate

One thousand, three hundred and seventy of Southern's students never tried to find a parking place on the campus last year. Neither did they pant up at the bookstore for even five minutes. As a matter of fact they didn't even walk through the gates of the campus, yet they received credit for classes at Southern.

What was their system? These 1,370 people took advantage of Southern's Extension Service Program, a plan devised by Raymond H. Dey, director of the Placement Service. The eighteen classes sponsored by Southern and instructed by her faculty were in subjects as diversified as upholstery and speech, as far away as East St. Louis, and as close as Marion.

For the next two weeks registration for the extension courses offered this term will take place. Courses are to be offered in Anna, Belleville, Carlyle, East, Central, Christopher, East St. Louis, Edwardsville, Geneseo, Harrisburg, Herrin, Marion, Mc Leansboro, Mount City, Mt. Vernon, Nashville, Pinckneyville, Sparta, Shawneetown, Vienna, and Waterloo.

Subjects include: education, health education, English, history, agriculture, biology, safety education, sociology, and music.

Southern's Annual 'Ice Follies' Begin As Skaters Reign On Lake Ridgeway

While the mercury dropped and the cold winter winds blew from the North, everyone dug out their winter coats, boots, gloves, and scarves—everyone, that is, except those daring individuals who dug out their ice skates. Yes, the winter sport of ice skating began once again on Lake Ridgeway early this afternoon. At many times there were fifteen to thirty people who braved the elements to enjoy the fine ice. The lake attracted spectators as well as skaters, experts as well as beginners, and professors as well as students. Some Glided Some lucky individuals glided swiftly over the ice and carried out their performance fancy tricks that would do credit to any production of "Ice Follies." Other skaters must have felt their grandfathers great hockey players, for they carried hockey sticks and streaked across the ice. Of course, there were the "beasts" who just plain skated. Nothing fancy for them! And not to be forgotten were the beginners, the people who had never before tried to remain upright on two small pieces of metal. Some SU students who have been taking advantage of the ice were Pinky Spinkles, Marion; Madge Crum, Indiana; Bill Marx, Chicago; Betty Wilson, Palestine; Mildred Layman, Belleville; and Jane Gordon, St. Louis. It was interesting to note that members of the faculty also enjoyed skating on Lake Ridgeway. Sen. skaters recently were Miss Maxine Vogely, director of Anthony Hall; Frank Morrison of the economics department; and Robert English, industrial education department. SCHNEIDER SPEAKS AT AAUP MEETING

Speeches at the American Association of University Professors held an open meeting Monday, January 26 at the university cafeteria at 6 p. m. Dr. William B. Schneider, professor of English, gave a brief history of the campaign to pass Senate Bill No. 6, which was the bill that converted Southern into a university with two colleges in addition to the teachers' college—the Liberal Arts and Sciences College and the College of Vocations and professions. Dr. Schneider was chairman of that campaign to bring the people of Illinois together to support this bill on its way through the Senate and House. Organizations Support Bill He explained how the way was prepared early in 1942, and how the support of many organizations was obtained—the American Legion, the Illinois Federation of LABOR, THE CIO, THE PROGRESSIVE MINERS, THE WOMAN'S CLUBS OF ILLINOIS, HANDLERS OF COMMERCE, AND MANY OTHERS.

It was an account of how the bill fared in various stages of its journey through the Senate and the House until it was signed by Governor Green in July, 1948, after being introduced in the Senate in January 1943. Dr. Schneider pointed out that the movement to pass the bill had five leadership under the late Rose E. Pulliam, and that the faculty at a whole and the students did a splendid job in furthering the cause. Dr. Schneider also related that the principal opposition to the bill throughout the campaign came from sources close to the University of Illinois, and he exhibited numerous newspaper clippings illustrating this opposition. ART INSTRUCTORS ATTEND EXHIBIT IN CAIRO Members of Kappa Pi, art fraternity, with their advisers Ben P. Watkins and Kenneth Ervin, both of SU art department, were in Cairo Sunday, Jan. 18, to view an exhibit of their own work on display in the library there. Members who went were: Don Morris, of Marion; Kinsey Jitodal, Seattle, Washington; Jane Wallace, Marion; Norma Henderson, Carbondale; and Eloise McCoy, Herrin. The students and advisers were there at the invitation of Miss Virginia Hubert, president of the Cairo Women's club. While there, the guests were given a viewing of Miss Hubert's work in water colors and oil, and also valuable prints in her collection, including the contemporary painters Picasso, Matisse, Braconni, and a series of war sketches by the famous Goya.

Housing Conditions Are Discussed On Radio Program

Present and future conditions of student housing at Southern were examined at a round table discussion broadcast over WJPF at 7 p. m. Tuesday. Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, executive assistant of housing service, told the history of the service. Maxine Vogely, director of Anthony Hall, told of the operation of the girl dormitory on the campus. She explained the crowded condition at the hall and explained the rules which aid the situation as much as possible. Donald Bell, director of Doyle dormitory for men, described the dormitory, how it operates, and the objective of the organization. Veteran Housing Discussed Van A. Rubolz, supervisor of veteran housing projects, then discussed Monday through Friday of the veterans housing program.

sets on Chaotung street and at the ordinance plant. He described what each veterans' housing unit contained, the facilities provided with each unit, rent paid for each, and how to qualify for renting a unit. Doris Sewell, assistant to the dean of women and sponsor of the Scatter Girls club, explained the purpose for organizing the girls who are scattered in private homes throughout Carbondale; and told of some of the activities that they have planned. DAILY CHAPEL SERVICES HELD A daily chapel service is being held five days a week for Southern Illinois University students by the Baptist Foundation at its chapel across the street from the University campus. The service is conducted Monday through Friday from 12:35 to 12:50 p. m.

Leathernecks Provide Early Thrills; Reserves Strong

The Southern Illinois University Maroons maintained their first place standing in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Saturday night by overpowering the Western Illinois Leathernecks 73 to 58. It was the third loop win for the Holdermens without a defeat and it was also their thirteenth victory of the season with only two losses.

The game started slowly with both teams apparently "feeling each other out." Ollie Shoaff put Southern ahead 1 to 0 with a charity shot in the first minute of play, but a hook by Al Miksis, the Leatherneck's towering center, made the lead short-lived. The lead changed hands four more times before Captain Quentin Stinson connected on two free throws at the ten minute mark to give Coach Holder's charges a margin that they maintained throughout the game. With Shoaff and Bob Colborn setting the pace, the Maroons compiled a ten point advantage at the fifteen minute mark and increased it into a 31 to 19 half time advantage.

Miksis, Western's six foot six inch shooting, down committed four fouls in the first ten minutes of play and watched the remainder of the first half from the sidelines.

The second period found Colborn, the Florida flash, pouring fourteen points through the hoop to keep Southern well out in front of the Purple and Gold from Western. The clever pivot work of Stinson and the accurate passing of Joe Hughes also aided the Second Half attack of the Maroons, as did the shooting of Shoaff, who connected on four of his "one hand specials." The biggest threat of Coach Morely's Western quintet came with only five minutes remaining in the game as they narrowed the margin to eight points.

The game was interrupted by an abundance of whistle tooting as 52 fouls were called during the forty minutes of playing time. Five players, three from Southern, left the game via the foul route.

Colborn led the Maroon scoring parade with 23 points followed by Shoaff with 15. Johnny Redman, second string center, paced the Leatherneck attack with 16 tallies, and Red McClure, the bulk-hauling specialist, ran a close second with 14 points.

In a preliminary game, the Maroon B squad trounced the Carmel V.F.W. by the score of 73 to 47.

Illinois Normal Next IAC Foe for Maroons Here Saturday Night

Coach Lynn Holder's basketball squad will defend their undefeated conference record against a veteran Illinois State Normal team Monday in the Maroon gym.

Normal's only conference victory was a one-point upset of Western State Teachers at Macomb. The Redbirds have two defeats thus far in conference competition, one by a 61-59 loss to DeKalb. Southern in conference play has a record of three victories and no defeats, having beaten Northern, Western State and Eastern Illinois.

Forwards Lockard and Konlitz are the big guns in the Redbird scoring attack. Each is reported to have a high individual scoring record.

Maroon Coach Lynn Holder will probably start his usual five of Joe Hughes and Bob Colborn at the forward slots, Captain Quentin Stinson at the pivot post, and Jack Eadie and Ollie Shoaff at the guard positions.

Bits and Chips

By Bob Curtis

It is an old tradition that at the beginning of the year sports writers name the athletes whom they consider to have been the outstanding performer for the previous year. This all goes back to the great old American practice of worshipping the hero. We want to name a few of them.

We aren't going to pick any "best" from Southern's crew last year, or ever, for that matter. But we're going to designate a "best" player "The best" watch play basketball than anyone else." Also, we're going to stay away from the hot-headed present, and look into the not forgotten past.

There is a past, which in this case is within the seven or eight year athletic memory of the column, we find two outstanding candidates, Don Sheffer and John Sheffer. Both of them were colorful, able players, and what we choose, the other will undoubtedly have many indignant supporters. Be that as it may, we'll take Don Sheffer.

"Sheff" played with a brace on one knee necessitated by that very common athletic ill commonly called a "rick knee". But, if it is possible, we're going to forget that. In a past, which in this case has been charged that it prejudiced crowds in his favor.

Sheffer was a great scorer, great enough to establish the 1.1. A. C. single game record of 35 points, which still stands. He was a good rebounder, even though he couldn't jump very high and stood only about six feet one. And he was a dependable passer.

These qualities alone are enough to make a person a memorable player, but alone, they cannot establish an athlete as "The best" we'd rather watch play basketball than anyone else." Something else is necessary, and that something else is competitive spirit.

Sheffer was the best competitor we have ever seen. His tremendous will to win, combined with an unquenchable basketball intelligence that is hard to understand and the ability to make the most of any opportunity. All this mighty battle, yet his number one in this book.

P. S. We sure did like to watch John Sebastian play, and he goes down in this book as a truly great player and the "most colorful."

MAROONS SEEK VICTORY AGAINST INDIANA CENTRAL

The Southern Illinois Maroons will be seeking their fourteenth victory of the season this evening when they will entertain Indiana Central of Indianapolis, Ind.

Coach Lynn Holder's charges are currently riding the crest of a five game winning streak. They have not been defeated on their home floor this year and they will attempt to make the Greyhounds their tenth victory on their home court. Since the 1945-46 season, the Maroons have compiled an amazing record of having won 28 out of their last 30 games at home.

By way of comparison, Indiana Central was trounced by Eastern Illinois 81 to 49, whereas Southern defeated the Charleston Panthers 58 to 54. The University of Kentucky, currently rated as one of the top teams in the nation, downed the Central quintet earlier in the season by the score of 80 to 31. The Indiana squad has a season record of eight wins and five losses.

Coach Holder will stick to his starting lineup composed of Bob Colborn and Joe Hughes at the forward spots, Don Eadie and Ollie Shoaff at the guard positions and Captain Quentin Stinson at center.

The Women's Physical Education department is chartering a bus to St. Louis on February 7, to see Coach Western, former modern dance exponent. The Modern Dance Group, P.E. majors, and instructors will make the trip.

Sports Oddity

Along with hard fast play in sports to furnish excitement are many odd events to supply the fan with laughs. One of these unaccountable happenings occurred not long ago at the Carbondale Community High School game with Sparta in the local gym.

The game was but few seconds old when a Sparta man shot a bullet-like push shot from the corner. The ball traveled in a straight line to a point just beneath the rim of the basket, when the Sparta center, under the basket, jumped in an effort to tip the ball, but only managed to touch the ball. With the ball and the Sparta player's hand striking the netting at the same time all indications were that Sparta had scored a field goal, which was quickly seconded by the referee.

Play continued in fast style with no questions being asked by anyone. This was in no way the fault of the referees, it was just merely a slip of the hand. No one could see except those sitting at a direct angle with the basket. We later heard the player admit he had not touched the ball.

All this mighty battle, yet sports have their funny side as well as their exciting one.

SCRAMBLE FOR INTRAMURAL LEAD

Seven teams still hold perfect records after five weeks of competition in intramural basketball being directed by Coach Bill Freeburg.

The Gillespie Miners, Duaneos and Midgets, all undefeated, are tied for the top spot in the National League and four unbeaten quintets, the Snafu Five, Educated Hoboes, Gunners, and Maroon are deadlocked for first place in the American circuit.

In American League games played Monday, the Do It Boyz edged out the Ag Club, in a high scoring affair; NEA downed Utopia Slobovia, and the Duaneos blasted the West Hot Dogs. National League action found Chi Delta Chi moving up to fifth place by trouncing White County.

Figures released by statistician Marion (Jeep) Middleton shows Fred Puckett of the Educated Hoboes leading with 62 points. James Sexton of the Gillespie Miners is second with 58 while Bill Williams of Lou's 57 tied Benders in third with 57.

Other high scorers include Chasman Gardner of the Karoo City Phelps of the Midgets with 44, George of the Ar Club with 41, and Neal of the Snafu Five with 40.

On the Trail Of Sports

By Fenton Harris

Immediately following our entry into the NCAA conversation on the campus here to play up the entry to the point of great magnitude. Most prominent in the supposed importance of the move was the statement that we would automatically go to Madison Square Garden for the National City if we won the IAC championship. For the purpose of clarification we would like to say this is not true. We do have a chance for entry to the Garden, but it is dependent on much more than winning the conference. In fact, there isn't anything definite which will determine our participation in the Garden, but it will be decided upon in accordance with our season's record but just how good a record we must have can't be said, since it is our decision to make. In all probability it will have to be better than outstanding. This may arouse the indignance in some of us, since many followers of the basketball game contend that such a record is accomplished only through a great deal of luck. They base this contention on the fact that there are so many teams in the country, or even a district, that it is bound to be several teams (which will play each other) that are of equal ability. However, one team has to lose and it isn't fair to distinguish between teams who have similar records. By this we mean that they don't believe one team should be admitted to participation in a tourney and above another, merely because they have a slightly better won and lost record. We also join the group in belief but we know that some method must be used in admitting schools into the spring tournament. Now, one of the things that is sure to enter into the decision is the campaign showing, in the victory and defeat column. Undoubtedly many teams will be considered to have all most identical records. Taking first choice in such a case will be the larger schools. This is done on the basic consideration that they consistently come up against better opposition. Considering all of

Including Monday's games the standings are as follows:

Team	W	L
Snafu Five	4	0
Educated Hoboes	4	0
Gunners	3	0
Marion	3	0
Sigma Beta Mu	2	2
Duo's Tigers	1	2
Carbondale Terriers	1	2
Redbirds	1	2
Delta Delta Chi	1	2
St. O's	0	1
Ballet Blazers	0	1
Rough Necks	0	3
White County	0	4
Hoboes	0	4

National League

Team	W	L
Tessie Miners	4	0
Midgets	4	0
Deaneos	3	0
Fighting Fops	3	1
Lou's Pizzet Benders	3	1
K. D. A.	2	1
West Hot Dogs	2	2
Manor House	2	2
NEA	2	2
Utopia Sport Mart	2	2
Alpha Slobovia	1	3
Alpha Phi Alpha	1	3
Do It Boyz	1	3
Sad Sacks	0	3
Ag Club	0	5

this we must realize our chances of winning the spring tourney at Madison Square Garden is relatively small and intangible. It certainly doesn't depend on membership in the NCAA. Actually our situation into the NCAA means practically no change. Several members of the IAC have been members of the association for several years.

Coach Lynn Holder cleverly used his reserve strength last Saturday to wear the rangy Western quintet out and enable our short-cut to win more easily. We have discussed such a possibility in this column before and Saturday's encounter was a perfect example of its use.

Western's substitute center, Redman, gave the officials a moment of puzzlement Saturday when he made a mistake and reported to Madison instead of Miksis. Couldn't be that the name Stinson was firmly imprinted on his mind. If it wasn't then it probably was a little later — along with several other names.

Looking At High School Sports

By Dolan Ginger

The Paris Tigers, riding high on a 16 game winning streak breezed into Lawrenceville Saturday night, to leave well spanked by the big quintet from the West base side of Illinois. Also on the Eastern border, Florida clipped the wings of another highly touted five, Robinson, the loser of only two games and winner of the Centennial holiday tourney. With all its team members back, the Mt. Vernon Rams were humbled by the Marion Wildcats; the Benton Rangers got into the league with college by biting the Harrisburg Bulldogs; and in the remaining South Six game, the Central Orphans downed the West Frankfort Red Birds, as usual, for their twenty-first league win in the last two seasons. In the North Egypt; Lawrenceville bested Mt. Carmel; Salem plowed through its crown by tripping Fairfield, and Olney beat Flora Southwestern University; Pinckneyville, rolled over Carbondale Community. In some non-league games, Johnston City was edged out by one point by Du Quoin; Herrin easily handled Christopher; and Elkville beat Zeigler.

Saturday night, Pinckneyville for the second straight night scored 70 points and romped over Johnston; Salem blasted Centralia 61 to 46; incidentally the juniors of Salem won out over the Centralia.

Three S.I.U. Glovers Take Finals At Herrin Tourney

Dan Cox, West Frankfort, Don Cross, of Christopher, and Jack McCarty, of Herrin advanced to the Centralia Golden Gloves tourney by taking the Herrin tourney finals January 26. Five Maroon boxes of Coach Bill Freeburg, slugged their way for a total of three winners and two runners-up out of the eight men entered. The preliminaries were held Jan. 15 and 16.

Dan Cox, welterweight, and Jack McCarty, light-heavyweight, won the only open division titles. Cox winning on an unanimous decision against a Metrology and McCarty on a TKO in the first round in the finals.

In the novice division, Southern fighters came away with one winner and two runners-up. Bob Cross, heavyweight, won in the finals on a TKO in the second round. The two runners-up—Forest Drickson, middleweight from Zeigler, and Tommy Barnes, lightweight from Carbondale Community high school with the SIU squad were defeated in the finals.

The winners at Centralia will be eligible to fight in the Golden Gloves tourney at Chicago.

In juniors in an overtime in a thriller for their 31st consecutive win; Marion edged past Carbondale Community (surprisingly close) and at Paducah, Ky.; the West Frankfort cagers had a rough deal with the Kentuckians and were beaten 50 to 42. Four of the 13 traveling squad were off the floor owing to the unnecessary roughness of our southern neighbors. Also in an interstate contest at Mt. Carmel, the Princeton, Ind. Tigers holding a spot in the Indiana state ratings and getting second in the Evansville, Ind. holiday tourney, were tripped by a comparatively weak Mt. Carmel five 50 to 48; There too was some rough tactics in which after the game the officials were escorted out of town by the police.

In the Associated Press poll this week: 1—Collinsville (14-0) 2—Salient (18-1) 3—Fekin (12-1) 4—E. Rockford (15-0) 5—Pinckneyville (15-1) 6—Paris (12-2) 7—Dundee (15-1) 8—LaGrange (13-0) 9—Pana (14-2) 10—Waukegan (10-1) 11—Hobinson (15-3) 12—Lawrenceville (12-3) 13—Mattoon (14-2) 14—Galesburg (16-3) 15—Glenhard (14-2). Other teams from southern Illinois mentioned are Centralia, Mt. Vernon, Edwardsville, and Wood River.

By the way the outstanding game for the week end should be the Collinsville Hawks and Wood River.

In this column as many high school are mentioned as possible. It must be admitted, however, that most of the students of Southern are from this immediate area, regardless of this fact we are glad to accept any news from other regions that we could possibly be omitting.
