Three-Year Nurses Training Program Will Begin at SIU Next Fall Term

Southern Illinois can look forward to having a good supply of trained nurses in the future as plans progress for a new nurses training program at Southern.

Health authorities of Illinois and officials of the university have drawn up a program which they believe will amply relieve the shortage of nurses in the area and at the same time provide close-to-home training for Southern Illinois women. A basic professional course of three years duration has been decided upon, and this will be used as a foundation for the development of a degree program at a later time.

MISS HESTER Johnson, university coordinator of nursing education, stated that nursing needs of Southern Illinois were only 46 per cent met. "Some parts have only one professional nurse to 50,000 people and the minimum should be one to every 2,500," she said.

The program is to begin operation on campus in September of 1951, and will be open to any woman between the ages of 17 and 35 who has completed high school. Under this, the applicant must have had two courses in sciences, four of English, and two mathematics. For admission to the nursing school, she must then pass a pre-nursing test.

The first 36 weeks of the student nurse's training will be spent on campus where she will take courses in physical, social, and biological sciences and in the nursing arts. During the next 48 weeks she will be assigned to a hospital in the area where she will learn medical, surgical and obstetrical nursing, diet kitchen, and operating room procedure.

FOR WORK in psychiatry, she will then be assigned to a state mental hospital for a 12 week period. Following this will be study in the care of children and tuberculosis nursing in another institution.

Room, board, and laundry will be available free of charge to the student nurse in residence at hospitals, but she will still be a tuition paying student of the university.

The last term in the student nurse's curriculum will be spent in residence on campus for learning rural public health nursing and rural hospital procedures. Upon completion of the three year course, the nurse will receive a diploma.

High School Seniors To Be Guests at SIU

Seniors from every high school in the southern 31 counties of Illinois are to be guests of Southern Illinois University on Nov. 18.

Clark Davis, dean of men and general chairman of the program, pointed out that the annual High School Guest Day at Southern provides high school seniors of this area an opportunity to visit the university campus, to see the developments which are taking place, and to participate in some campus activities.

Registration will begin at 8:00 a.m. and the program will get underway in Shryock auditorium at 10:00 a.m. Between 8 and 10 o'clock, the students will be conducted on tours of the campus.

Bids Too High On Proposed SIU Building Plans

Future of Southern's building program was uncertain after bids on five proposed buildings opened in Springfield last week were about 25 per cent over the appropriation.

A total of 18 contractors bid on all or part of the buildings. Contractors were allowed to do this in the hope that Southern might get a cheaper bid—one that would fit the money appropriated.

The bids were presented on the following buildings: life science building, an animal house, a library, and two additions to the training school (industrial education building and swimming pool).

Last month the SIU Board of Trustees turned down over $2,000,000 worth of bids because they exceeded the appropriations.

WHAT TO DO about Southern's building program was discussed at yesterday's Board of Trustees meeting.

Board President Dr. Leo J. Brown of Carbondale said one possibility was to build a portion of the program from the money available, then finishing the buildings with money from the next two-year appropriation from the state.

Brown said the board has 30 days in which to take action on the bids. We may see the Governor before we take any positive action," he added.

The five projects, which were bid on by 18 St. Louis and Chicago firms, will cost an estimated $4,000,000-$5,000,000.

Biggest building project is a new library to cost about $2,000,000.

Directories To Be Ready This Week

This year's campus directory will be completed this week, according to Warren Adams, director of the duplicating service. The directory will include names, school and hometown addresses, and phone numbers of students and faculty members.

Differing from last year's directory, the book will be printed from the IBM card listings. This will solve the problem of proof reading and will avoid errors.

THE IBM machine was first used in the process of preparing the directory. After the list of students was made by the machine, photographs were made of the lists. In this procedure, the actual size of the typing as done by the machine was reduced 50 per cent.

Although the duplicating service is printing the directories, the registrar's office and the IBM office has aided by checking and compiling lists. Last year's directory was put out by Mu Tau Pi, former journalism fraternity.

About 3,500 directories are being printed. Upon completion of the directories, they will be distributed to students and faculty members free of charge.

Little Theatre To Present "Many Moons"

"Many Moons," first in a series of three plays, will be presented for the school children of Southern Illinois by the Southern Illinois University Little Theatre group in Shryock auditorium at 2:00 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 16.

The play is being produced under the sponsorship of the Carbondale chapter of the American Association of University Women.

OTHER PLAYS the Little Theatre group will present this year include "Jack and the Beanstalk" on Feb. 15 and "The Indian Captive" on April 19.

"Many Moons" is a three act play written by James Thurber. It is the story of a princess who wants the moon. After many exciting incidents, a member of the royal court secures the moon for the princess.

A season's ticket to the children's plays is $1. Any parent or teacher who accompanies a group of fifteen children will be admitted free.

SIU Orchestra To Give First Concert of Year

The Southern Illinois symphony orchestra will present its first performance of the season in Herrin on Nov. 19, and in Carbondale on Nov. 21, Dr. Maurits Keszner, director, announced this week.

The Herrin performance will be held at 3 p.m. in the high school, and the Carbondale performance will be held in Shryock auditorium at 8 p.m.

Soloist for the concert will be John Tufts, St. Louis, who has distinguished himself here in the past as tenor soloist in "The Messiah."

Although there are many new members this year, Dr. Keszner said, the orchestra has the majority of its old members back. This year the orchestra will present programs of a wider variety than previously, he added, including both highly classical and modern music.

Honor Dr. Morris At Speech Convention

Dr. Delyte W. Morris, president of Southern Illinois University, along with a nationally known physicist, was awarded the honors of the American Speech and Hearing association at its 26th annual convention in Columbus, O., Nov. 9-11.

Dr. Morris received the award for his outstanding contributions in the field of speech and hearing. Before coming to Southern, he served as professor of speech and director of the Speech and Hearing Clinic at Ohio State university and as chairman of the

Rabbit Chase, Greased Pole Climb To Feature Frosh-Soph Pancratium

Rabbits, turtles, and rare chariots will grace Southern's campus this week end as the freshmen and sophomores launch the first annual Pancratium.

To say the campus will be turned into a madhouse is to use the term lightly, as the frosh and the sophs chase rabbits, run in sacks, pull ropes, chase after unusual items in the hunt, push odd chariots around the campus circle, pitch horseshoes heave pies and climb greased poles.

THE BIG EVENT will begin with a freshman-sophomore rally at McAndrew stadium Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. A bonfire, yells and skits will provide the bulk of the program with the climax being a doughnut-eating contest between teams from each of the classes.

Freshman president Earl Cox and sophomore chieftain Bob Coover will captain the two teams. Losing captain wins a free pie—in the face!

The main events will begin on Friday morning with a greased pole climb at 10 a.m. The target

Five SIU Debaters Take Part in Student Legislative Assembly

Southern's debate squad, along with debaters from 12 other Illinois colleges and universities, participated in the Illinois Student Legislative assembly at Springfield Friday and Saturday.

Dorothy Clutts, Jo Ann Eblen, Tom Sloan, Bill Leemon, and Joe Selement, accompanied by debate director, A. J. Croft, represented SIU at the assembly, which is an annual affair, sponsored by the Illinois Speech association. Approximately 69 student delegates were present.

THE ASSEMBLY convened in the House of Representatives chambers in the state Capitol building, and the students conducted a mock meeting of the House, taking as the main topic of discussion the revision of the Illinois state constitution.

Officers were chosen, with Tom Sloan, senior from Southern, elected as speaker pro-tem of the House.

Among the schools represented were the University of Illinois, Northwestern, Northern, Western, Eastern, and Normal.

departments of speech at the College of Kansas City and Indiana State Teachers college.

He has also served as past president of the American Speech and Hearing association, the Central States Speech association and the Indiana Speech association.

will be a championship ribbon tied around the flag pole in front of Old Main.

At noon a frisky rabbit will be turned loose on the campus and points will be awarded to the class than can drag Mr. Bunny in. Individual prize will be—the rabbit.

OTHER EVENTS Friday afternoon will include chess and checkers in the Student Center, relays, a turtle race in the gymnasium, horseshoe pitching, and an obstacle run over Southern's campus.

At night contests will include canasta and bridge at Anthony Hall, math and spelling bees, and ping pong in the women's playground.

Saturday morning at 9 a.m. the two classes will embark on a scavenger hunt deluxe which will last most of the day. Two throwing contests and a girl's athletic contest will also be held Saturday morning.

Out at McAndrew stadium before the football game with Western, a sack race and tug-of-war will be held and attendance will be checked at the game.

IMMEDIATELY following the game will be a chariot race around the circle of the main campus, with points going to the most unique chariot and to the winning machine. Final event will be a barbershop quartet contest to be held at the WSC dance in the gymnasium Saturday night.

All day Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the two classes will sponsor a "Mystery Tune" contest. A well-known melody will be played backwards over the loudspeaker and points will be awarded to the class that can first discover the name of the song.

Chairman and originator of Southern's first Pancratium is sophomore president Bob Coover. Vice-Chairman is freshman prexy Earl Cox.

Defeated, But Still Hopeful

Southern beat Michigan Normal in a grid game Friday night, but Southern lost a much more important game the day before as bids on five major building projects at Southern proved to be about 25 per cent above the appropriations cost.

Not only was the loss a big disappointment to the administration, but the student body also suffered a big loss—and will notice it in the months ahead as Southern's building program falls behind schedule.

The many new barracks which are appearing on various parts of the campus and which should be ready by spring, seem to be getting more permanent all the time.

However, we are still expanding even though the new classrooms and offices may not be of the permanent type. It is important that at this point the student body and faculty not lose faith in Southern's building program. B. H.

Looking Better

Stories about Negroes at last attaining some degree of equality in education reach us almost every day.

Below is a recent story from the University of Missouri. "The University of Missouri recently announced that the Board of Curators has established the policy and procedure the university will follow in respect to the admission of Negroes.

"The board voted to admit Negroes to the Columbia divisions of the university and to the school of mines and metallurgy at Rolla in conformity with the judgment recently declared in the circuit court of Cole county, Mo.

"And, of course, the board's president said, "We agreed that every Negro student admitted to the university is entitled to receive and shall receive the same treatment accorded students of other races.

"The curators added, however, that the State of Missouri is not obligated to provide education for Negroes who are citizens or residents of other states or nations, and that such applications shall be rejected."

We know that just a few weeks ago Harrisburg began admitting Negro students to the junior high school after making them go to a separate school for many years.

Progress is sometimes slow, but encouraging.

Signs of the Time

Some "Welcome Southern" banners are still missing from the recent Homecoming celebration here, according to the Patterson Flag and Decorating Co., of Carbondale. Patterson said he would still be willing to consider the taking of the banners as "a prank" if they are returned to him.

Personally, we consider the taking of the banners more than "a prank" and believe that if any Southern student is guilty, he should return the flags as soon as possible.

It is "pranks" like the taking of the banners that go far in hurting the reputation of Southern's student body.

The Southern Maroons really mauled Michigan Normal here Friday night in Southern's first night game in history. Maybe we should have had the lights a couple of years sooner.

The main reason for Michigan Normal's defeat probably was because the Hurons weren't used to the "hot Southern climate."

New Registration System Has Many Merits: Reinert

By HARRY REINERT

Last week we hinted that the new registration procedure would be as painless as possible. By the end of the week the curses ringing through the hallowed halls of Old Main seemed to disprove this optimistic statement. However, we are not so easily discouraged, and feel that the new plan still has many merits.

And this is not an idle statement uttered by one or two lucky persons who had relatively little trouble getting through the line. Indeed, during the first three days, we only once saw a line of any size waiting to register. During this same time we saw hundreds of students who happily completed the whole formerly grueling registration process in a matter of five to ten minutes at the longest. It was not until Thursday that the bottleneck cropped up.

There are several probable reasons for this bottleneck. In the first place, for one reason or another many students unfortunately didn't get around to registering until late. Another off-repeated complaint was that many advisers were almost impossible to find, thus multiplying the students' difficulties. Perhaps next time it will be possible for more students to register earlier in the week and prevent the last minute rush. At any rate, we hardly feel that any student can honestly say that the new method is not easier than standing in a dozen such lines on registration day. All in all, we feel that the new system was very successful and its originators are to be highly praised for their efforts.

Two letters from irate students appeared in the Egyptian recently blasting the new parking system. Most of the remarks necessary about this same problem have already appeared in this column, and a solution has been suggested on several occasions.

Now we will say only that we

New Houses
SIU Now Has 31 Organized Houses

Southern Illinois University now has 31 organized houses, as compared to last year's total of 23. There are 15 men's houses and 16 women's houses. Newly organized men's houses are Das Arrason, House of Cavatos, Maroon Manor, Miller Dorm, Nile, Randle's Ranch, and La Casa De Siesta. In the newly organized women's group there are The Gables, Johnson Hall, Spider Web, Ten Pins, and Tower Hall. There are also several other houses that are considering organizing.

THE ORGANIZED house is very beneficial to the students that live there. It organizes them into a closely knit harmonious group. This enables the students to work better on such events as Homecoming and Spring Carnival. It also helps the students in their studies, for it enables them to get opinions and facts from the other students living in the house.

It groups the students together for social living. The experiences that result from such group living are well worth the time and effort expended in making the required adjustments, which should be helpful in future living.

Maroons Tromp Michigan Normal In Initial Night Contest Friday

Kahmann Korner with Jim Kahmann

If there was ever any doubt of HAROLD CALL being All-conference material, it was completely erased last Friday night, when the Pana terror tore the Michigan Normal defense to shreds, giving one of the most spectacular displays of offensive power to take place in McAndrew stadium for a long, long time. Harold received a broken left ankle in the third period, which will put him out for the season. Doctors attending him report that the broken bone in his ankle will mend "good as new."

Harold Call's accomplishments are all the more impressive when one takes into consideration the fact that he's done so much in the short period of one football season. He already has established himself as one of the finest halfbacks ever to perform for the Maroon and White. He has practically carried the load of the Maroon offense this season closing the year with a total of 48 points. But most of all he has something more than the statistics to back up his football play. He has that something extra—the mark of a great football player.

He can bring the crowd to its feet with a single run, he can rouse up his teammates to great heights, and he can command the respect of every opponent he ever played against.

And that is why, in the case of Harold Call, it is silly to speak in any tense other than the present. Because all of us who know Harold know just as well that he'll come out of this thing in great style. He's got speed, he's got running talent. But most of all, he's got guts. And that's why he'll be as good a halfback in 1951 as he was in 1950.

Cross-country Men Win Conference Meet

With Phil Coleman, Joe McLafferty, and Captain Ray Palmer running 1-2-3 in that order, the Southern cross-country team rose to great heights last week-end when they won the conference championship in the IAC meet at Mt. Pleasant, Michigan. Coleman finished well ahead of the pack, as he sped through the course in 20 minutes, 37 seconds.

JOE McLAFFERTY and Ray Palmer of the Southern team, sprinted out the last yards, and McLafferty won by a very close margin to take second place. McLafferty's time was 21 minutes, while Captain Palmer's was 21:03. Roy Lambert of Southern finished seventh, and Don Pick ended up 21st. Jacques Osborne of Normal, the defending champion, finished sixth.

Eastern finished second with 55 points, followed by Normal, last year's winner, with 60 points. Southern had 37 points to win by a large margin. In cross-country, the team with the fewest points is the winner, contrary to other sport events, where the most points mean victory.

NEEDLESS TO SAY this was a big shot in the arm, and a great accomplishment for the SIU harrriers. And for Phil Coleman, the outstanding runner on a squad of many outstanding runners, it was the goal he has been advancing toward for many meets. The conference run was one of the best races Phil has run this season. The Carbondale ace should get a chance to defend his title next fall, as he is only a junior.

Call Paces Southern To Smashing 44-13 Win

By Don Duffy

The newly erected lights were shining brightly in McAndrew Stadium Friday night for Southern's first night football game. The opponents were Michigan Normal's Hurons, who were subdued by the Southern Maroons' most powerful offensive push of the season, 44 to 13.

The official title of the contest was the "Second Annual Shrine Football Classic." But it could have easily been named the "Call Classic," as the Pana Powderkeg exploded for one 95 yard run, and galloped to an overall total of 248 yards, averaging almost 10 yards a carry from scrimmage. The flashy halfback scored two touchdowns and set up two more with runs of 32 and 52 yards before retiring from the game early in the third quarter with a fractured ankle.

Southern elected to receive and defended the north goal on the opening kickoff. The kick was taken by VanderPluym on his three yard line and he carried it to the five, where the whole Maroon team formed a momentary huddle. The players broke the huddle, fanning out in all directions with Call now in possession. The great number 7 sped down the western sideline to midfield, then cut back in and crossed the goal line for a 95 yard touchdown run. Oyler's kick for the extra point was blocked.

Neither team gained much until the middle of the first quarter when, on fourth down, Call broke away for a 28 yard run down to the Hurons' 23 yard line. On the next play, Brenzel hit Call on the line of scrimmage with a short screen pass. Southern scored again as Call scooted down the eastern sideline for the remaining 22 yards, dodging his way through the secondary and safety men. This time, Oyler's kick was good, and Southern led 13 to 0.

The kickoff was fumbled by Ypsilanti and recovered by the kicker, Fred Brenzel on the Hurons' 34 yard line.

Again, it was Harold Call who brought the freezing crowd to their feet as he took a hand-off from fullback Ems and wouldn't be stopped until he was hit and tumbled out of bounds on the 2 yard line. Brenzel then took the ball from center Frank Kraus and kept it on an end around to score the Maroon's third touchdown. Again, Oyler's kick was good to put Southern ahead 20-0.

The Hurons rallied after recovering a Maroon fumble on the SIU 33 yard line in the closing minutes of the first period. A pass from Paige to Battani carried the ball to the 26, from where the hard driving fullback Chuck Skinner blasted over to score. Paige's placement failed, carrying wide and low.

The Maroons scored their fourth touchdown early in the third quarter. Halfback Leo Wilson intercepted one of Paige's numerous passes on SIU's 28. Ems picked up 5 yards on a hand-off from Harold Call. The fuse was lit, and the speedy Call exploded again. This blast netted 52 yards before being stopped with a smashing tackle by Wardell Gilliam on Michigan's 15 yard line. Call was down on the sidelines and failure to raise him resulted in his removal in a waiting ambulance.

His efforts were not futile, however. After Bob Schweinberg found a hole at left tackle and reached the 2 yard line, fullback Bob Ems recently returned from the injured list, smashed over center to score. Zima held for Oyler, whose conversion failed.

The Maroons' offense totaled over 375 yards, as compared to 210 for the Hurons. Southern compiled 12 first downs, while the fine defensive play of Brown, Littleford, Cross, Buckler, Malone, Goodman, Schweinberg, Wilson, and Probst held Michigan Normal to 8. Southern attempted 12 passes for three completions, two interceptions, and two touchdowns. The Hurons threw 28 for eight completions, three interceptions and one touchdown.

Next Saturday the Maroons will meet Western Illinois in the final game of the 1950 season. The report from the doctors attending Harold Call is that the ankle is
