Nudelman Strikes Back At President Pulliam

BOWDEN ELECTED HEAD OF SO. ILLINOIS WELFARE ASSOC. AT FIRST ANNUAL MEETING HERE

Newly Elected Treasurer Nuernberger Announces 203 Have Become Members of Organization

Dr. R. D. Bowden, head of the Sociology Department, was elected president of the Southern Illinois Welfare Association at its first annual meeting here last Friday and Saturday.

Approximately 250 interested social workers and laymen attended the conference, and according to newly elected treasurer, Philip Nuernberger, of Marysholm, 203 had already become members of the association. Besides the two officers already mentioned are Vice-President Delbert Ryan, administrator of WPA, Herrin, and Secretary Ross Webb, old age assistance superintendent, Benton, Illinois.

Following a welcome address by President Roscoe Pulliam, Dr. David E. Lindstrom, Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Illinois, gave the first in a series of lectures.

Speaking on "Social Needs and Social Resources in Southern Illinois," the young professor said we should take preventive measures rather than curative measures, for failing care of the bad social conditions here in Southern Illinois.

State's Attorney Clarence Wright of Jackson county was loudly applauded when he declared that many of the discrepancies in the Social Security program could be avoided by consolidating the agencies under one head and by employing administrators and other workers who were without political strings.

Dr. Bowden's words were indeed appropriate when he remarked following Wright, "We can't handle these problems any longer with kid gloves. We need some new social legislation. We must band ourselves together and be more effective so that when the next legislature meets there will be some talking in that group."

Lawrence J. Linnick, executive secretary of the Illinois Commission for Physically Handicapped Children, when speaking on the extreme need for medical service in southern Illinois, pointed out the fact that Southern Illinois is without adequate facilities to take care of the countless tuberculous victims. This southern third of the state has only one tuberculosis sanatorium whereas the remainder of the state has a reasonable number. Tuberculosis has one of its highest death tolls in this region. It is 40 percent higher than in the central section of the state.

Ex-Congressman Thomas O'Malley, regional director of the Wage and Hour Administration, who had met in New State Department of Labor, explained the manner where social work has a part in propagating among the laymen the idea that the government is trying to be human toward its citizens, and that old theories of yesterday must be laid aside in order to meet the realities of today.

Arthur W. Potts, Director of the Indiana Social Workers' Federation was also present to present views on better organization for better service. His organization has 75,000-100,000 people practicing social work. He found it necessary to band together to solicit the active and vital support of all citizens and organizations in their community and surrounding area. Potts stated: "Benefit result from close cooperation with workers in their field where common and specific ideas can be exchanged and allowed to disseminate into a greater area of activity," he continued.

Besides those men already mentioned, others who contributed to the program of lectures were Mrs. Dell Ingram, director East St. Louis

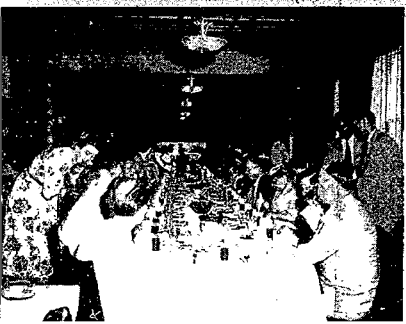

Township Relief Agency; Miss Julia Mae Hamilton, assistant State Director of Employment; Mrs. E. N. Turner, Social Service Section of Old Age Assistance in Illinois; and Edna Zimmerman, Superintendent of Child Welfare Illinois Department of Public Welfare.

Several laymen attended the meetings and also the business session Saturday morning when the definite type of organization was voted on. They expressed their interest in the new social welfare association and pledged their support in furthering its programs.

Congressman Koni E. Katter from the twelfth Illinois district pronounced any help necessary when he appeared, unexpectedly in the dining room of the Robert's Hotel at the time of the terminating luncheon.

Final eight minute talks as a tie-up of social welfare work were given on that time by W. H. DeWitt of Zoller, president of the Bell and Zoller Coal Company, explained the meaning of good social administration to business; Dr. Templeton of Eddyville, president of the Illinois Medical Service, outlined his relation to the medical profession; and Orville Alexander of the S. I. N. U. political science department told of its close connection with good government.

Stegall Will Discuss State Park Project on SINU Broadcast

Next week the college radio program will present Dr. Mary Stegall, concertist, who will talk on a project being conducted at Giant City park. The program will be concluded with music by the S. I. N. U. string club, directed by Mr. Wendell Morgan.

This broadcast can be heard Wednesday afternoon, July 31, from 2 to 2:30. The announcer is Dr. Richard J. Boyer of the S. I. N. U. history department.

BRIDGES WINS AGRICULTURE SCHOLARSHIP

James Bridges, junior from Fairfield, has recently won an agriculture scholarship to the University of Illinois.

"The scholarship will exempt Bridges from payment of matriculation and incidental fees for four years.

James Bridges.

It is awarded by competitive examination, two being awarded in each county and two for each of the first ten congressional districts, one in agriculture and one in home economics. Bridges was granted a scholarship from Randolph county.

The candidate for the scholarship must have a college average of 80 percent points above passing and must take an examination in English and one in mathematics, foreign language, science, or social studies.

While in school Bridges has been a member of the Agriculture club and is at present a pledge to Kappa Phi Kappa, national educational fraternity.

Bridges' scholarship is the third to be won by students of the S. I. N. U. agriculture department.

Logan Nuernberger, of New Athens, and Russell Inman, of Grand Chain, are the other two scholarship winners. The three boys are juniors.

Pulliam Stands Ground; Vows to Defend Students And Citizens Against Sinister Tendencies Of State Finance Department

S. I. N. U. President Feels He Has Nothing to Apologize For; Hopes It Will Not Be Necessary to Limit Enrollment

President Roscoe Pulliam, refusing to give ground to State Finance Director Nudelman's vindictive attack (see adjoining column) declared, "I feel I have nothing to apologize for in the statement I issued a few days ago."

Reconfirming the stand he took last week against arbitrary and capricious political interference, Pulliam states, "It is my duty to the students of this college and to the people of Southern Illinois to defend this institution against what I consider to be sinister tendencies toward arbitrary domination by the State Department of Finance."

According to Pulliam, the college has been operating under a reduced budget and can continue to do so, but not without seriously handicapping the activities of the college. He hopes it will not be necessary to restrict enrollment for lack of funds. It is his feeling that the people concerned in this matter may ultimately recognize Carbondale's need for more money, and grant release of the $30,000 appropriation which was passed by the state legislature and signed by the Governor. If the release is given, no enrollment limit will be fixed by the administration.

Although the college desperately needs the $30,000 arbitrarily withheld by Nudelman, "the important thing is the principle involved," believes S. I. N. U.'s president.

In reply to Nudelman's letters to the State Normal School Board members, Pulliam issued the following statement:

"I have seen Mr. Nudelman's new release concerning the controversy over the thirty thousand dollars reserve at Carbondale. It does not seem to me that the facts he cites in his release prove that anything that was said in my statement was 'untrue, unfair, and in poor taste.' It is my duty to the students of this college and to the people of Southern Illinois to defend this institution against what I consider to be sinister tendencies toward arbitrary domination by the State Department of Finance.

"The Constitution of Illinois gives the legislature the right to initiate appropriations. The Department of Finance has the responsibility for preparing tentative budgets. The final responsibility for determining what the various appropriations are to be rests with the legislature. Thirty thousand dollars in question were added to our appropriation, over the budget recommended by the Department of Finance, by a group of senators who were interested in the welfare of this college. I believe that this money belongs to us legally and by every other reasonable basis for judgment; and I feel I have nothing to apologize for in the statement I issued a few days ago.

"Mr. Nudelman cites the fact that a substantial increase was given this college at the last legislative assembly. The fact remains that this college is still operating at a per capita cost that is about seventy-five dollars per student per year under the average per student cost in the other four teachers' colleges. An effort to further reduce the office admitted, at the time of the investigation, that this was true but justified this discrepancy on the ground that people in Southern Illinois do not deserve to be as well served by the state as further north, because of what he assumes to be a generally lower standard of living in this region. This, we who have always lived in Southern Illinois not only do not accept but deeply resent."

"The bill reached the governor so late and in such form that it was impossible for him to veto it, entirely or in part, so as to eliminate the $30,000. He therefore instructed that the $30,000 thus added be held in reserve at least until such time as it appeared the extra spending was necessary. This action was approved by the budget committee of the Normal School Board. A very careful study has recently been made by the House of Representatives, and a copy of a statement concerning this matter which was issued by Mr. Pulliam and printed in the Carbondale Free Press on July 18.

"A meeting was held in the governor's office in May, 1939, attended by members of the Normal School Board, representatives of the Normal schools, chairman of the two appropriations committees, Lieut. Governor Stielie and myself. At that time certain appropriations then before the General Assembly were reviewed and, agreed by unanimous vote of Southern Illinois State Normal University, an amendment was agreed upon increasing the appropriation by $27,500, or by $144,345 as compared with the sum actually available to it during the previous biennium.

"At the same time an amendment increasing by $37,500 the appropriations to Southern Illinois State Normal University was agreed upon. No increase was provided for the other three teacher-training institutions. The appropriation was passed with the agreement of the House of Representatives, but was amended on the floor of the Senate, adding the $30,000, which is now in question, neither appropriations committee had an opportunity to consider the bill reached the governor so late and in such form that it was impossible for him to veto it, entirely or in part, so as to eliminate the $30,000. He therefore instructed that the $30,000 thus added be held in reserve at least until such time as it appeared the extra spending was necessary. This action was approved by the budget committee of the Normal School Board. A very careful study has recently been made by the House of Representatives, and a copy of a statement concerning this matter which was issued by Mr. Pulliam and printed in the Carbondale Free Press on July 18.

"I am writing to you in regard to a statement made by the president of Southern Illinois State Normal University. I enclose herewith a copy of a letter which I sent to President Pulliam on July 17 concerning the release of the $30,000 which was reserved last year; a financial statement prepared by the department upon which I have based my recommendation to the governor regarding the present continuance of the $30,000; and a copy of a statement concerning this matter which was issued by Mr. Pulliam and printed in the Carbondale Free Press on July 18.

"A meeting was held in the governor's office in May, 1939, attended by members of the Normal School Board, representatives of the Normal schools, chairman of the two appropriations committees, Lieut. Metropolitan String Trio Discuss Vacation Plans With Reporter

By EILEEN CAMERON.

The Metropolitan String Trio of New York City, and Burton Cornwall, bassoonist, were presented Thursday morning, July 26, to students in Shryock Auditorium, in that city.

The varied concert program, consisting of three groups by the trio

ton. The group has been on tour since the first of July and will appear before an audience at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana, after leaving Carbondale August first and will find the group back in New York City for a well-earned month of vacationing until September when the trio is scheduled to give four-teen concerts in Pennsylvania.

Jack Walmer, pianist, said that he plans to vacation at home in the Kansas "dust bowl," where he hopes to get in some practice on Beethoven's concertos. Mr. Walmer commented on the fine quality of the piano in the auditorium.

Stanley Kraft, the violinist with the trio, claims Cleveland, Ohio, as his home town, although he has been in New York several years and plans to spend a part of his vacation there.

The cellist, David Pratt, has had a great deal of musical background as a student, a teacher, and as a concert performer. He is from Michigan, having taught for a time at Michigan State College. As to the humid Illinois weather, he said, "I'm getting used to it," although he added that he preferred evening concerts to morning appearances because evenings are cooler.

Mr. Burton Cornwall, bassoonist, who is touring with the trio for the first time this summer, said of the S. I. N. U. audience, "I enjoyed my audience tremendously—as well as I have ever enjoyed any audience." His enjoyment was mutual. Hartford, Conn. is where Mr. Cornwall lives when he is not out.

REBA HARTLEY WILL ASSIST ON HEALTH STAFF

Miss Reba Hartley, formerly of Oakland, Ill., has been hired by the college administration to serve as assistant nurse in the student health department. Miss Hartley, a registered nurse who graduated from Washington University School of Nursing affiliated with Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, will be on full time except for one hour a day beginning next fall.

Two additional changes were made in the student health service at a meeting Wednesday afternoon attended by representatives of the downtown physicians, the college health department, the college personnel council, and the student body.

Further changes will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The more important of the two changes stipulates that campus physicians may treat students for simple ailments and that campus doctors shall be given the power to decide the limits of their practice.

Second of the changes calls for a sum of $500.00 to be placed aside in the dental fund. Formerly the fund has been $250.00.

Before the meeting adjourned, President Roscoe Pulliam appointed a committee of three composed of Dr. E. L. Boykov of the campus staff, Dr. Ellis R. Cranley and Dr. Fred Eberhart of the Carbondale physicians. This committee will from time to time report on the progress of the present system.

CONSERVATION CLASSES HEAR REP. PALMER

Representative I. A. Palmer of the Illinois state legislature spoke to the Restoration Conservation Natural Reserve Class Wednesday, July 24. Mr. Palmer, who is chairman of the fish and game committee, spoke on "Legislation Concerning Natural Resources." He discussed the practical aspects of the subjects and made suggestions for legislation in the future.

Southern Alumnus Wins Fellowship in Entomology

Mr. Clyde Arnold, who graduated from S. I. N. U. in 1935, has again been granted a fellowship in entomology at the University of Ohio.

Mr. Arnold has been working on his master's degree in entomology at the university. He is a permanent employee of the Bureau of Entomology there.

Dr. E. L. Boykov of the campus staff, Dr. Ellis R. Cranley and Dr. Fred Eberhart of the Carbondale physicians. This committee will from time to time report on the progress of the present system.

Jack Cox, 1940 Captain, Fights Way to Finals in Second Summer Faculty-Student Net Tourney

Either Church or Haeger Will Face Cox in Finals As Soon As Weather Permits Completion of Matches

Jack Cox, captain of the Southern tennis team for the 1940 season, will be one of the finalists in the second student-faculty tennis tournament. He will be opposed by either Bruce Church or Monroe Haeger.

Cox encountered little difficulty on his journey to the finals. He drew a bye in the opening round and then disposed of Wesley Reynolds in round number two. Bob Kerr furnished the opposition in the quarter-finals and was eliminated by Cox in straight sets. In the semi-finals, Harry Meng was subdued in two sets, winning only one game in each set. Meng had gained the semifinal round by winning a three-set match from Bruce Logue.

Monroe Haeger and Bruce Church are opponents in the semifinal round of the upper bracket but rain has caused postponement of these matches. Haeger won by default from Egan in the quarter-finals and Church defeated J. Van Riper to enter the semi-finals.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA TOPS LEAGUERS AT SEASON END

The summer league baseball play-off is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, July 30, if the weather permits. The Shaughnessy type of play-off is used, the first place team playing the third place team and the second place team playing the fourth place team on Monday, with the finals taking place Tuesday.

The Kappa Phi Kappa pine have remained in the top bracket since the start of the season, winning eight encounters and losing none. The Spirits and Carters have been defeated all season, by second and third places, while the Monkeys have remained in fourth place and the Ramblers never drank from the cup of victory once during the season.

Denton, Carters' is leading the slugging with a percentage of .330 out of 23 times at bat in 5 games with 3 hits and 2 runs. Kappa Phi only have one man in the top line this week. Dohanich is close behind Denton with a percentage of .322 and a total of 13 hits, 10 runs out of 22 times at bat in 5 games. McCreight, Van Lente, and Martin of the Spirits, Boswell and Veach of Carters' round out the list in their respective order. G. Veach, McCreight, Van Lente, and Dohanich have remained in the list of leading hitters all season and may account largely for their team's position in the league.

Boswell of Carters' is striking king in the league with a total of 47.50's in six games. Johnny Gaines of Kappa Phi ranks next in order with a total of 23 in five games. Hicks also of Kappa Phi has a total of 15 strikeouts in three games. Statistics to date are as follows:

FUGATE FAVORED TO WIN HORSE SHOE TOURNAY

Wayne Fugate and Frank Setella are scheduled to battle it out in the finals of the horse-shoe pitching tournament which has been in progress for several weeks.

Fugate scored decisive victories in all his matches en route to the finals. Bateman forfeited in the final round, and Finley succumbed 6-12, 6-12. Richardson scored 35 points in the first game against Fugate in the quarter-finals but Fugate hit his stride and permitted Richardson only eight runs in the second game.

In his first round, Setella won from C. Mix 50-35, 50-47. Setella defeated Richardson 50-31, 50-30, to win the quarter-finals and entered the semi-finals by eliminating Elbert Smith, 50-35, 50-45.

Fugate is favored to capture the tournament although Setella will probably give him more competition than has encountered previously in the tournament.

This far, Fugate has allowed an average of only thirteen points per game to be scored against him. Fugate won the Horseshoe pitching title at S. I. N. U. in 1937.

Kappa Phi Kappa And Spirits Place Four Each on Summer All-Star Baseball Roster

Dohanich Named Most Valuable Player; McCreight Is Most Versatile; Wellmester Best Sport

The completion of the Summer Term All-Star Line Up found Kappa Phi Kappa and the Spirits of '39 dominating the list placing four each on the first twelve. The Monkeys placed two, while Carters' Aces and the Ramblers each had one representative.

This baseball team reacting the S. I. N. U. Hall of Baseball Fame is probably one of the strongest teams in Southern Illinois. Only the best are represented, the cream of the crop of Southern Illinois independent baseball.

George Dohanich, the tall, dark, bushy, first baseman from Carbondale stood head and shoulders above the other first sackers. Teacher and coach at Carver Mills, he is the foremost member of the Carver Mills Independent team. Leading the league with a batting average of .660, he has been named by Kappa Phi Kappa's strongest offensive strike.

Dean DeLay, Spirit's second sacker from Keyesport is just the opposite of Dohanich, extremely short and is not afraid to speak his piece. Dean, teaching and coaching at Keyesport, produced the champions of last year's Kaskaskia Conference. After having played fourteen years of baseball, Dean is still a terror at the bat, and on the base paths.

Alvin Hale, teacher at Rogiersville, is by far the outstanding third baseman. Having played several summers at S. I. N. U., this fiery third sacker has batted consistently over .400, and is especially well known for his base line throws to first base.

Kinsman at Short Henry Kinsman, teacher and basketball coach in Royallton Grade School, was the main choice at shortstop. Kinsman, never having played high school baseball, did a remarkable job at short for the Monkeys. He was a player who talked little, but played much.

Dr. K. A. Van Lente was named as the Utility Infielder because Van could play any position in the infield, and play it well. Van Lente's reputation as a hitter is enough to make any pitcher bow down. He is one of the leading hitters against this summer with a batting average of .474.

Lonnie Woods, a New Athens product, is the big car-croppered catcher for Kappa Phi Kappa. Woods is a source of pep, a nice receiver, and a good hitter. He is principal at East Grandefield Grade School.

It is easy to note that this selection includes the most colorful, the best hitting, and the best defensive ball players in Southern Illinois. Best utility is a quality of most of the players on the All Star selection.

The All Star Team was chosen by a group of eight officials including the five managers, Ralph Norton of the Ramblers, Geralt Veach of Carters' Aces, Walter Hains of Kappa Phi Kappa, Glen Martin of the Spirits, W. J. Quinn Russell of the Monkeys, two of Southern's foremost umpires, Clarence Greer and Elbert Smith, and Dr. Richard L. Beyer, official scorekeeper and high commissioner of S. I. N. U. baseball.

Several Southern Graduates Compete in University of Illinois Summer Softball Tournament

The exciting championship of the last two years has been won by Southern men, Marshall Loy placing first in 1938, and last year Bill Tweedy paced the winners. Loy hails from Barnhill, Illinois, and has been teaching at the Carver Township High School for some time.

Playing with Loy in the SINOOS lineup is Russ Emery, a graduate of Southern, and the gentleman who directed the Herrin Tigers to second place in the state basketball tournament last winter. Emery bats in the clean-up spot, and in a recent game batted two homers and a walk in three trips. Ois McMahon, currently connected with the Carverville Training School, is another member of the SINOOS along with Walt Keschel, Dallas Young, and Albert Patton—all Southern men.

The Southern graduates of a year ago—Barto Bahitz, intramural baseball star, scholar, debater, and economist from Christopher; Harry Kie, tennis man and dramatic tropic; East St. Louis, and Elyse Reid, Doc Dingler's star pole vaulter, are all participating in the softball tournament at the U. of I. this year.

Johnston City's well-known and respected basketball coach, Ralph Davidson is also an accomplished softballist. Those who have been connected with the summer intramural baseball program at Southern will remember Walter "Red" Hamilton who plays on the same team with Davidson.

Other Southern men engaged in the ten-man baseball game are John D. Moss, Vaughn Davidson, Edgar Dain, John Robison, Troy Robison, Loren Taylor, Ralph McBride, Polly Moorman, Everett Ferrell, Virgil Whaley, Herbert Deason, Bill Tweedy, Fred Perry, and a Carbondale fellow named South, who is employed in the Carml High School.

Ed. Note:—The information for this article came from the Crossville

C. J. Anderson, first sacker for the Ramblers, reaches out for an infield toss as Alton "Dutch" Woods, Kappa Phi Kappa catcher, and a member of the All-Star selection, races for the bag.

National Defense Tax Hits All of Us—Some Like It, Some Don't

By EILEEN CAMERON. One of the most recent, though certainly not one of the most horrid, measures in federal taxes is the new tax bill passed by Congress in June for the purpose of building up sufficient revenue to take care of the national defense problem...

John Stearns, Murphysboro, says "I've never liked the right things this time." Steve Krisfalussy, Ziegler, was quite vehement in his reply: "I'm against it simply because it is unfair tax levied against those who are unable to pay."

"It's all right to build up defenses, but I think we also should not lose sight of the fact that we are not yet at war. We are able to have more trouble here than we will have from Hitler or foreign invaders."

Nelda Boyd, 569 W. Grand, remarked, "According to economic analysis the tax for defense is necessary, but it is most obnoxious!"

"I think it's a necessary thing, because we need to protect the country in case Hitler does try an invasion," explained Vera Parisi, Royalton.

In view of the fact that this invasion in taxes will vitally affect all of us who hold a residence of student opinion on the new defense tax was sought this week. Most of the students interviewed have not given the matter a great deal of thought and their responses are necessarily spontaneous and based on the personal experience they have had with the new tax measure.

Jean Richards, Anthony Hill, stated, "It's a good thing because it is a tax placed on things we don't really need. Defense is necessary, but it is not in the sense of being physically and mechanically prepared but also to give that feeling of moral well-being which defense will give the people when they are sure that this country has a military defense which can be relied upon."

Curriculum Committee To Publish Department Requirements Table

At a recent meeting of the college curriculum committee, a committee headed by Dr. William Bailey was appointed to set up a table which will give exact information concerning the number of hours required for a major or a minor in each department.

The curriculum committee also appointed Mr. Howard Boley to investigate the possibilities of starting a course in library administration this fall.

The committee declared its intent unambiguously in favor of a recommendation that credit for physical education courses be placed on the same status as that of other courses.

NUDELMAN REBUTALS IN LETTER TO STATE NORMAL BOARD. I deeply resent the public statement of President Pulliam, especially his reference to "outrageous impudence" of this department, and to control or interference by "arbitrary" functions of all sorts.

"I submit to the Normal School Board, individually and as a whole, that the statement given to the press by Mr. Pulliam is untrue, unfair, in poor taste and deeply insulting to the interest of Illinois' educational institutions."

Dr. Gutherie Will Visit SINU Museum. Dr. Mary Gutherie, chairman of the Zoology department of the University of Missouri, will visit the S. I. N. U. campus August, the fifth.

When questioned with regard to the European situation, Mr. Gulley stated that he believes Hitler has a working policy in which he contemplates conquering the whole world. However, since he shall probably never trouble Mr. Gulley, he believes that Hitler shall be compelled to change or modify those plans to a certain extent.

Students Profess to Understand Both Causes and Effects of War; Are Determined to Avoid Deaths

By STEVE KRISFALUSSY. In a recent New Republic article, Irwin Ross stated that students profess to understand both the causes and effects of wars and are determined to fight out of them. His words were interpreted in many ways.

When Mr. Ross said that a suspicion of Roosevelt, of Congress, of the American people, of the American youth's attitude toward war, his statement seemed to be congruous with the present opinions of Fred Meyer, president of the Student Council, 1939-40. Mr. Meyer stated that neither the two major political parties differ greatly on their stand on foreign affairs, and that regardless of their pledges to American security and unity, both might find a justification for our involvement.

Mr. Meyer, turning to the project of invasion of England by Hitler, feels that Hitler will only attack when he feels the pinches of a force that impedes such action.

Noting the truth that the nation that attacks is feeling the pincers of privation, hunger and domestic political dissatisfaction, Mr. Meyer points out that history will prove that Mussolini for example, failed to overcome him, that notwithstanding the effects from further warring, not only will Hitler try England, but he may even be enveloped with the illusion of being a world conqueror.

Liberals, however much they may distrust the military mind, will hardly go so far as to hold that Hitler doesn't consider that anything is worth fighting for. If democracy must defend itself by arms, it would be folly for a democracy not to use all the strength available.

By that time, no doubt, the revolutionary zeal of fascist political systems will have been spent. Those countries which are now striving to recover their old fashioned ways will perhaps offer their philosophy when they achieve their place in the sun.

Some of us wish that we could emulate Rip Van Winkle and sleep for the next twenty or thirty years. By that time, no doubt, the revolutionary zeal of fascist political systems will have been spent.

Since the Republicans have a candidate who can both attract the public eye and get campaign funds behind him, Roosevelt was the possible choice for the Democrats.

The liberal today opposes war and distrusts militarism. It bitterly resents the necessity for universal military conscription. While recognizing that it may conceivably become necessary, after all, a civilian army is more democratic than a professional one.

And it would be better that every one should know how to shoot if that professional army should become the tool of fascists in the government who would use the national emergency as an excuse for suppressing labor, civil liberties, and all independent thinking.

Liberals, however much they may distrust the military mind, will hardly go so far as to hold that Hitler doesn't consider that anything is worth fighting for. If democracy must defend itself by arms, it would be folly for a democracy not to use all the strength available.
