SIU IDs questioned as proof of drinking age

By Bob Tita
Staff Writer

Doubts about the validity of SIU-C identification cards have prompted Carbondale city officials to prohibit liquor establishments that violate the liquor code from accepting the cards as proof of age for buying liquor.

The amended liquor code, which went into effect July 1, prohibits a liquor establishment from accepting SIU-C identification cards after nine violations of the code during a six-month period.

The city's legal department struck the SIU-C cards from a list of acceptable proofs of age after a warning from an SIU-C official that birth dates on students' cards are often altered.

Virginia Benning, coordinator with the Office of Student Life and administrator of the Student Judicial System, said she has seen more than 1,000 false identification cards during the last 10 years.

"What we actually deal with is just the tip of the iceberg," said Benning about the number of fake identification cards.

Benning said that because the cards are made by student workers chances are increased that the cards will be falsified. She said students also attempt to alter the birth date on their cards after the cards are made.

Citizens to protest area crime

By Justus Weathersby Jr.
Staff Writer

Carbondale police are planning to coordinate a citizens' demonstration against crime in Anna, Murphysboro, Carbondale and Cartersville during observance of a National Night Out, says public information officer Art Wright.

The National Night Out is a crime prevention project designed to send a message to the criminals that neighborhoods across the nation are watching, he said.

Wright said this will be the first observance of the National Night Out in Carbondale. It is scheduled for the night of Aug. 13.

RESIDENTS OF Carbondale and the three neighboring cities will be asked to spend one hour on their porches with all outside lights turned on. Police will monitor the night's crime statistics between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m.

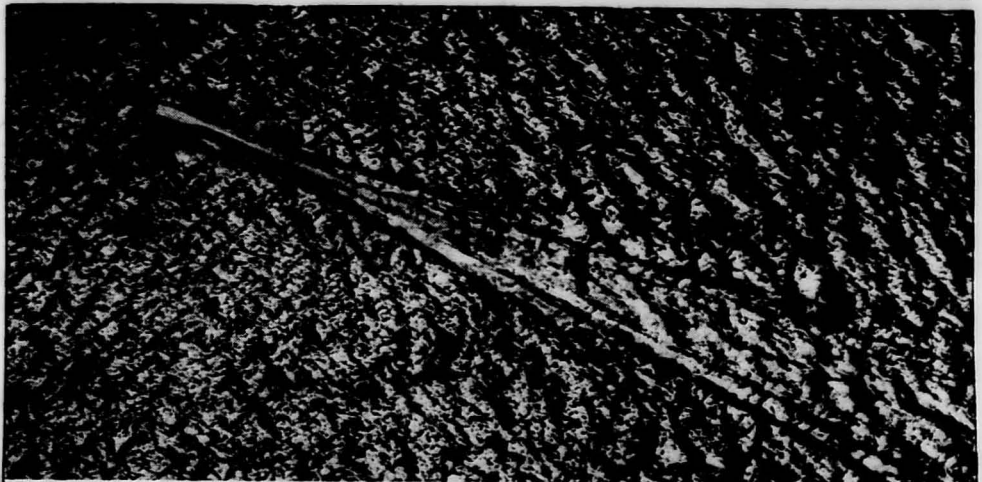

Wright said Mr. McGruff, the crime-fighting dog, will ride around Carbondale in a convertible during the early evening of Aug. 13 to publicize the event.

Wright said the local Night Out observance will be an extension of Carbondale's Neighborhood Watch Program, which has been in effect since January 1984. It is "a protest against crime" he said.

Wright said the watch program was put into action by concerned residents after they became educated in crime prevention by a police-sponsored presentation.

THE WATCH program has more than 1,000 members

Faculty salaries may rise 10 percent

By David Sheets
Staff Writer

The fiscal year 1986 budget increase for faculty pay raises may amount to as much as 10 percent, says SIU-C's budget officer.

The SIU System appropriation bill which had been on Gov. Thompson's desk since June 27 contains a faculty and staff pay increase of 8 percent. However, John Baker, executive director of planning and budget for SIU-C, said a recommendation by John Guyon, vice president for academic affairs, to "close or consolidate some positions" and reallocate the funds may boost the faculty pay increase allocation to 10 percent.

Baker said he couldn't say which positions would be affected.

Two key factors figure into the faculty and staff pay increase plan: merit increases and a cut of $437,300 from the administrative payroll in the overall University budget of $189.5 million.

The increase, at the time of its endorsement by the Illinois Board of Higher Education in March, provided at least 8 percent more money for pay raises from a salary increase pool of $9.5 million, said Pat McKenzie, education division chief for the Illinois Bureau of the Budget.

An outline of the salary increase plan, accepted by the SIU Board of Trustees in June, describes the real pay increase for administrative-professional staff and civil service-range employees at SIU-C as a "5.34 percent across-the-board as a percentage of current salary."

Range employees are those not represented by a union. David Saunders, Civil Service Employees Council member said that roughly half of the approximately 1,200 civil service workers at SIU-C are range employees.

"Across-the-board means the increase will be a standard adjustment for everybody," said Terry Mathias, assistant director of University Relations at SIU-C.

But the "standard adjustment" will be a different figure for faculty employees.

Merit increases will come out to be 2.66 percent for administrative-professional staff, 2.24 percent for civil service-range employees and close to 3 percent for faculty. All merit, as specified in the Board of Trustees' salary outline, will be based on performance evaluations conducted within each University school or department.

The SIU-C merit plan, developed by President Albert

Somit, did not however get the blessing of the Civil Service Range Employees Committee. Once the president's plan was released, the committee passed a resolution in opposition.

A committee member, who refused to be named, said the committee favored a straight 8 percent increase without merit considerations.

"All we could do was complain, but the president will do as he wishes," the committee member said.

Reduction of the administrative payroll by $437,300 came at the suggestion of the Illinois Senate — the only major alteration of the entire SIU appropriation plan. McKenzie said this paring would come from the total allocation in salary funds prior to their distribution.

Hostages celebrate 'new' independence

By United Press International

Americans celebrated Independence Day with parades, fireworks and rock concerts and by welcoming new citizens while the 39 TWA hostages celebrated their renewed independence mostly privately with their families.

In an odd holiday twist, a watermelon recall was under way in three western states — Washington, Oregon and California — after people became ill from eating the fruit. The voluntary recall was ordered by several stores. The fruit was thought possibly contaminated by pesticides.

President and Mrs. Reagan spent the day at the White House before dining with friends and watching the capital's fireworks display from the Truman balcony Thursday night.

Former hostage George Lazansky, of Algonquin, an avid Chicago Cubs fan, and his wife led the crowd in the Pledge of Allegiance at Wrigley Field and then threw out the first ball for a Cubs-Giants game.

One of his complaints during 17 days as a hostage was that his captors stole his Cubs baseball cap.

Friends and relatives of ex-hostage Benjamin Christian Zimmerman, flight engineer on TWA Flight 847, greeted him at the Cascade, Idaho, airport wearing yellow T-shirts that spelled out, "Welcome Home Christian."

The hostages spokesman, Allyn Conwell, held a news conference in Houston to clarify comments he made in captivity that he said were misinterpreted.

Arthur Targontsidis, 18, of Brockton, Mass., said he was not "really doing much" to celebrate his freedom from the Lebanese militia.

Reagan to hold off on plans to push for tax law revision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan will "cool it" in his grass roots barnstorming for his tax revision package for the rest of the summer to concentrate on getting the budget through Congress, a White House spokesman said Thursday. Deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said it was always the plan to lay off during the summer and to resume intensive lobbying for Reagan's tax plan after Labor Day and throughout the fall.

German police arrest 2 suspected terrorists

KARLSRUHE, West Germany (UPI) — German police arrested two suspected members of the notorious Red Army Faction and seized guns and false passports in a raid on a house belonging to the left-wing terrorist group, a federal prosecutor's spokesman said Thursday. The group carried out at least 20 bomb attacks on U.S., NATO, British, French and West German targets in January and late last year, according to a statement in January by chief government spokesman Friedrich Zimmermann.

Fifth spy ring member possible, FBI says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI records indicate a fifth person may have been involved in a spy ring in which three members of a Navy family have been charged, but the potential suspect is known only as "A," reports said Thursday. Government agents discovered the additional person after sifting through the personal papers of retired Navy warrant officer John Walker Jr., who is accused of masterminding a spy ring that sold secrets to the Soviets for at least 20 years.

Helms denies stall tactics by conservatives

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jesse Helms denied Thursday that conservative senators have held up diplomatic nominations awaiting approval by the Senate and blamed the State Department for delaying action on half the nominations. Published reports said the nominations were blocked by conservative senators who sought assurances that some conservatives appointed to diplomatic posts would not be ousted by Secretary of State George Shultz.

OPEC to try to restore cartel's 'credibility'

VIENNA (UPI) — OPEC's market monitoring committee met Thursday on the eve of a full ministerial summit amid warnings that the beleaguered oil cartel must defend its prices and cut production to regain world "credibility." Arab Emirates Oil Minister Mana Saeed Otaiba was quoted as saying late Wednesday that members of the 13-member oil cartel must defend current oil prices but "prepare themselves for a cut in production."

Shultz promises fairness in foreign debt crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz told Latin American ambassadors Thursday night the administration will manage "effectively and equitably" the debt crisis that Cuba has made an issue in attacking U.S. policies in the region. In his prepared text, Shultz did not mention Nicaragua by name. But he said, "An enduring peace and internal democratic reconciliation are fundamental objectives of our policy in Central America."

Protests mark Philippine 'Friendship Day'

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Some 6,000 protesters massed at the gates of the heavily guarded U.S. Embassy Thursday and thousands more rallied in provincial cities denouncing "U.S. imperialism" on Philippine-American Friendship Day. The biggest rally was held in Bacolod city on the sugar-growing island of Negros, where record low world sugar prices and reduced demand have left some 300,000 people jobless and spurred support for communist rebels of the New People's Army.

Five South African blacks die in mob violence

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Five blacks were killed when mobs attacked the homes of two black policemen and three miners died in a work dispute in the latest incidents of racial unrest in South Africa, police said Thursday. In another development, police and South Africa's biggest black opposition group offered rewards for the arrest of those responsible for the deaths of four black activists last week amid speculation that police or their agents may have been involved.

A-P Council amends grievance procedures

By Paula Buckner
Staff Writer

Three amendments in the Administrative and Professional Staff grievance procedure have been approved by the A-P Staff Council, but one key problem remains unresolved.

The council has an Aug. 15 deadline for forwarding a grievance procedure to President Albert Somit.

Council members in a meeting Wednesday approved extending the time period for informal grievance appeals from 60 to 95 days, provided for reopening a closed case "in unusual circumstances" and changed wording on a clause on the selection of review board members to read "board members" instead of "senior level staff."

Still unresolved, however is the question of whether A-P staff or faculty procedures will be used in cases of "cross-constituency grievances," Terry Mathias, council president said.

Neither policy specifies which procedure will be used in cross-constituency grievances. Mathias said he and Faculty Senate President Lawrence Dennis will meet soon to devise a policy acceptable to both groups in handling such cases.

The A-P Staff and Faculty Senate were under a joint grievance procedure until fall 1984, when the senate decided to pull out of the two-party policy due to differences over who was going to sit on judicial review boards.

Since then, both groups have been rewriting the original 1977 document. The key difference between the two documents is a time factor, Mathias said.

Under both procedures, an attempt is made to resolve a grievance through informal hearings between the grievant, the staff person being grieved against and other administrators, up to and including the vice presidents' level.

Under the faculty policy, if informal hearings fail, formal hearings begin at the place where the grievance originated and continue through the Judicial Review Board, the president and the Board of Trustees, if necessary.

The informal process up to and including the vice presidents' level or the equivalent of that," Mathias said. When informal talks fail at this level, he said, the formal process begins at the Administrative Professional Review Board and continues from there."

In cutting out the backtracking and the existence of separate review boards for each constituency, Mathias said the process has become "timely and simple in procedure."

The approved changes in the policy were made for clarity, Mathias said. The selection of members for the APRB would "be left open" and not be restrictive to A-P personnel.

Reagan's 'Rambo' remark blamed on networks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The television networks "failed to honor their pledge" regarding open microphones by broadcasting President Reagan's off-the-cuff remarks about handling a hostage crisis next time like "Rambo," spokesman Larry Speakes charged Thursday.

"If the networks can't honor their pledge, we're going to have to look at it," said Speakes.

Before delivering his 4-minute address to the nation last Sunday following the release of the 39 Beirut hostages, Reagan joked into an open microphone, "Boy, I saw Rambo last night. I know what to do the next time this happens."

He referred to the Sylvester Stallone movie in which a Vietnam veteran violently rescues a group of American prisoners of war from North Vietnam.

Speakes was angry when reporters, waiting for the start of the president's speech, picked up his quip and reported it.

"The networks failed to honor their pledge to keep microphones closed," said Speakes.

He said that they "failed to close the switch" during the test.

"The other night I got five different tales," he said.

Asked if he thought the president's remark was damaging, he said, "Well, you never know."

Speakes declined to comment on a report in The Washington Post that he is considering banning network microphones from all future presidential appearances and putting microphones at such events under White House control.

He declined to comment on the report but said that the White House has control of the broadcasts on out-of-town trips.

It was the second time the White House has been burned by Reagan's off-hand quips before a broadcast.

Last August in the midst of his presidential campaign, he wisecracked, "My fellow Americans, I am pleased to tell you that I've signed legislation that will outlaw Russia forever. We begin bombing in five minutes."

Although he is a pro who has been broadcasting for more than 40 years, Reagan was not happy with the wide dissemination of that crack.

Moslem leader says U.S. is 'Great Satan'

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A leader of the pro-Iranian Moslem extremist group Hezbollah denied Thursday the organization planned the hijacking of TWA Flight 847, but he vowed to confront the "Great Satan" of the U.S. government.

In an interview at his heavily guarded home in Beirut's southern suburb of Bir Abed, Said Ibrahim al-Amin said his group's anti-Americanism was rooted in Washington's "aggression" in the Middle East and its support for Israel.

"There is no common denominator with the American administration and there will be no such denominators," said al-Amin, 34, who spoke in Arabic.

Al-Amin is believed to be a tactical leader of Hezbollah, Arabic for Party of God, while Sheikh Muhammed Hussein Fadlallah is believed to be the overall spiritual leader, although he denies it.

Al-Amin spoke as he sat next to a huge portrait of the movement's theological and political mentor, Iranian fundamentalist leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

"America is a big power which practices hegemony and aggression against oppressed people. It sucks the blood of people and exploits their wealth," said the bearded al-Amin, who wore a black turban, long white shirt, grey crew-necked over-garment and loose black cloak.

CRIME: Police to sponsor citizen protest registered and is in effect all across Carbondale, he said.

"The crime rates have dropped 74 percent in the neighborhood crime watch areas in the first year of operation," Wright said.

He said the program depends completely on citizens watching neighbors' houses, becoming alert to crime throughout the city and calling police when anything suspicious is noticed.

WRIGHT SAID a theft was foiled because neighborhood residents acted promptly by calling the police in an attempted auto burglary.

A man was seen rummaging through the glove compartment of a car in the Italian Village Restaurant parking lot at 405 S. Washington St. He began walking away after realizing that he was being watched.

Witnesses called police and the suspect was picked up and charged with auto burglary.

Wright said residents interested in putting the watch program into effect for their neighborhoods should contact the Carbondale Police Department.

AGE: Student IDs questioned as proof

supervisor of graduate registration, said the Office of Admissions and Records makes "extraordinary efforts to prove a student's age."

She said the birth dates that new students indicate on a form for University identification cards are checked against the dates recorded on their high school transcripts and their application to SIU-C.

Kopf also said that when replacement cards are issued, students are required to verify their ages with records in the SIU-C Security Office.

"I'm all in favor of the law because we should not be encouraging people to break the law," she said. "The only reason the age is on there is for the purpose of getting into bars."

Carbondale City Clerk Janet Vaught said that before a liquor establishment accumulates nine violations of the liquor code the license holder can accept SIU-C identification cards. But after nine violations a number of restrictions are placed on the business.

The acceptable age identification for purchasing liquor is limited to a driver's license, a state-issued identification card, firearm owner's identification, or a visa or passport.

Dictating behavior beyond state's duty

ON JULY 1, IT BECAME LAW in Illinois for drivers and front-seat passengers to wear seat belts. Once again, the government has intruded into the lives of its citizens for minimal reasons.

It's true that seat belts save lives. It's true that automobile crashes are the No. 1 killer andcrippler of people under 44. And it's true that about 50 percent of deaths and injuries from automobile crashes could be eliminated by requiring the use of seat belts. For these obvious reasons, it's stupid not to wear one. However, the government has no right to determine intelligent from unintelligent behavior and require the use of seat belts.

Americans enjoy countless freedoms that citizens of other nations just dream about. One of these freedoms, no matter how little it is used, is the freedom to be foolish. It is obviously unintelligent to neglect wearing a seat belt. But, it is not the job of government to judge what is stupid and what is smart, then pass restrictive laws against being stupid.

Under the philosophy Gov. Thompson used to get the seat belt law through the state legislature, it should also be illegal to smoke. It has been known for years that smoking causes cancer, heart disease and a host of other preventable ills. However, that doesn't give government the right to ban all smoking. The line between unnecessary government intervention and government protection of freedoms has been crossed. Next there will be laws against hang gliding, fatty foods and lack of exercise. All of these may be hazardous to health, but none should be subject to government control — unless they endanger the health and welfare of other persons.

THE MOTIVES BEHIND THE LAW are even suspect. Automakers have been lobbying heavily for the law because if two-thirds of the states don't have seat belt laws by 1989, Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole declared that auto manufacturers will be required to install automatic seat belts or air bags. Air bags, installed under the dashboard and automatically inflated at the instant of collision, will increase the base price of cars about $320. Automatic seat belts, similar to current seat belts except that they are attached to the car doors, would increase the price about $40. Auto manufacturers are, of course, against any price increases. With Illinois courting General Motors for the location of the new Saturn auto plant, it is not surprising the law passed the legislature. Illinois will be that much more appealing to GM.

Not wearing a seat belt may be foolish, but the government was not established to mandate intelligent living. The government is established to protect freedoms, small and large, foolish or unfoolish.

Decisions on weight room should be discussed openly

Two weeks ago Mike Dunn, coordinator of intramural recreation, stated that more weight machines would be brought into the weight room. The machines will take up two-thirds of the room and seasoned lifters will be left to work out in an unreasonable portion of the room, contending with lines too long.

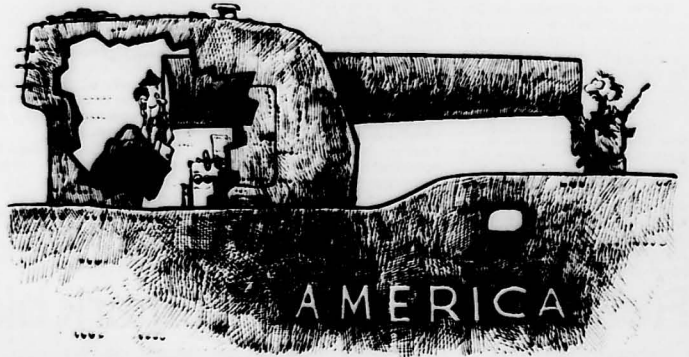

We invite students to spend time in the weight room during the regular school term. The two squat racks and four benches are busy during this time and people are often waiting to use the already too little free weight equipment.

Seasoned lifters are benefits to the gym. They give assistance to each other, help train the young lifters and bring recognition to our University. This year dedicated men and women from our "free weight room" won local and state titles. In the past they have won national recognition. This is done through concentrated effort and cooperation.

We would be interested in seeing the research that was compiled to justify the weight room changes. It would be only considerate on the University's part to involve a group of lifters, seasoned and novice, in the decision-making process.

Mr. Dunn referred to this decision as the Pepsi-Coke controversy in which opinions decided what is best. Well, let's try to keep opinions out of this. I believe we all know what opinions are worth. We simply want to know what justifies such a decision and to see if an alternative plan can be agreed upon. — Kevin Washburn, senior, Agriculture Education.

Letters

Letters urged on student issues

Recently I attended a meeting of the Illinois Student Association at Champaign-Urbana with SIU-C student leaders from the Undergraduate Student Organization.

The conference coordinator of the U.S. Student Association's National Student Congress updated ISA members on important federal legislation being worked out in various congressional committees. Among the legislation he spoke on were the appropriations for federal financial assistance programs, re-authorization of the Higher Education Act and the Civil Rights Restoration Act of 1985.

There is still time for each of us to affect the outcome of this legislation and I urge my fellow students to write to their congressmen. Such a letter might include some of the following information:

The USSA is fighting to have Pell Grants established as an entitlement program rather than maintaining its current status which provides for funding levels set by supplemental appropriation at the whim of Congress. The present situation makes it difficult for students to know how much they will receive and to plan accordingly.

Today a student could be eligible for the maximum award but receive only a portion of it depending on how much money is in the federal "kitty". Entitlement status will allow Pell Grant recipients to know in advance exactly how much their award will be and when it will be available.

The USSA also seeks to eliminate the "origination" and "insurance" fees from the Guaranteed Student Loan program. These fees quickly turn a $2,500 loan into a $2,300 loan at a time when attending college is becoming more expensive and other forms of financial assistance are becoming more difficult to obtain, or less significant in sum.

There are now two pieces of legislation before Congress concerning civil rights: the Civil Rights Act of 1985 and the Civil Rights Restoration Act of 1985.

The USSA supports the Restoration Act because its intent is to reverse a 1984 Supreme Court decision known as "Grove City" after the college which initiated court action against the U.S. government.

The court's decision allows only specific departments, or offices, which receive federal dollars to be held accountable to the provisions of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Conservatives on Capitol Hill are pleased with the Grove City decision because equality is an expensive commodity that they and their constituents would prefer not to pay for. But, the question is, can we afford the moral and ethical losses we all suffer by not providing equal opportunities for all Americans?

In order to collectively reach the most members of Congress, letter writers should put their home address on their letter. This will assure that different representatives get the same message. — Andrew Leighton, student trustee, SIU Board of Trustees.

Don't look back at Cubs, look back at Cards

This is in response to Duane Crays' column "Two cities: tale: Cards up, Cubs down" (June 26).

Mr. Crays are you from St. Louis? I sure hope so because that had better be your excuse for your "fanatical" writing you call journalism.

Your first attack on the Cubs was that they were streaking on June 12 with a two and a half game lead in the National League East. Well, Mr. Crays, it is very common for a team to streak at various points throughout a season which may or may not have to do with their season outcome. I guess that does give reason to "the bottom falling out."

Do you call it the bottom falling out when in 1969 the Mets came from the bottom into the playoffs? Or is it the bottom falling out when the Villanova Wildcats came from nowhere to win the NCAA championship?

Oh, wait, maybe you mean it's the bottom falling out when North Carolina State, 16-10 and fourth in its conference, can go on to win the national championship in college basketball in 1983. Is that what you mean by the bottom falling out?

Keep laughing about the Cubs losing 13 games with only the pitching staff "saving them from embarrassment." What is it called in St. Louis when two years after winning the World Series the Cardinals' own fans want to get them out of the city? Who's laughing now, Mr. Crays?

Like you said "Cub fans can look back at June 12" but October is a long time to go. Call me if you're not too busy looking back at the Cards! — Peggy Kasinski, senior, Radio-Television.

Letters Policy

Signed articles, including letters, viewpoints and other commentaries, reflect the opinions of their authors only. Unsigned editorials represent a consensus of the Daily Egyptian Editorial Committee, whose members are the student editor-in-chief, the editorial page editor, a news staff member, the faculty managing editor and a Journalism School faculty member.

Letters to the editor may be submitted by mail or directly to the editorial page editor, Room 1247, Communications Building. Letters should be typewritten, double spaced. All letters are subject to editing and will be limited to 300 words. Letters of less than 250 words will be given preference for publication. Students must identify themselves by class and major, faculty members by rank and department, non-academic staff by position and department.

Letters submitted by mail should include the author's address and telephone number. Letters for which verification of authorship cannot be made will not be published.

Student, minority achievement to be topics of IBHE meetings

The Illinois Board of Higher Education will hold two meetings on the SIU-C campus next week, focusing on issues and priorities of interest to state educators.

On Monday, the Joint Education Committee will meet in the Student Center at 10 a.m. Among the topics to be discussed are the organization of school districts, student achievement in Illinois and higher education initiatives for better schools.

On Tuesday, the board will meet at 9 a.m. in Ballroom B of the Student Center. Among the items set for discussion are IBHE priorities for improving minority success in schools and colleges and education's role in statewide education reforms.

Simon and Dixon open joint office in East St. Louis

Sens. Alan Dixon and Paul Simon have opened a joint office in East St. Louis to serve residents of the Metro East area.

It is the first U.S. Senate office for East St. Louis, and the first office shared by Illinois senators.

Dixon, who has offices in Mount Vernon, Springfield and Chicago, will move the functions of his former Belleville office to East St. Louis. Simon has offices in Carbondale, Springfield and Chicago, in addition to the East St. Louis facility.

The office, at 8787 State St., will be staffed by representatives of both senators. It will be open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Its phone number is (618) 271-0514.

Simon and Dixon have said the combined office will save taxpayers' dollars while serving residents who find it too far to travel to other offices.

ST. ELMO'S FIRE

Nicholson's hit man role perfect in 'Prizzi's Honor'

By Morgan Falkner
Staff Writer

Just as social issues are in or out of vogue, so are film genres. From the emergence of the New Right to the re-emergence of apartheid protests here in America, what is newsworthy is often what is considered fashionable.

So too in film, genres have a way of making returns — sometimes for the better, usually for worse. "Prizzi's Honor" is an example of the former.

With the release of "Prizzi's Honor," and the recent Doonesbury strips poking pointed "fun" at Old Blues Eyes himself, Frank Sinatra, Americans of Italian or Sicilian descent once again find themselves fair game.

"PRIZZI'S HONOR," like "The Godfather," is set in the underworld of big-city Mafia types. The head of the family is, of course, the Don. And the mores which dictate family members' behavior are decidedly Old World. But it is at this point that the two treatments of the Mafia sub-culture diverge.

"The Godfather," followed shortly thereafter by "The Godfather, Part II," is a harsh, brutal film concerned with the viciousness of organized gangsters. "Hits" were many and violent, brutality a way of life.

THESE ELEMENTS are also present in "Prizzi's Honor," but with a twist. Violence, and the traditions of family, loyalty, and above all, honor, are made the subject of absurdity. With a flair for dark comedy reminiscent of Stanley Kubrick, John Huston creates a world both abhorrent and, paradoxically, laughable.

Jack Nicholson, in the lead role as Charley Partanna, is cast perfectly as the dry, slightly bored, always sardonic Prizzi family hit man. Nicholson proves once again his natural ability to create humor through understatement. As in "The Shining," Nicholson infuses into his character a sense of the spontaneous, the natural. Nicholson's characters — and "Prizzi" is no different — always seem to possess a quality of incorrigible boyishness.

IN PART indebted to a fine makeup job — strong bones and a pronounced overbite — Nicholson absolutely sparkles as he fixes expressions of incredulity. As one observer noted about Nicholson, he has the uncanny ability to get away with overacting. He may at times appear to be going too far, but, for whatever reason, he pulls it off — the role is usually a magnificent success.

Kathleen Turner, in a leading role, plays Partanna's wife and fellow hit person. When she coolly "ices" an unlucky bystander, not only is the audience stunned, but Partanna, for whom "icing" has become a tedium, is equally taken aback.

IN "PRIZZI," Turner is called upon to do what she apparently does best: play a cunning, manipulative, and deadly seductress — something not too far removed from the role she perfected in "Body Heat."

Turner may now be hopelessly typecast, but as far as "Prizzi" is concerned, it works satisfactorily. Indeed, Turner holds her own opposite the powerful Nicholson.

The plot, what there is of it, concerns Partanna, his wife, and their bizarre dealings with the Prizzi family. From the subplots to the double dealings, Machiavelli would be proud of the Prizzi's sense of realpolitik.

Moviegoers may be somewhat leery of "Prizzi," if not because of the unappealing nature of the film's previews, then perhaps because of the subject matter. But Huston succeeds in bringing a breath of fresh air to the genre, and Nicholson — the quintessential method actor — again rises to the occasion. "Prizzi's Honor" is without question a summer must.

Blue Jays playing tough despite Detroit challenge

TORONTO (UPI) — Toronto is a city in waiting.

It is waiting and watching through a summer that promises to be both frustrating and exciting for one of two things to happen.

— For the Blue Jays to live up to their vast promise and make a nine-year growing process complete with an American League East Division title, AL title and victory in the World Series.

— Or for what a surprisingly large number of them view as the inevitable — for the collapsing Blue Jays to watch the battle-tested Detroit Tigers whiz by them en route to their second straight crown.

The memory of Detroit's 1984 invincibility hasn't faded from their minds. The realization hasn't hit yet that Detroit has not the desire, depth nor bullpen it did a year ago.

"We're tickled to death to be in first place right now," Toronto manager Bobby Cox says of his team's position as it starts a road trip that will keep it on the West Coast until the All-Star break July 15-17.

"We've got only one thing to do — our job, that's all," Cox said. "People talk about the pressure, but you just have to go out and give it everything you've got."

"If you give it everything you've got, and you don't win, what more can you do? You've done all you can, so if you don't win you're just not good enough."

Just not good enough is less of a problem than the division Toronto is playing within — conceded to be the best in baseball. The last two World Series winners have been produced by the division.

The Blue Jays are, indeed, good enough. Toronto has the best record in baseball but is still looking for respect at home.

Still, they show up in record numbers to this converted football stadium with the outfield fence strung where one of the 30- or 35-yard lines is marked during the Argonauts' Canadian Football League season — a sign the fans badly yearn to be convinced.

Toronto drew 1,123,502 in its first 38 home dates. And, whereas in the early years of the franchise they would watch in politely respectful silence as if they were attending a concert, now the crowds definitely get into the game.

Salukis in Alaska

will enable him to get some extra-base hits.

McKinley, who has yet to play a game in a Saluki uniform, is a transfer student from Southeastern Illinois and a 22nd round draft pick by the Toronto Blue Jays in this year's June Amateur Baseball Draft. SIU-C head coach Richard "Itchy" Jones has referred to McKinley as "the best catcher in the state." Champion said that McKinley was currently hitting .275, and in a recent series went 7-for 14 at the plate.

CHAMPION SAID that the Alaskan League, along with the Cape Cod League, are considered to be the two best amateur leagues in the nation.

"We've had tons of major league players to come through this league," Champion said. "On this team alone, we've had Bill Doran of the Houston Astros, Allee Hammaker of the San Francisco Giants and Dave Stieb of the Toronto Blue Jays, just to name a few."

Champion said that although the league consisted of mostly collegiate level amateur athletes, an occasional retired professional player would finish out his career in the Alaskan League.

AS OF July 3, the Oilers were 9-6 in league play and 12-8 overall, putting them two games out of first place.

Champion said that the weather and scenery was great, as well as the fishing.

In comparison, Stuck calls sanctions unfair

By Anita J. Stoner
Staff Writer

In his opening statement to the Intercollegiate Athletics Advisory Committee at a special meeting last Friday, Dean Stuck said, "I'm not sure the press reported exactly what we felt" about the Missouri Valley Conference sanctions against men's basketball for NCAA violations.

"Our feeling was when you compare our violation with other the violations considered — one of which I felt was almost the same — in comparison we were unfairly treated," Stuck said. "If it was our violation in isolation, we wouldn't complain. It's by comparison. We're not saying the penalty was improper in context."

Stuck told the IAAC court action is always possible, but at this time, SIU-C is not going to take that route. However, SIU-C will request the MVC to reconsider the sanctions placed on the school at either the January or May MVC meeting. He wouldn't predict SIU-C's chances, but Stuck said there is precedence.

"When Wichita State received a $2,000,000 penalty — for their 11th violation — the conference voted to reinstate part of the funds," he said.

Stuck said he, Somit and the University Legal Counsel are also exploring other considerations, but didn't give any specifics.

Stuck and Lew Hartzog, director of men's athletics, both said the MVC constitution may be revised under the new commissioner, Jim Haney. Stuck felt the appeal process in particular needs revision.

"It's a total double jeopardy," Stuck said. "Three of the seven committee members have already passed judgment on you. You have to change the minds of all the new committee members plus one who has already made up his mind."

Charlotte West, director of women's athletics, expressed her concern for women's teams because the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference adopted the MVC procedure in its constitution.

The issue of whether or not to stay in the MVC was raised by Harvey Welch, dean of student life and IAAC committee member.

"It appears we don't get proper consideration. This might be a good time to examine that relationship," Welch said.

Stuck said SIU-C had discussed continued involvement with the MVC at the recent football meeting. At that meeting, the MVC Universities' Presidents made a three year commitment to the Valley and said, "We are standing by that, now."

Hunter likes home slate

By Mike Frey
Sports Editor

The SIU-C volleyball team will play 16 home matches this season and will host the Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference tournament for the first time.

The Salukis also have home matches scheduled against intrastate rivals Illinois and Illinois State. Coach Debbie Hunter said she is pleased with the schedule.

"This is by far the best home schedule we've ever had," Hunter said. "The 16 regular season home matches are the most we've ever had and we're excited about hosting the Gateway Conference Championship Tournament for the first time."

The Salukis will also host two other tournaments and play other home matches against Texas A&M, Kentucky, Minnesota, Central Michigan, Louisville and Texas-Arlington.

The Salukis finished 22-9 last season with a .710 winning percentage — the team's best winning percentage since Hunter began coaching at SIU-C in 1975. The Salukis had only three seniors on last year's squad and return several key players from last season, including senior Lisa Cummins and junior Pat Nicholson.

Hunter recorded her 20th career victory last year when the Salukis defeated Memphis State, Hunter's alma mater.

Howe falls to big city pressure

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Crumbling under the pressure of fighting cocaine addiction while under the glowing spotlight of professional baseball, Steve Howe's six-year career as a Los Angeles Dodger is over.

In effect, the Dodgers fired the 27-year-old southpaw, though the organization offered to continue providing medical treatment or assistance. They also are obligated to pay the remainder of Howe's $325,000 salary for the 1985 season.

"I just couldn't take it anymore," the 27-year-old reliever told the Los Angeles Herald Friday night from his home north of the city. "I had had enough. The city, the fast life, the media hype."

Howe, the 1980 National League Rookie of the Year, has made it clear he wants to continue in baseball, but with a team located in a smaller city.

"I'd like to raise my daughter where the teen-agers don't walk around with pink, yellow or purple hair," Howe told the Herald, "and someplace where there are trees that aren't buried in 20 feet of cement."

After his six-day waiver period expires, Howe will become a free agent and can sign with any team.

Howe, who missed the 1984 season for repeated drug violations, leaves the Dodgers with a lifetime record of 24-25, a 2.35 ERA and 59 saves — fifth on the all-time Dodgers list. He has struggled this year, posting a 1-1 record with a 4.91 ERA and three saves.

The Dodgers' growing disenchantment with Howe

this season came to head the past few weeks.

On June 23, he arrived three hours late at Dodger Stadium, saying he could not find a ride after his wife took his wallet and car keys.

Three days later, he permitted a three-run homer to San Diego's Steve Garvey, and on June 29 served up another three-run shot to Atlanta's Terry Harper.

Baseball Salukis playing in Alaska

By Steve Merritt
Staff Writer

Two Saluki baseball players and a former SIU-C pitcher are spending their summers in Alaska this year, playing collegiate summer league baseball.

Gerry Pitchford and Tim McKinley, both currently on the Saluki baseball team, and former Saluki pitcher Paul Saikia, are all playing for the Peninsula Oilers in the Alaska Summer League. The Oilers are located in the town of Kenai, just south of Anchorage.

Also adding a Southern Illinois flavor to the Oilers is head coach Kirk Champion, formerly the head coach of Rend Lake College. Champion, who was third base coach for the Oilers last season, was recently named as head baseball coach for the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

"THE BALL we play here is pretty similar to semi-pro or minor league ball," Champion said. He said the league was broken down into two divisions of three teams each, with a "Top of the World" series at the end of the season to determine the league champion.

Talking about the two current Saluki players on his roster, Champion said that he was encouraged by the performances of McKinley and Pitchford.

"Pitchford is hitting .302, playing centerfield every day and is doing a fine job," Champion said. "Although we have three catchers on the team — which limits McKinley's time behind the plate — I'm very impressed with his style of play."

CHAMPION, WHO coached against McKinley when he was playing for Southeastern Illinois at Harrisburg, said that although McKinley will never be a power hitter, he has "good speed and strength for a catcher."

"He's a strong kid with good speed," Champion said, adding that McKinley's speed
