SHRYOCK'S SKETCH OF PULLIAM MEMORIAL

The above picture is a small sketch of the portrait to be completed by Mr. Burnett Shryock, head of the Art Department. The sketch will be unveiled at the commemorative exercises in Shryock Auditorium on June 9, 1944.

The campaign has thus far been very successful. Numerous contributions have already been sent in by alumni and members of the school now in the armed forces. The committee hopes to have the grave completed by July 1.

The following are excerpts from letters sent in to Mrs. Alvin B. Cleveland, secretary of S. I. N. U. Alumni Association.

"I am very happy to have an opportunity to show my sincere appreciation for President Pulliam's death. Southern Illinois will certainly suffer a great loss. However, we can still continue his wonderful life."

"I think the project is very commendable and should serve as a fitting memorial for a man who did so much for the University and for the southern section of the state."

"I am proud to have the opportunity to contribute."

"I appreciate the gesture of respect that S. I. N. U. is paying this great man. I can think of nothing more appropriate. Thanks for letting me have the opportunity to contribute."

"I am glad to contribute to a fund for a memorial to a man whom we deeply admired."

OBELISK WILL APPEAR EARLY IN SUMMER TERM

The 1944 Obelisk has been selected by the staff as being an appropriate sequel to last year's 1943 edition. The annual this year is dedicated to the men of Southern Illinois who have made the supreme sacrifice in the service of their country. A special section is devoted to the men and women of S. I. N. U. who are in any branch of the service.

Representing a team highlighted as Southern's outstanding campus event. A portion of the book shows the life of the Air Corps men on the campus.

Because of war labor troubles, the 1944 Obelisk will not arrive on the campus until early in the summer term. However, a plan for distribution will appear next week.

Mr. Charles S. Chandler, who has been elected editor of the 1945 Obelisk, has not made any definite plans to meet with the staff. A transfer from U. of I., where he was a staff writer for the Daily Illini, Chuck has had much experience in scholastic journalism starting in his years at Carbondale Community High School. He is assistant editor of the 1943 Obelisk.

WAC OFFICE NOW LOCATED IN C'DALE

Miss Sgt. George M. Van Kirk, who is recruiting officers for this area, is establishing a permanent office in Carbondale. The office will be located in the base unit of the postoffice building.

Miss Van Kirk will also superintend the recruiting office in Herrick and Marburg. She expects to be in Murphysboro Monday; Herrick, Wednesday; and Marburg, Friday.

To join the WAC girls will be twenty and must be able to pass physical and mental tests. Recruits who are offered training, besides the regular qualifications, receive a college education or two years college and two years experience. Miss Van Kirk stresses the importance of this announcement, especially to the senior girls who are offering training this year. They will be entering the job they will be doing during the year. A small sacrifice when compared to the other girls who enter the service and get into the job they are interested in will be of great benefit to their country and to themselves.

The poetry included in the obelisk publication has a good deal more favorable criticism. The Lafayette two contributions, "The Poet" and "The Scientist," by Betty Smith, and "The Poet" of a sensitive nature who uses words well to her advantage. The Scientist is about on the same level, however, and leaves the reader.

GREEN EGGS

By B. DUNN

Poetry is a sky dark with a mid-quack migration. Sandburg. These two poems "Speech" and "Poetry of Christ" were contributed by the Editor but were not used. We think they deserved mention. It was impossible to obtain the names of the persons who wrote these two poems.

PICTURE OF CHRIST

The moon is yellowpaled upon hills. And hangs in halves above the pearly rocks. The night is chilled and blue with stars. Christ came. And the mist is curled and tangled in his locks.

Why dost thou sit and brood upon the stones? Half-hidden in the shadow of the leaves?

Thy blue lined robe from one thin shoulder slips. Thy rigid hands are clasped about thy knees.

Rise up, O Master, 'ere the hour is done. See, the sun, footsteps slush upon the mud. The mist is hovering on thy brow, my Lord.

The stars are wet and dripping with thy blood.

Some say these footprints vanished, ages passed. And yet I fancy I can hear their shell.

Creation in thy image, by the night, And was Gethsemane but for a night?

Speech Words, rippling across a page. Drifting from a maiden's lips like jewels.

Jewelry of expression. More wonderful than the thing itself.

Whispered between names. Whiskered by the lover. Echoed across the years by orators.

Emblems of utterance. Liquid music.

From Imogene Clark comes "The King's Muse." Miss Clark is a freshman from Mt. Vernon, and her A Discovery About Boys appeared in the Scarab, revealing three misconceptions in freshman essays.

Je greatly writes know Where these words would be read? They'd die.

The time between sundown and I sit with book in hand On my back porch.

To ponder a phrase Seeking its hidden meaning. If the poet really knew How many people Prefixed by his verse, would they?

The sun is beating down hotly. The farmer sits in the shade Leaning through his favorite pipe.

He has finished his non-day meal. His horse patiently waits to return To the half-fallen field. At last the farmer sighs, Putting his hat and closes his little book.

If muscians knew the wondrous notes, would they?

The air is bone-chilling. That the people do not notice— These people of a down-trodden country— They are listening. Turned toward the portable radio Clearly sending out forbidden news.

Who they care if they really knew? They would thank God That that was the privilege.

SOUTHERN RANKS HIGH IN BASKETBALL RAIRING

Final rating for the 1435-44 basketball season places Southern well up toward the top of the list of college and service teams. This rating was made by Dick Dunkel, nationally known basketball expert. Mr. Dunkel says that for the past ten years, has been rating basketball teams according to their offensive and defensive ability. He says that in 1935, Mr. Dunkel has been 75.5% accurate in forecasting the winners. From a total of 241 college and service teams Southern was placed in the 17th position, Old Normal in the 18th, Eastern in the 25th, Southern in the 26th, and Illinois Wesleyan in the 27th position.

VOICE OF S.N.U.

NO MORE BISCUITS

Dear Editor: I was very much interested in the recent issue of the Scarab, published. I should be very interesting. Of special interest to me was the essay written by a former Code. The author, who goes by the name of "The Biscuits," says that "I don't like biscuits." I fully agree with the opinion expressed by "Code." I am quite sure that my job is not getting this way so that he can "throw pop" to the other side. I am sure that my job is not getting this way so that he can "throw pop" to the other side. I am sure that my job is not getting this way so that he can "throw pop" to the other side.

Perhaps a good many people would say that I am asking the Editor to publish a letter to the Editor too frequently. I don't think so. I think that we are paying too much attention to the Editor's letters. It is not really important in our life any way. If, however, we attach too much importance to the details of the Editor's letters, we have lost out on these broad principles which are very important. Let's fight our own battles. Let's fight our own battles. Let's fight our own battles.

I am quite sure that if some one would promise me that my job could come back to me that we could live in a world where we could be free from war, free from fear, where we could have a religion that would be perfect and would give us happiness from now on, I would be throwing my lot in with them.

Secretly, Jane.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

Dear Editor: The punishment most recently mentioned in your issue was that of the "graveyard." I should like to attend "Chapel" strikes as well as being the best of boys. "Change at Youngstown, madam," said the station agent to a villager who was buying a ticket to the city.

"None of 'em tricks my lady," returned the old lady. "I want change right here before I get into that train!"

A slippery walk. A flash of light. A little squawk— And down she goes.

A quick arling. To her feet! A few more steps. And then—repeat.

Bookkeeper: What did the boss say when he asked you on the carpet just now? Officer Boy: He told me to beat it.

Asiator: Half the people down there thought we were going to cry. Passenger: So did half the people up here.

Pilot Conductor: When I get out of this place, I'm going to have a hot time, ain't you? Conductor: I don't know, I'm in it for life.

Bill: I'm afraid this bed isn't big enough for you. Akin: That's all right, I'll add two more feet to it when I get home.

Clark: How are you running along with your property? Student: I've been swindled. I bought three different suitcases and not one of the has laid an egg yet.

Freddie Willis: There are an awful lot of girls who don't want to get married. Imogene: How do you know? Freddie: I've asked them.

A steel can may have its faults, but the matter how full it is, it is an no home straight.

The spirit in which the I.L.O. delegates approached the time and terms seemed far more realistic than the current post-war discussion taking place elsewhere in the United States.

However, even the action of the I.L.O. is not enough. They merely adopted resolutions. This is only the beginning. The effort now lies in the successful conclusion of these details.

MUSICANA

By NORMAN O. CLARKE Art Kessel—famous for his "Clarinet in the Air" music, and leader of one of the SWEST music bands, recently said: "Jazz has really created a Frankenstein monster. Those jazz-trick kids who hang around hot and smoke muggles and say 'Solid Jackson' have no appreciation of the good music played by the great Duke Ellington, Whiteyman, Herbie Hield, Kay Kyser, Guy Lombardo, Wayne King, and many others. They save all their applause for those hot-temperament characters who couldn't play legitimate music if they had to—the kind of guys who blame the record, the weather, or even the band itself, if their technique is bad. A certain music magazine praises the hot-temperament and almost completely excludes the sweet bands. No wonder the youngsters have a warped viewpoint." (Kessel added, however, that he had no complaint against the likes of Benny Goodman and Tommy Dorsey who play good swing consistently.)

I say, "Bravo, Art! Let's keep that sweet music in there. After all, a steady diet of hot jumps, blue, and boogie jive is the kind of diet that 'Blues' would be pretty hard to take."

SOUR NOTES... Brother, those movie musicals plus local action charging inaccuracies in "Hi Parade" listings. Apparently, then, the new "number one" on the Hi Parade would be "I, LE HUNG YOU!" "Toby Vicky" (what?) has had another band-member. She thinks that Art Kessel is the leader of the famous Kessel-Lombardo Orchestra!

Government tests have shown that the use of marijuana DO NOT make a sour musician the least bit better—or any musician for that matter.

BY THE WAY... "Underground" report on the draft situation here, a new applies to musicians cleared from an even more exclusive source close to a high authority near a leading foreign government official. Four points are important, namely: 1—Musicians are regarded as essential — only in piano duos. 2—Musicians who have been classified at 4F may be called back for re-examination, but won't have to worry — provided they are again classified at 4F. 3—No male orchestra men will be drafted for service — in the WACS, WAVES, SPARS, or in P.M.H. Spitalny's orchestra.

ON THE RECORDS... Decca 1953A has done the unexpected again. Jimmy Dorsey and his swing orchestra have taken that loyal home number, "Holiday for Strings," and given it a "modernized" arrangement. It isn't the old thing, but it is something extra on the standard group. This swing "longhair" substitution has been arranged very cleverly by the arranger, popular style and is really something to note. It should definitely be on the way in.

Decca 1895A gives the listener a wailing of the popular "I Love You" from the production, "Mexican Hayride". The cutting features "Poppy" backed by John Scott Trotter and Orchestra, and the singer gives more than a little of several good tunes in this number. The typical croaky style and is certain to collect plenty of silver. Which proves that undoubtedly time is still on our swimmers or is it?

Mr. 7072 features a couple up and coming numbers by the still popular Guy Gardner. From the music "A Guy Named Joe" I'll get by afterwards of the same vintage should fall up a lot of listening with Gardner's new up-to-date style. The first five years on with a wailing of San Fernando Valley which I believe I mentioned in the last few weeks ago is continuing to sweep the nation like a prairie fire. Both will make for very interesting and smooth dancing.

Happy Listeners!

with a heated feeling as of this. Gardner has done a great job of making his "Scarab" recording the best in the series and well worth satisfaction.

The second piece, "Memorabilia," by Virginia Curtis, has been a real delight. It is a real gem, but many a reviewer of a youthful nature is saying "This one of the most outstanding pieces in the subject matter has much to be desired."

The third piece, "Pretent Two College Students" failed to exhibit merits to qualify for inclusion in the issue. Written in love, it reads only in a convincing manner to the readers. There is no purpose in the poem. It is not an art piece, but a third party position would have been true by Wava Robinson. No other poem on the issue holds the attention of the reader as this does, even though the form is rough. It is filled with phrases which, such as "I'll be a star" and "I'll be a star" does not detract from the general value of the poem.

The "Hot Spot" Revolution is the only short story included. It is a well written story, but it is not a masterpiece. It is a well written story, but it is not a masterpiece. It is a well written story, but it is not a masterpiece.
