Students Go To Polls Tuesday On 3 Issues

Several important issues will be determined May 15 as Southern's student body goes to the voting polls.

A referendum on the Student Union Building issue, methods of equal representation, election of sophomore, junior, and senior council members, and of Homecoming Chairman are the issues to be voted on next Tuesday.

Voting booths will be situated in front of Old Main, in the Student Union, in front of the library, and at W. T. L. and will be open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Activity tickets must be presented in front of Old Main, in the Student Union, in front of the library, and at W. T. L. and will be open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Students will receive three sheets of paper when they vote, each explaining the methods of equal representation, a ballot containing the referendums on the Student Union Building issue, on proposed methods for election of student council members, election of Homecoming Chairman, and on issues for election of sophomore, junior, and senior council members.

Students running for student council positions were required to petition.

Petitions were received from the following students running for:

Southern Acres Open House Draws Near 300

An estimated 250 to 300 people visited the Southern Acres Men's Residence Halls during the open house and picnic last Sunday afternoon.

Many of those attending were parents and relatives of men students living in the residence halls from all parts of the state. More than 100 people attended the outdoor picnic after the open house.

Hot dogs for the group were prepared on the new barbecue pit which was completed by the men in the residence hall kitchen.

Bobbie Jones, named Miss Southern last Saturday and who was sponsored by Southern Acres, also attended open house during the afternoon.

Many favorable comments were received on the decorations in the halls. The overall theme was the "four sections of the United States north, south, east and west."

Plaque Goes To Sky Top

Skytop Hall won the plaque for the original decorations with the decorations in the hall. One of the props for the show was a 1926 Chevrolet belonging to Roger Kuchta, a resident of Skytop, who drove it down from Edwardsville for the open house.

The Chain Gang had as their theme the Orleans, representing the south. It was decorated for Mardi Gras and featured items from the bar called "The Last Step to Hell" to a room fixed up as an apogee house which showed slides of this year's Mardi Gras.

Stacy Ten had their lounge decorated to represent a Green which Village Bar complete with a village bohemian. Chief bartender was Gerald "Pogo" Lyons who served root beer drinks from regatta beer bottles.

Abel El Mahal had the "west" as their theme and decorated the outside of their floor rather than the interior. Charles Perrine painted a mural running half the length of the balcony of the second floor and represented a western street scene. Their decorations featured a continuous poker game and two live Indians. The Indians in authentic garb were Gerald Hess and Jim Streichman.

Chief at the picnic after the open house was Bob Dimmitt. Dick Lutz was in charge of general arrangements for the open house.

No Shoes Allowed At Free Dance Saturday

Step on your partner's toes at the free residence hall's dance tomorrow at 9 p. m. in the Woody Hall co-recreation room.

Wear shoes, socks or come in your bare feet, but all shoes will be checked at the door.

This will be a record dance.

Hawley To Give Spring Leadership Camp Talk

A bonfire, a kickoff speech by Kent Hawley, assistant dean of men, and a record dance in the Student Union will feature the opening of the 1956 Spring Leadership Camp tonight starting at 7 p. m.

More than 150 students from all recognized camp organizations are scheduled to attend.

The activities will take place west of Dowdell Barracks and east of the railroad tracks. After Hawley's speech, an introduction of group discussion leaders will take place, followed by the first discussion group meetings. At 10 p. m. the dance will be held in the Union.

Tomorrow morning, the activities will move off the campus to Little Grass Lake, where the sessions will be held all day Saturday. Buses will leave the Student Union at 7:30 and 8 a. m. These attending are asked not to take their cars, but ride the buses.

At 8:30 an all-camp meeting will start off the day. Discussion groups will meet at 9 a. m. and lunch will be served at 12. At 1:30 the discussion groups will resume, and at 2:30 a coke break is planned. At 3 p. m. a summary of groups will be held at another all-camp meeting. Recreation in the form of horseshoes, volleyball, and other games will be held.

VTI Department Plans Artists, Model Show

How would you like to see a high fashion style show and a colorama review?

You don't have to go to Hollywood or New York to see it. You have to do it attend the Vocational Technical Institute Cosmetology "Artists and Models" style show in the Library Auditorium May 18 at 7:30 p. m.

The VTI department of cosmetology will be participating in the show. The clothes to be modeled are being contributed by various clothing stores in Carbondale.

"This is the first time for anything like this," said Eleanor K. Mathis of the Department of Technical and Adult Education, "and we hope to make it an annual affair."

There will be door prizes consisting of certificates for the services of the Department of Cosmetology.

Southern Hosts Nutritionists At Statewide Conference

The annual statewide conference of Illinois Nutrition Experts will be on Southern's campus this fall.

Mrs. Mary Louise Barnes, assistant professor in home economics, traveled to Champaign Friday April 27 to attend the annual meeting of the Illinois State Nutrition Committee. As a member of this group, Mrs. Barnes was elected chairman of the Fall conference and treasurer of the committee which met to plan the October conference.

Incoming Students Will Take Hearing Tests

Screening tests in hearing will be given to all new incoming students this fall. Approximately 2,000 students will receive such a test for the first time.

Each test will be followed up for students who had difficulty passing the test. The tests will be given in the speech and hearing clinic.

Our Mistake

An article in Friday's Egyptian erroneously stated that the Acaela Fraternity was a Masonic fraternity.

Actually, Acaela is not a Masonic fraternity, nor does it have any discriminatory clause of any type in its constitution.

Besides table-crouching speeches by Miss Betty Greenleaf, John Tscherner and Jerry Lyons, "The Kappalers," "Primo" Clay and the Dave Richardson Quartet will provide a little entertainment.

The purpose of the shindig is to arouse a little enthusiasm in regards to the new student union referendum vote Tuesday.

Even if you don't agree, it could be fun. Bring your blanket and have a ball.

Another special feature of tomorrow night's entertainment by starlight will be the authentic Indian dances presented by the Tsun-Ga-Ni Indian Society and Auxiliary. These dances, directed by Marion Harris of Carbondale, will be presented by 32 boys and girls squads from Southern Illinois although this colorful group has appeared at the festival before, this year's performance is expected to produce something entirely new and different.

The festival will feature the massed elementary chorus and a massed high school chorus. A select 200-piece high school band will contain the best musicians from 28 area high schools, while the 200-piece elementary band will star musicians from 26 Southern Illinois elementary bands.

The honored directors for the 1956 musical extravaganza will be given recognition at the performance. Melvin Siner, director of music at Da Quoin since 1949, will direct the massed high school band. Siner, a SIU graduate and received his Masters degree from the University of Iowa.

Festus W. Paul, director of both the Sparta Grade School and the Sparta High School Bands, will act as this year's massed elementary band conductor. For the past three years, Paul's high school band has won the "Sweepstakes Trophy" in District Music Contest competition.

The massed director of the massed high school chorus will be Belle Longhorns, vocal SIU instructor in the Junior High School and Frankfort Community High School in West Frankfort. This will mark the second appearance for her at the music festival, since she was guest director of the junior division of the Southern Illinois grade school massed chorus in 1946.

A high point in the evening's festivities will be the massed band twirling exhibition, which will be organized and directed by Nick Michaluk, former drum major with the Purdue and Indiana University bands. Michaluk, who presently calls Ellenville, Ind. his home, teaches band twirling full-time and judges contests throughout the United States.

The massed elementary chorus will be led by Irene Watson, vocal supervisor of Marion Community U. in these selected bands and choruses will bring rehearsals tomorrow morning, and work most of the day in preparation for tomorrow night's performance.

The winning vocalist from the Southern Illinois Music Contest, which will be held on the SIU campus tomorrow morning, will sing a special number at the music festival. The contest, which is open to all individual amateurs who meet the age requirements, is not a part of the music festival. The winners of this contest will represent Southern Illinois in the Chicago and Indiana Music Festivals held in Chicago and Indianapolis August 18. This spectacle, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., usually has a cast of more than 8,000 and an audience of approximately 72,000.

In the past, signs of bad weather have often led to postponing the festival. Only once, however, in the past seven years, has the affair been cut short by winds or rain. In case that rain falls tomorrow night, Miss Haskins will present a special concert in Skytop Auditorium. The remainder of the festival will be postponed until the following Saturday, May 19.

Admission to tomorrow night's "Music Under The Stars" will be free to all SIU students showing their student activity cards. Tickets will be for sale at the gate, since there is no advance sale for the festival this year.

Concession stands, tended by the SIU music society, Mu Phi Epsilon, will be set up tomorrow to accommodate the droves of high schoolers expected on campus.

A festive dinner will be held in the Woody Hall dining room tomorrow evening at 5 p. m. for the honored directors and musicians of the guest soloists, and directors of participating organizations.

The fireworks, which will once again climax "Music Under The Stars," will be set off at the South end of the football field after the other stadium lights have been turned off. This impressive display, which is expected to unleash anything from "Pinwheels" to "Ve-suvius Fountains" will last approximately ten minutes—a fitting finale to Southern Illinois' tribute to music.

"Real live Indians" appeared at the Southern Acres Open House. Back row: Young and Judy Schneider are seen admiring the costumes of two of the Indians, Jim Sterling and Gerald Hess.

Student Union Again!

Student Union! Student Union! About this time it is running out your ears. But still it can't be stressed enough how important this one move can be to the University. The Student Union is the hub of University life, and from the looks of things the present one located in barracks, isn't quite adequate.

New Browsing Room Planned

A collection of current best-sellers and non-technical books chosen by suggestions of faculty, students, and library staff members will be kept in the new library browsing room. The room, a glass-in area across from the circulation desk near the entrance, is expected to be finished by summer but only a small number of books can be purchased until the $956-57 book budget has been received.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

MAIL BOX

To Whom It May Concern: On May 4, I requested an answer to two questions. I further requested that the answers to these questions be printed in The Egyptian. Instead the answers were mailed to me on a postcard without signature. Gentlemen, your lack of tact is exceeded only by your lack of courtesy! Inasmuch as I signed my name, I expected to see collective. So that all students might know there are some of us who disagree with your method of securing this new Student Union, I will repeat my questions and your answers.

Q. 1. Why should we be assessed for something that will benefit future students?
Ans. "Why should anyone contribute something which does not directly benefit you, personally? The question sounds rather self-centered. . . . Why should we have tennis courts if we do not play tennis? Why should they make chocolate ice cream when you like only vanilla? Why should there be a Boys Town when all your children are girls? Maybe we should not think of others but fortunately most people do."
Yes, the question is self-centered—I might add, deliberately self-centered. Your answer to the question appears to have evaded the issue. You're speaking in absurd generalizations. In all of these matters you mention, I have a choice in the matter. I am not forced to buy chocolate ice cream when I prefer vanilla. I am not forced to play tennis when I prefer baseball. I do not have to send my girls to a Boys Town. On the other hand, if the Student Union proposal is approved by the students, I will be forced, against my will, to pay for something I will not receive. In fact, those students who are not sophomores, juniors and seniors will not have benefit of the new Student Union. Perhaps there are a few who can afford this type of luxury—that is, pay out and receiving nothing other than nothing but satisfaction. I venture to say that the majority of us cannot afford these additional assessments.

Q. 2. What benefit will we who graduate before completion receive?
Ans. "Maybe none if you do not return to Southern. Maybe some satisfaction from having had a part in adding to the lives of others. Who knows what individuals receive benefit from?"
I consider your answer to this question more logical than the answer to question one. I further agree that the majority do get some satisfaction from adding to the lives of others. But these are intangibles. I will rephrase my questions: What tangible benefit will we receive? What percentage of the students return to Southern? How long do they stay?

I believe that a new Student Union is both desirable and necessary. However, I think the method of paying for it should be amended. I believe those students entering as freshmen in the fall of 1956 should be assessed the additional fee of five dollars per quarter and not those of us who will be leaving before September of 1955.
I believe the answer to this letter should be in a more courteous vein and that one or more signatories should accompany the reply in an open letter published in this paper.

Brogan Links United States, England As Political Systems

England and the United States were compared as two linked but different political systems in a lecture given by Dr. D. W. Brogan at the Library Auditorium Monday night. The lecture was the third in a series sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science fraternity. Brogan, a British political scientist and historian, is teaching at the University of Illinois this year as an exchange professor. He is professor of political science at Cambridge University in England.

"I don't pretend to be a political prophet," said Brogan at the beginning of his speech. "I get ten dollars on Dewey at midnight on election eve in 1948."
"The United States and England have the same political practices of speech-making, meetings, and appeal to groups," said Brogan. "They also have the use of media, such as radio and television, and newspaper advertising."
Brother Lists
Brogan listed several differences in England and American political parties.

"The English political party is more integrated," he said. "It is more difficult for a party member to remain in opposition to party leaders in the American system; the party leaders are unable to control party members."
"The British campaign lasts only three weeks whereas the American campaign lasts almost a year and the candidates official duties suffer. The short campaign in England forces the American candidates to travel around the country and appeal to people on local issues."
Brogan said that he believes the American electoral system leads to politicians appealing on local issues and to blocks of voters.

Old Southern Illinois Papers Now In Library
"Newspapers are a rich source of information," said Ferris S. Randall, assistant director of the Library. He was speaking of the bound volumes of Southern Illinois daily papers now being kept on the top floor of the library. These bound issues of 50 papers from the southern part of Illinois were being kept on file by the University of Illinois until recently when they were brought here. Because of the space needed to store the papers, officials at the University of Illinois decided to store papers from the northern part of the state, according to Randall, and to let SIU store the one from near here.
The publishers of the paper that are still being published have been requested to send the daily issues directly to the SIU Library. Some of the bound volumes date back to the 1800's while many date from World War I.
"We think there will be a lot more of these papers when the departments offer more graduate work," Ferris said.
Any student wishing to use these bound volumes may do so by asking for them in the reading room. Some papers publish each issue on microfilm which is much easier to store and can be kept near the reading machines, according to Randall.
After reading of the transfer of these papers to SIU, Thomas A. Bliss, publisher of the Montgomery News of Hillsboro, Illinois, offered to deposit in the library a fairly complete file of the back issues of that paper. In addition, a bound volume of the year's issues would be sent at the end of each year.
The Montgomery News has been published by the same family since 1892.
George Bliss, SIU junior majoring in journalism, is a son of Thomas A. Bliss.

Be A Teacher Meeting Tomorrow

Bright horizons in teaching will be pointed out to some 800 Southern Illinois high school students who are prospective teachers at a seminar sponsored by "Be A Teacher" meeting here tomorrow.
Speakers at the two-hour rally, set for 10 a. m. at Shryock Auditorium, will include J. Lester Burdett of Mt. Vernon, president of the National Education Association and Leon Whitney of Anna, lieutenant governor of Kansas. Dr. J. E. Grinnell, dean of the college of education; a dozen of Southern's students who will tell why they chose the teaching profession; and Royce T. Bryant, director of the University Placement Service.
In the afternoon there will be tours of the SIU campus.

Inquiring Reporter Asks 'What Do You Want In Student Union?'

By Wayne Ragusa
"What would you like to see most in the new Student Union?" and "What do you think about the student referendum, May 15, which will increase the Student Union fee?" were questions this reporter asked SIU students last week.

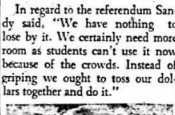

This is what he found.

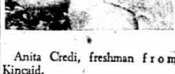

Garrison Newsom, freshman from Shawneetown.
"I would like to see more recreational areas, a ballroom, a place to lounge, and a place to catch '40 winks.' I sure hope that it will be air-conditioned. A student swimming pool could also be helpful. All of this would take time, but with better facilities the present enrollment trends would take care of the cost."

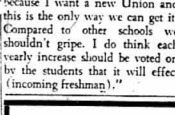

Sandy Stroup, junior from Du Quoin.
"I would like to see a lot of rooms for organizations, as the Union should be the place for them. As long as we are going to have a big Union let's have a formal ballroom and also an informal one."
"Maybe if the new Union had some pinball machines maybe we could get the guys out of 'H.D.'s." Maybe a penny arcade would do the job."

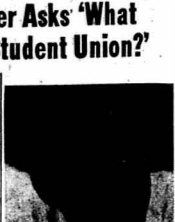

Joann Norius, freshman from East St. Louis.
"I would like to see a place where you can relax by dancing during the day. A formal ballroom would be nice. Why, a friend of mine at Iowa said that they have two ballrooms where two bands can play for a dance and thus the students can have a choice."
Joan said in regard to the referendum, "I'm for it if the building will come about in the near future. It would be well-worth it even if it was not completed before I'm out of here."

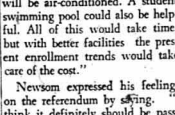

Anita Credi, freshman from Kincaid.
"This might seem funny, but I would like to see in the new Union a barber shop. It would be used by the boys with shaggy hair and tight schedules. It would also be nice to have a place where notions could be purchased."
"I'm in favor of the referendum because I want a new Union and this is the only way we can get it. Compared to other schools we shouldn't gripe. I do think each yearly increase should be voted on by the students that it will effect (incoming freshman)."

"I would like to see the new Union much larger than the present one so it wouldn't be so crowded. I like to see another area like the oasis in the present one but considerably larger. It would be nice to see more recreational skill games. More reading facilities would also be nice."

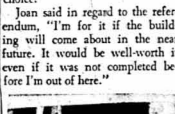

Kathy Hooker, senior from Kankakee.
"It should have more room! A place to play cards, study rooms, a large dining room and meeting places, should be included. A currency exchange would be nice and handy and other Unions have them why not us?"
Kathy said when questioned on the referendum, "I think it's a good idea. It might hurt now, but later on, no. Remember the first thing a person sees when he comes to most campuses is the Student Union."

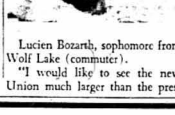

R. K. Dillinger, sophomore from Carbondale.
"It needs to have increased office space for things like Spring Festival and Homecoming, a good ballroom large enough to accommodate larger crowds, decent lounging areas for study. Additional meeting rooms would also be very handy."
Dillinger stated regarding the fee increase, "though I'll probably be out of school I don't mind paying for it. A lot of people will gripe about paying so much. Those with Normal School Scholarships will try to vote it down, probably, but shouldn't."

Kankakee.
"The new Union should have a good place to dance, and better soda fountain facilities, along with larger recreation space. There should be more equipment and it should be more diversified. Above all there should be more seating capacity. All in all there is a lot to be desired."
Cryier commented in reference to the raising of fees, "Without a raise it would be impossible to ever see a new Union. It's worth the effort just to get a new one."

Tracksters Gain Revenge; Defeat Cape, 79 to 51

By Clarence Lucken
 Julian Dalnacke and Dick Blythe scored 10 points each, and their Saluki teammates did the rest Tuesday night to give SIU a 79-51 2-3 win over Southeast Missouri in Southern's final dual meet of the cinder season.
 The victory dethroned the hosts for the first time out of seven starts this year averaged a one-point loss to the Indians last week.
 Dalnacke gathered victories in the low timbers and broad jump, while Blythe swept first in the 120-yard high hurdles, second in the 220-yard low hurdles, and tied for second in the high jump. Southern was three points behind in the half way mark of the meet, but stretched it to hold a 27-13 margin at the end.
 A crowd of nearly 1000 watched tensely as Miller of Cape Girardeau increased his lead over SIU's Bernard Kabas and spirited out of a new meet record of 9:56.2 in the two mile run.
 Dick Gregory of SIU, who holds the 880-yard run record at 1:54.1, put up a desperate fight to win the mile. Gregory came from behind to overtake his rival but lost out in the last two yards.
 In the 880-yard run, Howard Branch of Southern opened a Capstar distance man. Then Allright moved into contention with about 175 yards to go and went on to win with a time of 2:00.5. Branch finished second while Gregory placed third.
 Capt. Sam DeNeal, SIU's conference champion in the 440-yard dash, won the 440-yard dash easily on a time of 50.2, only 0.41 away from his best effort this year. DeNeal also anchored the winning mile relay which covered the distance in 3:25.4.

 The April 6 edition of the Belleville News-Democrat carried a story about former Saluki basketballer Gib Kurtz. Kurtz, a private in Uncle Sam's Army, played on a basketball team at Fort Riley, Kan., basketball team which won the title there.
 He played forward for the Infantry Division's 16th Regiment, and was one of the stars during the 1954-55 season and had a 14-4 record. He is the top Salukis in that department.
 The SIU intramural athletic program encompasses some 700 men students at the present, and will include more when track and swimming starts. Football and volleyball are highlighting the program, with 35 softball and 21 volleyball teams in action.

SIU Beats Billikens 9-3, For 7th In Row

Five Saluki pitchers limited the St. Louis University Billikens to seven hits and three runs to give Southern its seventh straight win Wednesday, 9:35.
 Workhorse Ronnie Ayers toiled three innings, Gordon Lambert worked two, Howard Driggers pitched one, Wayne Williams hurled two, and Don Gibbs pitched one inning to finish up for the Salukis. The Billikens scored one run off Driggers in the sixth, and two more off Williams in the eighth, but they were both unearned.
 Bay Tabacchi was the leading hitter for Southern, with three for six, including a game-opening double.
 Big inning for the Salukis was the fourth, when the team batted around, and scored five runs on four hits, two walks and an error. The victory brought the Salukis' season record to 9-5, with an important doubleheader with Central Michigan coming up tomorrow. If Southern can sweep both
