To Mark Milestone In Little Theatre Productions with 'The Silver Cord'

by Gene Penland

With the production of "The Silver Cord" on Jan. 24, 25, and 26, in Shryock Auditorium, the Little Theatre will mark a milestone in its achievements on campus. The play to be performed is a three-act example of modern realistic drama.

First produced by the Theatre Guild in 1926, "The Silver Cord" is the story of a mother's striving to bind her sons irrevocably to herself.

In a review in "The Nation" for January 5, 1927, a critic gives this analysis of the play: "The theme of this play is the abnormal devotion of a mother to her two sons. It is chiefly a drama of psychological forces and moves from the comedy of the opening scenes to the theatrically great denouement of its closing scene."

"The Silver Cord" is to be the regular winter play presented by the Little Theatre; however the cast will not be made up of undergraduate students as is the usual practice.

In selecting the cast for "The Silver Cord," Dr. Archibald McLeod, the director, found that he had to bypass his undergraduate talent. "This was necessary," Dr. McLeod explained, "since the play demands maturity and great skill and would have been extremely difficult for the Little Theatre to present."

CAST MEMBERS are as follows: Robert Cagle, Metropolis, and Thomas Sloan, West Frankfort, graduate students; Dr. Georgia Winn, associate professor of English; Jean Harlan, and Charlotte McLeod, members of the University Women's club play-reading group; and Katie Alley Davis alumna of the Little Theatre.

Begin Registration Tomorrow for Blood Donations

Registration of Southern students who desire to be blood donors in the Armed Forces Blood Donors drive being sponsored here on campus by the Air Force ROTC will begin tomorrow in the Student Center and will continue through Friday.

Blood donations, from both SIU students and Carbondale residents, will be taken by a Red Cross blood donor unit which will be established at the Carbondale Elks lodge Jan. 28 and Jan. 29.

ANY STUDENT of either sex and any race weighing over 110 pounds and between the ages of 21 and 59 inclusive may be a donor. Students from 18 to 20 are eligible with their parents' written consent.

Appointment cards for all donors who register will be mailed Jan. 25. The cards will contain complete instructions on diet which should be followed prior to the donation.

A donor may give blood every eight to ten weeks, but not more than five times in any one year.

The Carbondale goal for the Jan. 28-29 donations is 400 pints.

Tryouts Thursday for Independent Musical

Tryouts for the Independent Student Association musical show will be held this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Shryock auditorium, according to Wyona Smith, chairman of the show.

Any organized house or individual is eligible to try-out for the show, which is to be held Feb. 1 in conjunction with Independent Week, Jan. 28-Feb. 1. Anyone wishing to submit an act should be present at this first try-out. Further try-outs and rehearsals will be held at a later date.

Tom Millikin Honored at Half-time Ceremonies

Tribute was paid to Tom Millikin, Southern basketball captain who departs for military service Jan. 17, at a special ceremony during the half-time intermission at the Southern-Illinois Wesleyan game last Saturday night.

Music Students To Give Recital Tomorrow Night

Dr. Maurits Kesnar, chairman of the Southern music department, has announced the fact that there will be a general student music recital to be held in the Little Theatre tomorrow evening.

According to Kesnar, the program will begin at 8 p.m. and will feature several different selections.

Students and the public may attend the recital free of charge.

Over Half Pass Deferment Tests

Selective service figures show that 63 per cent of the 339,000 college students who have taken the military deferment examinations scored 70 or better.

Making the passing score of 70; however, is only one of the requirements for deferment. The other major requirement is the class standing of the student—freshmen must be in the upper half of their class; sophomores, upper two-thirds; juniors, upper three-fourths; and the seniors are deferred if their score is above 75 or if they are in the upper one-half of their class.

Director of the selective service, Lewis B. Hershey, reminds the remaining students who have not taken the test yet that the test will be given again April 24. Application forms may be obtained from local draft boards throughout the country. The test was last given Dec. 13.

* At this time, Millikin was presented with three awards. The first of these was a silver identification bracelet presented by the Sigma Pi fraternity. Virgil Fuchs, Wood River senior and fraternity president, made the presentation for "out-standing sportsmanship as a Southern athlete."

THE SECOND presentation, a traveling clock, was made by fellow player Stan (Pony) Horst. Hoytlen senior, first represented the team, coaches, and manager of Southern in presenting the gift.

Coach Lynn C. Holder then awarded Millikin with an "I" blanket. These blankets are given to Southern athletes who have lettered three or more years while attending SIU. When making the presentation, Holder cited Tom as being "one of the greatest lads and finest athletes in the U. S. A." Millikin's parents, sister, and wife were present at the ceremony.

THE BIG basketball captain missed what probably would have been his proudest achievement when he fell five points short of breaking his scoring record for a single game. Millikin scored 31 points to lead the Salukis to a 82-53 victory over Illinois Wesleyan. His record is 35 points, scored last year against the Michigan Normal Hurons. Millikin also holds the all-time Southern scoring record, being the first Southern player to score over 400 points in a single season.

Degree Applicants To Register With Placement Service

Roye R. Bryant, director of the Placement Service, has announced the following schedule for the registration of seniors and graduate students with the Placement Service:

Monday, Jan. 21—graduating seniors of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Tuesday, Jan. 22—graduating seniors of the College of Education.

Wednesday, Jan. 23—graduating seniors of the College of Vocations and Professions.

Thursday, Jan. 24—graduate students who plan to complete the requirements for the master's degree this year.

All meetings will be held at 4 p.m. in the auditorium of the Allyn building.

UNLESS THEY have already completed registration with the Placement Service, seniors are asked to register according to the above schedule regardless of whether their requirements for graduation were met in December, or will be met in March, June, or August of this year.

In order that the Placement Service may be of greater help to the candidates for the master's degree, these students are also urged

A Call for Blood

American servicemen have been giving their blood in Korea for over a year and a half. Yes, for over eighteen months American blood has been staining Korean soil in a struggle for freedom. These men don't have a chance to say "yes" or "no." A bullet or a bomb does the deciding for them, and they become "blood donors" without a choice.

AS THE WAR in Korea continues and the casualties mount, more and more American blood is spilt and lost on foreign soil. It's up to us, the donors who have a choice, to make up this deficit. This is done by voluntary contributions to the Red Cross blood drives.

One of these drives, sponsored in co-operation with the Carbondale Elks, is now getting underway. The goal for Carbondale, announced by publicity director Frank Crispin, is 400 pints. It is up to Southern to supplement what Carbondale doesn't meet.

Registration for the drive which will be held Jan. 28-29 begins tomorrow at the Student Center. Persons between the ages of 21-59 may sign up at this time. Persons wishing to donate under the age of 21 must have a written consent of their parent or guardian. These blanks for parental consent are available at the Student Center, Office of Student Affairs, and at the office of the AF ROTC, which is spearheading the drive here on campus. Prospective donors under the age of 21 must have these blanks signed before they can register the 16th, 17th, and 18th.

Southern will have a drive of its own in approximately a month; however, this should not prevent students from helping Carbondale meet its goal.

ANY PERSON of either sex or race is eligible to donate, for blood knows no colors or creeds. The only requirement is that the donor must weigh over 110 pounds. A thorough medical check-up is given before anyone is allowed to donate, and complete instructions on diet are given prior to the appointment. All blood donated will be used exclusively for military purposes.

For those would be donors who hesitate, wondering if "it hurts," remember: We donate because we choose to, and give only a pint under thoroughly safe and sanitary means. The men who need our blood have no choice. They give while laying in the mud, in the snow, or while trapped in a twisted mass of steel that once was an instrument of war. Over the quantity they give, they have no control. D.D.

DEGREE APPLICANTS

to complete registration with the service. The percentage of calls for candidates with the master's degree is definitely on the increase.

ANY GRADUATING senior or graduate student who finishes the requirements for the master's degree this year and who is unable to be present at the scheduled meeting, should call at the placement office in order to get the registration forms.

The office is located on the west side of South Thompson at the intersection of Harwood Avenue. The telephone number is extension 273 or 294. There is no charge to the student or to the employer who receives aid from the Placement Service.

It finally has happened! A girl wandered into the offices of the Egyptian to disclose what we had suspected all along. She expressed fear that retaliation might come if she allowed us to print her name. She seemed haggard and worn-out after her ordeal. She said that she spent all night walking the floor before deciding to spill. She also knew the dreaded consequences if she happened to talk to the wrong persons. Once it became known what the girl was going to divulge, the staff reporters of the Egyptian cleared the offices of all people not connected with the paper.

THUS IT CAME to be that the startling disclosures were made behind sealed doors. As we in the room gathered around the girl, she began to cry. She pulled out a blue and white handkerchief and sniffled. She sobbed gently. She was dressed as most college women are, blue jeans, poplin jacket, white galoshes, and a red bandana for a babooska.

She stopped crying long enough to speak in a hysterical voice to say, "I know that this is going to come as a shock to you . . ." Most of the reporters were on the edge of their chairs by now. "I know that a few of you fellows suspected it . . . It wasn't until my boy friend flunked that I decided to spill." There was a murmuring of voices that hushed into silence as all faces anxiously awaited the news. What was it?

"IT IS TRUE, as you fellows suspected—teachers do give better grades to girls!" the girl said. The men in the darkened room looked triumphantly at each other—aha, it was so, and at last they met a girl who had the guts to admit it. The girl reporters began to look a little uneasy as a few murmurs like, "Let's get 'em," and other remarks were heard. Had we all known what the girl was going to tell we would have emptied the room of the women reporters, too, but it was too late now.

Anger throbbled through the minds of the men. All these years they had been robbed, and now they wanted revenge. The balance of humanity hung on this disclosure. Society's whole procedure hung in balance. Should women go first or last?

THE GIRL CONTINUED, "It is just a gigantic conspiracy to try to keep the . . ." The plot began to thicken and come to a boil—but then, a shot rang out! Our little pigeon slumped gurglingly to the floor from out of her chair. We turned to see our ace reported (the one who gets all the A's in journalism—a girl) standing, while down at her side in her hand is a smoking .38. "Let's break it up boys and get back to work," she said calmly. I've written this and handed it in before the editor, a woman, has had a chance to censor it. Meanwhile I have taken a room in a city close to Carbondale, and commute every day by armored car.

Ridgeway—

Fraternities Lose Dunking Grounds

by Teresa White

Lake Ridgeway, the customary fraternity dunking grounds where many a romance has turned out all wet, has been drained not only of water, but of tradition as well.

One of the famous landmarks of Southern is now being filled with dirt which covers up an old Greek custom, (as far as fraternities go), which is the pinning of the fraternity man's woman of the hour. Following the pinning, the lucky girl is serenaded by the man's fraternity, and he is rewarded for his heroic deed by being thrown into Lake Ridgeway.

WHAT FUN it must have been during the course of the week for one brother to tell another "to go jump in the lake," and know that is just exactly what he is going to do. But now the cliché is lost, for one must now say "go jump in the mud."

Perhaps one of the results of this demobilization will be a decrease in the number of pinnings, for who wants to ride all the way to Crab Orchard just to be thrown in the lake? Besides that, what will the Obelisk do now that there will be no more Lake Ridgeway pictures to use as fillers?

ON THE OTHER hand, how many alums come back to Southern and stand by Lake Ridgeway with their eyes filled with tears as they say in a very shaky, yet graven voice, "I was thrown in there once or twice myself."

Now all this has, in a sense, been snatched into oblivion. Of course, there is still the traditional cannon.

Book Review

Novel by Taylor Gives Witty View of College

by Bill Young

Writing in his characteristic trenchant style, Robert Lewis Taylor presents a pungent, witty political-sporting romance of college and football in his book, "Professor Fodorski."

At the same time he introduces "one of the most charming and engaging characters to appear in recent fiction—the man from Wittenberg, Professor Fodorski."

Professor Stanislaus Fodorski deposited himself in the New World with a hundred dollars and an English grammar book as his only possessions. His sole friend, a professor at Southern Baptist Institute of Technology, got him a job in the engineering department there, thus saving for mankind, especially the Deep South, the most exciting character to descend upon the country since Washington officially made America free.

FODORSKI'S exposure to football and his eventual rise to the position of head coach make for one of the funniest stories of the year. Tilting his black homburg to a rakish angle, the genius from Wittenberg sets out to revolutionize that fine old institution of college football. It was Professor Fodorski who initiated the devastating two platoon system—he whipped that up in his spare time!

Fodorski's misadventures with the university band are hilarious, for he works out the intricate band maneuvers according to his football plays.

However, Fodorski is not as befuddled on the gridiron or in the class room. His team manages to fool the experts, and his athletes actually do some serious studying in his engineering classes.

"PROFESSOR Fodorski" is Taylor's fifth book. His other works include "Adrift in a Bone-yard," "Doctor, Lawyer, Merchant, Chief," "W. C. Fields: His Follies and Fortunes," and "The Running Pianist."

Robert Lewis Taylor is a native of Carbondale. He was educated at Community high school and the University of Illinois. He now resides in Ridgefield, Conn.

Taylor just recently finished a biography of Winston Churchill, which will be published sometime this summer.

Salukis Score Easy Win Over Wesleyan 82-53

by Don Duffy

Southern Illinois University's basketball team won its fifth straight home game of the season last Saturday night when they easily downed the unsettled Illinois Wesleyan Titans 82-53. After ten minutes of play in the first quarter, the Salukis held a 10-1 lead, and were never headed for the remainder of the game.

The Titans, wild on their shots and erratic in their passing, did not sink their first field goal until six minutes had elapsed in the first period. It was then, on their seventh shot attempt, that forward Bill Meyers sank the first basket for the Wesleyan team.

Tom Millikin, Southern's great departing forward, dropped in five baskets and one free-throw in the first period to pace the Salukis to a 22-14 lead at the end of the quarter. The Holdermen made good on 20 out of 49 attempts in the first half to take a commanding 47-25 half-time lead. The Titans, erratic and seemingly befuddled, hit on only 8 of their 29 attempts.

The second half was merely a formality of playing out the designated sixty minutes. A Southern victory seemed a certainty. The Titan's caliber of play improved little. The Salukis continued to add to their lead, the interest of the near capacity crowd began to focus on captain Tom Millikin and the possibility that he may break his scoring record of 35 points.

Millikin had 24 points going in to the third quarter. But the big forward seemed to tense up and get off his shots before he was set after he neared the 30 point mark. Tom scored seven points in the third quarter, to total 31 in all. Millikin said after the game, "If I hadn't known how close I was to my record, I might have done it. But in the last quarter I was pushing my shots before I had them. Everyone kept telling me how many points I had, and how much time was left to play. I guess I started pressing myself too hard."

Still, the Southern stand-out hit on 14 out of 36 attempts for a percentage of .388, a respectable performance in any contest. Millikin also turned in his usual fine performance on rebounding, as the Southern squad controlled the backboards both on offense and defense.

Dick Sturgeon, lanky forward, was high scorer for Wesleyan with 11 points. As a team, the Titans shot a poor .286. The Salukis hit .365, to hand the visitors their fifth loss in ten games played this season.

Tom Millikin Leads Southern Scorers

Scoring statistics including last Saturday's game against Illinois Wesleyan show that Tom Millikin is leading the team with a total of 220 points. This gives the senior captain from Pinckneyville an average of almost 17 points per game.

Harvey Welch, Centralia freshman who has been working at both the guard and forward spots, is second with 142 points. Chuck Thate, big junior center from Hirsch high school in Chicago, is third with 128. Ray Ripplemeyer

Chi Delts Hold One Game Lead

The leading Chi Delta Chi aggregation roared to the evening's high 2385 total in the Southern Illinois University Hellenic bowling league to win two from Theta XI, who also attained the 2300 ultra class with 2326. They retained their one-game lead when the second place Sigma Pi crew took a like number from Sigma Sigma Sigma. Jim Throgmorton was the main man with 496 for the leaders. Bill Wangelin's 494, Bill Nichols' 481 and Doug Garber's 473 were other scores that made up the towering series. The Theta Xi's had the assistance of Carroll Cox's 467 for their lone win.

THE RUNNER-UP Sigma Pi keglers won their two games at the expense of Sigma Sigma Sigma due principally to Gene Graves who blasted a 522 set for the evening's high output. Connie Conatser continued her heavy pin topping for the Tri Sigs with a neat 402.

The Sigma Tau Gamma crew moved into a share of third place in the standings on the strength of a series sweep against the cellar dwelling Delta Sigma Epsilon quintet, with Jim Maller's 496 supplying the fireworks. Louie Taylor's 347 topped the victims efforts.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON closed the agenda with a two-game licking of Pi Kappa Sigma on the strength of Charlie Nance's 475 series. Mary Ann Klingenberg and Jackie Bittner collaborated their efforts of 404 and 373 for the Pi Kap's lone win.

SIU Cagers Fall Prey to Western In 58-50 Defeat

Southern's basketball squad suffered its first conference loss of the season last Thursday night when the Western Leathernecks of Macomb downed them 58-50.

BOTH TEAMS got off to a slow start. The score stood Western 8, Southern 6 at the end of the first quarter. This lack of scoring was because of poor shooting rather than tight defensive play. Western held a 24-22 lead at half-time, and outscored the Salukis in both the remaining periods to keep their record clean in conference play.

Western, as a team, shot .323 on field goal attempts, a percentage which is little better than average. The Salukis, however, suffered an off night, managing to hit on only 23 percent of their shots.

JACK PERSINGER led the Leathernecks in scoring with 19 points. Ray Ripplemeyer, freshman forward, was high for the Salukis with six field goals and two free-throws, a total of 14 points.

Southern's loss leaves Western and the Eastern Illinois Panthers the only two unbeaten teams in the IIAC.

Southern Invades Michigan for Two Conference Games

Southern Illinois University's cage squad pushes into Michigan this week for two Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference games.

The Salukis take on Central Michigan at Mt. Pleasant Thursday (Jan. 17) and play at Ypsilanti Saturday (Jan. 19) against Michigan Normal.

It will be Southern's first game this season without the services of Captain Tom Millikin. Millikin played his last game here Saturday and must report Thursday for induction into the armed forces.

With Millikin gone, the Salukis may be hard put to repeat their victory over Central Michigan. The Salukis won the first meeting 73-67. Saturday's game will be Southern's first crack at Normal. Bad weather prevented the Hurons from keeping an earlier engagement at Carbondale.
