WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUMPKIN'

When the frost is on the punkin and
the fodder's in the shock,
And you hear the kyouck and gobble
of the struttin' turkey-cock,
And the clackin' of the guineys,
and the cluckin' of the hens,
And the rooster's hallylooyer as he tiptoes on the fence;
O, it's then's the times a feller is a-feelin' at his best,
With the risin' sun to greet him from a night of peaceful rest,
As he leaves the house, bare-headed,
and goes out to feed the stock,
When the frost is on the punkin and
the fodder's in the shock.

They's something kindo' harty-like about the atmosphere
When the heat of summer's over and the coolin' fall is here—
Of course we miss the flowers, and the blossoms on the trees,
And the mumble of the hummin'- birds and buzzin' of the bees;
But the air's so apetzin' and the landscape through the haze
Of a crisp and sunny morning of the airly autumn days
Is a pictur' that no painter has the colorin' to mock—
When the frost is on the punkin and
the fodder's in the shock.

The husky, rusty russel of the tos-
sels of the corn,
And the raspin' of the tangled leaves,
as golden as the morn;
The stubble in the furrows—kindo'
lonesome-like, but still
A-preachin' sermons to us of the barns they grewed to fill;
The strawstack in the mecker, and the reaper in the shed;
The horses in their stalls below—the clover overhead!—
O, it sets my hart a clickin' like the tickin' of a clock,
When the frost is on the punkin and
the fodder's in the shock!

PROGRAM OF SOUTHERN ILLINOIS TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The first announcement of the program of the S. I. T. A. for the meeting to be held here March 27 and 28 was recently made by Prof. W. A. Furr in a chapel talk to the students. Professor Furr is chairman of the executive committee of the S. I. T. A. and he called upon the students of the Teachers' College to help give the widest publicity to the strong program which the committee has practically completed.

On the afternoon of March 27 the Association will be addressed by President E. B. Bryan, of Ohio University. President Bryan is one of the strongest and most popular educational speakers in the United States. On the evening program on the same day the United States Commissioner of Education, John T. Tigert, will be the speaker.

For the Friday program the speakers will be as follows:

President Robert J. Alley, of Butler College, Indianapolis.

Prof. M. V. O'Shea, of Wisconsin University.

Prof. Clifford Woody, of Michigan University.

The principal attraction of the program will be the world famed tropical expert Cal Akeley, who will speak Friday evening, March 28.

A more extended announcement of the program will appear in these columns at a later date.

THE ACACIA CLUB

Some two years ago, the Master Masons among the students and the faculty, organized the Acacia club. This organization is a sort of semi-permanent affair. The faculty members are more or less permanent, but the student membership changes slightly from term to term and more completely from year to year.

The student officials of the club for the past year are not in school the present term and so no meeting has yet been held but as the result of a "wild meeting" held last week, a regular meeting is being arranged for at Mr. Warren's home, just at the southwest corner of the Campus, Tuesday night, December 11, 1923. At this meeting all Master Masons among students and faculty, are cordially invited. The meeting will take up some business matters but will be largely one of good-fellowship. All Master Masons are asked to hand their names to Mr. Lantz or to Mr. Warren.

Fighting Maroons Slaughter McKendree, 20-7

Sensational Gains by Blair and Touchdowns by Johnson, Left Half, for Maroons Features Annual Struggle On Slippery Field.

From the time that Gould, of Yale, opened the game for the Maroons' windup of the 1923 season until Professor Miles shot the cannon, ending the game, the Southern Illinois Teachers' College displayed a brand of football on Friday at Normal Field that will long be remembered by everyone there. Coming from behind in the opening chapter of the struggle, the Maroons dazzled by a varied attack of offensive football, opened an aerial attack in the second half which crushed her old respected rivals, McKendree to the tune of 20-7.

The game marked the annual struggle between Carbondale and McKendree College. The Maroons with more determination than they have had this year could not be stopped and after the boys had displayed their ware before the Purple bunch, they were contented to sit back and watch the old rooters parade Carbondale streets and shout the victory, a well-earned one.

The Maroons at the opening of the game could not solve the varied whirlwind attacks of the McKendree crew and not until the second quarter had progressed did they come through for consistent playing. The first quarter was marked with rather good football on McKendree's part. The varied attack concentrated in numerous shift plays and end runs kept the boys from the other side quite puzzled but it was not until well into the second half did the old fighting spirit come to its height and the result was three touchdowns by Johnson who was helped in a beautiful way by Blair, the sterling right half, Fishel, Lamar and McAlrath also starred. Every man played to his limit of endurance as that was evidenced by the smiling faces of all the members of the team.

Among the sensational plays of the game were the two long runs by Blair of 30 and 38 yards, respectively. Blair blocked McKendree's attempts on different occasions when an aerial attack was gaining ground for the Purple. Lee, the diminutive quarterback, played to great advantage in the latter quarter when his headwork paved the way for the final score.

Pyatt and Willoughby played like demons while they were in the conflict. They were withdrawn when old injuries were rehurt. "Red" was removed early in the game but he played exceptionally well while he was there. Dunn, center, Patterson, quarter, Rogers, guard and Co. guard played their usual good game and did all that was expected of them.

After the game a get together meeting or rally was held in the downtown section and Carbondale was aware that 'We had won.' This closes our season of football and we know that every man will be missed when he leaves. It will take some real men next year to fill their shoes.

First Quarter

The Maroons choose the north goal and "Red" McLaughlin punted to McKendree's 30 yard line. McKendree makes 5 yards on line bucks. McKendree punts and Red punts to McKendree's 40 yard line. Willis, an Isom gain through end runs to 50 yard line. Carter makes 1 yard on first down, Isom right end run on next down and is penalized 5 yards. McKendree fumbles and loses five yards. Newcomb makes three yards through end run. "Red" makes a good tackle and saves run from being a touchdown. Maroons time out. McKendree kicks to Maroons' five yard line. Maroons kick to McKendree 40 yard line and return to 25 yard line. Line bucks by Newcomb on two plays net 5 yards. Willis tries center rush and makes no gain. McKendree tries a long running pass and is intercepted by Blair. Ball on Carbondale's 12 yard line. Lamar comes through with a right end run. Maroons 35 yard line. McAlrath loses 1 yard on end run. Shift play with Blair in possession of ball net 4 yards. "Red" kicks outside to McKendree's 40-yard line. Goode makes end run of 20 yards. Maroons time out. Pyatt substituted for Willoughby. McKendree tries left end run and Lee twists back and cuts through Maroons' left end for their only touchdown. Lee kicks goal. Score, McKendree 7, Carbondale 0. McKendree kicks off to Maroons' 25-yard

THE RADIATOR

We shall endeavor in the Radiator Column to Radiate the wit and wisdom of our faculty members and the student body in general. It is hoped that THE EGYPTIAN readers will experience real fruition in all that finds a place here.

The Radiator this week has a few poems written by some of the students. The names are withheld upon request.

We will run from time to time a few of the best poems. Hand your selection to the Feature Editor or drop in the box marked "Radiator."

LITTLE ONE

All the jewels of my heart—
Every gleaming pearl and tear,
My life's gem, forget-me-nots,
I bequeath to Little One.

The world's volcano of delight
Exploding sky rockets of joy,
Blazing forth from flaming craters,
Then—I was loved by Little One.

From the ashes of disaster
Covering the shadowed years,
The most priceless excavation
Is your memory—Little One.

WHEN I AM DEAD

When I am dead, do not deny
To my frail form a place to lie;
Mark not the place with marble rare,
No urn, for curious folk to stare
Upon, as they pass idly by.

But let my headstone be the sky;
I lived beneath it; let me die
Beneath it, and I shall not care,
When I am dead.

Let not those who loved me sigh,
Nor think of other than that I Lived for the world. I'll say no prayer

Pomp, nor show, nor blossom fairy
When I am dead.

A Rash Promise

The young medico coughed rather gravely.

"I am sorry to tell you," he said slowly, looking down at the very sick man in the bed, "that there is no doubt you are suffering from scarlet fever, and, as you know, it is extremely contagious."

The patient slowly turned his head upon the pillow and looked toward his wife.

"Dearie," he said in a faint but distinct voice, "if any of my creditors call, you can tell them that at last I am in a position to give them something."

Helen Horstfield: "Do I look like I'm in love?"

Myron Mitchell: "Does a flock of clouds suggest rain?"

A FRESHMAN TO S. I. N. U.

We've come to thee, O Alma Mater,
Hungering for the bread of knowledge,

Give us from thy plenteous storehouse
That we may be filled in thee.

We've come to thee, O school of our choice,

That our characters may be
Strengthened by thy code of honor,
Broadened by our love for thee.

There are things books cannot teach us,

These we ask that thou wilt give;
Help us ever to look forward,
To press on and laugh and live.

In return we pledge allegiance,
Open minds and beckening hearts,
Faithful, fervent, fond endeavor
To grasp all thy soul imparts.

This we wish, O Alma Mater,
This thy youngest children's cry,
Fill us from thy plenteous storehouse
Fill us lest we starve and die.

A DREAM

A butterfly but touched my lips,
(I dreamed it was your kiss)
From out the past fond memory trips;

A butterfly but touched my lips,
The scale it seems so lightly tips
From misery to bliss.

A butterfly but touched my lips
(I dreamed it was your kiss).

Who Is Who

The occupants of the parlor car of the Limited were startled by the abrupt entrance of two masked bandits.

"Throw up yer hands," commanded the bigger of the two. "We're gonna rob all the gents and kiss all the gals."

"No, partner," remonstrated the smaller one gallantly. "We'll rob the gents but we'll leave the ladies alone."

"Mind your own business, young fellow," snapped a female passenger of uncertain age. "The big man is robbing this train."

Prof. Lentz: "What do you think you'll be when you get out of college?"

Ransom S: "An old man."

Dean Wham was absent from his classes on last Friday while he lectured at the Vandalia Teachers' Institute.

Amy Tripp is ill at her home with the typhoid fever.

We realized how many Murphysboro people there was attending the S. I. N. U. when we saw the vacant places in the classes on Monday.

Westley Asberry, Everett Benton, Kenneth Pyatt, and Mary Youngblood attended the M. T. H. S. home-coming.

Fred Johnson ex-'24, was here during last week. "Pete" is attending the University of Chicago.

Pres. H. W. Shryock lectured at Decatur last week-end.

Letting George Do It

The fence in front of the farmhouse was badly damaged, and it seems to sensitive Mrs. Dairybutter, the farmer's wife, that all the neighbors were remarking about it as they passed by.

"When are you going to get the fence in the front mended?" she asked her husband.

"Oh, next week!" was the reply "I'm just waiting for George to come home from college."

"But whatever will the boy know about mending a fence?" she asked in astonishment.

"Well," replied the farmer, "he ought to know a lot. He wrote and told me the other day that he had been taking a lot of fencing lessons this term."

CAN YOU ANSWER THESE?

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee

Or a key for a lock of his hair?

Or can his eyes be an academy
Because there are pupils there?

In the crown of his head what gems are found?

Who travels the bridge of his nose?
Does the calf of his leg become hungry at times

And devour the corn on his toes?
Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?

Where's the shave from the palm of his hand?

How does he sharpen his shoulder blades?

I'll be hanged if I understand.

Not So Dumb

"I think that children are not as observing as they should be," said the inspector to the teacher.

"I hadn't noticed it," replied the teacher.

"Well, I'll prove it to you," and turning to the class the inspector said:

"Some one give me a number."

"Thirty-seven," said a little boy eagerly.

The inspector wrote 73 on the board and nothing was said.

Will some one else give a number?"

"Fifty-two," said another lad.

The inspector wrote down 25 on the board, and smiled at the teacher.

He called for another number, and young Jack called out:

"Seventy-seven; now see if you can change that."

THANKSGIVING

To those of you who have had any occasion for reading the Bible you will know that therein can be found the stories of the earliest days set apart for thanksgiving. Since that time the different countries of the earth have called for such days for various reasons. The Greeks gave thanks to Demetes and the Romans to Ceres for these were their Goddesses of agriculture. In Scotland they have what is known as Kern and in England, Harvest Home.

The occasions for thanksgiving heretofore mentioned were all called because of good harvest but there were other reasons for a day of thanksgiving to be called. England had some such day as this when the Spanish Armada was defeated in 1588. Leyden, Holland, celebrated with thanksgiving the day in 1574 when that city was released from the yoke of Spain.

These occasions were common in Holland during the ten years the pilgrims were there and they no doubt gathered that custom while there. The first thanksgiving ever held in North America was by the Frobisher Expedition, May 27, 1578. This company landed on the coast of Newfoundland and a minister, whose name was Wolfall, preached a thanksgiving sermon. The first such meeting held in the United States was by the Popham Company in 1607, they landed on the coast of Maine for a period of three days, one of which was Sunday and on that day they had a thanksgiving service.

Thanksgiving Day as we know it was called by Governor Bradford of the Plymouth Colony when they had reaped a bountiful harvest after that first dreadful winter. The Governor sent four men in search for provisions for a feast and among the various stocks of food brought in, cranberries and turkeys held first place. It must be that this is the source of our present desire for these articles of food on this particular day.

The different Colonies called for such days when it seemed appropriate for any single colony but there was no definite date. Virginia, Rhode Island and New York took less part in such affairs than any of the other colonies. Under the rule of the Continental Congress nine days of thanksgiving had been kept.

When Washington became president he issued the first national thanksgiving proclamation for November 26, 1789. One president after another followed that precedent but not until the year of 1864 was one specific day set apart to be observed by all the states as a day of national thanksgiving, the day being the last Thursday of November of every year. It may interest you to know that this was made possible by a woman, Sarah Josepha Hale.

It is not the intention of the writer to enumerate the things for which you should be thankful, but merely remind you that in the bustle and bustle of life it is very fitting that we pause for a time and be thankful.

EDITOR'S NOTE

In the editorial of the first issue of the Egyptian a promise was made that one organization would receive as much publicity through the columns of their paper as any other. It is a fact that news articles pertaining to the Zetetic Society have been handed in and have never appeared as printed matter. It has also been asserted that the reason for its failure to appear is because the editor belongs to the Socratic Society. This is an erroneous idea and it is believed you'll find it to be so if you care to make investigation. The editor regrets as much as any one else that this has happened and he will strive to prevent its repetition.

THE LOST IS FOUND

Oh! Socrates where art thou? Such was the plaintive cry that went up from the throats of the visiting alumni at the Socratic reunion held during home-coming.

We, the newer members of the society, know not how the bust of Socrates was torn down from his time honored place on the south wall of Socratic Hall.

Not caring to be considered unappreciative or ungrateful for treasures handed down from other years, we instituted a search for the missing patron saint. The result—he was found none the worse for his disappearance except dirty and grimy from lack of a much needed bath. He was lovingly carried into his old throne room in the arms of a fellow Socrat and placed upon a pedestal where all might view the returned philosopher.

A committee of three was appointed to administer the long deferred bath and again enthrone him where he will henceforth lend encouragement and inspiration to his devoted subjects.

Oh, for the life of a football man,
With arms of steel, and coat of tan,
His shoulders wide, and healthy chest,
Cause girl hearts to flutter, while the rest
Of us stand by with mournful air,
And wish we were in position there
Upon the field, But no, 'tis not our fate,
It is his day—no honors do we rate.

PRACTICE WORK FOR COUNTRY TEACHERS

New System Adopted by Southern Illinois Normal University

(Associated Press Dispatch clipped from Globe-Democrat.)

CARBONDALE, Ill., Nov. 21.—Actual work in the country school teaching has been adopted by the Southern Illinois State Normal University as a part of its curriculum for 100 of its student teachers, President H. W. Shryock said in connection with the announcement that the university has assumed the entire teaching responsibility at three country schools in Jackson and Williamson counties.

"Ours is the only state normal that gives such practical training," President Shryock said. "Every normal school maintains a practice school, but their children are drawn from homes in the city set apart for that grade. This training, teachers say, does not fit them for work in country schools where they are called upon to teach several subjects in several grades in a single room."

The territory served by the Southern Illinois State Normal University, President Shryock explained, includes twenty-two counties, and these counties employ collectively more than 2,000 rural teachers. "Recognizing the necessity for special training for these country schools," he said, "the management of the college several years ago opened a country practice school in a typical country school on the Murphyshoro-Carbondale road. Later another school was added. At present the Normal University has charge of three country schools—the Glade school, on the Carbondale-Herrin road, the Bidge School, on the Carbondale-Marion road, and the Stone School, just across the line in Williamson County, on the Carbondale-Marion road. The university employs a superintendent and an assistant. All the rest of the expense of maintaining these rural practice schools is borne by the districts.

"The directors have contracted with a local taxicab company to come to the campus for the school-teachers, transport them to the school, and at the end of a half day bring them back to the campus. Two student teachers are employed each half day in each of the schools and each must work four weeks in order to secure a practice credit. With the present arrangement, from 80 to 100 student teachers will within the present year get at least four weeks of practical experience in the management of a country school."

The completion of the four hard roads out of Carbondale, it is expected, will add four more rural schools, making a total of seven maintained by the institution, President Shryock said.

Have you heard the Zetetic male quartet or their girl's quartette? They can furnish some real music.

THE WAY WE FEEL ABOUT IT

It is more profitable to burn midnight oil than midnight gasoline. You can spend saved money, but you cannot save spent money. A dollar in the pocket is on the way out.

Both men and money are at their best when busy.

It is difficult to borrow an umbrella on a rainy day.

The man who is always hunting trouble generally becomes either scared or indignant when he finds it. And it doesn't run away from him.

Don't build your house upon sand, but don't try to build character without "sand."

If you are poor company for yourself, what makes you think you are good company for somebody else.

You probably are not misunderstood nearly so often as you misunderstand.

"The wages of sin" are paid in the depreciated currency of misery.

If you are sick you may become well, and if you are "broke" you may get hold of some money, but if you are both sick and broke you need a friend.

The only trouble with any city, or state, or nation, is the citizen.

Some men go wrong by worshipping the golden calf; others by worshipping the silk-clad one.

Don't be ashamed of emotion until it takes away your common sense.

Money matters so often upset things because more than anything else almost, except health, money matters.

"Do you know why old maids are always early for church?"

"No, why?"

"So they will be there when the hymns (hims) are given out."

News items (from lunchroom window):

"Don't make fun of our coffee; you may be old and weak yourself some day."

"James, did you put the cat out?"
"He hasn't been in all day."

"Then bring him in and put him out again; we've got to show this beast that we are his superiors."

"Where ja get yer haircut?"
"A ound the edges, Sir."

Flab: "In what course do you expect to graduate?"

Dab—"In the course of time."

WE THANK THEE, LORD!
(By John Oxenham)

For all thy ministries—
For morning mist and gently falling dew;
For summer rains, for winter ice and snow;
For whispering wind and purifying storm;
For the reft clouds that show the tender blue;
For the forked flash and long, tumultuous roll;
For mighty rains that wash the dim earth clean;
For the sweet promise of the seven-fold bow;
For the soft sunshine and the still, calm night;
For dimpled laughter of soft summer seas;
For latticed splendor of the sea-borne moon;
For gleaming sands and granite-fronted cliffs;
For flying spume and waves that whip the skies;
For rushing gale and for the great, glad calm;
For Might so mighty and for Love so true,
With equal mind.
We thank thee, Lord!

GIVING THANKS

For the hay and the corn and wheat that is reaped,
For the labor well done, and the barns that are heaped,
For the sun and the dew and the sweet honeycomb,
For the rose and the song, and the harvest brought home—
Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!

For the trade and the skill and the wealth in our land,
For the cunning and strength of the workingman's hand,
For the good that our artists and poets have taught,
For the friendship that hope and affection have brought—
Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!

For the homes that with purest affection are blest,
For the season of plenty and well deserved rest,
For our country extending from sea to sea,
The land that is known as the "Land of the Free"—
Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!

From whence comest thou?
Didst thou spring from some medieval age?
Pray answerest now.

Has in some mysterious way come forth

A THANKSGIVING OFFERING

(From a Grateful Heart)

By Clinton Scollard,
In the Outlook

Lord, we who set the furrow deep,
And sow the seeds of industry,
For the rich guerdon that we reap
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who make the anvils ring,
Who rive and weld laboriously,
For all the wage our labors bring
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who watch the spindles ply,
The shuttles flying dizzily,
For every boon our efforts buy
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who build with busy hand
Of wood or stone unceasingly,
For whatsoever our arts command
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who delve in under-earth
Far from Thy sunlight fair and free,
For whatsoever we win of worth
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who hoist the straining sail,
And plow the green waves of the sea,
For what our stormy tasks avail
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we the toilers of the brain,
Who clutch at dreams that cling or flee,
For whatsoever heights we gain
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we Thy children, small and great,
Beneath Thy care, where'er it be,
The while Thy grace we supplicate,
Give thanks to Thee!

HYMN OF THANKSGIVING

For Summer's bloom and Autumn's blight,
For blending wheat and blasted maize,
For health and sickness, Lord of light,
And Lord of darkness, hear our praise!

We trace to Thee our joys and woes—
To Thee, of causes still the cause—
We thank Thee that Thy hand bestows;
We bless Thee that Thy love with draws.

We bring no sorrows on Thy throne;
We come to Thee with no complaint;
In Providence Thy will is done,
And that is sacred to the saint,

Here, on this blest Thanksgiving Night,
We raise to Thee our grateful voice;
For what Thou doest, Lord, is right;
And thus believing, we rejoice.

POEMS WORTH REMEMBERING

Thank God for high, white holy Truth,
To feed the world instead of sham;
Lo, laden, patient, lowly Ruth!
Lo Abram's sacrificial ram!
Thank God for Abram's faith of old;
Thank God for man's faith in God's plan.
But thank God most—and manifold
For man's great growing faith in man.

We round up, up; round on and on,
As rounding eagles rise and rise!
The darkest hours ushers dawn,
And dawn is dashing up the skies!
Thank God for light, God's face is light;
The light of Truth, of faith in kind
The light of Love, the light of Right,
The blind no more may lead the blind!

Just Truth and Faith and steady Light,
And mad sensation is no more!
The fakir folds his tent of night
And finds his dim Platonian shore.
The people live, the people love,
The people are once more divine;
Put forth thy hand, receive the dove,
Descend and taste the corn and wine.

Thank God so much for laden Ruth,
For plenty poured from pole to pole;
But thank God most for Faith and Truth,
For meats that feed the famished soul:
For Light, for God's face far and near;
For love that knows not lust nor greed,
For faith that calmly smiles at fear.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB

The Agricultural Club and the Jackson County Poultry Association have consolidated for the annual corn and poultry show which will be held in the Normal gymnasium the week of December 11 to 14.

The Agricultural club extends an invitation to all students of the school, their friends or neighbors to collect samples of corn to enter in this show. Ten ears of corn for one sample. This show is open to any one who wishes to enter samples. Liberal prizes will be given for the five best samples.

Students who are going home for the Thanksgiving vacation are urged to select samples, or have their parents and neighbors prepare samples during that time.

More particulars will be given later

The News Editor is in receipt of a program of the Popo County Teachers' meeting to be held at Golconda, November 23 and 24. County Supt. Claude V. Parsons is in charge and Dean Wham will be the instructor.

GOSSIP

T. L. Bryant is riding around in a new runabout. The only sad part of it is that more of us have to walk home now.

There was great excitement in the Latin room the other day when one of the students found a horsefly buzzing around his desk. Perhaps it thought there was a pony somewhere near.

We've been wondering why Clarence Birkner held up his hand in Latin when the teacher asked who was the brightest one in the class.

Several of the S. I. N. U. students went to Charleston with the football team to the Charleston homecoming Saturday, November 17. Those in the crowd were Mary Youngblood, Ruby Lambert, Dorothy Mefert, Delbert Spain and Lynn McCormack.

The Zetetic Society is on the map and is having good programs even if it hasn't had much publicity thru the Egyptian through a combination of unfortunate circumstances. The Zetetic reunion was one of the best parts of home-coming for the present members and the Alumni. We have a record of most of the alumni who were there which is as follows: Myrtle Hallberg, Corem Waller, Charles Gabbert, Lodge Grant, Principal and Mrs. Jackson, Sue Ellen Lay, Herbert Jay, Carrie Yates, Bryon Kotter, Velma Deason, Raymond E. Etherton, R. E. Wiggin, Sarah Phillips, Emma Sturm, Mary Sturm, Kate Sturm, William Weber, Gladys L. Smith, Ina Brown, Lucille Wiley, Margaret Pyatt Vick, Esther Brockett, Mrs. H. L. Kessler, Elsie Schuetze, Claude E. Vick, Tina Goodwin, Susie Ogden, Frank E. Galbreath, Ethel McClintock, Virginia Fulenwider, Fern Bradley, McGuire, Lois Farley, Lily Maddex, Grace Hunt, Anna Payne, Mrs. Kessler was the oldest member there. She belonged to the society in 1883 and told us some interesting things about the Zetetic society.

Prof. E. G. Lentz, W. A. Furr, and Miss Lulu Clark were speakers at the Union County Teachers' Institute held at Anna, Friday, November 23.

If you want to see Virgil Tanner's match watch for the Zetetic play December 7.

Timed

"That certainly was a very fine sermon," said an ardent church-member who was an ardent admirer of the minister. "A fine sermon, and well-timed, too."

"Yes," answered his unadmiring neighbor. "It certainly was well-timed. Fully half of the congregation had their watches out."

Improvement in Eggs

A New Jersey hen laid a flat egg. Come to think of it, a flat egg, would be more comfortable to set on than a round one.

"MIDNIGHT CABARET"

WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUNKIN'

Then your apples all is gathered, and the ones a feller keeps is poured around the cellar-floor in red and yellor heaps;

And your cider-makin's over, and your wimmern-folks is through
With their mince and apple-butter,
and their souse and sausage,
to!

I don't know how to tell it—but of sich a thing could be
As the Angels wantin' beardin', and they'd call around on me—
I'd want to 'commodate 'em—all the whole-indurin' flock—

When the frost is on the punkin and the fadder's in the shock!

—James Whitcomb Riley.

WATCH OUR WINDOW DISPLAY

What you see in our windows reflects what you find in our store. Neither wilfully or by accident do we intend that our window display shall create the wrong impression or act as a false stimulant to whet
the appetite and then disappoint the intending purchaser after the feast is spread.

We mean that our windows shall always be a true index of values not only in prices but in the character of the merchandise displayed as well, and there shall always be plenty of it inside the store—we promise you that.

We want all students as our friends and you are cordially invited to inspect our merchandise without obligation to buy.
