Council Discusses Student Union Fee Increase; Lack Of Quorum Postpones Other Business

'Miss Anthony' Contest Set For Feb. 9, 10

Trustees Authorize Request For Funds; Building To House Gym

By Rita Moser

"The student union activity fee must be raised from one dollar," announced Clyde Reynolds, president of the Student Council, Thursday night.

Frs. Delvite W. Morris and Dean of Men L. Clark Davis had previously discussed the problem with some of the council members.

The procedure for passing this raise is to have the council pass it and then have the student body vote on it. If it is passed it will go into effect in September.

Dr. Elizabeth Greenleaf, head of student affairs and present at the meeting said, "Other universities pay from $5 to $48 each semester or term for their student union." Greenleaf said.

"I saw the first draft of our new work and it was a dream come true."

"I would like to see the council send for the pictures of other unions and the fees the students pay. These could be displayed in the union for students to see."

Fee Raise Must Be Passed

"If this fee raise is not passed, the student body will not realize its importance and vote it down," Reynolds said Marilyn Michels to see about getting the council to write for pictures and fees from other universities.

Sheila Pfanz was asked to write a letter inquiring about a Saluki dog. No petitions for clubs could be passed because there was no quorum.

There was no report on the seating situation at the baseball game because Dan Bode, chairman, was late for the meeting. No report was given on the pep committee budget because Jerry Duane, chairman, was absent.

Due to the failure of student response to the Student Council office hours, the council decided a new plan.

Aldrich, Dr. David T. Kenney, faculty adviser, said it was good to make a motion and vote on it because "this is a problem concerning the council."

Bulletin To Be Issued

It was decided a bulletin should be sent to all organized houses announcing the major topics to be discussed at the next council meeting.

"The bulletin will be sent in advance of our meetings," said Reynolds. "The presidents of these houses can read it in their house meetings and then bring in the results to the office. The office, in the Student Union, will be open from 10 a. m. to noon and 1 to 3 p. m. each day."

Reynolds asked Richard Cole, treasurer, to make signs to be displayed in the Student Union. These signs will state what problems will be discussed at the council meeting that week and urging students to voice their opinions to members on duty in the council office.

Greenleaf reviewed an 11-page study of student leadership positions taken over a three-year period.

"The survey showed, although the enrollment has increased 80 per cent over this period," said Miss Greenleaf, "that the number of students holding offices was decreasing. Students holding more than one position was decreasing, most juniors and seniors held offices, more women were in office and almost half of the students in office had a four point or above average."

This was taken from 1952 to 1955.

Knave Newspapers' Editor 'Stuffy' Walters To Make Lovejoy Lecture In Journalism Here Thursday

A former president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Basil L. (Stuffy) Walters, present executive editor of the Knight Newspapers, will give an Elijah P. Lovejoy lecture here on Thursday.

Walters is the holder of an honorary doctorate from the University of Indiana. He is editor of the Chicago Daily News and several other metropolitan dailies throughout the Midwest.

For his contributions to the cause of press freedom, Walters was recently a recipient of the annual John Peter Zenger award given by the University of Arizona's journalism department in Phoenix, Ariz.

A former leader as a participant for the cause of freedom of information, Walters held the position of president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He warned other newspaper editors not to withhold important information from the public concerning governmental matters.

'Primitive Africa' Shown At Assembly

A color film, entitled "Primitive Africa," was presented by Margaret Baker, international business woman and world traveler, at the Freshman Assembly Thursday.

Miss Baker, who owns a rubber plantation in Malaya, made the film while on the way to visit her plantation.

"I am interested in presenting the film to Americans to better prepare them for world leadership and understanding," she said.

The film concerned the four life work from Cairo, Egypt through the Sahara desert, to Kenya Colony. From here, Miss Baker went to Zululand, where some of the habits and dances of the Zulus were recorded on film.

Guidance Director To Speak

Allan L. McCabe, who did guidance work at SIU last year and is now guidance director in Marion public schools, will speak on "Foreign Students at SIU" at a FIA meeting at 7:30 p. m. in University School Theater tonight.

125 Women Attend Dames Club Meeting, Organize Interest Groups

Nine interested groups, ranging from child study to bridge for both beginners and advanced players, were formed at the Dames Club's organization meeting Thursday.

About 125 women attended.

Reports from each of the interest groups are scheduled for the next meeting, Feb. 8, in the cafeteria. Also on the program is flower shows to be provided by the Irene Florio Shop.

Any student's wife who wishes to join any of the interest groups of the Dames Club, should contact the following for the meeting dates of that group:

Sewing, Lillian Collier, Ph. 11291; Child Study, Isla Steele.

Unknown Rifleman Shoots At Woody

Several cracked windows, believed caused by BB's apparently shot from an air rifle, were discovered in "C" section of Woody Hall recently.

Section C overlooks the patio, which was apparently used as a target range by someone.

That's not a creed trying to balance a basketball on her head, but one who is trying to catch a pass from her teammate while also trying to remain on the back of a donkey. The action took place in the women's students-women faculty donkey basketball game in the men's gym, Friday night. Over the course of the evening six games were played.

'Terminal Education' Topic Of Rattle Talk Tuesday

"Past, Present and Future of Terminal Education" was the subject of a speech delivered by W. L. Randle of the Vocational Technical Institute to the Business and Professional Women's Club at Carterville last Tuesday.

The second annual "Miss Anthony Hall" beauty contest is scheduled for Feb. 9-10, according to Bob Tyler, head of the contest committee.

The candidates are invited to a formal dinner Thursday, Feb. 9 in the Anthony dining hall. They will be escorted to the dinner which starts at 6 p. m., by residents of Anthony Hall.

The following evening a semi-formal dance is to be held in the reception lounge. At that time the queen and her court of four will be crowned.

To be a candidate for the contest, a girl must have her name submitted by the members of an organized house. All such houses have been mailed entry blanks for the forthcoming contest.

All candidates are required to possess some sort of talent, whether it be singing, dancing, playing a musical instrument, poem recitation or any other form of entertainment.

Last year's queen was Marilyn Eckert.

Winter Students Must Register Early Or Pay

"All students taking day courses on the SIU campus during the winter quarter who plan to attend the spring quarter must register during the advance registration period which ends March 9, or wait to register until March 29 during the first week of the spring quarter," said Dr. Robert A. McGraw, registrar.

"Monday, March 26, the first day of the spring quarter, is being reserved for the registering of new students. Tuesday and Wednesday, March 27-28 are being reserved for the processing of program changes and the continued registering of new students," he said.

Students registering on Thursday, March 29, will be required to pay a $4 late registration fee. Registration thereafter will carry a $5 late fee charge.

This new procedure will be applied to all students graduates and undergraduates, faculty and staff, scholarship holders, and others.

"It will not apply to students who are registering only on Saturdays or Sundays. They may do so on the first meeting date of the class without penalty, in accordance with the instructions contained in the 'Schedule of Classes' for the spring quarter," McGraw said.

Speech Festival Here Saturday

The Speech Department will sponsor the annual High School Speech Festival to be held on campus Saturday.

The festival will include contests in the following areas: play reading, serious and comedy; radio speaking; original monologues; after-dinner speaking; extemporaneous speaking; original oratory; extemporaneous verse reading.

A feature of the festival will be a demonstration lecture at the close of the meeting. In this lecture, speech students will be acquainted with techniques of oral interpretation by Dr. Paul Hunsinger of the Speech Department.

Southern Illinois University students in dramatic literature and poetry will judge the high school contestants.

The third game, Women Students against the Women Faculty, ended in a 0-0 tie. Perhaps this was because baskets could be shot only from the donkey's back, and the players seemed to have trouble mounting their donkeys.

A ladder was finally used to help Janet Beckenridge, head resident at Woody Hall, get on her donkey.

The donors played a running game during the fourth contest—the game of the evening. Both teams had several good scoring chances ruined by their opponents' pulling them off the donkeys, pulling the ball from their hands, and using other such tactics.

Jane Gamble of Johnson Hall made their first basket, and Shirley Harriving counted for the other four points.

The women students won the last game of the evening, against the men students. The men didn't have a chance, because the "referee" effectively kept their donkeys at the far end of the court.

By Jerry Rombach

A new men's physical education and community center building with a large gymnasium floor is in the planning stage, said Dr. George H. Hand, SIU vice-president in charge of business affairs.

The building, with complete modern P. E. and athletic facilities, should be ready by the fall of 1959 if the Illinois Legislature approves it in the next session which will be held next January.

At the Board of Trustees meeting last Wednesday night, Pres. Delvite W. Morris was authorized to apply to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for the necessary funds to defray architects' fees.

The present crowded conditions of Men's P. E. classes will be corrected on a permanent basis during the present year's building.

"The present gym was built for a student body that was five times smaller than it is now," Hand said.

Dr. Roswell D. Merrick, assistant dean in the College of Education said that it is still too early to say definitely what the new building will include, or even where it will be located, but definitely better facilities for both the P. E. and Athletic Department will be included.

Departments To Be Housed

Intercollegiate athletics, Men's P. E. Department, Health Education Department, Internal Department and Recreation and Outdoor Education are going to be located in the planned building, Merrick stated.

The building will be divided into two sections, one for offices, classrooms, and minor sports areas and the second section will be a large gymnasium with abundant locker space and a large seating capacity.

The important needs in the first section of the building will be plenty of classroom, office and play court space, Merrick said.

The community center section of the building will be used for intercollegiate athletics, as well as an answer to the present campus problem of no indoor seating space for a large group of people.

Provide Place For Meetings

"Right now there is no place on campus, or for that matter anywhere in Southern Illinois, where a large number of people could meet indoors for such things as intercollegiate athletics, political rallies, conventions, state wide exhibits, commencement exercises, Boy Scout Jamborees or other events where a large crowd is expected," Merrick said.

At the present time, Dr. Edward Shea, chairman of the Men's P. E. Department, and Carl Erickson, director of athletics, are receiving lists from P. E. and coaching staff members as to what they will need in the new building.

"We are still in the stage of gathering information so nothing is definite yet," Erickson said.

"But from our viewpoint, this building is what we desperately need."

The present gym will go to the Women's Physical Education Department.

Hypnosis First In Psychology Club Programs

A demonstration of hypnosis will be first in the series of programs planned by the Psychology Club, the club officers decided at an informal meeting Wednesday night.

Dr. Leslie F. Malpas, assistant professor of psychology and Larry Brock, senior psychology major, will give the demonstration at the next Psychology Club meeting at Malpas's home on Wednesday, Feb. 8.

The possibility of forming a chapter of Psi Chi, national honorary psychology society, at SIU will be presented at the next meeting.

"Psi Chi should provide much enjoyment for the members, as well as being valuable professionally," said Dr. William Lee, assistant professor of psychology and sponsor of the Psychology Club. "Membership would probably be restricted to juniors and seniors since a minimum of 20 hours in psychology is one of the primary membership requirements."

Members also need an overall C average, and an average of not less than B in Psychology. Psi Chi like to use all psychology majors to attend the next meeting, when we'll talk more about Psi Chi."

Centralia Girl To Sing Lead In Music Festival

A Southern Illinois girl, who "made good" will return to the area to be featured soloist for the Star Spring Music Festival, Virginia Haskins, a native of Centralia, will be featured in the Extravaganza May 12, at McAdams Stadium.

This star of radio, television, opera and concert performances will receive top billing over 2,500 massed band and chorus members.

Miss Haskins, the youngest of 10 children, learned to sing right in kindergarten. After moving to Zeigler, a native teacher, persuaded her to enter a voice contest. Her delicate win led to two years of vocal study with Bernard Ferguson at the far end of the court.

Since completion of her studies Miss Haskins has appeared on "Railroad Hour," the "Standard Oil Hour," and many other musical radio shows. She has sung leading roles on eight full-length telecasts of major operas on NBC-TV's "Opera Theater." Two of her appearances were in 1954 George Peabody Award and Variety Show Management Award.

Six "honored directors" will conduct phases of the program, featuring high school and elementary musicians from Southern Illinois. A representative to the Chicago Land Music Festival will be selected following contests during the morning of the festival.

Students To Register With Placement Service

Seniors and graduate students not registered with the Placement Service must register at 1 p. m. tomorrow and 10 a. m. Friday in Shreck Auditorium.

This ruling applies to all students who have met the requirements for graduation in December or will meet them in March, June or August. Those persons going into the armed forces or whose future is otherwise undecided also should register. Candidates for master's degrees who have bought their file date do not have to attend the meeting.

The purpose of these meetings is to answer questions concerning job opportunities as well as to explain the registration, which is essential for graduation.

Persons unable to attend either of these meetings should call at the Placement Office to secure registration papers.

A Reiteration

In a Friday editorial, we urged the Student Council to continue working for the solution to an important problem—the best system of representation to the student body to review the pros and cons of representation and to come to the council with any ideas and views that might throw "new light" on the problem. We especially urged that all these views be aired in an open-forum this winter.

We felt that the council members were sincerely interested, as they had expressed so before, in solving this dilemma. We also hoped that members of the student body too were interested and we are looking forward to a good response to our appeal.

We realized that the council members were the key to working out any new plan and that they must be the leaders of such a movement.

The council met Thursday night. Several new and old business issues were brought before the group. One was the important matter of raising the Student Union activities fee from the present one dollar. It could have been the beginning of a bus and parking problem.

But a snag developed—there was no quorum. Petitions made for prospective campus organizations were delayed because of "no quorum." The basketball games, seating problem was delayed because of "no quorum." The basketball games, seating problem was delayed because of "no quorum."

Degrees Or Education?

(Editorial reprinted from the Chicago American)

It seems that Goodrich C. White, who is president of Emory University in Georgia, is an old-fashioned educator. He thinks "getting an education means learning something." He expressed this idea in a very observation before the Association of American Colleges at their convention in St. Louis Tuesday.

If the trend continues toward trying to get through college through college, whether it be to get a benefit out of it or not, said Mr. White, it will presently become "simpler—and cheaper—just to get the bachelor's degree on it who apply at a given age and are managed to join out of jail."

Mr. White was taking a jab at the idea, widely entertained throughout the nation, that the important thing is to equip as many Americans as possible with college degrees. Educators who share this view seem inclined to accomplish the purpose by devising college courses limited to the individual speed of the student. You can get a college degree if you can get the requirements low enough.

Old-fashioned Mr. White thinks the old should be to give as many Americans as possible college education rather than to achieve a wide distribution of college degrees, and he seems to have good sense on his side.

Mr. White thinks that every American who wants to learn has the opportunity to try for a college degree. But nobody owes it to him to see that he gets one by cooking up a course he can easily pass.

We can't make ourselves a nation of highly educated men and women by reducing educational standards any more than we could become a nation of high jumpers by lowering the stick until everybody can hop over it.

School Marx

Dr. Willis Moore, chairman of the philosophy department, has an article in December's issue of the American Association of University Professors' Bulletin entitled, "Causal Factors in the Current Attack on Education."

"The most aspects of what must be considered an attack upon the principle of academic freedom are familiar to members of the teaching profession," wrote Dr. Moore. "They are the unprecedented wave of local union prosecutions for teachers, programs of censorship of textbooks, the screening of prospective campus speakers, the increased regulation of administrative control of campus publications and organizations, Congressional and state legislative investigations of school affairs and a long list of dismissals of teachers are charged with some degree of unprofessionalism. The deteriorating effects of the attack have already become apparent in the educational process."

"OK, HEWLETT—OTHER STUDENTS HAVE HAD TO FACE REQUIRED COURSES, A KNOW"

Hartwig Directs Grade School Language

Seven Carbondale elementary schools now offer foreign languages to their pupils under a program directed by Dr. Joseph K. Johnson, chairman of the Department of Sociology.

The book, "A Synopsis of Principles," by John Suber of Ohio State University, will replace the old text, Society and Culture which was used for four years.

Students will get more out of this book, as it is much better written and offers more, Johnson said.

A committee had worked on the subject for three months in trying to select a suitable book. After their report was made, the sociology department voted on and passed the selection.

Coeds Have Leap Year Parties

Two leap year parties were celebrated over the week-end at Woody Hall.

Second floor C and first floor C, the party sponsors, had a list of the requirements that the girls attending their boy friend as part of the leap year tradition which requires the female to be the aggressor.

Plans Made For Conservation Workshop

Preliminary plans for the summer Conservation Workshop in Springfield are being made, according to Dr. Floyd E. Cunningham, chairman of the geography department. Cunningham will be in Springfield tomorrow to prepare for the June and July summer school at the State Fair grounds.

Dr. Annemarie E. Kruse, associate professor of geography, is attending the meeting as a representative of the summer school staff.

Newman Club Elects Officers Wednesday

Approximately 50 students were initiated into the Newman Club, an organization for Catholic students Wednesday night in a candlelight ceremony in the parish hall at 403 South Poplar.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: Ed Langens, president; Bill Dunkel, vice president; Rita Stafford, recording secretary; Anita Vercellino, corresponding secretary.

Members who had paid their dues were given an opportunity to buy their membership pins.

Dendy Replaces Hinners in Teaching Assignment

Milton Y. Dendy, Nashville, Tenn., faculty supervisor, will temporarily replace Scott Hinners, SIU poultry specialist on leave for graduate study at the University of Illinois.

Dendy, whose assignments will be teaching and research, was appointed by the Board of Trustees on a term basis.

"All these matters we teachers must consider well and help our students and other factors to understand, if our democratic education and the way of life it supports are to be preserved."

Excavation To Be Made In Area

During the remainder of this school year the SIU Anthropology Club will conduct a test excavation in the Crab Orchard Archeological Area. The excavation will be carried on under the supervision of Howard Winters, who is a junior researcher for the National Science Foundation.

The site was decided upon at the Jan. 10 meeting of the club. Also on the program was a talk by Dr. Charles Lange on the subject "Anthropology and Its Relations with Other Academic Fields."

The next meeting of the club will be Jan. 24, at 7:30 p. m. in the Museum. Joseph K. Johnson, chairman of the sociology-anthropology department, will speak on "Culture and Personality."

Girls Rally Wants Work

"Girls Rally is anxious to work," said Judi Duncan, Girls Rally president. "We haven't had as many calls as we did last year, but the girls are more than willing to help with anything that is of service to Southern. Whether it takes two girls or 10 we'll do it as long as it's of service to SIU."

Some of the activities the group has done includes: ushering, leading tours of campus, serving at receptions, acting as student leaders and sponsors, checking buses and coats, "stuffing" packets, and selling tickets.

Those wanting Girls Rally's services may contact the president, a Woody Hall.

Talley Attends College Meet

Dr. C. Horton Talley, dean of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, attended the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges in St. Louis, Jan. 10-11.

Dr. Talley said that the greatest stress was placed on facing the problem of the large press of students expected by 1970. It will take about twice as many faculty members than there are now. At present faculty members are being produced at a rate just slightly higher than the retirement rate.

The meeting was also concerned with spreading the teaching of good teachers over a wider area. Dr. Talley said that the opinion seemed to be that the solution may lie in making the student more responsible for his own education.

The problem of providing stimulation to the upper one or two percent who might become bored with the regular curriculum. Dr. Talley said that the opinion seemed to be that the solution may lie in making the student more responsible for his own education.

Placement Service Says

Hidden Room Houses Research Material In Government Office

If you can't see your favorite government instructor as you walk into the government office, the room was and is being used as a movie room. Its lowered ceiling and two one-on-air conditioning will add to the comfort of the viewers when warmer weather comes.

The new room houses the local Government Center, headed by Dr. William O. Winter. Aside from the four desks, one side of the room is lined with filing cabinets.

The cabinets contain an alphabetical order of subjects which range from speeches in pamphlets to newspaper clippings.

"The research center gathers information that normally would not be housed in the library, or such material that otherwise would not be kept," Dr. David T. Kenney of the government department said.

The information gathered is used to answer inquiries of local officials, and for research done by members of the government department," Kenney said.

The new room has a lowered ceiling, which is covered with soundproofing material.

The four staff members who occupy the room, as part of their duties, have been assigned work.

Council Sends 'Controversial Question'

"Should college credit be given for attendance at Freshman Conventions?" will be the controversial question sent out this week to all on- and off-campus groups by the Student Council.

The Council voted Thursday to send a bulletin with a question on it to all organizations each week in advance of their Thursday night meetings.

The purpose of this new project is to develop interest of students in what the Student Council is doing, get ideas of student opinion to be expressed to the Council in their office and the position that the Council holds on SIU.

Office hours are 10 to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Although there was no quorum present at the meeting, Dr. David T. Kenney, faculty adviser, said they could vote on it because it was of "internal significance."

The council is in a split-minded position between the administration and the student body. If the administration proposes a change in the student policy, it must first be approved by the Council before being voted on by the students.

If the student body wants a change, it must first be approved by the Council and then be sent to the administration for approval.

"Under this concept of position that the Council holds on SIU, for any student group that wishes a change in student policy to bring them directly to the Council, said Clyde Reynolds, president.

"Likewise, any type to change which the administration wants and would affect the students must be brought to the Council first."

"We hope that the administration and the student body will apply this concept and help SIU grow in a happy and healthy manner."

The cadets, left Carbondale Thursday morning by Air Force bus to Scott AFB near Belleville where they boarded two T-29 aircraft for the flight. The aircraft were equipped with radio equipment and radio sets which the cadets were able to use during the flight. These aircraft are used by the Air Force for training cadets for the role of observers.

Students with satisfactory records of undergraduate work are eligible to apply for either graduate assistantships or fellowships.

Applicants for graduate fellowships must have an overall undergraduate average of "B". Academic records indicating professional promise are required for graduate assistants.

There will be full remission of tuition for both graduate assistants and graduate fellows, with health insurance and activity fees optional. Graduate fellows will receive $1200 a month for the academic year, and graduate assistants will receive $1800 a month.

Graduate assistants may carry a class load of twelve quarter hours and will be given half-time assignments in one of six departments. ### Students Shown Through Library

"There were large books, and small books," said Robert E. Merriam, library director.

McGee was speaking about the new library which was conducted last week.

During the tour students were shown how to check out books by the new "supermarket" method. Instead of the librarians finding the books for the students, the students must now select their own books and take them to the charging desk.

Jo Ann Boydston Named To Ed Council, Teacher Training Jobs

New assistant director of in-service teacher training at Southern Illinois is Mrs. Jo Ann Boydston, formerly on the staff at the University of Mississippi.

The educator also devotes part of her time to extension work, serving as executive secretary of the Educational Council of 100, Inc.

The Council of 100 has begun developing its leased 375-acre tract of land bordering Little Grassy Lake into a public school camp. A broad program of recreation and outdoor education for school children is planned.

In prompting the council's Boydston is helping conduct a "name the camp" contest. All school children through the twelfth grade are eligible to participate with superintendents accepting entries.

The contest winner, who will receive two weeks of expense-paid camping at Little Grassy next summer, will be named by Feb. 1.

Alumni Office Makes St. Louis Directory

The SIU Alumni Office, in conjunction with the SIU Placement Service and the St. Louis Area Alumni Club, is now compiling a St. Louis area alumni "directory," according to Robert Odell, director of the Alumni Office.

Questionnaires have been sent to all Southern alumni in the St. Louis area asking for name, address, year graduated, business firm affiliated with, and occupation. It will be compiled to form the "directory."

"The project has a two-fold purpose," Odell said. "Through this directory we will be able to offer assistance to those who graduated next spring and in future years, who are interested in employment in the St. Louis area."

"Also, we can help the St. Louis alumni set up positive contacts by keeping them informed as to the graduates who are in that area."

AWS Holds 2nd Meeting

The second meeting of the fall quarter of the Association of Women Students was held last week in the office of the Dean of Women.

Other projects planned by the club are an AWS handbook to acquaint all women students with the purpose of AWS, and a marriage clinic.

Weatherman Unpredictable In '55; This Year's Bird Appears Same

The 1955 weatherman gave us a false, frosty spring, a warring winter, a brief fall, and an early November winter. Now he's started all over again with his unpredictability.

In a weather review of the past year, Dr. Dallas A. Price of the geography department stated the facts on temperature, precipitation, storms, and a contrast of the past year's weather with other years.

An associate professor, Dr. Price instructs classes in meteorology and physical geography. His work as a weatherman is aside from his regular duties. He has a weekly weather analysis column in the Southern Illinoisian, area daily newspaper.

His report on 1955 showed 99 days of rain, 26 per cent of the days in the year. Yet the year ended with nine inches short of normal rainfall.

We had 74 days of 90 degrees or above temperature. Seven now this were warmer than usual. Yet we wound up with a slightly below average temperature reading for the year.

Girls Rally Plans Booklet

Girls Rally is already looking ahead to the next school year. At the group's regular meeting Thursday night, a committee was appointed to write, and have printed, a booklet explaining Girls Rally and its purpose.

"These booklets will be distributed during New Student Week," said President Judy Duncan. "Then, too, they'll be available for other besides just the interested freshmen."

Jodi explained that though Girls Rally had had explanatory pamphlets in the past, they almost always were "last-minute" undertakings.

On the booklet committee are: Judy Curry, Jane Miller and Mary Chandler.

Other business at Thursday's meeting included appointing a committee for work on constitution changes.

Judy Maynard and Sue Edgington are on the constitution changes committee.

The lecture, sponsored by the Alton YWCA, is for airmen from other nations in training at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville.

Peithmann has spent much of his life collecting archaeological data and artifacts in the area. He is author of "Echoes of the Red Man," a cultural survey of Indians of Southern Illinois.

Peithmann, second vice-president of the Illinois State Archaeological Society, recently returned from the Florida Everglades, where he made a study of the Seminole Indians.

Series Of 3 Power Failures Occur In City Last Week

Residential homes and temporary unit structures on Harwood, Thompson and Chautauque avenues were victims of an electrical "blackout" which occurred last Tuesday from 2:25 to 2:55 p.m.

William A. Howe, director of the physical plant, said that the cause of the failure was the touching of two live wires by a tree limb unloading from a truck near the south end of McAndrew Stadium.

With its branches sweeping the air, the tree brushed the wires, causing the fuse to blow. University electricians were rushed to the scene and in about 30 minutes had repaired the short circuit.

The blackout affected the physical plant and all buildings on the south side of Harwood, stretching west from the Psychology House to the Journalism House; on Thompson from the president's home to the private homes on the old state highway 51 and on Chautauque, including Barracks K, L and M, and the Department of Education House.

Permanent buildings on campus, east of Thompson and north of Harwood avenues were not affected by the short.

On Wednesday, however, the city of Carbondale, including Southern, was without electric power for 45 minutes when a power pole caught fire between N. Washington and Marion streets.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

Power was off on campus for 30 minutes Thursday night when a reception break occurred on the main panel. This "break" is similar to "blowing" a fuse. Reason for the break is not known.

SCF Students Have Activities Night

Students attending the Student Christian Foundation activities Wednesday night participated in individual games such as Ping-Pong and watched TV.

"The regular Wednesday night activities are not planned," the Rev. Don Johnson, director, said. "The students just get together for a social period."

Refreshments of cakes and hamburgers were served by the students.

Salukis Topple Huskies 86-66, Retain IAC Lead With Western

By Gene Croyer
SIU retained possession of first place in IAC cage standings by romping to an 86-66 victory over the hapless Huskies of Northern Illinois State here Saturday night.

The Southerners tied for the conference lead with Western Illinois, the defending champs.

The Salukis jumped to an early 42-14 lead and never relinquished it throughout the free-throwing contest.

In the first half the hosts connected on 14 of 43 field goal attempts and went into the intermission with 38-29 bulge.

The Northerners scored the first two points of the second half to cut the Saluki lead to seven points. Then Dick Blythe, who was shaken up in the first half, scored on a jump shot from the free throw circle to put the hosts ahead by nine. Ralph Baxter, Huskie forward, retaliated to cut the lead to seven again.

At this point Blythe took things in hand. First, he scored on a fast break and then humiliated the visitors by sealing the ball on the three-foot line for another quick tally.

From then on, the Salukis continued to pile up the differences and were never less than 10 points ahead.

Blythe seemed to shake off the fear of shooting that has plagued him all year to dump in 20 points. Next team and game scoring honors.

Following Blythe was Larn Whitlock, who also seems to have overcome the basket fever with 17 points.

Huskie honors went to forward John Olson with 22 countering Dennis Iv.

Southern had one of their better nights from the field as they hit 37 of 89 shots for .416. The Red Huskies were a little better as they hit 27 of 79 for a .356 percentage.
