Approximately 67 years old, Miss Williams joined the Southern faculty in 1917 and later advanced to the position of professor and head of the department of art. She placed the held several years until her retirement in 1942 with the status of professor emerita.

She traveled extensively in Mexico, was a member of the American Association of University Professors, the A.A.U.W., the National Education Association, and the National Art Association.

A memorial program for Miss Williams will be arranged soon.

Mr. Myhre will assume his duties on June 1. He has an A.B. degree from the University of Washington and an M. A. degree from Teachers College, Columbia University. BETTY JEAN HARRIS GIVEN DANFORTH SCHOLARSHIP

Betty Jean Harris, freshman of Carbondale, has been awarded a scholarship by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis for leadership training at Camp Minniewaca, Michigan.

Miss Harris will be the fourth Southern student to attend the Camp. The applicant must be approved by a special representative or "associate" of the Danforth Foundation, who at Southern is David S. McIntosh, chairman of the music department.

Camp Minniewaca, near Shelby, is the Christian Leadership Training Camp of the American Youth Foundation, a non-profit, non-denominational Christian organization, the purpose of which is to train young people for leadership in life vocations.

Throughout the country, 40 such scholarships are awarded each year to college students, high school juniors and seniors, and business young people between the ages of 16 and 21. Of these, 25 go to girls, 15 to boys.

Last year Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City received one of these scholarships.

ADVISORY COUNCIL MEMBERS SELECTED

In an election held at the monthly faculty meeting yesterday, Miss Julia Neely was elected faculty secretary of the Advisory Council replacing Dr. Willard Gershbacher. The new representative for the College of Education is Dr. Ted Ragsdale who will replace Dr. F. W. Warren. Dr. J. W. Neekers was elected from the faculty at large to replace Dr. W. B. Schneider.

When the present plan was set up last fall it was agreed that seven members should be elected by the faculty and seven members appointed by the president. Of the seven members elected by the faculty, one member is elected from each of the three colleges, three from the faculty at large, and one member elected as faculty secretary.

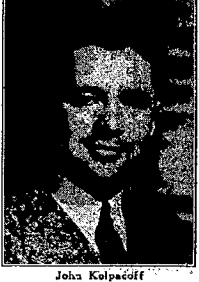

A plan was set up whereby each member should serve a three year term. However, in order to start the plan operating smoothly, one member had to be elected for one year only and one member for two years only. After the election these members were decided by drawing lots. Therefore, anyone who is elected, now will serve a term of three years, with the exception of the secretary, who is elected for one year only.

There will be one member from one of the three colleges and one member from the faculty at large retiring each year. There are two alternating positions on the council. One is to be held by Dean Ter Keurst or Dean Shuman and the other by Miss Lorena Drummond, the director of the college information service, or Miss Marjorie Shank, the college registrar.

In addition to these 14 members there are two student representatives who are elected by the student council.

FORMER STUDENT PUBLISHES BOOK

Marie Campbell, a 1932 graduate of Southern and native of Tammus, Illinois, is the author of the recent book Folks Do Get Born, story of Georgian midwifery, which has been given favorable criticism since its publication.

Now a member of the English department at West Georgia State College, Carrollton, Georgia, Miss Campbell was a student here at Southern from 1929-32. Faculty members here who knew her as an undergraduate, remember her as "a very good student" and one who "could write well."

Miss Campbell's first book, Cloud Walking, released a few years ago, was a story of Kentucky life, and now she has written of Georgia life in Folks Do Get Born.

SINU Student Brings Home English Bride

By Whalen

Many of you have read of foreign brides, but perhaps you are not aware of the fact that students with foreign wives are enrolled here at Southern. The following is a true story of one of these students who went to a war and gained an English bride.

His name is James Leslie from Cairo, who served during the war with the 9th and 12th Air Forces as a glider pilot from the invasion of Africa to the fall of Germany.

Jim met his wife, who was a private secretary in a large dictation company, in Leeds, Yorkshire, through a mutual friend at one of the local dances. Even though Jim was stationed several miles distant, he managed to court her steadily for the following three months. He told me that they both fell sincerely in love.

They were married at the Registrar's Office in Leeds, (similar to our Court House), and after a reception at the home of the bride, whose maiden name was Shirley Gee, they departed for their honeymoon at the Lakeside Hotel, on Lake Windemere, in Lancashire County. This section of the country is widely known as the home of some of England's greatest poets and writers.

As is in so many well known plots, Jim was ordered away to France

In addition to teaching two history courses—a general elementary course in Latin American history and an advance course in Latin American culture, Dr. McNicol will also teach an elementary Spanish course.

Before attaining his position at the University of Miami in 1937, Dr. McNicol taught at the University of Lima in Peru, and the University of Havana at Havana, Cuba.

During World War II, he was connected with the State Department in the Bureau of Latin American Affairs of the United States government.

Athletes Given Awards in Chapel Thursday

"The Home of Champions"—that is the name many sports experts are affixing to Southern, and they're not far from wrong when the record books are examined. Southern has had four conference championships this last school year—four, count them. Members of the Maroon's various athletic aggregations received letters in Chapel yesterday morning.

The Maroons began their winning ways last fall when Southern harriers, directed by Leland P. "Doc" Linglie, hit their stride on the hill and dale course at Normal, and

Four Receive Cross Country Awards

The men who received letters for this feat were Dick Avis of Johnston City, Don Sheffer of Rogers, Bob Smith of Marissa, and Hutt Barfoot of Malden, Missouri.

The Southerners were able to pull a second place spot out of the football race as they were dropped in the last game of the season, being unbeaten in conference circles until then.

Twenty-one Given Letters for Football

Letters were awarded to the following men in this sport: Paul Moss of Christopher (in service); Sam Milosevich (captain) of Zeigler; Ralph Lyrer of Anna (in service);

Basketball Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin made Carbondale the "basketball capitol of the world" when, after capping the I.L.A.C. title, he took his eagles to Kansas City and directed them to the Intercollegiate Championship crown against some of the best teams that the country had to offer.

Track and tennis squads made their bid for fame only last Saturday when, at the I.L.A.C. meet, they were awarded their share of everything but the referee's whistle while taking the track and tennis crowns.

The tracksters, coached by "Doc" Lingie, broke all existing scoring records in the meet by piling up 86 points while winning six first places.

Seventeen Letters In Track

Dick Avis, John Alge, Carbondale, Charles Beatty, Carl Birkenr, Leonard Burden of Johnston City, Gene Davidson, Dick Eggers, Jack Hayes of Benton, Gene Hamilton, Louis Pechienco of Christopher, Earl Robert of Carlyle, Roy Ragsdale, Quentin Stinson, Jim Gallatin of Carlyle, Bob Smith, Byron Turner of Herrin, and Uriah Wall of Cairo received letters in this sport.

The tennis squad, mentored by Bill Freuburg, virtually overcame all opposition as they took first place in all of the four divisions in the meet and wound up with a total of 15 points while their nearest opponent, State Normal, could garner only four markers.

Five Receive Tennis Awards

Bruce Church of Marissa, Joe Palley of Marion, Roy Lielich of New Athens, Harry Meng of Belleville, and John Maguire of Carbondale were awarded their athletic letters for tennis activity.

The EGYPTIAN is the student-edited weekly publication of Southern Illinois Normal University. Its editor and staff welcome contributions from all sources, providing they bear the writer's signature. It should be understood, therefore, that material printed in the paper is not necessarily the opinion of the staff or editor, the faculty or the administration. But as long as there is freedom of the press, the EGYPTIAN will continue to voice students' ideas, and state the facts as it sees fit. THE EDITOR

What's Going On Here!

By Grant

This is the first installment of a regular column which will deal with campus politics. The social side of school life is emphasized elsewhere; so I shall attempt to confine these weekly reports to the political significance of actions taken by Southern groups and their leaders. I do not intend to deal impartially with all organizations; instead I shall devote considerably more space to those groups displaying an active interest in school and community life than to organizations dedicated solely to working for their own members.

The Veteran's Organization
Although they compose the largest single group at Southern, the veterans have never shown signs of becoming the potent force their numbers demand. There has been a great deal of suspicion, not only dividing veteran and non-veteran organizations, but existing within the ranks of the veterans themselves.

The greatest fear of most veterans has been that, if they forged a strong organization, it might get out of hand and discredit every egie wearer in school. They consider themselves students first, and do not want to risk stepping upon others' toes and isolating themselves from the student body.

There have been persons around school, however, who realize that it is not only possible to be a good student and veteran at the same time, but highly desirable. Certainly there are enough worthwhile, necessary projects that would benefit ALL students for which well-directed student effort is vital; and at present there isn't much battling for a place in line to do the work. The veterans more effectively than any other group, could provide the leadership and the labor for school-community improvements.

Fortunately, the veterans have begun to size up the problems besetting them and the entire student body, and they have taken the preliminary steps to initiate reforms.

At the veteran's meeting Tuesday night, (which very few attended, but which was nonetheless successful from the viewpoint of accomplishment) they sought to improve their own organization. The committee on Student-Veteran Organization at Southern proposed that the G.I.A. be disbanded, and the proposal was accepted. No fears were shed over G.I.A. Understatement: Its national officers have made no attempt to determine, much less, solve our particular problems. Southern veterans feel that a strong local organization could deal with their special needs more quickly and completely, and with less expense.

The resolutions of the other committees are to be found elsewhere in the Egyptian. Most important to the entire student body: 1. The proposal to retain O.P.A. and to re-establish rent control in Carbondale. 2. That housing units allotted or to be allotted to the school be moved to the campus as soon as possible. 3. The erection, in cooperation with other veteran organizations, of a permanent men's dormitory. This dormitory is to benefit all men, not the veterans alone.

An extremely encouraging attitude being developed by the veteran leaders under their chairman, Dale Andrews, is the earnest aspiration for a veterans organization that will work to benefit every student, not the student-veteran alone. To obtain the many improvements in housing, recreation, and legislation that are needed by the entire student body, the veterans want to pool their ideas and their elbow grease with every organization in school and in town interested in the common objectives: a better Southern and a better Carbondale.

Now that the veteran leaders have proclaimed at least their readiness to express an interest in school and local betterment, they merit the cooperation they seek from other groups. They are holding another meeting Monday, May 27, to which everyone is invited who is interested in helping to build a strong, organization devoted to obtaining sadly needed improvements. The Auditorium will be the scene of discussions and proposals concerning, among other subjects: 1. full employment, and 2. community activities and projects to be sponsored by veterans. The meeting should be quite spirited. The last one was.

Letters to the Editor

Through this column we invite students, faculty, and friends of Southern to express their ideas. We must know the source of any article, but we will withhold your name if you wish it, and we retain the right to withhold any material that would violate the ethics of journalism and freedom of the press.

Dear Editor:
Is this DEMOCRACY? Have you noticed that the people who howl "democracy" and representation in their fight against President Lay earlier this spring are now wearing the Black Shirts in the Student Council election?
After a long fight over proper representation among the various Greek organizations, the Greeks picked their candidates. They then strayed from the path of democracy by imposing this slate upon their members, who must follow or pay the consequences if caught not following it.

Is it right that this medieval clan of Greek letters should by machine politics govern the student body of Southern? The answer, is unanimously no! even if it is a fact that sorority and fraternity members are of equal caliber to those students who oppose them, they should not be elected to the Student Council.
In this statement I do not discriminate against the members individually but against the methods employed by the various Greek clans to bolster their power on the campus.

The class uses the gullibility of students who would join a primitive society of muggwumps if they believed it would add to their prestige or their own personal, egotistical inflation. These characters look to higher education to broaden themselves but to impose the narrow thinking of themselves and their clan upon the school.

Any veteran, who should at least understand the principles of democracy, should be against any organization that dictates to its members the policy of clan rule. In this statement I refer only to the Greek organizations.

In conclusion I say the Independent students of Southern should band together in an effort to defeat any fraternity or sorority backed candidate, as long as the Greeks tend to impose this system of slate voting on their members. The Independent Student Union should adopt the old method of fight fire with fire—unit this method, is discontinued.

Dear Editor:
It was my misfortune to read a copy of the Sketchbook, recently distributed by the Writer's Club. I have never been so disgusted in my life. If it is the purpose of the Sketchbook to provide adolescent children an opportunity to vent their frustrated conceptions of life, more power to it; if it is intended to give our "poet laureate" an opportunity to depict the bloodshed and dying of war (which he has never known), more power to it. But if the Sketchbook is intended to provide stimulating reading for adult, collegiate consumption and enjoyment, it has failed miserably.

This is not intended to be entirely adverse criticism. Some of the material was excellent, but the general content was utterly lacking in style of any kind. Perhaps, if our blank verse poets would try to be a little more original, and less imitative of James T. Farrell and Co., the Sketchbook would be worthy of the effort put forth by the Writer's Club.

AID TO A FAMINE-RIDDEN WORLD

The present inefficiency transportation bottle-neck, water and rail especially, is literally starving millions of people in Europe, India, and China.

We are trying, perhaps not whole-heartedly, to send some food to Europe, out of the 14 per cent above average which we are now consuming. But each month we are still falling below our quota. The problem facing the United States has been water transportation. We have little trouble rail shipping our grain and other food to an exporting port, but the food stacks up at these exporting ports because of lack of ships. That is, lack of ships operating. It is no secret; we have hundreds of Liberty ships standing idle gathering tidewater rust at most of the major U. S. ports. Our shipping administration has not yet seen fit to keep our full merchant fleet in operation. If this had been so, then thousands of people in Europe would be receiving food today.

In Europe, there are little pockets of food surpluses, but this food is being wasted or destroyed because of political conflicts, or more often, because of lack of rail transportation which was destroyed during the war. Russia alone has made available 1,100,000 tons of grain to Finland, Poland, Rumania, and France, but still, grain from the United States is being shipped into Russia.

Distribution of food in China is made almost impossible because of lack of very few types of any transportation, except human. A small number of barges load grain at a few of the importing ports and go into the Chinese upland, but aside from this, little food can be transported to the starving sections of China.

India is suffering more than any other section of the world. Many people (those with full stomachs) feel that England should be responsible for the starving and underfed in India; and many more don't care either way. The United States is sticking to Western Europe while the dark skin Indians are starving, and has not yet accepted her full responsibility toward feeding the hungry and starving people of the world.

STACKING UP THE ARMY COURT MARTIAL

You have probably been reading much about army court martials. I have also, and this is the way things seem to stack up. The civilian-soldiers in the army—the "big guy, the combat soldier, the plain G. I. Joe-enlisted man—doesn't receive a fifty-fifty-break at a court martial trial. Usually the enlisted man talks to his attorney for only a few minutes before his trial, is shot into a court room, given a typewritten copy from which he reads his testimony, and then is found guilty or not guilty in no longer a time than it takes to try a simple traffic case in a civilian court.

But does the same thing happen to the bad "big boys" in the army—the officers? Hardly! The caste system of court martial has not broken the inflexibility of the military mind. Army justice still operates on a double-standard basis. Realistically, officers and enlisted men are supposed to be treated with equal justice, but most of the officials in charge of a court martial look upon the officers on trial as representatives of a superior class. Too much depends on the individual view of the officials making up the court martial.

An accused officer is rarely confined to a guardhouse. Therefore, he is free to collect his own evidence and gather up his own friends as witnesses. And if an officer is found guilty, still the double-standard applies. For example, an officer that is found guilty of the same offense as an enlisted man may be "busted", given a prison sentence, have his pay taken away, or be assigned to the dirtiest task in an outfit.

In 1940, the army conducted 16,391 court martials, and only 17 of the men tried were officers. At present, many of the soldiers still in army guardhouses and federal penitentiaries are entitled to a prompt review of their cases. The caste system is going out of the army dress, and it is the duty of the veterans and civilians to throw the caste system out of the court martial.

"Here Comes Heaven Again" is the tune with which Perry Como, tries to sell Vivian Blaine a musical bill of goods in "Doll Face", the new 20th Century-Fox musical. Packed with scintillating songs and dazzling stage spectacles, the gay and fast-moving hit tells the story of a burlesque queen who, through a literary hoax, achieves legitimate stage stardom and almost wrecks her romance. Co-starring in the film are Dennis O'Keefe and Carmen Miranda, with Martha Stewart, Michael Dunne and Reed Hadley featured in important roles. Showing Sunday and Monday at the Varsity Theatre.

DALE ANDREWS

Veterans desiring to transfer from Southern either for the summer or fall terms of 1946, should write to the institution to which they wish to transfer and get a letter of acceptance from that university. As soon as this letter of acceptance is received, it should be forwarded to the U. S. Veterans Administration, 968 W. Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois, together with a request for a supplemented letter of eligibility and a request to discontinue training at Southern on a specified date, naming the institution and date when training will be resumed.

The claim number should be inserted in the upper right hand corner on both the letter of acceptance and the request for transfer. At least 30 days should be allowed for the Veterans Administration to complete this transaction.

According to press reports there are over 200,000 letters of eligibility issued to veterans who are unable to find a place to go to school. This figure will probably double by September 1, and will grow still larger. A veteran now in training under Public Laws 16 and 165, should consult with Dean or Prof. or Gen. McGowan in the Veterans Lounge prior to interrupting their training, so that questionable details may be worked out for them.

Other members of the committee are Dr. William Schneider, chairman, and Dr. Charles Tenney, who were chosen by President Chester F. Lay, and two students chosen by the Student Council, Richard Avis and Florine Schlueter.

The exact plans of the committee have not been organized yet, but questionnaires will be sent to various colleges and universities in order to compare and study their student governments with Southern's.

This work will be carried on throughout the summer term.

Paging Mrs. Deer!

Who is Mrs. Deer? Why, haven't you heard! She is the toast of the Southern track squad. She has been the most loyal fan of the tracksters for four years, and has many male admirers. Surely you remember now who Mrs. Deer is? Well, seeing that there are a few among the readers who do not know the identity of this popular lady, I suppose I shall tell you her story.

Way back in 1943 Mrs. Deer came to Southern. Although the Registrar's office has no record of her entry into our fam-school, doubtless Mrs. Deer was too busy to bother with formalities and didn't officially make her presence known. I must sadly verify the rumors to the effect that Mrs. Deer in her freshman year was not so popular as she later became. From the very first she was interested in the proceedings of the track squad and was out on the field every evening watching Coach Lingie's team warm up. The only attention Mrs. Deer received, however, was an occasional "hello", or more often than not, a dropping of the "O" in the salutation.

This grand old lady didn't mind an occasional harsh word or blunt suggestion that she leave. She had faith in "her boys", and Coach Lingie has always been her hero, although she will not admit anything if you should ask her.

Some people believe Mrs. Deer possesses a very gifted intuition, since early in 1944 she moved, of all places, on McAndrew Stadium field. She was undoubtedly able to foresee the present housing shortage. Her moving to McAndrew Stadium has proven costly, however, because Mrs. Deer had had to build three houses after having them destroyed for one reason or another.

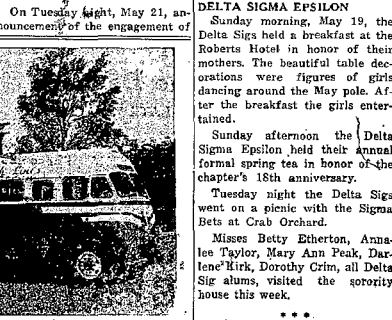

By the time the 1945 track season rolled around Mrs. Deer had

BOOKS The days are passing with alarming speed, and unless you have been one of those rare conscientious souls, there is very little time on your schedule for leisure reading; however, since reading is necessary, the solution is—read a short book. D. H. Lawrence's The Man Who Died is just such a book. Lawrence's style is excellent, and his words hold somewhat twisted food for thought. Oscar Wilde wrote a beautiful passage on the same subject, but his interpretation is not so free. Reading time for The Man Who Died is an hour at the most.

MUSIC Toscanini went home to conduct at the opening of the LaScala Opera House. Thousands greeted him, and some paid as high as $500 to hear him. The cheers were for both the music and the fiery little man whose spirit was shown first in 1922 when he first ventured to play the Faust anthem.

The reason for Toscanini's return was that he was assured that the days of the Puppet King were numbered. Mary Garden at 69 has returned to her favorite home—Paris. She left Paris in 1940 to take her mother to her native Scotland. There she wrote her, as yet unpublished, autobiography.

'IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE'

While browsing through our library, I noticed the book, "It Can't Happen Here." Well, this started me to thinking, so I set to myself, betcha we've got more "unhappenings" right here at Southern, than are in the whole book, and after I pondered the question a while, I came to these conclusions, which are proof enough.

Can you imagine "Smokey Joe" coming to school wearing blue jeans?

Can you imagine Carters with white walls, free from pencil marks?

To mention a few more—what if you passed Lit Goddard and she didn't speak to you?

What if you saw Jack Hedges and his brother Kenner when they were on peaceful terms?

Still, some more impossibilities are Cochran, the cop, loafing on the job. Mr. McDonagh carrying his sociology book with him.

Mack Akin without Pat Ashley would be a major catastrophe, as well as Dr. Schneider dismissing his classes before the ten minute bell rings.

Helen Mataya pledging a sorority would be a further shock.

These are just a few—something when you have nothing to do, think up some of your own and who knows—you may turn out to be a Sinclair Lewis. Did I hear somebody say "It Can't Happen Here?"

Old Glory Rescued Monday by Univ. Farm Manager

After several weeks of forced stay at the top of the flagpole, Old Glory, tattered and torn, came down Monday as a result of the efforts of Irvin Peithman, manager of the University farm.

Considerable student and faculty comment was heard when the flag continued to stay at the top of the flagpole day and night and began to hang in shreds.

It seems the chain by which the flag was raised and lowered was caught and could not be unloosed.

PERSONALITY SKETCH

Vi Bartolotti

Every theatrical group has its Perc Westmore, and Southern's Little Theatre is no exception. Vi Bartolotti has served in the capacity of make-up artist for the Little Theatre for three or more years. During this time she has designed costumes and turned out modern as "Ory Haviv" and antiquated as "Only An Orphan Girl".

Since 1943, Vi has been chairman of various committees, dealing with the costuming of several presentations. Customarily, she works with not more than five substitutes, as she believes a small group can accomplish more work. Not infrequently she has had to rely on her own ingenuity to find suitable costumes for the dramatist. Once, she states, she cut up a pair of old drapes to make a costume for a leading lady.

Vi frankly admits that boys cause much distress to make-up artists in their reluctance to have cosmetics applied. As to her easiest most co-operative person to experiment on, she picks Neva Woolard.

Particularly interested in colorful play-nietics dramatizations, Vi stated that she enjoyed designing the costumes for "Only An Orphan Girl" above all others.

A senior and an elementary education major, Vi hopes to achieve the same kind of results with elementary school plays as she has had with the Little Theatre.

Track and Tennis Teams Kings at I. I. A. C. Meet

Linglemen Crowned Victors; Largest Score Ever Compiled In Meet

Winning six firsts and racking up the astounding total of 86 points, the Maroon track squad swept to an I. I. A. C. victory in the 27th annual conference track and field meet held at McCormick Field in Normal last Saturday. High point man for the winners was John Algeo, who ran up a total of 14 points.

Only one record fell on the muddy turf, despite the fact that this was the first post-war conference meet and all of the participating schools' line-ups were sprinkled with war veterans.

LeRoy LaRose, of Charleston, who is a member of the Eastern State Teachers squad, put the 16 pound shot a distance of 46 feet 11 1/2 in. to crack the shot put record.

Southern's firsts came in the following departments: the one mile run; 120 yard high hurdles; discus; two mile run; 220 yard low hurdles; one mile relay.

This affair wound up the seasons activities on the track front and left the Maroons with the season's record of five wins and no losses. The tracksters won the I.I.A.C. track trophy and also the relay trophy. Of the 75 individual medals awarded, Southern athletes received 29.

The last I.I.A.C. track victory on Southern's record was in 1938, track coach Leland P. "Doc" Lingle reported.

The first place winners for the victors were Quentin Stinson of Eldorado, who won the discus event; Lou Fontana of Christy, who won the one mile run; Leonard Burden of Johnston City, who won the two mile run; Charles Beatty of Benton, the only two-time winner, who won both the high and low hurdles events. The other first place was won by the relay team.

Southern's record for the current season shows victories over Western, State Normal, Cape Girardeau, Washington U., and Eastern. The Maroons finished fourth in the Elmhurst Invitational and then clinaxed the season with the I.I.A.C. win.

Hittin' the High Spots

By Richard Jackson

The awarding of letters in the Thursday chapel program brought abruptly to my attention that this season has probably been the greatest in the entire Southern Athletic program history. Under the direction of Coaches Glenn Martin, Bill Freeburg, and Leland Lingle, the Maroons this year brought to Southern four Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championships, with a second place in one other sport—football.

With one of the lightest elevens in Maroon history, Coach Martin's squad was undefeated until the final battle of the season. DeKalb won out over the Maroons only by a 13-7 score. Although a good portion of this year's letter-winners are either now in service or out of school, Martin expects in not standing to Southern's four Illinois 1946 at McDermott Stadium. Returning veterans are the basis for Martin's optimism. Such names as Betty, Malinsky, Millsaps, Gass, and O'Brian will probably appear in the sports pages of next year's Egyptian.

Of course, the achievements of the 1945-46 basketball squad has been extolled many times, but its greatness deserves more praise than can be given. The fact that it was probably the greatest team ever to represent Southern at any time previously is probably true also. The winning of the NIAB Tournament at Kansas City may or may not have been the highest single honor received by a Southern team, but at any rate, it was the most publicized. The national victory tended to overshadow the fact that the first I.I.A.C. basketball championship in the history of Southern was also captured this year. The outstanding record of this year's team will be long remembered.

Coach Bill Freeburg's first year of directing the Southern tennis squad was one of high quality also. The tennis team swept through their current season on the short end of only one meet, and topped it off with sweeping every match in the I.I.A.C. meet at Normal. The squad was an all-veteran outfit.

Coach Leland Lingle brought home two conference championships, one in cross-country the other in track. Lingle's five man cross-country team easily won their three and one-half mile headed by Dick Avis, who captured the first position. The recently completed track season was just as profitable in the way of championships. The 1946 tracksters captured easily every dual meet of the season, placed fourth in the highly-rated Elmhurst relays, and went on coast to a conference victory in the 27th Annual affair at Normal.

Yes, this year has been a successful one in Southern athletics.

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL

Curtis

For the fourth consecutive week the World Beaters are leading the intra-mural baseball league. Rain Thursday afternoon ruined a chance to clinch a tie for the championship by postponing a game with the Chi Deltis. A victory in either this game, which will be played Monday, or their game with the Ramblers will assure them of a tie. Victories in both will mean an undisputed championship.

The K.D.A.'s defeated the N.E.A.'s 8 to 4 to hold their grip on second place Monday. Vernon "Fireball" Smith was credited with his third league victory against no losses as he struck out 11 N.E.A.'s, while allowing only four safe blows. In the meantime his teammates combed the offerings of Miller and Hinkley for seven safeties to sew up the victory.

Wednesday the Sigma Beta climbed into third place with a 6 to 3 win over the Chi Deltis, who are nestling down in sixth place. They are nesting down on the part of the Chi Deltis, which was turned into Sigma Bet runs, was the deciding factor in the game. McGee, Sigma Bet pitcher allowed six hits to gain his third victory of the year. For the losers Vandeveld gave up eight safe blows.

The World Beaters were credited with a win as the Faculty dropped its third straight game by the forfeit route on Tuesday. In the only two games that the faculty have played they have been victorious, but inability to field a team regularly has dropped their average below the .500 mark.

Netsters Brings Third Championship Home; Easy Victors At Meet

Southern's tennis team rang down the curtain on the tennis season Friday and Saturday last. Normal courts with a scintillating win of the I.I.A.C. meet. Coach Freeburg's men swept the opposition aside readily in most cases as they made a clean sweep of all singles and doubles matches. The final point round-up found Southern with 15 Normal 4, Western 2, and Eastern 0. Northern failed to enter the meet.

By virtue of their win, the netsters brought the third I.I.A.C. championship to Southern, its' teams previously having won the 1942 and 1943 affairs. It also closed the season's record book showing five wins, one loss in an abbreviated contest with the Illinois "B" team, and one tie.

Sam Hancock, of Charleston, was the first division singles title by disposing of Roger Sorenson of Normal 6-1, 6-4, and Calkins of Normal 6-2, 3-6, 6-2. Pre-tournament prognostications had Sorenson giving Church a lot of trouble since he was credited with two victories over a highly-touted man from the Indiana State team. However, Church disposed of him easily, and found a harder time with Calkins.

Joe Pulley of Marion had little trouble in dropping Western's Dillon 6-0, 6-0, and continued his drive to oust Harrison of Normal 6-4, 6-1, to annex the second division crown. Roy Leitch of New Athens likewise wasn't too hard pressed in eliminating Muthersbaugh of Eastern 6-0, 6-1, and Green of Normal 6-4, 6-4, for laurels in the third division.

The fourth division singles found Southern's representative, John Maguire, running into more trouble than any of his mates had encountered. After coasting to twin 6-1, 6-1 set defeats of Eastern's Rice, Maguire had to go all out to gain a decision over Haughey of Normal. John lost the first set 1-6, but rallied doggedly to take the final two and deciding sets 7-5, 10-8.

In the first division doubles, Church and Pulley wrote like scores on the records 6-0, 6-3 in disposing first of Green and Harrison of Normal and Berry and Dillon of Western for the championship.

Harry Meng and Roy Leitch met some difficulty in winning over Calkins and Haughey of Normal 7-5, 3-6, 6-0, but took the second division title match in straight sets 6-1, 7-5, from Zimmerman and Zaehring of Western.

Besides returning to the campus well fortified with victor's medals, the team won the 1946 I.I.A.C. Tennis Championship trophy for the school. A trophy was to have been presented at the conclusion of the tourney to the winning team, but it was decided that said trophy wasn't large enough. A more elaborate award will soon be forthcoming.

The tournament was originally scheduled to be completed Saturday morning, but rain postponed the start of the doubles play until Saturday afternoon. Coach Freeburg said that the Friday sessions were well-attended.

Five Men Receive Letters
Coach Freeburg announced that five letters were awarded for the 1946 tennis season. They went to Bruce Church, Joe Pulley, Roy Leitch, John Maguire, and Harry Meng.

In a meeting Tuesday morning, the team elected Bruce Church as its captain for the concluded season. Bruce is the only man Coach Freeburg will lose via graduation. An election will be held in the near future to select the member for captaincy of the 1947 team.
